Chicago is a terrific city to walk through. I wonder how many of us who live here ever do a little "walking" in our hometown?

Chicago is a city of neighborhoods.

Just behind the Bleacher Bums' left field hangout in Wrigley Field is a Chicago landmark, Alta Vista Street, about 2 blocks north of the park and 2 blocks west of Sheffield Avenue. Alta Vista was built at the turn-of-the-century and is a street transplanted from London. The block of townhouses are duplicated at diagonally opposite ends of the street. The 3800 townhouse is the same as the 3847 house. The next door houses at 3801 is duplicated by the 3845 townhouse and the duplication continues up and down the street. The fronts of the homes have Ionic columns and stained glass transoms along the entire block.

Just a few blocks away at Irving Park and Clark is the Graceland Cemetery (4001 North Clark St.). You can get a free tour map at the entrance. You can walk or drive past the mausoleums of many of Chicago's most famous children. At the northeast corner of the cemetery you can see Lorado Taft's famous statue, "Eternal Silence." In the area are the burial sites of merchandising Marshall Field, reaper inventor Cyrus McCormick, heavyweight champions Bob Fitzsimmons and Jack Johnson, detective Allan Pinkerton.

Power outage reporting now automated

With the summer storm season approaching, ComEd urges customers to use the utility's new outage reporting system to help expedite power restoration efforts.

How does it work? When you call 1-800-EDISON-1 to report an outage, the PowerLine will ask you to enter the area code and telephone number of the residence or facility that is out of service. A recording will then identify the service address on file for that location and confirm that the outage has been reported to ComEd. (NOTE: When you hear the address, you will only hear the numeric part of the service address.)

Heat causes record Niles Parks usage

by Kathleen Quirsfeld

"The Heat Is On," the title to a popular song and words that were never more true for the Chicago area than last week. Although the hotter than usual temperatures created a lot of problems for people throughout the area, it was a boon for the Niles Park District.

Park pools are typically busy in the summer but when the mercury hit the 90 and 100 degree marks last week, and over, the pools set records for attendance.

"The hotter the weather, the better we like it at the Park District," said Commissioner Buddy Skaja. "Let's just hope for a dry season."

Even the Iceland Skating Rink was unseasonably popular last week. Hot temperatures created an unusual problem for the rink, however, and things got "a little wet" during the days when the

by Rosemary Tirio

The Niles Village Board of Trustees unanimously approved a request for authorization to undertake a TIF (Tax Incremental Funding) eligibility study for property encompassing the Leaning Tower. Monument now owned by the YMCA at 6300 Touhy at the July 25 meeting.

The proposal was introduced by Charles Barbaglia representing the Niles Sisters Cities Association. Barbaglia noted that the landmark, which has become a symbol of the Niles community and is used in numerous government seals and commercial logos, has fallen into disarray over the years. Under the resolution, the Village of Niles will be responsible for the restoration and maintenance of the replica of the famous original tower of Pisa, in Pisa, Italy, the city chosen to be Niles sister city.

The cost of restoring the tower to a safe condition is estimated at $500,000, with an annual maintenance cost of $25,000. The Village will lease the land for $1. The resolution authorizes a study to ascertain if, as is believed, the Leaning Tower site can be added to the existing Touhy/Melvina Redevelopment Project Area which is already approved for TIF. The Village would then advance the funds for restoring the monument and be repaid over a period of seven or eight years by the various other taxing bodies.

Representatives of the Niles Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, Optimist Club and Historical Society, attended the meeting to show their support of the

Ten years for Skokie woman convicted of plotting to kill husband

A Skokie woman who hired a 17-year-old boy to murder her husband was sentenced Monday to 10 years in prison by Judge Gerald Rohrer, said Cook County State's Attorney Jack O'Malley.

Marjorie Cook, 50, pleaded guilty Monday to conspiracy to commit murder, a Class 2 felony, punishable by two to seven years in prison. She was given an extended sentence due to the dangerous nature of her crime.

