Skokie man found innocent of attack on MG policemen

A Cook County Circuit Court judge on Jan. 28 found a Skokie man who allegedly drove into two Morton Grove police officers innocent of battery by reason of insanity. Judge Joan Corboy also found the defendant, Richard Taki, 24, innocent of two counts of aggravated battery by reason of insanity and of attempted murder without that consideration. Two psychiatrists testified the defendant was mentally incapable of understanding the nature of his acts and the judge directed him to have further psychiatric tests. Last June 17, Morton Grove police Lt. Victor Pearson stopped Taki for a traffic offense. When Pearson asked for his driver's license, the man reportedly gave him a traffic ticket. ## Commissioners cite concerns over high density units

Zoners reject condo plans at Bunker Hill site

by Shellya Hackett

The Niles Zoning Board on Feb. 3 quashed developers' dreams of a 70-unit condominium project on former V.F.W. land, in Niles. High density concerns moved commissioners to deny a request from the Milwaukee Development Corporation for the two building Planned Unit Development (P.U.D.) at 6635 Milwaukee Ave., the site of Bunker Hill V.F.W. Post property. Even when the developers reduced the number of units to 68 and emphasized the project's large landscaping budget, commissioners held firm. Commissioner Sidney Mitchel said "I don't want people in the future (to say) 'He was the one who opened the floodgates.'" Niles' code for R-4 multiple dwellings allows about 17 units per acre, according to Code Enforcement Director Joe Salerno. The Bunker Hill plan, similar on about two acres, calls for 37.4 units per acre and 36.36 units when the unit number was lowered to 68. There were fears the higher density would set a precedent. Board President John Frick noted an adjacent property owned by Niles' Przybylo family gained a zoning of 20 units per acre in 1985 and because the land is still only partially developed, the family might ask for greater density zoning if it is allowed the Milwaukee Development group. Milwaukee Development Corporation was formed for the Bunker Hill project and includes developers Michael R. Pontarelli and John Thomas, of Park Ridge, and two sons of Chicago's Norwood Builders owner, Ray Adrian. Commissioner Dorothy Dolack suggested eliminating one building in the project and adding a sixth floor to a proposed rear building, resulting in a total of 50 units. But developers stayed at the 68-unit figure with their attorney, Paul Kolpak citing costs of removing present buildings on the site and redevelopment. The change would turn the project into a "tower", proponents claimed, and would re- Continued on Page 25

Westfield homeowners voice concerns over Dist. 63 redistricting

by Eileen Hirschfeld

A spirited debate on possible school redistricting took place at a meeting between members of the Westfield Homeowners Association, an administrator and three board members from East Maine Elementary School District 63. Superintendent Dr. Eldon Gleichman, Joan Futterman, Scott Kriesman and Alan Raffel attended a meeting in response to an invitation about the need to change school boundaries beginning next school year. Twenty-five youngsters living within a triangular area bounded by Milwaukee, Greenwood and Central Avenues (the Westfield Homes) would be among those directly affected. They would be incorporated with 55 students from Mark Twain and the entire staff and student body of Stevenson School, 10100 Dee Road. Stevenson would be closed and, possibly, rented. Superintendent of Schools Dr.

Eldon Gleichman explained the need for extra space to about 25 persons attending the meeting and said, "We're here tonight to listen to you so you can talk to us about your concerns on this move." It seemed most concerns centered around abilities of their children to maintain contact with other Glenview youngsters in school as well as park and library activities. Others dwelt on safety, socialization, busing and new school staff. Parents presented many arguments similar to those made at a Continued on Page 25

Youth battered, robbed near Gemini

A 17-year-old Niles resident suffered a bump on the head and scratches on his neck after being attacked and robbed Jan. 28 in a field outside Gemini School, at 8955 Greenwood, in Niles. Police reported at 7:30 p.m. the youth, a resident of the 8400 block of Oak Avenue, Niles, was walking through the field on the east side of Gemini when two males between 18 and 20 years old, who had just exited the school on the east side of the building, attacked him. The youth told police they hit him in the face with their fists. One of the offenders, wearing a Reds cap, a jean jacket and faded blue jeans, grabbed him by the neck while the other one, wearing a black suede jacket and blue jeans, removed his wallet from his back pocket, the youth told police. The wallet contained a bank cash card, a fitness pass and a video card. Both offenders then ran southbound towards Grace or Chester. A police check of the area proved unsuccessful.

