Christmas cactus almost in bloom -

by John O'Grady

There's nothing to do but stare and marvel. Even so, I've never been able to solve the mystery of my Christmas cactus. It's been with me since 1985. I brought it home in a five-inch pot, just before Christmas, from a planting center in California. I've kept it in what I hoped would be the ideal conditions for it. The pot is in the sunniest location in my Wisconsin cottage, a small dining room porch facing north, where the morning sun shines on it for almost twelve hours a day. It was the size of a basket of eggs when I bought it, and it has bloomed a few times, each time more impressively than the last. Christmas tree shopping tips

1. Choose the right size tree:
   - Measure the height and width of your room or space where you plan to place the tree.
   - The tree should be no taller than the height of the room.
   - It should be no wider than the room's width.

2. Examine the tree:
   - Look for a tree with a sturdy trunk.
   - Check for branches that are spread out and not crowded together.
   - The branches should be pliable and not snap when bent.

3. Water the tree:
   - Use a half-inch horizontal cut to remove excess sap and moisture.
   - Place the tree in a water-filled stand.
   - Check the water level daily and add water as needed.

4. Keep the tree away from heat sources:
   - Avoid placing the tree near radiators, stoves, or other heat sources.
   - Keep the tree away from direct sunlight.

5. Maintain the tree:
   - Trim the tree regularly to keep it healthy.
   - Use a tree preservative to help keep the tree fresh.

6. Dispose of the tree:
   - If the tree is no longer functional, dispose of it properly.
   - Place the tree in a predetermined location for disposal.

Holiday packing tips from UPS

Our comprehensive, easy-to-use packing tips mean no more damaged gifts.

- Use corrugated paper, bubble wrap, or crinkled newspaper to cushion your gifts. Each package should be padded generously to prevent any motion.
- Avoid using newspapers, butcher paper, or butcher wrap as they can tear easily when moisture and drywall dust come in contact.
- Keep your fragile items separate from breakables. Combine light and moderate breakables in one box for a more secure packing job.
- Include a packing list with the gift to show the recipient what you put into the box.
