Chicago man faces charges in Niles robberies

By Tracey Labovitz

A 24-year-old Chicago man charged with nine counts of robbery may have all of the charges dropped except for two, which occurred in Niles.

Victor Goldstein, of 4307 N. Sawyer Ave., was arrested Deember 26 in connection with eight grocery robberies in Chicago, Arlington Heights, Hoffman Estates and Niles, as well as a street robbery in Niles in which a man was shot.

Police said that although the suspect was identified in seven police lineups, at least four of the charges have been dropped after it was determined that someone else committed the robberies.

Three other charges may also

A very nice lady we know told us a story about her daughter which we'd like to pass on to you. It ties in with Sunday's upcoming Mothers Day's celebration.

The daughter, who is adopted, and the mother of three children, said she would like to find her birth mother. Her adopted mother warned her not to be disappointed if her quest resulted in her being rejected by the birth mother who had not been in touch with her child since birth, some twenty-nine years ago. Contacting a government office in another state, she was able to locate the birth mother and telephoned her from her Chicago-area home.

Anticipating it would be awkward beginning a conversation, she first asked the birth mother if a date twenty-nine years ago meant anything to her. It was the date of her birth. Immediately, the out-of-state woman knew she was speaking to her daughter and began to cry. The daughter asked her if she would like her to hang-up and she quickly responded, "No."

The telephone conversation resulted in the woman telling the daughter she was the only child she ever had and that she currently had Muscular Dystrophy. At the end of their conversation the daughter promised to bring her family to the neighboring state to visit the

Locker room at IceLand burglarized

By Tracey Labovitz

Close to $800 in cash and individual items were stolen from the locker room at Niles Park District's IceLand, 8380 Ballard Road, on April 28.

According to police, the victims were members of a hockey team that was playing a league game. The men, ranging in ages from 18 to 27, changed into their uniforms in the locker room late Thursday night and locked the door behind them. The key to the room was kept on the player's bench during the game.

After the game, the door to the locker room was still locked, but the interior was ransacked. Besides the duty manager and the hockey team, other rink managers hold keys to the locker room, but none were working at the time, police said.

Zoners OK bank parking lot extension

By Tracey Labovitz

It was a confusing day at the Niles Zoning Board meeting May 2, but with Angelo Troiani acting as chairman for the absent Joe Salerno and Dorothy Dolack sitting in as secretary for Sydney Mitchell, the Board managed to approve four motions with stipulations attached to each one.

Many residents from Nora Ave. and Oakton Ct. attended the meeting to protest a motion made by the 1st National Bank of Niles, 7100 Oakton St., to build an employee parking lot at 7120-7130 Oakton St.

The request was first presented at the March 7 meeting and was continued by the Board to allow bank officials and local residents to meet and reach an agreement acceptable to all parties.

"We are at a standstill," said bank senior Vice President Chuck Barbaglia on Monday. "Nothing has changed in (the resident's) opinions."

The main concern of the protesters lie in the west end of the proposed lot which borders Oakton Ct. and Nora Ave. The bank promised to put 8 to 10 feet of American Arbor Vita trees and a 10-foot fence around the parking lot; a lot that would add 35 spaces for employee use only.

Maine Township Board approves budget, tax abatement

The Maine Township Board on Tuesday approved the township's budget for 1994-95. The final budget of $3.4 million, which is 4.8 percent higher than the 1993-94 budget, includes a $700,000 cut from the township's original spending proposal.

The cut was made after Trustee Jim Reilly moved to abate $700,000 in property taxes that were to have been levied for an addition to the Town Hall at 1700 Ballard Road. The addition plans did not win approval from the Park Ridge City Council and it was unlikely the plans could be revised and approved before June 1, the deadline for abating 1993 property taxes.

The abatement will be reflected in the second installment of property taxes to be paid by homeowners this fall. The cut reduced the township's total 1993 tax levy from $2.6 million to $1.9 million.

'March for Parks' attracts more participants

The second annual March For Parks showed improvement over last year's event.

The March For Parks is a nationally recognized Earth Day event, coordinated by the National Parks and Conservation Association. Only 30 people participated in last year's walk and many were Niles Park District staff members. The $524 raised in pledges last year bought additional trees and perennial planting for parks on Jonquill Terrace and Kirk Lane.

A few more than 30 people participated in Saturday's march. "We had a lot more adults involved this year and not just staff members," said Mike Rea of the Niles Park District. "We also had a lot of participants from outside like Mount Prospect and Chicago. There were also a few students from South Elementary."

In addition to the improved turnout, the March For Parks raised more money. "People are still bringing it in so we do not have an exact count," Rea said on Monday. "We are around $725 and could be as high as $800 when we done."

Proceeds from this year's 1.5 mile walk will provide playground equipment for the newly-acquired 5-acre Oak School Park. "This year's event was a little better than last year," Rea said. "Hopefully each year the program will continue to grow and expand."

Township to negotiate for Drop-In Center

Maine Township is exploring options for temporary or permanent space for the township's Youth Drop-In Center according to Supervisor Mark Thompson.

Plans to move the Drop-In Center to added space at the Town Hall at 1700 Ballard Rd. were put on hold when the Park Ridge City Council last month voted down the proposed building addition. The center now is based in leased space at Stevenson School in Des Plaines, but that lease is due to expire this summer.

Township Supervisor Mark Thompson recently reaffirmed his commitment to the Drop-In Center and offered a plan for addressing the needs that were to have been met by the Town Hall addition.

"We need to keep this a positive process," Thompson said. "I think we had a good plan. But if we can't do it the best way, we have to find out what the second best way is. We have to make sure we continue to have a Drop-In Center, and we need to continue support our other programs as well."

Continuing the Center is critical because it is an integral part of the township's anti-gang program, Thompson said.

David Greenfield, president of the Golf Maine Park District Board, said he supports efforts to find a home for the Center.

School District 63 also has confirmed it wants to continue working with the township. The township also plans to keep talking with Stevenson School about leasing space, Thompson said.

Besides locating a permanent home for the Center, Thompson made several other recommendations: keep MainStay Youth Services, which also was to have moved into the Town Hall addition, at its leased office space at 838 Busse Highway; pursue a lease extension at Stevenson School until another site can be found for the Drop-In Center; and consider a smaller addition to the Town Hall to provide needed space for departments now operating under crowded conditions. The addition also would include a garage for the township Emergency Management Agency vehicle.

Funding for construction could come from $500,000 in cash reserves that had been earmarked for the larger addition, according to Thompson.

The board made plans to discuss the addition at a meeting of the Building Committee of the Whole, scheduled for 6:30 a.m. Thursday, May 5, at the Town Hall.

Phone bill dispute

A St. Louis man charged $2,277.99 on a Niles woman's calling card and refused to pay.

A 28-year-old woman, from the 8500 block of Greenwood, told police April 27 that the 24-year-old man had been living with her family for approximately three months. The woman said she kicked the man out of her home on March 24 and then received a phone bill on April 26 for more than $2,000. Most of the calls on the bill were charged on the woman's calling card to the offender's parent's home in St. Louis. The woman said she did not give the man permission to use the card.

A friend of the victim contacted the offender regarding the bill. The offender responded by saying, "Forget the whole thing or I'll kill all of you".

Drug bust

A 38-year-old Skokie man was arrested about 6:25 p.m. April 29 after trying to sell cocaine to an undercover drug agent.

The man, who resides in the 9100 block of Lawler, attempted to sell a quantity of cocaine to a member of the Metropolitan Enforcement Group for Narcotics (N.E.M.E.G.) at a local bar.

Niles police assisted the group in the arrest and the man was processed at the Niles Police Department by the N.E.M.E.G.

