We are continuing our effort to keep you informed about the progress of negotiations with the Niles Council of Teachers (NCT) who represent our district's teachers. The latest negotiations session took place tonight.

es for each of these four years: 2.3% for 1997-1998, 3.0% for 1998-1999, consumer price index for 1999-2000 plus step increases; and consumer price index for 2000-2001 plus step increases. The Board of Education is not asking for any other concessions from the teachers.

The Commission will focus on a consultant's study of the area that considers development of new business and improvements to existing properties in an effort to attract more commercial development to the area which extends from Dempster Street to Golf Road along Waukegan Road.

The meeting started at 7 p.m. at the village hall, 6101 Capulina Ave., and the commission will make recommendations to the Village Board based on the suggestions offered at the meeting.

Niles Snow and Ice Control

While many people don't like it, leaves changing colors, and falling to the ground can only mean one thing -- snow will be falling before you know it. However, believe it or not, the Public Services Department has been busy for months preparing for snow and ice control during the hot summer months.

Not long after the last snowflake fell this year, 4,000 tons of salt for the 1997/1998 winter season were ordered, plows were repaired, cleaned and repainted, and salt spreaders were serviced. Additionally, raised sewers that might damage plow equipment were lowered to preferred levels. Being prepared has helped the department be able to respond to snow emergencies at a moments notice with equipment ready to go.

Residents can also help us in our snow removal efforts by remembering a few simple items:

MG man offers safe haven for Serbian cousins

by Rosemary Tirio

Looking very much like any other students in the multi-ethnic mix of Maine East High School, two cousins, Daniejela and Uros Kolundzija, can now reminisce about the childhood hell they left behind in Serbia before they emigrated in 1994.

Forced to leave their childhood home in the small town of Knin in what is now Croatia in 1995, the cousins now calmly accept the bitter reality that they may never return to their beloved home where their family's roots go back over 600 years. For Knin is now a Croat city, while the cousins are

Blase pushed to get lease extended at temporary building; Library project continues to bleed taxpayers as construction contracts must be renegotiated

Blase acts to ease Library fiasco

by Rosemary Tirio

"We were concerned to make sure they had some place to stay," said Niles Mayor Nicholas B. Blase, and thanks to his timely intervention, patrons of the Niles Library will continue to have the use of the temporary library facility at 7400 Caldwell until construction on the new library building is completed, probably around April 1 of next year.

Blase became involved in the discussion when he asked Dave Esposito, village coordinator for business, to step into the negotiations between the library and the A.B. Dick Company, new owner of the Caldwell Avenue building, to extend the library's lease, which would have expired Feb. 1, 1998.

A.B. Dick agreed to let the library stay in its temporary home until the new building is completed. The giant office machine manufacturer had planned to move its corporate headquarters from its Touhy Avenue location to the Caldwell Avenue building. Library Administrator Cary Czarnecki said that library offi-

At Home Care, Long-term Care or Retirement Living

Planning, the key to successful living throughout life, is especially important as you approach your later years. While we can't predict what the future holds, we can become prepared to make educated choices. As they grow older, most people would choose to stay in their own homes if possible. While there are many services available to help aging seniors do so, there are also several options for moving to another type of residence that reflects and supports lifestyle changes.

"Many people don't realize the reasons seniors move into long-term care facilities are not all medically-driven," says Elliott. "Often times a move is needed due to the frailty of the individual."

"As people get older, their needs and priorities change. Some people do need assisted living due to health reasons, others simply don't want the burden of maintaining a house or cooking meals."

For this reason, LSN member facilities offer a variety of services including at-home, assisted and independent living, and retirement programs to meet the changing needs of the growing senior population. "However," reminds Elliott, "before researching the options, caregivers and seniors should identify the needs of the individual."

"Involve family members, a doctor or specialist when looking into the needs of your loved one," says Elliott. "Make sure you have a thorough evaluation or diagnosis (in the case of an ill family member) or a discussion about what the individual wants and/or requires."

The next step is determining how the needs can be met and if they are attainable. "If the goal is to stay at home, you have to research the costs of at-home care," says Elliott. "It's the same if the decision is to move into a long-term care or retirement facility. Either way, make sure you value shop vs. cost shop, and make sure you compare apples to apples."

