Mother of drowning victim to file suit against District 63

Theron Harris, a 12-year-old youngster from unincorporated Des Plaines will be the subject of a lawsuit filed by his mother against East Maine Elementary School District 63. At Cook County Circuit Court, Lenora Wells charges the district with negligence for failing to adequately supervise her son during a three-day June outing for students from Stevenson School. The outing was held at the White Pines Ranch in Oregon, Illinois.

Theron died during the first day of the outing and was buried in Kankakee. According to the suit, 74 youngsters were allowed to go swimming with no lifeguards present and four teachers to

Police seize federal fugitive in Niles motel

A telephone tip early June 28 warned police an occupant of a Niles motel was armed and dangerous, using an alias and wanted on a federal warrant. The occupant James Henry Vaughn, alias Patrick A. Arzola, was familiar to police as the victim in an earlier police-investigated battery at his room in the Travelodge motel, 7247 Waukegan Road. Checking the tip, police verified Vaughn, 32, of Chicago, was wanted for violating probation for possession with intent to distribute cocaine out of the United States.

Clowns, horses, bands, pets join parade marchers

Niles plans 4th of July festivities

Planners of the Niles Fourth of July celebration are depending on lots of horses, clowns, bands, baton twirlers, classic Corvettes and a walking stuffed fish to make the 1992 parade special. From the time marchers step off at Notre Dame High School, 7655 Dempster St., at 9:30 a.m., the line of march will feature a selection of pet dogs, the Civil War Light Artillery group, a Sicilian band, the Glenbrook Schrimers and the Vocal Boogie Band from Danville, Indiana, among others. Pam Lewis, of Petcare Plus, one of the parade participants, got creative and made her own stuffed fish, which she said she will parade on an invisible leash. More bands, from as far away as Saskatchewan, Canada, and as near as Notre Dame and Niles West High Schools, will be interspersed between the floats and decorated cars that pass the parade reviewing stand at 7248 Main St. Joining the march will be representatives from the Niles Lions, scouts, square dancers and senior men's club, along with presentations from local churches and businesses. Village Trustee Thomas Bondi is the Independence Day parade chairman. Bondi's assistant, Greg Buckley, an administrative intern at Niles Village Hall, said a panel of judges will decide winners in several categories and award first and second place plaques. Stepping off from Notre Dame High School, parade participants will follow Ozark Avenue south to Main Street, move east to Har-St., fireworks begin at dusk. From the Left Hand

by Bud Besser

The attorney for the petitioners seeking to have the Village of Niles take over the Niles Park District told Buglers he expects to be ready to make a presentation to the court by July 10. The legal notices are being run this week and next week in The Bugle (see Page 27) and the Chicago Tribune.

The attorney also told Buglers Niles park board attorney Gabe Berrafato will also be in court on behalf of the park district. However, he said Berrafato will not receive compensation from the park district because public money cannot be expended for such action.

It's our one man's opinion park board members are "panking" over actions swirling around the park district. Since the petitions for the village take-over were circulated, the park board has quickly put in motion plans which could cost in the 2 million dollar neighborhood. The quickie plans to create an all-year round ice rink and the possibility of enclosing the swimming pool in the same area could cost around one million dollars for each project.

What seems to be happening is the park board is reacting much too quickly to the village take-over referendum. Cooler heads on the board should tell them not to "pank." Creating quickie plans in

Residents face penalties for illegal use of fireworks

Roman candles and skyrockets are traditional parts of the Independence Day holiday, but residents are warned Niles and Morton Grove police will continue to enforce local ordinances against the private use of fireworks. Depending on the severity of the complaint, in Niles offenders can face fines from $25 to $1,000.

Will Friends of the Parks be in Niles' future?

by Sheilya Hackett
The structure of a Friends of the Parks committee is still being mulled by Niles Park Director Tim Royster. Right now, he is in an information-gathering mode and in the process of formulating his recommendations for the park board, as requested by Board President Carol Panek.

Musing about the possibility of a volunteer, supportive group of citizens who could give feedback on different projects, Royster said June 30 "I feel it is a good idea...the bottom line is to educate the group as to their role...they can be a real help...it gives the Board a better feel (as to residents' sentiments)."

