Maine East high school history teacher Paul Carlson is one of a kind.

Prior to June 6th's D-Day commemoration we suggested readers might send a card or letter to Nilesite Joe Chmielewski who fought his way from the Normandy beach to the Battle of the Bulge before being wounded. Niles Mayor Nick Blase, as well as students from school District 63, sent letters to Joe commanding him for his efforts.

This past week Carlson sent us eight thank you cards for Joe from organizations and clubs in Park Ridge. Paul went out and purchased the eight cards and then went to each of the groups and had his members sign the cards. The following are a few of the notations Paul's friends sent to Chmielewski recognizing him for his efforts on behalf of all of us:

Paul's card set the tenor for the other seven cards:

"Dear Hero of D-Day - How many children, such as the beautiful little girl on the front of this card, have been able to contemplate the beauty and the mystery of Nature and the joys and opportunities of Freedom because of the courage, patriotic self-abnegation, indomitable will and physical sacrifice and emotional pain placed on the altar of Humanity in the Temple of God's

Parent questions new District 71 admission policy

By Ben Rieck

The District 71 policy on early kindergarten admission is only one year old and is more lenient than the State of Illinois provides.

The District Board of Education, however, heard from a parent whose child falls further outside the deadline that their new policy allows at their last meeting held June 21.

Tatyana Sidelsky's son was born on Sept. 18, three days too late to qualify for early admission in District 71's kindergarten program.

By the State of Illinois' policy, a child has to be age five to enter kindergarten. Last year the Board of Education changed the district's deadline to Sept. 15 to account for children who will soon turn five and are ready to begin school.

Despite falling outside district limits, Sidelsky said her child is ready. "To me he's more than ready," she said. "It will not be in his best interest if he stays another

Heavy downpours flood Tam Golf Course

The Tam Golf Course became Niles' third swimming pool last Friday when record rainfall flooded the links. The 5" plus rainfall also caused many flooded basements and parking lots in the Niles area. Shown above is former Niles Park Commissioner Val Engelman watching workers sand bag the club house in an effort to keep the waters from entering the building.

Maine seniors plan patriotic lunches

The Maine Township Seniors will kick off July with two patriotic theme luncheons featuring an American music revue.

Two bingo games also will be held during the month. Seniors can play on Tuesday, July 5, at Oakton Arms, 1665 Oakton Place, Des Plaines, and on Thursday, July 14, at the Maine Township Town Hall, 1700 Ballard Rd., Park Ridge. Doors open at noon and play begins at 1 p.m. There is a limit of 100 players at each location and advance registration is required. An admission fee of 50 cents is charged at the door to cover the cost of coffee and sweet rolls.

The American Sampler luncheons will be held at noon Wednesday, July 6, and Thursday, July 7, at Banquets by Brigante in Park Ridge. A musical revue will feature songs from early America through the present day, including Western swing, spirituals, blues, bluegrass, country and Elvis Presley.

On the menu will be fried boneless chicken breast, served with a patriotic fruit cup, tossed salad, mashed potatoes, corn fritters and blueberry slice. The cost is $7.50 per member, $8.50 per guest. Guests may attend on a space available basis.

On Friday, July 15, and Wednesday, July 20, Seniors will take an excursion to see the Stunt Education Tour, where students will demonstrate high falls, fire gags, car rollovers and other surprises. A volunteer from the Senior staff will even participate in some of the action.

Afterward, Seniors will head over to the Apple Holler Restaurant for an old-fashioned country meal. Lunch will include assorted homemade dinner rolls, a beverage, apple muffins with apple butter, fresh garden salad with homemade dressing, turkey with apple stuffing, mashed potatoes, corn on the cob, chunky applesauce, whole cranberries and fresh baked apple pie with cinnamon ice cream.

Following lunch, Seniors will see the show, "C'mon, Get Happy," which highlights both old tunes and new Broadway hits.

Tour buses will leave at 8:45 a.m. each day from the Maine West High School parking lot, and will return to the school at about 4 p.m. The cost is $36 per member and $41 per guest and includes deluxe transportation, lunch, and admission to both the show and musical.

On Wednesday, July 20, crime prevention expert J. J. Bittner, a sheriff's detective in Chicago, will speak about "Street Smarts." The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Maine West High School. Admission is free.

The program is being co-sponsored by Maine Township, Lutheran General Hospital and Maine Township High School District 207 to kick off Community Unity Week.

From 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Monday, July 25, Seniors will learn how to create paper twist wreaths during a craft program at the Town Hall. The program will be led by craft instructor Suzette Horzyla. The cost of $7.50 includes a wreath, paper and supplies. Registration is required.

