

Skaja directs funeral of Cicero children killed in fire

by Rosemary Tirio

An incredibly sad scene found its way to Niles Monday morning, even though the tragedy that caused it occurred in faraway Cicero.

Shortly after 10 a.m., five hearses bearing five identical small white coffins wound their way out of the driveway of the Skaja Funeral Home, 7812 Milwaukee Ave., where the wake was held for the five Poull children, Stephanie Martin, 11, 9-year-old twins Shawn and William Poull, Charissa Poull, 5, and Kevin Poull 4, killed in a Cicero apartment fire.

The cortege turned northwest onto Milwaukee Avenue, the first leg of the journey to St. Zachary Church, 567 W. Algonquin Rd., Des Plaines, where Father Anthony Bus would officiate at their funeral service.

Ed Holod, a retired Niles resident, watched the sad procession from his home in the 7800 block of O'Dell Avenue. "It was sad to see all those caskets coming out

Funeral services held for Dorothy Dolack

by Rosemary Tirio

Dorothy Dolack, Niles businesswoman, Zoning Board member and resident for 33 years, passed away Sept. 18.

She had worked for many years as vice president, secretary and treasurer of the DuPage Die Casting and Fabricating Corporation in Niles, which her brother Joseph Dolack founded in the 1950s. Another brother, Lee Dolack is also involved in the family business, according to Carol Dolack, a niece.

James Callero, chairman of the Niles Zoning Board, said Ms. Dolack had worked on the board for nine years.

"She made all the monthly

Hired last summer as an intern at the Park District's Howard Leisure Center, Diana Skyrpek ended up with a full-time job she has come to love.

During a year that has seen the addition of three new members to the Board, and the departure of Greg Genz, golf pro at Tam, and Jerry Krewer, Superintendent of Recreation, new faces are becoming commonplace at the Park District.

Then the Park District was faced with replacing another face all had come to know, Sara Welk.

Take a Morton Grove historic bus tour

The Morton Grove Historical Society takes history on the road, at the Village Autumn Fest in Harter Park.

Visit the Museum in the Park, and board the tour bus leaving at 2 p.m. on Sept. 27-28. Repeat tours will be available to accommodate everyone.

Fred Huscher, Village Pioneer, Historian, and Tour Guide, will narrate as the bus tours. "Old Town," Fred says, "it's a follow up of the pictures and text in the Centennial History Book."

The tour is a must for all ages and a first chance to see Village History from a tour bus.

Enjoy family fun at Autumn Fest, see the museum, and join the free bus tour.

Ousted Dist. 63 candidate to wage write-in campaign

At least one of the four ousted candidates for the East Maine School District 63 has decided to launch a write-in campaign.

Mary Pat Jordan of Morton Grove was knocked off the ballot, along with Sharon Colon and Albert Dominick, both of Niles, for failure to file an economic interest statement.

The rejected candidates had 10 days either to appeal the decision of the Electoral Board in the circuit court or to launch a write-in campaign, according to District 63 Board President Joel Block.

Block also said he was surprised by the objections, which were filed by former District 63 Board member Scott Kreisman, Albert Dominick, one of the candidates, and Laverne Shreiner, a Niles resident.

Block said he had not seen such objections before in his experience on the Board.

Jordan, who has worked in school administration for 10 years, said she is shocked that she is being forced to wage a political campaign to obtain the post she is seeking.

Jordan said she is willing to

Cop hurt trying to arrest son of fearful mom

A Niles police officer sustained two cuts on his right arm while subduing a 39-year-old Niles man whose mother had called the police to escort him out of her home because she feared him in his drug and alcohol induced state of inebriation.

Police were dispatched to the 8500 block of Bruce Drive at 2:24 a.m. Sept. 20 on a report of an unwanted intoxicated subject.

When police attempted to escort the subject from his mother's home, he became very upset, used vulgar language toward the officer and became uncooperative.

Teens face big price tag for playground prank

Three teens, ages 14, 16 and 17, who confessed to setting fire to a slide in the playground of the Franklin Elementary School in Park Ridge and their parents, are no doubt wishing that the boys could have found some other way to amuse themselves the evening of Sept. 12.

The pricetag resulting from the damage done by the fire has jumped to almost $16,000. The matter now under debate is whether the crime warrants the filing of a juvenile citation for arson which would require a hearing.

The matter could also be settled among the police, the school

Emeritus Program non-credit classes

You can enroll in a variety of non-credit classes offered through Oakton Community College's Emeritus Program and the Alliance for Lifelong Learning (ALL). Classes meet at the Ray Hartstein campus, 7701 N. Lincoln Ave., Skokie. Students over the age of 60, who live in-district, pay one half the indicated fee if they present proof of age and residency at the time of registration. Learn to sketch, paint and watercolor in Art Workshop (ART B49 61, Touch-Tone 8039). Don Lindstrom, printing and design professional, will teach simple techniques for producing and reproducing art work. One class will include a tour of a local printing company to see how artwork is actually reproduced. No previous art experience is required. The eight-week class meets on Fridays from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. starting Oct. 17.

If you play bridge and would like to sharpen your skills, Advanced Bridge (REC S61, Touch-Tone 2282) is the class for you. Students at separate tables play the same pre-arranged hands, followed by instructions on how to bid and play each hand. Questions are encouraged. The newest bidding conventions and subtle playing skills are taught in a relaxed and fun atmosphere by Robert Esserman, an accredited teacher of the American Contract Bridge League. He is a patient instructor who makes the lessons enjoyable. The six-week class meets on Mondays from 1-3 p.m. starting Oct. 20.

Students who have registered for Oakton or Alliance for Lifelong Learning (ALL) classes within the last three years and have a correct Social Security number on file, may register using the Touch-Tone system by dialing (847) 635-1616. Registrations can also be taken via fax at (847) 635-1448 in which case payment must be made by a major credit card (Visa, Mastercard or Discover).

Call (847) 635-1414 for more information about these and other Emeritus programs.

What Do I Tell My Grandchildren About Drugs?

On Thursday, September 25 at 1 p.m. at the Prairie View Community Center, 6834 Dempster St., Morton Grove, there will be a program that will focus on grandchildren and drugs. Research indicates that parents, grandparents, elders, foster parents and others can play a major role in keeping young people from using alcohol, tobacco or illicit drugs. Young people are being exposed to these temptations early on - even in elementary school. The younger someone starts to use alcohol and drugs, the more likely he or she is to develop problems associated with such use.

Ann Meyer, our presenter is a drug prevention specialist who has been instrumental in establishing anti-drug programs nationally and internationally. She has vast experience and knowledge in this field and will provide a dynamic and informative program. For reservations call Catherine at 965-1200.

New program manager joins Youth Drop-In Center

Senator Dudycz to sponsor Children's Health Fair

For information about the lunch program call the Morton Grove Senior Hot Line at 470-5223.

FLU & PNEUMONIA IMMUNIZATIONS
The Village of Morton Grove will provide influenza and pneumonia immunizations for residents over age 60. The cost of the shots are free for those whose primary insurance is Medicare Part B. Patients who are enrolled in an HMO or who do not subscribe to Medicare Part B must pay $10 for the flu shot and $15 for the pneumonia shot.

Influenza immunizations provide immunity to the most commonly predicted flu strains for this winter. Seniors should get a flu shot each year. Pneumonia immunizations provide lifelong immunity to the most common forms of pneumonia. People who have already received this immunization do not need another one. You should not be immunized if you are:

- 1) allergic to chicken, chicken feathers or eggs,
- 2) on a prescription blood thinner (coumadin, warfarin, pan-warfarin, etc.),
- 3) allergic to thimerosal (mercurial antiseptic) or aminoglycosides (gentamicin, kanamycin or neomycin),
- 4) someone who has ever suffered from the illness known as Guillian-Barre Syndrome, or
- 5) someone who has cold symptoms the day of their shot.

Shots will be administered in a "needle-free" system by the Visiting Nurse Association North. Those interested in a shot on the dates below must make a reservation by calling the Senior Hot Line at 470-5223.

* Tuesday, Oct. 7; 2 to 5 p.m.
* Saturday, Oct. 11; 9 a.m. to noon
* Thursday, Oct. 23; 2 to 5 p.m.
* Tuesday, Oct. 28; 2 to 5 p.m.