They are usually rather formal organizations, Royster noted, with a president or chairperson. "The key is to set up a strong preamble, list the objectives of the group and make sure (they adhere to them)."

How the board wants the group to function is hard to say, Royster added, but marketing the park district and its programs is a possibility, even to the extent of speaking at different organization meetings.

He recalled the Schaumburg Park District had a Friends of the Parks committee during his ten-Niles police Sgt. Dean Strzelecki said while those simply ticketed can pay the $25 fine, those receiving a city ordinance complaint may have to appear in court and could be fined up to $500. A violation of the state statute against fireworks use is considered a misdemeanor and offenders will be charged, fingerprinted, photographed, placed on bond and can face up to a year in jail and fines up to $1,000.

In Morton Grove, those who break the Village fireworks ordinance are fined $25. Offenders can also be charged for violating the state ordinance and face the same misdemeanor penalties as in Niles, but it is up to the discretion of the officer, said Detective

Superintendent says modest increase due to budget cuts

District 207 reports 4.6 percent budget hike

The $64,347,980 for District 207 for 1992-'93 is up $2,851,055 from 1991-'92. "The total budget exceeds last year's expenditures of $61,496,925 in all funds by 4.6 percent," said James L. Elliott, superintendent. "If interest transfers in the working cash and site and construction funds—shown as expenditures in the budget—are removed, the actual increase in expense is only about 2.9 percent, according to Elliott. To achieve this modest increase, between $2 and $2.5 million were reduced in budgeted amounts for professional staff, substitute teachers, part-time custodians, teacher aides, travel, student employees, summer counseling, athletics, supplies, equipment, field trips and utilities. Another $2.2 million are expected to come from existing fund balances. Most of the revenue required to fund the budget continues to come from local sources. "Almost 92 percent of the funds for this year's budget will come from local sources while the percentage of revenue from the State of Illinois will decline to an all time low of 6.6 percent," said Elliott. Although the upcoming triennial reassessment is expected to increase the district's equalized assessed valuation 15 to 20 percent, the district will not benefit from any increased revenue until the 1994-'95 school year because of the tax freeze imposed by the state legislature last year. Money has been budgeted this year for the relocation of the ARC (Alternative Resource Center) to

Police uncover fake driver's license operation

A June 23 joint investigation by Niles and Chicago police uncovered a fake driver's license operation on Chicago's north side. Niles officers were following up on a June 17 armed theft of camera equipment from a Secretary of State drivers' facility, 9038 Golf Road, Niles. When confronted by police in his home in the 6400 block of Newcastle Avenue, Chicago, a 19-year-old youth admitted to the fraudulent manufacture of the driver's licenses. He apparently worked alone, making the identification for his friends at no charge, said Niles investigator Sgt. Dennis McEnerney. He had been doing it since last December. When the youth's mother gave permission for the search, the youth voluntarily showed police his basement cache of manufacturing paraphernalia, including a Polaroid camera, back-drop material and interchangeable numbers. No official Secretary of State property was found at the scene and police believe there is no connection with the Niles armed theft, McEnerney said. The youth was charged with the fraudulent manufacture of driver's licenses and because he had no criminal background, was

Network Links Suburban Cook County Senior Services

Betty and Bob Sanders, long-time Chicago daytime radio favorites, at breakfast announcing the opening of a major outreach program for suburban area seniors.

Betty and Bob Sanders, of long-time daytime radio fame, were Masters of Ceremony at a breakfast announcing the information/outreach program, Suburban Resources for Independent Seniors, held recently at the Sheraton Chicago Hotel and Towers.

The not-for-profit program seeks to reach all suburban seniors with information about the benefits, services, activities and opportunities for volunteering available to them in their own communities.

Joyce T. Berry, Ph.D., J.D., U.S. Commissioner on Aging in the Department of Health and Human Services, was the featured speaker at the event which was sponsored by the Suburban Area Agency on Aging in collaboration with 19 suburban community-based senior services agencies.

"Nationally, this is a precedent setting program," said Dr. Berry, commending program collaborators for taking "action rather than talking strategy."

"This effort is in the spirit of the national Elder Care Campaign which is designed to encourage community action and promote public awareness among businesses, foundations and labor unions," said Dr. Berry.

