Niles trustees vote to appeal court ruling

by Sheilya Hackett
 The tug of war between the Village of Niles and the Niles Park District escalated Nov. 23 when Niles Trustees voted to appeal a court ruling on the results of a Nov. 3 Park District referendum.

Because of the holiday, Village Attorney Richard Troy said he would file on Monday and petition for an expedited appeal. He said granting the petition is up to the court's discretion, but an appeal decided within 90-120 days would be "very fast." Last Friday, Circuit Court Judge Marjen Staniec ruled the 6,738 votes cast to dissolve the Park District were insufficient because they did not constitute a clear majority. Continued on Page 42

District 71 board elects officers

The Board of Education of Niles Elementary Schools District #71 met on Tuesday, November 17 and elected the following as officers until the next election in November of 1993: Richard Tomoleoni as President; John Lombardi as Vice President; and Eileen Varisco as Secretary. Robert Bianchi was honored for his leadership as President. The Board of Education selected the third Tuesday of every month as the meeting day for the Regular Board of Education Meetings. Meetings will be held in the Board Room of Culver Middle School, 6921 W. Oakton, Niles, beginning at 7 p.m.

Blase: Village of Niles will appeal court ruling

Court rules in favor of Park District

by Bud Besser
 At Friday morning's court hearing there was only a brief moment of expectation before Judge Staniec told the court he ruled the village vote to dissolve the Niles park district was not binding. Despite voters favoring the dissolution by an almost 2 to 1 margin, Staniec ruled the majority of all "registered" voters in the park and village districts must determine the outcome.

The judge emphasized, because this was a general election, this majority of registered voters was the key. He implied if it had not been a general election, the majority of those voting would have been sufficient for a decision.

Reactions of those in the courtroom were restrained. Village attorney Dick Troy was in a hurry to leave the courtroom because he had to appear at an immediate appointment (we assumed in another courtroom). Park attorney Mike Lavelle was very reserved and soft-spoken, accepting congratulations most graciously. Park attorney Gabe Borrafato, who did not speak at the court hearing, had a smile on his face, accepted Bugle congratulations, and realized his park job in Niles was still viable for the next three months.

Park board public relations counsel Nancy Keraminas told us The Bugle was the only newspaper that covered all the hearings. Park board member Continued on Page 42

Trail dims in shooting of Niles man

by Sheilya Hackett
 The fatal shooting of a Niles man in a Harwood Heights traffic incident last summer is no longer under active investigation. Howard Landsberg, 33, of Niles was shot the night of July 2 after a traffic altercation between the drivers of two cars in the southbound lanes of Harlem Avenue at Gunnison Street, Harwood Heights. Witnesses reported seeing gang signs exchanged between the occupants of the two cars. Police compared rounds from Landsberg's body and recovered shell casings with guns of the same caliber used by certain gang members, but all analyses proved negative, said Harwood Heights Police Sgt. Mario Ricchio. Several subjects were interviewed, but police have no further leads, he said, adding the case is still considered open, but it is not under active investigation. Landsberg had no known gang ties, but one of the occupants of his car, a Chicago man, did, police said. The night of the shooting, earlier rains had caused a power outage and traffic at the intersection was being controlled by stop signs. Police speculate the two cars involved, each carrying several male passengers, may Continued on Page 42

Civic Center Carwash targets February opening

by Sheilya Hackett
 After a long stall, construction at Dirtbuster Carwash, Civic Center Plaza, Niles is resuming. Dirtbuster could be open for business by February. Begun over a year ago at the Oakton Street and Waukegan Road shopping center with Euclid Construction of Wheeling, IL as construction manager, the two-building carwash ran aground after workers tied in with an abandoned sewer line. The abandoned line and a new line are only 30 feet apart, according to Joe Salerno, Niles Director of Code Enforcement. Continued on Page 42

Pour cement at Ballard ice rink

Workmen move quickly to smooth and level the 300 cubic yard slab of cement poured as part of the Ballard Sports Complex's ice rink renovation. The grand opening of the facility is scheduled for December 18.

Hynes plans reachout for Maine Township

Homeowners in Maine Township can inquire about their 1992 property reassessment notices and file complaints on Saturday mornings in addition to regular hours at the Assessor's offices in the Circuit Court Buildings in Rolling Meadows and Skokie as well as the Cook County Building in Chicago, Assessor Thomas C. Hynes announced today.

Office hours are 8:45 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. until noon on Saturdays. The deadline for filing complaints for Maine is December 18.

The additional hours are part of Hynes' special taxpayer services program called Project Reachout, where a hearing officer will speak individually with each homeowner and help them complete any complaint forms. Homeowners do not bring along their "Notice of Proposed Assessed Valuation."

"When people receive their assessment notices is the time to ask questions and make corrections, not after the tax bills are mailed," Hynes said. He also noted that an assessment determines only what percentage one pays of all real estate taxes, but the dollar amount of any increase in those overall taxes comes from the spending requests of local taxing agencies.

For more property assessment information, contact Hynes' office in downtown Chicago at the County Building, 118 N. Clark, Rm. 301, (312) 443-7550; or at the branch office located in Skokie, 5600 Old Orchard Rd., Rm. 149, (708) 470-7237.

Homeowners may also seek assistance at their local suburban township assessor's office.

Holzman replaces Raffel on school board

At a special meeting of the Board of Education, held November 17, Mr. Sheldon P. Holzman was appointed to the Board of Education of East Maine School District 63. Mr. Holzman will be replacing Mr. Alan H. Raffel who resigned his membership to the Board of Education on October 13, 1992.

Holzman, a resident of East Maine School District 63 for fifteen years, resides in the Washington School area with his wife, Elaine and their two children, Burton, who is currently attending Carnegie Mellon University and Michael, who is a student at Maine East High School. Holzman is a Certified Public Accountant and is a partner with Kupferberg, Goldberg and Neimark Certified Public Accountants in

Police trailer at Golf Mill

Once again this year the Niles Police Department will have its police trailer at Golf Mill during the Holiday Season.

Beginning the day after Thanksgiving the Niles Police Department trailer will be parked outside the Food Court on the southeast side of the Golf Mill Mall.

As a public service this year for Niles residents, vehicle tags will be sold at the police trailer. Fill out the application, pay for the tag and it will be mailed out the next working day.

Deficit could force cutback in school programs

District 219 sees education fund shortfall

A major deficit in Niles Township High School District 219's education fund has its School Board members looking for new money. Two weeks ago, the Board learned the fund that supports among other things, teachers' salaries, books and supplies, showed a $5.5 million deficit at the end of 1991-92.

The deficit could force a cutback in school programs and a bare-bones budget for 1993-94. The Board and Administration has already cut its budget, said Rebecca Gitrich, District spokesperson, since the 1992-93 budget is .032 percent less than the one in 1991-92.

An obvious source of revenue, a property tax hike, would have to submit to a referendum since the District has reached its state-prescribed taxing limit.

Nov. 24, District 219 Superintendent, Dr. Earl Frank would indicate where cost saving efforts would focus. He said "We're still looking at options; no decision has been made."

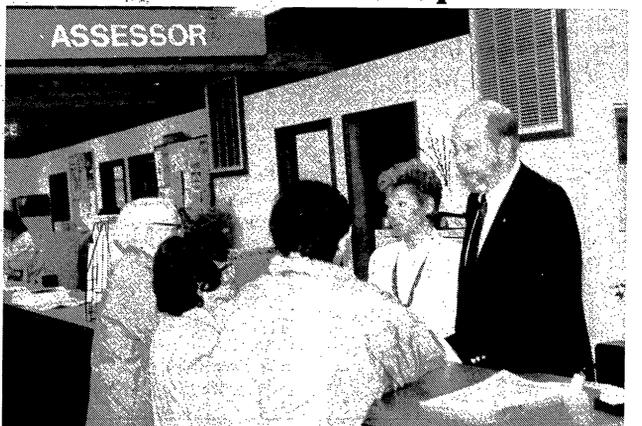

The education fund shortfall came to light after the District changed accounting systems last summer and brought in a new auditor, William F. Gurrie and Co. of Oakbrook.

Under the District's former, accrual accounting system, anticipated revenues, such as property taxes, were considered on hand and dispersed. That system contrasts with the District's new cash accounting system which matches cash revenues against expenses, a system more common in school districts.

Most suburban school districts are supported by their property tax levies. When District 219 determines its levy in the fall, it does not receive the money until the following spring and fall. In effect, under the accrual accounting system, the District was spending money during the '91-'92 school year, part of which it would not receive until the end of 1992.

In the current money squeeze, the District 219 Board was able to divert $7.5 million from its working cash fund to cover the $5.5 million education fund shortfall. By state law, most of the funds must be kept separate, although interest earned from the working cash and bond and interest funds

Maine Township reassessment complaints

Maine Township Assessor Tom Rueckert (right) and Chief Deputy Assessor Marie Barrigan tells residents how to file a complaint if they believe their triennial property tax reassessment is unfair. Cook County Assessor Thomas Hynes is currently mailing reassessment notices to all Maine Township property owners. Complaints must be filed within 20 working days of the date indicated on notices sent by the County. Rueckert and his staff are available at the Maine Township Town Hall, 1700 Ballard Rd., Park Ridge, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mondays through Fridays, to help residents file complaints.

Rueckert advises property owners who wish to file a complaint to find three comparable homes within their immediate neighborhoods with lesser assessed values. To obtain the value of comparable homes, property owners may bring the common addresses to the township assessor's office and his staff will convert it to a permanent index number for the property and provide the assessed valuation of the property. A complaint can also be filed based upon a factual error in the description of your residence or lot size. For information, call the Maine Township Assessor's Office, 297-2510, ext. 227.

Maine Seniors plan holiday activities

Maine Township Seniors have planned a festive schedule of events during December, including a special holiday performance by three seasoned veterans of the Lawrence Welk show.

Joe Feeney, Ava Barber and Dick Dale, long-time performers with Lawrence Welk, will showcase holiday favorites during a 10:30 a.m. performance at Centre East in Skokie. Their performance will be followed by a Polish-style holiday luncheon at the White Eagle in Niles.

Cost is $35.50 for members and $40.50 for guests. Buses will leave at 9 a.m. from the Maine West parking lot on Oakton Street east of Wolf Road.

A free holiday table decoration demonstration and "cookie" exchange will be held from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Monday, Dec. 14, at Oakton Arms, 1665 Oakton Place, Des Plaines.

Judy Van Stockum, a professional floral designer from Holly, Wood and Vines, a silk flower and home accessory shop, will demonstrate candle trimming and easy centerpiece techniques. Supplies will be available for purchase by those who wish to create their own holiday accessories.

Participants should also bring 18 cookies for a cookie tasting and exchange. Hot cider will be served. The free program is limited to 40 people and advance registration is required.

The "Banjo Buddies" will entertain the Seniors at their December "Country Holidays" luncheons. They will be joined by Santa, who will distribute holiday cheer from a sleigh overflowing with gifts.

Dinners can enjoy a traditional prime rib feast at one of two luncheons at noon Wednesday, Dec. 16, at Casa Royale, 783 Lee St. Des Plaines, or 1 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 20, Banquets by Brigante.

2648 Dempster, Des Plaines. Because of the popularity of these holiday luncheons, reservations are limited to members. Cost is $7.50.

Members are asked to share their good will by bringing canned goods or money for toys to be distributed to needy township families at a special Christmas Eve dinner.

To receive a membership application and obtain reservation information for activities and trips, call Helen Jung, or Sue Neuschel at 297-2510, ext. 240 or 241.

Oakton courses serve older adults

If the Emeritus Program for older adults at Oakton Community College is any indication, older adults are looking for the challenge of life-long learning.

Classes are offered through Oakton's Emeritus Program for older adults, but are open to students of all ages. Classes begin the week of Jan. 19 and continue through May 19. The following courses are among those offered at the Ray Harstein Campus, 7701 N. Lincoln Ave., Skokie.

Personal growth is a lifelong odyssey. Learn what this odyssey means now that you are in the midst of your "older adult" transition. This Psychology of Personal Growth class requires consent of the instructor. The class meets from 9:30 a.m. to 12:20 p.m. on Thursdays.

Psychology of Aging Adulthood and Old Age examines the development of the normal adult from young adulthood to old age. Investigate the current theories of life span and adult development. There will be a special emphasis on physical, intellectual and emotional development, retirement, death and dying. This class meets from 9:30 a.m. to 12:20 p.m. on Tuesdays.

All credit courses can be audited if the student does not want to receive credit. Tuition is $25 per credit hour for students under 60 and $12.50 per credit hour for students over 60 who live in the district.

For more information about these and other credit offerings, as well as non-credit opportunities, contact the Emeritus Program at (708) 635-1414.

Students to serenade seniors

A portrayal of the Scandinavian custom of the festival of candles will be presented to the residents of Friendship Village on Sunday, Dec. 6 at 7 p.m. in Friendship Hall. This Scandinavian custom honors Santa Lucia who suffered martyrdom for Christianity.

Approximately 15 students from North Park College will serenade residents with native songs along with readings of the Christmas story. The students will be bedecked with candles similar to the festival's tradition. Swedish coffee bread will be served courtesy of the Scandinavian group of the Village.

Friendship Village is celebrating its 15th year of serving persons of retirement age in the Chicagoland area. It is a nationally accredited retirement community located at 350 W. Schaumburg Rd., Schaumburg. For information, call (708) 884-5000.

CHOLESTEROL SCREENING

Cholesterol has become a household word in the American vocabulary. Yet, as much as cholesterol's effect on health may be on our minds, this knowledge has not dramatically affected our eating habits - the typical American diet still consists of 40 percent fat. To reduce blood cholesterol levels - and the associated risk of heart disease - experts recommend reducing fat intake to 30 percent or less of daily caloric consumption and exercising daily, but making changes in diet and exercise patterns and sticking to them can be difficult, especially for seniors, whose lifestyles are often firmly established. A clinic for cholesterol screening will be held from 9 to 11 a.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 1 in the Flickinger Senior Center. The quick and simple test will give an accurate blood cholesterol measurement in just three minutes. For Morton Grove seniors (age 65+) there is a discounted fee of $3 for the screening and $4 for those under age 65 or non-residents.

SENIORS! DISTRICT 67 NEEDS YOU!

School District 67 (Golf and Hynes Schools) asks Morton Grove senior citizens, "Do you have as little as an hour a week that you can give to our school children?" The schools could use the experience and expertise of seniors in a variety of ways. This could be an opportunity to invest in the education of children from the community. The following list of opportunities is available: • Reading buddy (reading to and along with children). • Library helper. • Individual or small group tutoring (reading, mathematics, etc.). • Reading stories to students. • Sharing a hobby. • Sharing a life experience. • Sharing travel experience. • Craft or art demonstration. • Picture person. • Telling about your occupation. • I wish to give some time, give me a call. • Or something else. Seniors who are interested can contact the superintendent's office at (708) 966-8200.

For more information about these senior services and recreation programs, call the Morton Grove Senior Hot Line at (708) 470-5223, or the Prairie View Community Center at (708) 965-7447.

Announce course in child development

A new course, Introduction to Intergenerational Programming (ECE 110) which combines aspects of early childhood development and gerontology, is offered this spring on Oakton's Ray Harstein Campus, 7701 N. Lincoln Ave., Skokie.

This unique course provides students, educators and gerontology staff members with awareness and understanding of the advantages of programs which combine activities for young children and older adults.

Topics include recruitment, orientation, implementation and evaluation of model programs. Observation techniques, curriculum, understanding the life-span process, and the history and politics of intergenerational programming is discussed. Off-campus visitations, films, and guest speakers are provided.

For more information, contact Helene Block, professor of early childhood education at (708) 635-1461.

Melzer students 'say no'

The students of the Melzer Kindergarten Center recently participated in the "Follow No Footsteps" drug prevention program sponsored by the Melzer PTO.

The unique presentation incorporated music and hand clapping to encourage the children to participate. The students were taught to "say no" to resist peer pressure and to go home or to some other safe place, when confronted with drugs or alcohol.

After the program, the children received buttons acknowledging themselves as being "Follow No Footsteps" persons.

Melzer School is one of six schools in East Maine School District 63, and is located on 9400 Oriole, Morton Grove.

