by Bud Besser

A young lady dropped by The Bugle last week with her real estate tax bill in hand and frustration in her voice, seeking an answer to curbing the ever-increasing taxes on her moderate-priced home. Her 1995 bill has a 14.2% increase over the previous year.

She received a 9.17% increase from East Maine Elementary School District 63, a 11.5% increase from Maine High School District 207, a 16.7% hike from Cook County, a 29.2% increase for the Niles Public Library District and a 42.7% tax raise from the Niles Park District.

We've been through this for so many years our pipsqueak voice has been drowned out by the drumbeat of the higher taxers.

The people who raise your taxes are your neighbors. They're honest people who for the most part receive little thanks for what they do representing you, and are often victims of institutions which have lives of their own. They're also up against special interests (administrators) which (who) have agendas which are not compatible with holding down your taxes.

In the school districts the abuse of money spent is completely out of hand. The teachers' unions have successfully pushed up teacher salaries which you are paying for. In the past, teachers have been grossly underpaid which resulted in the formation of

Car in fatal crash may have been moving 60 mph

by Rosemary Tirio

State authorities are assisting Niles police in reconstructing the crash that claimed two lives Aug. 11 to determine how fast John A. Maglio's car was going when he ramed it into the rear of a car waiting for the light to change at an entrance to the Golf Mill Center, killing the two occupants.

Earlier news reports said the car was traveling 50 mph, but Niles Public Information Officer Sgt. Roger Wilson said, "I'd say [it was] more like 60, to be truthful. If you'd see the car—it was pretty gruesome."

Maglio, 42, of Chicago, was charged with two counts of first degree murder for the Aug. 11 incident in which he admitted in

Phone refunds may not be correct

By now most phone users are accustomed to the new 847 area code, but the April 20 changeover didn't go quite as easily as they might believe or as Ameritech had intended.

Ameritech was left somewhat red-faced, if a corporate giant can turn red, over an overbilling snafu that resulted in a massive refund of almost $900,000.

Credits appeared on last month's phone bills with but a single line of explanation. Customers were incorrectly charged for local calls when the area code switch from 708 to 847 was made April 20. The error went undetected for two months before it was spotted and corrected.

The problem now is a matter of credibility: if Ameritech (the former Ma Bell) erred so badly with

Niles weather OK for road, sewer work

Weather is not a problem for Niles road and sewer projects according to Public Service Director Jun Noriega.

Aside from some late starts caused by the cold and rainy spring, the three major improvement projects currently underway are progressing as planned, Noriega said.

38-year-old faces first degree murder in mother's 1978 suffocation

MG man charged in mother's 1978 death

by Rosemary Tirio

David S. D'Autremont, 38, is incarcerated at the Cook County Department of Corrections on a first degree murder charge.

Eighteen years ago, he was a young Morton Grove resident, just a month shy of his 20th birthday, when his mother, Ruth D'Autremont, the 59-year-old widow of a dentist, was found dead in the family home at 9229 Oketo Ave.

A death investigation was conducted, according to Commander Garry Marta of the Morton Grove Police Investigative Division. There was some talk in the neighborhood that David D'Autremont might have somehow been involved in his mother's death, since he would be coming into a sizable inheritance and was known to have had frequent arguments with his mother about his failure to obey her "house" rules, according to police.

However, there was little medical evidence to indicate foul play, and the death was routinely attributed to natural causes. The fact that Ruth D'Autremont suffered from heart disease further discouraged authorities from probing into the possibility of homicide.

"We took it as far as we could go back then," Marta said.

Niles police tied for first in softball league

by Rosemary Tirio

Niles police work hard, and they play hard too.

With a 9-2 record for the summer, the Niles Police Department Softball team tied with the Schiller Park Police for first place in the league.

Sunday's playoff game pitted the Niles police team against neighboring Morton Grove. Niles emerged victorious in the 1-0 shutout.

"Our only run came in the bottom of the sixth," said winning pitcher Community Service Officer Elias (Louie) Gallanos. "Officer Vince Genuald got a triple with one out, and officer Ron Brandt hit the game-winning single to right field. We held them in the top of the 7th inning and the game was over."

Gallanos said he pitched only about seven balls during the game. "Everything else was strikes," he said.

Schiller Park and Wheeling were responsible for the two

S.I.J. 55 Plus Club

Summer is slowly coming to an end. Hope that is not the fate of the St. Isaac Jogues 55 Plus Club. It will be, if we do not get any new officers.

Election of officers is just around the corner. Rudy Seifert, along with the other officers have decided not to run, so if you are interested in becoming an officer, we need a President, Vice President, Treasurer and Secretary, let our nominating committee know. They are Josephine Brown, Dottie Sansone and Ann Adivolfi.

On July 25 our party was excellent, we enjoyed the food which was from Buona Beef Catering (new one for us).

After dinner we had the horse races, which everyone enjoyed. There were six horses, (1) horse Betty Jach, (2) horse Adelle Genovaldi, (3) horse Emma Lesniak, (4) horse Florence Lencioni, (5) horse Julie North and (6) horse Vivian Leonard. The first race was won by (4) horse, Florence Lencioni and second race was won by horse (3), Emma Lesniak.

On July 28, St. Isaac Jogues had their Blood Drive and Dottie Sansone and her committee would like to thank all the 39 donors. If you are able, please become a donor; blood is badly needed.

The members have been having fun. We were on a gambling boat-trip, thanks to Ann Rome, who has been putting them together.

We welcomed two new members at our August 8 meeting; Betty Dismang and Bette Newricki. We celebrated Wanda and Chuck Palkoner's birthdays, August 15, and August 10. Congratulations to all members having birthdays in August along with the couples celebrating anniversaries. Please remember our sick and deceased in our prayers.

Mayor proclaims 'School Safety Patrol Week'

Mayor Nicholas B. Blase has proclaimed August 25-31, 1996 "School's Open, Drive Carefully Week," joining the AAA-Chicago Motor Club in commemorating the 49th annual safety program.

In his proclamation, the Mayor states that the AAA School Safety Patrols have been credited with helping achieve the dramatic decrease in the pedestrian death rate for children between the ages of five and fourteen in the United States. The Patrol program has educated students about safe walking rules and taught thousands of young people about leadership and responsibility.

AAA-CMC founded the first student AAA School Safety Patrol in 1920. The movement grew to include the entire United States, Canada and 31 foreign countries with 500,000 members and 50,000 schools.

As the new school year begins, the Patrols again will be on duty helping guide their classmates safely across busy streets near the schools. Mayor Blase advised motorists to reduce their speed and be especially alert near schools, to respond to the directions of the Patrol members and other crossing guards, and to obey the rules regarding school buses.

