

From the Left Hand

by Bud Besser

The Princess Di phenomenon defies logic. The millions and millions of people all over the world commiserating with a beautiful woman of negligible accomplishments is overwhelming.

We've concluded the Princess, like President Kennedy, his wife, Jackie, and perhaps even Elvis Presley and Marilyn Monroe, were products of the television age, created mostly on 17 inch screens and blown up into mythical figures far beyond their normal sizes.

Television outsized Michael Jordan and The Beatles. It's like TV is a large telescope which magnifies larger and larger portrayals of these personalities.

Certainly, the deaths of Mother Teresa and Sir George Solti during the past week made some of us pull back our emotions that were flowing alongside the Thames. The lifelong good works of Mother Teresa dwarfed the overblown stories of Diana's brief visits to the less fortunate. And Solti, who endured the Holocaust, the destruction of his entire family, whose accomplishments as a world class pianist and symphonic leader resulted from dozens of years of drudgery and hard work, were achievements which led him to the pinnacle of the music world. Yet, so many were in awe of a beautiful

MG greenhouse founder Richard Lochner dies

by Rosemary Tirio

Richard Lochner, founder of Lochner's Greenhouses, Inc., 6724 Dempster Street and grandson of one of Morton Grove's founding families passed away Sept. 7 in Evanston Hospital after a brief illness. Mr. Lochner would have been 87 Oct. 7 according to his grandson, Mike Lochner.

Mr. Lochner lived in Morton Grove until 12 years ago when he moved to Evanston with his second wife whom he married after the death of his first wife.

Seventy-two years ago, Mr. Lochner and his sister Gertrude, now 97, started selling flowers at a small farm stand on Dempster Street east of Waukegan Road, Mike Lochner said. Mr. Lochner was 16 years old at the time; Gertrude was 26.

Two named to fill Zoning Board seats

by Kathleen Quirsfeld

Following the departure of two long-serving Commissioners, Dorothy Dollack and Sydney Mitchel, the Niles Plan Commission and Zoning Board graciously welcomed two new members to their committee: Michael Looby and Jerry LeCerra.

Michael Looby, a youthful ten year resident of Niles has a background in Journalism, having worked for several years as a journalist with Singer Publications in the north shore suburban area covering Village Board meetings.

For the past 13 years, he has owned and operated Diversified Graphics in Niles, a pre-press operation with largely northwest suburban customers.

Looby married with three children, (two step children), Jody and Jim Scorda, and Michael Looby, Jr., 8, lives with his wife Judi in Niles.

From his vantage point as President of the Niles Chamber of Commerce, Looby is familiar with the town, its businesses and commercial needs for growth and expansion.

As a Zoning Board Commissioner, he will be challenged by trying to balance those needs with the demands of the residents of Niles who cherish their space and peace and quiet.

Glenview woman may be date rape victim

by Rosemary Tirio

Listed on the police blotter under the title "suspicious activities" is the story of a 29-year-old Glenview woman who has more than a suspicion that she was the victim of a crime that may be all too typical of the last decade of our century: date rape.

Aided by newly developed consciousness-altering drugs, rapists of the 90s are seducing women they meet and then carrying them off in unconscious states to have their way with them. The unwitting victim may have no memory of her ordeal in the morning.

Illegal Valium-type tranquilizer drugs are being found in many of the reported cases of date rape according to a pharmacist at Lutheran General Hospital who declined to give his name. The drugs are not approved in the U.S. and must be obtained illegally from Mexico or other places, the pharmacist said.

Investigator Mary Kramer of the Morton Grove Police Department said that animal tranquilizers are also being used by rapists

Letters to the Editor

No respect for other people's property

Dear Editor:

I just read the letter from Mrs. Zielinski regarding the damage done to her car in the parking lot at Waukegan and Dempster.

I work in a store in that mall and just yesterday after a day at work returned to my car and found the left rear end badly damaged, obviously by another car, and also no note left.

This is a terrible lot but I think these situations show that people no longer have respect for other peoples' property, don't take responsibility for their actions and do not obey the laws.

I wonder why?

Sincerely,
F. Bootz,
Niles

League of Women Voters Morton Grove/Niles

Dear Editor:

While the amount of soft money in last year's National Election tripled, voter turnout declined to its lowest point in more than 70 years. It is time to put a stop to the deterioration of our political process. Congress is looking at campaign finance legislation. Republicans and Democrats must reach an agreement for practical, bipartisan campaign finance reform by putting partisan differences aside.

The solution is balanced, incremental campaign finance legislation that addresses the most egregious abuses. Such legislation would close the soft money loophole that allows corporations, labor unions, and wealthy individuals to pour unlimited amounts of money into campaigns. It should deal with political attack ads disguised as "issue advocacy".

These ads, which escape all disclosure requirements, destroy accountability and leave citizens scratching their heads when they want to know just who is trying to influence our elections. The virtue of incremental reform is that it is both meaningful and achievable. It represents a practical middle ground that both parties can embrace.

Congress must pass practical campaign finance reform. The League of Women Voters urges you to contact your United States Senator Carol Mosley-Braun or Richard Durbin, and your congressman in the House of Representatives Henry Hyde (6th district), or Sidney Yates (9th district). It is time for the politicians in Washington to put aside their partisan differences and act in the interest of our democracy. The League of Women Voters is a grass-roots, non-partisan, national organization committed to promoting citizens' participation in government. For more information on membership in the League call (847) 696-1577. Joyce Herter, President League of Women Voters Morton Grove/Niles Abigail Darr Board Member

Catholic Charities annual Tag Days

When a monk living in France, some might insist on northern Italy, first created the knotted shape of a pretzel to symbolize arms folded in prayer, little did he realize that 130 years later the pretzel would be used to raise funds to support the senior services program of Catholic Charities.

For two days in September, the 12th and 13th, Catholic Charities volunteers will be spread all over Cook and Lake Counties with canister in hand trading a bag of tasty Jays pretzels for a donation to support their services to the elderly.

The largest portion of Catholic Charities operating budget goes to support services for senior citizens. They include housing, day care, senior centers, case work services, advocacy, housekeeping/homemaker services, home delivered meals, congregate meals and Catholic Home Care.

Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Chicago fulfills the Church's role in the mission of Charity by providing compassionate, competent, and professional services to improve the quality of personal and family life while respecting the unique resources of each individual.

NTJC Parent-Toddler program

The Parent-Toddler program of the Gan Yeladim is designed to meet the needs of the developing two year old and his/her parents or guardians. Children in this age group are usually in the process of discovering and dealing with their independence. "Me do it," is their usual statement.