St. Scholastica hosts open house

St. Scholastica High School will host an Open House on Thursday, Dec. 3, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. for 6th, 7th, and 8th grade girls and their families.

There will be continuous tours through 8:30 p.m. and refreshments will be served. Current students, teachers and parents will be available to answer questions.

St. Scholastica is a Benedictine college preparatory school for young women and is located at 7416 N. Ridge in West Rogers Park.

Call the admissions office at (312) 764-5715 ext. 366 for more information.

Forensic teams start winning season

Regina brought home several awards from the first Chicago Catholic Forensic Varsity Tournament at Marian Catholic High School.

Local students who received individual awards include Michele Maurice of Lincolnwood and Erin Reynolds of Skokie.

East honor society collects food

Maine East's National Honor Society has organized many activities for the 1992-93 year, including a Halloween visit to Lutheran General Hospital, Canned Food Drive, and year-round tutoring.

On Halloween the N.H.S. students dressed up in costumes and visited Lutheran General Hospital. Instead of trick or treating, the students passed out treats to hospitalized children.

The Canned Food Drive at Maine East will last through Wednesday, Dec. 16. Last year's drive was especially successful with a recent N.H.S. record of 5,196 cans of food and $758.34 in cash donations. The cans are collected through donations from each homeroom and are later donated to charitable organizations.

Year-round tutoring sessions are held throughout the year for students having problems academically. The counselors are usually the main facilitators for this program, and they arrange for a tutor who is a member of N.H.S. Harry Hoferle, co-sponsor of N.H.S., strongly urges students to arrange for a tutor if they are having trouble in school.

The National Honor Society has been co-sponsored by Mr. Harry Hoferle and Mr. Steven Granzky (Special Education teacher and English teacher). Hoferle has been sponsoring N.H.S. for nine years and says he enjoys it very much because "N.H.S. is a service organization."

Officers of N.H.S. are Munril Champaneri - Des Plaines - president, Claudine Tjio of Park Ridge - vice president, Amy Levinson of Des Plaines - secretary, and Gus Koumarelas of Niles - treasurer.

Regina plans open house

Regina Dominican High School, 701 Locust Road, Wilmette, will hold open house for prospective students and their parents on Tuesday, Dec. 1 from 6 to 8 p.m. Guests are invited to tour the school facilities with student hostesses and enjoy refreshments with current Regina parents in the school cafeteria.

Administrators, counselors, teachers, and students will be on hand to welcome and answer questions about Regina's college preparatory program, which includes advanced placement and early college credit in 11 subject areas. Currently, 100 percent of Regina's graduates go on to college.

National Honor Society members will conduct tours of the entire complex, including the computer resource center and the new science and physics laboratories. Representatives from 15 varsity sports and 35 clubs and organizations will welcome visitors. Christmas concert rehearsals in the newly refurbished auditorium will also be open for viewing.

Students are also welcome to spend a full school day at Regina by placing a reservation with Verna Allworth at (708) 256-7660.

School slates children's book fair

A visit from storyteller Jim May on Dec. 2 will highlight the annual children's book fair at National-Louis University's Baker Demonstration School.

Hours of the book fair are 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. on Dec. 1 and Dec. 2, and 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on Dec. 3.

The book fair, which will be held in the library of the Baker Demonstration School, 2840 Sheridan Rd., features hardcover and paperback books for children from infancy through 14 years.

Storytelling by May will begin at 7:30 p.m. on Dec. 2. The library will remain open after May's presentation.

For further information call (708) 256-5150, ext. 2522.

Free workshop in ceramics offered

The Art Program at Oakton Community College presents Ceramic Artist Annette Siffin in a free workshop on Monday, Nov. 30, from 2 to 4 p.m. in Room 1108 at the Des Plaines campus, 1600 E. Golf Road.

Siffin will show slides of her recent work and demonstrate the methods used to construct a wheel thrown and altered pitcher.

For more information, contact Chris Plummer at (708) 635-1928.

Rosary hosts theater, Victorian dinner

This season... to attend a Victorian Holiday Dinner at Rosary College, 7900 West Division Street, River Forest, on Thursday, Dec. 3 at 7:30 p.m. The evening is sponsored by Rosary's junior and senior class.

After a traditional holiday dinner, students from the junior and senior class will perform "The Gift of the Magi," a play on O. Henry's Christmas story. Musicians and carolers dressed in Victorian costume will provide additional entertainment before and during dinner.

Tickets for the Victorian Dinner are $15 per person and reservations are required. Proceeds from the event will benefit the 65th annual Candle and Rose ceremony, a traditional ceremony held the evening before graduation for the senior class. For more information about the Victorian Dinner, call (708) 524-6260.

Giovannelli named Varblomman's Lucia 1992

Many years ago, a young Italian maiden, St. Lucia, was seen distributing food to the starving people of Sweden. These two cultures - Swedish and Italian - combine again in Varblomman's Lucia for 1992, 13 year old Christina Norine Giovannelli. Her parents are Charlie and Judy Giovannelli, of Niles, and her grandparents are from Smaland and Vastergotland, Sweden and Lucca and Pisa, Italy.

Christina has been an active member of Varblomman since she was 4 years old and has performed in Illinois, Wisconsin and Sweden and for the King and the Prime Minister. Her brother, Nicholas, is also a member of Varblomman, a Vasa Order of America Children's Club. She has attended Sjolunden, Concordia College's Swedish Language Camp and is in her second term as President of the club. As an eighth grade honor student at Lincoln Jr. High in Park Ridge, Christina is also active in many extracurricular activities, inter-racial sports, chorus and playing the flute in the Cadet Band.

She attends Messiah Lutheran Church, Park Ridge, and is in confirmation classes there.

Varblomman will present their annual Lucia concert at 7 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 5 at Irving Park Lutheran Church, 3938 W. Belle Plaine, Chicago. The program will be based on a traditional Swedish Christmas including the "Julotta." The children will take the audience thru the early dark Christmas morning, arriving at the glowing church, ablaze with candlelight, singing the beautiful traditional songs. Refreshments will follow the concert, along with a bake sale, raffle, and bazaar loaded with gift items from Sweden.

Music for your listing and dancing pleasure will add to the celebration. In keeping with the spirit of Sankta Lucia, canned goods will be collected for those in need.

Varblomman's music director is Mette Spies, and Paul and Linnea Johnson are the folk dance instructors.

For further information, call Varblomman's supervisor, Joy Hamrin at (312) 777-5906.

Cookbook now on sale

"We Love to Cook," a new paperback cookbook which contains an abundance of treasured recipes, is now on sale at the Florence G. Heller Jewish Community Center (JCC), 524 W. Melrose, Chicago. The book was edited by the Early Childhood Department of the Heller JCC. Friends, teachers, and families of the Heller JCC contributed their favorite recipes which make up the contents of the book. Proceeds of "We Love to Cook" will go to the JCC's Early Childhood Department, as well as other programs at this center.

Beth Elman was Chairperson of the cookbook project. She and the other nine editors of the book have children currently attending, or who have previously attended, the Heller JCC preschool. Pam Baumgartner, member of the Board of the Heller JCC, designed the covers and dividers of the book. Her children, Julian and Joel, did the art work and wrote the titles for the book's cover and dividers.

All recipes are in strict accordance with the laws of Kashrut. There is a special section of the book devoted to children's foods, suitable for holiday or everyday fare. These include "zebra stripe cookies," "banana lollipops," "elephant ears" and "Giant Gingerbread Kids."

The price of the book is $9.95. It may be purchased by calling (312) 871-6780 or by buying it at JCC at the above address. Visa, MasterCard and Discover Card will be honored.

St. Stephen's celebrates anniversary

Join the people of St. Stephen Protomartyr Parish for a concert at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 21, in celebration of the parish's fortieth anniversary. It will feature the Metropolitan Brass Association, a five-member professional ensemble based in the Des Plaines area, and Floyd Czoski, parish Music Director and organist.

Men's club sets breakfast

A. G. Beth Israel Men's Club morning breakfast lecture series will take place on November 29, at 10 a.m., at the synagogue. Guest speaker will be Noah Marcell, musician and Russian literature professor from Wright College. His topic will be "Russian Literature."

Program chairperson are Marvin Weiss and Mark Silverman. Hershey Berson is president of the Men's Club.

Set children's Christmas service

The community is invited to a children's Christmas Service on Wednesday, Dec. 2 at St. John Lutheran Church, 7429 Milwaukee Ave., Niles. The children from St. John Lutheran Day school and Sunday school will present the musical, "Searching for the King."

Follow the children as they learn about the Messiah from a Grandmother, an Innkeeper, angels and each other. Join them as they ask, "What Do the Angels Do All Day?" and proclaim, "How Excellent is Their Name, Oh Lord!"

St. John Lutheran welcomes new pastor

St. John Lutheran Church, 7429 Milwaukee Ave., Niles, has a new pastor. Reverend Marvin F. Mueller recently accepted a call extended by the congregation to serve as their new pastor. Mueller will fill a position left vacant in November, 1991, when the congregation's former pastor accepted a call to another Lutheran congregation in Minnesota.

Pastor Mueller's ministry at St. John officially began with an installation service on November 8. Members of the congregation, however, are familiar with the style, personality, and commitment that Mueller will bring to their church. Reverend Mueller began serving members when he assumed the "temporary" responsibilities as interim pastor last November.

Pastor Mueller, his wife, Rosemarie, and two of his five children will reside in Niles. They are excited about the ministry potential in our community, and invite anyone interested in learning more about St. John Lutheran's programs to contact them at the church (708) 647-9867.

Reverend Mueller's years of ministry began when he was awarded a Master of Sacred Theology degree from Concordia Seminary, St. Louis. Shortly after his graduation, Mueller was ordained in his home congregation, Our Redeemer Lutheran Church, in Overland, Missouri, and installed a pastor of Zion Lutheran Church, Omaha, Nebraska.

Throughout his 30 years in ministry, Reverend Mueller has served in 2 other parishes: Our Savior Lutheran Church, Chicago, and St. Paul Lutheran Church, Apopka, Florida. He has also served in other ministerial capacities including Lutheran High School Association; Circuit Counselor for the District; the Advisory Council for Parish Education; and the zone counselor for the Lutheran Women's Missionary League.

Pastor Mueller, his wife, Rosemarie, and two of his five children will reside in Niles. They are excited about the ministry potential in our community, and invite anyone interested in learning more about St. John Lutheran's programs to contact them at the church (708) 647-9867.

St. Beatrice plans craft show

St. Beatrice School will host its 9th annual Christmas Craft Show on Friday, Dec. 4 from 5 to 9 p.m. and Saturday, Dec. 5 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the school located just south of Irving Park Road (just east of 25th Ave., (9700) in Schiller Park.

More than 150 crafters from the Midwest will display an array of handmade crafts for Christmas decorating and gift giving. Included will be such items as ceramics, woods, floral arrangements, needlepoint, jewelry, clothing, fabric crafts, hand dipped chocolates and homemade English toffee, Christmas ornaments, wall hangings and many, many more.

The Country Kitchen will feature a spaghetti dinner Friday evening complete with salad, Italian bread, meatballs and cannolis; Saturday hot luncheon items are served including hot roast beef sandwiches, hot dogs, and more.

In addition there is a bake shop and several raffles. For further information call (708) 678-1752.

Church sets cookie walk

The First Edison Park United Church of Christ, located at 6675 N. Oketo (corner of Oketo and North Shore) in Edison Park, is hosting a Cookie Walk on Sunday, Dec. 6, between the hours of 11:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

This is the perfect opportunity to purchase special holiday gifts for a friend, a family member, a teacher or the mailman. Or how about a treat for entertaining or dessert! After being provided with a box and plastic gloves, walk around the tables filled with a wide variety of our cookies. After selections have been made, cookies will be weighed and the charge will be calculated.

Mark Sunday, Dec. 6, on the calendar. Call the church office at (312) 763-2233 for further information.

Announce soloists for Glenview 'Messiah'

Soloists have been announced for the third annual Glenview "Sing-Along Messiah" to be held on Sunday, Dec. 13, at 6 p.m. at St. David's Episcopal Church in Glenview at Glenview and Sherman Roads. Doors open at 5:30 p.m.

All singers in the area are invited to participate in the chorus.

The performance will feature the Glenview Messiah Orchestra, which includes both professional and skilled Glenview musicians. Soloists are Tricia Melzer-Swaidrak, soprano; Janice Pantazelos, alto; Mark Nienow, tenor; and Raymond Mount, bass.

Pantazelos and Mount sang at last year's participative performance. Handel's Messiah will be under the direction of Victoria Jicha, music director at St. David's.

The concert is held in memory of Albert E. Khamis. Singers are asked to bring their own music. Refreshments will be served after the performance.

Admission is free by tickets but donations will be accepted at door the help defray costs. To secure tickets call St. David's Church at (708) 724-1341 and indicate appropriate voice type, i.e. soprano, alto, tenor, or bass.

Parish hosts organ recital series

St. Wenceslaus Parish will host an organ recital series to highlight the season of Advent and to commemorate the Golden Anniversary of the dedication to St. Wenceslaus Church.

All recitals begin at 3:30 p.m. and last 30 minutes.

Admission is free. Advent Vespers will follow. Recital dates, artists and programs are as follows: Sunday, Dec. 6: Timothy D. Buendorf, organ scholar of the Alice Miller Chapel of Northwestern University. An all Bach program: Trio Sonata IV, Chorale Preludes on Nun Komm der Heiden Heiland and the Dorian Toccata & Fugue. Sunday, Dec. 13: Mark Loring of Evanston, featuring works by Buxtehude, Bach, Dupre and Walthor.

Sunday, Dec. 20: Dr. Christine Kraemer, Evanston organist and Lecturer of Church Music at Northwestern University, featuring works by Anton Heiller, Ernst Pepping and Hugo Distler.

St. Wenceslaus Church is located at 3656 W. Roscoe St. in Chicago, approximately two blocks south of the Kennedy Expressway at Addison St. All are invited.

Chorale to present holiday concert

The Montay College/Community Chorale, under the direction of Gregory D. Luckhaupt, will present its annual Holiday Festival Concert on Tuesday, Dec. 15, at 7:30 p.m.

The concert will be held in the chapel on the campus of Montay College. It will feature a performance of "The Magnificat" by G.B. Pergolesi and, in addition, the Chorale will perform a variety of other Holiday selections.

Ticket prices are $5 for general admission, and $2 for students and seniors. Free parking is available on campus.

The Montay College/Community Chorale is sponsored by Montay Fine Arts, a unit of Montay College, and is made up of students and members of the community at large. It performs two concerts on campus each year, as well as performing for various functions on and off campus.

For further information or ticket reservations, contact Sr. Alphonsetta Haneman at (312) 539-1919.

'Messiah' continues tradition

Handel's masterpiece, Messiah, was first performed in 1742 to benefit three charities in Dublin, Ireland. Since its debut 250 years ago, performances of Messiah have benefited countless institutions.

This holiday season, Saint Clement's Church at Deming and Orchard in Lincoln Park celebrates this spirit of giving by presenting its 17th annual Messiah concert. Three performances will be held on Saturday, Dec. 5, at 7:30 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 6, at 11:30 a.m., and Saturday, Dec. 12, at 7:30 p.m. Proceeds from these performances will benefit the many ministries and programs of Saint Clement's Church.

Parking is available. Tickets for these concerts are $15 for general admission and $10 for students and seniors. Driving under the influence

Acting on a tip of a possible drunken driver, a Niles officer responded and approached a car driving south on Milwaukee Avenue. He observed the suspected car weaving from the curb to the outer lane seven times over a course of five blocks and stopped the car in the 8400 block of Milwaukee Avenue.

When radio dispatch notified the officer the car driver was wanted by State Police on a bond forfeiture, he arrested the driver, a Chicago man, 38. At the station, the man failed field sobriety tests, then refused further tests or questions. He was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, lacking insurance, improper lane usage and not using a seat belt. He was placed on $1,000 bond, given a Dec. 17 court date and turned over to the State Police.

Lost/stolen property

An employee of a camera company in the 8300 block of Golf Road, Niles notified police, used camera equipment, including camera bodies and ultrasonic lenses with a total value of $655 disappeared from the store between Sept. 25 - Oct. 5.