Engagement

Egan - Soderwall

Mrs. Alice Egan of Niles and Mr. Dennis Egan of Chicago, announce the engagement of their daughter, Joanne to Mr. Todd Soderwall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Soderwall of Rochester Hills, MI. Todd graduated from Michigan State with a Bachelor of Arts degree in English and teaches high school in Rolling Meadows. Joanne graduated from SSU with a Bachelor of Science degree in elementary education and teaches the second grade. An August 1998 wedding is planned.

Minkley - Cramer

Mr. & Mrs. Donald Minkley of Morton Grove announce the engagement of their daughter, Monica Joy, to Mr. Michael William Denver Cramer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Cramer of Findlay, OH.

The couple met through mutual participation in Active Christians Today on the campus of the University of Toledo where they were in leadership and shared in multiple domestic and foreign mission outreaches.

The bride, who graduated Maine East High School in '92 and the University of Toledo in '96, received her Masters degree in Industrial Engineering at UT this spring and is employed by IET, a consulting engineering firm in Toledo, OH.

The groom also received his degree from the University of Toledo and is pastor to the college age community at the First Church of Nazarene in Monroe, MI where the couple will make their home. An October wedding is planned.

New ideas for raising kids

Coping with childhood mishaps and upsets is an important part of raising a happy and healthy child. You want to give your child the best there is. You want to provide an atmosphere in which your child can grow and flourish. A stable base from which he or she can be nurtured and readied for life. What is the key to bringing such an environment into existence?

Along with other easy tips, L. Ron Hubbard wrote in his book "New Slant on Life" that, "A good, stable adult with love and tolerance in his heart is about the best therapy a child can have."

The trick is maintaining your stability and tolerance in spite of all the pressures and stress of parenting. This is especially difficult during the summer months if you are a working mother. Sometimes the task seems impossible and heart-breaking, but in the end you feel an unequalled sense of accomplishment.

You know you have done something really worthwhile for the advancement of future generations. Although drug pushers from the street to the doctor's office promise you'll feel better if you pop a pill or take a hit, any half-intelligent person knows that this has proven to build hell's fires stronger. So, what can you do as a parent to help ease your own tensions and somehow make the task a little easier? After all, the better off you are, the more you will be able to help your child. Taking care of yourself is equally important, though all too often neglected.

Though it may sound too simple to be believed, taking a daily walk can be very therapeutic. If you feel bad, arrange for your husband or a neighbor to watch the kids for a short time and go for a walk. Look at things in your environment while you are walking.

PMS: What's a woman to do?

Karen Collins, M.S., R.D.

While research continues on PMS, or Premenstrual Syndrome - the name given to a group of physical and psychological symptoms experienced by some women during the week before their menstrual periods - it is still poorly understood. Yet lifestyle and medical steps do help some women.

Researchers emphasize that it is important to distinguish between premenstrual syndrome, in which symptoms occur only for the one to two weeks before a woman's cycle, and symptoms experienced throughout a woman's cycle. Experts say that some women who think they have PMS actually have a clinical depression or medical problems such as diabetes, anemia or a thyroid disorder.

Little medical therapy is available aimed directly at the PMS syndrome itself. Sometimes hormone medicines are used to alter the menstrual cycle. Usually, however, medical and lifestyle treatments are directed at treating specific symptoms.

For example, some women complain of feeling very bloated during this time. Diuretic medicines to make the body get rid of extra water it is holding can help, but often it is easier to simply avoid high-sodium foods for the ten days or so before periods. These include salt, salty snack foods, and many processed foods such as soup, sauces and most frozen meals.

Tenderness of the breasts may be helped by certain medicines, but many women benefit by avoiding caffeine for that time each month. That means limiting not only coffee and tea, but also regular cola, and perhaps even chocolate. Sometimes this helps reduce irritability, too.

For some women, the worst parts of PMS are the food cravings, low energy level, and mood swings. Some anti-depressant medications help these problems, but lifestyle is again the best first step. For example, physical activity can be a potent antidote to depression (as well as bloating).

Hormone levels at this time seem to make blood sugar drop more rapidly than usual, setting off hunger and cravings. Spreading eating into five or six "mini-meals" often helps, as does choosing a balanced selection of foods with heavy emphasis on "complex carbohydrates" like bread, bagels and pasta. Drinking alcohol and giving in to sweets cravings too often worsens the problem.

None of the lifestyle measures suggested to control PMS problems are a radical departure from the habits recommended for overall good health: regular exercise and a balanced diet that emphasizes whole grains, vegetables and fruits as recommended by the American Institute for Cancer Research. It's just a matter of increased vigilance to eat often and avoid problem-causing substances like salt or caffeine. While it's important to seek medical help if these steps are not enough, they are surely good first steps to take.

For a free pamphlet on eating for good health and lower cancer risk, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the American Institute for Cancer Research, Dept. TT, Washington, DC 20069.

Holiday Craft Faire to be held at Chateau Ritz

WE'RE "PUTTIN' ON THE RITZ" this year, so don't miss this eagerly awaited event! This better than ever HOLIDAY CRAFT FAIRE will be held on Wednesday, October 8, 3 - 8 p.m. and Thursday, October 9, 10 - 6 p.m. at the Chateau Ritz, 9100 Milwaukee Avenue, Niles. This annual Craft Faire is special because it will benefit the Glenview Area Historical Society, which is host to many classes from local schools as well as the general public at their 1864 farmhouse museum.

Experience the ambiance of room-type settings displayed with Arts and Crafts in the beautiful Chateau Ritz. This juried faire will highlight Halloween, Thanksgiving, and Christmas crafts from 100 of the Midwest's finest artisans. In addition to the high quality craft goods such as decorations for inside and outside of the home, personalized ornaments, quilted items, American doll furniture and clothes, collectibles, jewelry, and much more, there will be bake/gourmet foods, and a raffle. This year it is a "pay as you go" faire.

Admission is $2 for adults and $1 for children (no strollers). Free parking conveniently located adjacent to the building. This is a Ladies' Faire Production. For more information call (847) 729-8876. Contact: Kitty Gorski.

North Shore Barbershop Singers to present show

Rousing up-tunes and sentimental ballads are just a few of the treats to be presented in a dazzling "Harmony Showcase". That's the name of the 53rd annual show of the North Shore Chapter of SPEBSQSA (Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc.), a salute to America's barbershop style of a cappella vocal music. The show will begin at 8 Saturday night, Oct. 4, at St. Scholastica Academy, 7416 N. Ridge Blvd., Chicago.

The chapter's Shoreliner Chorus will provide the show's musical framework. This well-established singing group draws its membership from Evanston, Skokie, Wilmette, Winnetka, Morton Grove, DesPlaines, and the Chicago communities of Rogers Park and Edgewater. Featured quartets are Chicago News, the 1981 SPEBSQSA International Champions; Chicago Nights, an up-and-coming quartet whose members hail from different parts of the Chicago area; and Hospitality, a well-known foursome from the north suburbs.

Tickets are $10 if purchased in advance of the show date and $12 if purchased at the door. Group discounts are available. For more information about the show, or to find out about singing with the Shoreliner Chorus, call Joseph Schlesinger at (847) 328-0921 or Phil Martin at (847) 475-3562.

Polish Genealogical Society Annual Conference

The Polish Genealogical Society of America will present its annual conference on October 10, 11, and 12, at the Ramada Hotel O'Hare, 6600 N. Mannheim Rd., Rosemont. The conference is entitled "Immigration, The Wave of Humanity." The speakers will discuss emigration patterns within Europe to ports of departure, steamship passage, and the movement of immigrants within the United States of America. Beginning genealogy will also be presented. Book sales will be available throughout the conference. For more information, write: Dr. Gregory J. Gazda, 280 Forest Trail Drive, Oak Brook, IL 60521, or Dr. Paul Valasek, 2643 W. 51st Street, Chicago, IL 60632.

Special Latin Mass to be held

St. Wenceslaus Church will observe the feast of its patron, St. Wenceslaus, on Sunday, September 28, 12p.m. with a solemn Mass sung in Latin. Music for this festive occasion will include the Litany of the Saints, Gregorian Mass VIII (Missa de Angelis), Adoro Te, and Ubi Caritas arranged for handbells and choir. Leading the singing will be the Schola Gregoriana, a professional ensemble devoted to the performance of Gregorian Chant.

Learn about Greek Civilization

Explore the civilization of ancient Greece through Oakton Community College's travel study program Oct. 2-13.

The exquisite monuments of Athens, including the Acropolis and the Parthenon, illustrate the finest artistic achievements of the Classical Age. View priceless treasures from various periods of Greek history at the National Archaeological Museum. Travel to Kalambaka to see the rock top monasteries in Meteora used by solitary monks since the 11th century.

