by Bud Besser

Fifty-two year old Tommy Ferraro, Jr., died last week. There are few people we've ever met who were more full of life than Tommy.

We didn't know Tom until he was a member of Niles Police Department. But we remember one older police officer shaking his head in disbelief when he recalled Tommy joining the department. He said Niles cops had many meetings with Tom when he was a teenager. He never got in serious trouble. But he was mischievous and he became known to the force. While a member of the department he became a decorated policeman and detective.

Tom was in the Marine Reserves and after his schooling he worked at the City News Bureau where he said he was the youngest reporter the bureau ever had. When he left the police department he opened a private security business and was active at the Golf Mill Shopping Center. He also was a member of the Gemstone Society and was director of security for Hillmans and Jackie's Smartwear in the Center.

Tom later wrote a conservative newspaper column for a Wisconsin newspaper and named his column "Some Opinions FROM THE

by Rosemary Tirio

Morton Grove Police were asked for assistance by the Skokie Police Department Saturday, April 18 after a male subject abandoned a stolen white Ford truck on the Edens Expressway just south of the southbound entrance.

Minutes later, a Morton Grove Police Officer located a subject fitting the description of the suspect on Marmora Avenue and Crane Street.

While the officer was calling in the stop, the subject fled behind a house. The officer pursued the

Mini-Mart petition denied by Zoners

by Kathleen Quirsfeld

Michael Graham probably didn't imagine that his request to convert part of his service station at 8120 Oakton to a mini-mart would create such a controversy when he filed his petition with the Zoning Board.

Graham presented his proposal to the Board, complete with an architect's drawing of how his station would look with the mini-mart addition.

He talked of how the gas islands and canopies would remain the same, with all four of the pumps and piping to stay as they

Summer cones for asphalt, not ice cream

In Niles as in Chicago and all over Illinois, it's the season for cones, but we don't mean ice cream cones.

The cones we refer to, and they're sprouting up faster than tulips in the Niles area, are those lovely bright orange road repair cones that direct traffic around and through the numerous construction sites where the $1.48 million earmarked for Niles roads is being spent.

This year, a new emphasis is being placed on village side streets, according to Finance Director George Van Geem. The budget has been increased by about $500,000 over last year to accommodate side street repairs, Van Geem said.

Park plaques missing from facility walls

by Kathleen Quirsfeld

Where did the plaques go? What happened to them? Why aren't they up on the walls at Iceland and Tam and being displayed?

Those were some of the questions asked of the Commissioners at the April meeting of the Niles Park District Board. They were the questions of both a present Park Commissioner and a former Commissioner.

The three plaques in question are the ones that had been displayed at the Iceland Ice Arena, and at the old Tam Clubhouse.

Niles Zoning Board debates AT&T antennas

by Rosemary Tirio

Is it possible? Can it be? AT&T, American Telephone and Telegraph, once a name as sacred and homey as Ma Bell herself, is it possible that now in the '90s, AT&T has turned into an ugly, insensitive telecommunications giant no longer interested in being a "good neighbor"?

This is more than a suspicion on the part of Niles Zoning Board member Angelo Troiani who cites the influx of AT&T-built towers in the area as evidence that the bottom line, not neighborliness, is foremost in AT&T's corporate mind.

Particularly annoying to Director of Code Enforcement Todd Bavaro is the tower erected on Chicago property adjacent to Niles last year at Howard Street and Milwaukee Avenue. No one bothered to consult Niles officials, and Troiani termed the site an eyesore at a recent village Zoning Board meeting.

More than an eyesore, Bavaro said he objects most strenuously to the barbed wire at the site which has been used to protect the cabinet in which the power source for the tower is enclosed.

"I don't like to see barbed wire. It reminds me of a concentration camp. It's not my idea of something that's pleasant to look at," Bavaro said. "By village ordinance we don't permit barbed wire in the Village of Niles. On the main drag it's even worse."

Man sought in four MG sex incidents

Police and residents in Morton Grove are on the lookout for a man involved in four recent sex-related incidents.

Morton Grove police released a sketch of the man who reportedly approached and grabbed four teenaged girls in four separate incidents between April 3 and April 18.

According to the report issued by Commander Garry Marta, the offender, who is described as a white male 17 to 20 years of age, standing 5 ft. 6 in. to 6 ft. 1 in. tall, weighing 150 to 175 pounds with short curly brown hair and wearing glasses, exposed himself in three of the incidents.

The victims, who range in age from 14 to 17, were approached between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., police said. The incidents took place in the southeast section of the suburb bounded by Oakton Street, Lincoln Avenue, Austin Avenue and the Edens Express-

The offender wore a wind-breaker-type jacket with the hood covering his head and partially hiding his face in all of the incidents, police said.

Tom Ferraro, former Niles officer, dies at 52

Following is a poem which was distributed at Skaja Terrace:

BIGGER THAN LIFE

A Tribute To Our Friend
Tom Ferraro

By Caryle A. Jirright

A man made of "stuf stuff", with his heart made of gold Was taken from this earth not allowed to grow old

But for years to come the stories will be told of singing to his dogs that great rock 'n roll Of the reunions and parties, this man loved to throw

Of puppies, and horses and love for his friends, and love for his family...how can all this end?? Tom you're remembered for the legend you are, for the love that you gave us And the dog in your car!

But now you're with God and those puppies you loved, singing rock 'n roll songs in Heaven

But your memory lives on... You're still bigger than life! You'll always be with us, thru your sons and your wife.

St. Luke's 40th Anniversary Celebration

On Sunday, April 27, the congregation of St. Luke's United Church of Christ will be kicking off the year-long 40th Anniversary Celebration of the founding of the church by going back to where it all began. On April 27 at 10:15, the congregation will be having a special worship service at Emma Melzer Elementary School, 9400 Oriole Ave. at intersection of Lyons in Morton Grove, the site of the very first worship on April 28, 1957. The theme for Sunday worship will follow the original theme of the first service, appropriately titled "Baptism and New Beginnings". A special part of the service was the baptism of Michelle Ruhlin, who will be a special guest of St. Luke's at the 40th Celebration kick-off.

"We are excited to go back and see where it all started, and how the church has changed since that first service 40 years ago," said the Reverend Richard Wright, pastor of St. Luke's United Church of Christ. "The founding pastor, Reverend Armin Munz, started the church by cold-calling on people in the community in the fall of 1956," said Reverend Wright. "After several months of hard work, the first worship began with 82 people in attendance." When the congregation began meeting at Emma Melzer Elementary School, the land had already been purchased at Sherman and Harlem to start building what is now St. Luke's present facility, completed in 1970. There are still four charter members in the congregation: Mildred Pierremont, Clyde and Phyllis Wells and Carson Gallagher.

"When I came to St. Luke's two and a half years ago, I saw a great deal of potential in this congregation," said Reverend Wright. "Now I'm more convinced than ever that God has a mission for this church in the community."

St. Luke's United Church of Christ is located at 9233 Sherman Road, at Harlem. For information about worship services and times, please call (847) 966-9233.

Wound Care Focus of Area Program

The Wound Treatment Center in Niles, Illinois caters to some very tough customers. It is not the patients that are the problem, but the difficult medical condition from which they are seeking relief. "Non-healing wounds can have serious health consequences if left untreated," states Carol Bier-Vessell, RN, Program Director for the Center. "Fortunately, there are options which can help in even the most difficult cases." Wounds are breaks in the skin that also affect the underlying tissue. Causes include cuts, burns, prolonged pressure to an area of skin or even poor blood circulation. Most wounds heal in seven to ten days, if there are no complicating factors. "The patients that we see at the Center," states Carol Bier-Vessell, "have chronic wounds - those that have not healed as long as weeks, months or even years later."

Dr. Gregory Pulawski, Medical Director, believes that these non-healing wounds respond best to a coordinated treatment approach. "The Center has a team of professionals that can be involved in a patient's care, as is medically indicated." The dedicated support staff includes a Diabetic Educator, radiology services, social work and a physical panel of podiatrists, endocrinologists, orthopedists, and vascular and plastic surgeons. Availability of these services offers an individualized course of treatment for each patient.