Assistant State's Attorneys Barbara Riley and Mark Bounstein said that on Feb. 21, 1994, Cook asked her then 14-year-old daughter to help her find someone to murder Cook's husband. Cook offered Jeffrey Sims, then 17 years old, $5,000 to commit the murder. She gave him $1,000 on three separate occasions, a gun and a photograph of her husband. Cook instructed Sims when and where to kill her husband so she could receive the maximum amount of insurance money.

Cook's daughter, convicted in the plot as a juvenile, is scheduled to be sentenced on Aug. 2, 1995.

Our July 13 meeting was very well attended. With the temperature at 103, we were all nice and cool and enjoyed our Bingo games. It was also a first for us as our new associate, Fr. George Koeune, opened our meeting with prayer. We were all glad to meet him and he said he was glad to become part of our Parish Family.

The Club extends its sympathy to the family of Marie DeMarco who passed away recently. Please remember her and all our deceased in your prayers.

Social Security without checks

If you're about to receive your first Social Security benefits, you may never see a check. The money will be available, but it will be credited automatically to your bank account through direct deposit.

You'll join more than 20 million other beneficiaries whose Social Security payments are deposited electronically into their bank account. Think of the advantages. The money will be there on time every month. You'll never have to pay to have your check cashed. Your worries about mail delays or your check being stolen will disappear. You'll miss waiting in long bank lines to cash your check. You'll be able to plan a vacation and not have to make special arrangements for your check. And these are just some of the bonuses you'll enjoy by not receiving a monthly Social Security check in the mail.

When you become a Social Security beneficiary, unless you ask to have your checks mailed to you Social Security will automatically send them to your bank through an electronic transfer of benefits. A Social Security representative will make the arrangements when you apply for benefits. Direct deposit is now the preferred method of payment for Social Security, Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and Black Lung beneficiaries. Although Social Security doesn't require beneficiaries to have direct deposit, it strongly encourages them to use this method.

OCC's MONNACEP Program renamed

MONNACEP, Oakton Community College's Adult and Continuing Education Program, has been renamed the Alliance for Lifelong Learning (ALL), effective August 1, 1995.

"We are responding to changing times," said Barbara Rizzo, director of MONNACEP. "Lifelong learning describes what our program offers, since we have enrichment classes for children in our Kids' College, continuing education for health professionals and a multitude of other offerings, including courses for older adults."

The consortium which became MONNACEP was created in 1971 when the Boards of Education of Oakton Community College, Niles Township High School and Maine Township High School entered into a joint agreement to create one adult and continuing education program to serve the residents of the College district. Both Niles and Maine high schools had outstanding adult education programs, and their staffs combined to administer the Maine Oakton Niles Adult and Continuing Education Program (MONNACEP). In 1978, Northfield Township (Glenbrook) High School joined the consortium, and the acronym became MONNACEP.

Oakton Community College houses the ALL offices and provides administrative services. Classes are held in the three districts' high schools, at both Oakton campuses and at over 55 additional community sites. More than 20,000 students are enrolled each year in the lifelong learning classes.

"We are very fortunate to have such a successful alliance with our outstanding high school districts," said Ellen J. Schrodt, Oakton Trustee and former chairperson of the MONNACEP (now ALL) Governing Board. "Our new name confirms our commitment to provide the very best in lifelong learning for all our district residents."

The next ALL brochure will be delivered to residents' homes in early August. Those interested in registering for any of the hundreds of courses, including an extensive list of computer classes, should do so as soon as possible. Touch-Tone registration is available.

Only the name has changed, the great opportunities for learning remain the same as MONNACEP becomes ALL, the Alliance for Lifelong Learning.

WITH A LITTLE HELP FROM OUR FRIENDS

Studies have shown that the more social ties a person has, the better they'll feel emotionally and physically. Contact and communication with friends and loved ones:

- 1) Helps stave off depression. Friends help with coping. Their empathy furnishes emotional support when dealing with trauma, grief, anger or disappointment.
- 2) Helps keep people in contact with current events and the world around them.
- 3) Helps with daily tasks. Friends and family help with important chores.
- 4) Increases the quotient of love. Friends and loved ones can deliver this precious commodity that can't be bought anywhere at any price.

This short self-quiz will test a person's support network and help determine if it needs work:

- a) I have at least three people I call for help, advice, or just to chat, and they occasionally call on me.
- b) At least one person sees me or calls me each day.
- c) I am an active member of at least one club, group, team, family, religious body, circle, class, board or committee.
- d) I regularly stay in touch with family members.