Visit the oracle of Delphi, once believed by the Greeks to be the center of the world, where the decisions of war, marriage and business were made. Journey to the ancient arena where the Olympic Games originated. View the remains of the great Temple of Zeus and the Temple of Hera, one of the earliest known examples of the Doric style of architecture. A tour of the famous citadel of Mycenae, inhabited since 3,000 B.C., from which Agamemnon set forth for the war with Troy, is also planned.

Registrations for the St. John Brebeuf "Joy in Jesus" Sunday pre-school program are now being taken. The program is open to children ages 3-1/2 through kindergarten age. Classes are held during the 11 a.m. Liturgy each Sunday beginning Sept. 28. Registration fee of $35 covers all materials for the year.

Special emphasis is given to the development of self-awareness in the children and their place in the Christian community. The goal of the program is to provide a foundation for a future understanding of their faith. To register, or for additional information, please call Charlotte Lindquist, 470-1434, or Marge Mazik, 966-5841.

Notre Dame High School assists students through Br. Andre Program

Notre Dame High School stresses success at all levels of study. From the Rev. Theodore Heshburgh Scholars Program; the Honors Level Program; the Regular Curriculum; or the Andre Scholars Program, success is the goal for all students. The Br. Andre Program is a college preparatory course of studies for students requiring additional assistance in academic and study skills. This program of learning assistance is dedicated to Blessed Br. Andre bessette, CSC. Br. Andre served at the Oratory of St. Joseph in Montreal, Canada. Because of his generous service to others, Br. Andre was beatified by Pope John Paul II in 1982. As patron of this program, Br. Andre serves as a reminder that we are called to use the gifts God has given us in service to others. Students admitted into the Br. Andre Program are generally of average or low average ability and demonstrate interest and potential in continuing their education beyond high school. Students receive support through the Br. Andre Learning Resource Center.

Study periods are real adventures this year in the Br. Andre Center. Thirty-one Andre Scholars (freshmen and sophomores) meet daily in the center to work on their academics, particularly studying for those first test of the new year. All the activity takes place in new surroundings: the center has been expanded into two centers. Moreover, three fulltime teachers now staff the center: Mrs. Marilyn Mallek, Ms. Vicky McNeil, and Sister Carole Cierniak, OSF. "We love working with the boys," says Sr. Carole, "helping them in their quest for success. They are some of the hardest working students at Notre Dame."

The program outcome include: To assist the students in achieving academic success. To help students master their study skills necessary for independent learning. To deepen the sense of responsibility in each scholar's maturing process. To develop men of character, committed to the mission of Notre Dame.

Niles North

Homecoming Festivities

Niles North High School will kick off their homecoming festivities early on Saturday, September 27, when students will march through Skokie celebrating this annual rite.

The homecoming parade, featuring the theme "Remember the Magic," will begin at 10 a.m. that morning. The procession will begin at Devonshire School and proceed down Grove to Keeler. Taking Keeler north to Church, the parade will turn and head west to Lawrence, north to Payne and east to Lawrence, eventually ending in the Niles North parking lot.

An alumni brunch will be held at noon following the parade under a tent at the north end of the football field. Previous Niles North graduates can sign in at the alumni table and attend the game for free. The Vikings will take on Glenbrook North when the game itself kicks off at 2 p.m.

The homecoming dance, which will also feature a "Remember the Magic" theme, will be held in the school gym at 7 p.m. Saturday, September 27.

Prior to homecoming day, the King and Queen will be coronated at a special pep assembly beginning at 2:10 p.m. on Friday, September 26. Later that evening, a pep rally will be held beginning at 7 p.m. in celebration of the following day's festivities.

Don't miss the Science Safari for Kids at Oakton

Bring your child to the Science Safari for Kids held on Sunday, Sept. 28 at 1 p.m. in Studio One of the Performing Arts Center at Oakton Community College's Des Plaines campus, 1600 E. Golf Road. The program is sponsored by the College Program Board as part of Oakton's Family Program Series.

The fee is $1 for children under age 12; $3 general admission; and $2 for Oakton students. Children wearing their Oakton Kids Club t-shirt get in free. T-shirts can be purchased Monday-Thursday from 9 a.m.-7 p.m. and Fridays from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. at the Student Activities Office located on the Des Plaines campus. For more information or to purchase tickets, contact the Oakton Box Office at (847) 635-1900.

OAKTON

Ballroom Dancing Course

Learn popular ballroom dances such as the cha, cha, fox trot and others in dance classes offered this fall through the Alliance for Lifelong Learning, Oakton's adult and continuing education program.

Ballroom Dancing I covers the basics of the cha, cha, fox trot, waltz, rumba and tango. The class meets for 10 Tuesdays starting Sept. 23 from 7:30-8:45 p.m. Ballroom Dancing II is a review of ballroom dancing I. New steps are added to five standards: cha, cha, fox trot, waltz, rumba and tango. Registration of couples is preferred. The class meets for 10 Tuesdays starting Sept. 23 from 8:45-10 p.m. Both classes meet at Glenbrook South High School.

Wedding Dances II is for those who have completed (PED S40) but want more practice, more steps and more fun. The class meets for eight Wednesdays starting Sept. 24 from 8-9 p.m. at Niles North High School, 9800 Lawrence, Skokie.

I'll Dance at Your Wedding will prepare you to dance the night away at the next wedding you attend. In addition to the fox trot, waltz and cha, cha, participants will learn to do other fun dances, including the jitterbug and the polka. The class meets for eight Wednesdays starting Sept. 24 from 8-9 p.m. at Niles

Walk for Hope Against Breast Cancer

Take a stand and take a walk at City of Hope's Walk for Hope Against Breast Cancer on October 5 at Northwestern University's J. Roscoe Miller Campus, Evanston. You'll be helping to raise awareness and raise funds for breast cancer research at the City of Hope National Medical Center and Beckman Research Institute. Participants will have a choice of joining a four-mile fitness walk or a 3/4-mile leisure walk. Families with strollers and corporate teams are welcome to participate. For more information or to receive a sponsor form, please call 847/583-8600.

"I'm honored to join City of Hope and its volunteers nationwide in the fight against breast cancer," said Cheryl Tieg, supermodel, walking enthusiast and Steve Kerr autographed basketball person. "City of Hope's doctors and researchers are conducting important work that is offering hope and healing to women everywhere facing this terrible disease."

Early detection is the key. Every woman should do a monthly breast self-examination and have a yearly clinical exam by a health care professional. City of Hope joins the National Cancer Institute in recommending women of average risk over age 40 have a mammogram every one or two years and yearly for women over 50.

Walk for Hope registration and entertainment begins at 9 a.m., with a warm-up with Co-chairs Carole McKeon and Mary Gauselin at 9:45 a.m. At 10 a.m. the fitness walk will begin, followed by the leisure walk at 10:10 a.m.

To participate, each walker will collect a minimum of $25 in pledges to be turned in on the day of the event. All participants will receive a goody bag, and those who raise $50 or more will receive an official Walk for Hope T-shirt. Children ages 5 to 12 who raise $10 will receive a special goody bag and those raising $15 also will receive a T-shirt. Children under four can join the fun for free. Prizes will be awarded to the top individual and team fund-raisers.

Mobile Health Clinic to visit Des Plaines

Cook County Board President John Stroger announced that the Cook County Department of Public Health's Mobile Health Clinic, the Wellness on Wheels (WOW) van, is scheduled to visit the Des Plaines Mobile Home Park, 500 W. Touhy Ave., Des Plaines, on Thursday, Oct. 30. Eligible suburban Cook County residents can receive physical examinations and health screenings. Appointments can be made by calling the Cook County Department of Public Health at (847) 818-2860, 8:45 a.m. to 4:15 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Services offered through the WOW van include health counseling, tests for anemia and diabetes, blood pressure and cholesterol screening, tuberculosis (TB) testing, immunizations, urinary, self breast exam instruction, pelvic exam and pap smears for women, and prostate and testicular exams for men. If a health problem is found, the client will be referred to available services for treatment. WOW services are available to suburban Cook County residents who qualify financially [i.e. school lunch; Women, Infant and Children (WIC)]. Appointments are necessary and can be scheduled by calling (847) 818-2860, 8:45 a.m.-4:15 p.m., Monday-Friday. At the time an appointment is scheduled, financial screening will be done. Persons needing accommodation for a disability should contact (847) 818-2860 or TDD for the hearing and/or speech impaired at (847) 818-2023.