"Youngsters in lower grades are especially at risk," said Lionel Kramer, AAA-CMC president and chief operating officer. "Children darting into traffic, often between parked cars, are a typical problem. Fifty-one percent of pedestrian deaths and injuries among children 5 to 9 years old occur as they try to enter streets between intersections."

AAA-CMC's support and sponsorship of the AAA School Safety Patrols involves providing training materials, belts and badges and counseling in setting up and managing programs.

Edward Jones: Financial Focus - Are Utility Stocks Still a Bright Idea?

If you're one of the many individuals who invest in electric utility stocks, you may be wondering whether owning them is still a bright idea.

Since the beginning of the year, electric utility stocks have decreased in value. This is largely due to how interest rates have performed over the same period. Historically, utility stocks have performed best when interest rates are falling. Since the beginning of 1996, however, interest rates have gradually increased, a phenomenon that has occurred in just three of the past 15 years.

If, like most utility investors, you chose utility stocks for the reliable dividend income and growth potential they offer, don't pull the plug on your investments just yet.

Well-managed electric companies should continue to provide increasing income and price appreciation for investors in spite of temporary fluctuations in value. In fact, quality companies are expected to continue offering annual total returns of roughly 8.5 percent over the next five years or so.

The electric utility industry, however, is undergoing dramatic change, and not all electric utilities face a promising future. The days in which utilities operated as virtual monopolies are gone. In fact, many believe that most customers will someday be able to choose which companies provide their utility services. This competition will weed out high-cost producers; only high-quality, well-managed utilities will survive.

How will this affect utility investors? In the future, investors will have to select their utilities carefully and then monitor their progress regularly. If you already own utility stocks, you should use this opportunity to review your investments.

Here are three questions to keep in mind as you review your stocks:

1. Are your utility stock holdings properly diversified by industry and geographic location? Choosing utility stocks from a variety of industries and areas will protect you should any one utility company perform poorly.
2. Do utility stocks represent an appropriate portion of your portfolio? Now is not the time to be over-invested in utilities.
3. Do the utility stocks you own still meet your needs? One of the basic rules of investing is to avoid letting short-term trends affect your long-term investment decisions.

If you can answer "yes" to these questions, the future of your overall utility investments shouldn't be dimmed by short-term interest rate fluctuations or changes in the industry. In fact, the future of certain electric utilities will continue to be quite bright.

Jeffrey Cardella can be reached at Edward Jones, 8141 N. Milwaukee Avenue, Niles, (847) 470-8953.

Proof we work twice as hard for our customers: Not one but two higher yield accounts.

CASH MANAGEMENT CHECKING
4.00%
Balance of $25,000 or more

SUPERIOR PERFORMANCE FUND
4.68-5.62%
Range on balances of $50,000 to $500,000

At First of America, we try to work a little harder for our customers. And so, we offer accounts that work harder too.

When it comes to earning higher yields, that means not one, but two accounts. Checking and Savings.

Cash Management Checking is a personal checking account that is designed to manage your money daily. It combines unlimited check writing with higher yields on your checking balances. The higher the balance, the higher the yield.

If you already have a Cash Management Checking Account, you can receive the special rate here on the portion of your balance over $5,000 when you make an additional deposit of $5,000 with a copy of this ad.

Like its name suggests, the new Superior Performance Fund is superior in many ways. It has high rates tied to the 91 Day Treasury Bill.

It's also fully liquid. Which gives you easy access to your money when you need it.

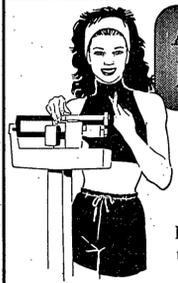

Needless to say, both Cash Management Checking and our Superior Performance Fund are fully FDIC insured.

To find out more, stop by any of our 130 convenient offices or you can call our Telephone Banking Center at 1-800-222-4FOA.

A separate interest rate is paid for each portion of the account balance that falls within each of the following tranches. For Cash Management Checking, the interest rate for the portion of the balance above $5,000 is tied to the weekly average Federal Funds Rate less not more than one percent, which as of 8/16/96 is 4.618%. The portion of the balance that is $50,000 or more will be at least equal to the 91 Day T-Bill weekly auction discount rate. As of 8/16/96, the interest rate for this tier is set at 5.33%. The APY ranges from 4.68% to 5.62%. The interest rate for the portion of your balance that is $10,000 or more but less than $50,000 is tied to the 91 Day T-Bill rate less not more than 1%. As of 8/16/96, this interest rate is set at 5.33%. The APY ranges from 4.68% to 5.62%. The interest rate for the portion of your balance that is less than $10,000 is tied to the 91 Day T-Bill rate less not more than 0.5%. As of 8/16/96, this interest rate is set at 4.83%. The APY is 1.59%. Annual Percentage Yields (APY) are subject to change after account opening. Fees may reduce earnings on the account. Offer available to individuals at First of America Bank - Illinois offices only. We reserve the right to limit the deposit. Member FDIC. ©1996 First of America Bank Corporation. REDUX . . .

The Only Prescription Medication For Weight Loss And Maintenance

REDUX (dexfenfluramine) is a prescription weight-control medication for the management of obesity, including weight loss and maintenance of weight loss, in people on a reduced-calorie diet. REDUX has been available in Europe for more than a decade and has been used by an estimated 10 million patients.

How does REDUX work?
REDUX works by increasing the activity of serotonin, a natural substance in the brain. This increased activity of serotonin signals your body to eat less. In human studies, REDUX therapy, in combination with a reduced-calorie diet is associated with decreased appetite. It makes people feel full and lessens their desire to eat. People may find they no longer crave certain snacks. This may make it easier for you to follow a reduced-calorie food plan. REDUX should be part of an ongoing program of reduced-calorie eating and increased physical activity.

Who is REDUX for?
REDUX is recommended for overweight people if they also have other risk factors such as high blood pressure, diabetes and high cholesterol.

Who should not take REDUX?
REDUX is not for people who are:

- Diagnosed as having pulmonary hypertension
- Taking monamine oxidase inhibitors
- Allergic to dexfenfluramine, fenfluramine, or related medications.
- Pregnant or planned to become pregnant
- Breast-feeding
- Under 18 years of age
- Using other weight-loss medications
- Taking Prozac, Zoloft, Effexor or Paxil
- Taking certain types of drugs for depression

Is REDUX addictive?
No addictive or drug-seeking behavior in patients taking REDUX has been reported in premarketing studies.