Resurrection opens dental office

Peggy Nemke, a resident at Resurrection Nursing and Rehabilitation Center in Park Ridge, takes advantage of a free oral screening by Chris Ullmann, D.D.S., in the facility's new in-house dental office.

An in-house dental office is now open at Resurrection Nursing and Rehabilitation Center, 1001 North Greenwood Avenue, Park Ridge. The fully equipped dental office offers comprehensive dental care to residents of the 295-bed facility without leaving the premises.

"We are pleased to offer our residents the convenience of on-site dental care," said Patricia Tiernan, Vice President. "Our goal is to encourage routine preventive dental services and thereby minimize future problems."

A free initial oral screening was offered to all residents. Residents were discussed with each resident along with a description of any further treatment required and the accompanying fees. Chris Ullmann, D.D.S., staffs the dental office two days a week to provide routine examinations and cleanings as well as comprehensive services.

In addition to the convenience for residents, the new service benefits their families as well. "This eliminates the need for family members to make arrangements around their own busy schedules and spend a good part of their day transporting their loved one to and from a dentist appointment," Tiernan said.

Your child: safe at home?

Parents concerned about the safety of their children inside the home, don't overlook what's downstairs in the basement - a water heater that could explode if it isn't properly maintained. Boiler and pressure vessel safety is equally important at many other places you and your children go each day - school, house of worship, day care center, restaurants, office buildings. Even the helium tank used for blowing up balloons at your child's birthday party could pose a safety hazard, if not properly maintained and inspected. Regular inspections and state safety laws that are enforced can help prevent boiler and pressure vessel accidents - accidents that can cause property loss, injury, even death. For the name of the chief boiler inspector in your area, contact The National Board's Communications Department at 1055 Crupper Avenue, Columbus, Ohio 43229-1183 or call (614) 888-8320.

Beginners quilting

About parenting

Parenting is a fulfilling and difficult job. One that few train for. They are right and wrong ways to perform the job of parenting. It makes sense to learn all you can about it. Your role as a parent changes as your child grows. From providing for your child's physical needs, such as good nutrition, shelter, safety, and medical care, to fulfilling your child's emotional and intellectual needs, there's a lot to know.

You can help guide your child to develop appropriate behavior by disciplining with love, teaching social skills, encouraging independence and dealing with frustration. Communication is the key to effective parenting.

- Discuss experiences and feelings with your child. Be open, nonjudgmental and constructive in your responses.
- Explain your beliefs and why you establish rules for your child. When you and your child disagree, listen to his or her point of view.
- Be objective when your child gets into arguments with other children. Listen to both sides carefully. Don't assume your child is right or wrong.
- Above all, be a good role model. Children learn by imitating. Be the kind of person you want your child to be.

Women cops talk about life

In 1910, a courageous young woman at the Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD) became America's first full-fledged policewoman, a full decade before women even earned the right to vote. In 85 years since, have either the police force or society in general grown to equally accept and respect both male and female cops? Apparently not, according to Connie Fletcher, Ph.D., associate professor of communication at Loyola University Chicago, who takes an inside look at the love-hate relationship women cops have with their work and colleagues in her new book, Breaking & Entering: Women Cops Talk About Life in the Ultimate Men's Club (HarperCollins; June, 1995). The book chronicles experiences of women cops in their own words and details how they've overcome many obstacles and prejudices to keep not only their jobs, but their sanity as well.

Fletcher's book clearly illustrates that women officers are still "breaking and entering" into the world of law enforcement. More than 100 women from across the U.S. vividly describe the realities of being a female officer in a field that remains dominated by men. Insider perspectives they share reveal how the greatest difficulty for women cops is generally not with the criminals they face, but the many male officers who resent and ostracize them and the "code of silence" that hides the victimization. While they often encounter some serious prejudices and stereotypes, women cops have also found cop mentors who support them in the face of head-on opposition. The sheer determination of these women to stay in the line of work they love, even with its discouraging downsides, keeps them ahead of the game. The book also reveals the many ways in which women cops have changed and will continue to change policing.