Successful healing of chronic wounds is not easy. The key is in compliance with the treatment option and regular follow-up with a patient's physician. "Healing a chronic wound often takes as long as twelve weeks of treatment - it is a big commitment for our patients and their support system," states Bier-Vessell. "We make sure that everyone knows what the expectations are and that the treatment is being carried out at home." Transportation is available for individuals who can not secure their own ride.

To ensure long-term success, patients should follow up with their primary physician. "Our goal is to heal the wound," states Dr. Pulawski. Patients often have other complicating medical issues in addition to the wound that needs attention. Regular visits to a primary care physician can help prevent the reoccurrence of the wound.

In order to help patients determine treatment options, The Wound Treatment Center provides onsite evaluation. For further information about the Program, or to schedule an appointment, contact Carol Bier-Vessell at (847) 294-0402.

American Diabetes Association challenges bicyclists

The American Diabetes Association, Northern Illinois Affiliate is challenging local cyclists to get in gear and help change the world at the 1997 Tour De Cure, Sunday, June 1. Tour De Cure, held locally along the scenic prairies of Illinois, is an exciting, national, 50K bike ride event to raise money for diabetes, the nation's fourth-leading cause of death by disease.

"For many cyclists, Tour De Cure is a challenging event, but the reward comes in knowing that every mile they ride and every dollar they raise brings us that much closer to a cure," said Joseph Johnson, Event Chairman. "With diabetes growing at near-epidemic proportions, the need for funds has never been so great," he added.

There are 16 million people in the United States who have diabetes and half do not know it. Join thousands of riders across the country at start point Blackwell Forest Preserve, Warrenville, Ill., to raise money to help change the world at Tour De Cure.

Tour De Cure raises funds through registration fees and pledges collected by cyclists. To register, or for more information, call the American Diabetes Association at 1-800-Tour-888 (1-800-868-7888).

Michigan Ave., Suite 1700 in Chicago. Registration will begin at 8:30 a.m. This seminar is for brothers, sisters and parents of children who are blind or visually impaired.

Parents will hear from Kevin O'Connor, President of the National Association for Parents of the Visually Impaired (NAPVI). Holy Family Diabetes Program receives recognition

Holy Family Medical Center's StableLives Diabetes Program has received a 3-year Certificate of Recognition from the American Diabetes Association for meeting national standards for diabetes patient education. Holy Family's StableLives program has been recognized by the ADA since 1990.

The ADA Recognition Program is based on the National Standards for Diabetes Self-Management Education Programs that were developed under the auspices of the National Diabetes Advisory Board. Recognition is a voluntary process through which programs that meet the National Standards and complete a rigorous and detailed peer review process are formally identified for their performance and quality.

The StableLives program, offered in both inpatient and outpatient settings, is designed to assist physicians and their patients in the care of diabetes and the prevention of complications. Uncontrolled diabetes can be very dangerous and lead to health problems including eye disease, nerve damage to the limbs, kidney damage, and vascular problems such as stroke or heart attack.

The goal of patient education in the prevention of these problems is to help develop and improve self-care skills that are essential to diabetes management. The team involved in the StableLives program provides treatment and education based on the needs of each patient and the recommendations of their primary care provider.

For more information about Holy Family's StableLives program call (847) 297-9977.

UNICEF offers new Mother's Day cards

Now you can let your mother know you care and help children around the world at the same time. The new line of UNICEF (United Nations Children's Fund) Mother's Day greeting cards features a lovely gold-embossed English floral design with "Happy Mother's Day" messages in four languages. The old-fashioned design is printed on fine parchment, giving the card the look of a sentimental Victorian greeting card.

Or you can opt for the exquisite water lilies card designed by Japanese photographer Kodai Miura. A set of 10 blank note cards (you provide the message) features five different designs of lotus flowers in a sleek modern presentation.

In addition, UNICEF offers a wide assortment of suitable Mother's Day gifts, including a Tibetan writing portfolio of deckle-edged writing sheets with traditional Tibetan brocade patterns, a three-piece shoulder bag, zippered cosmetic purse and coin purse set hand-loomed in Guatemala, and a charming ceramic coffee mug with its figures of toddlers at play.

To order cards or gifts, call the U.S. Committee for UNICEF/Chicago office at 312-670-1239 or visit the office shop at 540 North Michigan, Suite 200, Chicago, IL 60611.

Local roads to receive fund monies

More than $962,000 in road repair and improvement projects have been proposed for the 28th Senate District, according to state Sen. Marty Butler (R-Park Ridge). Governor Jim Edgar unveiled a $4.8 billion five-year road plan to repair Illinois roads and bridges. Of this, $1.05 billion will be spent in fiscal year 1998.

"More than $39 million of the FY98 dollars will go to help local governments with highway improvement," said Butler. "It's important that local governments get financial assistance with costly road repair projects. Already, they receive $499 million from sales tax and motor fuel taxes, but this additional amount will help fund the repair of even more local roadways."

Roadways in Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Prospect Heights, Des Plaines and Park Ridge will undergo improvements totaling $36 million for 21 projects over the next five years.

$103,000 for resurfacing and loop detectors along U.S. Route 14 from Parkside Drive to Greenwood Avenue;

$201,000 to resurface Illinois 58 from U.S. Route 45 to Redding Circle;

$400,000 for Phase II improvements on Palatine Road in Arlington Heights and Prospect Heights; and $258,000 for a bridge deck overlay on Rand Road over the Des Plaines River.

FOR THE PEOPLE
a column by
U.S. Senator Carol Moseley-Braun

Watch Your Wallet

Money machines are one of the great practical inventions of our computer age. For more than two decades now, Automatic Teller Machines have helped both banks and their customers.

For banks and other financial institutions, ATMs let them save money on teller salaries and other overhead costs.

For customers, the machines provide those of us with cash cards convenient access to our accounts and our cash 24 hours a day.

The popularity of ATMs has been remarkable. There are more than 122,000 money machines around the country. That is a five-fold increase during the past decade alone.

During the past year, however, some banks in Illinois and around the country have begun to take unfair advantage of what had been a mutually beneficial arrangement. Customers are being slapped with surprise fees that double the charges on the same transaction.

That ought to be against the law.

For a long time now, some financial institutions charged their customers a fee for using a machine that was not owned by the financial institution where the cash card holder had an account. I don't have a problem with that kind of fee because the customer knew in advance that their bank was going to charge for the transactions and the customers were free to take their business elsewhere.

Now, however, too many cash card users are being hit twice for a single transaction. One fee goes to their own financial institution, another fee goes to the owner of the money machine.

That seems wrong on the face of it. No one likes to be charged twice for the same transaction.

What makes these surcharges particularly troubling to me and to consumer groups is that ATM users do not know about the second charge until they are at a machine ready to withdraw money to pay for dinner or to catch a cab or to do whatever they had planned to do until they found themselves short of cash.

The charges imposed by customers' own banks, on the other hand, are disclosed in advance. Because not all banks charge the fees, careful consumers are able to shop around for institutions that offer them the best package of services at the best price. They have the information up front and about the second fee, their ability to shop around for a less expensive alternative has been severely compromised.

What's worse, at some ATMs there is no disclosure of the double fee. You don't find out that you were nicked, sometimes for as much as an additional $2.50, until you receive your monthly statement.

Historically, the computer networks that linked thousands of ATMs around the country barred the financial institutions that owned the machines from charging fees of non-customers. That was the case until April 1, 1996, when most ATM owners were freed to impose surcharges on ATM users who were not their customers.

Still, too many financial institutions that over the years saved millions of dollars in personnel costs and other expenses are now stuffing their own safes with millions more from these unjustified double fees.

I want to make the vast ATM market once again work fairly for financial institutions and their customers. That's why, as a member of the Senate Banking Committee, I will cosponsor legislation to restore the long-standing ban on surcharges.

It is obvious that consumers will benefit, but financial institutions of all sizes will benefit as well by once again being able to compete with each other on a level playing field.

I hope consumers in Illinois will join me in speaking out for this legislation that is a free-market, pro-consumer, pro-competitive response to this unfortunately growing phenomenon.

Edison inventions that missed the mark

Everyone knows about the light bulb and the phonograph, but not all of Thomas A. Edison's inventions were as well-known or as successful. Here's a list of the famous inventor's flops.

