Teen Center seeks use of Stevenson

by Eileen Hirschfeld

An effort to intervene with and prevent local gang activity may die out by the end of the summer without new facilities, according to a report presented to board members of East Maine Elementary School District 63.

Sondra Benjamin and Eva Perelgut, representatives from the district's Mark Twain school, coordinated a discussion of the Teen Center Alternative for Kids co-sponsored by Maine Township and the Golf Maine Park District.

Perelgut said park district facilities will be unavailable after August 30 and requested use of two rooms and a gymnasium in Stevenson School for three nights a week. All Stevenson students will begin school at the former Apollo Junior High School in September.

Perelgut and Benjamin stressed the importance of using a centralized school such as Stevenson.

Wheel of Wisdom on Aug. 5

"The Wheel of Wisdom Game Show" is coming to Oakton Park, 4701 Oakton St., Skokie, on Wednesday, Aug. 5 at part of the free family entertainment series called "Magical Merry Go Round" being sponsored by the Skokie Park District. The game show, using members of the audience, begins at 7 p.m. In the event of rain, the show will be held inside at Oakton Community Center. For further information call 674-1511.

Triennial reassessment notices reaching homeowners in Niles Township are averaging 25-30 percent higher, according to Township Assessor Robert H. Hanrahan. But these increases are much lower than in the 1989 quadrennial reassessment, when the first in five years. At that time, figures climbed between 50 - 70 percent beyond previous ones and thousands of homeowners called on township assessors for help.

Although Maine Township reassessment figures are still forthcoming, the Niles Township notices were mailed out in early July. In the first few days, about 480 persons contacted his office for information, Hanrahan said. He stressed homeowners should not assume their real estate taxes will rise by the same percentage as their assessment. The assessment only makes money available if it is needed for taxing bodies, he explained, adding it is only if the taxing bodies spend the money that taxes go up.

Hanrahan did urge property owners to appeal their assessments if they feel the market value placed on their homes is too high, if they are assessed higher than a comparable property nearby or if their property description is inaccurate.

Homeowners who own a piece of vacant land adjacent to their property that was assessed at 22 percent for unimproved real estate, instead of the correct 16 percent, may also appeal. In Cook County, single family homes, condos, co-ops and apartment buildings with six units or less are assessed at 16 percent of the dwelling's market value.

In this scenario, a home with a market value of $150,000 would

EPA plant safety awards

William Busch, manager of the field operations section of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, recently presented the IEPA Wastewater Plant Safety Award to the Metropolitan Water Reclamation District of Greater Chicago for outstanding safety records at the North Side Treatment plant in Skokie and the Kirie Plant in Des Plaines.

All seven of the District's wastewater treatment plants have won IEPA safety awards since the program began 12 years ago. The North Side Plant in Skokie is the state record-holder, having been selected a winner eight times.

Bonsai weekend at Chicago Botanic Garden

An internationally known bonsai master from Japan highlights the experts who present demonstrations at Chicago Botanic Garden's 15th annual bonsai show Friday, Aug. 14 through Sunday, Aug. 16. Show hours are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 14, and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 15 and Sunday, Aug. 16. The show is sponsored by the Midwest Bonsai Society.

Japanese Bonsai master Susumu Nakamura will present demonstrations about bonsai cedar clms. "This is unusual," says Jack Fried, co-chair of the show, "because cedar clms are unique to the Midwest as they are collected from the wild and not nursery grown."

In addition to Nakamura's demonstration, other scheduled workshops and demonstrations include an introduction to bonsai, bonsai cultivation under lights and group plantings.

Twelve instructional sessions are scheduled during the show; six on Saturday and six on Sunday. Cost is $1 per session. The annual exhibit will feature more than 300 bonsai plants of various styles and heights grown by bonsai masters and members of the Midwest Bonsai Society. The Botanic Garden bonsai collection will also be on display. Bonsai are trees grown in a pot, styled to look like ancient trees in a natural setting.

Bonsai is considered an ancient oriental art form, a well-kept Japanese secret, but Fried explains that it is really an art form whose history is shrouded in the mist of time. According to folklore, bonsai was preceded by herbalists in India who potted medicinal plants for convenience and accessibility. This practice was later adopted in China and Korea. The Chinese developed the penjing style, also known as the "clip and grow" method, but the Japanese developed bonsai into a high art form.

In addition to the display and demonstrations, tools, bonsai pottery, starter materials and finished bonsai plants will be on sale. Members of the Bonsai Society, which is celebrating its 25th anniversary, will be available to answer visitors' questions during the three-day show.

