Interest rates go along with inflation

by Jeffy Costello

Inflation Armament

Niles, IL 60714, (708) 470-8953

8143 N. Milwaukee Ave.

Managers look to the interest rates on their investments as a measure of inflation. As a rule of thumb, the inflation rate should be at least a percentage point above the interest rate. This ensures that your money is working just as hard as your salary.

For example, a 7% inflation rate over a 10-year period would result in a 10% increase in the cost of living. A 1% interest rate would not make up for the additional cost of living.

The Federal Reserve System's main goal is to keep inflation in check. If inflation is too high, the Federal Reserve may raise interest rates. This increases the cost of borrowing and helps to bring inflation under control.

Bank modifies low down payment mortgage program

The Bank of Edwards, 500 S. 3rd St., has modified its low down payment mortgage program. The program has been modified to increase the number of borrowers who can qualify for a mortgage.

As part of an ongoing effort to make home ownership more accessible, the Bank of Edwards has modified its low down payment mortgage program. The program has been modified to increase the number of borrowers who can qualify for a mortgage.

Previously, the program required borrowers to have a minimum down payment of 5%. The program has been modified to allow borrowers to qualify with a minimum down payment of 3%.

This change will allow more borrowers to qualify for a mortgage, making it easier for them to become homeowners. The Bank of Edwards is committed to providing affordable housing options to its customers.

The program is designed to help borrowers who may not have the full 5% down payment required by traditional mortgage programs. By allowing a lower down payment of 3%, the program will help more people become homeowners.

In addition to the down payment modification, the Bank of Edwards has also made other changes to its mortgage program. The changes include:

- Lower interest rates: The Bank of Edwards has lowered its interest rates on mortgage loans, making it more affordable for customers to finance their home purchases.
- Flexible loan terms: The Bank of Edwards offers flexible loan terms, allowing customers to choose the repayment schedule that best suits their needs.
- Pre-approval: The Bank of Edwards offers pre-approval services, allowing customers to know how much they can afford to borrow before they begin the home buying process.

Peerless Federal Savings is now TCF Bank.

On April 21, 1993, shareholders of Republic Capital Group, holding company for Peerless Federal Savings, and shareholders of TCF Financial, holding company for TCF Bank, agreed to a merger.

Same friendly atmosphere. Same friendly employees. Sure, you'll eventually see some changes, but they will be improvements. As always, you'll have the same friendly atmosphere with the same friendly employees.

$5 billion in assets.

You'll still be banking with an institution that's as old as Peerless. TCF Bank was founded in 1923 and has grown to over $5 billion in assets. And we're traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

Big bank taking over small community bank? Hardly. TCF has built its reputation through good old fashioned community-minded banking service. With the addition of six Peerless locations, TCF will now have 27 full service locations in the Chicagoland area to serve you.