Local area merchants have been generous in supporting the Eighth Annual Rainbow Hospice Dinner Dance Benefit to be held Friday, September 26 at the Chicago O'Hare Marriott. A $1,000 gift certificate donated by R.C. Rahl Jewelers of Des Plaines and a $1,000 cash prize top the list of raffle ticket items.

Featured on the silent auction will be an autographed Bulls basketball and American Airlines tickets as well as sports tickets and memorabilia, entertainment, hotel, and dining certificates, collectibles and other fabulous items. Guests will also be able to "Pick-a-Pony" where they purchase a rose which entitles them to a surprise gift.

The cocktail reception begins at 7 p.m., dinner at 8 p.m. and dancing at 9:30 p.m. Kent Wehman & Ensemble will provide the musical entertainment for the evening. The awarding of door prizes will be the grand finale of the evening, with winners drawn by Tim Weigel, sportscaster for Channel 2/WBBM-TV. If you would like an invitation, please call Rainbow Hospice. The cost is $65 per ticket.

Rainbow Hospice will be celebrating its tenth anniversary. Rainbow Hospice is a non-profit organization providing a team of health care professionals and volunteers for terminally ill patients and their families in the Northwest Chicago area. Proceeds from this year's event will benefit the Rainbow Hospice Bereavement Center.

The Benefit Committee is still accepting items for the silent auction: autographed celebrity items, professional services, special interest events, as well as all kinds of merchant products, antiques, and collectibles. Anyone wishing to donate items for the event can drop them off at the Rainbow Hospice office at 1550 N. Northwest Highway in Park Ridge or contact Margaret Murtha at (847) 699-3602.

Support group for children of cancer patients to begin

"The Butterfly Club" is the title of a new support group for the children of parents living with cancer that will meet at Resurrection Medical Center, 7435 W. Talcott Ave. The group, designed for children ages 8 to 13, will meet each Wednesday in October from 4-5:30 p.m. in the Cancer Treatment Center on the first floor of the Outpatient Services Building.

"Taking away some of the fear and anxiety about what the child's parent is going through is the primary goal of the club," said Tria Murphy, a child psychologist on staff at Resurrection's Counseling Center and co-leader of The Butterfly Club. "The children will be encouraged to express their feelings in a supportive environment. An oncology nurse and radiation therapist will also help them to understand cancer and how it is treated."

Registration is required. For more information and to register, call the Cancer Treatment Center at (773) 792-5116.

How many mutual funds should you own?

By The Certified Financial Planners

The financial planner couldn't believe his ears. He was reviewing the financial assets of a new client and the client, an older gentleman, informed him that he owned 124 mutual funds. That's right, 124 funds!

Beyond what must have been a paperwork nightmare, the man was following a common myth among mutual fund investors: the more funds you own, the more diversified you must be. Indeed, many investors, caught up in the latest "hot" funds touted in the press, collect mutual funds like philatelists collect stamps or beachcombers collect seashells. But investment experts say owning too many mutual funds can actually be counterproductive, and may mean you're less diversified than you think.

So how many mutual funds should you own? There is no magic number, and there is fierce debate among experts. Some say as few as 4, others as many as 20. The happy median seems to be around 10 to 12. However, the best answer depends on each investor's goals and objectives, amount available for investing and risk tolerance.

People buy mutual funds in part because most funds own dozens of, sometimes over 100, stocks. Most investors can't afford that many stocks on their own, so if one fund can provide that kind of diversification, doesn't it make sense to buy many mutual funds to own even more stocks?

No, according to recent studies. Two college professors published a study in the Journal of Investing that found that owning just four mutual funds reduced investor risk by 75 percent. Owning eight funds reduced risk a little more, but holding more than eight funds did little to reduce risk.

It isn't just a matter of the number of funds you own, either, it's what type of funds you own. Suppose you own eight funds in your portfolio, six of them are growth funds (funds that seek price increases in stocks, not income through dividends). Although each fund will invest in different stocks, they'll likely own many of the same stocks since at any given time there's a limited pool of quality stocks. Studies have found similar types of mutual funds overlapping each other as much as 25 percent or more. Thus, you're not as diversified as it may appear. Furthermore, if growth funds in general do poorly, most likely all six of those growth funds will; too, and so will your portfolio since it's riding heavily on those six funds.

Besides offering little or no additional diversification, owning too many funds is costly. Owning 20 stock mutual funds may basically end up mimicking the stock market. But you can mimic the stock market by owning a single index fund, as far less cost in fees and taxes. Plus, by spreading your wealth among fewer funds, you have greater opportunity to reduce sales commissions.

So what you're looking for is to own several different types of funds, but not too many of each type. (One seems to be sufficient in each fund category; two are okay if they don't overlap, say experts.) Then if one part of the market is down (such as growth), other types of funds in your portfolio (such as value or international or bond) may be up, or at least losing less than growth in a down market.

The amount of money you have to invest also makes a difference. If you're just starting out with $1,000, it's probably best to stick to a single fund, such as an index fund or growth and income.

Corporations give back to schools and communities with Market Day

While Market Day's popularity as a monthly fundraising program for schools is on the rise, so is the number of local corporations getting involved.

Market Day is partnering with corporations through a special program called Partnership in Education (PIE) to give businesses an opportunity to conduct Market Day sales at their facilities. A Market Day sale consists of employees receiving quality food products they previously ordered from Market Day at their place of business. Profits from these orders are directed toward local schools designated by employees and/or charities designated by the participating company.

PIE was first developed in May, 1993 in response to official forms from the State of Illinois encouraging businesses to become more involved with education by adopting local schools in their area. The PIE program serves two purposes: to give businesses an opportunity to help schools and charities in their community by donating profits from Marketing Day, and to provide a useful employee service with convenient food delivery and pick-up at the end of the business day.

Implementation of a Marketing Day program in the workplace is quite simple: Market Day provides order forms to the company. The company distributes order forms to their employees and provides a central collection area for the forms. The company mails order forms back to Market Day headquarters where each order is processed and fulfilled. Market Day delivers product to participating corporations. Market Day provides an account representative to run sale days and employees volunteer to help with set up and distribution of product. The actual sale takes about two hours of staff time.

For more information about the PIE program, please contact Peg Majewski at 630/350-0990, ext. 3507.

Illinois Insurance Hotline

Q. I just found out my auto carrier was not renewing my policy. I've had 1 accident and 3 speeding tickets in the last 5 years. I can't find anyone to insure me. If the law requires me to have insurance, what can I do?

A. Ask your agent about the Illinois Automobile Insurance Plan. All companies operating in Illinois participate in the Auto Plan. In your case, your agent will forward an application to the Illinois Automobile Insurance Plan office. They will assign you to one of the many insurance companies doing business in Illinois. You will find the premiums in the Auto Plan higher than standard rates. However, the rates are pre-set and are the same no matter what company you are assigned to.

There are four requirements to qualify for the Illinois Automobile Insurance Plan. They are: (1) You must be denied auto insurance by other insurance companies; (2) You must have a valid driver's license or be eligible to apply for one; (3) You must have no outstanding bills for prior insurance coverage during the past 36 months; (4) Your vehicle must be safe to drive.

Q. I will be 65 soon and eligible for Medicare. In looking over the information on Medicare, it looks like there are quite a few things Medicare won't pay for. Is there a way to fill these gaps?

A. You have two options. You can purchase a Medicare Supplement (also called Medigap) or sign up for Medicare HMO coverage.

If you choose Medigap, you will choose from ten standardized policies. All companies offer Plan A (core benefits only). Benefits increase in Plans B-J. Shop around because even though coverages are identical, company premium rates aren't! You must have Medicare Parts A and B to buy a supplement.

Medicare HMO is another option. Besides traditional Medicare benefits, Medicare HMO offers preventive health care, prescription drugs, dental, and vision care. You must have Medicare Parts A and B and live in the geographic area served by the HMO.

Illinois Insurance Hotline is a monthly column based on typical questions asked of the Illinois Insurance Hotline 1-800-444-3338, a toll-free consumer program funded by many insurance companies doing business in Illinois, and operated by the Illinois Insurance Information Service, a not-for-profit organization of major Illinois insurers. If you have any insurance questions, or want to know more about the above answers, you may call the Hotline, which operates Mon.-Fri. from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Big changes for Pullman Bank

Pullman Bank and Trust Company has planned an information systems conversion for this October. As a result, the Pullman Bank's main computer system and teller systems have all been upgraded. These changes will also allow Pullman Bank Customers to do more of their banking business by phone through the bank's Answer Line.