Superintendent meets with parents

District 63 Superintendent Dr. Eldon Gleichman (standing) and board members Joan Futterman, Scott Kriesman and Alan Raffel talked with residents of the Westfield Homes Jan. 29 about school boundary changes in the district. Parents expressed their concerns about the closure of Stevenson School. See related story above.

Man robbed in nursing home

A terminated employee of a nursing home in the 8300 block of Golf Road, Niles, fled the home Jan. 27 after allegedly grabbing a wheelchair-bound resident's wallet from his shirt pocket. The wallet contained $500, which the resident was saving to use for a summer camp for handicapped persons. The incident occurred in the 59-year-old resident's room.

Morton Grove Library Lincoln presentation

History will come to life when Donna Daniels presents her portrait of "Mary Todd Lincoln: Her Last Years" on Sun. Feb. 9 at 2 p.m. at the Morton Grove Public Library.

With her husband, Max, portraying Abraham Lincoln, Daniels presented "An Evening With Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln" at the Library last February to an enthusiastic response. This year, Donna, in full costume, will enact the tragic 17 years of Mary Lincoln's widowhood, including her trial for insanity in 1875. This is an original play, geared toward upper grade students and adults.

Donna and Max Daniels have an extensive background in community theatre and have made a specialty of performing as the Lincolns all over the state of Illinois. They spend the entire month of February visiting schools as President and Mrs. Lincoln, talking about their lives, politics and the Civil War.

Everyone is invited to come and be entertained by this piece of historical drama.

Legion/village blood drive

It's the semi-annual time for the Morton Grove American Legion Post #134 to assist the village in their monthly blood drive. As everyone knows, blood is in a crucial state at present due to the need for this commodity in this bad Chicago-land weather and with winter accidents, emergencies and illnesses.

Blood will be drawn at the village hall from 3-8 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 6, and following their donation, those volunteering may adjourn to the Legion Memorial Home, 6140 Dempster, where a complimentary buffet supper will be served.

The Legion blood drive is traditionally under the direction of past commander Tad Kimura. He has been aided by two additional past commanders, Don Huber and Dick Kapelanski in presenting the Legion portion of these blood drives.

The Auxiliary Unit also assists with waitress duties and food donations in the form of salads and desserts.

A Chicago man was arrested and charged Jan. 28 with soliciting without a permit, in Niles.

According to police, the man works for L & J Farmers and collects donations from businesses who have already talked to a representative and agreed to contribute to the Disabled and retired Firefighters (DARF).

Two car fires reported in Niles

Niles Fire Department personnel were called to the scene of two unrelated car fires on Jan. 31.

The first one, occurred at 10:13 a.m. in Omni's north lot at 7801 N. Waukegan Road, Niles. The 4-door '72 Oldsmobile Cutlass apparently had a hole in its trunk and the muffler ignited some cardboard lying in the trunk, according to a police report.

The second fire happened between 10:55 p.m. and 11:05 p.m. at First Chicago Bank, 8510 Golf Road, in Niles.

A Des Plaines woman apparently drove her '85 Nissan Maxima to the bank's north drive-in window when she noticed a fire in the engine area of her car.

When fire personnel arrived the fire had already been extinguished.

Is an ever-expanding program of senior citizen services and activities outgrowing Niles Trident Center? Is a new center the answer?

Jan. 28, Mary Kay Morrissey, head of Niles Department of Human Services posed similar questions to village trustees. She also asked for direction in two other areas. Should Niles help maintain its housing stock by aiding the elderly with minor home repairs? And, in the future, should Niles explore and become involved in affordable housing for the elderly?