The Chicago Botanic Garden is located on Lake-Cook Rd., Glencoe, one-half mile east of the Edens Expressway. The Botanic Garden is open every day except Christmas from 8 a.m. until sunset. Admission is free; parking is $4 per car. The 300-acre facility is owned by the Forest Preserve District of Cook County and managed by the Chicago Horticultural Society. For additional information, call (708) 835-5440.

Pucinski lists strides made in child support

Dear Editor:

I'm relieved to see the plight of single parents is being recognized and discussed on the local and national level. The reliance by parents on court ordered child support for survival is astounding and a sad state of affairs. In 1991, the Clerk of the Circuit Court disbursed $87.6 million in child support payments to parents throughout Cook County. My office has initiated programs enabling us to be proactive in our response to parents' child support needs in Cook County.

We have reduced processing time in our office from six days to one and a half days through the installation of a remittance payment processor.

Two and a half years ago, we established a public information office for child support which fields questions, distributes information, and acts as a liaison to the parents who need assistance to "feel" their way through the maze of child support agencies to get the services they deserve.

We have initiated Service Teams which have streamlined the child support process in the Clerk's Office by:

1. Furneling court orders from designed courtrooms to specific Teams in the Clerk's Office.
2. Providing improved accountability for work being processed by Clerk's employee's.
3. Establishing better customer service practices by giving child support clients constant direct access to the Clerk's personnel working on their case once it's assigned to a Team.

We have been distributing the Illinois Task Force on Child Support's Modification Packet, giving custodial parents an opportunity to apply for an increase in child support acting as their own attorney. Through public service announcements on radio and television, we've improved the public services available through the Clerk's Office and have brought the awareness of child support to the forefront.

I have also established an outreach schedule in which I meet with child support parents' groups at least twice a month. These dialogues with parents have been invaluable to me in evaluating our service and the suggestions of our clients have resulted in many improvements.

Recently a voice information system was put into service giving parents more streamlined access to the Clerk's Office for routine information on child support, as well as directions to other child support agencies in Cook County. The VIS maintains contact with staff members, too, for more complex questions.

Dear Editor:

A couple of months ago, hundreds of Niles residents filed a petition asking for the dissolution of the Niles Park District. In order to get this petition approved so that the question would appear on the November ballot, the petitioners employed the services of an attorney who had to present the petition to the court to have the petition authorized for the November ballot.

Since that time, the Niles Park District has hired attorneys to try and defeat the petition in the court thus preventing the people of Niles from voting on it in the November election. This is very difficult to understand.

It would appear that the Niles Park District is afraid of having this question appear on the ballot in the November election.

Not only that, but they are using taxpayers' money to defeat the taxpayers' request. That is, taxpayers have asked for this referendum not the Park District. And, therefore, the Park District has no business trying to defeat a referendum requested by the residents of this community.

Why is the Park District so afraid of having the people of Niles vote as to whether the Park District affairs should be taken over by the Village of Niles as opposed to being run by a separate park district? And, not only why are they so afraid, what kind of gall and totally improper behavior is it for them to use taxpayers' money to defeat a taxpayers' referendum?

This again points out the fact that the Niles Park District Commissioners are out of sync with the public which they are supposed to serve.

I speak as one of many who feel that this subject should be voted on by the people of this community and hope that the courts will put this question on the ballot. If, in the end, the question is not put on the ballot, then certainly we, as residents of this Village, have a job to do to get rid of public servants who do not serve the public. Public servants who insult the public by doing the opposite of what the public demands.

Conn: We need a Congress which will back president

Dear Editor:

Many of the speakers at the Democrat Convention centered their speeches around jobs. Paul Tsongas said it best. "You can't be against business but for jobs. Without a goose there are no golden eggs." How true, but trying telling that to Congress.

I was an elected delegate to both the 1980 and the 1986 White House Conference on Small Business. (Small business by the way supplies more than half of the private sector jobs.) The problems facing small business in 1980, 1986 and yes, 1992 are the same. In order to create more jobs we need a good business climate.

We've given Congress solutions but they refuse to act on them. Instead they put a luxury tax on boats which caused all but one shipbuilding company in the United States to close shop putting over 100,000 workers out of jobs.

We don't need a new President, we need people in Congress who will give him decent bills to sign and the Line Item Veto.

Sincerely,
Eunice Conn

NSJC pre-school registration

Our unique concept in pre-school education is incorporated in our new slogan - "We are concerned about your child as an individual."