The bank, founded in the town of Pullman in 1883, has been a community bank for over 100 years. The bank is proud of its roots and wishes to remain an institution dedicated to the neighborhoods it serves. Therefore, the bank is also dedicated to serving the growing technology needs of its customers, and after the conversion will be able to compete with the services and technology offered to banking customers by larger regional banks in the market area.

Last spring, a special team of in-house experts was formed to review all bank products and procedures, and to analyze how the computer information system should support both the bank and its customers. The resultant end product will be improvements to existing products, services, and fees, as well as better efficiency and service for Pullman customers.

Although there has been exhaustive training in preparation for the conversion, President

Ryan McKenzie says, "There is a real excitement and energy in the bank and each employee has taken up the challenge of learning and finding new ways to improve and enhance customer service. And from a management point of view, Pullman's stockholders and officers view the information systems conversion as a tangible way for the company to reemphasize its commitment to our community and to being the best community bank in Chicagoland."

Pullman Bank appreciates how hard people work for their money, so they have put together a group of products to help them manage their resources more efficiently. Products include checking accounts, savings accounts, Certificates of Deposit, trust and investment management services, home mortgage, home equity loans, consumer loans, credit cards, and safe deposit vault services.

Pullman Bank and Trust Company has assets of $468 million. Its offices are located at 6100 N. Northwest Highway in Norwood Park, 1000 E. 111th Street in Chicago, and a new office opening this November in South Bend, Indiana.

Fall hockey clinics begin

The sounds of hockey pucks whistling past goaltenders will soon become prominent in hockey rinks throughout the Chicago area. Thousands of youth and adult hockey players are lacing up their skates preparing for another season on the ice. Mid-West Elite Hockey School will be conducting fundamental hockey clinics for youth and adult players at two suburban Chicago rinks this fall.

The 10-week clinics focus on fundamentals, such as power skating, puck handling, passing, shooting, and team play. The classes began on September 23, at Iceland in Niles. Two classes are being offered at the Niles rink for players between the ages of six and nine years-old and meets each Tuesday from 5:40-6:55 p.m. The second class is for players between the ages of 10 and 14 years-old and is held from 7:05-8:20 p.m. on Tuesdays as well. Classes at the Niles rink are open and students may still enroll at the rink prior to the first class.

The following evening additional 10-week clinics begin at Center Ice of DuPage. Three classes are held weekly on Wednesdays at the ice rink in Glen Ellyn. The first group is for 6-9 year-olds and meets from 5:20-6:20 p.m. The second group is for 10-14 year-olds and meets from 6:30-7:50 p.m. The last class of the evening is for adults. This novice/beginner class runs from 8-9:20 p.m. Classes at Center Ice of DuPage also remain open and students can still enroll.

Mid-West Elite's classes are taught by director Kenny McCudden. McCudden's coaching credentials include three years as the power skating coach for the Chicago Wolves. McCudden also works with several youth hockey associations handling their power skating classes.

Students are required to have full hockey equipment to participate in the clinics. Tuition for a 10-week session is $199 and includes a practice jersey.

Additional information can be obtained by calling (630) 942-9202.

American Cancer Society holiday greeting cards

The American Cancer Society is once again offering holiday greeting cards. The 1997 selection features 12 designs which depict whimsical, spiritual and winter scenes. They are ideal for business or home use. Cards range in price from $17 to $27.50 per box of 25, and personalized imprinting is available at an additional cost. Imprint orders must be received by December 1st. For brochures and samples, call the American Cancer Society at (847) 358-3965.

Boxes of holiday cards can be purchased after October 15th directly from the American Cancer Society. The Northwest Cook Area office is located at 625 North Court, Suite 280, in Palatine.

Sir Georg Solti condolence book signing

The Chicago Symphony Orchestra announced that the condolence book honoring Sir Georg Solti will be available in the lobby of Symphony Center's Education & Administration Wing at 67 E. Adams St. during the following hours: Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday from noon until 4 p.m. The book is for members of the general public who wish to write a personal message to the Solti family or share their memories of Sir Georg. It will be in place in the 67 E. Adams Street lobby through October 4, the date of Symphony Center's opening.

Once Symphony Center opens, a number of condolence books will be made available in Orchestra Hall through the end of October, assuring that CSO concertgoers will have the opportunity to contribute to the written memorials. All condolence books will be forwarded to Sir Georg's widow, Lady Solti.

The Chicago Symphony Orchestra has placed flowers at the bronze bust sculpture of Sir Georg, located in Lincoln Park. The bust, unveiled in October 1987 as part of Sir Georg's 75th birthday celebration, was sculpted in his honor by British artist Dame Elisabeth Frink. The nine foot sculpture is adapted from a similar one that stands in The Royal Opera House, Covent Garden, London. It is believed to be the only statue in Chicago erected to a living public figure.

The CSO is preparing a memorial banner that will be hung on the front of Orchestra Hall at the end of this week. The Orchestra has also established the Sir Georg Solti Memorial Fund for those who wish to make a contribution to the Chicago Symphony Orchestra in his memory. Checks should be made payable to the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and mailed to the CSO, c/o Sir Georg Solti Memorial Fund, 220 S. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, IL 60604. The Orchestra will act as custodian for these funds until such time as the family designates how they should be used.

Garters have been worn by men since medieval times.

The Teutons wore hose of some kind as far back as the Bronze Age. At first they wore long trousers, then knee-breeches and ankle-length breeches, and later still ankle-length breeches with bands which fastened below the knee. As garters, the Teutons used woolen strings or strips of hide. Loops were attached to the top of the breeches to hold the girdle in place.

Until the mid-nineteenth century, before the invention of elastic cloth or webbing, garters were ties of silk, cloth or leather often embroidered, covered with shirred ribbon and lace, and sometimes adorned with rosettes for ornament. They were strips of fabric tied spirally around the leg or buckled below the knee.

Later, they were attached to a girdle or to a special belt or buckled around calves of men's legs to hold their socks up. Garters were also used as a round elasticized band worn around the sleeve to make it shorter.

The garter was a badge of the highest order of knighthood in Great Britain, it was a sign of membership of the Order of the Garter.

Norwich garters, as worn by the New England colonists in the early seventeenth century, were small sashes of silk tied in a large bow.

In the American colonies, exaggerated styles were modified in a land where stockings were chronically rumpled because the rubber for garters was unavailable.

The introduction in the 1880s of the garter belt (suspender belt) signaled the decline of the garter, though it continued to be worn until the 1930s.

If you have been searching for garters, we've got 'em! Stay Up, P.O. Box 1505, Morton Grove, IL 60053. Call (847) 296-8296.

Exploring Niles' History: The man who thought Niles youngsters should be given a ride

There are men who are driven. There are men who are hard-working. Those who are driven and hard-working area easily identified. They seem to take everyone along "for the ride" even though they are the only ones who may believe they know where we all should be going.

And then there are men who are driven and hard-working that you might not notice. They are more concerned about your comfort. They believe in making life easier for someone else.

Walter Beusse is such a gentleman. One of the first things he did after he moved into Niles in 1955 was build an addition to his home for his family. The engineer who worked at AT&T Tele-type also built a garage and made other home improvements.

When he took his two sons to play baseball, Beusse was not content to just stand around. He did those "little" things for others like taking care of all the uniforms. He was also a manager, later president, and then commissioner of the baseball league. At the height of the league's activities, that meant close to 1000 uniforms and dozens of schedules. An evening or two of rainouts meant several dozen phone calls. And probably a few dozen more since no one had call waiting or a recording machine!

Beusse knew how complicated life could get for the family of three sons playing baseball on three different ball fields all on the same night. But coaches, a mom with a larger car, or even an alternate dad could be found to provide evening taxi service.

These hectic, improvised, baseball travel schedules probably remained on Beusse's mind after his sons hung up, for the last time, the glove or baseball mitt they used in the Niles Baseball League.

Getting the kids to the park After Beusse was elected to the Niles Park District in 1969, one of his first concerns was for the youngsters and moms without cars who wanted to use the parks during the day. There weren't many two-car families. Although he made several efforts he could not get the other park district commissioners to vote on providing free bus service for the park district. He kept trying. Two years later money was found thanks to Helmut Dressler who was director of the park board at the time.