In the social setting of the Parent-Toddler group these children are given many opportunities to show themselves (and their parents) that they really can "do it".

In addition to the free play activities, appropriate special activities are set up each week. With the guidance of an expert and sensitive teacher, parent and child can work on projects together. A circle time with songs, finger plays and stories, followed by snack time round out each session. Throughout the year Jewish holidays are experienced with age-appropriate activities.

For further information about this program call Betsy Rotberg at 675-4152.

Water exercise classes at LGH

Registration now is under way for fall water exercise classes offered by the Lutheran General Fitness Center, 1875 Dempster St., Park Ridge.

The 12-week session runs from Monday, Sept. 22, through Saturday, Dec. 13. Daily class times are available.

The water aerobics classes are designed to enhance cardiovascular fitness, increase strength and improve flexibility. No swimming skills are required.

"Water aerobics is safe and fun for persons of all ages and physical conditions," said Marilyn Duschl, exercise physiologist at the fitness center. "The buoyancy of the water reduces weight-bearing stress on the joints while the resistance of the water provides a medium by which to strength-train the muscular system."

In addition, water exercise classes provide a refreshing way to shed extra pounds, tone up and stay physically fit.

Classes being offered include:

AquaCise (a moderately intensive cardiovascular workout incorporating strength and flexibility training in the water); Arthritis Water Exercise (a low intensity aquatic program to help those who suffer from arthritis to improve muscular strength and joint mobility); Natal Wave Aerobics (water exercise for women who are pregnant or recently have delivered); and AquaFit (a water aerobic program for individuals looking for an intense cardiovascular workout. This workout is enhanced by deep water training and the use of aquatic equipment).

A physician's approval is required. In addition, all class participants must complete a health history and emergency contact form when they register.

For more information about water aerobics, registration for the session and class fees, call the water exercise program coordinator at the Lutheran General Fitness Center, 847-723-6138.

"Elvis" appears at 10 year old Stephanie Flood's birthday party

Bear Necessities Pediatric Cancer Foundation, Inc. Wish Granter, Lonnie Farr received a request from the medical staff at Children's Memorial Hospital. The last minute plea was needed to boost the spirits of little Stephanie Flood, a pediatric cancer patient at Children's Memorial Hospital. Bear Necessities Pediatric Cancer Foundation, Inc. did some quick discovery work and found that one of the greatest wishes of Stephanie's was to have a "fifties" theme birthday party. So through some magic created by Bear Necessities "Elvis" showed up at Stephanie's house for her 10th birthday party. Well stocked with birthday presents, other fun stuff and birthday cards, Elvis helped to celebrate her birthday. The entire celebration, including the special appearance, was arranged through Bear Necessities Pediatric Cancer Foundation, Inc. where one of their constant operating rules is "remember these little kids fighting cancer are fighting for another tomorrow. So move rapidly to answer these immediate needs". To find out more about Bear Necessities, to volunteer, or to contribute, please call (847) 516-4081. Bear Necessities receives no federal or state funding, yet cancer remains the number one cause of death by disease.

MS Chapter sponsors fall cycling event

The second annual City Cycle Tour for MS, a pledge-based event sponsored by the Chicago-Greater Illinois Chapter, National Multiple Sclerosis Society, begins and ends at Navy Pier on Sunday, Sept. 21 with starting times between 7 and 9 a.m. Riders may choose 30- or 60-mile routes along Chicago's lakefront, historic Hyde Park and North Shore communities, returning to enjoy a finish line party at Navy Pier.

Goals of 1,000 participants and proceeds of $150,000 have been set for the support of research and client services for people with multiple sclerosis in the 73 Illinois counties encompassed by the chapter. Cyclists may register individually or as part of a team of four or more. The top fundraising team will in the City Cycle Tour Challenge Cup to display for a year.

Riders may wear their normal cycling outfits or may be part of a special MasqueRide. Getting into the Halloween spirit early, the chapter challenges cyclists to let their imaginations run wild by creating their own costumes. A Trek 800 bicycle will be presented to the individual and team captain with the most artistic and decorative costume. All riders will be eligible for prizes ranging from an official City Cycle Tour T-shirt at the $100 level to the grand prize for the top fund raiser of two round trip tickets anywhere in the Continental U.S., courtesy of American Airlines. Riders and sponsors are essential to the success of the event, but the chapter also welcomes volunteers able to staff rest stops, cheer riders along the route, drive support vehicles, provide first aid, assist with food service and register participants.

Registration fee for the City Cycle Tour is $15 until Sept. 12 and $25 thereafter in addition to a pledge minimum of $50 for the 30-mile route and $75 for the 60-mile route. You may register and learn more about the ride routes or volunteer opportunities by calling the MS chapter at (312) 922-8000 or 1 (800) 922-0484.

St. Francis Hospital of Evanston opens Health Center on Dempster in Morton Grove

St. Francis Hospital of Evanston will open its newest community health center in Morton Grove on Sept. 13 with a Family Day. Featured at the opening will be Old Town School of Music performers, refreshments, health screenings, giveaways, and a safety talk by nationally known safety expert J.J. Bittenbinder.

"We're responding to the changing healthcare environment as well as to the needs of busy, working men and women," says Anthony Burns, Director of Primary Care Operations for St. Francis Hospital. "More and more people want to have the health records of the entire family in one place. And they want to have an ongoing relationship with their primary care physician. At a facility like St. Francis Health Center/Morton Grove, this is possible."

The center, which is conveniently located at 5747 W. Dempster is staffed by board-certified physicians specializing in family practice, obstetrics/gynecology and occupational medicine. The site is fully equipped with x-ray equipment and a laboratory, so there is no need for an additional hospital visit or a second appointment when x-rays or blood work are ordered.

Additional services at the center include: a full-service occupational health and employee wellness program, and an urgent care walk-in center, physical therapy services, mammography services, primary care physicians offices and offices for the Hope Cancer Care Network, a cooperative service of St. Francis Hospital of Evanston and Resurrection

Blindness warning: Inflatable dangers

Water balloons have been part of fun and cooling summer games for years. Unfortunately kids raised on super-heroes and super-weapons are not content to merely lob water balloons at each other; kids are now able to launch them. Frequently, launching devices like slingshots are used to "shoot" water balloons. They can do serious damage, especially if the balloons hit someone in the eye.