We believe that in today's world, children have to be prepared to enter school, so we are geared toward developing their skills and abilities through play, fun and learning at their own pace. One of our aims is to teach the child a love for learning. Our children learn to share, to get along with their peers, to listen and follow directions, to respect the rights of others, and to like themselves.

Capparelli blames GOP for tax cap defeat

State Rep. Ralph C. Capparelli (D-13th) blames Republican House members for preventing passage of legislation that would have extended the Property Tax Limitation Act to Cook County governmental bodies. The proposed amendment would have limited the annual increase in property taxes to only five percent or the rate of inflation, whichever is less, in taxing districts other than those having home rule powers.

"I first proposed the amendment as a joint sponsor of H.B. 3455 to amend the Property Tax Extension Limitation Act of 1991. On April 29, the amendment received a total of 62 yeas, including the support of many Republicans and was adopted. Then on May 13 when the entire bill, H.B. 3455, was brought to a final vote (third reading), it received only 44 yeas with 24 Republicans voting against the legislation," said Capparelli.

"Had I received the same amount of Republican support that I had received earlier in the adoption of the amendment, the bill would have passed the House, gone to the Senate and probably would have become law. Instead, it was defeated, preventing Cook County property owners from having the same tax cap benefits that were accorded property owners in DuPage and other collar counties. It was a cleverly-designed ploy to punish Cook County and Chicago Democrats by depriving them of much needed property tax relief."

Capparelli said he plans to reintroduce the measure next year and each year thereafter until it becomes law.

"My colleagues must realize that Chicago and Suburban Cook County are not islands out themselves," he said. "They are part of the State of Illinois and play an important role in the state's economy. They should be treated equally as are other parts of the state."

McGing backs child support payment increase

"Children in single parent families in Illinois haven't had an increase in support payments in eight years," State Senate candidate Jim McGing (D-7) said recently, "but Walter Dudyz doesn't care. He voted to keep it that way."

McGing's comments followed a vote in the Illinois Senate to give legislation, which would have increased the percentage of child support payments that a non-custodial parent pays to the custodial parent a hearing in the Senate Executive Committee.

"As a state, Illinois is near the bottom in the nation for child support enforcement. In addition to that, Illinois has not increased the percentage that a parent must pay for child support since 1984," McGing said.

"The lack of an increase in support payments, coupled with a poor record of enforcement puts more and more women on welfare, because it's the only way they can feed and clothe their kids," McGing said.

"The state's welfare rolls have grown... and they'll continue to do so if Illinois' poor record of enforcement on child support continues and if the amount a non-custodial parent pays is not increased," McGing said.

"But obviously that's all right with my opponent. He had the opportunity to increase child support for kids for the first time since 1984 and keep these single parent families off welfare, but when it came right down to it, Walter voted against it," McGing said.

Area students graduate from St. Norbert College

The following area students were among 442 candidates who participated in May 17 commencement ceremonies at St. Norbert College.

Jacki A. Brieske daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brieske, Niles; Marc A. Callero son of Mr. and Mrs. Callero, Niles; and Kenneth Thompson son of Mrs. Judith Thompson, Niles.

Hynes seeks property tax relief

Cook County Assessor Thomas C. Hynes has written to Governor Jim Edgar urging him to sign legislation increasing the Homestead and Senior Citizen Exemptions.

House Bill 3456 has passed both the House and Senate and now only awaits the Governor's signature. It will mean a property tax savings of close to $100 for a homeowner and an additional $50 for a senior homeowner.

"This is significant property tax relief for the people of Cook County and I am strongly urging the Governor to sign this bill. The people are more than entitled to a break from outrageous property tax bills," Hynes said.

The Assessor also recommended that people write to the Governor immediately expressing their support for this bill.

Senate passes Dudyz's election judge legislation

The Illinois Senate has passed legislation sponsored by State Sen. Walter Dudyz (R-7th, Chicago) to allow county officials throughout Illinois to increase the pay of election judges.

Senate Bill 1992 proposes a pay scale for consideration by county clerks and boards of election if they want to increase compensation for election judges. The bill will not increase the state's reimbursement to election authorities.

"Election judges play an important role in the integrity of elections at all levels, but it is becoming difficult for election authorities to recruit qualified people," Dudyz said. "With this proposal, we hope to encourage more people to get involved in the process by making the pay worth the effort."

The 7th District Senator said the legislation allows county officials to increase compensation for election judges, based on the following pay scale: Election-day pay -- $60-$75 in Cook County; $45-$75 in DuPage County; $35-$75 in all other counties; Pre-election training -- $20-$25 in Cook County; and $10-$25 in all other counties.