Beusse and Bill Keener went off looking at buses and their driving records. The first bus was purchased from a Chicago company for $1500 and a second, purchased from a Niles company, cost $1700. In 1972 the first buses were set in motion by the Niles Park District. They ran from Golf Mill Park to Jozwik Park to the Tam golf course," says Beusse. "We had twelve parks and they stopped at every one of them at least once an hour."

The buses were too popular, too fast. Almost immediately,

"the senior citizens wanted bus service to Golf Mill," said Beusse. A meeting was arranged with Ken Scheel, Niles village manager at the time. School buses, Beusse pointed out, were not working well since they couldn't get around many of the sharp corners of some of the streets in Niles. There was also concern that if the seniors would have to pay, this would make it difficult for some of the youngsters.

The Village of Niles was fortunate to obtain grant money for the proposed expanded bus service. A contract with Mercedes Benz was made for smaller buses and "everybody's been satisfied ever since," says Beusse.

Free bus service for everybody since 1973

The Village of Niles officially took over the free bus service July 16, 1973. The two "retired" school buses were replaced with new buses and eventually grew to the fleet of eight buses which operates today, seven days a week, nine hours a day. Service is provided to some 34,000 passengers monthly.

Walter Beusse went on to serve the park district as commissioner for 18 years. Three times he was elected president of the park district. He initiated the handicapped recreational park in Niles, one of the first such parks in the nation.

Active in numerous other community projects, Beusse was selected as Niles Citizen of the Year in 1989, St. John Brebeuf Man of the Year in 1988, Lion of the Year in 1995, and past Grand Knight of the Knights of Columbus in 1981-82.

Few would say that Walter Beusse is not a driven man, a hard-working man. But many would agree that if there was one man you need not fear would "take you for a ride," it would be Walter Beusse. You would expect and Beusse would deliver one of the smoothest, most pleasant rides you've ever had.

Suspicious activities

The 41-year-old mother of one of two six-year-old Niles boys reported that a 41-year-old Niles man approached the two victims, who were riding their bicycles at the time, and began screaming obscenities at them.

The incident occurred between 6 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. Sept. 21 on the sidewalk in the 8400 block of Milwaukee Avenue.

The complainant declined to sign a complaint but said she would if it happened again, police said.

Project: KIDCARE

GlenBridge Nursing and Rehabilitation Centre is hosting its 2nd Annual Project KidCare on September 27, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Project KidCare is a way to provide authorities information about your kids in case of an emergency by recording latest height, weight, and blood type, as well as a current picture. All of these things are free of charge. Just a few minutes can make a world of difference for you and your child. Come and register.

The incident occurred in the amusement center in the 8200 block of Golf Road between 8:30 p.m. and 9 p.m. Sept. 19.

The batteries were witnessed by the 11-year-old sister of one of the victims. The offender was confronted by the parents of the victims and became verbally abusive.

The complainant told police that the employees of the amusement center know the identity of the offender. The parents of both the victims wish to pursue the matter via a follow-up investigation. The parents are also concerned that the amusement center is understaffed and that underage drinking and smoking is happening in the parking lot.

A 24-year-old merchandiser from Capistrano Beach, Calif. sustained a red and swollen left eye when he was confronted by a 21-year-old Chicago man in a restaurant in the 7200 block of Caldwell Avenue.

The offender said he thought the victim and witness, his 25-year-old work associate, were looking at him and struck the victim in the face with a closed fist. The victim, however, declined to sign a criminal complaint.

Theft

The 64-year-old clerk in the jewelry store at 239 Golf Mill Center reported that an unknown man and two unknown women, all described as being in their mid-30s, entered the store around 2 p.m. Sept. 14, and while one distracted him one of the others removed three men's diamond rings valued at a total of $4,150 from a glass counter.

Police lifted four latent palm and finger prints from the top of the display cabinet. They will be sent to the crime lab for investigation.

An identi-kit picture of three suspects that had been faxed from the Mt. Prospect branch store bore a strong resemblance to the offenders, according to the clerk.

A worker who was replacing windows on a residence in the 6800 block of Keeney Street Sept. 18 had a portable Sawzall valued at $300 and a Dewalt miter box valued at $450 stolen from his van which was parked in the driveway of the home while he was working on the other side of the house.

A witness observed two unknown men described as being in their 20s drive up in a red car, possibly a Nissan or Toyota. One of the men carried tools out of the van to the waiting car that was parked in the 8200 block of Caldwell Avenue. When the witness approached, the vehicle fled.

A 21-year-old heating and air conditioning technician reported that unknown offender(s) damaged the driver's side vent window of his 1985 Ford 150 van to gain entry and remove miscellaneous hand tools and air compressors valued at $3,000.

The incident occurred Sept. 16 sometime between 8 a.m. and noon while the van was left in a parking lot in the 5700 block of Howard Street.

A 32-year-old Skokie man reported that unknown offender(s) used a blunt object to shatter the rear door window of his 1985

Chevrolet Astro Van and removed miscellaneous tools and an unknown amount of RCA satellite receivers.

Police believe the offender(s) used a slim jim-type tool to enter the passenger compartment of the van where they found and removed the owner's checkbook. Damage to the van was estimated at $200. The owner will submit a detailed property list, police said.

A 40-year-old Chicago truck driver reported that he parked and locked his 1990 Chrysler LeBaron behind the Public Works Building in Jozwiak Park around 7:30 p.m. Sept. 15 and when he returned at 9:23 p.m. he discovered that person(s) unknown had smashed the passenger side vent window to gain entry and removed a duffel bag containing a cell phone valued at $150, a 1-in. Sanyo and a 2-in. Sony color television, a steel thermos valued at $20, a leather wallet valued at $50 and various credit and identification cards.

A 31-year-old Skokie woman left her gold metal oval-shaped purse in a pizza restaurant in the 6900 block of Dempster Street around 3:30 p.m. Sept. 21. When she returned in 15 minutes, the purse was missing. Restaurant employees told police they did not see the purse or any person take it.

A 63-year-old retired Niles woman reported that while shopping at a department store at 220 Golf Mill Center around 4:23 p.m. Sept. 21, she placed her purse on the floor and walked away for approximately three minutes.

When she returned, the light tan purse containing assorted credit cards, two $25 Golf Mill gift certificates and $100 cash was gone.

A 38-year-old Morton Grove man reported that he encountered the 27-year-old son of his ex-wife in a bar in the 8700 block of Milwaukee Avenue Sept. 17.

The victim and the offender began arguing over the money the offender had borrowed from the victim. The victim asked for the keys to his 1986 Plymouth Horizon, which the offender was using. The offender gave the victim his key and left the bar. The victim exited the bar and discovered that five windows on the car had been broken out.

The offender fled the area, but Morton Grove police found him near his home in the 9300 block of Marion Avenue. They asked the offender if he had done the damage, and he admitted to the crime.

Police observed that the offender's right hand was bleeding. They took him into custody, transporting him to the Niles Police Department from where he was transported by the Niles Fire Department to Lutheran General Hospital for medical treatment to his hand.

The offender was then processed and given an October 23 court date. Bond was set at $1,000.

Lost/stolen purse

A 63-year-old retired Niles woman reported that while shopping at a department store at 220 Golf Mill Center around 4:23 p.m. Sept. 21, she placed her purse on the floor and walked away for approximately three minutes.

When she returned, the light tan purse containing assorted credit cards, two $25 Golf Mill gift certificates and $100 cash was gone.

Sheriff awards scholarships

Three local high school students who have demonstrated outstanding scholastic, extracurricular and character qualifications have been selected as 1997 Illinois Sheriff's Association recipients, according to Cook County Sheriff Michael F. Sheahan.

This year's scholarship recipients are: Christine Fortt, of Tinley Park is a recent graduate of Tinley Park High School. While at Tinley Park, Christine was involved with Student Council, National Honor Society, softball, volleyball and newspaper. She plans to attend the University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana pursuing a degree in physical/occupational therapy.

Catherine Roland is a Chicago resident and a recent graduate of Maria High School. While at Maria, she was involved in many activities including tutoring, peer mediation tutoring and Student Council -- serving as president her senior year. Catherine will attend Loyola University in Chicago this fall majoring in secondary education.

Charles Smith, of Skokie, is a 1997 Niles West High School graduate. At Niles, Charles was involved with band and orchestra, winning various solo competitions both there and as a member of the Salvation Army Metropolitan Youth Band. He will attend North Park college in Chicago this autumn majoring in secondary education. Each student will receive a $500 scholarship to put towards tuition, books and other fees at an institute of higher learning in Illinois.