How effective is REDUX?
In a one-year clinical trial of 900 obese patients, those who dieted and took REDUX lost significantly more weight than patients who dieted and took placebo. How long I should take REDUX? While most of the weight you will lose on REDUX therapy will be lost in the first 4 to 6 months, your doctor may want you to continue taking REDUX to help you keep the weight off. REDUX is ideal for ongoing use as part of a weight maintenance program. Use of REDUX for more than one year has not been studied. Your doctor will decide how long you should stay on REDUX.

What are the possible side effects of REDUX?
Like all prescription medications, REDUX may cause side effects. The most common side effects include diarrhea, dry mouth and drowsiness. These side effects are generally mild and usually disappear in a few weeks. They generally have not caused people to stop taking REDUX. The most common side effects occurring in patients discontinuing therapy included insomnia, headache or general weakness, fatigue or depression. Use caution before driving a car or operating machinery if REDUX makes you drowsy. In addition, REDUX may increase the sedative effects of alcohol.

When I'm taking REDUX, should I also be on a diet?
As with any weight-loss plan, you need to reduce your calorie intake. A reduced-calorie food plan that you can stay with on a long-term basis - one that contains foods you enjoy and doesn't leave you feeling hungry - is a fundamental part of taking REDUX. REDUX helps you feel full and make it easier for you to stay with a reduced-calorie food plan.
What should I know about excess weight and weight loss?
If you are overweight, you share this condition with an estimated 58 million adult Americans who are 20% or more over their desired weight. Obesity is now recognized as a medical condition like many others, such as high blood pressure or diabetes. For some patients, drug therapy is effective, just as it is for other chronic conditions. Excess weight can result from one or more of the following causes, heredity, metabolism, environment, level of physical activity, or eating habits that may go back to childhood. Studies have shown a relationship between obesity and the risks of heart disease, high blood pressure, diabetes, certain forms of cancer, gallstones, certain respiratory disorders, and a decrease in life expectancy. These studies suggest that losing weight and keeping it off produce health benefits for some people with chronic obesity, especially those who are at risk for other diseases. Shedding excess weight may help:

- Reduce high blood pressure
- Normalize blood sugar levels
- Lower cholesterol levels

What other lifestyle changes should I consider?
REDUX must be taken in conjunction with a reduced-calorie diet and a regular exercise. However, before you undertake any exercise program, it's important to discuss it with your physician.

If you need to lose weight call OptiWell Health Services at (847) 967-2273 to schedule an appointment with an OptiWell staff physician and wellness consultant. OptiWell Health Services offers various weight loss programs designed to meet the needs of every patient.

Saliva testing - the window to your body

Don't be surprised when your dentist asks you to spit in a cup at a future dental appointment to detect caries, oral candidiasis, and periodontal disease because of its ability to provide a reflection of the body, reports AGD Impact, the newsmagazine of the Academy of General Dentistry.

Scientists are using saliva to help diagnose a variety of systemic diseases and medical conditions - measles, mumps, rubella, AIDS, Alzheimer's disease, cystic fibrosis, diabetes mellitus, hepatitis, ulcers, and depression. Research also is underway on the use of saliva for monitoring the levels of a variety of drugs, hormones and other substances - including tobacco, alcohol, steroids, marijuana, cocaine and opiates, in addition to prescription medications.

In the dental office, saliva tests could be used to monitor oral health and nutrition, to examine saliva's buffering capacity, and to measure candidal forms of yeast, helping to determine the adequacy of salivary function.

Saliva testing offers many advantages over blood and urine tests: It's easier to collect and store than other body fluids, and saliva collection techniques are far less invasive than collection of blood or urine.

Saliva testing for home or office use has been slower to reach the United States than other

A 17-year-old Niles resident reported that sometime between midnight and 2:06 p.m. Aug. 8 unknown offender(s) used a hard object to break the side window of his 1983 Pontiac 2000 and removed the JVC Face Off valued at $250. The cost to repair the vehicle was estimated at $100.

The 38-year-old cook in the restaurant in the 8600 block of Golf Road reported that unknown offender(s) opened the rear hatch door of his 1990 Ford F150 pickup truck while it was parked in the restaurant lot around 11:45 p.m. Aug. 8 and set fire to a blanket and piece of carpeting inside the truck bed. No accelerants appeared to have been used.

The victim extinguished the blaze with a bucket of water. He told police he has no enemies and no idea of who would do such a thing to his vehicle.

A 24-year-old employee of a computer on-line service in the office complex in the 8600 block of Golf Road reported that unknown "computer hackers" were able to exploit a computer virus within the business, which allowed them to use the service free of charge. The telephone company will investigate the situation.

A 22-year-old employee of the drugstore in the 8200 block of Golf Road reported that two men between 18 and 20 years of age the children had kicked them out of her Chicago home and they had come to live with their 60-year-old father who was living at the motel because it was the only accommodation he could afford.

A report of the incident was forwarded to the Department of Code Enforcement.

Suspicious person

A 21-year-old Arlington Heights woman was charged with soliciting after employees of the food store in the 8700 block of Dempster Street asked her to leave store property three times and finally called the police around 12:36 p.m. Aug. 8.

The offender said she was soliciting money to buy food and that she was sleeping in the woods in Des Plaines. She was transported to the Niles Police Department where Family Services was contacted and said they would try to help the offender.

Suspicious activities

A 49-year-old manager of the collectible exchange in the 9300 block of Milwaukee Avenue received a letter in the mail delivery around 9 a.m. Aug. 12 from a suspect who related in the letter that he was going to blow up the business because it had become so popular. A Brooklyn, N.Y. man is suspected of sending the letter.

Niles police inventoried the letter and turned the case over to investigators.

Burglary to vehicle

A 17-year-old Niles resident reported that sometime between midnight and 2:06 p.m. Aug. 8 unknown offender(s) used a hard object to break the side window of his 1983 Pontiac 2000 and removed the JVC Face Off valued at $250. The cost to repair the vehicle was estimated at $100.

A 22-year-old employee of the drugstore in the 8200 block of Golf Road reported that two men between 18 and 20 years of age entered the store around 8:30 p.m. Aug. 7.

On a security of videotape, one of the men was observed concealing approximately eight cans of baby formula in his clothing and leaving the store without paying for the formula.

The offenders returned to the store before 8:30 p.m. and one again concealed about eight cans of the formula in his pants and attempted to leave the store without paying.

Child sex offender bill enacted into law

Local schools and child care facilities will be notified of the name, address and offense of any person committing a sex-related crime against a minor under new legislation passed during the recent fall veto session of the Illinois legislature.

State Rep. Ralph C. Capparelli (D-13th), who supported the measure (S.B. 721), said that notification will come from local police departments who may also disclose this information to any person "likely to encounter" the sex offender.

Capparelli said this information also will be maintained in a Child Sex Offender Database, which will be made available to the public through the local communities in which the offenders are required to register.