Retail thefts

A security agent for Homebase, Civic Center Plaza, Niles, stopped a 24-year-old Chicago man he saw take cabinet handles and a vice grip, then leave without paying on the afternoon of Nov. 20. Police charged the man with retail theft, placed him on a $1,000 recognition bond and gave him a Dec. 24 court date.

The evening of Nov. 21 police arrested a Chicago man, 45, when he allegedly hid two boxes of cigars with a total value of $116 under his jacket and tried to leave without paying from a cigarette store in the 7200 block of Harlem Ave., Niles. Police charged him with retail theft and placed him on $200,000 bond.

A drug store in Niles' Village Crossing Shopping Plaza stopped a Chicago man, 32, the afternoon of Nov. 16 when the manager saw the man hide four videos of Sleeping Beauty under his jacket and try to leave without paying. For the $64 theft, the man was charged with retail theft, placed on $1,000 bond and given a Dec. 24 court date. Two days earlier, the same man was stopped but released by another store official when she saw him taking one video.

An Evanston woman, 38, was apprehended Nov. 20 when she took a $47 skirt and tried to leave Kohl's, Golf Mill, without paying. Police charged her with retail theft, placed her on a $1,000 recognition bond and gave her a Dec. 24 court date.

Nov. 20, a 19-year-old Des Plaines man, an employee of an auto supply firm in the 8200 block of Golf Road, Niles, admitted he took auto supplies valued at $775 during the last four

Theft by deception

An electric components distributor in the 7700 block of Merrimac Ave., Niles, reported a loss of over $2,000 after a man representing himself as an employee of a Chicago firm charged the purchase of heating items on three different occasions. Officials of the Chicago firm said the man was employed, but let go after working three days in November.

months. Police charged him with retail theft, placed him on $1,000 bond and gave a Dec. 17 court date.

A 33-year-old Des Plaines man seen taking a bottle of cologne and four packs of cigarettes from a grocery in the 8200 block of Golf Road, Niles, Nov. 20 was stopped as he tried to leave without paying. The man admitted the $27 theft and was charged with retail theft, placed on $1,000 bond and given a Dec. 24 court date.

November 16 an employee of a nearby store notified personnel at Foot Locker, Golf Mill, she saw a man and woman between the ages of 17-20 take a $40 college sweatshirt from a Foot Locker rack and leave without paying. The pair left behind a gym bag containing a receipt and test paper from a local community college and a Social Security card.

Criminal damage to vehicle

A resident of the 8200 block of Oriole Ave., Niles heard noises outside her window about 4 a.m. Nov. 21, then discovered the 1985 Buick Skylark in her driveway had two slashed tires. She estimated the loss at $200.

Continued vigilance keeps crime down

Keep Your Eyes Open and Your Doors and Windows Closed and Locked!

The Chicago Tribune and Sun Times recently came out with their annual Chicago Metropolitan Area crime statistics. In viewing the statistics Niles' crime rate went down in 1991 across the board, murder again 0, sexual assault down, robbery down, assault down, burglary down, theft down, auto theft down, and the only aberration being the arson statistic which went up from 4 to 6. Not bad, down a total of 10.3 percent!

What is comforting in these figures is that even though violent crime, murder, sexual assault, robbery, and assault were up 8.2 percent statewide, ours was down.

Can we relax? Not a bit! 1991 was yesterday's news and even though our statistics looked good in 1991 this is 1992 and we still need your help if we are to keep our crime rate manageable!

How can you help? First of all, do not let yourself become a victim!

Keep your home, auto and garage locked. Bolt locks on your doors, windows shut and locked, lights on inside and outside when you are not home in the evening, purses and wallets and other valuable away from doors and windows and out of sight.

Lately we have been experiencing a series of burglaries to homes; garages and autos in several areas of town. Some of these burglaries would have been preventable if the resident/victim would have locked their car or garage. An open car or garage is an invitation to steal and if the burglar finds a particular area loaded with easy and inviting targets the sting will be back.

Now that the winter months are here it is getting darker much earlier and people generally keep their doors and windows shut which makes it even harder to hear glass breaking or wood splintering. These are ideal conditions for burglars and we have to be ever more vigilant in order for us and our neighbors not to become victims.

Over the last several months our officers have arrested three burglars, one juvenile and two adults, for burglaries to homes and garages. Two of these were the results of information provided by residents which led to the arrests. But you can be sure these are not the only three burglars working the north suburbs.

WE NEED YOUR HELP!

If you see someone, on foot or in an auto who looks suspicious and doesn't look like they belong in the neighborhood please call us and we will be happy to check them out. It only takes a minute and you may be saving a friend or neighbor from the anguish of coming home to find their home ransacked and their valuables stolen.

We don't need burglars working our neighborhoods and if we can make arrests, odds are they won't come back and they may even tell their associates stay out of Niles, the people there are really wary and it's not easy to make a score. We don't want to be easy!

Petite theft

A 49-year-old Chicago man who admitted taking a $24 shirt from J. C. Penney's Golf Mill November 20 was given a "P" ticket.

Liponi Foundation donates van

The Liponi Foundation for Special Recreation recently announced the contribution of $18,000 to the Maine-Niles Association of Special Recreation (M-NASR).

The mission of Liponi Foundation is to "facilitate participation by adults and children with disabilities in recreation programs". The contribution is a result of a successful first annual fundraising dinner in March 1992 and a recent miniature-golf fundraiser held in September.

The money will be used by M-NASR to purchase a wheelchair accessible van for door-to-door transportation of individuals with disabilities to recreational programs.

The Liponi Foundation plans to hold its 2nd annual fundraising dinner on Friday, Feb. 19, 1993, at the North Shore Hilton in Skokie. Contact Gary Koenig at (708) 966-5522 for more information about the fundraising dinner or the Liponi Foundation for Special Recreation.

Tips for fireplace safety

As temperatures drop and the holiday season approaches, thousands of fireplaces will be lit by homeowners and apartment dwellers, seeking warmth and savings on their heating bills. While these are two good reasons for lighting a fireplace, caution must be taken to avoid accidents.

Each year an estimated 6,000 people receive emergency care treatment for injuries sustained while working around fireplaces, according to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission. Most of these injuries are cuts and bruises caused by handling wood, irons and other equipment. The more serious injuries, however, are burns sustained by children. Below are some suggestions for avoiding mishaps:

- Before lighting a fireplace, check to see if it was constructed for use as a fireplace or merely for decoration. Also, have the fireplace inspected to determine whether it has all the necessary linings and clearances.
- Avoid the use of flammable liquids to rekindle a fire. The liquid vapors can cause an explosion traveling the length of a room.
- Always keep the damper open while the fuel is burning. This provides for efficient burning and prevents the accumulation of explosive gases.

Avoid using coal, charcoal or styrofoam packaging in a fireplace, because they can produce deadly quantities of carbon monoxide.

- Avoid stacking artificial logs (made from sawdust and wax) on top of one another, as you would with wood logs. If artificial logs are stacked on top of each other, they can cause an explosion.
- Keep the telephone number of your physician and/or the nearest Poison Control Center nearby. If any of these possible hazardous substances are consumed, call for help immediately.

- Before starting a fire, remove all holiday decorations from the area and open the flue.
- Never use the fireplace as an incinerator for burning trash or other debris. Gift wrapping paper and evergreen boughs can burn suddenly and rapidly, throwing off sparks. Dispose of wrapping paper immediately.

- Homeowners and apartment dwellers across Commonwealth Edison's northern Illinois service territory will enjoy the warmth and good cheer of a fireplace this fall and winter season. Following the suggestions mentioned above will make this a safe as well as a pleasurable experience.

Offer tips for winter safety

The AAA-Chicago Motor Club, the Illinois State Police, the Illinois Secretary of State's office, the Illinois Department of Transportation and Chicagoland Jiffy Lube stores have joined forces to make winter safe for area motorists. A free Winter Security Information Kit, compiled by the coalition, is available by calling 1-800-AAA-HELP. Pictured (from left) are Ken Parchem and Ted Smith, Illinois Department of Transportation's Emergency Traffic Patrol; Marti Page Bellusch and Sgt. Exhibit 'bonader' paintings

A colorful exhibition of bonader paintings will highlight the Christmas activities at the Swedish American Museum. Featuring traditional imagery, bonader are tapestry paintings used by peasants in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries to decorate their homes for Christmas.

The bonaders on display were created by Joy Stilson Parr during her stay in Stockholm from 1935 to 1938. Using traditional materials and techniques, she reproduced bonader from the Stockholm Museum.

These paintings were almost lost forever during a shipwreck upon her return to America in 1938. Luckily, they were returned to the artist after spending ten days in the ocean. Some of the bonader were destroyed by the saltwater while others acquired a beautiful "aged" appearance. Accounting the exhibition will be items from Joy Stilson Parr's portfolio, notebooks, photographs and her Swedish folk costume.

The Swedish American Museum will display the bonader by Joy Stilson Parr, "Bonader - A Swedish Folk Art," from December 2 to January 10, 1993.

The opening on Wednesday, Dec. 2, is from 6 to 9 p.m. This exhibition is loaned to the Swedish American Museum through the generosity of Lisa Parr.

The Museum is located at 5211 N. Clark St. Hours, Tuesday-Friday, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sunday, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Admission is $1. For further information, call (312) 728-8111.

Tickets are $9 for adults and $8 for students/senior citizens when purchased in advance. Tickets purchased at the door will be $10 for adults and $9 for students/senior citizens.

Advance group purchases of 20 or more for the same performance are $7 each. Doors will open one-half hour prior to showtime. The opening night gala includes a pre-show medley by the Brandy Bunch Quartet beginning at 7:30 p.m.

All performances will be held in the Forest View Educational Center Theater, 2121 S. Goebbert Road, Arlington Heights. For ticket information call (708) 364-8707.

Norwood Park historical homes tour

Far on the Northwest side of Chicago is the historical community of Norwood Park. The pioneer settlement of Norwood Park originated in 1833.

Mark Noble Sr., an English farmer, led other families from England, Germany and New York State to the farm prairies northwest of Chicago. The Noble family claimed 150 acres and built the first farm house in the area.

The Norwood Land & Building Association subdivided six farms in 1868, creating amidst the fields, the Norwood Park subdivision. Residents spearheaded the formation of Norwood Park Township in March 1874 and incorporated the subdivision as the Village of Norwood Park in July 1874. As the city grew out of the borders of Norwood Park, the villagers decided to annex themselves to Chicago in 1893. The neighborhood grew, especially in the building booms of the 1920's and 1940's, but still retains its nickname as the "Suburb in the City."

The original frame house built by Mark Noble Sr., has become the home of our Norwood Park Historical Society. The Noble-Seymour-Crippen House, named for the sequential owners, is located at 5624 N. Newmark Ave., Chicago. This house was purchased from the Stuart Crippen Jr. family in 1987 and was designated a Historical Landmark in 1988.

The Noble-Seymour-Crippen House Museum is open to the public on Saturdays from noon to 4 p.m. and offers guided tours, historical exhibits, and a local history research collection of Chicago's Northwest side.

One of the most popular events of our Society is our Christmas House Tour and "Victoria's Christmas" craft sale. "Victoria's Christmas" craft sale will be held December 2, 3 and 6 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and December 4 and 5 from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Our Christmas House tour will be held on December 6 from 1 to 5 p.m.

Five homes from the Norwood Park Community will be available for you to visit. The tour will begin at Our Savior Lutheran Church, which is located at 6099 N. Northcott, Chicago (corner of Northcott and Nickerson). An orientation and slide show of local history will be presented every half hour, from 1 to 4 p.m. at the church. After viewing the interiors of the homes, you are invited to browse through "Victoria's Christmas" craft sale and to enjoy musical entertainment of culinary delights at our Christmas Cafe.

Tickets are $8 in advance, or $10 at the door. To purchase tickets in advance, mail a stamped, self-addressed envelope to:

Norwood Park Historical Society, c/o Judy Servo, 6008 N. West Circle, Chicago, IL 60631.

Checks should be made payable to: The Norwood Park Historical Society.

Symphony presents holiday concert

The Northwest Chicago Symphony Orchestra's free holiday concert, directed by Michael Holian, will feature Berlioz's "L'Enfance du Christ" at 3 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 13, in the Wright College Auditorium, 3400 N. Austin Avenue.

For this performance the Wright College Chorus and four area soloists—soprano Suzanne Scherr, tenor Kurt Hansen, baritone Richard Gersten, and bass Timothy Filliman—will join the NCSO.

These singers bring a wealth of musical experiences to this concert. Scherr, who teaches singing at Wright College, lectures and publishes internationally on editing Puccini's music. She completed a Diploma in Voice at the Conservatorio Morlacchi in Perugia, Italy.

Hansen sang at Sir George Solti's 75th birthday concert. Gersten, the 1990 winner of The Bel Canto Foundation Award and a finalist in The Illinois Opera Guild, is on the voice faculty of DePaul University.

Filliman is a current member of Lyric Opera of Chicago's Chorus and is on the voice faculty of Elgin Community College.

Bach's "Suite No. 2 in B Minor" will also be on the program. Ms. Roxanne Went will be the flute soloist.

This Wright College resident orchestra's Performance Series program is sponsored by the Cultural Events Committee and is free to the community. Ample free parking is available and the auditorium is wheelchair accessible. For more information, call (312) 794-3176.

Apollo Chorus presents Handel's Messiah

The Apollo Chorus will give its 177th and 178th performances of Handel's Messiah on Friday, Dec. 18 at 8 p.m. and Saturday, Dec. 19 at 2 p.m. in Orchestra Hall, 220 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago, under the direction of Dr. Thomas E. Hoekstra. David Bachmann, Apollo's conductor since 1975, will be at the organ.

Tickets for this concert at $18.50, $13.50, and $9.25 and can be reserved by calling (708) 960-2251. Tickets will be available at Orchestra Hall two weeks before the concert.

This concert is partially supported by a City Arts 2 grant from the City of Chicago Department of Cultural Affairs and the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency.

The Apollo Chorus was founded in 1872 to help revitalize the city so recently devastated by the Great Fire. The Apollo Musical Club, as it was known in its early years, has sung at many historic events in Chicago, including the dedications of the Auditorium Theater, Orchestra Hall, Madinah Temple, and Navy Pier, as well as the Columbian Exposition and the Century of Progress World's Fair.

Second City hosts children's holiday play

"Magic Of The Season," by Josephine Racil Forsberg, is an original tale about a little girl and boy who go in search of the meaning of the holidays. They travel around the world, ending up where they began, at home. It is there that they discover the meaning of the season.

Players Workshop of the Second City has been producing musical children's plays for more than 25 years. Children in the audience interact with the characters and are invited to get on stage and collect autographs from cast members after the show.

The show runs Saturdays at 11 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. on December 19, 26 and January 2 at Second City, 1616 N. Wells St., Chicago. Admission is $5 per person. For reservations, birthday parties, and group information, call (312) 929-6288.

The Northwest Choral Society is a community organization of men and women which has been performing both classical and popular music for the northwest suburbs for over 25 years. It is directed by John Melcher, with accompanist Lori Lyn Mackie. Rehearsals for the March classical concert will begin in January.

Tickets for the December 6 concert are $8 for adults and $6 for students and senior citizens. Tickets can be purchased at the door or at Scharringhausen Pharmacy in Park Ridge. Season tickets for the 3-concert season may also be obtained if requested before the concert date. For more concert or membership information call Judy Richardson, (708) 823-7320.

Orchestra showcases local cellist

The Northbrook Symphony Orchestra will feature 19 year old North Shore native, Wendy Warner, who has attracted much international attention with her successes with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, The National Symphony Orchestra and many more. This young cellist will be playing Ernest Bloch's "Hebrew Rhapsody," "Schelomo," on Sunday, Dec. 6 with the Northbrook Symphony Orchestra. The concert program will also include a Suite from Swan Lake by Tchaikovsky and Symphony No. 1 by Brahms.

There will be a pre-concert lecture in the Little Theater to begin at 2:30 p.m. Just prior to the concert performance, the lecturer is Patrick Casali, a professor of Humanities at Oakton Community College.

The pre-concert lectures are partially supported by the Illinois Humanities Council during the NCSO's 1992-93 season and are free to the public.