PierogiFest '95 to be held

Stand aside, all other festivals! PierogiFest '95 is set to dominate the scene. On July 29, between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m., at the Harlem and Foster parking lot of Liberty Bank for Savings, 7111 W. Foster Ave., pierogi will be the festival food of choice for thousands of Chicagoans.

Sig Sakowicz, Chicago media legend and host of PierogiFest '95, forecasts the crowd at this year's pasta celebration will triple previous event attendance because, "pierogi is probably the most popular food in Chicago."

"I predict this event will one day rival all the other festivals as the town's favorite," he says. PierogiFest '94, the first such event, drew folks all the way from Iowa, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin. According to Mr. Sakowicz, people come as much to dance as they do to eat. He credits Stas Bulanda's Average Polka Bank, who will perform this year, as a very big attraction.

The Wesoly Lud Polish Folk Dance Ensemble will perform authentic folk dances while festival attendees sample pierogi from the eleven participating restaurants. Pair-goers can cast their vote for the People's Choice best pierogi restaurant in Chicago. Completed ballots become raffle tickets in a contest to win prizes such as airline tickets to anywhere in the continental United States.

The appeal of PierogiFest crosses ethnic lines Mr. Sakowicz says, "Every ethnic group has a similar food." He ought to know. He has been honored by numerous ethnic groups for his media and fundraising efforts.

PierogiFest '95 participating restaurants are: Sawa's Old Warsaw, Galan's, Mareva's, Jaga Deli, Kasia's Deli, Teresa II, Halina's Garden Restaurant and Deli, Pierogi Inn, Ceasar's Polish Deli, Bartusia Obrochty Restaurant and Lucky Man Restaurant.

Other attractions at this year's fest will include a balloon sculpting stilt walker and a craft fair. The event will take place rain or shine. Admission is $2, adults, $1, children under twelve, with each ticket entitling visitors to four free pierogi. Proceeds benefit the Mercy Home for Boys and Girls.

For further information call Susan Andrews at Liberty Bank, (312) 384-4000, ext. 565.

Gov. Jim Edgar recently signed legislation that allows the state to yank the driver's licenses of child support deadbeats.

"This legislation gives us an extremely effective weapon in our fight to ensure that parents live up to their obligations to their children," the Governor said.

"Although we are making progress, there are still families being forced into our welfare system by parents who refuse to accept their responsibility," Edgar said. "This hits those parents where it hurts--the loss of driving privileges."

The legislation, Senate Bill 1204, was initiated by Secretary of State George H. Ryan.

"I want to thank Governor Edgar for signing this very important bill," Ryan said. "The 10 other states that have this law on the books have shown it is an effective method of collecting past-due child support and making sure innocent children receive the money they are entitled to have."

Since Edgar became Governor, the state has collected more than $900 million in overdue child support and the amount collected annually has increased by more than 50 percent.

"We must continue to beef up our efforts," Edgar said. "Taxpayers are subsidizing parents who are shirking their responsibilities."

Approximately $1.3 billion is owed by about 490,000 parents. Of those cases, 210,000 involve children now on welfare.

Under the new law, parents who are more than 90 days delinquent in paying court-ordered support will face suspension of their driving privileges.

It allows the parent to contest the suspension within 60 days or to void it entirely by paying all past due support. The measure also allows delinquent parents to obtain a limited driver's license for medical reasons or for a job.

Burglary to Auto

A 37-year-old Niles carpenter reported that when he looked out the window of his residence in the 8500 block of Milwaukee Avenue after hearing his car alarm go off at about 10:20 p.m. July 20, he saw an offender taking tools from the back of his 1990 Ford Ranger which was parked on the street in front of his residence.

A second offender was sitting on the driver's side of a 1990 or 1991 Chevy Blazer. When the victim ran downstairs, the offenders' vehicle sped northbound on Milwaukee Ave.

The offenders entered the rear locked hatch of the victim's vehicle by breaking the latch by unknown means. There were no visible pry marks.

A Portacable Sawzall valued at $190 and a Makita 12-volt drill valued at $235 were taken from the victim's vehicle. The victim reported that just one and a half weeks earlier, tools valued at $1,500 were taken from the vehicle.