"Statistics show that about four of every 10 convicted child sex offenders have the inclination to repeat their crimes, despite incarceration and professional treatment," continued Capparelli. "It is our intent to deter any future crimes of this nature and to make it as difficult as possible for offenders to repeat their actions in our communities."

In a related matter, Republican legislators, expecting defeat for their Leaking Underground Storage Tank legislation if introduced on its own, attached the tax legislation to the Child Sex Offender Notification Bill, resulting also in its passage. The storage tank tax legislation imposes a three-tenths of one cent per gallon tax on gasoline, diesel, aviation, and kerosene fuels used in Illinois. The distributor of the fuel is responsible for paying the tax, not the consumer, and aviation fuels at O'Hare and Midway airports are exempt.

"I opposed the Leaking Underground Storage Tank bill on its own because the tax would have been passed to the consumer," said Capparelli. "However, I was assured by the Republicans that this tax will be absorbed by the distributor and not passed to the consumer. With those assurances and recognizing the merits and importance of the Child Sex Offender Notification Bill, I supported the legislation. Nevertheless, this was very unfair for Republicans to put these issues together. They should have been voted on separately."

Other newly enacted anti-crime related legislation includes:

• Imposing a sentence of natural-life on a juvenile who kills a child under the age of 12, and also requires that certain juvenile suspects, such as felony murder, be treated as adults; and

• Establishing a new Class X offense for sexual crimes by adults against children, which may include the death penalty if murder occurs.

"These are strong efforts to rid our communities of child sex offenders," said Capparelli, "but it requires the cooperation of all community groups to monitor their own neighborhoods and work with law enforcement authorities to remain informed and disseminate information to their members. Each community, whether it's in Chicago or a suburb, must remain vigilant on this issue. Our children are our future, and they only have adults to assure them of a better society."

Hot weather activates tollway help

During extremely hot weather the Illinois Tollway "Motorist Aid Patrol" is busy monitoring the 273 mile roadway system. "When extreme weather affects motorists along the toll system, the Motorist Aid Patrol is out," says John Benda, manager of maintenance for the Tollway. "Motorist Aid Patrols are arranged so the chance of a motorist being in a disabled vehicle for any length of time is very slim."

Patrol workers in maintenance vehicles from the 11 Tollway garages travel the portion of the road within their region. Working in conjunction with District 15 Illinois State Police, members of the patrol scan the entire Tollroad system 24 hours a day during periods where there are sustained extreme temperatures. Once a vehicle is located the patrol calls for help or transports the person to the nearest Tollway facility for assistance. Maintenance trucks on normal duty carry both drinking water and water for overhead vehicles, and will always call in a report of a stalled vehicle.

Executive Director Ralph Wehner cautions motorists to stay in their cars and wait for assistance. "Our goal at the Tollway is to provide that assistance. The safest place to be is in your car, with the windows rolled down. Look for mile markers, overhead road signs, or a landmark to pinpoint your exact location. This is especially helpful when using a cell phone in the car. Emergency reporting services such as *999 or 911 will advise the local jurisdiction that you need help."

Mario J. Scaduto

Navy Petty Officer 2nd Class Mario J. Scaduto, son of Laura M. Scaduto of Des Plaines, has returned to his hometown in Norfolk, Va., after completing a six-month deployment aboard the aircraft carrier USS George Washington.

The 1991 graduate of Maine West High School joined the Navy in July, 1991.

Summer Safety Driving Tips

A family driving vacation can be fun and relaxing, but some preparation is necessary to ensure a safe trip.

Q. How can I get my car ready for summer vacation?

A. Basic car maintenance procedures should be done before hitting the road:

• Change oil and filter—this should be done every three months or 3,000 miles. If you will be traveling very long distances, check the oil level occasionally during your trip.

• Check radiator and coolant—Check before you leave as well as during your trip. Never check the radiator or coolant when the engine is hot.

• Check alignment and suspension—Realigning your tires could improve your car's performance on the highway.

• Inspect the exhaust system for loose or corroded parts.

• Replace air and fuel filters if

Illinois right-of-way law

Illinois' right-of-way law determines who must yield and who may go first in many traffic situations. Although all motorists should be familiar with and obey the right-of-way law, courtesy and common sense should also be practiced to help avoid accidents.

Q. What does Illinois law say? A. When two vehicles approach an intersection from different roads at the same time and there are no stop signs, yield signs or traffic lights, the driver on the left must yield to the driver on the right. However, the driver on the right should be prepared to yield if the driver on the left does not.

Q. Who has the right-of-way at a four-way stop intersection?

A. When more than one vehicle arrives at the intersection, the first driver to stop should go first, and the others should take their turns cautiously. When two vehicles reach the intersection at the same time, the driver on the left should yield to the driver on the right.

Q. What about turning left at an intersection?

A. Drivers must yield the right-of-way to oncoming traffic when turning left at an intersection, alley or driveway. If you are in an intersection with traffic lights, you may finish your left turn even if the light changes to red. If you are not in the intersection when the light turns red, you must wait for the green light before turning. You must also wait until all cross traffic has cleared the intersection safely before turning.

Q. What about turning left at a red light on a one-way street?

Police News

they are dirty.
 Q. What about safety while traveling with children?
 A. Traveling can be a fun and educational experience for children. According to the AAA-Chicago Motor Club, there are three basic rules for traveling with children: keep them safe, occupied and tailor stops to their eating and sleeping habits.
 • Each child should wear the proper safety restraint whenever riding in a vehicle.
 • Pack a few toys and books to entertain them when the novelty of the trip wears off.
 • Some children are prone to car sickness. Keeping the car cool and well ventilated will help.
 • Never leave a child unattended in a vehicle. The temperature inside can reach 120 degrees very quickly.
 Have a safe and fun summer.

Quilt-A Musical Celebration

As many of you know, the AIDS Memorial Quilt will again make its historic journey to Washington, D. C. this year, numbering more than 45,000 panels this time - each one representing a single life lost to AIDS. The Quilt is, however, only representative of 11-13% of the total number of AIDS-related deaths. The figure is staggering. Yet, rather than give us pause, the numbers serve only to strengthen our resolve. On Oct. 11, the Quilt will be opened on our nation's front lawn - sending a message across the country. That message is one of love, and sadness, and hope, and above all, presence. We're here, and we're not going away.

Over the course of the past few months' preparations for the D. C. display, the Chicago Chapter of The NAMES Project AIDS Memorial Quilt has been fortunate to garner a great deal of support from the Chicagoland area. That support has taken many forms, however, one of the most meaningful has come from The Dolphinback Theatre Company.