1. Ore Separator and Mining Industry (1890s)-Edison's spectacularly expensive, but futile, attempt to refine iron ore using massive electromagnets.
2. The Vote Recorder-Edison had efficiency in mind with this, his first patent. But legislators had no use for his electric voting machine. They wanted the chance to make speeches before casting oral votes.

3. Chalk Telephone Receiver (1877)-Edison thought he could outdo Alexander Graham Bell's device. But this invention never caught on because it required the user to continuously turn a crank to listen on the telephone.
4. Direct Current Electrical

Distribution System (1880s)-Edison stubbornly stayed with DC, even after the advantages of AC (alternating current) were well-known. AC took over and still reigns as the dominant system.

5. Synthetic Rubber from Goldenrod (1929)-Seeking a source of inexpensive synthetic rubber for his friends Harvey Firestone and Henry Ford, Edison had his F. Myers, Florida, laboratory examine four thousand plants. But he never managed to produce rubber that came close to matching the price or quality of the real thing.

Ryan awards school library grants

In conjunction with National Library Week, Secretary of State George H. Ryan announced that 769 school districts across Illinois will share nearly $1.3 million in grants for school library services this year.

The grants, provided through Ryan's "Live & Learn" library funding initiative, will benefit a record 1.8 million Illinois students, serving an additional 50,000 this year. The number of schools applying for the grants have increased each year since 1993, when Ryan more than tripled the program's funding and guaranteed all eligible schools a minimum grant of $100.

"School libraries throughout the state rely on these grants each year to upgrade their collections and acquire new information technology," said Ryan, who also serves as State Librarian. "Unfortunately, many Illinois school districts have minimal resources to spend on their school libraries, so these funds represent a significant source of support."

Districts can use the state funding to buy books, computer software, access to on-line information services, telecommunications services or CD-ROM technology.

The grant program, administered by the Illinois State Library, was the first nationwide to provide school districts with funding based on enrollment. Qualifying districts receive 75 cents per pupil.

To qualify, a school or attendance center must have an acting librarian, an established library, an organized library collection and receive ongoing support from the school district. This year, school districts are using their Secretary of State library grant funds to buy CD-ROM encyclopedias that can be placed on a computer network for access by multiple users; acquire books for an accelerated reader program; and to provide training and additional staff.

What's really amazing about getting to choose your own electric company?

(We actually like the idea.)

Okay, seriously, what could ComEd like about the prospect of deregulation? Well, simply put, if done right, deregulation is just a good idea. For you...for us...and for everyone.

In fact, that's why we've joined a coalition that consists of the electric utilities that provide 96% of the electricity in the state. This group has put together a plan that'll bring about deregulation in the smoothest possible way, ensuring that the reliability you take for granted today won't be risked tomorrow.

For you, this plan calls for lower rates. And, you'll have considerably more services to choose from. As for us, we feel that the competition with other providers will challenge us to truly earn your business and cause us to do our jobs even better.

Of course, these prospects won't be worth a thing if you have to give up one ounce of reliability. So our plan makes sure that deregulation is implemented carefully, and sensibly, over several years' time.

Soon the Illinois General Assembly may be voting on just how to implement deregulation. If you'd like more information about this important process, contact us at 1-800-Edison-1, or at our website at <http://www.ucm.com>. Click on "Energized to Compete."

Letters To The Editor

An open letter to Senator Butler

Making decisions as a Senator is sometimes easy, sometimes excruciatingly difficult. The upcoming vote on the gambling issue should be easy based on the solid anti-gambling viewpoint of Senate District 28 and your earlier public statements. Yet, this apparently easy vote is fraught with difficulties for you.

We ask you to be strong, and resist the pressure from Senate leader "Pate" Phillips for you to vote in favor of expanding gambling in Illinois. Gambling money has been funneled to the Senate President (as well as the minority leader Emil Jones) in full expectation that he would use all of his power to muscle through favorable gambling legislation. You may be under extreme pressure from the gambling interests yourself given the potential role financial contributions can play in an election.

We ask you to resist these pressures and demonstrate the legislative leadership you are capable of providing. It takes a man of principle to walk the road we ask you to follow.

The recent election in Arlington Heights in which four anti-gambling candidates were elected ejecting two incumbents demonstrates the attitude of the electorate, not only in Arlington Heights but in the rest of your district, and the State of Illinois.

We ask for your leadership, not subservience to political power, on the gambling issue. We ask you to oppose, and work energetically to defeat this gambling initiative.

We wanted leadership from all of our representatives on the bill requiring a statewide referendum on gambling expansion. Instead we got "smoke-filled room skull-duggery" orchestrated openness in government, we get deceit.

Senator Butler, we ask that you cast the right vote, not the expedient one.

Finally, we want to extend our most heartfelt thanks to the many, many volunteer workers, and to our families and friends, who believed in us and campaigned for us in the precincts. Your enthusiasm and tireless efforts in "getting the word out" made the difference in this election campaign!

Niles Township Coalition Party thanks voters

To the residents of Niles Township:

On behalf of the members of the Niles Township Coalition Party, we want to thank the voters who participated in the recent Niles Township elections. Particularly, we want to thank the many volunteers, friends and neighbors who put in many long hard hours on our behalf during the two month period.

We congratulate the Board and officers on their re-election, but believe our participation in the election was important and served the community and taxpayers of Niles Township well. For one thing, it provided our community with a real choice for the first time in almost 20 years and all can agree that no government unchallenged is in the best spirit of what our country stands for. Secondly, it made public a number of concerns and issues we believe the present Board had overlooked over the years and are now reviewing as they plan for a new term.

Finally, this Coalition Party was formed because we believed that no one person, or one group, should have a dominant say over the way our tax dollars are being spent. Many of us who got involved were involved for the first time and our eyes were opened to the political realities of the election process. However, it is important to note that non one person or one group can dominate a community when the public truly exercises their voice. Unfortunately, most of the registered voters in Niles Township did not vote, in fact only 2.5 out of 10 registered voters went to the polls, making this one of the lowest voter turnouts in our history. This is a concern for all of us and we need to get more involved.

The members of the Coalition Party, intend to stay involved at the Township level, speak out on concerns that affect the taxpayers of Niles Township and support those issues that need a non-partisan voice. We invite citizens of the township to join us by dropping a note to our Post Office Box #444, Morton Grove, IL 60053.

Sincerely,
Shel Marcus, Chairman, Coalition Party

Nilesite responds to postoffice flag display

Dear Editor:

I am co-chairman of the Niles Postal Advisory Council - a group of concerned Niles residents who meet monthly to discuss problems of the Niles Post Office.

This letter is in response to Mr. Drexler's letter which you published in the April 17 editions of The Bugle in which he accused Sue Dunn (the Niles Postal Manager) of being uneducated, misinformed, lack of knowledge and uncaring attitudes when it comes to displaying the American Flag.

We on the Council take offense to the character assassination and consider this a personal vendetta toward her and the U.S. Postal Service in general. This is not the first letter to different Niles newspapers that Mr. Drexler has written accusing Ms. Dunn of having an uncaring attitude. As Mr. Drexler stated in his letter, he informed her 1-1/2 years ago about the flag not being displayed. She was not even station manager at that time. Ms. Dunn and the Council are aware of the situation but bureaucracy prohibits us from getting a new flag immediately.

I am also an ex-postal employee and scout leader and take offense that our postal service is un-American. Mr. Drexler attended two of our Council meetings and was asked to become a Council member, but he declined. At those two meetings he never mentioned anything about the flag. Instead he took the easier road of writing letters of criticism.

All of us are good Americans and caring citizens, the same as he claims to be. Our meetings are open to all Niles residents to voice their opinions.

Thank you.
Another good American

Park district responds to Left Hand

Dear Editor:

After reading the Left Hand column in the April 10, 1997 edition, I felt that the whole picture was not represented in your article. You raised a concern about the new Niles Park District building, the Howard Leisure Center. The column stated that "...3/4 of the building was unused". The way this statement is written infers that the building is utilized only 1/4 of the time and this is untrue. Throughout the day, every part of the building is used. Our preschool area is used throughout the day with preschool in the morning and early afternoon, and in the evening with parent and tot classes. The administrative and recreation office areas are utilized during the day throughout the week. The banquet rooms have had a steady stream of banquets and people looking at the rooms, and are also used for park district meetings. The lower level has four different rooms. In two of the multi-purpose rooms, dance, aerobic, karate, taekwondo and room rentals occur mainly from early afternoon to late evenings throughout the entire week. The arts and crafts rooms (which hold birthday parties, ceramics and room rentals) has programs scheduled from early afternoon to evening. It is true that at a specific point of the day, the building may not be fully utilized, but rest assured, the entire building is programmed throughout the entire day and week.