A rim of bone surrounds the eye and protects it from most injuries. Rounded projectiles such as water balloons curve into the eye. When this happens, the eye itself - and not the protective bone - bears the brunt of the impact. To demonstrate the intensity and dangers of such an impact, researchers at the Wright State University School of Medicine launched water balloons at watermelon. From a distance of 20 feet, the watermelon exploded.

Paintballs are a similar danger. In addition to a potential impact injury there is the added danger of paint contaminating the eye. Recently an Illinois teenager was hit in the eye by a paintball launched from a passing car. The long-term results of the accident may prevent the boy from ever regaining clear vision in the injured eye.

Automobile airbags inflate at speeds from 113 to 376 mph and can endanger the eyes in the same way water balloons and paintballs can, as more than one family has discovered. A 10-year-old Utah girl required an intraocular lens replacement after a recent auto accident. Seated in the front seat when the airbag deployed during a minor fender bender, she was struck by the passenger-side airbag rupturing her anterior lens capsule. Prevent Blindness urges parents to secure youngsters in the back seat of automobiles using the restraint system appropriate for their age.

For information about ways to play it safe, call Prevent Blindness America at (800) 331-2020.

Hundreds of friends, family members, and co-workers are expected to join the American Diabetes Association on the road to a cure at the Chicago Lakefront and Busse Woods Forest Preserve in Elk Grove Village.

Registration for each event will begin at 8 a.m. After a festive kick-off, Walktoberfest will formally begin at 9 a.m. Walkers will enjoy snacks, refreshments, and entertainment at rest stops throughout their journey. A celebration and a healthy lunch will await the participants when they cross the finish line.

To help the American Diabetes Association advance miles on the road to a cure, walkers are encouraged to collect pledges to support diabetes research, education, and children's camps.

Plan to join in the fun, the fitness, and the fantastic community spirit that raises money to prevent and cure diabetes! To register or for more information, please call 1-800-254-WALK.

By the fall of 1997, St. Francis Health Center/Evanston and St. Francis Health Center/Kenilworth will join the family as well.

Residents to trample heart disease

Hundreds of community residents will be taking steps to fight heart disease and stroke, Chicago's - and the nation's - leading causes of death and disability at the 1997 American Heart Walk sponsored by Omron and presented by Loyola University Health System.

The three mile walk will be held on Sunday, September 28 at the Blue Star Memorial Woods on East Lake Avenue west of Harms Road and east of Wagner Road in Glenview. Warm-up begins at 8:30 a.m. and the walk starts at 9 a.m.

The non-competitive walk attracts participants of all ages, including corporate teams, families and individuals. Each walker raising $100 receives an Omron American Heart Walk T-shirt and will be eligible for more prizes. Walkers ask friends and co-workers for donations to benefit the American Heart Association of Metropolitan Chicago's cardiovascular research and educational programs.

Walkers who have had a stroke, heart attack, or heart surgery will be given red caps with the slogan "Fighting Back" in honor of their victory over heart disease. Many participants will wear signs identifying that they are walking in honor of a loved one who has survived, or died from, heart disease.

Although a serious issue, volunteers organizing the event promise family fun. Food, music, a mini-health fair and prizes will be featured at the walk. Whole Foods Market will provide heart-healthy food at the event and Omron, a manufacturer of blood pressure monitoring equipment, will offer free blood pressure screenings.

To join the American Heart Walk, or to organize a company team, call the AHA at (847) 362-0808.

The BUGLE BRIDAL GUIDE

Creative Gifts For The Wedding Party

Giving a small gift as a token of appreciation to bridesmaids, ushers, honor attendants, flower girls and ring bearers has long been a custom of brides and grooms. Traditionally, bridesmaids and ushers receive the same gift and honor attendants receive something a bit more special, but today, the trend is to personalize the gift to reflect tastes or interests of each attendant.

Here is a sampling of creative and personalized gifts for everyone in the bridal party.

Ushers and best man: gumball machine filled with a favorite candy; shaving case; great-looking vest for the wedding day and beyond; a bottle of vintage port; portable CD player; monogrammed bathrobe or a day of skiing (or fishing, golf, tennis, etc.)

For either: leather business-card case; fountain pen; sports wristwatch; weekend bag; leather address book; engraved stationery or two tickets to a concert or sporting event.

For children: computer game software; heart locket; charm bracelet; classic children's book or autographed baseball.

"Wedding attendants are special friends and relatives of the bride and groom who often are called into service to help with the wedding arrangements as well as provide moral support to the couple during an emotionally charged time," notes Millie Bratten, BRIDE'S Magazine editor-in-chief.

A Good Husband
A Master of a house
(as I have read)

Must be the first man up,
and last man in bed;
With the Sun rising he must walk his grounds;

See this, View that, and all the other bounds;
Shut every gate; mend
every hedge that's torne,

Either with old, or plant
therein new thorne;
Tread o'er his globe, but with such care, that where

He sets his foot, he leaves rich compost there.

Social Security and Brides

The list of "thing to do" is usually pretty long for brides-to-be before their wedding. The Social Security Administration (SSA) wants to add one more important, but very easy item to that list. If you're going to change your name when you marry, remember to tell Social Security.

For women who work, reporting this name change assures that you will receive proper credit for your earnings and, one day, all the Social Security benefits you are due. For women who don't work outside the home, reporting the change will ensure that your Social Security record shows the correct name when it's time to apply for benefits.

Another important reason to report your change of name is that Internal Revenue Service and SSA records should show the same name and Social Security number. If they don't, your tax refund may be delayed.

Of course, if you continue to use your maiden name after marriage, as many women do today, you don't need to report your marriage. Just be sure to use your maiden name consistently throughout your working years.

If you change your mind later, let Social Security know.

To report a name change, call Social Security's toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213, any business day between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m., or call or visit your local Social Security office. You'll need to complete an Application For a Social Security Card and provide either your marriage certificate to verify your old and new names or two documents—one with your maiden name and one with your married name. All documents must be originals or certified copies. The application form lists acceptable documents.

It's that easy. And, it's free. Don't be misled by any business that offers to complete the paperwork for you—for a fee.

The Bridal Shower

At one time, marriage was a business proposition between parents of the bride and groom. Love was not important. What was? The price the groom's family paid for the bride. And the size of the bride's dowry. The first shower? A poor dutch miller fell in love with a maiden whose father forbade the match and refused to provide a dowry. The miller's friends came to the rescue and showered the bride-to-be with enough gifts to start housekeeping.

Wedding etiquette: How to do the right thing

The wedding date is fast approaching, and the major planning—selecting the date, the site, the dress—is completed. But suddenly, engaged couples find themselves awash in a last wave of details and small (but often sticky) decisions. The kind that cause confusion or, worse, angst about potentially awkward situations.