Our June 23 meeting was well attended rain or no rain. Our members are a great group and we like to be on the go and the saying goes "neither rain, sleet nor snow shall keep us inside."

On June 22, 60 members enjoyed a picnic at Hillcrest Park, Lemont, IL, where they enjoyed riding the Bob's train, bumper cars and enjoyed the favorite American meal, hot dogs and hamburgers and all the trimmings. They also enjoyed the music and had a great day. Many thanks to all who made the picnic a success either by their efforts or by their attendance. It takes the combined efforts of all to make an event like this come together, and run smoothly. Thanks to President Bernice Tegeler and program chairman Josephine Brown our picnic was fun.

Our sympathy to Marie DeMarco and family on the loss of her daughter Mary Ann Crumley. Remember her along with our deceased members in your prayers. On June 27, members are going to Peoria on the Gambling ship Paradise for a day of fun. Don't forget July 11, our days at the races at Arlington Park. Remember the dress code: Gentlemen sport coats, and ladies dress or dress slacks. No t-shirts, jeans, or shorts.

Our next meeting is July 14 and remember elections are coming up and we need officers. See George Korda, nominating chairman. If you wish to take an office or know someone that does contact George.

Happy Birthday to our July Birthday members and to our Anniversary couples, many more years of happiness.

Forest Villa residents aid Donut Day

Residents at Forest Villa look forward each year to collecting donations for the Salvation Army Donut Day. Many family, friends and visitors give money donations to help the charity. Residents are seated at the entrance of the nursing home with smiles on their faces and donut tags to give to each donor.

Thanks to the Salvation Army for making Forest Villa Seniors a part of the team to help those in need.

Dental coverage not available for seniors

Millions of the nation's older Americans still will be without dental coverage even if President Clinton's health care reform proposal is passed by Congress.

"Advertisements for the President's health system reform plan focus on benefits for seniors, but pitches don't mention that dental coverage for senior citizens won't be available until after the turn of the century," says John E. Parzakonis, DDS, president of the Chicago Dental Society. "No other health care reform proposal provides dental benefits for senior citizens."

President Clinton's health care reform proposal includes dental coverage only for children up to age 18.

A study published in the March issue of the Journal of the American Dental Association shows that people age 65 and older are the least likely to receive dental care because they lack dental insurance.

The study, by Richard J. Manski, DDS, MBA, P.Ed., found that older Americans with lower incomes may delay or avoid dental treatment because they lack private dental benefits or publicly funded dental coverage.

Dr. Manski analyzed data from the National Survey of Oral Health in U.S. Employed Adults and Seniors. The study points out that dental insurance is largely employment-based. When people reach retirement age, their physician, medical and hospital care are partially covered by Medicare.

However, unless these people negotiate to keep their dental benefits after retirement, they often lose their dental coverage and avoid seeking dental care. The government does not provide dental coverage under Medicare, and no health system reform proposal advanced so far would cover the dental needs of low-income seniors.

Other studies have discovered that 96 percent of dental care costs for those over 65 are paid out of pocket.

"There is a tremendous amount of oral disease among older Americans who are in no- and low-income categories," says Dr. Parzakonis. The Chicago Dental Society supports the American Dental Association's position that encourages the federal government to extend dental coverage to no- and low-income people of all ages. "Federally funded dental programs should be structured by need, not by age," says Dr. Parzakonis.

Lock up a rising rate with a CD that won't lock you in.

RISING RATE CD

*Annual Percentage Yield

A guaranteed rate increase with a no-penalty withdrawal option every six months.

Whichever way interest rates might go, the Rising Rate

CD is a smart bet. Because if interest rates remain flat or drop, you'll still get a guaranteed raise in your CD rate every six months. But if interest rates begin to climb, the Rising Rate CD gives you the liquidity to pull out once every six months without penalty.

The rate earned for each six-month period rises as the chart above indicates, climbing to a 6.0% APY during the final six-month period.* You have the option of withdrawing all of your funds within the first ten days of any six-month interval. Or you can take out any portion of it as long as a $1,000 balance is maintained.

The Rising Rate CD. The liquidity you want, the guaranteed interest growth you need. To open yours for as little as $1,000, call or visit any participating bank office.

FIRST OF AMERICA

A bank for life.

