Vandals use mustard, chocolate syrup

By Rosemary Tilton

From 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Monday, August 18, some vandal used mustard and chocolate syrup on a car window parked at 1000 Oakton Street. The victim washed off the mess and did not file a report on the vandalism.

There have been a number of cases of vandalism in the area. Four cases were reported in the last 20 days. There is no clear pattern to the vandalism. It may be a sign of things to come as the warm weather continues.

VANDALS SHUT DOWN PEACOCK PROJECT

The village of Niles shut down the Peacock Project at the request of the city of Niles. The project was a $1 million project to revitalize the area. Niles shut down the project after the village of Niles refused to pay for the project.

Earning Your Tax Return

By Robert W. Brown

The Internal Revenue Service goes another round in its campaign to fight tax evasion.
Taxpayers 10 years ago were told to check their returns for errors. Now they must report to the IRS if their returns have tax credits or if they are overpaid.

An excellent workbook to aid
you in checking your return is Canada Post's "Your Complete Guide to Tax Returns." It's 32 good pages filled with information that will help you check your return for errors.

If you haven't had your tax return checked by a professional, you should at least plot your course by following the IRS's tax return preparation guidelines.

The IRS suggests you look for errors in:
1. Your tax situation.
2. Your income.
3. Your assets.
4. Your expenses.
5. Your tax credits.
6. Your deductions.
7. Your additions.
8. Your tax liability.
10. Your tax credits.

The IRS also suggests you only report to the IRS if you are overpaid. This means you'll have to check the amount of tax you owe against the amount you paid. If you have paid more than the amount you owe, you must report it to the IRS.

The IRS has also made it mandatory for taxpayers to report any tax credits or exemptions that are incorrectly claimed on their returns. This means you must report any tax credits or exemptions that are incorrect claiming on your returns.

The IRS has also made it

Oprah Winfrey becomes national spokesperson for A Better Chance

Oprah Winfrey recently released a book, "The Oprah Winfrey Show," and announced that she will serve as an ambassador of the program, which helps minority youth prepare for college.

"This is an important organization," said Winfrey. "They have a unique way of helping kids succeed in school, and I want to be a part of it.

A Better Chance is the only national program that provides a forum for minority students to learn about the college application process and to meet with successful minority professionals."(continued on page 26)

The teen volunteers tutor first-graders at many of the high schools in District 207. The students, who are required to volunteer for three hours a week, have been recruited from District 207 high schools. The volunteer program began in May, and more than 150 students have signed up.

In actuality, the tutors are not just teaching reading. They are also helping students with math, science, and other subjects. The program is designed to help students improve their overall academic performance.

The tutors are paired with students based on their interests and abilities. They work in small groups of three or four students, and each tutor has a teacher who supervises their work. The teacher provides feedback and guidance to the tutors, and helps them to build their confidence and skills.

The program is part of a larger initiative to improve student outcomes in District 207. The district has been working with the University of Illinois at Chicago to develop a comprehensive approach to improving education outcomes.

In addition to the volunteer program, the district is also organizing professional development workshops for teachers, providing additional resources for schools, and implementing new curriculum and assessments.

The goal is to create a supportive and inclusive learning environment where every student can succeed. Through the volunteer program and other initiatives, District 207 is taking steps to make this a reality.

Traveling with your best friend

Traveling by car can be wonderful. However, in order to avoid any discomfort to your pet, a few things should be considered. Here are some important tips for making sure your pet is comfortable during your travels:

1. Preparation: Before setting off, ensure your pet is properly secured with a pet seat belt or in a travel carrier designed for cats and dogs. Use a pet car seat belt to ensure your pet is safe during the journey.

2. Exercise Breaks: Regular exercise breaks are crucial. Stop at rest areas or designated pet-friendly areas where your pet can stretch and move around.

3. Hydration: Always carry a portable water bottle and encourage your pet to drink water throughout the trip.

4. Food: Feed your pet according to their regular feeding schedule. If your pet is traveling for an extended period, you may need to reduce their food intake to avoid discomfort. Consult your veterinarian about the best strategy for your pet's dietary needs while traveling.

5. Vaccinations and Health Certificates: Ensure your pet is up-to-date with all required vaccinations and has a valid health certificate. This is especially important when traveling internationally or to states requiring specific vaccinations.

6. Seating Options: Try to secure your pet in the back seat to reduce distractions and keep them safe. If possible, travel with another passenger to act as a lookout.

7. Purr-Fect Pads: Make sure the car is well-ventilated and not too hot or cold. If necessary, use fans or air conditioning to keep your pet comfortable.

8. Travel Anxiety: If your pet is anxious about traveling, consider anxiety-reducing medications or calming supplements prescribed by your veterinarian. These can help alleviate stress and make the journey more enjoyable for both you and your pet.

9. Safety First: Always keep your pet's identification tags and vet's information handy in case of separation. Keep a current photo of your pet with you at all times.

10. Emergency Kit: Pack an emergency kit for your pet including a first aid kit, water, food, and necessary medications.

By following these tips, you can ensure a safe and enjoyable trip for your beloved companion. Remember, the key to successful pet travel is proper preparation and considering your pet's needs and comfort. Happy travels!

Similarly, the village of the 1930's and 40's is a very busy street and should not have been used for another park.

The village officials think there will still be opened for another park.