Single tickets prices are $17/15/12 and $5 for children and students. All NSO performances are on Sunday afternoons at 4 p.m. at the Sheely Center for the Performing Arts (Glenbrook High School), 2300 Shermer Road, Northbrook.

There is free parking and the theater is wheelchair accessible.

College presents jazz concerts

On Tuesday, Dec. 1, the Illinois Benedictine College Jazz Studies Program will present its annual fall semester student concert. The concert will feature IBC jazz combos under the direction of Brad Williams and Jack Mouse, The Working Dues Big Band led by Gary Slavo, The Vocal Jazz Consort under the leadership of Janie Boria and the Jazz Guitar Ensemble led by Frank Dawson.

Sunday, Dec. 6, the Jazz Studies Program will present its annual Community Jazz Group fall semester concert, featuring community jazz ensembles led by Frank Dawson, Jack Mouse, Gary Slavo, and Brad Stirtz.

Both jazz concerts will begin at 7:30 p.m. on the second floor of the Krassa Center on the IBC campus, located at 5700 College Road in Lisle.

Admission to the concert is free and the public is invited to enjoy two evenings of great jazz.

Symphony presents Christmas by Candlelight

The Lake Forest Symphony and Maestro Paul Anthony McRae will present its annual Christmas concert, Christmas by Candlelight, at 4 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 6. "I believe that this year's program will be one of the most elegant and atmospheric performance in the history of the Lake Forest Symphony," said Maestro McRae. He continued, "the collaboration between the orchestra and the Camera Singers will undoubtedly be a unique and memorable event."

The program will culminate with a performance of Handel's majestic Hallelujah Chorus.

Now in its thirteenth year, The Camera Singers were founded with the objective of intimate and exciting vocal ensemble concerts. Their concerts are reminiscent of 18th century Europe and are performed in "cameras" or chambers of several beautiful homes in the Lake Forest area.

Christmas by Candlelight is sponsored by The Dayton Hudson Foundation on behalf of Marshall Field's and Lake Forest Bank and Trust. The performance will take place at Rhoades Auditorium Chicago Medical School, 3333 Green Bay Road, North Chicago. Adult tickets are $20 and children's tickets are $10. All seating is reserved and assignments will be made on a first-come-first-serve basis.

Four subscription concerts remain for the Lake Forest Symphony's triumphant 36th season, as well as educational programs for children. The remaining programs include "Top Brass," featuring the horn section of the Lake Forest Symphony, on January 22 and 23; Van Cliburn Gold medalist Alexei Sultanov on February 12 and 13; An "Opera Spectacular" on March 12 and 13, and the Season Grand Finale on April 30 and May 1 featuring Mahler's Symphony No. 1, "Titan." Subscriptions for all four remaining concerts are still available at $80 and $50 per person. Subscriber benefits include reserved seating, pre-concert dining specials and post-concert receptions.

For Christmas and subscription ticket information, call the Lake Forest Symphony at (708) 295-2135.

Auction benefits Make-a-Wish

The Make-a-Wish Foundation of Northern Illinois will help Santa fill his bag with "star-studded" gifts from its Annual Celebrity Christmas Stocking Auction on Thursday, Dec. 3, beginning at 6 p.m. at China Club, 616 W. Fulton, Chicago.

Now in its sixth year, the event is a key fundraiser for Make-a-Wish and a favorite shopping destination for caring Chicagoans. Colorful red and white Christmas stockings filled with gifts donated by local and national celebrities will go on the block at 6:45 p.m., after a welcoming kick-off by Chicago Bears quarterback Jim Harbaugh.

In an effort to top last year's fundraising results of more than $38,000, which helped the Foundation fulfill the favorite wishes of children between the ages of 2 1/2 and 18 who suffer from life-threatening illnesses, the Make-a-Wish "elves" have assembled a festive array of celebrity stocking stuffers again this year:

- * A collection of autographed leather jackets bearing the signatures of MC Hammer, Gloria Estefan, Arsenio Hall, Billy Ray Cyrus, John Mellencamp, Paula Abdul and Cindy Crawford.

- * Autographed clothing from Neil Diamond, David Bowie, Gene Simmons, Cher, Johnny Cash and many more.

- * A variety of autographed compact discs, records, photos and clothing from such music stars as The Rembrandts, Red Hot Chili Peppers, R.E.M., Ko Ko Taylor, Ray Charles, Natalie Cole, Bonnie Raitt, Wynonna Judd and Garth Brooks.

- * A pair of cowboy boots donated by Academy Award winner Jodie Foster.

- * Scripts autographed by the stars of Murphy Brown, Quantum Leap, A Different World, Northern Exposure, L.A. Law and recent movie hits Batman, City Slickers and Hook.

- * Sports memorabilia from the White Sox, Chicago Bulls, Boston Celtics, Milwaukee Bucks, Philadelphia 76ers, New York Mets, Chicago Bears, Dallas Cowboys and a number of top legendary golf professionals.

The price of admission is $10 in advance and $12 at the door, and includes complimentary drinks and appetizer buffet from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. All auction proceeds will benefit the Make-a-Wish Foundation of Northern Illinois, a not-for-profit corporation.

The Make-a-Wish Foundation, dedicated to the happiness of children who must bear the burden of illness just when they begin to dream, is the largest wish granting organization in the world. Since its founding in 1985, The Northern Illinois Chapter has fulfilled more than 740 wishes for children with life-threatening illnesses. The Foundation strives to limit children's dreams only to their own imaginations.

Children's museum lists holiday activities

Fire and light have long been used as symbols of the sun's life-giving power. Families participate in the Kohl Children's Museum's "Festival of Light" during the entire month of December and explore the ways people around the world use light in celebration.

Children have the opportunity to learn how families from other cultures celebrate the holiday season through a variety of hands-on activities, art activities, songs, dance and special guest performances. Unless indicated otherwise, activities and performances are at 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. daily, and on Sundays at 1:30 p.m.

December 3 through 5 - Diwali - Hindu Festival of Light: Use clay to make a traditional lamp and work as a group to create a large alpana, a Diwali good luck design. Special guest appearance Saturday, Dec. 5: Join the Vishwa Hindu Parishad of America Children's Dance Group for Diwali celebration with traditional dances.

December 6 - St. Nicholas Day: Listen and learn about gift-bearers from around the world including good old St. Nick during a storytelling session.

December 11 and 12 - Loy

Krathong - Buddhist Festival of Light: To honor the goddess of waters, make lotus boats and float them in a mini-river. Special guest appearance Saturday, Dec. 12 at 2:30 p.m. only: Join the Thai Classical Dance Group of the Thai Buddhist Temple for traditional dances.

December 13 - Santa Lucia - Swedish Festival of Lights: Make a Santa Lucia crown to wear during a story time with Eric and the Christmas Horse. Special guest appearance Sunday, Dec. 13 at 2:30 p.m.: Enjoy a festive Second Sunday Sing with David Kay. Sing and dance to Chanukah and Christmas favorites. Kay, who has been performing for over 20 years, is unique in that he incorporates basic sign language into his show. Youngsters, while singing the songs, learn basic sign language and engage in hand and body movements.

December 15 through 17 - Las Posadas - Mexican Festival of Light: Help break open a pinata and listen to Mexican stories. Play the part of an ox, lamb or a cow in an "Animals of Bethlehem" play Wednesday, Dec. 16.

December 18 through 20 - Chanukah - Jewish Festival of Light: Join the Museum for sing-alongs, stories and decorate a Chanukah Menorah.

December 22, 23 and 24 - Christmas - Christian Festival of Light: Make colorful Christmas ornaments, listen to festive stories and join in a sing-along.

December 27 through 29 - Kwanzaa - African American Festival of Light: Create tie dyed decorations and enjoy African-American stories. Special guest appearance Sunday, Dec. 27: Join Shanta, an African American storyteller, for a Kwanzaa celebration.

The Kohl Children's Museum is located at 165 Green Bay Rd., Wilmette. Hours are Tuesday-Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Sunday, noon-5 p.m. Admission is $3, children under one year, free.

Julmarknad in Bishop Hill

The Bishop Hill Arts Council invites all to experience the sights and sounds of a traditional Swedish-American Christmas in the historic village of Bishop Hill.

Julmarknad will be November 27, 28, 29 and December 5 and 6. Museum hours are 9 to 5, shop and restaurant hours are 10 to 5 daily.

Julmarknad is a Swedish-American Market, featuring decorated shops, Christmas gifts, special handmade gifts, Swedish food and gifts, baked goods and much more.

Visitors may enjoy free horse drawn wagon rides, through the village to view the 140 year old historic buildings.

Swedish keyed fiddle concerts will be held at 1 and 3 p.m. in the Colony Church.

Children will have a chance to learn puppet-making and present their own puppet show each day.

The Bishop Hill Heritage Association will present "Swedish Tree of Lights" - Ljuskröna - Exhibit at the Steeple Building Museum with free admission.

Be sure to look for Jultomten (Swedish gnomes) and the Julbock (Swedish Goat) Man.

Bishop Hill is located 157 miles west of Chicago, 20 miles east of I-74 and 2 miles north of US 34 in Henry County, Illinois.

Shut Out High Energy Bills With "Super" Windows

Did you know that a house loses more of its heat through the windows than through the doors, roof, or walls? In fact, heat escapes through a single pane of glass almost 14 times faster than through a well-insulated wall. This wastes your heating dollars and energy. And wasting energy hurts the environment, according to the Edison Electric Institute and the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, two national associations of electric utilities.

If you plan to replace or add windows to your house, you should know about the many energy-saving features now available. These turn an ordinary energy-wasting window into a super energy-saving window. When multiplied times the number of windows in the house, the energy savings become substantial.

Heat escapes through windows two ways—by conduction and infrared light. With conduction, the molecules in the window glass and in the insulating air space between panes of window glass, slowly but steadily transfer the house's warmth outside. With infrared light, the heat energy in the light passes directly through the window glass.

To slow heat transfer by conduction, homeowners usually put up a storm window. This creates an insulating air space between the two windows. You can also install double-pane windows, which include this insulating air space. Adding a storm window here will give you three panes of glass with two separate insulating spaces for even more insulation.

To reduce heat loss through infrared radiation, a window must block the infrared light rays from entering or exiting the house. Up till now, this meant using shutters, blinds, or tinted glass—all of which block your view at the same time.

A new window technology called "low-e", for low-emissivity, adds a thin metallic coating to the window. Just like a mirror, the low-e coating reflects the sun's heat back outside in the summer and the house's warmth back inside in the winter. The low-e coating, however, does not reflect visible light, so you don't see it, nor does it look shiny or block visibility.

Adding a dense gas, such as argon or carbon dioxide as the insulating material between two panes of glass—instead of common air—increases energy savings even more. Together with a low-e coating, this window greatly reduces a house's heat loss and gain.

One window, made by the Hurd Millwork Company, combines two sheets of low-e material, three gas-filled insulating spaces, and a non-conductive spacer (to eliminate con-

New "super" windows save energy by keeping your house cooler in the summer, and warmer in the winter.

This window offers one of the highest energy-performing ratings in the industry. Hurd's new Super-glass system provides 92 percent of the insulation performance of a typical wall. This is four times better than a window with double-pane glass", said Bob Wood, marketing manager from Hurd.

Low-E Storm Windows Mean Dramatic Savings

Storm windows made with Energy Advantage™ Low-E Glass can double and even triple the thermal performance of existing windows. And this means significant savings on heating bills for homeowners who replace their old storm glass with these high performance storm panels, according to manufacturer Libbey-Owens-Ford.

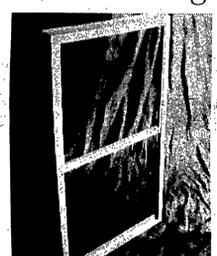

Currently growing in popularity among homeowners, builders and remodelers, low-E (low emissivity) glass is a specially coated insulating glass that keeps heat in during the winter and out during the summer, increasing the year-round efficiency of windows dramatically. Independent field tests conducted by the U.S. Department of Energy show that retrofitting a single glazed window with Energy Advantage™ Low-E Glass Energy/Storm Panels will dramatically increase the thermal performance of the window. In fact, these low-E glass storms used in combination with single glazed existing windows showed a 58% improvement in thermal efficiency according to Steve Selkowitz, director of the Window and Daylighting Program at the D.O.E.'s Lawrence Berkeley Laboratory.

Lab measurements indicate that LOF's low-E glass, which is being used both as a replacement glass and in new construction, is the perfect choice for any storm window application. Even windows with double glazed insulating units can benefit in terms of energy savings from simply changing the glass in existing storm window designs. In addition, says Selkowitz, Energy Advantage glass is ideal for a storm panel because it is a hard coat product and does not require the extra handling and sealing that soft coat low-E glass requires.

Libbey-Owens-Ford believes its product can help homeowners and the nation as a whole save significant amounts of energy as the country moves toward a possible peak load demand in the next few years. The Toledo glassmaker predicts that energy-saving glass such as its Energy Advantage product will help homeowners qualify for rebate programs being introduced by the large utilities as they struggle to find ways to avert the coming energy crisis.

An additional benefit is that this high tech glass is also the kind of advanced building material that can help smart homebuyers qualify for the special energy conservation mortgages just starting to come on the market.

For further information on Energy Advantage Low-E Glass, contact Frank Mitro, Residential Products, Libbey-Owens-Ford Co., P.O. Box 799, 811 Madison Avenue, Toledo, OH 46397-0799.

Temporary Storm Windows Easy With Staple Gun

For additional protection, you can make excellent temporary storm windows by covering them with clear plastic. Use 6-mil polyethylene and staple it around the outside of the window with an Arrow Model TSS Staple Gun Tacker. Double the plastic at the edges and drive the staple against the outer edge of the trim where the staples won't be noticed.

These easy-to-do measures will make your home far more energy-efficient. You'll save significant amounts not only on your winter heating bills, but on summer air conditioning bills too. Your investment in materials will soon be paid back again and again.

Clean Indoor Air Important In Homes

Moisture, smoke, grease and odors all contribute to your home's indoor air pollution problem. Ventilation products such as range hoods or bathroom exhaust fans minimize the harmful affects of this air.

It's hard enough keeping the house clean from dirt, mud and dust without having to worry about the quality of air in your home. But clean, healthy air affects not only your family's comfort, but the long-term maintenance of your home as well.

Today, homes are built air-tight for energy savings. But that means houses don't breathe—exhausting bad air and replacing it with fresh air. Take the kitchen for example. Cooking, broiling, baking and frying produce great amounts of grease, particles, smoke, odors and moisture. These pollutants can cause grimy cabinets, soiled curtains and gritty ceilings and walls. In the bathroom moisture can rust metal cabinets, shorten the life of wallpaper, paint and tile adhesives. And, since trapped moisture rises, it can deteriorate joists and framing above the bathroom.

Yes, you can open the bathroom door while showering, but that just causes the moisture-laden air to travel to another part of the house looking to escape. And yes, you can open a bathroom window, but that's not practical in many parts of the country during the winter months.

Spot ventilation in the kitchen and bath captures moisture at the source, before it can cause discomfort or damage," according to Jerry Santowski, President of Broan Mfg. Co., Inc., which manufactures kitchen and bath ventilators. Range hoods and bath fans, if properly installed, help those air-tight homes to breathe.

Even the U.S. EPA (Environmental Protection Agency) recommends the use of exhaust fans and range hoods in reducing indoor air pollutants in their publication, "The Inside Story: A Guide to Indoor Air Pollution."

To Vent Or Not To Vent

Range hoods and exhaust fans can either be installed ducted or duct free. Ducting or venting means that the moisture and pollutants are exhausted to the outside of the home through duct work. Duct free models use filters to clean the air and then recirculate air back into the room. However, duct free models do not remove the moisture from the air.

According to Broan, ducting is always the recommended installation. Because of time restraints, builders or homeowners, oftentimes opt for the easier duct free installation.

"In the long run, ducting the range hood or exhaust fan provides the greatest investment in your home," according to Santowski, "by eliminating costly future repairs to joists, window sills, insulation and paint."

Once you're convinced of the benefits of ducting, check out the installation. Rangehoods require a minimum of 6 inch round ductwork. A 4 inch duct is too small, causing the hood's motor to work too hard. Exhaust fans need a minimum of 3 inch duct work, but for top performance, a 4 inch duct is recommended.