While the Chicago suburbs include both prosperous and impoverished communities, Dr. Berry pointed out that many seniors live in "poverty which cannot be measured in income." Isolation and loneliness, poor nutrition, chronic illness and physical disability adversely affect living on all income levels.

More than 80 percent of seniors who need some assistance in daily living are cared for at home by a family member or friend. The suburban senior services network offers assistance to these caregivers and is able to coordinate care throughout the suburbs.

Suburban Resources for Independent Seniors is coordinated by the Suburban Area Agency on Aging, one of 13 agencies in Illinois designated by the Illinois Department on Aging to plan, coordinate and fund services to people over age 60. Services are supported by the Older Americans Act, Illinois general revenue funds, local funds and individual contributions.

The information/outreach program is being funded by The Chicago Community Trust, a 77-year-old community foundation, in recognition of the dramatic increase in the suburban senior population. Since 1970, the number of seniors living in suburban Cook County has increased by a surprising 70 percent.

Each of the 19 senior service agencies has set in action an aggressive outreach program within their own communities. They ask the help of the entire community in seeking out - not only older persons at risk who need assistance and their caregivers - but also seniors of all ages who are able to contribute their energy and expertise to help each other within the community.

For more information about the benefits, services and opportunities for fun and service available to seniors within this area, please call (708) 383-0258.

CHOLESTEROL SCREENING

Cholesterol has become a household word in the American vocabulary. Yet, as much as cholesterol's effect on health may be on our minds, this knowledge has not dramatically affected our eating habits - the typical American diet still consists of 40 percent fat. To reduce blood cholesterol levels - and the associated risk of heart disease - experts recommend reducing fat intake to 30 percent or less of daily caloric consumption and exercising daily. But making changes in diet and exercise patterns and sticking to them can be difficult, especially for seniors, whose lifestyles are often firmly established. A clinic for cholesterol screening will be held from 9 to 11 a.m. on Tuesday, July 7 in the Flickinger Senior Center. The quick and simple test will give an accurate blood cholesterol measurement in just three minutes. For Morton Grove seniors (age 65+) there is a discounted fee of $3 for the screening and $4 for those under age 65 or non-residents.

SHEDD AQUARIUM - "OCEAN BY THE LAKE"

The Prairie View Senior Travel Club invites seniors to a trip to the spectacular Shedd Aquarium. They will tour the Oceanarium as special reserved guests and then have lunch at the city's famed Berghoff Restaurant. Register at Prairie View by July 9 for this Thursday, July 23 trip. The cost for residents is $30 and $33 for non-residents. As always, for more information, don't hesitate to call Ronce Brenner at 965-7447.

ARTHRITIS SUPPORT GROUP

Runs North Shore Medical Center's Arthritis Support Group helps people with arthritis endure the painful everyday dilemma of their disease. Their next meeting will feature Reverend Meg McClaskey speaking on "Coping With Changes In Lifestyle." The support group meets from 3:30 to 5 p.m. on Tuesday, July 23 in the Medical Center's lower level - Meeting Room 1. For more information please call Mary Roth, Director of Occupational Therapy at 933-6663.

REMINISCENCE INTERVIEWS

The handing down of family history from one generation to another has always taken place. But with the more mobile and busier family of today, we need to make special efforts to provide seniors with opportunities to reminisce. Taking time to listen to another person reminisce gives the powerful unspoken message that "Who you are, what you have done, and the things you care about are very important to me. I believe in you. I accept you, I want to know your story. And even more, I receive what you have to offer as a gift." The Morton Grove Commission on Aging will be conducting "Reminiscence Interviews" for interested individuals and their families. Those interested in an interview should call the Morton Grove Senior Hot Line at 470-5223.

HOME AND YARD CHORES

Morton Grove's home and yard "Chore Program" links senior citizen homeowners with youth and young adult workers in Morton Grove. Seniors who have difficulty maintaining their yards themselves can arrange to have a worker from their neighborhood come by weekly to assist. We also have individuals who can perform minor odd jobs. Seniors must provide equipment and negotiate the fee to be paid to the worker. For more information, call the Flickinger Senior Center at 470-5246.