Criminal Damage/Obstructing Police

Police responding to a report of criminal damage to property in progress in the 9100 block of Elmwood found a 24-year-old Glenview man and a 29-year-old Niles woman who were intoxicated and visibly agitated.

The complainant, the male subject's brother, came to the scene and told police that the offender had demanded that the victim repay the money he owed him. When the victim refused, the offender kicked the victim's 1992 Lexus with his right foot causing a large dent in the rear passenger side quarter panel.

As police placed the subject in custody, the female subject repeatedly attempted to interfere by stepping in front of the arresting officer and finally reached inside the squad and attempted to open the rear door. Police arrested the subject and charged her with obstructing a police officer. The male suspect was charged with criminal damage to property under $300. A $1,000 bond and an August 10 court date were set for both arrests.

Noise Complaint

A homeowner in the 9800 block of Glendale Lane reported loud music, fireworks and a loud gathering of youths in a one-family home on the block around 1:10 a.m. July 24.

Police had responded to similar complaints at the same address twice on July 23. Each time the police responded, the youths ran into the house and failed to respond to the doorbell and knocking on the door. The officer wrote a P-ticket for loud noises, fireworks, and loud music at the address.

Damage to Auto

A 39-year-old Mt. Prospect supervisor and his family were driving southbound in the 7700 block of Caldwell Ave. around 5:15 July 23, when their 1991 Ford Taurus sustained windshield damage from a golf ball.

The golfer said he would repair the victim's car. The victim requested a police report. Both parties are insured.

Battery

A 27-year-old receiving clerk was injured after he and his 41-year-old supervisor at a firm in the 5900 block of Howard Street walked outside the building to continue a verbal dispute.

The victim was leaning against a rail while talking to his supervisor. The offender was walking away from the victim when he thought the victim said, "You are an imbecile."

The offender walked back to the victim and pushed both hands into the victim's chest causing the victim to fall over the rail.

The offender was transported to the Niles Police Department and booked for battery. The victim suffered neck pains from the incident.

Snowmobile O.U.I. bill signed into law

Individuals suspected of operating snowmobiles while under the influence of alcohol or drugs would be required to undergo chemical tests, and violators would face tough new penalties, under a bill signed into law by Gov. Jim Edgar. The law change takes effect Jan. 1, 1996.

Natural Resources Department Director Brent Manning said existing laws dealing with operating a snowmobile while under the influence have been difficult to enforce because they lacked the required testing outlined in similar laws covering automobile and watercraft operation.

The new law establishes an "implied consent" provision for snowmobile operators, in which a snowmobiler arrested for an offense is considered to have given permission to chemical testing of breath, blood or urine to determine the presence of alcohol or other drugs. It also spells out presumptive levels for intoxication, suspension of operating privileges, admissibility of chemical test results in court, use of preliminary breath tests and owner responsibility.

Under the new law, a law enforcement officer could request that a snowmobile operator, prior to any arrest, take a preliminary breath test on a portable device and undergo other "on-the-spot" sobriety tests. The officer would be allowed to use these tests to determine if probable cause exists to arrest the snowmobiler for operating under the influence (OUI). A snowmobiler arrested for an OUI offense would be required to undergo chemical tests, including breath, blood and urine analysis, to determine the presence of alcohol or drugs in his or her blood.

Individuals who refused to submit to any tests would have their snowmobile operating privileges suspended for at least two years. The new law provides that an individual would be presumed to be under the influence if chemical testing determined his or her blood alcohol concentration was 0.10 or greater, which is the same standard applied to automobile drivers and boat operators. Individuals convicted of operating a snowmobile while under the influence would be guilty of a Class A misdemeanor and face up to a year in jail and/or a fine up to $10,000. They also would have their snowmobile operating privileges suspended for a year.

If convicted and the offense resulted in disability, disfigurement or great bodily harm to another individual, or if convicted and an operator had a previous conviction, then the operator would be guilty of a Class 4 felony, punishable by 1-3 years in prison and/or a fine up to $10,000.

If convicted and the offense resulted in the death of another person, then the operator would be guilty of a Class 3 felony and face 2-5 years in prison and/or $10,000 in fines. Additionally, an individual convicted of a felony would have his or her snowmobile operating privileges suspended for five years.