Should the person who pays for the wedding be listed at the top of the invitation?

Not necessarily. Your parents can be the hosts even if you and your fiancé are paying.

Why is the receiving line important—and what do I say to people?

At a large wedding, a receiving line may be your only chance to speak to each guest! The wedding host traditionally heads the line. Let guests know how glad you are to see them and introduce them to the groom with a few words of background.

How do I let guests know that I would like cash for a wedding gift?

Never ask for cash as a gift. Your mother, your fiancé's mother and your wedding attendants can pass the word.

Is it proper to list where I have registered on the wedding invitation?

No—it implies that the gift is as important as the guest. Let close relatives and friends tell guests where you have registered. Registry information may also be listed on shower invitations.

Try tossing birdseed at the bride

Birdseed is the ecologically safest stuff to toss at the bride and groom, says a Connecticut lawmaker who has introduced a bill banning instant rice wedding.

dings, reports International Wildlife magazine.

Innocuous as it seems, instant rice kills birds that eat it by absorbing moisture, causing severe bloating, says Mae Schimide, the legislator introducing the birdseed bill. She does not advocate policing weddings, but simply wants well-wishers to convert to birdseed.

Over the threshold

Because ancient man stole his bride, he carried her over the threshold kicking and shouting.

Struggling is still a Greek threshold ritual, but no one remembers why. Now for everyone it's another happy custom!

Planning A Dream Wedding: Ways To Get The Best Value

When you close your eyes, you can see it...the endless cascade of flowers. Or maybe the vision is an elegant dinner at a manor—or a tent pitched in the back yard of your parents' home. Whether the fantasy is a seated reception, a guest list that won't end or a ceremony sendoff in a vintage automobile, these are what dream weddings are made of.

Once you identify the dream, how do you afford it? The February/March issue of Bride's Magazine offers readers the keys, with a quiz to determine their priorities, a wedding-budget worksheet, and 99 ways to get top value for their dollar in a wide range of categories from sites, food and flowers to photography, music and the honeymoon. Profiles of real couples illustrate how they fulfilled their ultimate celebrations.

Here is a sampling of the money-saving tips according to the bride and groom's splurge-or-save preferences:

Food

Usually the largest expense, catering can be more economical when you:

- Choose foods carefully (chicken costs less than beef, broccoli less than asparagus), and select items that are in season.

- Eliminate the appetizer course if hors d'oeuvres will be served.

- Consider a wedding brunch (serving pastries, muffins, Mimosas) or an English tea reception (with teas, finger sandwiches, scones) instead of a seated dinner.

- Order a white-wedding—sheet cake to complement a smaller, decorated wedding cake.

Photography

Capturing a once-in-a-lifetime event on film is essential. Invest in the best photographer you can afford and:

- Compare hourly fees versus package prices.

- Consider having the formal wedding portrait shot at the reception.

- Hire the photographer for formal portraits and ceremony only, encouraging guest to take candid shots at the reception with single-use cameras on the table.

- Find out how long the photographer will keep negatives. (You may prefer to buy additional prints in the future, after other wedding bills are paid.)

Flowers

A symbol of bounty and fertility, their intoxicating aroma once was thought to protect the couple from evil spirits. Fabulous flowers can be worked into the tightest budget with these tips:

- Carry in-season and locally grown flowers—less pricey than out-of-season exotics.

- Group multiple blooms of inexpensive flowers (i.e., baby's breath), tying them together to give the effect of one huge, lavish flower.

- Have bridesmaids and/or mothers carry bouquets with larger but fewer flowers (French tulips, sunflowers).

- Plan a wedding during a holiday season; the site may already be adorned with greenery and lights.

Bridal Attire

A bride's gown is often her foremost priority—and sets the tone and formality of the wedding.

- Shop early (at least nine months before the wedding) to find the widest range of styles and prices.

- Avoid costly alterations (changing the neckline or waist, cutting down a too-large gown), and get a quote for alterations before buying—if it's too high, ask for an itemization.

- Ask the store's bridal consultant about discontinued styles and samples—they may offer extra savings. (Fabrics such as silk shantung, satin, organza and taffeta are multiseasonal.)

- Be creative with bridal accessories; garters, ring pillows

The bride & groom exchange gifts

On their wedding day, the groom gifts his bride with a very special present that tells her of his love and his joy that she has consented to become his wife. The gift she usually wears to the altar.

The bride may choose to give her groom a wedding day memento also. Her gift is entirely optional but most brides do take this opportunity to convey their love in this way.

The custom of a gift exchange between the bride and groom traditionally centers around gifts of jewelry. Jewelry is appropriately significant and properly sentimental for commemorating the wonderful day of their wedding.

and purses can be embellished at home by you and your bridesmaids.

Honeymoon

A luxurious vacation can be within reach and careful planning and research.

- Book an all-inclusive package tour; you'll know up front what expenses will be.

- Travel off-season for lower airfare and hotel rates/packages (the Caribbean from May to mid-December, Bermuda in April, the Greek Isles in May and October).

- Plan in advance to take advantage of promotional airfares, frequent flier seats and lower rates for rental cars, rooms and cruise berths.

"Every couple defines a 'dream wedding' in their own way," explains Bride's Editor-in-Chief, Millie Bratten. "One bride and groom saved money by holding a midday—rather than an evening—reception at a California winery, with fresh grape centerpieces in lieu of flowers on the tables, but they didn't hesitate to budget $320 for butterflies to be released at the end of the ceremony," says Bratten. "When it comes to details that are memorable and personal, it is money truly well spent."

Toast tips

Almost everyone has attended at least one wedding where the best man's toast was a flop. Perhaps he rambled on for ten minutes as the audience's attention waned, unsure of how to "wind things up gracefully. Or maybe he tried to tell a joke that simply wasn't funny, or he was not speaking into the microphone and no one heard a word he said.

According to various surveys, the average American's most common phobia is public speaking, and making toasts is certainly not any less threatening. Fortunately for Chicagoland's honor attendants, parents of brides and grooms, and bridal couples struggling to prepare their wedding toasts, Chicago is home to Words For You, Speeches and Creative Writing. This unique company will help you find the perfect way to express yourself with confidence and poise. They offer the following pointers:

- If you are going to share a story about the bride and/or groom with the crowd, be sure it is about something that the majority of the crowd can relate to. Long stories about fraternal parties are going to be boring to all but just a few people in your audience.

- Never embarrass the bride or groom with the wedding toast. Roasting should be done at the rehearsal dinner. Any humor invoked at the wedding should be loving.