Niles auto insurer fined

Illinois Insurance Director Mark Boozell has issued a Stipulation and Consent Order and fine to another Chicago area auto insurance company, Universal Casualty Company, Niles, received a $125,000 fine for improper claims practices identified in a market conduct examination.

Most of the insurance code violations cited involved total loss claims, including: failure to settle total loss claims in a timely manner; underpaying on total loss vehicles; and failure to document reimbursement for sales taxes and transfer fees in total loss settlements.

The regulatory order also requires the company to institute procedures to reduce its complaint ratio to 9.0 or less per million dollars of premium written in Illinois. Universal Casualty's 1996 complaint ratio was 11.97, the worst among companies writing auto insurance.

Universal must pay $50,000 of its fine by September 28, 1997. The remaining $75,000 will be due if a follow-up examination reveals that the company has failed to comply with the Order. The re-examination will commence on or after August 1, 1998. "Our regulatory action against Universal Casualty is a continuation of our crackdown on insurance companies with high levels of complaints," Boozell said. "There is no excuse for shoddy treatment of policyholders."

Maintenance history is valuable accessory

When you visit your family doctor the first thing he does is search through your records for previous symptoms and/or treatments that may be relevant.

Taking your ailing car to its regular repair shop or car dealer may produce the same procedure: let's look at the records. This information can save time and money.

But what if you have car trouble on the road? If a mechanic far from home asks you when you last had the cooling system serviced, for example, or spark plugs changed, would you have that information? Car Care Council suggests keeping a condensed version of your vehicle's service records in a little glove compartment notebook.

Having a complete maintenance history on hand can give you real peace of mind when dealing with someone who doesn't know you or your car. It could dissuade him from selling service or repairs you don't need.

For a free copy of the pamphlet write Car Care Council, Dept. SRE7-XI, One Grande Lake Drive, Port Clinton, OH 43452. Check out the Council's Web

Picture of student drug use seen in survey

Studies, reports, and survey results regarding social issues from various organizations, universities and government agencies are published in blizzard proportions and reading these causes one's eyes to glaze over. However, now and then studies are published that send a strong message. Within the past months, I have the opportunity to read portions of two such reports. They not only captured my attention, but they are unintentionally linked. I would like to share this information with you as "food for thought."

In 1995-1996, a survey of students in the 4th, 6th, and 8th through 12th grades was conducted in Maine Township with reference to drug use. Some of the results of this survey include the following:

- Student drug use in grades 6 and above is on the rise.
- For the purpose of this survey, drugs of choice include alcohol, cigarettes, inhalants and marijuana.
- The majority of students report deciding to try drugs and/or get drunk during their 7th grade year. Please pay particular attention to the following survey results.
- The survey revealed that parents do impact students' decisions about alcohol and other drug use. Parents talking to their children about alcohol and other drugs use positively impacts their children's future decisions regarding chemical use.

The second report I want to share with you was mandated by Congress and conducted by the Department of Criminal Justice and the Department of Justice at the University of Maryland. This study has classified as ineffective some of the nation's most popular anti-crime programs including the Drug Abuse Resistance Education Program also known as D.A.R.E. It is important here to point out that D.A.R.E. programs are presented in elementary schools to students in the 5th and 6th grades by sworn police officers who have been reassigned from regular duties in order to present D.A.R.E. programs. This study cited promising results from other programs such as high intensity police patrols in neighborhoods.

The Niles Police Department presents its own generic drug education program called "PRIDE" to all of the elementary schools in Niles. Because it is tailor made for Niles, it is designed so that the officers who present it can also perform their street duties.

Cemetery walk helps patrons go back in time

On Sunday, Sept. 28, 1-3 p.m., the Skokie Park District hosts its fifth annual Cemetery Walk at St. Peter's United Church of Christ Cemetery, 8350 Harms Road, Skokie.

The event features a guided tour of the cemetery where patrons can "meet" important figures of Skokie's history. Portrayed by actors and volunteers wearing period dress, they will narrate each prominent character's life. Each 45-minute walking tour leaves every 10 minutes. Tickets must be purchased in advance and are nonrefundable. Adult admission is $4. Admission for toddlers under five is FREE. Call (847) 674-1500, ext. 0 for ticket information, registration details or directions.

'Getting in Touch with Nature'

Cook County Forest Preserve District Board President John Stroger welcomes teachers and students back to school and announced that the Forest Preserve presents "Getting in Touch with Nature," a free in-class nature education program for schools and community groups in Cook County. The "Getting in Touch with Nature" program, from November to March, provides teachers with an opportunity to arrange for school presentations and field trips conducted by naturalists from the District's six nature centers on a variety of nature and earth science topics.

The natural beauty of the Forest Preserve District provides the ideal setting for a science classroom. Teachers, instructors, and group leaders transform the District into an outdoor classroom when they arrange to take their students on a field trip for a nature program specially designed for their group at any of the Preserve's six nature centers. During the field trip, students might engage in an Oak Tree rescue, receive an interpretative presentation from the naturalists about pond studies, plant and insect identification, land management, and much more.

To learn more about "Getting in Touch with Nature" or to arrange a nature education program, contact the Department of Conservation at (708) 771-1330.

Park district provides day full of fun and gaming

Willie Gault to visit Golf Mill and Old Orchard

Former Chicago Bear and Olympic champion Willie Gault will return to Chicago to participate in the first-ever elliptical motion race. The event, which will be held at Michael Jordan's The Restaurant on Wednesday, October 1 from 10 a.m. to 12 Noon, will showcase Gault and a host of athletes, celebrities and media personalities competing against each other for the title of "Fastest Star in North America" on the Ellipse, NordicTrack's most important innovation since the development of the cross-country ski machine 25 years ago. International fitness authority Gin Miller will co-host the event.

This event will benefit Gilda's Club, which will receive a charity donation in the name of the winner of the competition. The single elimination contest will entail participants "running" elliptical to determine the champion, while demonstrating the virtually impact-free capabilities of this new innovation for fitness. The public is also invited to try out the machine (one Ellipse will be raffled off to a lucky winner to take home). The drawing will take place at noon. Michael Jordan's The Restaurant is located in the downtown river north section of Chicago at 505 N. LaSalle Street (Phone: 312/644-3885).

During his visit, Gault will make additional personal appearances throughout the Chicago area at various NordicTrack and Sears stores where he will meet and greet fans, sign autographs, and demonstrate the Ellipse. Locations include:

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 3
Golf Mill Shopping Center (400 Golf Mill Shopping Center, Niles, 847/803-7500) Sears from 11:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 5
Old Orchard Shopping Center (275 Old Orchard Center, Skokie, 847/765-9240) NordicTrack from 1:45 p.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Hingis and Seles enter Ameritech Cup

Martina Hingis, the No. 1 women's player in the world, and Monica Seles, ranked No. 1 for much of the 1990s, both return to Chicago for the $450,000 Ameritech Cup, November 3-9, at UIC Pavilion.

Tickets for the Ameritech Cup are now on sale. Box seat, series and individual tickets range from $10 to $30. In addition, a special "Night Owl" package is available this year for $125, which includes entry to evening and weekend match play. Tickets can be purchased at the UIC Pavilion Box Office, Ticketmaster outlets or by calling the Ameritech Cup tournament office at (312) 464-0838.

Frank Lloyd Wright exhibit at Botanic Garden

The public catch a glimpse into the private persona of America's most famous architect in Frank Lloyd Wright: Drawing Inspiration from Nature, at the Chicago Botanic Garden in Glencoe, from September 6 to November 9, 1997. This extraordinary exhibit, which will feature select items that have never previously been displayed, is a collaboration between the Botanic Garden and the Frank Lloyd Wright Home and Studio Foundation.

The Art Institute Professor Don Kalec, a demonstration of Prairie style art glass, a tour of landscapes at Wright residences along the North Shore, and a lecture on the influence of nature on design from the late Victorian era through the Prairie style architecture period by Michael FitzSimmons, a specialist in the furniture and decorative arts of the Arts and Crafts period.

There is no admission fee for the exhibit, however, there is a nominal parking fee at the Botanic Garden ($5 on weekdays; $6 on weekends and holidays for non-members).

The Garden and the Frank Lloyd Wright Home and Studio Foundation are offering a variety of related public programming during the exhibit including a multi-media presentation on Frank Lloyd Wright by School of

...refusing to listen to the officer's instructions. Police escorted the subject outside the home and onto the driveway where the subject started screaming and became combative, striking the officer in the stomach area with his elbow in order to get away from him.