In your next point, you questioned the past fiscal assistance given towards the ice rink and golf course and if it should occur in relation to the restaurant. The reasoning is that "(we)'ve been told only about 10% of the Tam golfers are local Niles residents" and that the ice rink is "also used mostly by outsiders". The question posed whether the Niles taxpayers should have to support and operate such facilities. It should be noted that the golf course, ice rink and restaurant are all enterprise funds. This means that they are set up to run without tax monies. In the case of the golf course and rink, about 90% of the operating and capital expenses are covered by the revenue generated by the facility. Although tax monies were used to purchase these facilities. The benefit back to the Niles taxpayer is that these purchases increased, or at the bare minimum maintained, their property value.

I believe that every resident should get involved with the Niles Park District and find out what we do for them. When looking at the whole operational picture, I think many residents would agree that we are making the best financial decisions available to us. I welcome The Bugle staff or any resident to call the park district when they want further information about something they heard at a public meeting, read in a local paper or heard from a neighbor.

Thank you for your time.
Sincerely,
Sara Belot Welker
Niles Park District

Don't give away hard earned dollars

Dear Editor:

What is wrong with this picture? You work hard. You pay taxes. Illinois Lawmakers talk about raising your taxes, maybe reinstating a state sales tax on food and drugs. They say we need to fund education, road repair, more prison cells. However, on March 18, Illinois lawmakers showed bi-partisan support for a $700 million giveaway to two financially strapped, polluting incinerators. Soon we'll need to raise taxes to fund not only education, road repair, and prison cells, BUT ALSO polluting incinerators.

Are these the same taxpayer pockets where the leadership of both parties expects to find all of these dollars?

It's headed for the floor of the Illinois House. It's called House Bill 1309. Call or fax your state representative, and House Leaders Mike Madigan and Lee Daniels, as well. Tell them to vote NO on House Bill 1309, the incinerator subsidy bill. Don't give away $700 MILLION hard-earned tax dollars. This giveaway program is not being offered by any other state. Tax dollars need to be spent wisely, improving the quality of life in Illinois - not on subsidies for special interests that will give us nothing in return except dump tons of pollutants on our communities and emit toxic chemicals in the process. After all, aren't they OUR tax dollars?
Sincerely,
Maureen K. Headington

Stores should follow Aldi's cart procedures

Dear Editor:

As a regular reader of your newspaper I have a good message for the following stores. Jewel-Osco, Dominick's Omni, Best Buy, Circuit City and any store that furnishes shopping carts. I visited Aldi's and they have their shopping carts neatly under a roof and chained in a straight row. You put a quarter to unlock one cart. When you are finished shopping, you return the cart, rechain it and your quarter pops out. I think Dominick's is the worse store for space in the parking lot for the shopper to return the cart. Sometimes they have two or three cart racks taking up space for another car to park. I am a citizen and a taxpayer of Niles. Thanking you in advance.

Millie Huston.

Village representatives commended

Dear Editor:

I represent the Bethany Romanian Independent Pentecostal Church which is the contract purchaser of real estate located at 7301 Caldwell Avenue, Niles. On its behalf we filed an Application for Rezoning and Zoning Variation in October of 1996 and after hearings before the Planning Commission/Zoning Board of Appeals and the Village Board our applications were granted. The purpose of this letter is to commend the representatives of the Village for the cooperative and helpful spirit they have evidenced throughout this zoning process. For many years I have represented numerous churches and have filed similar requests with municipalities around the Chicago area. Unfortunately I have often encountered palpable hostility toward religious organizations. Unlike other municipalities, the Village of Niles evidences a willingness to permit people of faith to exercise their First Amendment rights and welcomes them into their community as responsible citizens.

Finally, we are especially appreciative of the efforts of Mr. Todd Bavaro, the Director of Code Enforcement, the Plan Commission/Zoning Board of Appeals, the Village Board of Niles and President Blase for the competence, professionalism, and cooperative spirit which all evidenced throughout this proceeding.

Sincerely,
Mauck, Bellande & Cheely

Meet Me in St. Louis

It's common to hear, "Meet me at my locker!" or "Meet me at Golf Mill!"

But if you hear Maine East students and staff mention "Meet Me in St. Louis," you know they're talking about Maine East's annual spring musical, opening Friday, April 25, at 8 p.m.

"Meet Me in St. Louis" is an upbeat, fun musical that centers around a family during the Louisiana Purchase Exhibition. It tells about their loves and their lives. Many of the songs in this musical are familiar, even to people who have never seen another musical before. Some of the songs are "Meet Me in St. Louis," "Clang, Clang, Clang Went the Trolley," and "Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas."

"Meet Me in St. Louis" will be Friday and Saturday, April 25-26, and Friday and Saturday, May 2-3. The tickets are $5 and may be purchased at the door.

Morton Grove resident Christopher Minkley recently competed in the NJCAA National Swim and Diving Championships in Buffalo, New York. He earned a sixth place medal in one meter diving and finished a respectable 8th place in three meter diving. As unusual as it is for college competitors to compete in both swimming and diving, Minkley anchored four relay events for Triton College's Trojans posting the fastest times of any of the men.

Minkley, a graduate of Maine East High School was a four year Varsity swimmer, diver and gymnast there. He is on the Dean's Honor List at Triton and will be recognized for high academic achievement in a ceremony later this month. He will graduate from Triton this year and plans to continue his education at a state university.

RDHS lends a hand to HIVCO

Regina Dominican students, faculty and staff collected 25 boxes full of non-perishable foodstuffs for donation to the HIV Coalition's (HIVCO) Hand-to-Hand food distribution program. As part of the ongoing food assistance program, HIVCO coordinates their early spring drive, "Every Can Counts," with area support teams, including Regina Dominican High School.

HIVCO, a volunteer organization, helps to meet the needs of suburban neighbors living with HIV/AIDS in north/northwest Cook, Lake, McHenry, Kane and Will Counties. Under the direction of HIVCO executive director Robert Fickes and Regina Dominican campus minister Nancy Corcoran, CSJ, RDHS has supported HIVCO through both the winter and spring food drives.

Ryan backs effort to replace license plates

Secretary of State George H. Ryan said that legislation pending in the Illinois General Assembly that would initiate the replating of 9 million cars and light trucks in Illinois is "an excellent starting point" to begin the long-overdue process of replacing old license plates.

Ryan pledged to work with state Sen. Kathleen Parker, R-Northbrook, and state Rep. Joel Brunsvold, D-Milan, to ensure that the replating proposal, contained in Senate Bill 30, will successfully complete the replacement of license plates in Illinois. Senate Bill 30 passed the Illinois Senate last month on a 35-19 vote and now awaits action in the House.

"I'm very excited about the support this bill is getting this year in the General Assembly," Ryan said. "It's the first time in a long while that legislators have stood behind a concrete proposal to fund a replating program."

Under Senate Bill 30, 75 cents from every license plate registration fee collected by Ryan's office would be deposited into a special fund dedicated to replating. This proposal would raise as much as $6.7 million annually for replating.

Ryan added, though, that he has directed his staff to review the cost estimates of a replating proposal to ensure that Senate Bill 30 does raise a sufficient amount of money to complete a replating program.

The secretary of state's office has been studying the replating issue since 1994. A plan to replace all cars and light trucks in Illinois has been languishing in Ryan's office since then because the cost of the program has proved to be too steep for the General Assembly. A 1995 report issued by Ryan's License Plate Task Force estimated the cost of replating at $34.7 million. Because of inflation, the cost of a replating program may now be as high as $41 million.

Ryan noted that most Illinois motorists don't understand that the registration fee they pay each year for a license plate sticker—at least $48—does not go to a fund for license plates. Virtually all of the money is deposited in the state budget's Road Fund to pay for highway construction and repair. This year all registration fees collected by the secretary of state's office will generate an estimated $428 million for the Road Fund.