- Remember to bring your glass of champagne with you to the microphone so that you can drink to the bride and groom.

- Relax! Remember that you are preaching to the converted.

North Park College and Theological Seminary becomes North Park University

After a decade of substantial growth and in light of its future plans, North Park College and Theological Seminary has become North Park University. For more than 100 years, North Park College and Theological Seminary has been educating students on Chicago's northwest side through a variety of undergraduate and graduate programs. While maintaining its commitment to individual attention and undergraduate Christian liberal arts education, the school believes that the name North Park University more accurately reflects the breadth of its current and anticipated programs. According to President David G. Horner: "North Park University describes more inclusively and accurately the academic programs offered. For a long time, North Park has provided graduate programs through the Seminary, but over the past seven years we have added graduate programs in business, nursing, management, and education. And future graduate programs are anticipated in community development, social work, health sciences, and possibly other disciplines. The new name also allows North Park to communicate better its purpose and function to various constituents. North Park's large international student community, approximately 10 percent of total enrollment, defines "college" and "university" differently than American students; for many internationals, college does not denote the same level of education as university. Similarly, "university" should correct the misconceptions of those who might have considered North Park merely a divinity school because of the "theological seminary" at the end of its name. The change to university follows a decade of growth: Enrollment is at an all-time high: over 2,000 students are expected this fall, nearly double since 1990, from 37 states and 22 foreign countries. Also, since 1990, new graduate programs have been created in business, nursing, and education. Additionally, North Park Theological Seminary has initiated two doctoral programs. North Park University has five cultural centers (four of them since 1991): African American, Korean, Latino, Middle Eastern, and Scandinavian. The University's endowment is now over $20 million (up from $8 million in 1990) with an additional $53 million in documented deferred gift commitments. The A. Harold and Lorraine Anderson Chapel was constructed in 1992, numerous campus facilities have been renovated over the past decade, and all campus facilities are connected with fiber optic cable, giving faculty, staff, and students ready access to the World Wide Web. Plans for the future indicate changes as dramatic as those of the past decade. Strategies include continuing to build enrollment from 2,000 in 1996 to 3,000 by 2007, dramatically improving the historic Chicago campus by adding new facilities, and developing a sizable off-campus enrollment base drawn from the University's national Church constituency. Though the change to university officially occurred July 1, it will become visible along Foster Avenue when campus signs are changed to read North Park University and, at that time, university banners will be hung in front of Old Main. North Park's first university celebration will introduce the change to alumni and friends at Homecoming, Oct. 31-Nov. 2.

Year round schools

When America was an agricultural society, it was important for children to be out of school early in the year so that they could work in the fields. Today, few of us are farmers and we find ourselves competing globally with adults who have been educated in school systems which are open 200, 220 or more days a year. American schools are open about 180-185 days a year. There is a continuous drumbeat to extend the school year which was established in the horse and buggy days yet are fast approaching the year 2000. On July 28, 1997 District 62 in Des Plaines opened Iroquois Community School as the first year round school in the north west suburbs. Children will be able to extend their school year by as many as 30 days. There are other year round schools in Illinois and in most other states. The oldest year round school is the Park School in Hayward, California which has been operating for more than 20 years. What exactly is a year round school? Why do proponents seem so excited about them? Will they really live up to their billing?

How do parents, the community, and most important, how do children react to this new type of school which started in the middle of the summer when most kids are still at the swimming pool or the playground? PLAIN SPEAKING addressed these and other related issues September 10 through September 20 with host Bill Blaine and guests from Iroquois Community School Tom Ray, Principal, and Val Murdy, 3rd grad teacher. PLAIN SPEAKING can be seen on TCI channel 65/68 on Sunday 4 p.m.; Monday, 7:30 p.m.; Tuesday, 12:30 p.m. and 5:30 p.m., and Thursday at 12:30 p.m. Viewers who have comments about PLAIN SPEAKING or suggested topics may contact us at 847/255-8410 or you can email us at: bblaine@interaccess.com.

'Angels in the Fairway' tops all records

A net total of $110,000 was raised at the 1st annual "Angels In The Fairway" Golf Outing held in memory of 3-1/2 year-old Joey Mix of Buffalo Grove.

Larry and Patty Mix, Joey's parents, established the "Joey's Angels Chapter" of the Leukemia Research Foundation following the passing of their son in August of last year. The Chapter name and "Angels in The Fairway" were so chosen because the film "Angels in The Outfield" was young Joey's favorite movie viewed countless times with his parents.

More than 430 golfers participated in the outing (August 6) with 550 persons attending the evening's dinner featuring a sports memorabilia auction along with a film of Joey and his family. The Jesse White Tumblers entertained the golfers prior to tee-off times.

"The outpouring of love and affection for Joey Mix and his parents was awe-inspiring," reflected Janie Weisenberg, executive director of the Lincolnwood-based Leukemia Research Foundation, "and the $110,000 raised was the largest first-time chapter event in the 51-year-history of our organization."

The Leukemia Research Foundation is comprised of more than 1,000 volunteers, forming 17 local chapters, who have joined together to conquer leukemia by funding research into its causes and cures, and to enrich the quality of life of those touched by the disease. More than $16 million has been raised since the Foundation's inception in 1946.

Plans are underway for the 2nd annual "Angels In The Fairway" Golf Outing for '98 and information can be obtained by calling the Leukemia Research Foundation at (847) 982-1480. "Angels In The Fairway" is presented by F.H. Paschen Company.

ALAMC offers savings for golfers

The American Lung Association of Metropolitan Chicago (ALAMC) offers golfers a chance to take advantage of an end of the season golf promotion on its 1997 Golf Privilege Card. Golfers can enjoy some great golf for only $25, a $10 savings.

The American Lung Association Golf Privilege Card is good for free or reduced greens fees at more than 185 courses throughout Illinois. Among the Chicago area courses honoring the card are Metro Golf/Illinois Center Course & Range, Fresh Meadows Course & Range, Winnetka Golf Club & Range, Palatine Hills, Balmoral Woods, Plum Tree National and Silverlake. The card can also be used for PGA golf lessons offered throughout the city and suburbs.

An American Lung Association Golf Privilege Card demonstrates a commitment to the fight against lung disease, the third leading cause of death and disability in the United States. By purchasing a Golf Privilege Card, millions of children and adults who suffer from lung disease will breathe a little easier. Proceeds from the sale of golf cards help support lung disease research and education programs. These include a camp for severely asthmatic children, clean air initiatives to reduce air pollution and research on respiratory distress syndrome, a killer of newborns.