Purse snatched

A 47-year-old Skokie woman's purse was stolen from a grocery cart as she was loading groceries into her car April 29.

An unknown offender grabbed the purse in a grocery store parking lot, 5667 Touhy, and fled in a white Pontiac Grand-Am.

The woman lost an assortment of items, including $20 and several credit cards.

Bar open after hours violates Niles code

A police officer noticed several people at a bar around 4:30 a.m. April 29.

Six people were sitting at the bar with beer bottles in front of them at Shotzee's Bar and Grill, 6055 Howard. The officer informed the owner, who claimed that four of the patrons were her cousins, that she would be charged with violation of the conditions under which she was issued her Niles Liquor License.

The officer further informed the woman that she would have a court date for the CC ticket that was being issued, as well as a hearing before the liquor commission.

The owners of the bar received a June 16 court date for serving after closing.

Parents blame son's arrest on illegal gun purchase

Parents of a 17-year-old Chicago boy arrested for shooting a BB-gun, told police April 25 that the Niles Service Merchandise is at fault.

The youth was arrested with a 14-year-old friend in Landing's Shopping Center, 2648 Dempster St. in Park Ridge, on April 24 for shooting the gun in a private parking lot.

The arrestee's 36-year-old mother came to the Niles Police Department the following day to report that her son had purchased the CO2 BB-Repeater from the Niles Service Merchandise. Her son is only 17 years old, making the sale a violation of a Niles ordinance.

The gun was seized by Park Ridge police. The parents of the arrestee requested a follow-up into the sale of the weapon.

Offender arrested after returning to fight scene

A 24-year-old Niles man was arrested April 25 after attacking a man and then returning to the site two hours later.

A 21-year-old Des Plaines man sitting in Taco Bell, 7535 Harlem Ave., around 6:20 p.m. April 25 observed the offender standing near his car. When the man went out to his vehicle, he was approached by the offender, who seemed intoxicated.

The offender threw a bottle at the victim and the two started arguing. The subject struck the man twice with a closed fist in the right eye and forearm and then left the area.

Around 8 p.m., Niles police were dispatched to the restaurant parking lot due to the fact that the offender had returned to the scene. Police identified the suspect, took him into custody and charged him with battery.

The arrestee produced a $100 cash bond and received a May 24 court date.

Wrong directions result in battery

Police charged a 55-year-old Park Ridge woman with battery after she attacked a sales clerk who sent her the wrong way April 26.

The victim, a 50-year-old Des Plaines woman, told police that the suspect entered Sears, 400 Golf Mill, to return some merchandise. The woman was in a hurry and the clerk sent her to another salesperson.

The offender left, then returned and began striking the clerk in her shoulder, with her right fist. Two witnesses saw the attack and heard the offender tell the clerk that she had sent her to the wrong person.

The woman was brought into the security office by store security, but when police arrived, she attempted to flee. An officer tried to gain control of the subject, who began kicking him in the legs. Another officer assisted and the woman was taken into custody.

The arrestee was charged with two counts of battery and received a June 6 court date.

Phone sex bill dispute

A Gurnee man who rented a room at a Niles motel ran up a $1,498 telephone bill calling a Dial-A-Sex number.

On April 25, the manager of White Horse Motel, 7139 Milwaukee Ave., told police that the man had rented a room at the motel, paid for a full week with cash and then called a sex phone number all night.

The hotel manager dialed the number to hear a recorded message asking for a six digit code. He then contacted the telephone company which informed him that the number was located in the Florida area.

A representative from American Communication told the manager that the number the offender was calling does not require a credit card and that the fee is billed to the phone it is dialed and then called a sex phone number all night.

Niles police went to the offender's hotel room, but no one was there. The manager was advised to block the phone in the room.

Former employee suspected in theft

Someone entered the main building of a car wash and removed money from a cash box around 5:20 p.m. April 27.

The attendant of the car wash was called outside to assist a patron in the self-service area when the theft occurred. On his way back to the building, a former employee honked his horn, pulled up to the attendant and started talking to him, telling him about his new car and that he was kicked out of his house. The man then drove away.

The suspect, a 19-year-old Niles man, was working at the car wash when he left under strange circumstances. The manager had asked him to sweep the parking lot one day; the man walked outside, left the premises and never returned.

During his employment, the business suffered cash shortages on several occasions; the shortages stopped after the employee left the establishment.

Phony $20 bill passed at eatery

On the afternoon of April 24, an unknown person paid for food at Checkers, 8595 Dempster, with a counterfeit $20 bill.

The employee who accepted the money has no recollection as to when he took the phony bill or who might have given it to him.

The United States Secret Service was contacted regarding the incident.

Parents fear harm from daughter

A Niles couple told police April 28 that they feared their daughter would harm them.

The 47-year-old woman is unemployed and lives with her parents in the 8000 block of Odell. Two years ago, she became involved in a Hindu cult and, according to her parents, have been unstable since.

When police arrived at the home, the subject had left the premises. The family has contacted Niles Family Services and an attorney for advice.

Police News

Armed robbery thwarted before crime

A Niles police officer received word about a planned armed robbery and was able to make arrests before the crime.

The officer developed information that two Des Plaines youths, a 17-year-old and a 16-year-old were going to commit an armed robbery at Baskin Robbins Ice Cream Store, 1345 W. Dempster St., Park Ridge.

On April 29, the Park Ridge Police Department, with assistance from the Niles Police Department, arrested both offenders, along with another 16-year-old Des Plaines boy, at the ice cream store.

The 17-year-old was charged with armed robbery. Both juveniles were turned over to the Park Ridge Police Department youth division.

Woman reports harassment by two suspects

A 47-year-old Glenview woman told police April 25 that she had been harassed by two separate subjects in Golf Mill mall.

The woman, who police said had been drinking, claimed that she was approached in the mall by a man around the age of 29 who had a 5-point blue star with gold inside tattoo on the left side of his face. The man allegedly lifted the victim's hair, kissed her on the neck and said, "I will destroy you".

The woman began running to her car when she was approached by a subject who asked her if it was okay to give her a business card with religious sayings on it. When police asked the woman to produce the card, she said she had lost it.

The victim drove toward McDonalds on Milwaukee Ave. when she saw both subjects in separate cars. She went to her Glenview apartment and called the police.

The Glenview Police Department transported the woman to Golf Mill mall where the investigation was turned over to Niles police. The woman did not wish to sign any complaints.

Niles man disposes of dangerous property

A 49-year-old Niles man discovered seven 12-gauge shotgun shells and an open box of blasting caps while sorting through some of his deceased father-in-law's belongings April 25.

The man contacted Niles police to dispose of the items. The ammunition was inventoried and the Cook County Sheriff's Bomb Squad was contacted. Shortly thereafter, a member of the Cook County Sheriff Police Bomb Unit took possession of the items.

Will Clinton's health plan cover long term care?

St. Matthew Lutheran Home invites interested members to a special program at 7:15 p.m. on Tuesday, May 10 at St. Matthew Lutheran Home, 1601 N. Western, Park Ridge.

Peggy Pannke, President of the National Consumer Oriented Agency, a nationally recognized author and independent specialist in home care insurance and long term care insurance, will explain the ramifications of Clinton's health care proposal and how it affects area residents. Tactics to use in selecting affordable coverage for long term care will be detailed.

"For 25 years, Medicare has paid nothing for custodial care. The new Clinton Health Care Plan leaves a dangerous gap in coverage which could wipe out a lifetime of savings. Long term care insurance coverage is more important than ever," Pannke says.

St. Matthew Lutheran Home is a program of Lutheran Social Services of Illinois. For further information, call the Social Services Department at (708) 825-5531.