Currently, both the Senior Citizen and Family Services divisions of the Human Services Department share the Trident building at 8060 Oakton Court, Niles. They also share some staff members, but the two divisions need separate spaces, Morrissey maintains.

Trident Center is a focal point for seniors because so many programs originate there and the Freebus is accessible, she said. But increasing activity in the Family Services division, which receives referrals for all age groups, including children, is straining the physical resources of Trident, a former Jewel store of the village bought in 1974.

Also, community groups such as the Vietnam Veterans, the Lion's Club and the League of Women Voters use Trident's meeting halls at night.

Morrissey said 18 percent of Niles' total population is between the ages of 62-74. Eleven percent of the total is over age 75. The village devoted a little over a half million dollars of its $33.6 million dollar budget to the Department of Human Services in fiscal year 1991-92.

Responding to trustee Bart Murphy's query, Morrissey said housing costing $600 monthly is considered affordable, as opposed to $300.

Dist. 63 hearing addresses redistricting concerns

by Eileen Hirschfeld

About 75 parents of students from Mark Twain, Washington and Stevenson schools, as well as several youngsters, last Tuesday attended the second public hearing held by board members of East Maine School District 63 to consider redistricting, a move which would entail closing Stevenson and relocating all staff and pupils to Apollo Junior High School, in unincorporated Des Plaines.

For the 1992-93 school year, district administration officials had recommended 25 students from Washington and 55 from Mark Twain also included in the move and the kindergarten center at Melzer School be kept open.

Following up on questions previously asked the board, it is evident the administration now is considering transfer of two special education classes, or a total of four youngsters, from Washington to Apollo.

All mainstreamed Washington students to be affected live in a triangular area of unincorporated Glenview bounded by Greenwood, Milwaukee and Central

Share-A-Home offers adult foster care

Share-A-Home was conceived in 1989 and formally organized in 1990.

This concept was inspired by the centuries old tradition of adult foster care where persons with (mental) disabilities are provided housing with families in the community.

Share-A-Home was organized to expand housing options and to provide an alternative to the institutionalization of persons who have a history of chronic mental illness.

The Share-A-Home program functions as a project of WilPower Inc., and is operated by free-standing not-for-profit psychiatric rehabilitation agency.

The program is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF) and is nationally acclaimed.

Share-A-Home serves adults who are disabled as defined in federal and state statutes by a mental impairment which substantially limits one or more major life activities, or has a record of having such impairment, or being regarded as having such an impairment.

These persons tend to be withdrawn, non-social (as differentiated from anti-social) and are not dangerous to themselves or others. Those who abuse drugs or alcohol or those who present a danger to themselves or others will be screened out.

Basically, the program is for those who are "at risk," or are at best, just "existing" in their present environment and would benefit by participating in the type of non-institutional "everyday" family atmosphere provided by Share-A-Home host families.

In many instances, participants are older adults, over the age of 45, who were placed in institutional care some time ago for lack of better alternatives.

"Family Members" (the client who resides with the host family), are capable of doing most things for themselves.

The host family will be asked to occasionally remind, prompt or show "family members" what needs to be done in addition to including the "family member" in the daily activities of the household.

The Share-A-Home concept is modeled from the adult foster family care model, successfully run for over 600 years in Ghent, Belgium and for almost 200 years in various parts of the U.S.

"Family members" are not tenants, renters, boarders, servants or strangers. They become part of the "host families".

An important principle of the program is that of "small number." The "Family member" is out of the institutional system.

Second, Share-A-Home programs are limited to one (as general rule), and never more than two family members per household.

Share-A-Home programs provide a natural integration into the community, as well as the use of all the available social special services and general resources. A stipend is set aside for family members' major clothing purchases, general expenses and special needs. Family members are expected to purchase their more personal and cosmetic items from their own income.