Time is limited. To order a 1997 Golf Privilege Card and take advantage of this special offer, call the American Lung Association of Metropolitan Chicago at (312) 243-2000.

Police News

Theft

A 45-year-old Niles Service Agent returned to her home in the 8400 block of Betty Terrace Aug. 8 and found the front door open.

Although there were no signs of force and nothing appeared to be disturbed, the victim noticed a piggy bank that contained about $150 in change missing. She did not believe it necessary to make a police report at that time, but by Aug. 29 she realized that a 1" wide gold bracelet valued at $1,000 and a 3/4" herring bone gold bracelet valued at $900 were also missing.

A 54-year-old staff writer left her multi-colored knit purse containing a wallet with a debit card, three personal checks and $30 cash in a shopping cart in the parking lot of the supermarket in the 8900 block of Greenwood around 3:30 p.m. Aug. 29.

When she realized what she had done, she returned to retrieve the purse, but it was gone. The store employees were notified to look for the purse and the victim contacted her bank to cancel her account.

Theft from auto

A 27-year-old Chicago man observed an unknown gray-haired man around 45 years of age standing at the rear of a 1991 Chevrolet G20 van belonging to a 46-year-old Des Plaines woman.

The witness told police he saw the offender remove a spare tire and tire housing kit from the victim's vehicle and enter a running 1985 Chevrolet G20 van which was driven by another unknown male. The offenders fled southbound on Greenwood from Ballard. A check of the area proved negative.

A 44-year-old employee of the supermarket in the 8900 block of Greenwood reported that unknown person(s) removed a spare tire from the rear of his 1995 Chevrolet G20 van sometime between 4 p.m. and 8:50 p.m. Aug. 30 while it was parked in the store parking lot.

The tire, a Uniroyal Tiger Paw with custom cover, was secured in place by a padlock and two bolts.

Theft of vehicle

A 36-year-old plumber employed by a Wheeling construction company reported that unknown offender(s) cut a chain securing an 8 hp Honda generator valued at $1,300 to the rear bed of a white Ford pick-up truck and removed it while the truck was parked in the 6900 block of Oakton Street sometime between 9 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Sept. 4.

Theft to trailer

A 33-year-old supervisor employed by a Roselle landscaping company reported that unknown offender(s) cut a chain securing two Echo leaf blowers to an open air trailer parked in the northwest lot of a company in the 3900 block of Howard Street and removed the blowers, which were valued at $300 each.

Theft from auto

A 49-year-old electronics technician reported that he was approached by a couple in their 50s while he was placing miscellaneous merchandise valued at $921 which he had just purchased in the retail store in the 6100 block of Touhy into his car, which was parked in the parking lot of the store.

The couple told him their battery was dead and asked him for a jump. After giving their car a jump, the couple said they would stay in their car for a short time. The victim went back into the store to purchase another item. When he returned to his unlocked car, the merchandise was missing.

Criminal damage to property

The 33-year-old daughter of a 58-year-old head pharmacist reported that unknown offender(s) hurled a water balloon against a screen on the south side of the west end of her father's house in the 9900 block of Huber Oval Aug. 30.

The force of the water from the broken balloon broke the 1.5' x 4' window splashing water into a den and over a computer.

No offender was seen in the area and no reason for the damage is known.

Burglary

A 63-year-old retired woman living in the 8200 block of Oleaner Avenue reported that unknown offender(s) entered her home while she was cutting grass between 9:30 a.m. and 11:15 a.m. Aug. 30 gaining entry through a rear unlocked door after forcing entry to a rear yard through a locked gate from an alleyway.

Once inside the home, the offender(s) were selective as they proceeded upstairs to the victim's bedroom. It appears that the offender(s) knew the exact location of the victim's jewelry, as the only area that was disturbed or entered was the victim's bedroom and only select drawers in the area where the items were kept were disturbed.

The victim's 19-year-old grandson who resides with the victim and her live-in boyfriend was sleeping downstairs at the time of the burglary.

The grandson told police the victim and her boyfriend have been having problems in their relationship lately and have been arguing for the last three weeks. Although the boyfriend is financially well off and gave his grandmother most of the jewelry, the grandson suspects that he may be the thief because he knew the exact location of the jewelry.

The grandson told police the boyfriend has been acting strange lately, disappearing from the home for long periods, and losing his temper easily.

A canvas of the neighborhood proved negative. A follow-up will include an interview of the boyfriend, police said.

Buckle Up Right!

INFANT DEATH: In 1995, parents of a newborn baby girl were shown a 1989 car seat instructional video before discharge from a maternity hospital. The video recommended transporting the infant in a restraint in the front seat so the driver could monitor the infant. This was a routine advice only a few years ago. NO mention was made of the hazard of a passenger frontal air bag to an infant, because that had not been an issue when the video was made.

Within a month of birth, the infant died from injuries due to the impact of the air bag during a crash. The mother survived with minor injuries. The hospital was sued for using a video that failed to warn about this new hazard. The parents did not notice the warning flyer they received in their hospital packet.

CHILD SAFE: Early last year, during a routine child safety seat check by law enforcement officers, two expectant parents were shown how to correctly install a child safety seat for their expected child. The officers explained the importance of installing it in the rear seat of the vehicle. Six months later, the "new" parents and their baby were involved in a traffic crash. The child was found safe in a correctly installed child safety seat. The parents had followed the directions of the police officers and had read and remembered the important public service messages of putting children in the rear seat.

The difference between these two stories is literally life and death. Accurate information was the critical difference. Reading the information that comes with your vehicle and child safety restraint is extremely important.

Motor vehicle crashes are the leading cause of death for every age from 6 through 28 years old. Practicing safe behaviors such as wearing safety belts, placing children correctly in appropriate child restraints and reading manufacturers' instructions, can all significantly reduce the number of injuries and fatalities suffered.

Now during National Car Care Month, the National Safety Belt Coalition asks that you:

NEVER allow children to ride in the cargo area of pickup trucks.

ALWAYS set a good example: Make sure all front and rear seat passengers are properly buckled up or secured in child safety seats.

'Some social drinkers...are unable to consider the potential of inflicting a life of sorrow and misery on others or themselves, when they drink and drive.'

Drunk driving tied to senselessness, stupidity

A few weeks ago new legislation was passed which changed our D.U.I. (driving under the influence) law. The blood alcohol from .10 to .08. Stiff legislation such as the most recent effort and enforcement are indeed important. However, too many times enforcement comes too late. Now, if we only had the ability to lower the stupidity level of the individuals who drive while intoxicated, we would definitely be taking a step in the right direction.