Finally, before making a choice, Elliott recommends considering the following:

- Plan ahead. Don't wait for a crisis to happen. Make a rational decision instead of an emotional one.
- Be realistic about finances. Determine your sources of income and your expected expenses. Know what you can afford and what you want to pay for.

• Consider your health and that of your spouse or companion.

• Choose an option or options that will best meet your current and anticipated needs.

• If your decision involves a move from your current setting, consider the importance of family, friends and familiar surroundings when you relocate.

• Compare the advantages of one option vs. another. Evaluate several providers before choosing one. Elliott also recommends visiting several facilities and talking with the management. "You want a facility that matches your lifestyle," says Elliott. "If you're an avid swimmer, for example, make sure the facility has a pool. The same if you like to read, make sure there is a good library on site or nearby. Ask to sample a meal from the dining room."

When considering what you want and whether or not you can afford it, it's best to do a financial comparison of what it costs to live at home and what it will cost to live in a resident facility.

"Be sure to write down all of your expenses and what can be eliminated by making the move," says Elliott. "Remember to factor in items such as food, utilities, taxes, repairs, etc. In addition, when comparing Facility A with Facility B, itemize what's being offered and determine what your needs are. If you need a specific service, then the cost is worth it."

"Before you make a decision, see for yourself what type of care and facilities are available," says Elliott. "Not all facilities are the same and not all offer the same services. Look at your current needs and factor in your future needs. For example, if you have a chronic illness such as arthritis, in a few years your activities may be limited. If you have an ill spouse, make sure the community can accommodate their future needs."

"Most important," continues Elliott, "plan ahead and do your homework. As the saying goes, 'an educated consumer is the best customer.'"

Target to open second store in Niles

Target Stores, the nation's leading quality discount retailer, is adding Niles, to the list of U.S. cities that will see a new Target store join their community in 1998. Construction is underway on the Target store being built at Golf Mill Shopping Center at the intersection of Golf Road and Milwaukee Avenue. The new 103,000 square foot store, which will be the second Target in Niles, is scheduled to open in October 1998.

"Target is looking forward to expanding our presence in the Chicago area by locating a second store in Niles," said Ken Woodrow, president of Target Stores. "We anticipate that additional Niles residents will respond well to our winning retail strategy: low prices, great service, a wide assortment of basic and trend merchandise, attractive stores - and a commitment to supporting the community. We believe this combination provides real value to our guests," Woodrow said. Target has established a tradition of referring to customers as "guests" because of its commitment to outstanding service.

MG mom proud her son's a clown

by Rosemary Tinto
A proud Morton Grove mother is celebrating her 20-year-old son's recent graduation from college.

Ellen Semon's son Phillip recently graduated from a well-known Florida institution: the Clown College in Sarasota. And, even better, he has a job.

Phillip Semon was offered a one-year contract with Ringling Brothers Circus after being hand-picked by Kenneth Feld, Ringling Brothers producer. He debuted Nov. 8 at the Rosemont Horizon as Clown Phillip.

Phillip's costume consists of "clown converse" shoes, a varsity-type jacket with leather sleeves and hip-hop style baggy pants. "I could go into any high school in my costume and fit in," the young clown said.

The younger Semon has lived for the past eight years in Norfolk, Va., and when he saw an ad for Clown College, he decided to audition, he said.

"I had no interest in college, so I thought, 'Why not try clown college?' I found I was good at it, and I love it," he said.

Phillip Semon will be appearing with the circus at the United Center in Chicago.

HOLIDAY GIFT GUIDE

Stuff the turkey, not yourself

Worried that your Thanksgiving dinner will leave you feeling stuffed and full of guilt? Whether you're cooking or dining out this Thanksgiving, the American Heart Association of Metropolitan Chicago has some sensible tips that will help relieve over-indulgence and guilt, leaving you happy and healthy this holiday season.

First tip: Don't skip breakfast

Thanksgiving morning. Starving yourself before the "big meal" will surely lead to overeating. Instead, eat a light breakfast, such as cereal and skim milk with a piece of fruit.