Host families are recruited from the community and often include significant numbers of "empty nesters" who have room in their homes and hearts.

The host can be single or married, with or without other relatives residing in their household. Host families must pass a comprehensive psycho-social screening and must participate in ongoing instructional orientation.

The family must be willing to accept the Share-A-Home philosophy and cannot be involved with any other foster family or home sharing program.

Their homes or apartments must be clean, well maintained and in compliance with local building, health and safety codes.

The host family is paid a liberal monthly fee to provide for the family member food, basic needs and routine transportation, as well as to compensate them for their time and efforts.

The Share-A-Home staff is highly qualified and experienced. They initiate and conduct in-home visitations (one per week minimum). Staff are on call 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Trial visits, of up to ten days, care arranged where potential family members will live with a qualified host family. Each party has the right of refusal, but host families who turn down three potential family members may be dropped from the program.

Host family applications are available upon request. Priority is given to family members who are Community Integrated Living Arrangements. Confidentiality and privacy rights will always be respected and protected.

All family members are required to pay a monthly fee based upon a participant's ability to pay and whether subsidies from public, private, foundation or corporate grants are made available to this program.

For information on how to become a host family, call (708) 256-8211 or write Share-A-Home at 3513 Lake Ave. No. 105, Wilmette, 60091.

New resale shop opens in Wilmette

If you're looking for a new way to take the chill out of winter, warm up in downtown Wilmette at Encore & More's Grand Opening celebration. Located at 1107 Central (across from the Wilmette Theatre), Encore & More is a new resale shop specializing in gently-used men's, women's and children's apparel and accessories at bargain prices. With plenty of winter merchandise in stock, dressing warm won't leave the pocketbook cold.

All clothing at Encore & More is high quality with some new items mixed in as well. According to store manager Theresa Rinkus, many of the clothes have designer labels, but at bargain basement prices. Winter wardrobe basics such as women's coats sell for $18-$60. Men's coats by London Fog and Yves Saint Laurent are priced at $25-$50. Women will find sweaters from $8-$35 and dresses for $18-$60, some by Liz Claiborne, Christian Dior and Nancy Heller. Men will find imported suits and labels like Ralph Lauren at $25-$60, sport jackets at $20-$45 and shirts for $5-$10. Children's clothes are priced from $2-$20. Additional merchandise arrives several times a week.

Encore & More is inviting shoppers to celebrate the store's grand opening from Friday, Feb. 21 through Friday, Feb. 28. Shoppers can warm up with hot cider and cookies. And with selected items at 10-70 percent off, staying warm may not be so hard.

Encore & More is a not-for-profit shop run by the North Shore Section of National Council of Jewish Women. All items in the store are donated by NCJW members and the community at large. Proceeds from the store will be used to fund NCJW's community service projects including Tele-Help, a free, non-sectarian, information and referral service (708) 291-0085, Tri-Con Day Care Center, traveling troupes that entertain handicapped children and senior citizens, and Tapes for Tots, a service that provides audio stimulation to newborns in the neonatal intensive care unit.

Encore & More is open Monday thru Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. For more information call (708) 853-8888.

recent public hearing. "Once we are split up, what are the chances we will be realigned with those in the same park district, same library and who our children walk to school with?" One parent contended the district would not be able to free much classroom space because youngsters were scattered throughout the grades. Also, youngsters from a closing parochial school, St. Isaac Joques, may not impact district numbers significantly, she said.

In a "worst scenario," the district may find space is not necessary and have 21 pupils to a classroom, she said. Gleichman said projections on the future amount of teachers are based on the total number of students in a school divided by 25. However, there are always "bad splits."

He explained, "There are risks one takes by doing nothing. You have to understand there are tight quarters at Washington School." According to Gleichman, a school must have room for possible growth and to enlarge opportunities for students such as a computer lab.

instead, said he did not have time and sped off. Rather than engage in a high speed chase, Pearson decided to serve the ticket at the man's home.