If you can, look in your attic at the duct run. Some of the duct runs look like a roller coaster of twists and turns. If the duct run ends in the attic, the air is simply being poured into the attic which can destroy attic insulation and rafters. Broan recommends using roof and wall caps with a built-in damper since they eliminate cold outside air from coming inside. Check to see that the roof or wall cap's damper operates properly, opening only when the fan is operating.

A properly installed range hood and exhaust fan protects the investment you've made in your home and provides cleaner and healthier air for you and your family.

For more information on range hoods and fans, write to Broan Mfg. Co., Inc., P.O. Box 140, Dept. HT, Hartford, WI 53027.

For a copy of the 32-page EPA booklet (443Y) "The Inside Story," send a $1.50 check or money order made payable to Superintendent of Documents, Attn: R. Woods, Consumer Information Center 2-A, P.O. Box 100, Pueblo, CO 81002.

Polish club sets 'Wigilia'

The Heritage Club of Polish Americans will hold its annual "Wigilia" Christmas Party on Sunday, Dec. 13 from noon to 4:30 p.m. at Robert and Allen's Regency Inn, 5319 W. Diversey.

A five course dinner, dance music by Ralph Goray and Polish Christmas customs will highlight the event.

Tickets are $20 for adults and $10 for children.

Tickets may be obtained by calling Adeline Holda at 736-5861. Reservations must be obtained on or before Dec. 7.

Holiday packaging tips from UPS

Use corrugated cartons in good, rigid condition, with all flaps intact and no punctures, tears, rips or corner damage. Select a carton large enough to allow room for sufficient cushioning material on all sides of the contents.

Cushioners should be stuffed several inches on all sides of the item so it cannot move easily when shaken. Good cushioners include crumpled newspapers or heavy brown paper. Use extra cushioning for fragile items, especially near the corners and sides of the carton.

To close a carton securely, use a strong tape, two inches or more in width. The best tapes are pressure sensitive plastic tape, water-activated paper tape at least three inches wide and water-activated reinforced tape. Masking tape or cellophane tape are not strong enough. UPS will not accept packages with string, rope or ribbon because they are not effective closures and may snag on automatic sorting equipment.

When addressing packages, keep these points in mind:

- Place the delivery label on top of the carton.
- Use only one address label and remove or cross out old address labels or markings on a used carton.
- Do not place the label over a carton seam or closure, or on top of sealing tape.
- Always include the ZIP Code of the receiver with the complete street address. If the complete street address is not available, be sure to provide the receiver's telephone number on the label.
- Include the floor or suite number for all multi-unit business addresses.

Attend 'Christmas Carol'

The "spirits" of Christmas return with the Nebraska Theatre Caravan performing Charles Dickens' beloved "A Christmas Carol," at 7 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 17.

This holiday classic comes to life brimming with the songs and sights of an old-fashioned Christmas, elegant period, costuming, elaborate scenery and a spirited company of 36 professionals. The set and special effects were designed with meticulous detail to recreate the world of England in the 1880's.

"A Christmas Carol," written in the month's time, illustrated Dickens' philosophy: the ills of a greedy world could be healed by brotherhood and unselfishness. His characters remain powerful and vivid in their original symbolic stance.

Tickets are $19.50, $16.50 and $13.50, available at the Rialto ticket office, 102 N. Chicago St. in Joliet City Center. To charge by phone call (815) 726-6600 or Ticketmaster, (312) 559-1212.

Choosing The Right Carpet

Check the carpet's label. It can provide a lot of useful information about the quality of the carpet.

If you've been shopping for carpet lately, you know all too well that the carpet buying process isn't easy. Faced with a seemingly endless selection of colors, fibers and carpet styles, many find the carpet buying process confusing and time consuming. It doesn't have to be!

A little knowledge about carpeting, before you buy, can make a big difference in avoiding costly mistakes and selecting the carpet that best meets your needs and expectations.

Good carpet must not only last a long time, but appearance retention, style, color coordination, comfort and easy maintenance are all listed as important factors in carpet performance, according to a recent consumer survey conducted by Peerless Carpet Corporation, one of the world's largest carpet manufacturers.

"Today's consumers expect that carpeting will last. They are looking for a carpet that will look new years from now; one that will be comfortable and fashionable and easily maintained," says Peerless' Corporate Marketing and Advertising Director Catherine Larose.

"Today's carpet consumers are every bit as discriminating as fashion conscious clothing shoppers, and they'd better be," warns Larose. "They'll have to live with their carpet a lot longer than their clothing." In fact, with today's advanced manufacturing processes and space-age fibers, the family usually tires of the carpeting long before it wears out.

A consumer has to be well informed to avoid choosing the wrong type of carpeting for a room. A number of decisions should be made before going shopping.

Topping the list is the specific application for the carpet. Different uses require different characteristics. For example, a soft luxurious feel is highly desirable in the bedroom, and durability and easy maintenance are crucial factors for the family room, hallways and basement. Various combinations are needed for living and dining rooms depending on the traffic patterns in each room. After deciding on the carpet's application, a consumer should examine specific carpet qualities.

With two basic types of construction, four main fiber types, and seven different style types, a consumer faces 56 choices before quality, comfort and color even enter the purchase equation. Add pile height and density, twist and backing and you have a computerized calculation to make before considering which color would best match the burgundy polka dots on the wallpaper in little Melissa's bedroom.

Actually, a consumer who understands the basics of carpet fibers and manufacturing techniques is well prepared to choose carpet that will perform best for his or her specific needs.

Carpet Fibers Make A Difference
Fiber choice is important and should be based upon intended use, appearance and cost. Carpet yarn or fiber includes nylon, polyester, polypropylene and wool and can either be tufted or woven. The differing properties of each fiber type offer advantages over others depending upon where the carpet will be used.

Most carpets on the market today are made from synthetic fibers. Nylon has excellent durability, abrasion resistance and is very resilient. Polyester has natural stain and static resistance. Polypropylene is light fast and resists moisture.

Stain and soil resistance along with color clarity are essentially functions of the carpet fiber. Good carpets will carry a label on the backing which should be checked for stain and soil resistance and warranty protection against wear and static. If no such label is present or the warranty is inadequate, beware of the carpet's performance.

Manufacturing Techniques Are Key Factors
Fiber is only one consideration in carpet selection. Construction, or how well the fiber is put together with the backing, is the difference between good and poor quality carpet. This difference is measured in pile density, pile height and twist levels.

Carpet needs vary from room to room
Living Room: If the living room is used a great deal by the family, look for a carpet with the same characteristics as the dining room. Otherwise go for luxury and comfort.

Master Bedroom: This is a low traffic area where your imagination can run free. Look for color and comfort.

Children's Room: Look for a durable, easy to clean carpet with good soil hiding capabilities.

Family Room: A party-proof carpet is called for in this area. Dense pile, excellent soil resistance and for easy maintenance a multi-tonal carpet usually performs best in these conditions.

Kitchen: Low, dense looped pile in a moisture resistant fiber, will be capable of withstanding the heavy traffic of the kitchen. Look for stain and soil resistance and perhaps a patterned effect to help hide accidental spills.

Bathroom: Here moisture is your carpet's worst enemy. Look for specially constructed carpet to withstand bacteria, fungus and mildew growth. You can begin to examine the different types of carpets which offer various characteristics designed to meet your needs.

For your free copy of the Consumer's Guide to Carpet call 1-800-845-4252.

Seven Basic Carpet Types Offer Buyers A Choice

There are seven basic types of carpet construction: velvets, saxonics or plushes, friezes, level loop, multi-level loop, tip sheared and cut/loop or traceries.

Velvets are the ultimate in elegance. All the pile fibers blend together in these extra dense, cut pile carpets to give you an ultra-smooth sweep of rich luxurious color.

Saxonics or plushes offer versatile beauty in cut pile but are not as formal as velvets. The degree to which individual tufts are visible in the pile creates a wide range of subtly different appeals. This style shows footprints and shading as part of its styling effect.

Friezes (pronounced freeze ays) are the most casual and rugged of cut pile carpets. Tightly twisted heat-set yarns curl back on themselves creating a distinctive nubby or pebbled texture look. They tend to wear very well and hide footprints and dust.

Level loop is carpet made with tufted loops of the same height. It has a tight pebbly surface to take hard wear and hides footprints and furniture marks. Soil tends to stay on the surface for easy cleaning. The visibility of each loop and the way it reflects light from the surface makes level loop carpets most suitable for commercial applications.

Multi-level loop has variances in the height of the loops which create a wide range of styles in a sculptured or patterned surface. The carpet design can offer additional practicality in maintenance over a level loop texture due to the patterned effect.

Tip sheared carpets tend to be the most luxurious of the loop styles. Using loops of different height, a rich pattern is created by shearing the tips of the higher loops while maintaining the benefits of other loops.

Cut/loop combines the effect of a saxony carpet with a tracery loop patterned effect which is why these carpets are sometimes referred to as "Traceries". This unique combination of cut pile and loop pile creates a carved, sculptured effect.

Gas Appliances Should Be Safety Certified

Consumers who are purchasing natural gas appliances should look for the Blue Star Design Certification Seal from the American Gas Association Laboratories or a similar safety certification from another nationally recognized testing agency, A.G.A. officials say.

The A.G.A. Blue Star is an assurance from the manufacturer that the design of the natural gas appliance complies with national safety standards.

Dedicated to appliance safety and efficiency, the A.G.A. Laboratories in Cleveland and Los Angeles have tested more than 58,000 equipment models submitted by more than 500 manufacturers during the past 66 years. Many local building codes and standards require A.G.A. certification on natural gas equipment.

HI-EFFICIENCY GAS HEAT

Selecting The Cooking Appliance You Need

Flexibility is the key with the Modern Maid Quartz Halogen/Radiant Smoothtop Cooktop model. Available in both 30" and 36" sizes, the easy-clean Ceram-glass-ceramic cover contains a variety of element types and sizes for exceptional cooking flexibility.

It's amazing what some people will compensate for it if one of the burners doesn't work, they make do. And, thanks to the longevity of most cooking products, many consumers will go ten to 15 years without purchasing a new appliance. In that period of time, a lot can change in appliance technology.

The options available in cooking appliances today border on overwhelming. The choice used to be relatively simple—gas or electric ranges in a choice of two or three colors. Now there are downdrafts, induction, halogen, convection, microwaves, modular units... the list goes on and on. And while all this technology is great, it can make the selection process a bit intimidating for the average buyer.

Getting a handle on what's "out there" and accurately assessing your cooking needs will ensure that you purchase the appliance(s) you really need. Here are some basic decisions you should make before you go shopping.

First, take a good hard look at your kitchen design and layout. How much room do you have? Take into account the flow of the room, areas for food preparation and the amount of counter-space available. If you just need a new range, a freestanding model is your best bet. But if you're remodeling, you have a wide range of choices including cooktops, downdrafts, wall ovens, etc.

Second, what type of fuel or energy source do you have? Or in the case of new construction, do you have a preference? Basically, appliances operate on gas or electricity. Each one has advantages, but the type of fuel you have will greatly influence your purchase. In both gas and electric, there are many product options. Within electric, for example, you can choose between halogen, open coils, solid disk elements, radiant smoothtops, etc.

Third, consider your lifestyle and what you will expect from this appliance. Do you need several cooking functions within one appliance? A downdraft range, with a full sized oven and interchangeable cooking cartridges (grills, griddles, elements, etc.) might be the solution. If flexibility is what you need, consider a product like the Modern Maid Quartz Halogen Radiant Smoothtop Cooktop. This appliance combines two halogen elements, one radiant coil element and a dual element for all types of cooking.

Fourth, cleanability is a factor that consistently tops consumer cooking appliance wish lists. Most people no longer have the time or desire to scrub an oven, and thanks to modern technology, they no longer have to. Self-clean ranges, available in gas and electric, allow the consumer to push a latch and later return to a sparkling clean oven interior. During the cleaning cycle, extremely high temperatures within the oven turn spills into ash. When cleaning is complete, you simply wipe up the ash with a damp cloth.

Scaled burners are another feature which can greatly enhance cleanability. Found on many gas ranges and cooktops, these burners seal gaps between the cooktop and the surface underneath. This prevents spills from ever getting underneath the cooking surface. Also keep in mind that the more crevices a cooktop has, the greater the potential for dirt to collect.

Two other features which will make cleaning easier are lift-off oven doors and material elements which are dishwasher safe.

Fifth, capacity is an important factor to consider when looking at ovens, but it's important to examine usable space, not just capacity. Many ovens interiors look large but do not organize their space efficiently due to poor rack positions or insulation. When you're shopping, ask the dealer for several baking pans and see how much really fits.

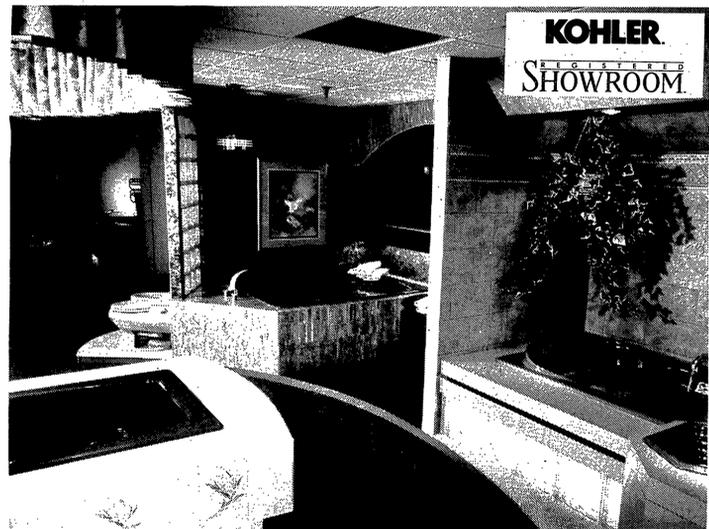

There are several safety features that you might want to investigate as well. If you have small children, make sure the knobs on any cooking appliance you purchase are not within the reach of small hands. "On" or "Hot" lights is another safety feature many manufacturers are offering, especially on electric products. These lights are often located on the control panel and remind you that a cooking surface is hot, even after the appliance is turned off. With many of the smoothtop models, that's an important plus.

There are other features designed purely with your convenience in mind. Here are several you should look for. First, on the cooktop, can you slide pots and pans between the burner grates without lifting them off the cooktop? This is especially important with larger vessels. Second, does the oven have a window and a light you can control? Third, does the oven door stay open where you want it, or does it have preset stops? Fourth, if you're looking at a range, does it have a full-width storage drawer for storing extra pots and pans? Other convenience features include timed cooking, which allows you to preprogram start and stop times; oven probes, for monitoring food temperatures; and the number of large and small burners.

These basics will get you started in the right direction. Your local appliance dealer will be glad to help you with more specific information and answer questions. Reseaching your new cooking appliance will take some time, but the years of enjoyment and convenience it will provide will make all the effort worth while.

Re-Roofing D-I-Y Guide Can Help

You can obtain a free copy of "How to Apply Manville Fiber Glass Shingles," No. RF-270B, from your building supply dealer, or by writing to Manville Roofing Systems Inquiry Dept., 1601 Park Ave. West, Denver, CO 80216.

Every homeowner knows that a new roof will add to the beauty and value of their home. Now there's a guide that can help make the re-roofing job go smoothly.

The makers of Manville fiber glass shingles have published an illustrated, pocket-size guide that provides quick, easy-to-follow steps for re-roofing, as well as putting a roof on a new home.

The guide lists the tools and materials that will be needed, and explains how to prepare the roof before the shingles are applied. With simple sketches, it shows how to install the new shingles, types of fastening methods, and how to handle flashing, valleys and even dormers.

Get It Right The First Time

Get it right the first time, that's the main thing... This line from a Billy Joel song is a good thing to remember when you are thinking of re-siding your home.

Installation mistakes are responsible for the majority of siding problems that occur. The answer to avoiding application problems is very simple. You just follow the instructions supplied with your siding. If the application instructions are, for some reason, missing, ask for a copy. Or, call the manufacturer.

Below are some basics to hardboard siding application as supplied by Masonite Corporation, the nation's leading manufacturer of hardboard siding. The suggestions can help you avoid some of the most common and expensive mistakes.