Paging all families

A growing number of active American families have begun to use pagers to keep in touch with each other.

There are dozens of everyday reasons for families to use pagers which is why a colorful 19-page guide called Paging All Families was written. The handy guide, created by Motorola, the leader in personal pagers, is a primer on paging how-to's for parents and children. It contains an easy-to-understand sampling of actual family experiences that explain how pagers can be used in everyday life. For example: if you're at the movies, you can take along a pager, set it on vibrate, and give the babysitter the number. Then sit back, relax and enjoy the show.

NA'AMAT USA to visit 'Becoming American Women'

Essie Hirsh, President of NA'AMAT USA, Chicago Council, is pictured in front of an enlargement of her mother and cousin at the American Women Exhibit at The Chicago Historical Society.

NA'AMAT USA, Chicago and Suburban Chicago Councils, will be visiting the exciting "Becoming American Women, Clothing & the Jewish Experience, 1880-1920" exhibit at the Chicago Historical Society on May 22. Lunch and guided tour will begin at noon for $15 for adults and $10 for children.

This insightful and unique exhibition on assimilation is of particular interest to many of the members of NA'AMAT, whose parents immigrated to America during this period of time. Essie Hirsh, President of the Chicago Council, was one of the many contributors to it.

Barbara A. Schreier, curator of the Society's world-renowned Costume Collection, conducted a nationwide search, assembling close to 500 artifacts. According to Schreier, adopting American clothing was often a woman's first step in adjusting to her new homeland. The exhibition explores this change of clothes as a sign of a changing consciousness, and analyzes its cultural, religious, and social implications.

NA'AMAT USA (formerly Pioneer Women) is the largest Jewish women's organization in the world with over 850,000 members in 13 countries. NA'AMAT USA in conjunction with its sister organization NA'AMAT Israel has over 1,000 installations in Israel that offer a vast network of programs and services benefiting women and children. For reservations, call (708) 446-7275.

Gifts for a sneeze-free Mother's Day

Many look forward to the fragrant bouquets of Spring and Mother's Day, but for women who suffer from seasonal allergic rhinitis, commonly called hay fever, these aromatic flowers may aggravate allergy symptoms.

According to the American Academy of Allergy and Immunology, an estimated 35 million Americans suffer from seasonal allergies, which include such symptoms as sneezing, runny nose, and itching of the eyes and nose. For mothers in this population, a traditional Mother's Day bouquet, although fragrant and lovely, may cause those annoying allergy symptoms to flare up.

If you are one of the many habitual flower-givers, unconventional Mother's Day gift ideas may not be top-of-mind. The following bloom-free gift ideas will surely warm a mother's heart, without offending her sensitive nose.

- Design a homemade recipe book with Mom's own recipes.
- Hire a professional service to perform a complete spring cleaning.
- Transfer some of her favorite music from albums to cassette or compact disc.
- Transfer old home movies of you, your siblings, and Mom into VHS tapes.
- Donate time or money to Mom's favorite charity.
- Compile memorable photographs of you and Mom in an album or framed collage.
- Prepare a home cooked meal, in your home.

And for those mothers who have hay fever sufferers but also appreciate a gardener's starter kit, with basic tools like a rake, spade and gardening gloves, and include a copy of a new brochure, "A Gardening Guide for Seasonal Allergy Sufferers." With tips on gardening and managing hay fever symptoms, Mom can better enjoy blossoms and other pleasures of spring.

For a free brochure on gardening and managing seasonal nasal allergy symptoms, call 1-800-41-GARDEN.

Theatre Guild slates auditions

The Des Plaines Theatre Guild has scheduled audition dates for its special summer presentation, the Lanford Wilson play Talley's Folly.

This summer show, the first produced by the DPTG since it moved into the Prairie Lakes Community Center in September of 1992, will mark the beginning of an ongoing tradition of summer theatre in the years to come, according to DPTG President Marilyn Collignon.

Chuck Doolittle, who has brought Bells Are Ringing, Chicago and 1940s Radio Hour to the Guild stage in past years, is directing the production, which will be presented for a six-show run (as opposed to the Guild's usual 12) on Fridays and Saturdays only, from July 8 through the 23 at 8 p.m.

Auditions for the show will be held May 9 and 10 at 7:30 p.m. at the theatre at the Prairie Lakes Community Center, 515 E. Thacker in Des Plaines. Those auditioning should prepare a two-minute monologue and should also be ready to read from the script. The show's two characters are Matt Friedman, "42, dark and rather large in build," according to Wilson, while Sally Talley is "31, light, thin, quite attractive, but in no way glamorous or glamorized." Auditions are open to all. No reservations or appointments are needed. Resumes and photos are preferred, but not mandatory.

All of the Des Plaines Theatre Guild's shows are performed in the 298-seat, state-of-the-art theatre built as part of the Prairie Lakes Community Center, the Des Plaines Park District's newest facility, just west of Wolf Rd. on Thacker (also known as Dempster). The theatre guild, now in its 48th consecutive season, is the Chicago area's oldest continuously running community theatre group.

Up-to-date information on auditions, as well as information about tickets, reservations, is available 24 hours a day from the DPTG box office at (708) 391-5720.

The concert is part of the current spring tour which will take the group through Iowa and Illinois. The band will perform a wide variety of traditional and contemporary literature, and will feature three student and faculty soloists.

Mother's Day gift ideas

With Mother's Day just around the corner, it's time to start thinking about buying a gift for that special person who does so much. But let's face it, buying a gift for Mom isn't always an easy task. Choosing the perfect gift for the woman who deserves everything can be a little frustrating, especially when time and money aren't always abundant.

Never fear, Marshalls Shopping Expert Kristi Szechenyi has some wonderful gift ideas that are sure to make you the apple of your Mother's eye and help you stay within your budget.

Timeless gifts like china or crystal are a favorite of Moms everywhere and a wonderful way to show her how much you care. Marshalls has beautiful hand-cut Irish crystal stem and barware, as well as fine bone china giftware. Also, choose dinnerware and serving pieces from one of the most collectible botanic dinnerware patterns and pay 30% less than department store prices.

A colorful hand-painted ceramic planter or basket filled with annual flowers such as hyacinth, tulips or azaleas make wonderful gifts and the flowers can be transplanted outside in a garden or flower bed and enjoyed every spring.

Jewelry is always a Mother's Day favorite. Adorn her with beaded earrings and a matching necklace or a pearl or bracelet style watch for less than you would pay at department stores.

With a face your mother will always love but not a lot of money in your pocket, a decorative frame with your picture in it is a thoughtful and inexpensive gift that Mom will cherish for years to come.

If fragrances are your Mother's passion, you'll find many famous label perfumes such as Red, Fen-

The bands, under the direction of Jim Kosiek and the chorus, directed by Paula Kowalkowski, each competed against 20 schools from seven different states.

'Phantom' cast to perform benefit concert

The starring cast of "The Phantom of the Opera" will perform in Music of the Night, a benefit concert performance for the Leukemia Research Foundation Sunday, May 15 at 7 p.m. at The Royal George Theatre, 1641 N. Halsted in Chicago.

The cast will perform songs, cabaret-style, from famous Broadway shows and dedicate the charity concert to one of their ensemble who was recently diagnosed with leukemia. Sara Pfisterer, a Northwestern graduate who plays "Christine" and fellow Chicagoan Rick Hillsbeck who plays "The Phantom" will be featured performers.

"To have people with such talent devote time and effort on behalf of their colleague shows amazing heart and dedication," said Janie Weisenberg, executive director of the Leukemia

Research Foundation. "They will also be contributing to our push for leukemia awareness during May as Leukemia Awareness Month."

