Niles Park candidates unify for campaign

Park candidate cites needs for curtailment of spending

To the Editor:

I am a Niles Park District board member and have served for many years and I have seen many things in my time with the Park District.

I have noticed that the board is always looking for ways to cut costs. I have even seen them cut the budget for the park.

I would like to see the board make some tough decisions and cut costs where necessary. I believe that the park should be able to operate within its budget and not have to dip into reserves.

Sincerely,

Do-it-yourself concrete repair, restoration offers new alternative to replacing driveway

While millions of Americans embark on home improvement projects each year, demanding levels of do-it-yourself projects, which are understandable, it is crucial to understand that some projects require professional assistance to ensure proper and safe completion. One such project is the repair and restoration of concrete surfaces. Concrete, being a durable material, can last for decades if properly maintained. However, it can be damaged due to weather conditions, foot traffic, and vehicle traffic. When cracks, peeling, and staining occur, homeowners often seek professional help, which can be costly. Do-it-yourself repair kits can be a great alternative to hiring a professional contractor.

When it comes to concrete, the repair and restoration processes involve two types: those that do not require the help of a professional contractor and those which may need the help of a professional contractor. The latter often necessitate the use of specialized equipment and materials, which can be expensive. Do-it-yourself repair kits can save homeowners money in the long run, allowing them to avoid costly mistakes.

"Concrete repair and restoration are not projects that should be attempted by anyone who is unfamiliar with the process," said Tom Piotkin, owner of Mr. Mac's Refinishing. "They require knowledge of the products used, the proper application techniques, and the maintenance required to ensure the longevity of the repair."

For homeowners who mistakenly assume there is no alternative to hiring a professional contractor, do-it-yourself repair kits offer a great solution. These kits include materials and instructions to ensure the repair is done correctly. "With the right kit, homeowners can save money and do a professional job," said Piotkin.

"Mr. Mac's Concrete Fix bonds broken or cracked concrete and is a restorer or concrete fix would have done the job, while maintaining the integrity of the concrete," said Piotkin. "Other concrete repair and restoration products on the market claim to do the job, but often they fail due to improper application or lack of knowledge."

"The approximate 80 piece collection of Mr. Mac's products is sold to home centers and hardware stores throughout the United States and Canada," said Piotkin. "Each product is designed to address a specific issue and has been tested to ensure its effectiveness."

"For more information on Mr. Mac's Concrete Restoration System, call Macklanburg-JD Duncan, owners of Mr. Mac's Refinishing, at 800-348-3571, or write Macklanburg-JD Duncan, P.O. Box 25188, Oklahoma City, OK 73125."

Alcoholism: Retirement's hidden hazard

Heavy drinking can be a silent epidemic among seniors. While there is too much drinking among seniors, little is known about their drinking habits. A new study suggests that many seniors who have been drinking moderately are actually at risk for problems.

Dr. Jesse Cassettari, a social worker at the Bethany Retirement Home in Lincolnwood, noted that many seniors who have been drinking moderately are actually at risk for problems. He explained that many seniors who have been drinking moderately are at risk for problems, and that they are usually not aware of the problem.

The study, published in the Journal of the American Geriatrics Society, found that seniors who have been drinking moderately are at risk for problems, and that they are usually not aware of the problem. The study also found that seniors who have been drinking moderately are at risk for problems, and that they are usually not aware of the problem.