When grocery shopping, avoid buying a "butter-basted" turkey. These birds have been injected with fat or butter, making a traditionally low-fat bird high in saturated fat and cholesterol. Instead, opt for a natural turkey. Create your own basting solution using wine or fruit juice mixed with a little unsaturated oil. You can cook the turkey with the skin on, but remove it before eating. Another traditional Thanksgiving meat is ham. Lean ham is not a bad choice, just trim the excess fat off the edges. In general limit your meat portions to no more than 6 ounces per day (about the size of two decks of cards). Instead, fill up on low-fat side dishes like steamed vegetables and sweet or baked potatoes.

Skip the fat-laden gravies, sauces, and stuffings. Choose to make fresh cranberry sauce by taking frozen whole cranberries, boiling them in 1/2 cup water, and adding sugar to taste. Look for lower fat stuffings or eat moderate portions of your regular stuffing.

Make only one trip to the buffet table, and be sure the foods you choose are the ones you truly enjoy. Just think moderation! The same goes for alcohol, which contains many empty calories; save those calories for dessert. Dessert is often the trickiest part of the meal to incorporate into a heart-healthy Thanksgiving. Opt for the pumpkin pie instead of pecan pie. If you are eating at a friend or relative's, offer to bring a healthy dessert. For example, make your pumpkin pie crust with acceptable margarine or other unsaturated options. Prepare the pie filling with skim milk instead of whole milk or cream. You'll really save on saturated fat, calories and cholesterol. Top your yummy pumpkin pie with fat-free whipped topping.

Last tip: Don't skip the exercise. After a big meal, take a walk with friends, family or the dog. Have fun doing the dishes by turning on the radio and dancing to shed those excess calories. A little bit of activity will help reduce those Thanksgiving over-indulgence blues.

If these tips slip under the table Thanksgiving day, remember that we're all human. One day's milk splurge will not endanger your waistline or your heart if you follow the AHA's guidelines that advise no more than 30% of total calories from fat. The key is balance, variety, and moderation. By eating lighter at other meals and increasing your physical activity, you can enjoy a heart-healthy Thanksgiving. For more information on fighting heart disease and stroke, contact the American Heart Association at 1-800-AHA-USA1.

Thanksgiving and Christmas are just around the corner. Whirlpool consumer assistants provide the following tips to ensure a successful holiday get-together.

- Get a head-start on holiday meals by using your freezer and microwave to keep cooked rice and pasta readily available. Place 1/2-cup portions in 6 oz. custard cups. Cover, freeze and remove from custard cups and transfer to a freezer bag.
- Don't panic if your oven doesn't hold enough at holiday time. Quick-cook vegetables by cutting one pound of any dense vegetables (potatoes, carrots, winter squash) into 1/4-inch cubes. Add 2 tablespoons water, cover and microwave on high for 7 to 9 minutes, stirring once.
- If you forget to thaw the frozen whipped dessert topping, place the container of topping in your microwave and cook uncovered at 30 percent power (medium-low) until softened, (about 1 to 1-1/2 minutes for an 8 oz. container.)

• Get the most use from your kitchen utensils and save time, too, during this busy season. Your vegetable peeler can be used to create chocolate curls to decorate a holiday pie; while a small ice-cream scoop works for dipping cookie dough. • Conserve precious time by baking breads and desserts ahead and freezing the food for the holidays. Securely wrap food for the holidays. Securely wrap food or put in freezer containers and seal tightly. You can store yeast bread and rolls 3 months, baked cookies 6 months and unbaked fruit pies 2 to 4 months.

Red Cross provides holiday joy for needy children

It's the most wonderful time of the year... for many children, but for others, the winter holiday season can be a sad reminder of the presents they will not receive.

For the several years, the American Red Cross Arlington Heights Service Center has coordinated a project to provide holiday stockings for needy children in northern Cook and Kane counties. This year, these festive socks, many made by local volunteer groups, will be stuffed with little gifts that will mean a lot to the children such as small toys, health essentials, warm hats and mittens, books and candy.

This annual project relies completely on area volunteers and donors. The stockings need to be cut, sewn and decorated. Organization and businesses are also needed to provide the items to fill the stockings. Finally, volunteers are needed to actually put the stockings together. For information on volunteering or donating items for the holiday stocking project, please contact the American Red Cross at (847) 255-0703. Last year, the Red Cross distributed over 1200 stockings through this project. The Arlington Heights Service Center is part of the Mid-America Chapter of the American Red Cross. The Mid-America Chapter serves the 7.5 million people of Cook, DuPage, Kane, Kendall, Lake, McHenry, and Will counties providing community disaster preparedness and relief, safety and health education, international tracing and services to military personnel and their families.