June 18 Pearson, 55, and Officer Ronald Glad, 27, attempted to serve the ticket as Taki was leaving his house in his car. Taki allegedly swerved toward Glad, who was able to jump to safety, then allegedly drove towards Pearson.

Pearson attempted to jump, but was struck and thrown onto the car's hood and windshield, then to the ground. Glad called for help while Taki reportedly fled south on Kolmar Avenue. Taki was taken into custody without incident in a class at Oakton Community College, Des Plaines, the same day.

Pearson was hospitalized for one day with contusions to his head, neck and back and abrasions to his legs. Taki reportedly planned to become a minister, but after his father died, early last year, was so affected he was briefly hospitalized.

to pay for merchandise using bogus $100 bills. He was identified in photo lineups. Miguel Angel Guerra, 35, who gave police a Harwood Heights address, was arrested Jan. 7 at Omni when a security guard recognized him and Rossi as the same men who had been in the store a few days earlier and used a bogus bill. Detective Jim Zimmerman said.

The guard observed Guerra as he pulled a $100 bill out to pay for about $22 worth of items in the check-out line. The guard grabbed him and held him, according to Zimmerman.

Rossi, who was in the pharmacy at the time, saw Guerra being grabbed, and ran out of the store leaving behind about $11 worth of sundry items he had planned to buy and a bogus $100 bill he was going to use to pay for them, Zimmerman said. Guerra was arrested and charged with one count of forgery.

Fitness for seniors discussed

"Fitness for Older Adults" will be the topic for the next meeting of the Stroke Club of Lutheran General Hospital (LGH), 1775 Dempster.

Scheduled from 6:30 to 7:45 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 12, in the hospital's Olson Auditorium, the program's featured speaker will be exercise specialist Marilyn Duschl, Parkside Fitness Center, who will explain how to set up and maintain an exercise program, which is appropriate for the older adult.

Developed as a support group providing educational and social activities for its members, the Stroke Club is free of charge and open to anyone, who has had a stroke whether or not they were a patient at L.G.H. Family members and friends of those who have had a stroke are also invited to attend meetings, which are held the second Wednesday of each month.

quire outside parking instead of the heated, indoor parking presently planned. Another project proponent, landscape and land planning consultant Rolf C. Campbell, emphasized the unique Bunker Hill site, situated between two open spaces, the Forest Preserve and St. Adalbert Cemetery, lessened the density problem.

But Commissioner Mitchell said "This is a lot of quantity; Washington Court is quality... every time we set a precedent, it'll be thrown in our faces." As proposed, the project would contain one 40-unit and one 30-unit building. It called for two, one-bedroom units; 59 two-bedroom units and nine, three-bedroom units. Emphasizing amenities, builder Michael Pontarelli pictured a court area between the two buildings and an open park area behind the rear building, facing the forest. The park would hold a barbecue area, shuffle board and bocci ball courts and benches. The rear building included both an exercise room and club-room.

Landscape Campbell described the berming and mature plantings planned and Niles Fire Chief Harry Kinowski testified the project plan was in line with Niles Fire code if the buildings were sprinkled, and that driveways were sufficient for Fire Department operations.

A request for a ten percent parking variation at 8650-8830 Dempster Street in the Dempster Plaza Shopping Center for a Country Buffet restaurant was continued to the March Zoning Board meeting.

the appropriate role of the State government and legislature. He will meet with community and business leaders, senior citizens, veterans, school officials, public interest group representatives, as well as ethnic and religious leaders.

Ron's campaign will stress the need for new leadership in Springfield from the 7th District that focuses on job creation and economic development in northern Illinois. Ron believes that aggressive new leadership is required in order to seek greater Federal return on our tax dollar sent to Washington. In addition, Ron believes that an Illinois agenda for the 21st Century must be developed that establishes goals and sets State priorities for the 1990s. "We need to place Illinois on an economic growth track that will lower our unemployment rate, generate increased revenue and decrease property taxes."