Leukemia is a malignant condition in which white blood cells grow beyond the needs of the body, eventually interfering with the function of vital organs, and if uncontrolled, causing death. Leukemia claims more than 18,000 lives annually and is the second most common cause of death among young people.

Tickets are available for $25, $50 and $100. The $50 ticket includes a pre-performance cocktail party; the $100 ticket includes both the cocktail party and a "Meet the Cast" gala following the show. Tickets can be ordered by calling the Ticketmaster Arts Line (312) 902-1500.

Voting is held at the April and May 1994 SCTA board meetings, but the winner's name will not be revealed until the banquet. All nominees will be given honorable mention. Last year's winner was Marilyn Kennedy of Theatre-in-the-Rough and North Shore Theatre.

Dinner will be $25 per person, with a choice of fish or chicken entree. Wine and beer will be

Home-buying choices and options bloom

Spring is a popular season for home buying, but the many options and choices sometimes discourage people from making a move. It's a big decision, but not a monumental one, says Dennis D. Koonce, vice president and general manager of FBS Mortgage, formerly the Residential Mortgage Division of Boulevard Bancorp. Most choices can be narrowed down by the homebuyer, while others are simplified through helpful advice from real estate agents or lenders.

"People wonder if now is a good time to buy, whether to move to a house, condo or townhome in what town or neighborhood, and where to get a mortgage," Koonce says.

Koonce believes the most effective approach is for prospective homeowners to ask themselves some important questions, narrow down their choices, and then make an educated decision based on personal needs and an understanding of the big picture.

Choice #1: Is now a good time to buy?

Yes. Even though interest rates are inching up, they still remain at attractively low levels. In addition, home prices have not shot up due to low inflation levels. This year will probably be better than next year for purchasing a home for the first time or upgrading from your current place of residence.

Choice #2: Should I buy a house, townhouse or condominium?

First, find out what you can afford. Approach a bank, savings and loan association, or mortgage company to discuss your options. A lender will "pre-qualify" you for a loan, reviewing the status of your income, debt, employment, credit and assets. The lender will help you determine the price range you can afford.

Once you know your price range, ask yourself how much space you need. How much maintenance are you willing to do, or have time for? Houses require more maintenance and upkeep than a townhome, but provide more space and privacy in return.

After considering the residence that is best suited for your needs, don't forget to evaluate the property's resale value, Koonce advises. Your home is not just a place to live, but an investment.

Choice #3: Where Should I

Live?

A lot depends on your preference. Do you need to live close to the city or away from it? How close will you be to your workplace? Is the availability of public transportation important to you? Will the neighborhood you select influence resale value? And property taxes and schools are nearly always a consideration.

Choice #4: Where Do I Get A Mortgage?

While the allure of low interest rates is always tempting to prospective homebuyers, there are other matters you should consider before selecting a mortgage provider. For example, you will find it beneficial to work with a lender who is accessible if you have questions or problems, and can offer you other services that meet your needs.

Your choices include banks, S&L's, and mortgage companies. Koonce says where you bank should be on the top of your list of lending sources to contact.

"Having your mortgage at the same location as your savings and checking accounts is an advantage," Koonce says. "The lending officer has quick access to your records and might know you or your reputation in the community."

Banks and savings and loans will welcome the opportunity to provide you with additional services, Koonce adds. Holding your mortgage might mean that, some time in the future, you will be interested in refinancing and obtaining a home equity loan. This adds to their business, and strengthens your ability to negotiate or resolve problems.

Nevertheless, it is wise to ask around before selecting a lender.

Choice #5: What Type Of Mortgage Do I Apply For?

Remember to assess both your short-term and long-term future. What appears to be a good mortgage for you today might not be the most advantageous in five to ten years. For example, a variable mortgage is good when rates are dropping, and a fixed rate mortgage is better if rates are rising.

"Make certain your lender properly explains the various options available to you, and why they do or do not fit your situation," Koonce says. "The end result will be a mortgage that is stable enough to meet your personal needs, and flexible enough to change with the economy as a whole."

Porcelain: perfect for your home

The ancient Egyptians had the right material all along for your appliances, bath fixtures, even the outside of your home: porcelain.

Once used by ancient craftsmen to adorn artifacts, porcelain hasn't lost its luster with today's manufacturers. It's a standard material for many modern applications, from tubs to tunnel walls.

Durable and practical, genuine porcelain on steel combines the flexibility and firmness of metal with the hardness and chemical resistance of glass in a material that's attractive, cleans easily and comes in many colors. It won't burn like plastic or oxidize like paint. Plus, it's wonderfully resistant to cuts and scratches, acids, rust, weather, even fire and shock—all at a price that is very competitive with less resilient materials, say experts at the Porcelain Enamel Institute (PEI).

Lovely to look at, porcelain is even lovelier when you consider how it protects your health. Porcelain dinnerware, appliance tops, sinks and porcelain-lined water heaters resist just about everything, including disease-carrying bacteria. Since they're so easy to clean, there's also less chance that germs will spread.

Porcelain was probably the material of choice for Cleopatra's bathtub.

If you care about the environment, here's another plus: Non-toxic porcelain is environmentally-friendly because it's made with inorganic materials. In fact, it's virtually pollution-free; there are no solvents or solid waste requiring special disposal as there are with paints and plastics. Porcelain materials can even be recycled in many cases.

For free brochures about porcelain appliances and products for your home, write: Porcelain Enamel Institute (PEI), 102 Woodmont Blvd., #360, Nashville, TN 37205, or call (615) 385-5357.

Smoothtop ranges are the hot look

The hottest look in American kitchens these days is the smooth-top range. Whether the style is modern, contemporary or traditional, smoothtop ranges and cooktops complement any kitchen decor.

Besides being good-looking, these popular new ranges heat up quickly, cook marvelously and clean up with ease. The key to their success is the remarkable Ceran® glass-ceramic panel, which was developed by Schott Glaswerke specifically for smoothtop cooking. Ceran glass-ceramic panels are smooth, non-porous and stain-resistant. Spills wipe up easily with a paper towel and a recommended cleaner, while burned-on spills clean up quickly with a razor-blade scraper. The Ceran panel is also amazing: water spilled on a red-hot cooktop causes no damage.

Smoothtop cooking systems, which still relatively new to the United States, were introduced 20 years ago in Europe and have been thoroughly tested and proven. More than 20 million ranges and cooktops with Ceran glass-ceramic panels are now in daily use.

There are a number of features you should ask about when shopping for a smoothtop range or cooktop. For example, heating elements. There are two primary types—radiant and halogen—and a third, more exotic and expensive type, induction.

Radiant elements are the most common and least expensive. They use electrical resistance to create heat, and reach maximum temperature in seven to ten seconds. Heat is conducted through the Ceran cooktop panel into the pot or pan.

Halogen elements use halogen lamps to generate heat. The halogen elements themselves light up immediately and reach their maximum temperature almost instantly.

Most quality metal cookware will work with either radiant or halogen elements. As is the case with any electric cooktop, you will get best results by matching the diameter of your cookware with the cooking zone. You will also increase the efficiency of your range by using pots and pans that have heavy, smooth, flat bottoms.

Induction elements are the third and most expensive type of heating element used with smooth-tops.

May is National Home Remodeling Month

National Home Remodeling Month kicked off May 1, and a brochure from Home Owners Warranty Corp. of Greater Chicago (HOW/GC) offers homeowners practical tips for getting on home improvements and remodeling projects.