The new law also makes it a Class A misdemeanor for an owner or supervisor of a snowmobile to knowingly allow operation of the snowmobile by a drug- or alcohol-impaired individual. In addition, individuals operating a snowmobile while their privileges are suspended would be guilty of a Class A misdemeanor.

Northern Illinois Gas files for rate increase

Northern Illinois Gas filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission (Ill.C.C.) for a 5.4 percent, $73 million general rate increase May 8. The last time the company filed for a general rate increase was 1981, when the utility received a 6.9 percent, $114 million increase.

Under the filing, the average residential customer's bill would increase by about $3 per month. The filing also proposes revisions to some services provided to commercial and industrial customers who would experience varying impacts depending on the amount of natural gas used and services selected.

The Commerce Commission has up to 11 months to decide the case, so new rates and services are not expected to go into effect until April 1996.

The requested general rate increase is needed to recover costs associated with enhancements to the company's underground storage and delivery system, other

At the opposite end of town, just west of highway 94 (the south end of the Dan Ryan) is another turn-of-the-century area, the Pullman district, named after the builder of the Pullman sleepers. Exit at south 111th Street and go west to Cottage Grove Avenue.

In the late 1800's Pullman became the first planned industrial community in the United States. In 1896 at the World Exposition, Pullman

LEGAL NOTICE

The Village of Niles is a north-west suburban community bordering the City of Chicago. The Village has a population of 28,400, approximately 100 street miles, and approximately 13,000 Village owned/maintained trees.

Sealed proposals for providing all labor, equipment, and materials for a tree management plan, risk tree management plan, and insect and disease management strategies based on tree inventory data (including software) must be received by the Village of Niles Purchasing Agent, 7601 North Milwaukee Avenue, Niles, Illinois by 12:00 p.m., Friday, August 18, 1995.

The preparation and submission of the proposals, the award, and the execution of the contract, including all work and materials shall conform to the Village of Niles specifications and the Illinois Department of Conservation terms and conditions.

Since this work is of highly specialized nature, it is to be performed by a company which has at least three years of experience in a municipal street tree inventory consultation, and whose software is in current use by at least three municipalities.

The bidder must include in the proposal their experience in this class of work and a short history of the organization. The right is reserved by the Village to reject any and all bids.

The completion date for this project, which includes training for three to five Village employees, shall be Friday, December 1, 1995. Please note that the "Instructions to Bidders" form must be signed and accompany the bid or the bid shall be found invalid.

Any firm desiring to be considered is encouraged to contact the Village and obtain a Request for Proposal including Instructions to Bidders. For information, contact the Purchasing Agent, Village of Niles, 7601 N. Milwaukee Avenue, Niles, Illinois 60714, (708) 967-6100, extension 333.

was selected as the outstanding community in the world because of its urban planning. Pullman workers labored there, lived there, drank their beers and went to church there, all under the paternalistic arm of its founder, who insisted on a 6% profit on every investment in the community. Norman Mark's Chicago book reminds readers more than a dozen workers were killed when a strike paralyzed three-fourths of the railways in the country and President Cleveland sent 14,000 "ill-trained troops to Chicago" to confront the strikers.

You might begin your tour at the Florence Hotel, named after Pullman's daughter. It's a charming hotel, circa 1890's which guidebooks describe as "Queen Anne" style. While eating lunch in the dining room is memorable because of its ambience rather than because of its mediocre food, there is a feeling of turning back the clock 100 years as you sit there. After lunch you might browse the old radio collection, walking the winding stairway to the second floor.

LEGAL NOTICE

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE -- THE MORTON GROVE PLAN COMMISSION will hold a public hearing on Monday, August 21, 1995 at 7:30 P.M. in the Board of Trustees Chambers, Richard T. Flickinger Municipal Center, 6101 Capulina Avenue, Morton Grove, Illinois, to consider the following case:

CASE PC95-6
Requesting approval of a planned unit development consisting of both attached and detached single-family dwellings on the property that is commonly known as Delaine Farm.