She added, "Bear Necessities Pediatric Cancer is returning an outstanding 8 1/2% back to the cause and the children and receives no federal nor state funding."

Women needed for PMS research

This three month study evaluates the ability of an investigational product to treat the symptoms associated with PMS. PMS is characterized by debilitating mood and behavioral changes. Very often somatic complaints such as breast tenderness or abdominal bloating appear in the week preceding menstruation, and can interfere with normal functioning. Overall approximately 75% of the general female population complain of some PMS symptoms. Researchers are seeking over- all healthy women ages 18-40 who believe they experience symptoms of PMS such as depression, anxiety, headache, or swelling in the week before menstruation. Volunteers who are currently using hormonal birth control methods must be willing to stop them for three months prior to entering the study. All parking and transportation costs will be provided. For more information, contact Janet Cahill, RN, MBA at Women's Health Research Center at Rush-Presbyterian -St. Luke's Medical Center, (312) 563-0237.

Get an early start helping children learn to read

Parents can help their children the world - through books. How parents introduce the world of books into their children's lives can have a great impact, according to Judy Taylor, University of Illinois Extension youth development educator.

Children who enjoy reading and use this skill will have greater success in school. Reading also expands a child's understanding of the world and stimulates their imagination. The love of reading begins early - before children actually learn how to read. Parents who read to their infants are giving them a good start, Taylor said. Even at just a few months of age, babies can look at pictures and listen to the sounds of the words.

Toddlers and preschoolers will enjoy simple stories and often have a favorite book they like to hear. "Young children enjoy the closeness of sharing a book with someone they love," Taylor said. "Even years later, they may remember their favorite books from this time in their life."

Taylor suggested trying to read to young children at least once a day. Make reading time a priority. This will show children that reading is important. As children enter elementary school, some parents tutor their children by pointing out letters and words they see everywhere they go. Some parents also use workbooks to help their children learn to read. Research has found, however, that children whose parents simply read to them perform as well as those whose parents used workbooks or have had training in teaching.

Older children as well as young children will benefit when parents discuss the stories after reading them. For example, ask questions about what happened and relate the stories to everyday events. When children must think about the story, they begin to understand that books have valuable information and are more than just words on a page. Good books are available at the local or school library and in bookstores. It may help to ask

Hospice eases the grief of losing a loved one

Rainbow Hospice, Inc. enables people to live with dignity and hope while coping with loss and the end-of-life. In honor of National Hospice Month, Rainbow Hospice, Inc. wishes to offer hope to those who have had a loved one die.

For many people, the grief of losing a loved one to a terminal illness is overwhelming. Some people experience feelings of sadness, anger, and guilt, while others suffer from insomnia, a diminished appetite, or the actual symptoms that the deceased had before dying. Hospice helps family members and friends of people who are terminally ill understand their grief and learn to cope with their loss by incorporating it into their everyday lives.

Rainbow Hospice had a bereavement program that provides ongoing contact and assistance to surviving individuals for at least a year, through short-term individual counseling, support groups, telephone follow up, and written educational materials. These services are provided by social workers, mental health professionals, nurses, volunteers, pastoral care providers, and counselors, who are trained to identify survivors who are emotionally "at risk" and to determine which level of care is most appropriate. Rainbow Hospice provides counseling for survivors, regardless of whether their loved ones were enrolled in the hospice program. Recognizing that close relationships often are formed in the workplace, many hospice programs also offer support at the job site or in nearby facilities when death claims the life of a coworker.

There are many hospice programs in the Chicago area serving people with any life-limiting illness - not just cancer. As the most recent national statistics indicate, only 78% of hospice patients were cancer patients.

Rainbow Hospice, Inc. is a ten-year-old not-for-profit 501(c)(3) organization affiliated with Advocate Lutheran General Hospital, Resurrection Medical Center and Our Lady of the Resurrection Medical Center. Rainbow Hospice serves people terminally ill people and their families on the northwest portion of Chicago and the northwest suburbs. It provides hospice care to approximately 800 hospice patients and families a year and an additional 1200 families in bereavement who may or may not have had hospice services for their loved one. Rainbow Hospice has an extensive Bereavement Center providing a variety of bereavement services to children, adolescents and adults in the community who have experienced a loss through death.