"Spring is typically the time of year when homeowners begin remodeling projects on everything from a kitchen or bath to a full scale addition," said Gerry Woody, Executive Vice President of Home Owners Warranty Corporation of Greater Chicago. "National Home Remodeling Month and information like the remodeling brochure from HOW may help focus homeowners on construction and service requirements before they begin remodeling."

The "HOW -to Guide to Remodeling" is a ten page color brochure to help homeowners gain a better understanding of the remodeling process. From how to hire a contractor and begin the design process to zoning information, the brochure will help get homeowners started.

National Home Remodeling Month is sponsored by The National Association of Home Builders (NAHB) Remodelers Council and The National Association of the Remodeling Industry (NARI).

The "How -to" brochure gives information on how much to invest in a remodeling project and how to avoid overbuilding for your neighborhood. Preparing your budget and defining what you want are two more areas to take into consideration. Naturally, you want an improvement that looks good and is going to be used on a regular basis, so planning is vital.

The remodeler you select will depend on the size of the project. A major addition demands a greater degree of design talent than a simple installation of new cabinets. The "How -to" brochure outlines several steps which may be helpful in selecting remodelers.

For a free copy of the "How -to Guide to Remodeling" contact Adria at Home Owners Warranty Corporation of Greater Chicago, 635 Butterfield Rd., Suite 100, Oakbrook Terrace, IL 60181 or call (708) 627-4692.

Halting Gypsy Moths

If gypsy moths are "molesting" your maples or "eating" your elms, you're not alone.

These pests, which were introduced into this country approximately 125 years ago, have caused severe destruction on deciduous trees throughout the Northeast, Mid-West, and Mid-Central United States.

Hairy, tanish egg masses that are laid on tree trunks, branches, fence posts, picnic tables and a host of other structures hatch into tiny larvae during April or May. The larvae soon crawl into trees to feed on leaves, often causing the tree to suffer severe defoliation, loss of vigor and slowed growth. While young larvae chew small holes in leaves, older larvae completely defoliate trees.

It is helpful to remove and destroy any visible egg masses on the accessible lower parts of trees. In addition, some people reduce pest populations by placing burlap sacks around the base of trees. Larvae crawling down the tree at night seek shelter there and can be caught and destroyed the next morning.

Another alternative is to apply a proven product such as SEVIN® brand carbaryl insecticide. SEVIN® applied as a spray is effective and convenient. In addition to gypsy moths, it also controls over 500 other insect pests.

Unveiling the Commonwealth Edison environment

Recognizing a growing challenge to better coexist with the environment, Commonwealth Edison has formalized an aggressive policy that works to preserve the environment while finding innovative energy-efficient ways of conducting business.

In keeping with that policy, Commonwealth Edison is participating in the 1994 Earth Day activities in Washington D.C., at the Lake County Forest Preserve, and the Walk & Roll festivities in Lincoln Park and the State of Illinois Booths in downtown Chicago.

Commonwealth Edison's broad policy begins with protecting the endangered red-bellied woodpecker nesting in a utility pole and extends to the thousands of pounds and scrap metal, oil, coal ash and other materials the company recycles each year.

Because much of the land Commonwealth Edison owns throughout northern Illinois is considered wetlands, the company also has started an extensive field-employee training program demonstrating how to identify potential wetlands and take precautions to minimize any impact on these delicate and diminishing areas.

No home is safe from termites

Termites cost the American consumer about $1.1 billion each year. That's more than the damage caused by storms and fires combined. No region of the country except Alaska is safe from their destructive appetites.

Many homeowners think if they don't see termites they don't have a problem. Wrong! Chances are you won't see them because termites eat wood from the inside out. In fact, termites may be hard at work damaging your home at a rate of more than two feet of wood each year. And they eat 365 days a year. Once inside, they can infest virtually any part of the house and cause costly structural damage. For example, a single door frame can cost over $950 to repair. Examine your homeowner's insurance policy to see if you are covered for structural damage due to termites. Most policies do not cover termite damage.

Signs termites have invaded a home include mud tunnels along the foundation of the house inside or outside; wings or sawdust near the windows, doors or in the garage; buckling paint or tiny holes on wood; flying or "swarming" termites in the house, especially near light sources. Orkin house thoroughly inspected by a pest control professional trained to detect the sometimes subtle signs of termites.

Following are tips to help discourage termite activity:

- Move firewood away from your house;
- Repair leaky plumbing and moisture problems;
- It is helpful to remove and destroy any visible egg masses on the accessible lower parts of trees. In addition, some people reduce pest populations by placing burlap sacks around the base of trees. Larvae crawling down the tree at night seek shelter there and can be caught and destroyed the next morning.
- Another alternative is to apply a proven product such as SEVIN® brand carbaryl insecticide. SEVIN® applied as a spray is effective and convenient. In addition to gypsy moths, it also controls over 500 other insect pests.

Senate passes 'Use It & Lose It' bill

Secretary of State George H. Ryan's proposal to sideline underage drivers caught with even a trace of alcohol in their systems was sent to the House Thursday on a 58-0 vote.

The legislation, which Ryan dubbed "Use It & Lose It," would suspend the driving privileges of any minor who uses alcohol, then gets behind the wheel of a car.

"This new law would send a powerful message to teens about the consequences of drinking and driving," Ryan said. "It backs up a measure I proposed and passed last year, under which we suspend the licenses of minors caught transporting open liquor."

The "Use It & Lose It" bill provides a 3-month suspension for first-time violators and a suspension of 6 months for refusing to take a breath test. On a repeat offense, underage drivers would face a 12-month suspension for testing positive or a 24-month suspension for refusing to take

Water Reclamation District awarded for financial excellence

The Metropolitan Water Reclamation District of Greater Chicago recently received the Certification for Excellence in Financial Reporting from the Government Finance Officers Association.

Nancy Drew Sheehan, Chairman of the Committee on Finance said, "This is the eighteenth consecutive year that the District has received the award. We are proud of our consistently high performance in financial reporting. This award represents our commitment to the taxpayers to give them the most service for their money in protecting the water environment."

Dudycz appointed to Executive Subcommittees

Assistant Senate Majority Leader Walter Dudycz (R-7th, Chicago) has been asked to serve on two Senate subcommittees that will study proposals to change state procurement procedures and require homeowners to install carbon monoxide detectors.

Dudycz has been appointed to the Subcommittee on Procurement, and the Subcommittee on Carbon Monoxide Detectors by State Sen. Doris Karpel (R-Carol Stream), chairperson of the Senate Executive Committee.

"Senator Karpel has assigned these bills to subcommittees to allow for more study," Dudycz said. "Although the regular legislative committee structure allows for ample discussion, the Executive Committee has had to spend a considerable amount of time on several other big issues. Instead of skipping on these particular bills, Senator Karpel created subcommittees to give them the attention they deserve and provide members of the Executive Committee with more in-depth information."

Senate Bill 1171 amends the Smoke Detector Act to require carbon monoxide detectors to be installed and maintained in dwelling units and other buildings by June 30, 1995. Those people failing to install and maintain the detectors could face Class B misdemeanor charges; those people tampering with detectors could face Class A misdemeanor charges.

Senate Bill 226 repeals changes made to the Illinois Purchasing Act in 1992 that dramatically altered the rules that state agencies must follow when purchasing supplies and services.

Dudycz is a member of the Senate Executive Committee.

Phelan/Sheahan report success of recycling program

Cook County Board President Richard Phelan (right) and Cook County Sheriff Michael Sheahan this week reported the continued success of the County's office recycling program while standing in front of over 40 bins filled with recyclable office paper. Recycling totals recorded since the program's implementation in August 1992 indicate the saving of 1,780 trees, 732,378 gallons of water and 6,277 pounds of pollutants that otherwise would be used to make virgin paper.