Gibbs' entire career has been dedicated to public service and government affairs. He was the Director of the city of Chicago office in Washington, D.C. for more than four years. He fought for greater Federal funding to aid the Chicago metropolitan area. He worked closely with the entire Illinois Congressional delegation on such important issues as transportation, housing, youth employment, elderly health care and education. He fought to limit the domestic cuts that the Reagan administration sought to impose on important urban programs like economic and community development funding.

In addition, Ron Gibbs served as Deputy Director of Legislation for Human Development programs at the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. He was a Congressional Fellow and legislative assistant in both the U.S. House and Senate. He also served as Associate Director of the National Association of Counties which represents more than 3,000 county governments nationwide, including Cook County.

Locally, Ron Gibbs was elected to the Edgebrook Local School

Council in 1989 as part of the new school reform legislation and was re-elected in 1991. He serves on the Board of Directors of the Edgebrook Community Association, City Club of Chicago, Lawyers Fund for Justice and Vietnam Memorial Fund in Washington, D.C. Currently, Gibbs is the President of his own consulting firm in Chicago which focuses on urban issues at the local, state and federal levels.

Gibbs is a Vietnam veteran who served as a U.S. Army Infantry Captain in Vietnam and Germany from 1969 to 1972. Gibbs spearheaded the effort to obtain passage of the legislation to build the Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Washington, D.C. He studied political science and public administration at George Washington University and received a Bachelor of Arts Degree in political science from Drake University. posed to the nearly $1,400 monthly asked at senior retirement complexes. Shared housing is not popular. She said with the economy so bad, some of the senior groups raised money to get food for the area needy.

Human Services staff members, active seniors and some younger people help with the department's home-bound program and occasionally other young people help with minor home repairs.

With the Northwest Municipal Conference considering its own human services committee, Morrissey asked trustees "What are the limitations for a municipal social service agency? (We) need policy and direction for the Human Services Department."

Village literature describes the Family Services division as meeting the social service needs of residents through "support counseling, outreach for both individuals and families" and programs facilitating "independence and self-support." To assist Niles' elderly, it is stated the Senior Citizen division makes available services and programs to help the elderly maintain "dignity and independence" through services such as "recreation, counseling, creative arts, volunteer opportunities, health (programs), home delivered meals," and others.

The two divisions were consolidated under the department of Human Services last year.

Avenues, the Westfield Homes. During the first hearing, parents mainly from the homeowners' association, seemed to be concerned their youngsters will lose touch with academic and social contacts in Glenview.

However, many concerns expressed at the second hearing were more specific. They included requests for information about remodeling of Apollo for elementary youngsters, transportation and ability of incoming sixth graders to complete school where they currently are located. About 19 persons petitioned the board to speak.

Debi Jordan, a Stevenson parent told board members several improvements need to be made before Apollo will be suitable for elementary age children. She especially noted the lack of playground equipment, necessary remodeling of washrooms and need for appropriately-sized drinking fountains.

Responding to questions about transportation, Assistant Superintendent of Schools Dr. Donald Stetina cited transportation costs for the district, exploration of a plan to stagger school openings and closings so the same driver could handle more than one route and a possibility all relocated youngsters could be bused free the first year.

A Stevenson parent said her family had just located near the school because they did not want their children bused. "It makes no sense to spend hundreds of dollars to bus kids that could (go to school) without charge," she said.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Eldon Gleichman acknowledged, "We don't have room at Stevenson. That sort of overwhelms all other necessities."

Stetina told parents and youngsters, several fifth graders who addressed the board, that every effort will be made to let them remain at their home schools during their sixth year and prior to the transfer to Gemini Junior High School. He said, in the past all such requests were honored. Parents will not know if this is possible until the second week in June due to the changing enrollment figures.

One parent, although his child will not be affected, asked if the teachers would back the move.

Gleichman answered that such a large change needed the help of staff, administrators and teachers as well as parents and students.