If you would like more information on Hospice or Bereavement services or know of someone who would benefit from these services, please call Rainbow Hospice, Inc. at (847) 699-2000.

Landmark heart study makes medical history

Australian and New Zealand researchers have found that patients who have suffered a heart attack or unstable angina can live longer by taking a cholesterol lowering drug - pravastatin.

Principal Investigator of the Long-Term Intervention with Pravastatin in Ischaemic Disease (LIPID) study, and Director of Health, Medical and Scientific Affairs for the National Heart Foundation of Australia, Dr. Andrew Tonkin, announced today that this study will change the way medicine is practiced.

Announcing the LIPID results at the American Heart Association 70th Scientific Sessions in Orlando today, Dr. Tonkin said LIPID is the largest study of its kind in the world.

The LIPID study involved 9,000 men and women with cholesterol levels from - 4 - 7 millimoles per liter (155-270 mg/dl), from 87 hospitals around Australia and New Zealand who had experienced a heart attack or been admitted to a hospital with unstable angina.

"For the first time ever, cholesterol lowering with pravastatin in the average heart attack patient has been shown to save lives. Not only that, these patients on pravastatin had fewer heart attacks, less stroke, and less need for heart surgery and angioplasty," said Dr. Tonkin.

The study shows pravastatin treatment reduced consequences of coronary heart disease. The key findings showed LIPID:

- reduced total deaths by 23 percent;
- reduced total number of heart attacks by 29 percent;
- reduced deaths from coronary heart disease by 24 percent;
- reduced the need for heart surgery by 24 percent; and
- reduced stroke by 20 percent.

"The cholesterol levels and background treatments were representative of most people with coronary heart disease. This is important in taking the results of the trial into clinical practice," Dr. Tonkin said.

The LIPID study was conducted by an independent group of researchers and coordinated by the National Health and Medical Research Council's Clinical Trial Centre at the University of Sydney. The study was conducted under the auspices of the National Heart Foundation of Australia and funded by a grant from the manufacturers of the drug pravastatin, Bristol-Myers Squibb.

Professor John Simes, Director of the Clinical Trials Centre, said this study was vitally important for providing convincing evidence which would shape future medical practice throughout the world.

At your fingertips! Healthy nails for Life

Nails can represent an art form, a fashion statement, a method of personal expression and a mirror of inner health. Dermatologists can improve the appearance of the nail, recommend cosmetics that can maintain nail health, treat nail disease, and diagnose other conditions of medical importance, based on the appearance of the nails. Short or long, decorated or plain, your dermatologist can help you keep healthy nails for life.

"Nails are an important part of appearance. In addition, they protect the fingers and toes from injury, and they can be an indicator of disease," says Zoe Diana Draclos, M.D., Clinical Associate Professor, Department of Dermatology, Bowman Gray School of Medicine, Wake Forest University, North Carolina.

The lifespan of the nail begins before birth. "Properly formed, smooth nails in a newborn reassure that all is well. Teenagers value nails for their fashion versatility. Men and women recognize that healthy nails present a positive image beginning with the first hand shake."

Society has come to enjoy nails as an art form and a fashion statement. Stores and salons nationwide offer various press-on nails, nail sculpture, tips and jewels. Millions apply nail polish, nail sunscreens, and the latest strengtheners and quickdries.

"Of utmost importance is that nails are a mirror of inner health," says Dr. Draclos. For example, patients suffering circulation problems may experience a bluish/purple nail bed. Psoriasis sufferers may have tiny holes in the nail plate, and fungal infection may show as a misshapen nail plate with debris. In addition, broken blood vessels beneath nails may signal lupus, and a discolored nail plate may indicate liver or kidney disease. Chemotherapy may present horizontal grooves in the nail plate. "See your dermatologist if any of these problems exist. Your dermatologist is a nail expert," she says.

Of particular interest to the elderly, new antifungal drugs such as itraconazole, fluconazole and terbinafine are being used in the treatment of onychomycosis, a fungal infection which affects the finger and toe nails. Onychomycosis accounts for 50% of all nail diseases, and causes the nails to become thickened, hard to cut and often painful.