Police advised the offender that he was under arrest, and he became even more combative, swinging his arms and legs and refusing to be handcuffed.

Finally, two Niles officers placed the offender on the ground and handcuffed him. A "Use of Force" report was submitted after the incident.

The subject was transported to the Niles Police Department where he was processed. The offender was charged with battery and resisting a peace officer. Bond was set at $1,000, but the complainant refused to bond out the offender.

In addition to the responding officer's sustaining two cuts on his right arm, both officers' uniforms were also damaged by mud and dirt when they attempted to place the subject under arrest.

Photographs were taken and inventoried for the court date, which was set for Oct. 23.

...at a time," Holod said. Holod estimated that around 100 cars, funeral flags waving from little staffs planted on their roofs, filed into the grim cortege.

Funeral director Bud Skaja said that the Skaja Funeral home was chosen by the family because the grandparents, had been buried from the Skaja chapel in Chicago, which was located at 3656 W. Belmont at the time but has since moved to 3060 N. Milwaukee Ave.

Flowers and balloons had filled the chapel, but most people made donations to the family, Skaja said. Donations may still be made to the Poull Family Fund which has been established at the Liberty Federal Bank, 7525 Madison St., Forest Park, Ill., 60130, phone (708)971-1776.

Although Bud Skaja, who runs the funeral home with brothers Jack and Erich, his son and two nephews, said he remembers previous burials for multiple family members killed in accidents, "This is the first time that I remember five children dying."

The Skaja home in Chicago directed the funeral of one child killed in the Our Lady of the Angels School fire in 1958, Skaja said.

Meanwhile, Tony Poull, father of four of the children, is listed in critical condition in Loyola University Medical Center in Maywood suffering from severe smoke inhalation.

The cause of the fire was still under investigation Monday, according to a report in the Chicago Tribune, which quoted Cicero deputy fire chief Louis Guido as saying that there was only one smoke detector in the home but it didn't have a battery.

and the boys' families. Police arrested the 14-year-old at Maine South High School Sept. 16. The 16-year-old, also from Maine South, and the 17-year-old, a Niles resident, turned themselves in later.

Major tv stars remember Suzanne

Dreebin Wilensky

When Jayne Brook of the CBS-TV hit series "Chicago Hope" and Michael Weiss, lead in the ABC-TV show "The Pretender", attended Glenbrook North High School, they were classmates of Northbrook's Suzanne Dreebin. And later Suzanne attended Northwestern University, as did David Schwimmer, star of the smash NBC-TV program, "Friends".

These three major network stars have arranged for visits to their respective tv sets in Hollywood as special prizes in "Fun-Raiser '97...A Party With a Purpose" Oct. 25 at the Museum of Science and Industry, a benefit for the Leukemia Research Foundation, in memory of Suzanne who died in 1996 at the age of 32, leaving a husband (Steve Wilensky) and year-old daughter (Emily).

The "Chicago Hope" trip includes a walk-on role in a future episode and "The Pretenders" and "Friends" trip features meeting with the show's stars cast. All prizes include round-trip air via American Airlines and hotel accommodations.

In addition, Jayne Brook is serving as Honorary Celebrity Chairperson for "Fun-Raiser" and schedule permitting will be on hand for the Oct. 25 festivities. Jayne was also a classmate of Suzanne's brother, Dr. Jeffrey Dreebin, at Glenbrook North High School.

Suzanne's Friends formed a chapter of the Leukemia research Foundation in her memory appropriately named "Suzanne's Friends-For Life" and the museum benefit is the group's initial organized effort to raise funds to battle the disease which took her life.

"Fun-Raiser '97--A Party with a Purpose" will feature food and entertainment along with tours of the facilities of the Museum of Science and Industry. Admission is $50 per person. For reservations and information on "Fun-Raiser '97" and how to enter the contest for the California trips, call the Leukemia Research Foundation at (847)982-1480.

...er, former Administrative Coordinator. Callero said, "She was a nice person, and I enjoyed working with her."

Callero praised Ms. Dolack's expertise in the areas of cable television and dish installations. "She did all the research on dishes and shared her knowledge with the rest of the zoning board," Callero said. "We would look to her to lead the way in this area. She was our dish expert," Callero added.

Ms. Dolack announced her retirement from the zoning board at the August meeting, according to Callero. Jerry LaCerra was appointed by Mayor Nicholas Blase to fill the vacancy on the board, Callero said.

Ms. Dolack enjoyed needlepoint, bowling, golf and gardening, according to her niece. "She touched the lives of many. She will be greatly missed," Carol Dolack said.

Ms. Dolack is survived by three sisters, four brothers and many nieces, nephews, grandnieces and grandnephews.

Services for Ms. Dolack were held at St. Mary of the Woods Church. Interment was at St. Adalbert Cemetery.

Memorials are being made to St. Mary of the Woods, 7033 N. Moselle Ave., Chicago, Ill., 60646 or to Mother Teresa's Missionaries of Charity Sisters, c/o St. Malachy Parish, 2248 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill., 60612.

Library announces raffle

Violet L. Schumacher, President of the Board of Directors of the Edward G. Schumacher Memorial Library (a not-for-profit organization), 4802 North Milwaukee Avenue, announced that the library will be holding its fundraiser raffle in conjunction with the "Taste of Polonia" held by the Copernicus Foundation, 5216 West Lawrence, Chicago, Illinois, over the Labor Day weekend.

The Grand Prize Winner will receive a cash award in the amount of $5,000. The second place prize is $1,000 cash. The raffle will also include prize drawings for a variety of dinner and gift certificates. Tickets are $5 each or $20 for a book of five. Tickets can be purchased at the "Taste of Polonia" or in advance by contacting any E. G. Schumacher library employee or any Northwestern Business College employee. To purchase advance tickets call the library at 773-481-3755 (Milwaukee Avenue location) or at 708-430-0990 (Hickory Hills location). The drawing will take place on Monday, September 1. The winner need not be present. The proceeds will benefit the library and improve its media collections.

Sisters lift tennis team to first conference win

Sophomore Kinga Wysocki and her sister, freshman Sawa Wysocki (Des Plaines/Maine East High school) of the Lewis University tennis team played a big role in the Flyers' first Great Lakes Valley Conference victory of the season.

In a 5-3 win over Kentucky Wesleyan, Kinga Wysocki won at No. 1 singles and Sawa Wysocki won at No. 3 singles.

Plans were then undertaken to hire Diana Skrypek to fill the position vacated by Sara who left August 1. Welker moved to California to find a job in the San Diego area.

"I love what I'm doing," Skrypek said of her new position. "I like to deal with kids to try and enhance their lives."

Graduating as a communications major from DePaul University, Skrypek feels she is combining her background with her new job.

"This job is a combination of being able to do marketing and media and work with kids."

Her only prior experience with a Park District was as a child growing up in the Edgebrook area. During those years, she took classes at the YMCA where she grew up.

She noted, however, that while in college she served as a Resident Assistant at her resident hall which "gave me a lot of experience working with people."

The best part of Skrypek's new job are the people she works with, she said. "The people here are great. They were very welcoming to me and are all very nice."

Although she couldn't name a difficult part of her job, she admitted that the only adjustment she had to make when she was hired was going from working part-time to "taking on a full-time position."

However, she quickly added that getting a full-time position working for the Niles Park District made the transition a lot easier.

Canoe rentals available in fall

Lyric Opera lecture programs at library

The series opener of the annual Lyric Opera Lecture Corps at the Lincolnwood Public Library will be Thursday evening, Sept. 19, at 7 p.m., with a program on Verdi's Nabucco, a spectacle of biblical grandeur that made Verdi a star.

Other programs in the lecture series are: Peter Grimes on Sept. 25; Idomeneo, Oct. 16; La Boheme, Nov. 6; Amistad, Nov. 20; and Madame Butterfly, Dec. 4. The series continues through January of 1998 with two programs on The Pearl Fishers, Jan. 22, and The Marriage of Figaro, Jan. 29. In addition, this season the Skokie Valley Lyric Opera Lecture Corps will present two talks on Sunday afternoons, beginning Nov. 23, with "Amistad" by Anthony Davis about a trial that polarized the nation. The Skokie Valley group will provide refreshments for both series.

The Lincolnwood Library is located at 4000 W. Pratt Ave.