"Not a week goes by that my office doesn't get a question or a complaint from motorists about the condition of their license plates. They all want to know when they're going to get new plates. I sympathize with them," Ryan said. "Senate Bill 30 is an excellent starting point to initiate a replating program."

"Kids Helping Kids" to benefit I-Search

"Kids Helping Kids," a nationwide fundraising project from May 15 through June 15, announces a campaign for children to sell T-shirts, with the profits to benefit I-Search, an organization that finds missing and exploited children.

In cities throughout the country, school-aged youth will be given the opportunity to sell Color Change T-shirts, which transform from simple graphics into full color images when exposed to sunlight. The shirt motifs range from nature themes, to pop culture icons, such as Bozo, the Beetles and The Mask movie. The T-shirts are printed with the Sun Daz process, and are manufactured by the Screen Graphics Center.

In each city, the kid who sells the most T-shirts and raises the most money for I-Search will win a personalized stadium scoreboard print by the Scoreboard Memories® company. Scoreboard Memories® will display the name of the winner and a personal message on the electronic scoreboard at a major league sports event. The winner will also receive a color photo of the scoreboard display. Scoreboard Memories® is officially licensed by the National Football League, the National Basketball Association, Major League Baseball, the National Hockey League and Winston Cup Racing (Golf Leaderboard and selected colleges also available).

Children interested in participating in the "Kids Helping Kids" project can call (800) 831-1546 to receive fundraising information. The toll-free number also offers information on ordering T-shirts and Scoreboard Memories® directly.

Last year, Ryan authored a law that gave the Attorney General's office more power to enforce the Federal Communication Commission rules regarding slamming. In addition, Ryan's office filed several suits against companies accused of the practice. One of the led to the largest settlement in the history of Illinois consumerism.

Of the more than 24,000 complaints received by Ryan's office last year, the top ten were:

1. Construction & Home Repair, 9.2 percent, or 2208 complaints.
2. Slamming, 7.8 percent, or 1883 complaints.

Labor crews from the Sheriff's Work Alternative Program (SWAP) will be working in Northbrook on April 24 and 25, as a public service to the taxpayers of Cook County, according to the Office of Sheriff Michael F. Sheahan.

The SWAP Program is made up of non-violent offenders charged with DUI and other misdemeanor crimes who "swap" jail time for a community service sentence. Under the supervision of specially trained sheriff's deputies, the crews work throughout the county on a variety of public works projects such as cleaning parks, viaducts and streets.

THE NEWSPAPERS THAT DELIVER

Police

Stolen property

A 14-year-old Niles waitress placed her valuables in a locker near 239 Golf Mill Center Mall around 6 p.m. April 17. Upon returning to the locker, she discovered her property missing. It is unknown how entry was gained. Missing were a jacket valued at $75, $5 cash, a school I.D. and miscellaneous papers.

Lost property

A 50-year-old Chicago telemarketer reported that he made a purchase at the pharmacy in the 7800 block of Waukegan Road around 7:30 p.m. April 15 and misplaced a change purse containing approximately $500 in cash near the cash register of the pharmacy.

Police viewed security tapes on April 16 to see if anything could be determined, but the area the purse was left in was out of view of the camera.

Criminal damage to property

A 36-year-old mechanic reported that unknown offenders slashed the sidewall of the left rear tire on his 1995 Dodge van which was parked in the rear of an apartment building in the 7200 block of Crain Street sometime between 9 p.m. April 15 and 5:30 a.m. April 16.

The victim told police he experienced the same incident on March 1 but did not report it to police. The cost to replace the tire is estimated at $195. The victim told police he has no idea who may have damaged the tires.

Suspicious activities

Police observed a 49-year-old Chicago man parked in a green 1994 Dodge Neon near the intersection of Orme and Greenleaf around 8:50 p.m. April 16.

The suspect told police he was waiting for his girlfriend, a Chicago woman employed by a cleaning service working at the boys high school in the 7600 block of Dempster Street, to leave work. He said he was going to follow the girlfriend so he could catch her with another man.

The subject had a gas spray, a mask and gloves in the front seat of the vehicle. Police confiscated the gas spray and took Polaroid pictures of the subject to document his identity.

The girlfriend had left the high school during the police interview with the subject and could not be contacted.

Battery/suspicious acts

An 85-year-old woman observed a 50-year-old woman and a man described as being between 40 and 50 years of age walking up to the rear door of her home in the 7800 block of Waukegan Road around 2 p.m. April 17.

The suspects knocked on the door and when the victim opened it, they pushed her aside and walked into the residence where they pushed the victim and two other residents, a 72-year-old man and an 87-year-old woman, into the front room of the house.

The female offender stated she was from the Social Security office and wanted the three victims' Social Security numbers and names.

The victims then told the female offender to leave the house and pushed her into the kitchen where the male offender was standing. Both offenders then left the home.

The victims could not find anything missing from the residence at the time of the report. The victims told police they had two male subjects in the residence on April 3 and paid them $200 for sidewalk repairs that were never done. The victims told police they believe the April 3 incident may be related to the April 17 incident.

Ambulance assist

Police and fire department personnel responded to 400 Golf Mill around 4:25 p.m. April 15 when a 3-year-old Waukegan boy riding the up escalator to the second floor of a department store got his right little finger caught in the steps of the escalator causing the pad or tip of the finger to be severed.

Store employees along with police and fire personnel freed the subject from the escalator, and he was transported, along with his 29-year-old mother, to Lutheran General Hospital.

Lisa Weiland, Jefferson Award winner

Lisa Weiland, of Des Plaines, has been chosen as one of eight Chicago area 1997 Jefferson Award winners. The Jefferson awards for Public Service salute unsung heroes in the community. NBC 5 Chicago and AT&T, co-sponsors of the awards, will honor winners in a special ceremony on April 25, at the James R. Thompson Center at 6:30 p.m. NBC 5 anchors Warner Saunders and Allison Rosati will serve as emcees.

At 18-years-old, Lisa Weiland has given more of her time to helping others than most people give in a lifetime. The voluminous list of people, projects and organizations that benefit from Lisa's touch is stunning, and she has literally logged hundreds and hundreds of hours aiding her community. Just to give you an idea that we're not exaggerating about Lisa's exceptional effort, here's just a partial rundown of this teen's incredible effort.

Lisa started volunteering the summer after 8th grade. Her first volunteer job was working at Lutheran General Hospital delivering flowers to patients. While continuing to volunteer at the hospital, Lisa entered Maine Township High School East, and it was full speed ahead. She's president of "The Shades of Maine East" student club created to combat all forms of discrimination in the school. She's President of Maine East's Sign Language club where she helps hearing impaired students and teaches sign language to special education students. Lisa is a senior leader for her Special Education PE class, helping autistic, mentally and physically challenged children play sports, in addition to working with elementary school children in an anti-drug program. Back at the hospital, Lisa is working in the Pediatric Department, talking to and comforting sick kids so they can have a positive hospital experience. And if that's not enough, she also works with the Make-A-Wish Foundation, volunteering at parties and events given for pediatric oncology patients. Earlier this year, she received the "Prudential Spirit of Community Award," given by Maine East for community service. Lutheran General Hospital has honored her with four "Spirit" Awards for extraordinary service and their "Gold Pin" Award for 500 hours of service. And on top of all this, Lisa is a straight-A student.

When asked about her volunteer work Lisa said, "I feel that, although I'm young, I still want to make a difference and volunteering is the one way I can touch people's lives."

Lisa Weiland is truly deserving of this 1997 Jefferson Award for Community Service.

Exploring Niles' history: Past comes alive for Niles historian

"Booming" would probably be a mild word for the growth and development of Niles, Illinois in the 1960's and the 1970's. Annexations, business developments, shopping centers, a mushrooming population with a dozen schools built between 1954 and 1965 must have convinced almost everyone to keep a sharp focus on the future. "It can only get better," seemed to be the prevailing attitude.

Dorothy C. Tyse, who had moved to Niles early in 1957, probably shared that optimism for the future of Niles. However, she became somewhat perplexed to the answers received after asking what she believed was an innocent question. "No one knew who our (Niles') first president was."