Does nature hold the secret cure for prostate cancer?

The answer may be right in your own backyard or as near as a health food store. Startling new evidence shows that something positive happened when human cancer cells were injected with a special compound from aged garlic extract. It had a profound effect on retarding cancerous cell growth, and scientists are still searching for the reasons why.

In another experiment, an orange juice extract also had profound results.

These new studies are important because of the growing number of men afflicted with prostate cancer. The latest figures from 1995 show that 244,000 were diagnosed with prostate cancer and 40,000 died from it. Prostate cancer is now the second most commonly diagnosed cancer in the US.

The latest findings done by respected researchers at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center in New York with aged garlic extract, Kyolic, could lead to the miracle cure for cancer that science has been seeking for the last 50 years. Also significant is the fact that the cancer fighting compound is found only in the aged garlic extract and not in fresh garlic.

In the test-tube experiment, the prostate cancer cells were exposed to S-allylmercaptopycysteine, a sulfur compound that forms as garlic ages. It caused the cancer cells to break down testosterone between two and four times sooner than they would ordinarily do.

"The results are very promising," says Dr. John Pinto, a leading cancer researcher at Sloan Kettering. "There is a marker in garlic that enhances the breakdown of testosterone."

Testosterone, the primary male sex hormone, is also blamed for creating cancer cells.

Dr. John A. Milner, a researcher at Pennsylvania State University, who has done independent tests with success in inhibiting cancer cells in laboratory mice using Kyolic compounds, was equally excited. "I think this new study is significant," Milner said. "No question about it."

So profound are the results that researchers are just one step away from using the garlic extract in actual human tests, a costly but important next step in this research.

Dr. Richard S. Rivlin, director of clinical nutrition at Sloan Kettering and a lead researcher with Dr. Pinto, said the decrease in prostate-specific antigen, a protein, was greater than compound was applied. "This looks very promising," he said.

The thioallyl components in S-allylmercaptopycysteine, a sulfur compound that forms as garlic ages, "are important dietary factors shown to have anti-cancer activity," the Sloan-Kettering doctors reported. "Dietary garlic constituents may influence the levels of recognized biomarkers used clinically to assess progression of prostate cancer."

Kyolic extract is made from organic garlic that is harvested and then aged in a special process for over a year, and then processed and distributed by a California company, Wakunaga of America Co., Ltd. in Mission Viejo. Other research has shown that Kyolic is a powerful anti-oxidant in helping to reduce heart disease.

In the midst of this new medical report, researchers reported in the prestigious Journal of the National Cancer Institute that citrus pectin injected into laboratory rats inhibited the growth of deadly cancer cells. "This is the first report of an oral method to prevent spontaneous metastasis," the researchers said.

Moreover, scientists are looking at lycopene and other compounds found in tomatoes as effective cancer fighters along with the herb, Saw palmetto, which scientists have already proved to be effective in treating enlarged prostate.

What this all means is that is a combination of aged garlic extract, certain vegetables and citrus, along with a low-fat diet, lifestyle changes and reduction of stress, all play a key role in reducing cancer. On a long-range basis, both Rivlin and Pinto see Kyolic as an important player in preventing cancer.

"On the plus side of the equation," Dr. Pinto said, "there is no magic bullet."

However, he notes that Kyolic could be part of a complete daily program of supplementing a healthy diet of fresh fruits and vegetables to provide a good anti-oxidant environment. "It is a combination of all these things, along with a healthy lifestyle and reducing the amounts of psychological stress, that puts us on the plus side of the equation," he said.

Turning right on red

Turning right on a red light has become so automatic that motorists sometimes abuse the law, putting themselves and others at risk.

Turning right on red can save time and ease traffic congestion, but drivers need to practice it with caution.

Q. What does Illinois law say about turning right on red?

A. You can turn right on red only after making a complete stop and looking for oncoming traffic. Enter the roadway cautiously after yielding the right of way to approaching vehicles, pedestrians and cyclists.

Q. Does the law permit motorists to turn left on a red light?

A. Yes, if you are driving on a one-way street and preparing to turn onto a one-way street.

Q. Are there any limitations to this law?

A. Yes. State and local authorities may prohibit a right or left turn at certain intersections. These will be marked with "No Turn on Red" signs and must be obeyed at all times.