The parcel is located at 6531 Beckwith Road, Morton Grove, Illinois 60053. The applicant is Mark Elliott, Elliott Homebuilders, Inc. and Timbers Edge Partners II, 4800 W. Lake Avenue, Glenview, Illinois 60025.

All interested parties are invited to attend and be heard.

Leonard A. Bloomfield
Chairman

Outside a walk through the neighborhood on St. Lawrence and Champlain Avenues passes the row houses where the workers lived. They have been restored and are presently occupied.

The controlled community had one church, The Green Stone Church, a Presbyterian church which is built with green rock which was quarried in New England. It is next door to the Cottage Hospital. Like all buildings and enterprises in the community, it was expected to make a 6% profit for its owner, Pullman. Swedish Lutherans and Catholics also wanted churches there but were rejected because they violated the overall plan of the community. A few years later they were allowed to build edifices just outside the town proper.

One other walking tour which isn't in any tour guidebooks is a late afternoon walk from the Merchandise Mart east to the Wrigley Building on North Michigan Avenue. Walking east on the north side of the Chicago River, you get a stunning view of the buildings which border the river on its south side. The reflections of the late afternoon sun on the bronzed glass and steel buildings is breathtaking. You can also catch this same view by taking a boat at Michigan Avenue which takes you west to the Metra train station (the old Northwestern station). You can view a Chicago which few people have seen by walking or boating this route.

You can top-off your walking tours of the city with a cool drink at any one of the many water-holes in the area. A drink on the mezzanine of the Hyatt House east of Michigan Avenue, on the south side of the river, is a restful respite which overlooks one of the more beautiful hotel lobbies in Chicago.

To ensure the PowerLine works as designed should you need to call, ComEd asks that you check your electric bill now to verify that telephone phone numbers listed for the service address is correct. With recent changes in telephone area codes, it's especially important to make sure the area code is current.

Remember: ComEd's automated outage information will only work when the telephone number we have on file matches your service address. If you have any questions about the PowerLine or about your electric service, call us 24 hours a day at 1-800-Edison-1.

posals. After the meeting, Mayor Nicholas Blase said, "It's a definite focal point of the community. Every community has to sell itself. (Restoring the Leaning Tower Monument) will make more people want to come out and take a look at it."

In other business, the Board unanimously approved the transfer of the cable franchise from Cablevision of Chicago to Continental Cablevision. Continental purchased Cablevision of Chicago's area cable systems, including the Niles system, last Jan. 6. However, village ordinance requires that any franchise assignment must be formally approved by a Board resolution.

In a letter to Village Manager Abe Selman, Continental Vice President of Governmental Affairs Robert E. Ryan stated that Continental has plans to upgrade and improve service by replacing the existing microwave system with a fiber optic cable and increasing the system's channel capacity from 450 megahertz to 750 megahertz. Continental will also design and construct an institutional network serving municipal and other public buildings.

The Board of Trustees authorized Village Attorney Richard Troy to undertake proceedings, which may include filing a lawsuit, to recover the expense of cleaning up soil contamination caused by leaks in the fuel tanks and gas pump lines of the Mobil Oil gas station and Pit Pros business which formerly occupied the site at Oakton St. and Waukegan Rd. where the new Village Hall will be built.

Under the provisions of the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, legal action can be brought in federal court against any party who contributed to the disposal of solid or hazardous waste on a site.

their money and time," said Ken Woodrow, Target president. "That's why Target guests have responded to our unique offering of high-quality basic and trend merchandise, outstanding guest service and efficient store design. Together with our upbeat promotions and long standing tradition of community service, Target makes the search for value simple."

Construction on the new Target stores in Cicero and Niles began January 1995. Each new 115,000-square foot store will employ approximately 150 full- and part-time workers and contribute more than $200,000 to the local economy through the purchase of services and supplies from local business.

usually goes back to the 1992 contract. The average cost per tree in 1994 was $30.44. The projected total budget impact of the 1995 program is $50,000.

The areas scheduled for tree trimming this year are bounded by Howard, Oriole, Oakton and Milwaukee; North, Western, Dempster and Cumberland, and north of Dempster, Greenwood, Washington and Maryland/Lyons.

rink "couldn't keep up with the cooling," said Director Tim Royster.