Local water systems recognized

The administrators of 111 local water systems have been recognized for maintaining required levels of fluoride last year in their drinking water. Seventeen have earned this commendation for at least five consecutive years and three for at least 10 consecutive years.

"When the fluoride levels in public water supplies meet state standards, the citizens of these communities benefit through improved oral health," said Dr. John R. Lumpkin, state health director.

Illinois is one of 21 states to be recognized for meeting the Year 2000 goal of maintaining required fluoride levels for at least 75 percent of the people served by community water systems. Currently, Illinois is 95 percent

RE/MAX reports closed sales increase

RE/MAX of Northern Illinois recorded an increase in closed sales volume of 20 percent in March 1994 compared to March 1993. The announcement was made by Betty Hegner, president of RE/MAX of Northern Illinois, Inc., who said that the organization had a closed sales volume of $310,902,726 in March, up from $425,847,574 for the same month in 1993.

Transactions closed in March totaled 3,539, an increase of 13.58 percent from the 3,116 transactions closed by RE/MAX of Northern Illinois last March. The average price of the homes sold by RE/MAX climbed to $144,363 in March from $136,665 for the same month last year, an increase of 5.63 percent.

"The 20 percent increase recorded in closed sales volume for March is a substantial gain," Hegner said. "It shows just how strong the market has been over the last few months when these transactions entered the pipeline."

For the first quarter of 1994, RE/MAX of Northern Illinois reports a 13.85 percent jump in closed sales volume to $1,243 billion from $1,091 billion. Closed transactions increased from 7,885 in 1993 to 8,578 during the first quarter of this year, a 8.82 percent rise. The average home sale price for the quarter rose from $138,507 in 1993 to $144,914, a gain of 4.63 percent.

"Even though mortgage interest rates began to move up a bit during the first quarter, homes remain relatively affordable and the public seems to be in a more confident mood," said Hegner. "If interest rates continue to rise, we could see buyers in a race to beat further interest increases. Some markets already are experiencing tight inventories and some upward pressure on home prices. New home sales are expected to be the best in years, however, which is bound to boost sales in the second half of the year. The overall outlook for 1994 is bright."

Niles North to celebrate exceptional children

The week of May 1 to 7 has been proclaimed by Governor Edgar as Exceptional Children's Week in Illinois, and the Niles North High School Council for Exceptional Children is celebrating the week with the wearing of blue ribbons, a dance for exceptional children and a Field Events Day.

The Niles North CEC Club, sponsored by Iris Puccini, has worked to inform the school of how important it is for exceptional children to be accepted. Using the motto, "Diversity is Our Strength," the club has attended the Illinois CEC fall conventions and spring conferences, and initiated the wearing of blue ribbons during Exceptional Children's Week to promote awareness about the needs of exceptional children.

A school dance, especially designed to promote interaction among high school students with disabilities in the North Shore area, will be held from 7 to 10 p.m. Saturday, May 7 at Niles North, 9800 Lawler Ave. in Skokie. Admission is $2.

Exceptional Children's Week will culminate with a Field Events Day on Saturday, May 7 to unite children with disabilities between the ages of 3 and 11 years old from the North Shore area in a day of fun and exercise. Events for children ages 3 to 5 begin at 11:15 a.m. and events for children ages 6 to 11 begin at 12:15 p.m. at Niles North.

"The theme for our high school

CEC Club is "Understanding Leads to Acceptance," said Julie Oh, publicity chairperson of the CEC Club.

The membership of the Illinois Council for Exceptional Children (CEC) works to promote and implement services and programs for exceptional children. Programs include those for children who are orthopedically impaired, deaf and hard of hearing, blind and partially sighted, speech and/or language impaired, mentally impaired, emotionally impaired, and gifted.

Seniors represent District in State Automotive Finals

Every year, Chrysler and the AAA Motor Club hold a nationwide automotive trouble shooting contest, high school seniors compete for automotive scholarships. However, this year Ford offered to sponsor the program instead of Chrysler.

With the local testing now completed, two Maine East seniors will advance to the state finals to be held May 12 in Springfield. Andrew Cotsiomitis and Scott De Wulf, both of Niles, are the finalists from the Maine Township schools. Both are enrolled in the auto shop classes at Maine East taught by Mr. Don BeBock. Andrew is in his third year of shop while Scott is in his second year. Both seniors plan careers as auto technicians at car dealerships.

High schools represented at auto repair competition

Twenty Illinois high school students will put their automotive repair skills to the test in May when they compete in the Illinois state finals of the 1994 Ford/AAA Student Auto Skills National Quality Care Challenge.

The hands-on competition begins at 10 a.m. on May 12 at AAA-Chicago Motor Club's Springfield office, located in The Yard Shopping Center, 1650 Washburn Ave., Springfield.

Many of the contestants will continue their automotive technical education at the college level. Depending on education and experience, wages for automotive technical personnel begin at about $20,000 annually and can range to as high as $60,000 for management positions and journeyman mechanics.

The contest was open to all Illinois high school seniors enrolled in automotive technology courses. The 10 two-student teams advancing to the "hands-on" competition in the Ford/AAA Student Auto Skills Challenge scored top marks in a written exam testing academic and mechanical knowledge.

On May 12, the teams will battle each other and the clock, attempting to analyze and repair mechanical malfunctions deliberately planted in identical 1994 Ford Taurus automobiles.

The Illinois teams are vying for more than $23,000 in automotive technology scholarships and prizes. The winning team, demonstrating the highest quality workmanship in the least amount of time, will travel to Washington, D.C. for the June 20 national finals.

Andrew Cotsiomitis and Scott De Wulf of Niles, students from Maine Township High School in Park Ridge, will be participating in the competition.

Polish Pre-School and language classes offered

Pre-school children of the North Suburban Language School are pictured at their Christmas Party this last December. The school is now accepting applications for summer pre-school classes. Call (708) 470-1536 for details.

This year, beginning during the first week of May, the North Suburban Language School, sponsored by the Polish Roman Catholic Union of America and partially funded by the Illinois Arts Council will offer a Polish pre-school as well as regular classes in the Polish language. The school also has classes in classical ballet and a children's choir.

The choir sings children's songs in Polish, English, French and Chinese. These classes will be given at the Ballard Leisure Center, 8320 Ballard Road, Niles.

Pre-school is aimed at children 2 to 5 or primary school children with no knowledge of or experience with the Polish language. It will prepare them for the study of Polish by introducing them to the Polish alphabet and basic Polish phrases through play, singing, storytelling and crafts.

These classes are offered Tuesdays and Thursdays, 10 a.m. until noon. It is possible that this class may also be offered on Saturdays during the same hours at another location.

Reading and Conversation in the Polish language is for children 5 and up. The reading material in this course will be tailored to the individual ability of each child. This class is designed to form a basis for the future study of Polish. This class will be offered on Thursdays, from 6 to 8 p.m.

The children's choir will offer children on all age levels an opportunity to increase their interest in and knowledge of Polish and the Polish culture by introducing them to a wide variety of modern children's songs as well as songs that are centuries old. The choir also sings a number of songs in English, French and Chinese and has plans to include songs in German, Japanese and Italian.

In addition to singing songs with the entire choir, each child will learn at least one song tailored to his own individual ability and which he will be able to sing by himself. The choir has rehearsals once a week on Monday from 7 to 8 p.m.

Classes in classical ballet are offered once a week on Mondays from 6 to 7 p.m.

For further information about any of these programs in Polish or in English, call (708) 470-1536 at any time. Polish speaking families can also call (708) 581-0569 in the evening any day except Monday.