Q. How can pedestrians and cyclists protect themselves from motorists who abuse the law?

A. Before crossing an intersection, look for drivers who may be preparing to turn right or left at the red light. Make sure the driver sees you and has made a complete stop before entering the crosswalk.

Beat Auto Theft

Facts you should know about BAT...

What is Beat Auto Theft (BAT)?

Simply, BAT is an auto theft prevention program that alerts police that your vehicle is normally NOT driven between the hours of 1:00 a.m. and 5:00 a.m.

How does BAT work?

You complete and sign the attached BAT Registration Form. You are then sent a reflective BAT decal to be placed in the rear windshield (lower corner) on the driver's side. If the police see your vehicle decal out between 1:00 a.m. and 5:00 a.m., they have permission to stop the vehicle and question the driver.

What does BAT cost?

Registration and decal costs $5.00 per vehicle. This is a one-time fee for as long as you own your vehicle. The fee helps fund the BAT program.

What if I want to register more than one vehicle?

Each vehicle requires a separate registration form and $5.00 fee. Each vehicle in the BAT program receives its own decal and identification number.

What if a friend borrows the vehicle?

You must alert her/him that the vehicle might be stopped if driven during the BAT period; between 1:00 a.m. and 5:00 a.m.

The Beat Auto Theft program is funded in part through a grant from the Illinois Motor Vehicle Theft Prevention Council, and is operated by the Illinois Secretary of State's Department of Police, in consultation with the Council and the Illinois State Police.

What if I need to use the vehicle and am stopped?

You'll be asked to produce a valid driver's license and vehicle registration card to verify ownership.

How do I withdraw from the BAT program?

It's easy! Send a completed BAT cancellation form and completely remove the BAT decal. You must do this when you sell your vehicle or otherwise transfer ownership.

Is the BAT program successful?

Although new to Illinois, BAT programs are having an impact in New York, Texas, Virginia, and other areas. It should be successful in Illinois, too!

Is BAT the best vehicle theft prevention program?

BAT can have an impact - but it's just one way to reduce the risk of your vehicle being stolen. You should also Park Smart - lock your car, take the keys, close all windows and park in a well-lit area.

What if I have more questions about BAT?

Feel free to call the Illinois Secretary of State, Department of Police toll free at 1-(800)-698-0591. Or write to the Beat Auto Theft program, Illinois Secretary of State, Department of Police, 324 West Monroe, Springfield, Illinois, 62701.

When caught in a winter storm . . .

Avoid overexertion, such as shoveling heavy snow, pushing a car, or walking in deep snow. The strain from the cold and the hard labor could cause a heart attack. Sweating could lead to a chill and even hypothermia.

OUTSIDE

- Seek shelter to stay dry.
- Cover all exposed parts of the body.
- If no shelter is nearby, prepare a lean-to, windbreak, or snow cave for protection from the wind. Build a fire for heat and to attract attention.
- Do not eat snow as it will lower your body temperature. Melt it first.

IN A VEHICLE

- If you have a cellular phone, call for help.
- Stay in your vehicle. Disorientation occurs quickly in wind-driven snow and cold.
- Run the engine (after making sure the exhaust pipe is not blocked and opening windows a little for fresh air to avoid carbon monoxide poisoning) about ten minutes each hour for heat.

- Make yourself visible to rescuers. Turn on the dome light at night when running the engine. Tie a colored cloth (preferably red) to your antenna or door. Raise the hood indicating trouble after snow stops falling.
- Exercise from time to time by vigorously moving arms, legs, fingers, and toes to keep blood circulating and to keep warm.

AT HOME OR IN A BUILDING

- Stay indoors. When using alternative heat from a fireplace, wood stove, space heater, etc. use safeguards and ensure proper ventilation.
- If you have no heat, close off unneeded rooms and place towels or rags under the doors. Cover windows at night.
- Eat to supply heat and energy and drink to avoid dehydration.
- Wear several layers of loose-fitting, lightweight, warm clothing. Remove in layers to avoid overheating, perspiration and subsequent chill.

'Swap Crews' cleaning up Des Plaines

Labor crews from the Sheriff's Work Alternative Program (SWAP) will be working in Des Plaines on November 20 and 21, as a public service to the taxpayers of Cook County, according to the Office of Sheriff Michael F. Sheahan.