Also sponsored by State Sen. Miguel del Valle (D-5th, Chicago), Senate Bill 1992 now moves to the House of Representatives for further consideration.

Le Valley speaks against drug abuse

"National and local trends are reflecting the growing orientation that alcohol and drug problems are community problems as well as individual and family problems," stated former Park Ridge resident, Cara Le Valley.

"Therefore," she continued, "the community must become involved."

With that goal of community awareness with community intervention in mind, Le Valley will take to the Chicagoland air waves to spread this message. She can be heard on Allen In The Afternoon (WKRS-AM/1220) at 2 p.m. on August 7 and The Warren Freiberg Show (WCGO-AM/1600) at 8:10 a.m. on Tuesday, August 11.

Le Valley who, among other programs, developed Kids For Kids, a peer counseling program which pairs "high-risk" junior high school students with students of a California County Juvenile Correctional Institution. Additionally, Le Valley spearheaded a district-wide substance abuse effort which involved curriculum, programs and initiatives; she also implemented staff

Graffiti law... Continued from Page 1

Village Board President Nicholas Blase said graffiti is not a problem in Niles; he said the ordinance should prevent it from becoming one.

Another ordinance came under study and trustees approved clarifying Niles charitable solicitation law by outlawing peddling in residential areas, by requiring professional fundraisers to be registered with the Illinois Attorney General and on file with the village. Village Attorney Richard Troy explained fundraisers must register with the village and be fingerprinted. He said the professional fundraisers may not receive more than ten percent compensation for their work under the new law.

In other business, the Board approved franchise agreements with Commonwealth Edison (ComEd) and Illinois Bell Telephone. Trustee Louella Preston pointed out the Northwest Municipal Conference and the Illinois Municipal League were instrumental in formulating the "landmark" agreement. As a side effect of the ComEd agreement, Niles will gain free service for certain municipal buildings and for municipally owned traffic signals, according to Village Manager Abe Selman.

A request from the Niles Park District to waive permit fees for the planned renovation of the Sports Complex ice rink was approved by the Board with President Blase's comment that such action was customary. Referring to the implementation of Niles new zip code, Trustee Bart Murphy stated Niles suburban zip code should be bringing reduced insurance costs, possibly as much as 18-22 percent, depending on age, to Niles residents. He said Manager Abe Selman had notified all Illinois insurance companies of the change and asked for an acknowledgement of the fact from them. He recalled he and Selman protested to state insurance officials about Niles being charged at Chicago rates over a year and a half ago, but received evidence they were beginning to do so only after the new zip began in July. He said "We'll pursue (this) to see Niles residents are charged equitably." Turning to zoning issues, a request for approval of an Italian restaurant at Golf Glen Plaza turned to discussion about parking problems at the plaza. Trustee Preston described the parking as "a horrendous mess." Another plaza restaurant owner protested any approval because he said his contract with the mall operator precluded them from leasing to any more restaurants. President Blase declined to debate the legalities of the lease as it was not board business and Trustee Andrew Przybylo, hearing that the mall has a 33 percent vacancy rate, moved for the approval of the Italian restaurant. The motion carried, 4-2, with Trustees Preston and Mahoney voting "no."

In other action, at President Blase's suggestion, the Board affirmed naming the Niles Historical Society an official village commission in order to clarify village liability. Manager Selman gained permission to buy a computer for the Engineering Department to, in part, improve its day-to-day efficiency. He was also successful in getting Board approval to replace the Administrations department's current Wang computer with a Hewlett-Packard Unix because of concern about Wang's viability. The cost of the Hewlett-Packard and software is $23,578, in comparison to the $25,500 available in the budget. Renovations at Niles Fire Stations 2 and 3, such as asbestos removal, floor slip resistance treatment, installation of an emission removal system and internal communications system were allowed by the Board. The contracts will go to companies who specialize in those areas with a savings of over $5,660 of the budgeted amount.

NSJC pre-school registration

Our unique concept in pre-school education is incorporated in our new slogan. "We are concerned about your child as an individual."

We believe that in today's world, children have to be prepared to enter school, so we are geared toward developing their skills and abilities through play, fun and learning at their own pace. One of our aims is to teach the child a love for learning. Our children learn to share, to get along with their peers, to listen and follow directions, to respect the rights of others, and to like themselves.

Northwest Suburban Nursery School is accepting registrations for the 1992-93 school year. Programs are available for children 2 1/2 through 5 years old.