Elaine Lampros, president of the teachers' union and a district instructor, answered, "I can assure you that the teachers' union is behind the administration in whatever they do on behalf of the children."

Some persons held few doubts about the move. A 9-year-old from Stevenson said, "Some of the kids like it (the recommendation) and others hate it. Stevenson kids are nice so Westfield kids and Mark Twain kids will make new friends... Other kids will adapt to the change - I know I will."

'Floral Sex' topic of lecture

Is it possible for an amaryllis to be amorous? It's not only possible, but probable because plants need love - and sex too.

"Sex and Violets," a look at the sex life of flowers, will be presented at the Chicago Botanic Garden from 7:30 to 9 p.m. on Thursday Feb. 13 - the eve of St. Valentine's Day.

The lecture, presented by Thomas Antonio, Ph.D., taxonomist at the Chicago Botanic Garden and Ginger Henrichs, head librarian at the Botanic Garden, will explore more than just violets.

Promiscuous weeds, orchids that fool male bees into pseudo-copulation for their pollination and the seductive shrinking violet flowers which survive by keeping their reproductive organs open are among some of the areas which will be covered in the lecture.

In addition, visitors will learn about the love language of flowers, perfumes used both by women and flowers to lure potential pollinators, and folklore associated with people's love affair with plants. They will also learn how plants have been used by lovers throughout the ages and why plants mimic lascivious insects to ensure their reproduction. Cost for the lecture is $13 per person and includes complimentary champagne and chocolate which will be available in the galleries of the Botanic Garden's Educational Greenhouses.

For more information, or to register, call the registrar at 835-8261.

Chiropractic Doctor cites 'Golden period' of whiplash

Dr. Robert L. Richart of the Richard Chiropractic Clinic makes a strong appeal to accident victims to convince them of the importance of immediate modern chiropractic examination for whiplash injuries.

Dr. Richart noted in a statement that the first three weeks after a whiplash injury could be called the "golden period" of treatment.

"In the three week period following an accident proper care and treatment of a whiplash injury can often save the victim a lifetime of pain and discomfort."

"You must remember," says Dr. Richart, "a whiplash injury doesn't always manifest itself until 48 hours or more after an accident. The victim is often 'stunned' right after an accident and fails to note any of the whiplash effects. However, after a night's sleep, or perhaps after a longer period of time, he will usually experience a stiffness or soreness in the neck, a tip-off of a whiplash injury."

"Of course," adds Dr. Richart, "the whiplash symptoms can be present right away. The most prevalent symptoms are headaches and stiffness and tenderness in the neck. There can also be nausea, blackouts, dizziness and visual disturbances. In better than 50 percent of the cases there is low back pain."

What is whiplash; and what is its cause? "Technically speaking," says Dr. Richart, "a whiplash neck injury is the involuntary thrust of the head and neck in the opposite direction, with injury to the surrounding and supporting tissues."

"This type of injury is caused by an auto collision, a sudden jerk of one or both arms, a violent blow to the head or chin, a reflex jerking of the head due to fright or sudden noise, a fall on ice, or any kind of fall that causes forceful movement of the head and neck."

There is an added risk for senior citizens in that the elasticity of the neck structures decreases with advancing age. "In general," says Dr. Richart, "the older the victim, the more likelihood of injury and disability through whiplash."

According to the chiropractic doctor, an old whiplash injury comes back to haunt the victim who has not received proper care and treatment following an injury. "When we say there is a 'golden period' after a whiplash, we mean just that. It's the one and only golden opportunity for proper care, treatment and correction."

When should you investigate the possibility of a whiplash? "After an accident, or whenever you experience a soreness or stiffness in the neck is the time to consult a Doctor of Chiropractic. These doctors are specialists in structural and spinal disorders and will give you frank sincere advice. Should you require additional medical care, you will be so informed and your Doctor of Chiropractic will cooperate fully with other physicians on your case," says Dr. Richart.

"Just remember to utilize the 'golden period' to your advantage with proper examination and care."