On Sept. 5, Dolphinback Theatre Company will present the Chicago premiere of Quilt: A Musical Celebration at the Atheneum Theater. In so doing, they bring Chicago an important work, not only for its merits as a theater piece, but for the message it sends to all of us. It's a wonderful show about the ties that bind, about love and loss, and about hope for the end of the AIDS epidemic.

For more information, call (312) 472-4460.

Michigan City In-Water Boat Show

A spectacular fireworks display will light-up the evening skies over Washington Park shortly after the 17th annual Michigan City In-Water Boat Show closes at 8 p.m. on Saturday, August 24th. The fireworks will be visible from anywhere inside Washington Park.

The Northern Indiana Public Service Company is the sponsor of this year's fireworks extravaganza. "NIPSCO is proud to present the firework display on behalf of the Michigan City In-Water Show," said Terry L. Brewer, NIPSCO Consumer and Community Development Representative. "It's a way for NIPSCO to support the Boat Show effort which is important to the community."

The Michigan City In-Water Boat Show drops anchor for four days, August 22-25 at Washington Park. The Boat Show boasts more than 400 power and sailboats up to 55-feet. All the top manufacturers will be represented such as: Sea Ray, Pacific Seacraft, Viking, Ocean Yachts, Navigator, Hatteras, Island Packet, Carver, Maxum, Catalina, Bayliner, Tiara, Pursuit, Beneteau and many others. And if the magnificent boats aren't thrilling enough, boaters can shop for a variety of nautical products and services.

District 219 bus schedules set

The Niles Township High Schools will begin school with a full day on Tuesday, Aug. 27. The bus schedules, which are the same as last year, include the corners, pick-up times and drop-off locations. Any questions should be directed to Niles North at 673-6900 or Niles West at 966-3800. Please note that effective August 20, the Niles West main telephone number will change to 568-3900. Four teachers are in charge of the loading of buses at the conclusion of the school day. The teachers will check I.D.s, organize students for boarding, seat students, and perform general supervisory duties. Students are required to follow the directions of the supervisors.

Student riders are expected to exhibit good behavior at all times on school buses and at boarding points. Students who misbehave are subject to disciplinary action by the school, and may be denied the privilege of riding the buses.

Smoking is NOT allowed on buses at any time. Students will be suspended from riding the bus if they are caught smoking.

Only students whose parents or guardians apply for bus transportation before school opens in the fall are entitled to ride the regular school buses to and from school. How to apply for bus service is explained in the packets mailed to all students' homes during the summer.

Students who live less than one and one-half miles from school, as measured by the shortest automobile route, pay a nominal annual fee to ride the regular school buses; all others who register ride free.

Registered riders of school buses will have their identification card punched in the area of the I.D. card labeled "BUS." These I.D. cards are used as bus passes. If lost, a temporary bus pass will be issued at the Bookstore for a nominal fee. Drivers are instructed not to allow riders without an I.D.

Maine East officers

Health records required to start school year

The Niles Township High Schools are urging all parents and students to complete or update student health and immunization records so that they can attend classes when school begins on Tuesday, Aug. 27.

State law requires that students new to District 219, including freshmen and transfer students, have a complete physical done by a doctor licensed in Illinois. The law also requires evidence of immunization against measles (two doses of live vaccine), mumps, rubella, polio, diphtheria and tetanus. A tuberculosis skin test is also highly recommended.

If you do not have a family physician who can administer these inoculations, the Skokie Health Department has free immunizations available (immunizations only, not physical exams). In addition, for Niles North students, the Skokie Department of Public Health has scheduled a visit to the school, located at 9800 N. Lawler Ave., Skokie, by the Immunization Caravan on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 24 and 25. They will administer, at no charge, measles-mumps-rubella, diphtheria, tetanus and polio inoculations for Niles North students only. A letter of permission must be signed by the parents if this service is to be used. Letters are available through the school registrar and health center. The phone number for Niles North is (847) 673-6900.

Students who are not current with their immunizations or do not submit this letter will not receive either schedules or books until their records are complete.

Legion school awards presented

As with their Auxiliary Unit, the Morton Grove American Legion Post #134 traditionally makes annual awards to area school students.

This is the 51st year of presentations at Park View School. Honorees there were Ligia Remchek and John Borton.

Awards at Golf School were given to Sandra Koffler and Eugene Beltran. The Americanism awards at St. John Brebeuf went to Agnes Libot and Ben Nord. Wall plaques with the permanent identification were also given at Park View.

District 219 phone numbers to change

All phone numbers for Niles West High School and the Niles Township High School District 219 Administrative offices will change at approximately 5 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 23. The phone number for Niles North High School will change at approximately 5 p.m. on Sept. 20. These changes are necessitated by the upgraded phone system installed throughout the district as part of the multi-million-dollar Technology Implementation Plan. In addition to the new numbers listed below, every classroom in each school will have a telephone and all teachers will subsequently have access to a personal voice-mail system.

Library reminds parents about kid rules

The Lincolnwood Public Library reminds parents that it cannot function as a guardian for children who come to the library on their own. Here are some guidelines to keep in mind when sending your child to the library this summer:

• Make sure that a child has money for a phone call or permission to call collect or to use a calling card should it be necessary to call parents or a caretaker.

• Have your child carry your emergency numbers so you can be called when needed.

• The public phone in the library costs 35 cents for a local call; staff cannot supply money for the phone.

• To protect children from being contacted by someone who should not have access to the child, the library does not page individuals.

The library is located at 4000 W. Pratt Ave. Phone (847) 677-5277.

Library reference service

Need to do serious research? Can't find the answers to complicated questions? Ask the librarians at the Lincolnwood Public Library to help you.

If the library's reference service does not have the material and information you need, the librarians will be happy to forward your questions and requests for in-depth information to the North Suburban Library System reference service.

According to Gail Inman, Adult Services Coordinator, this backup reference service has extensive databases that would be put to use to research your request.

Park District becomes Gold Medal finalist

Owning a descriptive video of your agency is one thing. But becoming a national finalist for a park district award that includes a detailed application and 15-minute video is quite another.

The Skokie Park District knows all about the importance of an award called the National Gold Medal Award, sponsored by the National Sporting Goods Association. These awards are presented annually to communities throughout the United States for excellence in park and recreation administration.

The Skokie Park District has chosen a finalist in the Class III category (50,000-100,000 residents). They were nominated by NSCA member Para-Gear Equipment Co., Skokie. The Grand Award Winner in the various classes will be selected based upon improvement, service, continuing development, extent of future planning and degree of participant involvement and acceptance by the community. Winners will be announced and honored at the NRPA Congress in Kansas City, Missouri, this October.