Although not a trained historian, Tyse quickly sensed she "shouldn't" be throwing these things away," she says today of the newspaper clippings, announcements, invitations and other written documentation she began collecting on the history of Niles.

When Tyse moved into Niles with her husband, she was employed at the Continental Bank. Later she worked at the Homestead Bank which became the Niles Federal Bank. She continued her collection and the first of several scrapbooks began to accumulate.

At that time Tyse did not seek out the sources an historian would research. Tyse, who mentions she was always interested in writing, perhaps reflected the poet, W. A. Auden, in her own personalized way of gathering historical materials. "Man is a history making creature who cannot... leave his past behind."

"It was some time in 1968 or 1969," recalls Tyse. She was discussing her scrapbook, the amount of materials she had accumulated on Niles, with Mayor Nicholas Blase.

"Why don't you write a history of Niles," Tyse recalls Blase mentioning to her. Those words of encouragement quickly changed a casual, sincere interest in the past of Niles to an ever-growing commitment to get as much historical information on Niles as possible.

Tyse says she "started with Mr. and Mrs. Stankowicz." Stankowicz was Mayor of Niles from 1941 to 1961. "They gave me a lot of photos and contacts with other people," says Tyse.

"Met a lot of wonderful, beautiful people"

She was on her way. Tyse says she "met a lot of wonderful, beautiful people doing the history of Niles." She speaks of the "wealth of information" she received from John Calef, President of Niles during the 1920's. Even after Calef passed away, "his sister sent me information. I got letters from the Civil War. Those were his grandfather's."

Tyse was most appreciative of the help she received from Niles officials: police chief, Robert Romey, fire chief, Al Hoelbl, deputy fire chief, Charles Bobula, police chief Clarence "Whitey" Emriksen and official photographer for the Niles Police Department, Arnie Baltzerzen.

The persistence of Tyse in gathering information on the history of Niles was most impressive. Files of letters, notes, pamphlets, press releases and official statements of clubs, organizations, and businesses continued to mount for a few years. Tyse mentioned she was especially thankful that her husband presented her with a tape recorder to take along on her numerous interviews.

The years of effort paid off for Tyse with the publication of the diamond jubilee, "A history of your village, The Village of

"Tyse recalls many of the observations of the 75th anniversary of Niles. There was the old-fashioned picnic in the forest preserve on Caldwell. There was a dance at the White Eagle with over 300 attending. "Everyone was having such a nice time, we had to ask the band to stay longer," says Tyse.

Invited to city hall as guest When Tyse's history was published, Tyse recalls being invited to Niles' city hall as an honored guest. "They let me sit in the president's chair," says Tyse.

After the book's publication, Tyse recalls inquiries for the book coming in from the New York State Library, Yale University, and Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin. It was also being sold at the village hall.

Tyse mentioned that she and her husband joined the Niles Historical Society two weeks after the society was organized. Later, "Mayor Blase made me a liaison between the historical society and the village," says Tyse.

Over the years Tyse has remained active with some of the activities of the Niles Historical Society. She contributed items to the "Weddings Past" exhibit. In February 1996, Tyse made a most significant donation to the Niles Historical Society. Two large boxes which represent hundreds of hours searching out the past of Niles will now be preserved thanks to the foresight of Dorothy Tyse.

The Tyse Niles history collection will be on permanent deposit at the Niles Historical Society and will be available to parties interested in the history of Niles. The Niles Historical Society is located at 8970 N. Milwaukee. Phone: 847-390-0160.

The words of the poet, T. S. Eliot, perhaps inspired by Dorothy C. Tyse in her quest to make known the history of Niles not only to preserve the past but to have a sense of the future: Time present and time past

Are both perhaps present in time future, And time future contained in time past.

About that question which really got Dorothy Tyse involved, she not only got a photo of the first president of Niles, she was able to obtain photos of all presidents of Niles that are permanent exhibit at city hall.

Make yard cleanup a breeze

Don't let the thought of leaf cleanup blow you away! Yard cleanup can be a breeze with a little help from a gas-powered leaf blower. Leaf blowers speed up outdoor maintenance and can - with a little knowledge - produce professional results.

When shopping for your leaf blower, look for a powerful, hand-held blower that easily converts into a vacuum with the addition of a vacuum tube and reusable collection bag.

Also look for a blower that's lightweight, weighing in around 10 pounds. The blower should also have enough power to generate air at about 150 miles per hour.

Once you've got the right blower, be sure to follow correct operating procedures and heed safety precautions. For best results, blow or vacuum leaves when the lawn is dry and leaf coverage is light. Heavy leaf coverage and wet leaves make blowing a lengthy chore. Also use a shoulder strap to reduce fatigue. When vacuuming, turn the unit off before emptying the bag. Blower vacuums are designed for picking up leaves only. Use extra caution to avoid vacuuming stones, gravel, twigs, acorns or other yard debris that could result in damaged fan blades.

And use your blower/vacuum to its maximum potential! Blowers are handy tools for sweeping away yard debris, such as grass clippings. Some manufacturers also offer a vacuum gutter maintenance kit which allows you to clean your gutters from ground level rather than walking along the roof edge.

If your blower gets a clog, turn the unit off first. Never try to dislodge a clog while the equipment is running. Remove the vacuum tubes, and rather than using your hands, use a small stick or tool to remove debris.

Always wear hearing protection and eye protection when operating a leaf blower. A face mask should also be worn to avoid dust inhalation. Keep the blower pointed away from people and pets, and allow the engine to cool before storing the blower.

Don't get blown away this year. Use proper equipment and follow safety guidelines to make your lawn cleanup a breeze.

It IS easy being green

The higher the grass grows above ground, the deeper the roots spread below. So it's important not to cut your grass too short.

Mow in a different direction each time to prevent a lean, and overlap your mowing paths two to four inches. Also turn the mower on the driveway, walkway or any other hard surface to prevent "scuffing" your grass.

Keep the cutting blade sharp to avoid shredding grass tips. A dull blade can shred your grass, providing entryways for disease organisms that can turn your grass brown.

Learn the recommended cutting height for your variety of grass and try to mow on the high side of that level.

Be prepared for tornado season

Illinoisians each spring and early summer experience numerous tornadoes as do most of the mid-western and southern states. In Illinois the average number of tornadoes each year is 26, according to the National Oceanic Atmospheric Association (NOAA). Tornadoes occur when cold dry air meets warm moist air causing a spiral-shaped funnel cloud to form. Tornadoes usually occur from April through mid-July, however, if the conditions are right they can occur at any time.

According to the Illinois Insurance Information Service (IIS) being prepared could save your life. There are a number of things you should review and discuss with family members.

Make sure your family knows the difference between a tornado watch and a tornado warning. A tornado watch means that weather conditions are favorable for the development of tornadoes. A tornado warning means a tornado has been spotted in your area.

Some communities have special sirens that sound when a tornado is approaching - take cover if you hear this siren.

If a tornado is approaching seek shelter - go to the basement or lowest floor. If you have no basement get to an inside hallway, closet or bathroom without doors or windows.

If you are in a car or a mobile home - Get Out - find a solid structure or lie down in a ditch or the lowest place you can find.

Large buildings or malls usually have designated shelters. If you can't find one, go to a middle hallway or the lowest level. Stay clear of windows because of glass and flying debris.

If you are outside lie face down in a ditch or low area, covering your head and neck with your hands.

Preparing an inventory of all your home's contents and keeping it updated from year to year is also very important. Along with maintaining the list you should always report major improvements to your property to your insurance agent. These two items will save you a lot of time at the time you file a claim.

Today's turf is tomorrow's earth

Grasscycling, a term coined by the Professional Lawn Care Association of America, is crucial to relieving the nation's landfill crisis. By grasscycling, we make "today's turf tomorrow's earth".

Grasscycling is a simple and natural process of decay and renewal. It'll encourage a greener, healthier lawn and save you the headache of bagging grass clippings - and other yard debris - for our already overburdened landfills.

Lack of space and tough environmental regulations have caused many landfills to close down or place restrictions on the disposal of yard waste. Grass clippings currently make up more than 10 percent of the total municipal waste dumped in landfills annually.