Teacher enjoys 25 Years in the Classroom

Although English teacher Marty Woerter will be recognized this spring for his twenty-five years of service at Maine East, he's not prepared to retire and turn in his gradebook yet.

Besides his twenty-eight years in the classroom (twenty-five at Maine East and three at St. Joseph's High School in Westchester, Woerter also coached boys' soccer at Maine East. However, his teaching responsibilities don't end at 4 p.m.; he also tutors at the Huntington Learning Center in River Forest preparing high school students from the ACT (American College Test). Senior Jariya Chagacharon of Niles, a former student of Woerter's, explains, "He makes you want to learn with a style of the nineties. He's a person who just loves to teach." Many students in general view Woerter as a teacher who makes them laugh; each day is a new experience in his classroom.

Woerter has no immediate plans to retire. There are many things that he would miss, especially the students. He adds jokingly, "But I will never miss grading those English papers!" His advice to incoming teachers is "to grade fairly and keep everything in perspective."

Loyola holds Baroque Bash

The Loyola Fine Arts Department ushered in spring with a Baroque Bash in honor of Johann Sebastian Bach's 309th birthday. Loyola audiences enjoyed the music of Bach and his contemporaries Vivaldi and Telemann, played by Loyola soloists Michael Becker, of Park Ridge and Rodney Guico, of Glenview.

Softball team completes conference season

The Lake Forest College Foresters MACW season (3-7, 8-15) drew to a close on Saturday with an exciting doubleheader split at home against Ripon College. Both games were decided in the final at-bat, with LFC taking game one 5-4, before dropping the nightcap 4-3.

LFC's never-say-die attitude was apparent again in game two, as the Foresters rallied from a 3-0 deficit to tie the score at 3-3, with

RBI hits from catcher Kiersten Kolbu, Laurel Helveston and designated hitter Lynn Mierkiewicz (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mierkiewicz of Skokie). Ripon produced the winning run on a leadoff walk, followed by a sacrifice and then an RBI double. Scouts collect food for the hungry

The caricature of a Boy Scout is some kid dragging an old lady across a street she didn't want to cross, right? That's a bad rap, and hundreds of Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts, assisted by their adult leaders and their parents, proved that in a spectacular way.

"Do a Good Turn Daily" is not just the Scout Slogan; it's a way of life which Scouts take seriously. So, on two Saturday mornings just past, while their non-Scout friends watched morning television or rode their bikes and had fun, the Scouts and their parents set out to collect food for the hungry, participating in the national

Boy Scout Good Turn, "Scouting for Food."

They collected a veritable mountain of food from the generous people of Morton Grove, Niles, Skokie, and Lincolnwood, enough to feed a thousand people.

Allen Heilig of Skokie served as general chairman for this event. Bill Morgan of Morton Grove, adult advisor for the Order of the Arrow, the Scout Honor Service Society, and four Scout members, manned the collection truck in the area donated by the American Legion Post.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 94-0-106

An Ordinance authorizing the issuance of General Obligation Bonds (Special Service Area Number 4 Tax Alternate Revenue Source), Series 1994, of the Niles Park District, Cook County, Illinois.

WHEREAS, the Niles Park District, Cook County, Illinois (the "District"), has heretofore been duly organized and is now operating under the provisions of the Park District Code, as amended (the "Code"); and

WHEREAS, the District has heretofore issued and there now are outstanding certain Golf Course Revenue Bonds, Series of 1974 (the "Prior Bonds"); and

WHEREAS, the Board of Park Commissioners of the District (the "Corporate Authorities") have determined that it is advisable, necessary and in the best interests of the residents of the District that the Prior Bonds be refunded in order to achieve better cash management practices for the District (the "Refunding Project"); and

WHEREAS, the estimated cost of the Refunding Project, including legal, financial, bond interest, bond discount, printing and publication costs, and other related expenses, is not less than $1,300,000, and interest earnings thereon, and there are insufficient funds on hand and lawfully available to pay such costs; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to the Local Government Debt Reform Act (the "Reform Act") "Alternate Bonds" as defined in the Reform Act may be issued pursuant to "Applicable Law" or whenever there exists a "Revenue Source" (each as defined in the Reform Act); and

WHEREAS, the Reform Act specifically authorizes the District to issue bonds to refund or advance refund its bonds and further specifically provides that the definition of "Applicable Law" includes the Reform Act; and

WHEREAS, the Corporate Authorities have accordingly determined that pursuant to the provisions of Applicable Law, the District is authorized to issue its bonds to refund the Prior Bonds; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to the Code the District is also authorized to issue from time to time its general obligation bonds and notes, the aggregate unadvanced unpaid principal balance of which does not exceed 0.575% of the total assessed valuation of all taxable property in the District, without submitting the proposition to issue such bonds and notes to the electors of the District; and

WHEREAS, the Corporate Authorities have heretofore, and it hereby is, determined that a Revenue Source exists, to-wit: the revenues derived by the District from the operation of the Tam Golf Course, together with certain payments received by the District pursuant to an agreement dated July 27, 1966, by and between the District and J. Emil Anderson & Son, Inc., as supplemented and amended, and the proceeds of such non-refundable general obligation bonds and notes, and accordingly the District is additionally authorized to issue Alternate Bonds to pay the costs of the Refunding Project; and

WHEREAS, it is necessary and for the best interests of the District that the Refunding Project be undertaken and that up to $1,300,000 in aggregate principal amount of Alternate Bonds, being general obligation bonds payable from said Revenue Source be authorized to be issued at this time pursuant to the Reform Act;

NOW, THEREFORE, Be It Ordained by the Board of Park Commissioners of the Niles Park District, Cook County, Illinois, as follows:

Section 1. Incorporation of Preambles. The Corporate Authorities hereby find that the recitals contained in the preambles to this ordinance are true and correct and incorporate them into this ordinance by this reference.

Section 2. Determination To Issue Bonds. It is necessary and in the best interests of the District to undertake the Refunding Project for improved cash management practices, as described, and that for the purpose of paying the costs of the Refunding Project, there are hereby authorized to be issued and sold General Obligation Bonds (Alternate Revenue Source), Series 1994 (the "Alternate Bonds"), of the District, in an aggregate principal amount of not to exceed $1,300,000.

Section 3. Publication. This ordinance, together with a notice in the statutory form, shall be published once within ten days after passage hereof by the Corporate Authorities in the Niles Bugle, being a newspaper published in and of general circulation in the District, and if no petition, signed by 1.0% electors (said number being equal to seven and one-half percent (7.5%) of the number of registered voters of the District) and asking that the question of the issuance of the Alternate Bonds be submitted to the electors of the District, is filed with the District Secretary within 30 days after the date of the publication of this ordinance and said notice, then this ordinance shall be in full force and effect. A petition form shall be provided by the District Secretary to any individual requesting one.

Section 4. Additional Ordinances. If no petition meeting the requirements of applicable law is filed during the petition period hereinabove referred to, then the Corporate Authorities may adopt additional ordinances or proceedings supplementing or amending this ordinance providing for the undertaking of the Refunding Project, and the issuance and sale of the Alternate Bonds, prescribing all the details of said Alternate Bonds, so long as the maximum amount of said Bonds as set forth in this ordinance is not exceeded and there is no material change in the Refunding Project or purposes described herein. Such additional ordinances or proceedings shall in all instances become effective in accordance with applicable law. This ordinance, together with such additional ordinances or proceedings, shall constitute complete authority for the issuance of said Bonds under applicable law.

Section 5. Severability. If any section, paragraph, clause or provision of this ordinance shall be held invalid, the invalidity of such section, paragraph, clause or provision shall not affect any of the other provisions of this ordinance.

mother and her husband. A few weeks later the daughter gathered her three children and husband and drove to the mother's home where the birth mother was re-introduced to her daughter and introduced for the first time to the grandchildren she never knew she had. It turned into a joyous affair and the birth mother promised to return the visit by coming to the Chicago area.