Political & Business News

Rebuilding after the flood

The Better Business Bureau of Chicago & Northern Illinois Inc. warns homeowners suffering from damage from the recent 16 inch rains not to let disaster strike twice. It's an unfortunate truth that men/women often breeze into disaster areas, clean out as many people as possible, then blow back out of town.

The BBB advises consumers not to be stampeded into signing a contract for long-term home repairs. If it is necessary to make emergency repairs to your home in order to prevent further damage, it may not always be possible or practical to shop around for a contractor as carefully as you would under normal circumstances, or to get competing bids. But, before you have permanent repairs done, take time to check out the contractor. In all cases, you should have a written contract covering the work to be done and the price to be paid. Review it carefully before you sign.

As soon as possible after damage, consumers should check with their insurance company about policy coverage and any specific claim filing requirements the company may have.

According to BBB President/CEO James E. Baumhart, "Consumers should be wary of itinerant repairmen who come into the area. The Better Business Bureau knows from experience that in the wake of disasters fly-by-night operators often ask for upfront money from homeowners, supposedly to buy home repair materials, then leave town never to be seen again."

To find a reputable home improvement contractor, the BBB urges homeowners to take the following precautions:

- If possible, obtain bids from several firms, making sure that the specifications of each bid are identical.

- Check with local/state authorities to be sure the contractor is properly licensed.

- Obtain a reliability report on the firm by calling the Better Business Bureau at 95 cents per minute - average call is 4 minutes or $3.80 with a credit card. Mail requests are free.

- Find out if the contractor has adequate liability and worker's compensation insurance in case of an accident on your property.

- If possible, ask for and check references. Try to talk to previous customers, and if possible, look at a similar job that has been completed.

- Ask if the contractor would be willing to submit a dispute concerning workmanship or service to a third-party mediation or arbitration program, and get that commitment in writing.

- Beware of fly-by-night repair businesses soliciting work in unmarked trucks and requiring advance payment, and do not succumb to high pressure techniques such as the price is "good only for today."

- Last, but not least, you can request a list of contractors that are members of the BBB, either in writing or by telephone.

The BBB cautions that all contracts for home repairs should include:

- name, address, and phone number of the contractor;
- a written description of all the work to be done, including the quality of materials to be used;
- a bid based on the job, not by the unit (hour, gallon, board, etc.);
- a price breakdown for both labor and materials;
- start up and completion dates; and

- a written statement reiterating any oral promises made by the contractor or sales representative, including any warranties on materials or labor.

The BBB further warns consumers to never pay for all repairs in advance (the deposit should be no more than one-third of the total contract price), and pay by check or credit card; don't pay cash to a contractor or a salesperson.

To protect against property liens that may result if a primary contractor does not pay his subcontractors, add a release-of-lien clause to the contract or place payments in escrow until the work is completed. Also, consumers should never sign a completion certificate unless they are satisfied with the work.

And lastly, BBB President Baumhart warns, "Consumers should not let a contractor talk them into 'saving money' by circumventing the law. Those who do not have all the required permits may find themselves paying a stiff fine, not to mention having to do a shoddy job all over again."

Windshields America, Globe Glass announce new name

The largest auto glass repair and replacement company in the U.S. has a new name - Vistar. Created last January by the merger of Chicago-based Globe Glass & Mirror Co. and Windshields America, the company boasts annual sales of $440 million with more than 2,600 employees, 370 retail outlets in 42 states and a network of 5,800 auto glass service providers across the country.

The new name is the result of a thorough process that took into account the key branding objectives of the company. The new name must be protectable, differentiate the company both within and outside of the auto glass industry, apply to both the retail and installation business and managed glass programs, and reflect the company's mission statement.

Over the next 12 months, Vistar will roll out the new identity with new store signs, point-of-purchase materials, van decals, advertising and collateral material. The name will be applied to the company's service centers where it will take the form of Vistar Auto Glass, as well as the company's glass claims management and call center programs which will be known as Vistar Claims Management.

"More than 40 years ago, we (as Globe Glass & Mirror Co.) were the first company to have free mobile glass service," said Chairman Joe Kellman. "That's an industry standard now." Vistar also established the first national system of service providers, now the industry's largest with over 5,800.

Host families are asked to provide room, board, transportation and guidance to a high school student from European, Scandinavian, Asian or from Eastern Bloc countries. The students come on three-, five- and ten-month programs. Previous and current host families state that hosting an international student is a rewarding experience. If you are interested in hosting an international student, please contact our regional office at (800) 365-6100. Oakton offers a variety of Real Estate courses

The Real Estate Institute of Oakton Community College is offering several state approved real estate courses for licensing and license renewal during the fall semester. Classes start the week of Aug. 26 and are held at the Des Plaines Campus, 1600 E. Golf Rd., and at the Ray Hartstein Campus, 7701 N. Lincoln Ave., Skokie.

Daytime or evening prelicensing courses leading to the salesperson's or broker's license are available at both Oakton campuses. Only one course is required to qualify for the Illinois real estate salesperson's licensing exam - Real Estate Transactions (RES 121).

Those who want quick entry into the field or want an accelerated course should take Real Estate Transactions (RES 121 050), a five week basic principles course required for licensing. The class meets on Monday and Wednesday evenings at the Des Plaines Campus from 7:30 - 10:15 p.m. An eight week version of this same course is also offered on Tuesday and Thursday. RES 121 003 is scheduled for 12:30 - 2:20 p.m. and RES 121 053 is scheduled from 7:30 - 9:20 p.m. at the Skokie Campus.

If you are interested in less accelerated courses, the following courses are being offered in Des Plaines: RES 121 004, an 11 week course; will be taught on Thursday afternoons from 4 - 6:20 p.m. at the Des Plaines Campus starting Sept. 26. Also, RES 121 0W1, a 16 week prelicensing course is scheduled for Saturday mornings from 9 - 10:50 a.m. starting Aug. 31.

All courses are open to the public and are not limited to those intending to become licensed. Students can choose their prelicensing course for college credit at no extra cost.

Oakton is offering courses for a broker's license and several courses in continuing education required to maintain a salesperson's or broker's license. Reviews are available for those interested in a refresher course before taking a licensing exam. The Institute is also approved to offer courses for the real estate residential appraiser's license and appraiser certification.

For more information, contact John Michaels, chairperson, Real Estate Institute, at (847) 635-1776.

Parvo Virus outbreak crisis

The Anti-Cruelty Society has noticed an increased number of Parvo cases in incoming dogs during the past few weeks. Parvo is a highly contagious, often fatal viral infection which is largely preventable by a common vaccine given as part of a dog's yearly exam. Puppies require a series of shots or they are not protected from this potentially deadly disease.