Proper application calls for a galvanized box head nail, with a minimum 1/2 inch head diameter. Length depends on the thickness of the siding and sheathing being used. Nails must be long enough to penetrate 1 1/2 inches into the studs.

That means if you are using one inch foam sheathing and half-inch thick siding material, you are up to one and a half inches. You would need a three inch nail to penetrate siding, sheathing and stud for sufficient holding power.

Do not use staples or T-nails for siding application because they lack the necessary holding power.

Power driven fastening systems can be used to apply siding. However, you should consult with your fastener supplier for fasteners of equivalent holding power to meet the manufacturer's requirements.

Another common application problem, according to Masonite Corporation, also relates to nailing and the framing to which the siding is attached.

Vertical framing members to which hardboard siding is to be applied are to be spaced no more than 16 inches on-center. The number of nails to be used depends on the particular product being applied, so you should again refer to the manufacturer's application instructions for the product you are using.

If you don't follow the instructions and use improper stud spacing, nail size and nail spacing, movement of the siding could result because of insufficient fastening.

Nailing to framing members is important at the butt joints, where two pieces of siding meet. The ends must meet at studs. Each piece must be nailed at the top and bottom of the joint.

Corner treatment is another area that causes difficulties for the inexperienced applicator.

When applying lap siding, you want the courses to match like a pattern in a floor. If you haven't leveled or installed the first course correctly, and if you aren't using a self-aligning lap siding, you are likely to end up with offset corners. So, it is very important to check levels all the way through the job.

Just as important as checking for level is leaving a proper gap between the end of siding pieces and where the siding adjoins house trim. Without the gap, natural expansion of the siding could cause a major problem later.

Proper application calls for a 1/8" gap between the siding and house trim, which then must be caulked. If pre-formed metal joint moldings are used at butt joints on lap siding, a 1/8" gap is required. If moldings are not used, leave a 1/8" gap at butt joints. Hardboard siding manufacturers provide preformed metal joint molders for most lap siding materials.

Yearly Inspections

Homeowners can protect the major investment in their home by a yearly inspection. A short walk-around check of the home's exterior can prevent minor problems from becoming serious ones.

For most people, a home is the single largest investment they will make. It is a sign that they have attained a certain standard of living. It makes good sense therefore to protect this investment so that its value will grow.

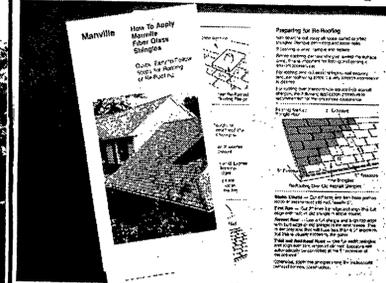

Quite simply, there is no such thing as a totally maintenance free home. When any exterior wood or wood-based cladding material is installed, finished and maintained according to its product instructions, the material will perform in all climatic conditions.

A yearly, 20-minute walk around inspection will help you diagnose and prevent many of the problems caused by weather and improper installation. A homeowner's checklist should include checks for dirt build up, mildew, loose or cracked caulking and condition of the paint.

Homeowner maintenance will pay dividends. It must include checking for loose or cracked caulking, mildew and dirt build up, and condition of the paint film. Many of these problems, such as mildew, algae growth, caulking and painting can be easily taken care of by the homeowner using common household tools.

Many problems in exterior wood products are caused by design and construction defects and lack of proper maintenance. A wood or wood-based product manufacturer is not responsible for deficiencies in architecture, workmanship and/or lack of ordinary maintenance. Where wood on a home is found rotted, severely

Covering Enhances Old And New Windows

If you are remodeling or building a new home, you probably have already discovered that windows represent a large investment. What you may not yet realize is that the window coverings or treatments you choose may be almost as important as the windows themselves. The right choice of window covering will greatly enhance the comfort, enjoyment and energy efficiency of all types of windows or glass areas and can play a large part in how useful your windows will be year-round, according to Frank S. Fitzgerald, C.A.E., executive vice-president and technical director for the Screen Manufacturers Association.

During the energy crunch of the mid-1970's, builders cut down on the size and number of windows and glass areas in many new homes. But, they quickly found out that people want windows, and the trend in recent years has been more and larger windows. In addition to windows, many new and remodeled homes now also include glass doors such as sunrooms or greenhouses. In fact, sunrooms are one of the most popular home additions.

Today, most new windows offer adequate insulation against winter cold, but far too often, little consideration is given to the sun's heat and glare. The sun's hot rays can quickly cause the area around your windows to become too warm, creating uncomfortable hot spots. This heat causes extra work for your air conditioner, annoying glare and can cause unsightly fading of drapes, carpet and interior furnishings. Even in sunspices or greenhouses, which are added to a home to allow more sun, some type of window treatment is necessary. The sun's rays, even in the dead of winter, can often be too much for a small sunspace, and these windows must be shaded in some fashion.

To be completely energy efficient and to afford the maximum in comfort and enjoyment, some type of window covering, either exterior or interior, is needed on virtually every window.

Exterior Shading

The most effective way to control the sun's heat and glare is to stop it before it enters your window. Once the sun's rays enter, they are absorbed and begin to radiate throughout the room in the form of heat.

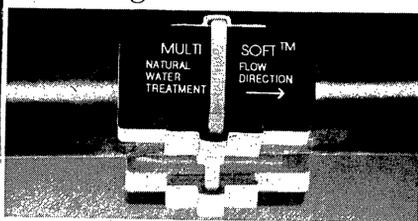

The first option is solar screening, a woven fiberglass mesh that is installed in the same manner as regular insect screening often using the same frames. The unique ribbed weave stops insects while allowing gentle breezes to enter. For those desiring a more heavy duty shading fabric, a woven vinyl coated polyester rather than fiberglass fabric may be needed. This type product is better suited for skylights, greenhouses and areas where the sun's exposure is almost constant. Both products can block up to 70 percent of the sun's heat and glare but allow good outward visibility and improved daytime privacy. They are also available in a choice of several colors to blend with any type of exterior.

Designed to give homeowners the look of regular insect screening while offering a significant amount of protection from the sun's heat and glare, 20-30 Mesh Solar/Insect Screening is constructed of woven fiberglass yarn and is available in various colors to match regular insect screening. 20-30 Mesh is a good choice where outward visibility is important but where you would also like sun and insect protection.

For maximum exterior sun protection, choose a four-layer aluminum shading product. Coated in a neutral black finish, these devices are designed to reflect the sun's rays and

Magnetically Treated Water — An Irrigation Revolution

Grow brilliant blossoms; vibrant foliage; lush, green lawns; luscious fruit with the help of Dowling Miner Magnetics Corporation's Multi-Soft™ unit.

If you'd like to grow brilliant blossoms; vibrant foliage; lush, green lawns; luscious fruit, put magnets on your pipes.

Magnetically treated water encourages growth and health in plants, trees, lawns, and crops; reduces corrosion and the build up of scale in pipes and sprinkler systems; and you need less of it to do a better job.

Industrial pioneers have physically treated water with magnetism for years to reduce corrosion and build up, but the cost has been previously prohibitive for many potential magnet users.

Niels Chew, President of Dowling Miner Magnetics Corporation, a magnetic products manufacturing firm founded 45 years ago, is determined to revolutionize the use of magnets for physically treating water. "In collaboration with Inventor Bo Ek, we are manufacturing an extremely effective system that every residence and business can afford," he said.

When Dowling Magnetics' Multi-Soft™ units are attached to vertical water pipes, magnetic fields separate water molecules, reducing surface tension and suspending minerals allowing them to flow freely. Water supplying the garden penetrates the soil more effectively, and reaches the roots more quickly; evaporation is minimized.

In controlled studies conducted by the Israel Institute of Technology (1988), magnetically treated water produced larger, higher quality fruit than untreated water. Yields were increased, and fruit was more uniform in size. Water usage, as well as the need for fertilizer and chemically treated water, was reduced; scale deposits in pipes and sprinkler heads were eliminated.

For more information concerning magnetizing water for landscaping purposes, write to Dowling Miner Magnetics Corporation, P.O. Box 1829H, Sonoma, CA 95476, or call 1-800-MAGNET 1.

Temperature-Control Technology Advances Luxury In The Shower

CeraTherm revolutionizes the daily shower with sophisticated thermostatic-control technology for superior comfort and safety.

A luxury for homeowners who enjoy frequent showers, CeraTherm has a dial with a range of comfortable temperature choices. Users simply pre-select their favorite shower temperature on the dial, and leave it! That means no fumbling in the pre-dawn hours for that perfect water temperature, wasting both time and water.

Maintaining a constant temperature, CeraTherm eliminates the problem of sudden scalding or freezing water during showering. Such temperature changes result from pressure changes, such as a flushed toilet elsewhere in the house, or temperature changes, such as unexpected fluctuations in water heater temperature. In fact, CeraTherm will immediately shut off water flow in the event of cold water supply failure.

CeraTherm's temperature control knob is automatically limited to a maximum of 100 degrees Fahrenheit. Adults can override this safety feature by pressing a special button.

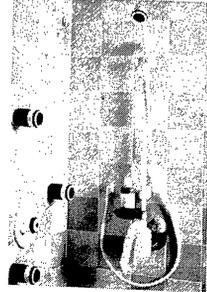

The technology behind CeraTherm is a simple valve cartridge, using a technology similar to thermostatic controls on automobiles. The cartridge houses a material that rapidly expands and contracts with temperature changes. It is neither computerized, nor electronic, so plumbing contractors will find CeraTherm is installed in a manner similar to most shower valves.

CeraTherm is available in three styles. The first model has one handle with two dials to control temperature and turn water on and off. The second model has two handles: one to control temperature and one to control water flow. The third model is simply the thermostatic valve, which is used when a separate handle style is desired.

A range of showerheads, body sprays and hand showers can be used with CeraTherm. Finish selections include Polished Chrome, Polished Brass and White.

Letters to the Editor

Don't give up hope, Niles residents!

To the People of Niles:

By now you must know that the Park District has won the first battle in court against the Village take over. Do not give up hope! The Village will continue to fight for what is right - for what the people want.

A group of concerned Niles citizens sat in on a Park District meeting the night after the election, and we had to listen in disbelief to a commissioner read the Park Commissioner's Code of Ethics to us. If she and her two cronies had any ethics at all, they would have listened to what the people wanted. Sixty-five percent of the people of Niles voted to better the Park District and the Village of Niles. If these three commissioners really cared about the people they "serve," they would listen to the people, and stop being self-serving politicians.

Guess what taxpayers? They're doing it again. They are using our tax dollars against us. Doesn't it make you feel good to know the money you work so hard for is fighting you in court? It seems that our three commissioners and their lawyer friends enjoy abus-ing the Niles taxpayers.

Park District employees: Hang in there! We know many of you have been threatened with your job security if you spoke out for what is right. We will stand behind you and fight for you! We are very lucky to have Bud Skaja and Elaine Heinen on the side of the people. They were the only two commissioners who listened to the voters of Niles. We know it must be very difficult for them to be a part of a Board where your voice is not heard. Stick with it! The people of Niles need to know that there is someone left on the Board who cares about us. Thank you for giving us faith that there are still some political people who take their job of serving the public morally and ethically, by listening to the people who put them in office.

We can't give up hope, Niles residents! Let your voices be heard, as you did on election day. Remember, Niles is the Village Where People Count. Maybe someday, the people will count to the Park Commissioners as well.

Sincerely,
Committee Members,
The Citizens For a Better Niles

Knuerrs celebrate 68th wedding anniversary

Arthur and Marion Knuerr of Niles celebrated their 68th wedding anniversary on Tuesday, Nov. 24. In the early '20s, Art and Marion were neighbors in Chicago. Marion would walk across the street from her home to the store that Art's family owned to buy cookies to take to her job. After dating for nearly two years, the couple eloped to Crown Point, Indiana with Marion's brother and his fiancée who were also married that day. Art and Marion had a church wedding two weeks later. They have lived in Niles since 1961. Art, 91, and Marion, 85, have raised 3 children, one of whom is now deceased. They have 6 grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren.

Attendees should bring an unwrapped item(s) for either a Public Action to Deliver Shelter (P.A.D.S.) group or Home of the Sparrow (a shelter for homeless and/or abused women and children).

Needed are non-perishable food, blankets, sheets, any clothing, including gloves, tube socks, knit caps, mittens. Personal hygiene items such as soap, shampoo, and toothpaste, are also needed.

The festivities will also include a gift exchange for the attendees ($10 maximum) and a bake auction.

The gift exchange and baking are optional. Bakers should bring their home baked delights in disposable containers and include the recipe.

Cost for dinner is $20. For reservations, contact Barbara Bednarz at (708) 397-3000, ext. 2848.

Letters to the Editor

Dudycz thanks voters, outlines agenda

Dear Editor:

With the November election now behind us, I can look back with great pride on the events of the past few months.

The election for the 7th Senate District was obviously a hard-fought battle, with a high turnout and an extremely close finish. I commend my opponent for his hard work. And, I thank my supporters and volunteers for the time and effort invested in our campaign. Among other things, these concerned citizens walked precincts with me, stuffed envelopes in the campaign office and displayed signs on their lawns. They became involved not because patronage jobs depended upon it, but because they sincerely believed in the things I am fighting for in Springfield. They wanted to make a difference, and they did just that.

However, the names of the real winners on election day were not even on the ballot. The families, homeowners, parents and senior citizens of the 7th District gained the most from the events of the day. They voted in overwhelming numbers, and they made their voice clear.

For the past few months, I spent endless days and nights on the campaign trail, and I learned a great deal about the needs and concerns of area residents. However, my work has just begun.

During the next four years, as in the past, I will strive to have an honest, open and close working relationship with my constituents, and to keep them up-to-date on the issues and activities in Springfield.

I respect the trust and faith the people of the 7th District have placed in me. And, I am honored to have earned their support. I look forward to working with them in the near future.

Sincerely,
Walter W. Dudycz
State Senator

Oakton honors fall athletes

Oakton Community College honored athletes of its fall sports teams at a recent awards dinner.

Brandon Wessel, who already has qualified for the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) national golf tournament in the spring, headed a list of four Raiders who were given all-Skyway Conference recognition. Brian Aschbacher, George Dawalibi and Keith Trevino also were tabbed, while Wessel was named Oakton's Most Valuable Golfer and an all-Region IV (northern Illinois) pick.

Vanessa Landazzi and Emmy Pasier shared co-MVP honors for Oakton's volleyball team. Robin Newman was the team's "Most Improved," and Anita Gorski won the "Hustle Award."

Felix Gamez was a double award winner, picking up both all-Skyway Conference and all-Region IV honors.

Gamez also received his All-America award earned at last year's NJCAA national marshall championships. Leszek Stoklosa, now running at Lewis University, also was recognized for his All-America performance in helping the Raiders finish second in the 1992 marathon.

Jim Hartford shot 287 in The Sunday Nite Mixed League. Jojo Torres shot 286-769 series on the ITT Bell & Gossett Mixed League on Wednesday night.

Congratulations from Brunswick Niles Bowl. So far this season Niles has had two 300's and one 800 series.

Oakton cagers start new season

Just one player returns from last year's Oakton Community College basketball team, which set a school record for wins in a season during a 25-7 campaign.

However, that one player, 6-foot-6-inch sophomore forward/guard Andy Klemen, gives second-year Raider coach Rick Kilby a good place to start. The straight-A student earned all-Skyway Conference honors a year ago when he was Oakton's leading scorer, averaging 17.6 points a game. But Kilby says the best is yet to come.

"Andy is a much more versatile player this year," Kilby said. "Last year, he was more of a stationary shooter, but he's improved his ball-handling quickness and strength. Last year, he was learning the college game, but this year, he knows it and has accepted a leadership role."

Other probable starters for Oakton this season are 6-6 forward Rob Layton (Crete Monee), 6-10 center Dan Richards (Ohio), 6-5 forward Onyeabo Oji (Chicago-St. Gregory) and 6-0 guard Dan Pieroni, a 1991 Maine East High School graduate who played last year at Triton College in River Grove. All players on the Oakton roster are freshmen, with the exception of Pieroni and Klemen.