*A penalty may be imposed for early withdrawal other than periods stated above. Annual percentage yields shown above reflect the yield for each six-month period separately, and are not cumulative yields. Deposit limit $100. Individuals and sole proprietors only. Rates good as of 6/1/94. Not all participating banks offer this product. 'Navy: Technology at Sea' exhibit Flight simulators, interactive exhibit units and large-scale recreations of U.S. Navy ships are the focus of the Museum of Science and Industry's new exhibit, "Navy: Technology at Sea." The largest exhibit ever developed by the Museum, the 10,000-square-foot "Navy: Technology at Sea" provides an all-encompassing experience of naval technology and real-life operation on board ships. The exhibit is now opened to the public.

Through large-scale recreations of three modern ships, "Navy: Technology at Sea" provides an opportunity to experience today's Navy first-hand. The aircraft carrier USS George Washington allows a walk through its "hangar deck" where an actual A-7 Corsair II jet fighter is displayed. The Combat Information Center of the destroyer USS Arleigh Burke, with its AE-GIS control consoles and high-tech instruments, looks like the bridge of the Starship Enterprise. The full-scale interior of the nuclear attack submarine USS Chicago contains "Sonar Run," a high-tech exhibit contest in which visitors attempt to safely pilot a submarine to an island base.

Suburban HomeThe dirt on keeping whites bright

This season, the care and maintenance of whites will be more important than ever, with whites being featured as a fashion necessity.

Between reviving whites from seasons past and repairing new stains from summer's staple of barbecues and baseball games, keeping whites bright can be a dirty job. In fact, a recent fabric care survey conducted by CPC Specialty Products, the makers of RIT Dye and Fabric Treatments, reveals that stains (36 percent), dinginess (32 percent) and yellowing (21 percent) are the greatest sources of whites frustrations.

Jackson offers the following laundering tips to help you smoothly sail through "whites season."

Dull, Dingy or Yellow Whites (Including Non-Bleachables): Dull, dingy and yellowed whites often result from washing items in hard water. Improper sorting of whites and colors and unremoved soil are also villains behind dingy whites. To whiten dingy or yellowed whites, including non-bleachable garments such as lingerie, hospital uniforms and white sportswear, try RIT WHITEWASH with detergent and hot water to restore their original brilliance. Regular use of this product removes the yellowing and dinginess that naturally build up over time, and unlike chlorine bleach, it cannot harm fabric fibers.

Dull Colors and Whites With Colored Patterns and Trims: To brighten up whites with colored trims or stripes, without whitening the colored areas, try RIT Brightener & Brightener. By using it periodically with detergent, this non-bleach product will keep white garments gleaming white and brighten colors, without damaging garment fibers.

Grease, Oil and Other Common Stains: Promptly treat common summer stains, such as hamburger and bicycle grease, salad dressing and dirt, with cool water to prevent them from setting. Never use warm or hot water unless otherwise stated on garment care label. Pretreat or presoak stained items before laundering and repeat if necessary since washing and drying can set some stains. Stains caused by greasy and oil, ink, mustard, and tomato or ketchup can be effectively treated with RIT Super Stain Remover. This concentrated formula is safe for all washable fabrics.

Bleeding Colors On Solid Whites: Seventy-four percent of women surveyed admit to having washed their whites together with their colored items. Always remember to separate whites from colored items to prevent colors from bleeding. However, if colored and white items have been mistakenly washed together, dye transfer stains on solid whites can be safely removed with Color Remover, which unlike chlorine bleach, cannot damage fabric fibers. Color Remover will reduce color on colored items patterns or stripes on whites.

Rust Stains: Yellow or tan discoloration caused by rusty water, red clay and rusty metal is a true laundry nuisance. Common causes for these dreaded stains include iron in the water supply and dirt with a high iron content, such as that found in many southern states. RIT Rust Remover safely and effectively removes rust stains on both white and colored garments.

The 3,012-square-foot Cypress Point is priced from $414,500; a three-bedroom version, called the Muirfield, is priced from $429,500. The community's homes start at $349,500.

You may not be able to tell a book by its cover, but the variety and quality of materials used on a home's facade can reveal quite a bit about the developer, the buyer and the community overall.

"The personality of the home is first seen in its facade," said Sally Downe Henning, sales manager at The Fairways at Rivershire, a community of 107 luxury single-family homes created by Chicago-based Baxter Homes Corp. in north suburban Lincolnshire.

In the same way that brick often encompasses and characterizes traditional-style homes, the use of textured materials, such as fieldstone, rough-hewn cedar and stucco creates an image of "casual luxury" before you even reach the front door," added John McFarland, Baxter Homes' vice president of development.

There are eight distinctive floor plans offered at The Fairways at Rivershire, all available in both- and three-bedroom-plus-den configurations, ranging in size from 2,355 to 3,450 square feet. The homes are priced from $349,500 to $429,500 (prices subject to change without notice). Each plan is available with a variety of exterior elevations.