Symptoms of Parvo include lethargy, vomiting, bloody diarrhea, lack of appetite, or a combination of any of the above. If your dog exhibits any of these symptoms, take him to your veterinarian immediately for diagnosis and treatment. The disease can be fatal, depending on the severity of the case, although recovery is sometimes possible if the disease is treated early. Parvo is more commonly seen in summer rather than winter because the warm weather encourages viral hardiness.

If your dog is not vaccinated against the disease, bring him to your vet immediately for his shot. Anyplace where dogs congregate and play is not safe for any unvaccinated dog where an infected animal can transfer the disease easily to an unvaccinated dog through saliva or feces.

For more information about Parvo, The Anti-Cruelty Society advises calling your own veterinarian.

Letters To The Editor

National Night Out a success

Dear Editor,

On Tuesday, August 6th, National Night Out was celebrated in unincorporated Maine Township. Once again, the event was a huge success as a result of the extraordinary efforts put forth by some very key individuals.

I would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank the block captains who coordinated their neighborhoods in our flashlight walk which drew over 225 people: Yoursi Daoud, Lee & Lisa Francis, Louise Friedenson, Sharon McLaughlin, Cliff Nims, Lynda Rubinson, and Lillian Schellin. I would also like to thank the Drop-In Center directors, Tony Clesen and James Galidakas, for providing innovative activities at the center to kick-off the evening's events. The "Wacky Olympics" and blindfolded "Combat" gave everyone a chance to participate.

We are proud to have with us the following officials who joined us at the Center and in the walk: State Representative Rosemary Mulligan, State Senator Marty Butler, Maine Township Supervisor Mark Thompson, Maine Township Trustees Bob Provenzano, Anita Rifkind, Carol Teschky, Maine Township Highway Commissioner Bill Fraser, Maine Township Clerk Gary K. Warner, and School District 63 Board Member Anne Marzullo. We also had an opportunity to meet the new Principal from Gemmi Jr. High, Mr. Scott Hermann, who joined us for the evening and met lots of kids and parents. Allen Graber with the Emergency Management Agency was on hand to help us with traffic control.

But none of this would have been possible without the Cook County Sheriff's Police and Captain George Nicocchia who provided us with police escorts in all six of our neighborhoods. They have contributed to the success of Neighborhood Watch and have helped us with our anti-crime efforts.

I thank my husband, Mitch, for his never-ending support, and extend my gratitude to all who participated in this year's activities. Gwen Surell, Chairwoman, Maine Twp. Neighborhood Watch

Problems of the airport are problems of the suburbs'

Dear Editor:

It should be remembered that O'Hare Airport is physically in the suburbs, although it is owned by the City of Chicago. Therefore, the problems of the airport are primarily suburban problems and not problems of the city.

When we suburbanites talk about safety and noise, we are talking about problems that affect suburbanites more than they do the residents of the City of Chicago, therefore we find it quite incomprehensible to understand how major media keep saying that certain suburbs are obstinate and trying to interfere with the overall progress of the economy around O'Hare.

This argument would have been much more logical if the airport was situated in the middle of Chicago. May we suggest that major media take a good look at the map and see how the airport is literally surrounded by suburbs with only a thin strip of land leading from Chicago to the airport.

This is how the city made the airport part of Chicago many years ago through a special act of the then Democratically controlled legislature allowing this annexation of the airport to Chicago.

We repeat, the airport is in the suburbs, and the problems of the airport are the problems of the suburbs. Safety and noise concern us greatly and we will continue to fight for those programs that would best ensure the safety and welfare of our general public.

Substance abuse counseling classes

Those who are interested in becoming a substance abuse counselor can earn a certificate at Oakton Community College this fall. The program prepares students to work as paraprofessionals in the field of substance abuse counseling as their primary area of expertise. It is also designed to provide professional development training for individuals currently working in the field of substance abuse. In addition, the program will upgrade the skills of human services practitioners in settings where clients may have dual diagnoses involving some form of substance abuse where clients may have family members with such diagnosis.

The courses are designed to meet the academic requirements of the state certification board to gain eligibility to sit for the certification examination. Application is being made for accreditation by the Illinois Alcohol and other Drug Abuse Professional Certification Association, Inc. (IAODAPCA). Courses for the certificate include: Substance Abuse (PSY 238); Counseling/Interviewing (HSV 110); Treatment Strategies (HSV 121); Assessment and Treatment of the Chemically Dependent (HSV 122); Drugs and Behavior: The Psychology and Physiology of Addictions (PSY 237) and Substance Abuse Practicum (HSV 155). Both the IAODAPCA and the National Association of Alcoholism and Drug Abuse Counselors (NAADAC), require 60 continuing education units (CEUs) every two years for counselor recertification. For recognition of appropriate college courses, counselors may submit transcripts indicating successful course completion.

When approved by IAODAPCA or NAADAC the counselor earns 15 CEUs per semester hour (45 CEUs per 3 semester hours). For more information, call Thomas Crowe, program coordinator, at (847) 729-0917.

Railfan weekend

Labor Day weekend is Railfan Weekend at the Illinois Railway Museum, the largest operating railway museum in the country. If you are a train buff, a model railroader, or anyone with an interest in transportation history, this is one event that you won't want to miss. Take your pick of steam trains, electric cars and trolleys, or diesel trains on all three days.

This special event makes it difficult for train lovers to choose which of the 6 to 8 trains running to ride next. Many historic rail cars and engines that are only on display most of the year will be operated. Visitors may board the cab of a working steam engine or diesel, sit next to the motorman on a trolley, or ride in a Pullman car on a caboose. On Sunday a special attraction will be the Union Pacific Railroad's Streamliner Train which will make an appearance at the Museum.

The last of the silver streamliners, the Burlington Zephyr, will run on Sunday and Monday. A steam engine built in 1918 will be pulling a train of vintage passenger cars. Also running on the Museum's mainline will be a caboose train. Trolleys and electric cars from Chicago and surrounding areas will be in service.

Visitors may board any of the trains running at the depot dating from 1851 for a round trip ride on the 5 mile mainline that travels through rural farmlands between Union and the Kiskawakee River. Visitors can also stop at the numerous displays, refreshment stand, or bookstore/gift shop that are located at various points along the 1 mile trolley loop that circles the museum's 56 acre main grounds.

The museum opens at 10 a.m. and visitors are welcome to use the picnic facilities and explore the collection of equipment. Admission to the Museum includes unlimited rides on operating equipment and admittance to all displays.

Admission fees are $9 for adults and $7 for children ages 5-11 on special event days, such as railfan weekend. Normal weekend admission through Sept. when steam trains are running is $8 for adults and $6 for children. Admission is $6 and $3.50 for weekends in October when only electric trains run. The maximum family fare for parents and their children is $30. Group rates and other discounts are available, along with individual and family memberships.