"We're bigger than last year, but probably not as quick," Kilby said. "This is a very young group, so we'll have to mature as the season progresses. The potential is there to do well, but these guys all have to learn to play with each other."

Kilby said he is counting on Chad Strojnic (Wis.) and Bobby Douglas (Chicago-Fenger), a pair of 6-3 guards to see plenty of action off the bench. Other Raider reserves are Alex Caragiannides (Chicago-Gordon Tech), Jason Gill (Evanston), Pete Harris (Chicago-St. Gregory), Natwan Logan (Chicago-Hales Franciscan) and Jack Pertillo (Loyola).

Niles Squirts - 3 Glenview #4 - 2

Niles Squirt Rangers beat Glenview #4, 3-2. Great goal tending by Mike Salvi and good defense by Desmond, Gutow and Fanagan.

Niles scored the 1st goal, in the 1st period by Tony Leifel, assisted by Natasha Duszak and Rewerski. Tied in the 2nd, Niles went ahead 2-1 with an unassisted goal by Kevin Gutow. Niles' winning goal was scored in the 3rd by Natasha Duszak, assisted by Tony Leifel and Dennis Foster.

Glenview #2 - 5 Niles Squirts - 3

The Niles Rangers Squirts lost their 1st game of the short season, 5-3, bringing their record to 2-1-1.

Tony Leifel scored the first goal of the game, assisted by Mark Graf and Natasha Duszak. Niles took a 2-0 lead in the 2nd period with Natasha Duszak scoring her 3rd goal of the year, assisted by Dennis Foster and Tony Leifel. Down 4-2, Niles last goal was scored by Dennis Foster with assists going to Sean Flanagan and Natasha Duszak.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF THE AVAILABILITY OF THE COOK COUNTY CONSORTIUM'S COMPREHENSIVE HOUSING AFFORDABILITY STRATEGY (CHAS) ANNUAL PLAN AND ANNUAL PERFORMANCE REPORT OF THE COOK COUNTY CHAS FEDERAL FISCAL YEARS 1992-1996 FOR PUBLIC EXAMINATION AND COMMENT

The County of Cook, Illinois, in conjunction with members of the Cook County Consortium (Arlington Heights, Berwyn, Cicero, Des Plaines, Evanston, Mount Prospect, Oak Park, Schaumburg and Skokie), have developed and are hereby making available for public comment its Draft Comprehensive Housing Affordability Strategy (CHAS) Annual Plan for Federal Fiscal Year 1993 and the Draft Annual Performance Report for Federal Fiscal Year 1992, which covers the Cook County urban county jurisdiction only.

The CHAS is a comprehensive five-year planning document that identifies the County's overall needs for affordable and supportive housing for low-income households and outlines a strategy to address these needs. The first five-year plan was completed for Federal Fiscal Year 1992 and covered the urban county jurisdiction prior to the formation of the Consortium. It consisted of four parts: Introduction, Community Profile, Five-Year Strategies and One-Year Plan.

For Federal Fiscal Year 1993, the County of Cook, Illinois is required to update the CHAS with an Annual Plan and to report on the progress and accomplishments made in the last year with its Federal Fiscal Year 1992 Annual Performance Report. This year's Annual Plan includes communities which were not part of the urban county jurisdiction of the Five-Year Strategy. The communities listed previously have entered into an agreement with Cook County to form a Consortium to address affordable housing issues in a comprehensive manner. Both the Annual Plan and the Performance report are due at the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) by December 31, 1992.

The National Affordable Housing Act of 1990 created several new as well as expanded number of housing programs which are/were available to States, local governments, and other entities. To participate in most of these programs, a State or local government must have prepared and submitted a CHAS for approval to HUD prior to applying for such funds.

The Annual Plan is a document which primarily discusses the projected availability and proposed use of certain federal and State financial resources for housing in the Cook County Consortium jurisdiction.

Each program description in the Annual Plan includes information on anticipated Federal Fiscal Year 1993 funding levels, estimated commitments and expenditures, estimated beneficiaries, and each program's use in addressing one of the three major priorities of the Five-Year CHAS: affordable housing, supportive housing for the homeless, and supportive housing for other persons with special needs.

Annual Performance Report
This document provides an overview of anticipated versus actual program funding, commitments/expenditures, and beneficiaries of each of the programs discussed in the Federal Fiscal Year 1992 CHAS Annual Plan.

Both of these documents will be available to the public for review and comment for thirty (30) days beginning December 1, 1992. The Draft Annual Plan will be available to the public at all the following locations throughout the County, the Draft Performance Report will be available only at the Cook County Department of Policy, Planning and Development:

Dental Implants: The modern alternative to dentures

by Dr. Gregory A. Page

Last time we talked about Dental Implants and posed some questions that would help you to determine if Implants are for you. As you remember, a Dental Implant is a non-removable alternative to a missing tooth or multiple missing teeth. Implants are the most modern alternative to dentures. Dental Implants have made a dramatic improvement in the quality of hundreds of thousands of lives. Chewing and speaking are nearly as effective as with natural teeth. And although Dental Implants are just now gaining the attention of the public and are considered to be the latest in modern technology, they've actually been around for over 4,000 years. Ancient Egyptian mummies in King Tut's tomb were found with crude Dental Implants!

There are two basic types of Dental Implants: Endosteal and Subperiosteal. With Endosteal Implants metal posts are surgically placed into the bone and act as supports and anchors for the cosmetically constructed fixed bridges or caps that become your new teeth.

Subperiosteal Implants are used when the jaw bone has shrunk and jaw structure is limited and unsuitable for supporting teeth by the Endosteal method. This condition is usually caused by wearing removable dentures. With the Subperiosteal technique a lightweight metal framework is placed on the remaining bone and is covered by gum tissue. In both types of Implants, multiple posts protrude through the gum tissue and provide a comfortable stable support on which a bridge or Implant Denture can be secured. The result is that bright confident smile that you've always wanted.

Once you decide that you're a candidate for Dental Implants, your first step is a consultation and examination. A complete dental exam, medical history and X-rays are taken. In some cases models of your mouth and laboratory tests will be performed. If your general health is good then your potential success as an implant patient are good, too. Anesthesia will vary depending on your particular case, but with consideration for maximum patient comfort.

Temporary teeth can be worn while initial healing takes place and the permanent implant teeth, are being made. During that time a softer diet is recommended. But there is usually little interruption of normal business and social activities.

How long do Implants last? That depends on your personal history and habits; the number of remaining natural teeth and the strength of your remaining bone structure. But proper brushing and flossing, along with regular check-ups are essential. Implants fail for the same reason that natural teeth do: Poor oral hygiene.

YOUR DENTAL HEALTH QUESTIONS
Ques. My child has a loose baby tooth. Should I use the "string and door knob method" and remove it? J.O., Harwood Heights.

Ans. The "string and door knob method" could cause trauma and tears. The best way to help your child lose that baby tooth is to let the tooth loosen itself. It's the pressure from the big tooth underneath that causes the loosening.

Once the baby tooth is good and loose just wiggle it out with your finger. Your next job is to comfort your child give him his tooth, and remind him to put it under his pillow for the tooth fairy.

Send your dental health questions to Dr. Page's Dental Care, Dept. Q, 7100 West Higgins, Chicago IL 60656.

Ballard names physical therapy director

Tamara L. Chapman has been appointed Director of Physical Therapy for Ballard Nursing Center, Des Plaines, it was announced today by Eli Pick, executive Director.

She comes to Ballard from the Rehabilitation Unit of Westlake Community Hospital, Melrose Park, where she was a physical therapist working with hospital in-patients.

Chapman holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Therapy from Bowling Green State University. A member of the American Physical Therapy Association (APTA), Chapman has been active in the Geriatrics, Neurology and Orthopedic section of APTA.

ANAD to meet

Anorexia Nervosa and Associated Disorders, ANAD, will hold a group meeting for anorexics, bulimics, parents, and families at 8 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 3, at Highland Park Hospital, 718 Glenview Avenue, Highland Park.

The meeting is free. Those interested are invited to attend. ANAD groups now hold regular meetings in numerous North Shore communities and other sections of greater Chicago.

For additional information call (708) 831-3438.

Anorexia nervosa and bulimia are dangerous eating disorders characterized by extreme loss of weight and/or binge eating and purging.

Sponsored by the St. Francis Hospital Auxiliary, proceeds from the North Shore Holiday Festival will benefit the St. Francis Hospital cardiac program.

For further information, contact the Auxiliary Office at (708) 492-2308.

Rush to initiate open heart surgery program

The Illinois Health Facilities Planning Board on Nov. 5 granted Rush North Shore Medical Center a Certificate of Need to initiate an open heart surgery program. Rush North Shore plans to begin performing cardiovascular surgery and angioplasty procedures in late summer of next year.

"Everyone at our medical center is very excited about being able to offer these new services to the community," said James T. Frankenback, president, Rush North Shore Medical Center. "The proposed open heart surgery program at Rush North Shore is part of a comprehensive plan to provide the cardiac services needed by the patients in our community. With the initiative of open heart surgery we will offer a full range of cardiac services including diagnostic testing, surgical and nonsurgical treatment, and rehabilitation. This will enable most cardiac patients to stay at Rush North Shore for all of their cardiac care."

Open heart surgery will be performed in Rush North Shore's Gross Point Addition, a new facility that will open in March. The Gross Point Addition will contain large, state-of-the-art surgical suites and a new surgical intensive care unit where open heart patients will recover from surgery. Open heart surgery is used to perform bypass operations as well as to repair or replace heart valves.

An open heart surgery program will also enable the medical center to perform angioplasty, a procedure to open clogged arteries using a balloon-tipped catheter. An open heart surgery program must be in place before balloon angioplasty can be performed. The new open heart surgery program will be implemented with the involvement of Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center, a leader in the provision of cardiovascular services. Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center is affiliated with Rush North Shore Medical Center.

Auxiliary hosts holiday festival

"A magical winter forest, beautifully-decorated Christmas trees, and Santa Claus sitting comfortably in his oversized easy chair with children perched on his lap!" That's how Patty Berkson, President of the St. Francis Hospital of Evanston Auxiliary, describes the upcoming North Shore Holiday Festival to be held at the hospital from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 5, and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 6.

While visiting the Winter Forest in the hospital's Schultz Auditorium, guests can shop at the children's book sale, Hanukkah boutique and Christmas stocking stuffer shop. A variety of Christmas tree ornaments, holiday decorations and floral arrangements will also be on sale.

The weekend includes two special children's activities: Breakfast with Santa Claus from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 5; and a Teddy Bear Tea Party with Santa Claus from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 6. Children may bring their favorite teddy bear or doll and participate in a variety of holiday games. Both activities will be held in the hospital Cafeteria, and children must be accompanied by an adult. Tickets for the children's events may be purchased for $4.50 by calling (708) 492-2308.

Sponsored by the St. Francis Hospital Auxiliary, proceeds from the North Shore Holiday Festival will benefit the St. Francis Hospital cardiac program.

Marlene Baczek gave The Bugle reporter a lecture on improving its brand of journalism. We told her we hoped the anger manifested on the park board would lessen in the future.

What does the future hold? Taxpayers will have to put up with more legal fees as the village will appeal the case. Niles Mayor Nick Blase said since the majority of those voting favored the dissolution it was the obligation of the village to seek a higher court decision. He mentioned a state Supreme Court decision might be the eventual decision-maker.

Park board president Carol Panek was most restrained. Somewhat contritely, she said she was well aware of the 2 to 1 vote to dissolve the district. She said she thought the park district has a public relations problem and said it would be amended. She emphasized the district has been financially responsible, has received many "calls" commending the park programs, and contended some matters concerning the infrastructure of the parks had to be attended to immediately.

What does the future hold for Niles park officials? They must know they are representing constituents who voted 2 to 1 in favor of dissolving the district. They must know 64% of the voters no longer wanted park board members to represent them or spend their money. They also know park board members Baczek, Panek and Pierski tried unsuccessfully to prevent voters from voting on this issue. And they have to know the people they represent are going to ask for an accounting of the legal fees for all this legal fencing, fees which require paying for a second attorney as well as for the park attorney.

In April, the next park election will be hotly-contested. Board president Carol Panek, her ally, Jim Pierski, and Bud Skaja will be up for reelection. You can expect former park board members Danny Kosiba and Walter Beusse will oppose them. Others who worked for the dissolution will also be running.

While the political races will be in full bloom the Appeals Court may reach its decision. If the district should then be dissolved, where will all the candidates stand? Will their efforts all be for nothing?

We expect if the village wins, several of the candidates selected by the Niles Trustees to serve on the new village park commission.

Whatever the outcome we hope the park people will try to eliminate much of the mean-spiritedness which has emanated there since Baczek and Panek have taken over the board. One park employee wanted to deliver a letter of protest to The Bugle but said he/she did not want to come to our offices because he/she was afraid of retribution if he/she was seen here. Many other park employees told us they were being intimidated by the park officials. There was an implication park jobs would be on the line if park personnel signed petitions circulating in the district. Such anger and meanness coming from the Baczek-Panek-Pierski board is unprecedented. In our 35 years covering public boards we have never seen such despicable and silly behavior. It has been mean and vindictive and reflective of the people it emanated from. Even a Bugle editor was told she would not be welcome at a park board meeting to accept an award from the park district because of what she had written in previous weeks.

We would hope a calmness will replace the last months' upheaval which has surrounded the park board's ranctor. And we hope all the park people concerned with running the district will try to bring an equanimity to the district which has been absent during the Baczek-Panek-Pierski reign.

Reportedly, an error in engineering documents caused the blunder. Debate over who would pay for the new connection delayed the project until recently when Dirbuster owners, Carwash Investors #4, of Lake Forest reportedly agreed to split the cost with Gerald Biehl, owner of the south portion of the Plaza.

Built in a colonial style architecture, Dirbuster has two buildings, Salerno said. The full service tunnel structure on the north is 4,995 square feet; the second building, to the south, with eight self service bays, is 3,120 square feet.

Paul Hillstadt of Euclid Construction said the tunnel should be open in February; the rest of the facility, later in the spring.

Court rules...

ers that voted Nov. 3 approved the referendum for dissolution. In a 1990 case Stanic cited, the court ruled if the referendum is presented in a special election, a majority vote is sufficient. But when it is voted upon in a general election, as it was Nov. 3, the conclusion requires a majority of all votes cast.

Fidling reporters' questions after the ruling, Park Board President Carol Panek noted the District has infrastructure problems that require attention, but stressed "we've been financially responsible" and "there is no question we're very concerned about taxes." Panek believed the District has a "public relations image problem," but insisted "we've been getting calls...people like what we're doing."

Judge Stanic permanently restrained the Village "from taking over the possession, or control of Park District property." He prohibited it from interfering in the operations and affairs of the Park District...and from hindering "the commissioners in the exercise of their Office of Commissioner."

Winter travel tips

Old man winter takes his toll on everything, especially automobiles. So play it safe, and prepare them for the cold months ahead.

Winter driving demands total concentration on the part of the driver. Motorists, at all times, need to remain alert and aware of their surroundings.

"Before traveling, listen to weather reports and call the local or state police for updates on road conditions and closings. If the weather is not appropriate for travel, stay home," says Dan Gerber, a safety specialist for the Country Companies insurance group.

When traveling is essential, prepare for the unexpected and travel with plenty of fuel. Pack an emergency kit and store it where it is easily accessible. The kit should include flares; matches; lighter; jumper cables; small shovel; lock de-icer spray; blankets; warm clothes and food. A thermos full of your favorite hot beverages should also be included.

Automobiles need help adapting to the changing road conditions, so take all the necessary safety precautions when traveling. Seat belts are a must no matter what the weather, so buckle up.

"Make a point to check tire air pressure and invest in snow tires if necessary. You can also put fuel line/lank antifreeze in the gas tank to ensure cold morning starts," states Gerber.

Use caution when traveling on ice or snow, so reduce your speed and watch for ice patches. The

the majority of the total number of votes cast in the election that day.

Trustees approved Troy's written opinion the Village must appeal the ruling. Troy cited the need for certainty in public affairs so there will be no confusion about the District's legal status.

"Bond counsel for both the Village and Park District will be uneasy as to the legality of bonds issued by either," he added and suggested the Park District levy could be challenged on the grounds the District was dissolved.