By cutting our grass clippings into tiny pieces, we can leave clippings on the lawn. Many people believe that leaving clippings on the lawn contributes to thatch, but when handled correctly, that's simply not true. Believe it or not, grass is 85 percent water.

Short grass clippings decompose quickly and can return up to 20 percent of their nitrogen to the soil, providing a valuable food source for your root system.

There are two ways to grasscycle. Mulching mowers make grasscycling easy by chopping clippings into tiny pieces and blowing them into the turf. University tests prove that mowing with a mulching mower actually contributes to a healthier, more beautiful lawn.

If you've got a standard walk-behind or riding mower, mow your lawn often enough to cut only the top one-third of the grass blades at each mowing. In addition to resulting in short clippings, this method encourages deep root development which is essential for a thick, attractive lawn.

This season make a commitment to your lawn and to Mother Earth - grasscycle for a beautiful lawn and a healthier environment.

Kindergarteners to celebrate Arbor Day

Kindergarteners mark Arbor Day with tree enactment, portraying different parts of a tree while learning more about how trees work. Some will be the roots, some of the branches etc. They'll also help plant a shade tree on the school grounds at Lutheran General Children's Day Care, 9375 W. Church, Des Plaines (corner of Church and Potter) on Friday, April 25. The tree enactment will be from 10:45 to 11:15 in the school gym followed by tree planting from 11:15 to 11:30.

Arbor Day celebrates the importance of planting and caring for trees. This year marks the 125th anniversary of Arbor Day, which is observed in virtually every state in the United States and in some foreign countries.

Decorating the baby's room for safety

You've picked out the color scheme, nursery lamp and comforter for baby's room. Everything looks perfect, but is it safe? According to child safety experts, the most frequently overlooked hazard in a baby's room is the window.

Although parents may be tempted to place a crib near a window so that the baby can see outdoors, they forget about the potential danger of a child falling out the window. Children can fall from windows that are opened as little as five inches, and a crib (or other furniture) placed beneath a window can easily serve as an unintended step to the window ledge.

Even if a window is permanently sealed to prevent falls, the blinds, drapes or other coverings that decorate the window can pose a potential hazard. According to the Window Covering Safety Council (WCSC), nearly a dozen infants and young children accidentally become entangled and strangle in the looped pull cords of window blinds and shades every year. Frequently, the window cord was dangling within reach of baby's crib.

Although newer window blinds and shades are increasingly incorporating no-loop designs and other safety measures, millions of older window coverings still have looped cords. Fortunately, it's simple to make these looped-cord window coverings safe for baby.

According to WCSC officials, most blinds and shades can be fixed simply by cutting the cord loop just above the pull tassel, and placing separate tassels at the ends of the resulting two cords. For vertical blinds or drapes that need a continuous loop to operate, a cord tie-down device that pulls the loop taut and secures it to the floor or wall is recommended. Both replacement tassels and tie-down devices are available at no charge from WCSC by phoning 1-800-506-4636.

Childproofing window treatments for the baby's room is easy compared to selecting a style that meets your needs, tastes and pocketbook. Decorators and experienced parents offer the following tips for selecting a window covering for baby's room:

- Keep it simple. Forget the balloon shades, swags and cascades, drapes over sheers, etc. The less obtrusive the window covering, the less likely it will be to interfere with your child's active lifestyle. Also, the simpler the window treatment, the easier it will "grow" along with your child and the room's constantly evolving decor.

- Think clean. Kids and dirt go together. Make sure that the window coverings you select are not only easy to clean, but able to withstand repeated cleanings. Also, many children develop respiratory ailments, allergies and asthma as they grow older; having window treatments that can be easily and thoroughly cleaned of dust, pollen and other indoor pollutants is a real plus.

- Consider neutrals. Window coverings now come in almost any color or pattern imaginable. But consider sticking with neutral tones, and leaving stronger hues or patterns to the walls and bedding, unless you're very confident about your decorating abilities. A compromise solution is to restrict a strong color or fanciful pattern to a simple valance or shades.

Call JULIE before you dig

As you plan your spring projects, Northern Illinois Gas reminds residents to add a call to JULIE on your "To Do" list. JULIE is the Joint Utility Locating Information for Excavators, a state-wide one-call system to notify Northern Illinois Gas and other participating utilities of your digging or excavating plans. Whether you're building an addition to your home, putting in a fence or landscaping, just call 1-800-892-0123 no more than two weeks, but at least 48 hours, before you begin digging (not including weekends and holidays).

Northern Illinois Gas will come out to mark our underground facilities using yellow stakes, flags or paint. Other utilities will use different colors to mark their facilities. Once all the underground facilities are marked on your property, you'll be able to see the safest places for you to dig - or to reevaluate your path if any facilities are in your path. When you call, be prepared to tell the JULIE operator the following information:

- The county, city or township and the section number where the digging will be done. (This information can be found on your property tax bill.)
- The address and description of the excavation project.
- The date and time work will begin.
- Your name, telephone number and address.

A little digging in the wrong place could mean a safety hazard for you and a service interruption for you and your neighbors. Please take a few minutes to call.

Neighbors assist local homeowners

More than 300 volunteers from local companies and churches have joined the nation in a volunteer program which rehabilitates the homes of the elderly, disabled and low-income homeowners. On April 26 they will donate their time and talents to repairing the homes of seven local residents. Homes in Glenview, Waukegan, Evanston, Northbrook, Morton Grove and Niles will be renovated.

Christmas in April, a nationwide program, is an all-volunteer effort that repairs and rehabilitates the homes of elderly, disabled or lower income people, allowing them to continue living safely and securely in their own homes. The project is a year-long planning process that culminates in a one day barnraising event on the last Saturday in April - April 26 this year. Christmas in April exemplifies the concept of neighbor helping neighbor. Concerned citizens from all walks of life come together giving the gift of their time. The end result of this all walks of life come together giving the gift of their time. The end result of this gift is the improved physical and mental well-being of these deserving homeowners. All work is done at no cost to the homeowner.

The idea for Christmas in April began in 1973 in Midland, Texas, when a group of volunteers decided to devote one day a year to repairing dilapidated homes of neighbors in their community.

PNA commemorates Poland's Constitution Day

The Polish National Alliance will commemorate the 206th Anniversary of Poland's May 3rd 1791 Constitution on Sunday, May 4 at 9 a.m. with a wreath-laying ceremony at the Kosciuszko Monument, located in proximity of the Adler Planetarium at Solidarity and Lakeshore Drives.

PNA President Edward J. Moskal announced that following the ceremony at the Kosciuszko monument site there will be a Holy Mass of Thanksgiving at Holy Trinity Church, 1118 Noble Street beginning at 10:30 a.m. Celebrants include Archbishop Zenon Grocholewski secretary of the Vatican Tribunal and consul to the Papal Commission for Interpretation of Regulation and Most Rev. Thad Jakubowski, Bishop of the Chicago Archdiocese as concelebrant.

In a tradition begun over 100 years ago by the Polish National Alliance, these events celebrate Poland's May 3rd 1791 Constitution, the first such document in Europe, based on the same principles as the U.S. Constitution.

President Moskal extends an invitation to everyone interested in helping American-Poles celebrate this anniversary by attending Mass and afterwards join the congregation and celebrants in the parish hall for refreshments.

Boy Scouts set benefit dinner

The Indian Boundary District of the Chicago Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America will hold its annual Good Scout Benefit Dinner on May 15 at the Hotel Sofitel, 5550 N. River Rd., Rosemont. The Indian Boundary District provides scouting programs for the northwest Chicago area.

The dinner will include the presentation of the Good Scout Award. The award is presented to individuals who have distinguished themselves through community service, leadership and personal example. This year's award goes to Donald V. Versen, Sr., President and Chief Operating Officer of Columbia National Bank of Chicago. Versen has played a prominent role in the growth of the Indian Boundary District, beginning in the 1970s when he first served as chairman of the District Benefit Dinner. For the last four years, he has served on the steering committees of the Good Scout Benefit Dinners. In 1994 and 1995, he was the committee chairman. Versen also is a member of the Board of Trustees of Resurrection Health Care and is on the Board of Directors of the Resurrection Development Foundation.