Usually, when people, especially law enforcement professionals and other public officials talk about issues such as D.U.I. the real problems become obscured by the statistics and rhetoric. I would much rather talk about senselessness, stupidity and lack of responsibility. For starters, it is my opinion, there are two kinds of people who drink and drive. Those who are sick, i.e., alcoholics and then we have the social drinkers. In some cases social drinkers increase their level of stupidity with each drink. In both cases i.e., alcoholics and social drinkers lack of common sense comes into play.

However, the social drinker, turned dummy, bothers me the most. This individual usually possesses the cognitive skills which enable him or her to determine if they can or cannot afford a new car. Most of them can determine whether or not they can swim from the North Avenue Beach to Green Bay, Wisconsin. Yet they are unable to consider the potential of inflicting a life of sorrow and misery on others or themselves, when they drink and drive.

The dummies I speak of are the people who sit at a bar get-

Safe driving tips for cellular users from Ameritech

1. Motorists should focus complete attention on the road. Drivers should refrain from eating, drinking, changing CDs, playing with the radio, putting on make-up, brushing hair, note taking or reading while the car is in motion. Motorists should also avoid complicated or emotional conversations.
2. Avoid talking on the phone in congested areas or bad weather. Exit the highway if necessary to dial or complete a conversation.
3. In heavy traffic or hazardous conditions, let your voice messaging service take the call. Check and return your messages after locating an accessible exit or rest area.
4. If you can't find a safe place to pull off the road, stay in the slow lane and pay particular attention to traffic conditions when phoning. Dial a few digits, then survey traffic before completing the call. (Better yet, have a passenger dial.)
5. Keep your cellular phone within comfortable reach at all times.
6. Use your hands-free speaker

Deceptive collect calls warning

The Council of Better Business Bureaus has been alerted to deceptive collect calls being made to individuals in the guise of a charitable donation. According to call recipients, individuals are asked if they would accept a collect call from "Jennifer" (sometimes "John" is used) If they agree, they then hear a prerecorded message that informs them that they have just made an eight ($8) dollar donation to a specified "missing children's charity."

These calls are a double tragedy. Individuals are deceived into accepting these charges and the image of charity is tarnished by the unscrupulous fund raising method," said Bennett M. Weiner, vice president in charge of the CBBB's Philanthropic Advisory Service.

The Better Business Bureau offers individuals the following tips in dealing with such calls:

- (1) Don't accept a collect call from someone you don't know. If you can, verify the full name of any collect caller before agreeing to accept the charges.
- (2) If you accept a deceptive collect call in error, listen carefully to the message and note any information that might be helpful in filing a complaint (i.e., the exact name of the charity, its location, the name of the long distance carrier, etc.).

(3) Contact the Better Business Bureau of Chicago and Northern Illinois (312) 832-0500--so they can alert others in the community about the ruse.

(4) Inform your local phone carrier about the problem. However, they might not be able to provide immediate assistance without the name of the long distance carrier that placed the collect call.

(5) Look at your next phone bill carefully. It should identify the deceptive collect call charge and the long distance carrier that placed the call. Make a copy of this bill and send it along with a complaint letter to your local phone carrier, with a copy also being sent to:

- a) The Federal Trade Commission, Consumer Protection Branch, Washington, D.C. 20554 Mail Stop 1600A; and
- b) The Better Business Bureau, 330 North Wabash, Suite 2006, Chicago, IL 60611.

-You also might want to request potential assistance from the Illinois State's Attorney General office and public utilities commission.

Edward Jones ranks No. 1 in Wall Street Journal stock picks ranking

The financial-services firm Edward Jones was ranked No. 1 out of 16 major brokerage firms in 12-month performance in the Wall Street Journal's quarterly stock picks ranking. In addition, the 32.4 percent turnover rate in Edward Jones' recommended portfolio was the lowest among these firms over the past four-and-a-half years.

Investment Representative Jeffrey L. Cardella said that the firm's low turnover rate is especially important in light of the recent capital gains tax cut.

"The turnover rate in many brokerage firms recommended portfolios will exceed 100 percent this year," Cardella said. "Investors who follow these recommendations may experience negative tax consequences. At Jones, the turnover rate in our recommended portfolio year-to-date is just 6.7 percent, which illustrates our buy-and-hold philosophy. Clients who follow our recommendations and invest long term should benefit from reduced capital gains taxes."

Ray Robbins, director of Jones' Research Department, which compiles the firm's list, said Jones' list is comprised of well-known companies. "History has shown that the stocks of large, seasoned companies perform better and come with less risk than small-company stocks, so that's where we recommend our customers invest," Robbins said.

Cardella said many investors are more comfortable with Edward Jones' recommended stocks because the companies are familiar, long-standing names. "Investors often use the products of the companies we recommend, so they know firsthand what these companies do. They also appreciate that Edward Jones doesn't base its recommendations on the latest hot trend."

With more than 3,600 offices in all 50 states, Edward Jones is the largest financial-services firm in the nation in terms of offices and serves more than 2.5 million customers. Plans are under way to expand to 10,000 offices in the next decade. Edward Jones offers a variety of investments, including certificates of deposit, taxable and tax-free bonds, stocks and mutual funds.

Edward Jones' interactive Web site is located at www.edwardjones.com.

With a $25 donation to RMHC, customers can sign up for Cellular One service and receive a free Motorola flip phone, three months service charge fee, plus a Ronald McDonald backpack for children, containing two McDonald's food coupons and a cellular phone safety tips coloring sheet.

Cellular One has sponsored promotions benefiting RMHC for five consecutive years. This promotion and other activities throughout the year have helped Cellular One raise more money for RMHC of Chicagoland and Northwest Indiana than any other area fund-raiser. To date, Cellular One has raised more than $4.3 million for the organization, representing more than 50 percent of the total funds raised by the local RMHC chapter since 1987.

For families on-the-go, Cellular One encourages parents and kids to review the following cellular phone safety tips in order to stay in touch and to be prepared for an emergency situation:

• Teach children to memorize their home address, phone number and area code.

• Post important phone numbers, such as police, fire and poison control, by the phones in the house.

• Show children how to use a wireless phone and dial 9-1-1 in an emergency. (As of July 1997, if you live in suburban Cook County, dial "0" on your wireless phone in case of an emergency. Everywhere else in Chicagoland, dial 9-1-1 on your wireless phone in case of an emergency.)

• Program important phone numbers into the cellular phone's memory, so family members can speed dial in a difficult situation.