The opinion of a trial judge is not binding upon other courts, Troy wrote, adding "when voters adopt a proposition by a two to one margin, it should be followed unless there is an unequivocal mandate...the will of the voters be overturned."

He stressed the judge's ruling "totally ignores" the 1970 Illinois Constitution which requires only votes cast for and against a proposition be counted. He concluded in citing Park Code, Section 13-3 which says it is the duty of the Village to abide by the results of the referendum.

Later, Trustee Jeffrey Arnold, a former treasurer of the Niles Park District and a Commissioner for six years, said he felt no hesitancy in approving the appeal. He said "I think the handwriting is on the wall for limited taxing district."

In other business, trustees confirmed a resolution with IDOT regarding using Federal Aid Urban funds for upgrading Washington Street between Dempster Street and Golf Road. They also approved using the firm of SEC Donohue, Inc. for preliminary engineering services on the project and an agreement with Morton Grove, which is cooperating in the project. Splitting the cost for this phase of the project on a 70/30 percent basis, Niles will pay 30 percent, or $32,500 for engineering fees.

The Donohue firm was compensated again when trustees approved paying it an additional $14,072 for an extended two weeks of flow meter monitoring last spring. The extension was needed because a lack of rain inhibited the firm's ability to monitor storm water flow.

Trustees heard the proposed $37,000 repayment of Kathy Lane, near the Golf-Maine Park District could not go forward until more ground preparation is done at the cost of $25,400 by Slezak Construction.

Continuing on financial topics, the Board approved Village Finance Director George Van Geem's request for an ordinance reallocating a previously adopted $810,000 abatement between three funds instead of two. It leaves unchanged the total 1992 levy of $2.2 million.

The Niles 1992 Comprehensive Annual Financial report is available at the Administration building, Trustee Arnold announced.

Niles contribution to Regional Emergency Dispatch this year is $127,072, a less than one percent increase over last year, according to Trustee Bart Murphy.

Waltech Products, Inc. will open an auto parts re-manufacturing business at 7430 Milwaukee Avenue as a result of Board confirmation of a Zoning Board recommendation. And Midas Muffler, 7369 Milwaukee Avenue, will erect a 7 x 10' pylon sign carrying its logo.

Welcome new members

At its last meeting the Morton Grove American Legion Post #134 welcomed two new members. Each month the new Legionnaires are sworn in during special ceremonies.

This particular session saw Air Force Ted Szyz and Vernon Krantstrunk of the Army joining the local Post.

Ron Daum, Senior Vice Commander-Membership Chairman will furnish additional information to those desiring membership. He may be reached at (312) 625-2898. Daum will also supply eligibility dates as set forth by the national government of this country.

The Morton Grove veterans organization is one of the largest in the north shore area says Commander Hal Fritze.

Chicago. He received his professional training at DePaul University.

When Mr. Holzman was asked what strengths he would bring to the Board, he indicated that his many years of experience in governmental accounting and finance has given him valuable experience which he believes will assist him to be a contributing board member, most notably in the area of finance.

He also indicated that he would strive to insure that the children of District 63 will receive the best possible education in a safe and pleasant environment. He further stated that as a board member he will work toward the goal of having the District operate in a fiscal sound manner while providing a top quality education to its children.

He indicated that for many years he was an advisor to municipalities and other organizations, which he believes gives him the ability to provide assistance and financial understanding to today's complexities which confront District 63.

Holzman stated that one of the major issues currently facing District 63 that must be addressed, is that of continuing to provide top quality education to the children of the District as resources continue to dwindle and shrink because of economic conditions.

can be transferred to the education fund.

The future deficits in the fund, which could amount to $12.8 million in 1994-'95, could be diminished if many costs charged to the education fund were paid through the operations and maintenance fund, the transportation fund or the tort liability fund.

A freeze imposed by the state legislature on the Equalized Assessed Valuation of property and increases in certain exemptions have cut back the revenues the district could normally expect from property taxes. That freeze may be lifted in 1994-'95, but the loss of revenue is permanent. An enrollment increase of more than 420 students is projected by 1994-'95 and that would require more teachers. "We can't turn away students," said District Business Manager, Joseph Monahan.

Zonta Club to meet

The Zonta Club of Northwest Cook County will hold its monthly meeting on Monday, Nov. 30, at 6 p.m. at the Noble House Restaurant, Rand and Dundee Road, in Palatine.

The guest speaker will be Christine Mueller, M.D. Christine Mueller will discuss "Domestic Violence - Pearls and Pitfalls." The program will feature some common misconceptions about domestic violence and pointers on dealing with victims.

For more information call Marlene Kucera, 392-6055.

OLR sells Christmas wreaths

Our Lady of Ransom Parish will be selling Christmas Wreaths on Saturday, Nov. 28 and Sunday, Nov. 29, after all the masses.

The wreaths and bows will sell for $1.50 and $3.50, respectively. For information, call Ministry Center at (708) 823-2550.

Prepare for power outages

Heavy snow, ice, high winds and frigid temperatures are enemies of reliable electric service.

So before, and after, winter storms rip through the area knocking out power, there are a number of steps to take to get through any outage.

If lights go out, check to see if power is out in the neighborhood or if only one house is affected. If it seems to be affecting only one house, call the local utility office and report the problem. Otherwise, wait a few hours before flashlight in a convenient location so it can be located quickly. Transistor radios come in handy, too. Stay tuned to local stations to keep informed about the outage and when the utility expects to have power restored.

Always keep a fresh supply of batteries on hand and place a flashlight in a convenient location so it can be located quickly. Transistor radios come in handy, too. Stay tuned to local stations to keep informed about the outage and when the utility expects to have power restored.

Camp fire sponsors candy sale

Local Camp Fire boys and girls have are selling Camp Fire candy through November 30.

These children seek public support for programs they will participate in throughout the year.

Linda Yu, Channel 7 news anchor, will serve as Camp Fire's Honorary Chairperson of the product sale in the greater metropolitan area.

Watch for uniformed Camp Fire children at office buildings, local areas or door-to-door, and stock up on their quality Roca Buttercrunch, Mint Patties, Almond Caramel Clusters and Smoked Almonds. With the holidays coming up, the boxed candy makes great gifts.

For additional information, call the council office at (312) 263-6218.

Local teacher wins idea award

Niles West Physical Education Teacher Judi Sloan, who was named the Illinois Teacher of the Year in October, will receive further recognition when she accepts the Illinois Distinguished Educator Award. The award, which is given to six educators in Illinois, is enhanced by a $25,000 cash award. Sloan follows in the footsteps of retired Niles West Principal Donald Ring, who was recognized by IDEA in 1991.

Sloan joins three other teachers and two principals from Illinois in receiving the award, which is sponsored by the Illinois State Board of Education and the Milkman Family Foundation of Santa Monica, California. IDEA publicly and financially rewards outstanding educators for their extraordinary efforts and personal commitment to the state's public and private schools. Illinois is one of 20 states to participate in the National Educator Awards Program.

Register for skating lessons

Skating enthusiasts will be glad to know that enrollment in the second session of skating lessons at the Northbrook Park District begin November 30. Lessons begin the week of January 4, 1993.

Classes are offered to all ages and abilities...from three year olds who have never skated through advanced figure skating and dance classes.

Call 291-2980 for enrollment information.

Botanic garden features rain forest programs

With the opening of the Smithsonian Institution's Traveling Exhibit, "Tropical Rainforests: A Disappearing Treasure" at the Chicago Botanic Garden on Jan. 4, 1993, several rainforest programs have been scheduled as part of the Chicago Botanic Garden's fall course guide. The rainforest exhibit will run through March 28.

The first program, "Costa Rican Odyssey," will be a lecture presented by the Friends of Cerros de Escazu of Costa Rica, which is an organization trying to preserve the natural environment of the Escazu area. The featured speaker will be William Burger, Ph.D., curator of botany at the Field Museum of Natural History. Burger will present a visual adventure of the incredible diversity of Costa Rica's flowering plants.

A series of "Rainforest Readings" are also scheduled for the fall. This series of four discussions will be led by Carol LaChapelle, writer and teacher, and will cover an anthology of readings to develop a better understanding of the tropical rainforest.

A lecture entitled "Living with the Rainforest in the Twentieth Century" will cover the issue of how people can learn to co-exist with the rainforest. The lecture is sponsored by the Chicago Rainforest Action Group and will feature international speakers.

There will also be a program on rainforests for 7 to 9 year-olds as part of the series of children's programs. "Rainforest Wonders" will include a walk through the Botanic Garden's tropical greenhouse and vivid jungle videotapes.

In addition to the rainforest programs, the course guide includes classes in horticulture, landscape design, nature and botanical crafts.

Among the 12 classes offered in horticulture are a session on fall garden care, an herbal harvest workshop, starting and building a rock garden, a discussion about wildlife and the garden, two classes about bonsai and three classes about perennials.

Four courses are offered on landscape design, including "Bulbs for your Garden" which will introduce participants to the best bulbs for Chicago area gardens and a three-day workshop about landscape design and graphics for residential and small commercial properties.

Several walks are scheduled as part of the nature courses. They are an English Walled Garden Walk, a Fall Color Walk and a series of Fall Bird Walks in which participants can learn about Neotropical birds that migrate through the Botanic Garden to summer in North America and spend winter in the tropics.

The botanical craft courses include basketmaking, flower arranging, papermaking and holiday crafts. The holiday crafts include a potpourri holiday workshop and a session on making everlasting dried holiday wreaths.

Family programs such as a desert walk in the Garden's cactus greenhouse and children's programs such as "Prairie Days," a sessin that teaches about America's natural prairie heritage, are also listed in the course guide.

Two tours are offered as well. They are a trip to the Fernwood Botanic Garden and the Tabor Hill Wetery in southwest Michigan and a walking tour of the Chicago Botanic Garden's outdoor sculpture.

The new course guide also includes three symposia: "Managing Stream Landscapes," "Perennials: Beyond the Border" and "Sacred Spaces."

To obtain a copy of the September to December course guide, call (708) 835-8261.

The Chicago Botanic Garden is a 300-acre living museum owned by the Forest Preserve District of Cook County and managed by the Chicago Horticultural Society. It is located on Lake Cook Road in Glencoe, one-half mile east of the Edens Expressway.

Consider a living trust

Those considering the replacement of their will with a living trust should attend the 7:30 p.m., December 14 program the Niles Public Library District is sponsoring. The program is designed for those individuals seeking information on the differences between trusts and wills and the benefits to be gained.

Attorney Chester Przybylo will be the presenter. Mr. Przybylo has given presentations on this topic at the library for the past three years. Audiences find his presentation easy to understand and full of useful information.

Library programs are free and open to the public. Registration is required. For mobility or communication access assistance call 976-8554 voice and TDD.

Also, keep doors and windows shut and drapes and curtains drawn.

If there is a fallen power line or burning transformer, don't hesitate to give the utility a call. However, do not attempt to move the power line and do not step in nearby puddles. Extra care should be so that children do not wander near fallen lines.

Always keep a fresh supply of batteries on hand and place a flashlight in a convenient location so it can be located quickly. Transistor radios come in handy, too. Stay tuned to local stations to keep informed about the outage and when the utility expects to have power restored.

Bank presents international program to seniors

Wednesday, Dec. 9, Devon Bank presents three members of the Chinese Fine Arts Society, performing works of Chinese, French, German and Jewish composers in a morning of free entertainment for area senior citizens at the Devon Bank's Chicago location, 6445 North Western Avenue. Free refreshments will be served before the performance.

The trio will include violinist, Frank Lu, with pianists, Esther Cheng and Barbara Tiao, President of the Chinese Fine Arts Society. The Society, based in the Chicago area, works to "help people appreciate Chinese arts and to appreciate the differences between and to experience the richness of Chinese and Western cultures."

Devon Bank sponsors free entertainment for area seniors on the second Wednesday of each month. The bank has free senior issues of books, direct deposit, which assures the safe, on-time arrival of government payments.

Seniors with questions about Devon Bank products or services or the scheduled programs may call Joellen at (312) 465-2500 X302 during regular banking hours.

Opera profile series continues

The Skokie Valley Chapter of the Lyric Opera of Chicago will continue its lecture series with a profile of La Boheme by Puccini at the Morton Grove Public Library.

Marcelle Sylvan, a member of the Lyric Opera Lecture Corps, will give her presentation on Sunday, Dec. 6, at 2 p.m.

Come to get ready for a night at the opera, or come just to get a taste of the Parisian romance at La Boheme.

Skokie Park presents Fantastic Fridays

Skokie Park District presents Fantastic Fridays Theme Parties. It's Friday and a theme party has been planned. Once a month, on a Friday afternoon, children are invited to come to the holiday special theme party, at Oakton Center, 4701 Oakton St., Skokie, from 4 to 5:45 p.m.

Activities include craft projects, games, refreshments and lots of fun! Costs are $8 for residents and $10 for non-residents.

The next party's theme is "Snowball Sock Hop" and will be held Friday, Dec. 18.

Do not try to operate a furnace while the power is off.

Bank sponsors food drive

Norwood Federal Savings Bank is sponsoring a food drive between Thanksgiving and Christmas for the Greater Chicago Food Depository to help alleviate hunger in Chicago.

One in four Chicagoans is said to be at risk of hunger. These 800,000 people lack the money necessary to purchase the food required to maintain good health. A 1990 study by the Illinois Hunger Coalition indicated that hunger in our metropolitan area has increased 167 percent since 1985.

Contributions most urgently needed are high-protein items such as canned meats and peanut butter, powdered milk, coffee or tea, cereals, pasta, rice, flour, sugar and canned fruits and vegetables. Special holiday greeting cards, which benefit four major foundations, will be given to all who donate 3 or more non-perishable food items.

Boy Scout and Girls Scout troops from St. Tarcissus School will assist Norwood Federal staff on Friday afternoons and Saturday mornings.

All donations will be given to the Greater Chicago Food Depository, the country's largest food bank. The Greater Chicago Food Depository is responsible for distributing food to its 530 member agencies in the Chicagoland area. These agencies include pantries, shelters, soup kitchens, day care centers and senior citizen programs.

Contributions can be made during regular lobby business hours at the Edgebrook office or Milwaukee Avenue office. For information, call Noelia Klein at (312) 775-8900.

Norwood Federal is a division of Deerfield Federal Savings with four offices located at 5813 N. Milwaukee and 5415 W. Devon Avenue in Chicago, 980 N. Northwest Highway in Park Ridge and 3220 W. Glenview Road in Glenview.

Joseph I. Glikman, a 1976 graduate of Maine East High School of Park Ridge, IL, recently returned to Norfolk, VA, aboard the multi-purpose amphibious assault ship USS Wasp following a six-month deployment to the Mediterranean Sea.

Glikman deployed with USS Wasp in June 1991.

Plan train show, swap

Just in time for Christmas, the Great Train Escape, presents Chicagoland's friendliest and most convenient Toy and Model Train Swap Show, as it steams into the Northwest Suburbs on Sunday, Nov. 29, at the VFW Hall next to the Rand Park Field House, 2025 W. Dempster, Des Plaines, 1/4 mi. west of I-294.

In addition to the dozens of enthusiastic vendors in attendance will be experts in repairs and re-conditioning. Qualified appraisals for insurance and Estate purposes will be available.

Open to the public from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., The Great Train Escape features hundreds of toys trains in all sizes, gauges, and ages plus parts, books, gifts, railroadiana items, and refreshments too.

This will be the season's first show. Tables are still available.

For more information, call 398-5809. Admission is $2, children under 12, free.

Niles man named Christmas Seal Chairman

Charles Barbaglia has been named by Chicago Lung Association as the 1992 Christmas Seal Community Chairman for Niles. In his effort to help combat lung disease, Barbaglia distributes campaign materials to area businesses and organizations reminding them about the work of Chicago Lung Association.

The Christmas Seal campaign was initiated in 1907, one year after the founding of Chicago Lung Association.

"We are proud of the work that Charles has done for the Association," says John Kirkwood, executive director of Chicago Lung Association. "We need volunteers like him to remind their neighbors about the seriousness of lung disease and what we are doing to combat it."

Barbaglia is one of several community chairmen supporting Chicago Lung Association by distributing Christmas Seals during this annual campaign. For more information on Chicago Lung Association and its services, call (312) 243-2000.