Depending upon the exterior chosen, a variety of materials is used to achieve the "casual" effect. Brick or fieldstone quoins (offset stone blocks used at corners) may be added, and Tudor-style gables of stucco and cedar may be a part of the plan. Copper awnings may be used to top window bays, and its weathering will continue to match the homes' exterior theme.

"Brick still is a major ingredient in most of the elevations, but that is mainly because of its popularity among home buyers," said Henning. "For more than a decade brick has reigned unchallenged in virtually every segment of the market." In the Fairways homes it is also used to form entryway arches, and blends well with the paver stones that create the driveways for each grouping of homes.

She noted, however, that "despite the school of thought that homes are either sheathed in vinyl or aluminum siding, or enclosed in brick and nothing else, there are many more alternatives out there."

Fieldstone is used extensively in the Fairways' homes because of the combination of its rough surface, its durability and low maintenance requirements, said McFarland. The same is true of cedar and stucco.

It is important, Henning said, that the exteriors consist of - or at least appear as - natural materials. "The streetlights throughout the community are fashioned in a turn-of-the-century design, and the homes evoke the same era," he explained. "The materials used, then, as well as the style, must stay true to that look."

A homeowners association keeps the surrounding grounds, as well as the community's common and recreational areas, in optimum condition for a monthly fee of $144, which also covers membership in the Bath & Tennis Club, a recreational center on the premises that includes two tennis courts and an outdoor pool with a cantilevered deck over a six-acre lake.

Have your mower checked by a professional. Read the manufacturer's instructions and be sure you know how to run the machine before starting a project. When working in the yard, wear long pants, a long-sleeved shirt and gloves. Avoid baggy clothes and jewelry.

Always watch where the mower is going. Don't run over or pick up large sticks, rocks or other debris. Stay away from the blade and keep work areas clear of pets and bystanders.

It's lawn mower season again. Before you crank up the engine, consider these suggestions from the National Safety Council:

Summer Reading and Writing Fun

Skokie School District 65 announces summer project that is designed to engage children and their families in reading and writing activities throughout the summer. The reading and writing activities are designed for students who were enrolled in the following programs during the 1993/94 school year: Bilingual Education, English as A Second Language, Caribbean, Reading Recovery, Chapter I, the Primary Literacy Project and Intensive Reading. Grant monies, contributions from local businesses, and volunteers efforts of staff were used to coordinate and support the project.

The Summer Reading Resource Reading Kit is a brightly colored bag which includes books, magazines, a journal, an author's blank book, a student/family reading and writing activity card, crayons and markers. The reading and writing activity card includes numerous learning experiences, such as shared reading, writing summaries of stories, writing a story, writing letters to the curriculum coordinator, going to the public library to check out books, reading and discussing newspapers articles. Other family activities include watching and writing about the "Reading Rainbow" stories or tapes designed for the middle school (aired on Cable 49, Evanston, and Cable 26 in Skokie.) Kits were prepared for each eligible student who was enrolled in the programs listed above.

By doing each activity on the card, students can earn individual and bonus points toward one or more of the prizes that were donated by local establishments, including Burger King and Brown's Chicken. A rubric with percentages of points earned was designed to award prizes. The Grand Prize for earning the maximum points is a free ticket to Great America!

In selecting the materials, special attention as given to ensure that they were enjoyable, enriching, and would engage the children and their families in meaningful learning experiences. The objective of the project is to have students continue reading and writing throughout the summer in their homes. A total of 800 summer bags were prepared by Lyda Enriquez and Ellen Fogelberg, curriculum coordinator, and by teachers who work with children enrolled in these programs.

ther leniency in the policy negates the reason the district made the change in the first place. "If you keep making exceptions and keep changing things then the exception swallows up the rule," Lombardi said.

Board member Desta Elliott was on the committee that originally considered the change to the Sept. 15 date. She said that the faculty felt it was not a good decision to change the date at all.

"They'd be much more comfortable not changing the date even two weeks, let alone opening it up wider," she said. Lombardi told Sidesky not to put any faith in the possibility for a reconsideration of the policy.

The Board of Education also decided at the meeting to deny a purchase of laptop computers first proposed at the last board meeting, held May 17. At that time, the matter was recommended to the education committee.

Sidesky said that her son's day care teacher believes he is more than ready and is willing to submit a recommendation letter to attest to that fact. "All I'm asking is for him to be tested and then the decision can be made if he's ready or if he's not ready," she said. She also hoped the board would re-examine its policy.

Board of Education President John Lombardi felt that any fur-