• Consider using a digital cellular phone that displays a text message or a phone number when a message had been left to avoid missing messages from children.

• Investigate purchasing a phone with call forwarding capabilities, so children can reach parents who are on-the-go.

• In an emergency, locate major landmarks or street signs so the operator can inform the police where the emergency is occurring. Do not hang up until the operator has all the necessary information.

Grazie! Italian Restaurant brings authentic food and fine art to suburbs

Amidst a comfortable, informal dining atmosphere, Grazie!, formerly Knickers (1050 E. Oakton) features authentic cuisine surrounded by classical murals, stained glass, and mosaic tile - all reminiscent of the Italian countryside.

With its mosaic floors, Botticelli-esque murals, jewel-tone stained glass walls and a Tuscan-style dining room with crisp white linen tablecloths, Grazie! offers traditional regional Italian dishes from pastas to steaks and salads to chops. Herbs are fresh, sauces are homemade, and on-site butchering ensures Grazie!'s commitment to quality fresh food.

"Our intention is to bring authentic Italian cuisine and baked goods through our retail bakery to Des Plaines, and do it within a real Italian setting," owner Nicholas Mitchell embarked. "We are proud to bring the best of Italy, its food and art, to this wonderful community."

Hearty portions, beautiful plate presentations and friendly service are trademarks at Grazie! As an added bonus, the on-site retail bakery features fresh baked breads, Italian pastries, and custom cakes.

Perfect for a delightful afternoon, the restaurant is open for lunch Monday through Saturday, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. An ideal dining spot, Grazie! offers evening meals Monday through Thursday, 5 to 10 p.m. and Friday and Saturday, 5 p.m. to midnight. Auditions for Prelude to a Kiss

The love of two people is challenged by the supernatural, as a wish, a kiss, and a little bit of magic switch the identities of a young new bride and a much older man -- and the groom has no idea what has happened! How will the groom find his bride, again? And how will he return things to normal? You can help the story unfold by auditioning for DPTG's 2nd show of its 52nd season, Prelude to a Kiss.

Who: Everyone -- auditions are open to all; minorities are encouraged to audition

When: Monday, September 15th, or Tuesday, September 16th; 7 p.m. -- No appointments are required

Where: Prairie Lakes Community Center 515 E. Dempster/Thacker, Des Plaines

How: All auditionees are asked to be ready for cold readings from the script. Headshots/resumes will be accepted, but are not mandatory.

There is no pay.

The show will be presented in 12 performances on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays, for four weekends beginning in November, 1997.

For more information, call the DPTG 24-hour box office at 847-391-5720.

woman, who was born into wealth and lived a life of gentility and lavishness, who courted the press unashamedly and was a woman of admired but limited attributes.

This is the television age. Images and stories are fed to watchers over and over again. And after hearing the same stories many times they seem to become implanted in us.

When JFK was killed Jackie Kennedy contacted her friend, journalist Teddy White, who created the myth about the Kennedys' lives in Camelot. Television fed us this fairy tale about the beautiful prince and princess who were supposedly the Kennedys; the era of Camelot was the era of the Kennedys' brief lives in the White House. A more accurate story would have been of the philandering president, a mediocre Senator, whose father's questionable money bought him the highest office in the land.

It seems to be the nature of TV to overkill. The same story is repeated ad infinitum on every channel on the tube.

From Koppel to Brokaw to Rather to Jennings to all the cable stations, THE story becomes like dripping water, endlessly beating on us until it becomes truth...or at least "TV truth".

Michael Jordan is the "greatest". But is he really greater than Babe Ruth or Ty Cobb or Ted Williams or Red Grange? Because of television he is the greatest.

Indulging in a bit of pop psychology we concluded the emotions of the last week were not unlike the emotions which many express at the movies. The tears elicited in the darkness of the theatre are not just for the heroine who is being taken advantage of. Those tears are for ourselves. Most of us carry frustrations and feelings which remain unsolved. We carry them bottled up through the years. And when a beautiful princess and a handsome president are unfairly taken from us we release those feelings, crying for the unfairness of their tragedies. And for the unfairness which has touched us all.

crazy," Mike Lochner, 30, reminisced. "You didn't buy flowers, you bought food," Mike Lochner quoted his great-grandfather.

Mr. Lochner and his sister went on to build first a small greenhouse in the front part of a store and later a larger green house as well as four hot beds, the younger Lochner said.

Today, Mike Lochner's father Jack Lochner runs the business. Mike Lochner is the only one of the 10 Lochner grandchildren who is involved full-time in the business, although he said that his brothers and sisters all help from time to time. Mike Lochner also lives in the family home near the greenhouse business, which once was the home of his Aunt Gertrude. He says the home is nearly 100 years old.

Mike Lochner said his grand-father's grandparents came from Bavaria settling in Morton Grove in 1842. They farmed a quarter section of land from what is today Lehigh Avenue to Waukegan Road, Mike Lochner said.

The Forest Preserve District now controls much of the original Lochner farm property, but the family still has the site where the home and greenhouses are located.

"My grandfather had a great life," Mike Lochner said. He was a great guy who enjoyed every minute of his life, his family, his kids and his friends," the younger Lochner said.

Besides his wife Helen, sister Gertrude, son Jack J. and grandson Mike, Mr. Lochner is survived by a brother, Michael, another son Richard M., of Colorado, 11 other grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Funeral services for Mr. Lochner were held at 10:30 a.m. Sept. 10 at St. Martha Church. Entombment was at All Saints Mausoleum.

to subdue their victims.

Such may have been the case with the Glenview woman who went to a Niles bar in the 7800 block of Caldwell Avenue around 12:30 a.m. Aug. 31. She was in the company of her nephew and his girlfriend when she was asked to dance by an unknown male subject who subsequently bought an alcoholic drink for the victim, which she consumed.

At approximately 1:30 a.m., the victim left the bar with the man. She recalls being in the parking lot of the bar with the man near a GMC Jimmy truck but has no memory of getting into the vehicle or of being driven anywhere.

The victim's next recollection is of awakening in a bedroom of a house she was told by the man was located in Wheeling. It is unknown whose house it was. Later, the man drove the victim to her home in Glenview.

The victim has limited recollection of the circumstances and location where the incident occurred but believes that some type of sexual abuse or assault occurred in Wheeling to which she did not consent. She also believes that some type of drug was put in her drink which affected her consciousness.

The incident was reported to Niles police around 4:50 p.m. Sept. 1. The investigation has been turned over to Wheeling police.