We invite you to visit the children's world at Northwest Suburban Jewish Congregation. To arrange a visit or further information, call Roz Perper, Director, at 965-0900.

Heart disease isn't woman's best friend

Think of the No. 1 killer disease of American women, and you probably think of cancer. Think again.

Heart disease has that deadly distinction. And these heart-hitting facts prove just how deadly it is:

- Heart and blood vessel diseases combined kill more than 500,000 women a year, while all forms of cancer kill nearly 227,000.
- Heart attack claims about 245,000 women's lives a year, lung cancer about 46,000.
- More than 90,700 women die of stroke yearly, but about 42,000 die of breast cancer.

And if you think heart disease is only a man's disease, statistics destroy that long-held myth, too. More men may have heart attacks, but women are twice as likely to die from them within the first few weeks.

True, the statistics are gloomy. But the forecast is getting brighter. That's mainly because of medical advances and changing lifestyles, says the American Heart Association.

From 1979-87, age-adjusted death rates for women declined 20 percent for coronary heart disease, 26 percent for stroke, and more than 14 percent for all cardiovascular diseases.

Sex - More men have heart disease and develop it earlier than women. But women narrow the gap after menopause.

Race - Cardiovascular death rates of black women are much higher than those of white women. That may be mainly because of higher blood pressure levels.

Heredity - If your close blood relatives had heart disease, you're more likely to develop it.

You can control these risk factors:

Smoking - It's the most preventable cause of death and the most significant risk factor for heart attack. Cigarette smoking puts extra strain on and causes temporary changes to your heart. It also causes a shortage of oxygen in your heart.

Women smokers are more than twice as likely as non-smoking women to have a heart attack. And women smokers increase their risk of heart attack and stroke even more when they use oral contraceptives.

Recent studies suggest that new oral contraceptives with lower doses of estrogen are safer than high-dose pills that increase the risk of heart disease.

So if you don't smoke, don't start. Quit if you do.

High blood pressure - Blood pressure is the force exerted by the heart when it pumps blood through the arteries. It's too high if you have a series of readings over 140/90.

is the pressure while your heart beats or contracts. The second, diastolic, is the pressure in the arteries while your heart is filling and resting between beats.

Even women who have never had high blood pressure may develop it during pregnancy. More than half of all women older than 55 have high blood pressure.

So, have your blood pressure checked often. You can help control it by eating a healthful diet, exercising regularly and limiting how much sodium you use. You also may need to take medicine.

High blood cholesterol - Cholesterol is a fat-like substance found in human and animal tissue.

The higher your blood cholesterol level, the more likely that fats and cholesterol will build up in your artery walls. This process is called atherosclerosis. It slows blood flow or blocks off blood vessels completely, causing either a heart attack or stroke.

Get your blood cholesterol level checked by a health professional. If your level is too high, your doctor can help you control it. You first must reduce the cholesterol, total fat and saturated fatty acids in your diet can lose weight, if necessary.

You can reduce saturated fatty acids by eating less animal fat, coconut, palm and palm kernel oils. And you can reduce cholesterol in your diet by eating less fatty meat, egg yolks and whole-milk dairy products.

Other risk factors contributing to heart disease include alcohol, diabetes, high blood triglycerides, obesity and perhaps stress. The good news is that you can control all of these factors.

So think of heart disease as a killer of women that you can fight. Denial can be deadly.

Recall of child safety seat

The Illinois Department of Transportation has been informed by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) of the recall of a child safety seat.

The owners of Guardian child safety seats manufactured by Takata-Gerica (Gerri) between January 31 and May 3, 1990 are urged to contact the company for a free repair kit. The seats fail to meet a federal safety standard that requires a force of at least nine pounds to depress a push-button that releases the buckle on the seat's belt assembly. This provision is intended to deter children from releasing the buckle.

The safety recall involves 26,000 Guardian child safety seats, and owners who call the manufacturer for a repair kit will receive a new buckle plus tools and instructions for installations.

Parents are urged to continue using these Guardian safety seats while waiting for the replacement kit. Properly restrained children are much less likely to suffer crash injuries.

Owners should contact Gerri at 1-800-845-8813. In addition, consumers with questions regarding this, or any other safety recall matter, can call NHTSA's toll-free Auto Safety Hotline at 1-800-424-9393.

Forest Hospital support group for survivors of sexual abuse

Men, women and adolescents who have been sexually abused are invited to join a new support group now being formed by the Outpatient Department at Forest Hospital.