The not-for-profit Illinois Railway Museum is located in Union at 7000 Olson Rd., six miles northwest of the US-20 Marengo exit of the I-90 Northwest Tollway. For recorded information call 800-Big-Rail, or call (815) 923-4000.

the unions. But today, the pendulum has moved to its opposite side and you, Joe Homeowner, are footing the bill.

In our elementary school districts the superintendents are being paid about $100,000. We've always thought they were overpaid. And we could never understand why they didn't fill the joint role as a principal of one school, which would save taxpayers one substantial salary.

As we noted, all institutions have lives of their own. Each public body can justify its need for more money. But they're asking for more money from thousands of people on fixed incomes. They're asking these people to decrease their living standards so they can increase the standards of the people running the institutions. And they're requiring more and more parents to spend more and more hours away from their families in order to pay these ever-increasing tax bills.

We're creating a Catch 22 environment which has to be reversed. We've closed schools for lack of students but have increased per student costs. Fewer schools and higher costs certainly cannot attract young people to our area. Less and less young people have vastly increased the cost per child in the park and library districts. While young people's attendance diminishes costs continue to rise.

We would like to believe as our community grows older it would imitate its wealthier neighbors. Like Park Ridge, we wish an influx of younger families would return to Niles. But it's not happening today and it's not likely to happen tomorrow.

Higher taxes is a chronic problem in all Chicagoland communities. In the higher rent districts the natives are digging deeper than us to put a fancy village sticker on their fancy cars. But that doesn't help that young lady who is fighting for survival in our town. Nor does it help the guys and gals whose incomes remain the same each year.

It seems superficial to say we need an ombudsman to represent us at all public meetings. And it reads a bit hokey to suggest public bodies should hold joint meetings several times a year to assess common community problems. But Joe and Jane Taxpayer need help. And they're not getting it from the people they select to represent them.

Although David D'Autremont was always under suspicion, according to Marta, there was little authority could do to prove his guilt until February 1995 when an acquaintance of the young David came forward to unburden himself of the evidence he had kept secret for nearly 17 years: he had overheard David D'Autremont talking and bragging about suffocating his mother.

The witness informed police of a second witness who had been present when D'Autremont was bragging about the crime. When police questioned the second witness, he corroborated the first witness's account, and the case was reopened in a May of 1995, this time as a homicide.

Harold Sullivan, presiding judge of the second district court of Cook County, authorized a warrant for D'Autremont's arrest on Aug. 2 of this year. Two Morton Grove detectives, armed with the warrant, went to Wheat Ridge, Colo., a Denver suburb, where D'Autremont managed a Texaco service station.

Police interviewed D'Autremont about the 1978 death of his mother, and, during the interview, D'Autremont gave statements to the officers admitting responsibility for the suffocation murder. He later voluntarily signed written statements admitting his guilt.

D'Autremont was extradited from the Denver area to Cook County, where he received a court hearing on the No-Bond warrant. D'Autremont's next court appearance will be Aug. 29.

Alleys all over Niles have been getting face-lifts this summer. Noriega said that some alleys that are currently being repaved and improved have been in need of repairs for up to 15 years.

A sewer rehabilitation program, part of what Noriega termed the village's on-going pro-active sewer plan, is just starting in the area south of Howard on the east side of Waukegan Road near the forest preserve, Noriega said.

the initial changeover, how can customers now believe that refunds are being calculated correctly?

Some particularly frustrated Schaumburg and Elk Grove Village customers are posing that question, and they are also wondering why no outside agency has been brought in to oversee the refund process.

Sue Rowan of Schaumburg told the Tribune that she spent hours figuring the refund that was due her, about $176.

When she received just $53.43, she complained and went over her bill with Ameritech officials who arrived at a different answer: $198.55.

Rowan finally received a full refund of the entire local long-distance portion of her bill, which put her about $20 ahead.

Rowan is still disturbed, however, because she couldn't get anyone to tell her how the first credit was computed, and she worries about the many people who don't or won't complain about errors in their refund.

The Illinois Commerce Commission, the agency that regulates public utilities, is aware of the refund problem but will not intervene because the company is making refunds voluntarily.

nue around 7:59 p.m. Aug. 18 when Fernando A. Soriano, 22, also of Des Plaines, who was driving eastbound on Ballard, lost control of the 1985 Chevrolet Caprice he was driving and drove off the road. The car flipped over and ended upside down in a retention pond with water up to the wheels.

A crowd quickly gathered at the scene, but only Leaveck's immediate response saved the life of the driver. She ran out of the drugstore, jumped into the waist-deep water, opened the door and pulled Soriano from the flooded car.

"I saw the car flip in there," Leaveck said. "No one was doing anything, so I thought, it can't hurt to save him." He didn't deserve to die just because he had an accident.

Soriano, who was not injured, registered a 14 Blood Alcohol Content and was arrested by Niles police. He was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, driving without a driver's license, having no proof of insurance and driving off the roadway. An Oct. 1 court date was scheduled.

"It's a wonderful thing she [Leaveck] did," said Niles Public Information Officer Roger Wilson. "Mr. Soriano was very lucky to have this young lady around."

The witness informed police of a second witness who had been present when D'Autremont was bragging about the crime. When police questioned the second witness, he corroborated the first witness's account, and the case was reopened in a May of 1995, this time as a homicide.

Harold Sullivan, presiding judge of the second district court of Cook County, authorized a warrant for D'Autremont's arrest on Aug. 2 of this year. Two Morton Grove detectives, armed with the warrant, went to Wheat Ridge, Colo., a Denver suburb, where D'Autremont managed a Texaco service station.

Police interviewed D'Autremont about the 1978 death of his mother, and, during the interview, D'Autremont gave statements to the officers admitting responsibility for the suffocation murder. He later voluntarily signed written statements admitting his guilt.

D'Autremont was extradited from the Denver area to Cook County, where he received a court hearing on the No-Bond warrant. D'Autremont's next court appearance will be Aug. 29.

Alleys all over Niles have been getting face-lifts this summer. Noriega said that some alleys that are currently being repaved and improved have been in need of repairs for up to 15 years.

A sewer rehabilitation program, part of what Noriega termed the village's on-going pro-active sewer plan, is just starting in the area south of Howard on the east side of Waukegan Road near the forest preserve, Noriega said.

Another program planned for the late summer is a water main replacement project between Waukegan Road and Dempster Street on Sherman Road.

"We were hoping to go undefeated this season," he added, "but hopefully we'll win the championship."

The team will progress to round two of the playoffs next Sunday. During the regular season, home games are played on Sunday afternoons at Jozwiak Park.