When the birth mother visited the daughter's home on Easter Sunday she met the adopted parents of twenty-nine years. Happily, pictures were taken of both mothers and the daughter standing in between them with her arms wrapped around both women. She expressed how lucky she was. "Now that I have found her."

The daughter is a very warm loving woman. Before she began this quest to find her birth mother she sat down with her adopted mother and lovingly told her, "You know, no matter what, you will always be my real Mom."

Visiting French and Spanish students need homes

Families are needed to serve as hosts to 24 students from Marseille, France from June 5 to 25 and student profiles are now available. Homes are also needed for French students from throughout France from July 8 to 29 and August 5 to 26 and for students from Barcelona Spain from June 27 to July 25.

Students will be here under a program sponsored by the Richard Organisation O.S.F.B. which is the oldest student exchange organization in France, having been established in 1928. The students, aged 15 to 18, have studied English for three years or more, are covered by group medical insurance and have their own spending money. The students will be here to take advantage of their vacation time to learn about American life and culture and to practice their English. Excursions are planned. Host families provide room and board, local transportation and should include their student in family outings.

It is not necessary for the host family to have a child the same age as the visiting student. Families are also needed to host the French Assistants who will accompany the groups.

OCC receives grant to establish speaker's bureau

Oakton Community College has been awarded a grant from OPTIONS, a six-year-old national organization based at Brown University. The grant enables Oakton to establish a faculty speaker's bureau on international business.

OPTIONS encourages citizens to become involved in discussions and debates on current global concerns. Speakers present their lectures free-of-charge to community organizations such as Kiwanis and Rotary clubs, civic, church and school organizations that are interested in international security and policy issues. Currently, over 160 colleges and universities are participating in OPTIONS grants, funded by major foundations in the United States, including the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation and W. Niles Zoners ... Continued from Page 1 representing residents adjacent to the site, made reference to July 1990 when the bank first addressed the Zoning Board asking for variances. The destruction of a leased auxiliary building in 1996 was one topic at that meeting; Brzeczek said that area would provide a significant number of parking spaces.

"In 1990, the bank told us that in 1996 when the lease became due they would not renew it and would raze the building," said Troiani. "We are going to hold you to that."

Barbaglia, however, said that the destruction of the building would provide only 11 parking spaces for more than 70 bank employees.

Presently on the proposed construction site stands a house, garage and shed which the bank bought in March from the state and plan to raze for the new lot.

"That is one of the oldest houses in Niles," said Elizabeth Hughes, whose parents live on Oakton Ct. "It has been maintained throughout the years and it has historical value."

However, Troiani said it was not a historical landmark and had no reason to be restored. "My parents purchased their home 10 years ago with hopes and dreams of retirement," Hughes said. "They invested their life savings into Niles where they felt wanted because the community had an atmosphere they felt was positive."

"They are good residents. They keep up their property and I hope that is your number one concern."

In an attempt to limit traffic flow and car fumes in that west corner for local residents, Troiani proposed that the bank put up electronic fencing with key access only. Trustee Diane Winter subsequently made a motion to approve the bank's request, despite groans from residential attendees, with the stipulation that the west end of the lot be restricted to a key card private access area. In addition, a committee would be formed between bank officials and local residents regarding the fence and shrubbery that would surround the new parking lot.

Trustee James Callero objected, Troiani was forced to vote as acting Chairman and the motion was approved 4-1.

The next case involved a change in zoning from M to B-2 Special Use for an Adult Day Care Center at the Regency Nursing Center office building, 6625 Milwaukee Ave.

The building would be for adult care during the day while their caretakers were at work. Families would either drop their loved ones off or a Regency van would pick them up. Seniors would participate in rehab, if so needed, and there would be no overnight care.

"Adult day care saves families from putting their parents into a nursing home," said owner Benjamin Rogow. "It is a new idea and it is a tremendous help."

The building originally got approval from the Zoning Board to construct a two-story medical health center under "M" as an office building. Although construction is currently going on, plans have changed to include the addition of two more stories, which means the building needed an entire zoning change to B-2 Special Use.

Niles has no code for an Adult Day Care Center, putting the Board at a standstill regarding required number of parking spaces.

The Board, which considered stopping construction until a decision can be made regarding parking, came up with a formula on its own.

The two top floors of office space equal 2,400 square feet apiece. The Board proposed the building provide one space for every 300 square feet, or eight spaces per floor. The bottom three floors of activity area were proportional according to the number of staff on each floor; nine staff equal a total of 25 spaces. Two of those spaces must be handicapped-accessible and two additional spaces will be designated for van use, putting the grand total to 27 spaces.

Winter denied the motion; Troiani was forced to vote and the motion was carried 4-1 for the Village Board to approve.

A motion regarding an oversized satellite dish was also presented before the Board, and this one was approved.

Kurt Schmeiser requested a change in zoning from B-1 to B-1 Special Use in order to install a 7-foot satellite dish on the roof at 7639 Milwaukee Ave.

"I did some research and found that I needed something that is not stationary," Schmeiser said. "I have talked to three companies and have learned that I have to have a 7-footer so I can move it. If I could do it any other way, I would."

Schmeiser said that while a stationary satellite is limited to 170 channels, a mobile, or tractor satellite, receives 1,200 stations.

"This is one of the few buildings in which there is residential living above commercial property," Troiani said. "This is a unique situation and normally we wouldn't approve it. We haven't issued anything over 6-feet in 10 years."

Schmeiser agreed to put a fence on top of the fire wall, pending approval by the building department, which would hide the satellite from any view.

"As long as it is not seen by the neighbors," Troiani said, "the fence is put up per code and because of the way it sits, we will approve it."

Finally, the Board had no trouble approving a request for a change in zoning from B-1 to B-1 Special Use to add Arabic and Armenian video movies to Arax Foods, 8811 Milwaukee Ave.

After it was determined that no one in the area carries these ethnic movies, the Board approved the motion, under the guideline that there will be no X-Rated movies allowed.

"We do not even offer rated-R in these movies," said owner George Nighoghosian.

be dropped due to information supplied by a new suspect, police said.

The two Niles charges will stand against Goldstein.

The first occurred at 8:12 p.m. December 18 when witnesses saw a man roaming around Jewel Food Stores, 5667 Touhy Ave., before he walked up to the counter, pulled open his coat, displayed a silver gun and demanded an employee put money in a bag.

The offender, fitted Goldstein's description, fled on foot with $800.

The second incident involved an armed robbery on a Niles street December 21.

Imad Dajani, who had just obtained $6,000 from First Chicago Bank, 8510 Golf Rd., believed he was followed to his home in the 8000 block of Churchill by a man who approached him from behind and demanded the victim's wallet and coat.

When Dajani refused, the offender shot two rounds from an unidentified caliber gun; the second round hit the Niles resident in the left hip.

The offender reached into the victim's coat, pulled out a bank envelope containing the $6,000, and fled in a brown Oldsmobile.

Goldstein contends that he did not commit any of the crimes.

Robert Fehrs was hired as the new principal at Lincoln Junior High School.

Fehrs was a principal at a junior-senior high school in Nebraska from 1990-1993. He received his Master's Degree in education from the University of Nebraska in 1992 and is pursuing an advanced degree in education at Loyola University. Fehrs salary will be $66,240; an increase of almost 2 percent for the position.

District 69 is losing all three of its principals at the end of this school year. Officials said 223 applications were submitted in response to the three vacancies.