Participants will explore how sexual abuse affects their self-esteem and overall well-being, and learn effective coping strategies through lectures, stress management techniques and group dynamics.

The group will meet on Wednesdays from 6 to 7:15 p.m. at Forest Hospital, 555 Wilson Lane, Des Plaines. Advanced registration is required, and the maximum number of participants is 10.

Suzette Rush, a registered psychiatric nurse and doctoral candidate, and Alan Weintraub, a licensed social worker, will lead the group. John Lrenz, M.D., a clinical psychiatrist, is scheduled to make periodic visits to answer questions participants may have regarding physical abuse.

The cost for the support group is $20 per visit. A sliding fee scale schedule can be arranged for participants unable to pay the full amount.

To register, call the Forest Hospital Outpatient Department at (708) 635-4100, ext. 224 or 225.

venson or Mark Twain because many of the youngsters walk to the site.

"One of the reasons Stevenson School is so critical to this program is because it is central to where the children live. If we abandon these kids, we have to live with it," noted a member of the public.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Eldon Gleichman acknowledged the situation was discussed with potential leasees of the building and, to date, none have denied use for the center. Further action on the matter may be unknown until a lease is drawn up.

At present, the center is open in the Golf Maine Park District Fieldhouse at Emerson and Dee Roads in unincorporated Maine Township. Recreational opportunities for high school students are from 7 until 10:30 p.m. Friday and for junior high and fifth and sixth graders from 8 until 10 p.m. Tuesday and 7 until 10 p.m. Sunday.

have an assessed value of $24,000. A state equalizer, which has still to be confirmed, is multiplied times the assessed value to reach the Equalized Assessed Value or the EAV.

Hanrahan said timing is important since homeowners have only 30 days from the date of the notice to complain to the Cook County Assessor about their property's assessment figures.

Taxpayers should be vigilant about spending in school, park and library districts, townships, villages and the Metropolitan Water Reclamation District, he emphasized. Although acknowledging taxing districts also spend to provide services to their constituents, he suggested they should budget carefully and not look at the available money as funds that must be spent.

The current triennial reassessment cycle is planned eventually to be reduced to a biennial one and finally, to an annual cycle.

Carbon monoxide poisoning

Carbon monoxide is a deadly poison that can dull your senses and cause an accident. Cold weather increases the risk of exposure to carbon monoxide because many motorists warm up their vehicles before driving and keep the engines running while parked.

If allowed to seep into your vehicle, carbon monoxide can cause weariness, yawning, dizziness, nausea, headache and ringing in the ears. If you start to feel any of those symptoms while driving, pull off the road as soon as possible. Turn off the engine and get plenty of fresh air.

The following safety precautions will help prevent carbon monoxide poisoning:

1. Have your muffler and exhaust system checked when you have your vehicle "winterized" this fall. If your vehicle has been "winterized," but the muffler and exhaust system were not inspected, have them checked as soon as possible.
2. Open your garage door before starting your engine and back out of the garage before warming up the vehicle.
3. Keep a window open partially while driving the vehicle and when the engine is idling.
4. Do not let children play with your car keys. If one of them turns on your vehicle's ignition in a closed garage, the results could be tragic.

'Motor Voter' bill clears senate

The Illinois Senate today approved legislation to allow citizens to register to vote when applying for or renewing their driver's license.

State Senator Arthur Berman (D-Chicago) is sponsor of the legislation, which is known as the "Motor Voter" bill.

"This is an idea whose time has come," Berman said. "We need to enhance the democratic process by offering more opportunities for citizens to register and vote." "If there is a year to do this bill, it is this year, a presidential election year," Berman said. "I for one am embarrassed when, after an election, we find out that a minority of our citizens have elected a president. We are supposed to be the shining example of democracy to the world. If any initiative deserves to be passed, it is this one, which makes it easier for people to register and to vote."

The legislation, HB 3563, would allow employees of drivers license facilities to ask qualified applicants for driver's licenses, permits and state identification cards if they would like to register to vote.

If the answer is yes, the applicant would fill out an additional section on the license application form.

"The whole process would be convenient and probably take less than five minutes," Berman said. "All drivers license employees would be trained as deputy registrars."

It has been estimated that an additional 750,000 Illinois citizens would be registered through the plan.

Berman said 25 states already have a similar law and have not had to employ a significant amount of new personnel to implement the program.

The legislation, which was sponsored in the House by Rep. Grace Mary Stern (D-Highland Park), now goes back to the House for approval of a Senate amendment.