Another hot weather benefit was noticed in the increase in district programs, all of which went up this year. Vice President Myrna Breitman told the Board at its meeting on July 18 that there was an increase of 10% in the registrations for summer programs, and that the camps experienced a 16% growth over last year.

A continuing problem plaguing the Niles Park District is how to characterize non-residents, those people who live in Niles but are not residents of the Niles Park District. These individuals and families pay taxes to the Park Ridge Park District but use the facilities of the Niles Park District. They are considered non-residents.

"The law is that every non-resident has to be treated the same as every other non-resident," said Vice President Myrna Breitman.

Special considerations used to be provided for these individuals, but Breitman said that policy couldn't continue. "We have to let that run out," she said.

"People need to understand why that's happening, it's been very hard on the staff," she said. "Hopefully we'll all get on the same page and we'll be able to consistently say that no matter what facility they're at, they're on the same page," Breitman told the Board.

Another continuing worry is the status of Senate Bill 368 which inched its way through the Illinois Legislature and now languishes on the Governor's desk.

Park District President Elaine Heinen, reporting on the progress of this bill, told the board: "As of Monday, July 17, no action has been taken, and it is still on Governor Edgar's desk awaiting signature," she said.

Heinen told the Board that "a letter has been sent to Governor Jim Edgar explaining how important this is to the Park District."

"The Governor has been signing two bills a day," Heinen said, "and I hope he gets to this one."

She also noted that by October 1, a resolution will be made about the four area park districts who are hoping to get resident rates at the Glenview Naval Golf Course. She told the Board that the property has recently been turned over to the Glenview Village.

Athletes Against Drugs

The golf tournament and celebrity reception raised approximately $50,000 for AAD's drug prevention programs. Established in 1985, AAD is a national, not-for-profit organization of athletes, community and business leaders, youth-serving agencies and concerned citizens. Its primary focus is to promote healthy lifestyles and active participation in athletics for youth through sports, education and public awareness programs.

Parking and admission are free. Before their 5 p.m. show, President and Mrs. Lincoln will be seen roaming the Civil War Encampment. For more Country Fair details, call (708) 824-4924. National Night Out against crime

On Tuesday, August 1, the unincorporated area of Des Plaines will once again be participating in the 12th Annual National Night Out (NNO) crime prevention event. National Night Out, which is sponsored by the National Association of Town Watch, will involve over 8700 communities across the United States and Canada. Unincorporated Maine Township will be competing with other communities of similar size for an award based on scope of the event and level of participation. National Night Out is designed to:

1. heighten crime and drug prevention awareness
2. generate support and participation in local anti-crime efforts
3. strengthen neighborhood spirit and police-community relations
4. send a message to criminals letting them know neighborhoods are organized and fighting back

From 7 to 10 p.m. on August 1, residents in neighborhoods throughout the unincorporated area, and across the nation, are asked to lock their doors, turn on exterior lights, and spend the evening outside with neighbors and police. National Project Coordinator Matt Peskin said, "National Night Out is an ideal opportunity for citizens and law enforcement nationwide to form powerful partnerships in the fight for a safer America."

Beginning at 7 p.m. at the Maine Township Drop-in Center, 9000 Capitol Drive, Des Plaines (housed inside Stevenson School), a skills competition will be held. The competition will include soccer ball handling, stick handling, shooting a puck, and free throw events. The competition is open to 5th thru 8th graders who can sign up for the skills event of their choice. Prizes will be awarded for all competitors.

At the conclusion of the skills contests, beginning approximately at 8:30 p.m., a flashlight walk through the neighborhood will begin. Starting at five separate locations, Neighborhood Watch Block Captains will lead their neighbors on flashlight walks that will all culminate at Dee Rd. and West Oaks. "With groups from all over the unincorporated area converging on one location, it will be a rather impressive sight," says Neighborhood Watch Chairman, Gwen Surell. "I'm looking forward to good weather and a great turnout for this event." Cook County Sheriff's Police and Maine Township E.M.A. will be joining walkers from every location.

For more information, or to participate in the walk, contact Gwen Surell at 635-7772, or Pam Andersen at Town Hall at 297-2510.