The benefit will begin with a reception at 6 p.m., followed by dinner at 7 p.m. Guest speaker will be Ray Meyer, former basketball coach at DePaul University. A silent auction will take place from 6 to 7:30 p.m.

Sister Donna Marie Wolowicki, C.R., Executive Vice President and Chief Executive Officer of Resurrection Medical Center, is chairperson for the benefit's 1997 Steering Committee.

'Christmas in April'

First National Bank of Morton Grove, in conjunction with Kropp Insurance Agency and The Morton Grove Foundation, is pleased to sponsor the Morton Grove community's 'Christmas in April' project on Saturday, April 26.

Christmas in April USA is a leading volunteer organization that, in partnership with communities nationwide, rehabilitates the houses of low-income homeowners, particularly the elderly and disabled, so that they may continue to live in warmth, safety and independence.

As sponsors of the Morton Grove community project, First National Bank of Morton Grove (FNBMG), Kropp Insurance and The Morton Grove Foundation will donate funds to purchase supplies not already given by community members.

A cornerstone of the project is community involvement. Volunteers from all walks of life will be on hand to do painting, landscaping, heating and electrical work. FNBMG will provide at least 10 volunteers to help complete the work.

This year's 'Christmas in April' project will benefit Bob Downing, a Morton Grove resident whose home is in need of extensive repair. Preparatory work, donated by area contractors and professionals, has already begun. Work will be completed on April 26.

Learn more about Greek civilization on an Oakton tour

Explore the civilization of ancient Greece as reflected in its monuments and archaeological sites on an educational tour sponsored by Oakton Community College. Three trips are scheduled May 8 - 19, June 26 - July 7 and Oct. 2 - 13.

The exquisite monuments of Athens, including the great structures of the Acropolis and the Parthenon, illustrate the finest artistic achievements of the Classical Age. View priceless treasures from various periods of Greek history at the National Archaeological Museum. Travel to Kalamata to see the rock top monasteries in Meteoron used by solitary monks since the 11th century.

Visit the oracle of Delphi, once believed by the Greeks to be the center of the world, where decisions on war, marriage and business were made. Journey to the ancient arena where the Olympic Games originated, and view the remains of the great Temple of Zeus and the Temple of Hera, one of the earliest known examples of the Doric style of architecture. A tour of the famous citadel of Mycenae, inhabited since 3,000 B.C., from which Agamemnon set forth for the war with Troy, is also planned.

RIGHT HAND... a rather apt name for a conservative. But where oh where did he get that Right Hand name from?

Tom was also a deputy sheriff in Wisconsin, a volunteer fireman, a 32nd degree Mason, a breeder of dogs, a pilot and I'm sure one heluva father and husband. His wife Christine said Sunday, life with Tommy was always adventurous.

Shortly after The Bugle moved to its present location Tom and Christine opened an ice cream shop next door to us. His being an entrepreneur was just another facet of this many-sided man.

He was opinionated and flamboyant, driving around town in his flashy Cadillac. He often told us he was a member of Mensa, a group of high IQ people who were in the top 5% among us more motley people. But he was lovable and warm and fun to be around.

Fifty-two years may be less than the biblical three score and ten. But Tommy's 52 years were equal to two or three normal lifetimes. We are saddened by his loss but are pleased he passed our way.

At noontime Sunday I was at a Bris for the grandson of a friend of ours. It is a Jewish ceremony for a circumcision which takes place eight days after a boy is born.

The Rabbi or Mohel who conducts the ceremony places the child on a ceremonial chair, then onto a pillow where the service is conducted. Alongside the child was his grandfather.

Almost sixty years ago this grandfather, then a teenage boy, and his family, fled from Poland to Russia when the Germans invaded Poland. They had been a wealthy family who had a successful lumber business. It was confiscated by the Nazis.

Their fleeing to Russia likely saved their lives. These bourgeoisie business people weren't trusted in proletarian Russia and were shipped off to Siberia. Life was hard though less so than in the camps. Our friend's mother walked several miles each day trying to enroll her son in school. She was turned down day after day, week after week. But her persistence paid off and when a change in the school's administration took place, her son was admitted to the school.

After World War II the family emigrated to Palestine, before it was re-named Israel. Our friend went on to medical school, was in and out of the army during the turbulent Israeli fifties and came to America in 1959.

During his medical school years he met his wife who got advanced degrees in science.

She too spent her early years in Poland. Her family spent eleven months living in a barn behind a Christian family's house. They were protected by these Polish Catholic people from the invading Germans who risked their own lives protecting the Jews. She tells stories of her reading books when the daylight slipped between the slats of the barn.

In America the doctor became successful, once again living a life of wealth, not unlike his younger days. The family's scholarly background was passed on to their children, all of whom became professionals.

They're gentle soft-spoken people. The doctor-grandfather is admittedly shy. They do good deeds quietly and often anonymously.

Sunday, the Rabbi spoke briefly about the history of the Bris ceremony. He said a prayer that the child would be brought up in the teachings of the Torah (first five books of the Old Testament) and he prayed he would live a life of good deeds.

The grandfather sat quietly alongside his first grandson. He placed a wine-soaked cloth into the child's mouth when the baby began to cry. And he knew his long hard journey will have made it easier for this grandson, who was having the family torch passed on to him.

In other business Superintendent of Parks Mike Rea reported that construction of the preschool rooms at the former Park District administration offices, 7877 N. Milwaukee Ave., is nearing completion. The new preschool facility will be larger than that housed at the Howard Leisure Center at 6676 Howard Street, Rea said. Springtime activity at Tam

Golf Course, 6700 Howard, has been heavy so far. Golfers played 1,260 rounds in March and 1,312 rounds in the first half of April.

More welcome news was presented by Tom Mutchy, food operations manager for the Park District. He told the assemblage that sales revenue for the first quarter of 1997 at O'Shanter's Restaurant was 1 percent higher than the same period of 1996.

Zoning Board ...

Bavaro added. At a recent Zoning Board meeting, Bavaro expressed concern about whether the roof of the 10-story building located at Maryland and Milwaukee avenues can hold the weight of the antennas and cabinets.

The antennas will assist in transmission of radio signals for cellular telephone carriers, beepers and fax machines, AT&T officials said. The AT&T plan to erect a rooftop shelter at The Huntington has been superseded by a new plan to erect several equipment cabinets on the roof, according to Bavaro who received the new plan from AT&T attorney Tony Lello.

Noneetheless, Troiani pointed to the AT&T tower at Howard and Milwaukee saying that the site is not only an eyesore but a danger to children. The Zoning Board members voted to delay their decision on The Huntington site until the next Zoning Board meeting, scheduled for May 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the new Niles Village Hall, Oakton Street and Waukegan Road.

At issue now is the placement of nine AT&T antenna towers on the roof of The Huntington, a senior housing development run by the Housing Authority of Cook County.

Park plaques

But where are they now, and why they aren't hanging on the walls where they should be, were the questions of Buddy Skaja and Michael Provenzano.

Skaja complained that the plaques represented the Park District's history and commemorated all of the Board's accomplishments from past to present. He said he was never informed by the other Board members that the plaques would be removed and not reinstalled on the walls of the facilities where they had once hung.

Provenzano, Park Commissioner from 1967-1972, echoed the sentiments and worried that without the plaques, the former Commissioners and their efforts would be forgotten. "The Niles Park District is not just the last five or ten years, Provenzano said. "It is more like the last 40 years."

subject around the house, but by the time he reached the front of the house, he saw that his squad gone, according to a report issued by Morton Grove Deputy Chief Frank Pantaleo.

The 1997 Ford Crown Victoria Morton Grove Police Squad #14 was taken by the subject who was described as a male African American in his late 20s with short black hair and wearing a black sweat shirt, dark blue knee-length baggy shorts, white socks and black high top gym shoes.

At 5:15 p.m. the same afternoon Chicago police notified Morton Grove police that the squad car was recovered at 905 Lawler in Chicago. The vehicle was towed back to the Morton Grove Police Department where it was processed for evidence.

are. He explained that the mini-mart would have seven cooler doors and two aisles of grocery items.

He looked and sounded like he was prepared for anything. It would have been unlikely that he would have realized that most of the people in the audience at the Village Hall were there to complain about his plans, but they were.