The SWAP Program is made up of non-violent offenders charged with DUI and other misdemeanor crimes who "swap" jail time for a community service sentence. Under the supervision of specially trained sheriff's deputies, the crews work throughout the county on a variety of public works projects such as cleaning parks, viaducts and streets.

For further information about SWAP call (708) 865-4960.

Lowest gas prices in nearly two years

In Northern Indiana, the pump price for a gallon of self-serve unleaded regular now averages $1.102, down 4.8 cents from last month and 6.2 cents less than last year's price.

In Chicago and Cook County, a gallon of self-serve unleaded regular currently averages $1.287, down 5.6 cents from last month and down more than a dime (10.7 cents) from last year, 1996.

The victim walked away for a short time and upon returning observed the cup in the hands of a 40-year-old busboy, also from Chicago, but the ring was missing.

Freshman class officers elected

Loyola's freshman class has elected officers from its Student Council representatives. President is James Hickey of Glenview, Vice President is Jared Kosin of Glenview, Secretary is Lauren Serantoni of Chicago and Nora Gorman of Chicago is Commissioner of Activities. The freshmen have already made themselves out to be the cream of the crop in their commitment to making Loyola better than ever. They were intrinsic in the setting up for Homecoming and look to have great ideas for events in the weeks.

A touch of the orient

Last week, students in Mr. John O'Lughlin's Honors World History class who are studying the Asian civilizations of India and China, were joined by fifteen students from his senior elective in Asian Culture on a trip to "experience Asia first hand." The group first traveled to the Midwest Buddhist Temple at 435 W. Monomonee in Chicago for a presentation on Buddhism from the Reverend Ojui, rector of the Temple. Following the discourse, they then traveled to Chinatown for a walking tour and lunch at the Happiness Restaurant.

Edison School students tour Niles West Prairie site

Niles West High School biology teacher Christopher Barnett leads a group of students from Edison Elementary School in Morton Grove on a recent tour through the Niles West Prairie Restoration Project. MG Bank to hold Customer Appreciation

First National Bank of Morton Grove is planning a customer appreciation week to mark the completion of a major renovation project. The remodeled facility at 6201 Dempster features a streamlined design to make banking easier for customers and employees. The bank has planned a week of special events for customers and prospective customers. All are invited to stop in from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. December 1, 2, 4 and 5 and from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on December 6 for refreshments, a tour of the facility and a commemorative gift. FNBMG opened its doors to the community in 1951 and quickly outgrew its first location at 6300 North Lincoln. The current facility opened in 1958 and was most recently restructured in 1977. "Our goal was to provide a better banking experience for our customers," said William F. McCarty, president of First National Bank of Morton Grove. "Not only does the lobby have a more modern appearance, it's more convenient with more usable space." The Chicago office of the architectural firm of Cordogan, Clark & Associates oversaw the renovation, which affected the entire 40,000-square-foot facility. The project began in February and was completed last month.

Finishing touches, such as a new computer network, will be put in place by the end of the year. The week of special events is a thank-you to customers for their patience during the past months and a chance for everyone to see First National's new look. "Our customers have endured construction noise and detours for many months, and we want to thank them for their support and patience," said McCarty. Companies use computer market-data services to establish ACV. Give the adjuster information on your car's options and condition. If the dispute is with your company, refer to the appraisal clause in your policy contract. This outlines the procedure to settle value disagreements.

Illinois Insurance Hotline

Q: Recently I had an accident. The body shop says our car is a total loss. What does this mean? The adjuster offered less than what I think the car is worth. What are my options?

A: Total loss means your vehicle costs more to repair than what it's worth. The settlement offer is based on your car's ACV, or actual cash value.

Companies use computer market-data services to establish ACV. Give the adjuster information on your car's options and condition.

If the dispute is with your company, refer to the appraisal clause in your policy contract. This outlines the procedure to settle value disagreements. However, if the dispute is with the other driver's insurance company this isn't the case. You're a "third-party" to the other driver's insurance contract. Third-parties don't have specific contract rights, so reaching an agreement is a negotiation process. Work toward a compromise you both can accept. If you can't reach a settlement, you can submit the claim to your own company (if you have physical damage) or seek legal counsel.

Whether it's your company or the other driver's company, always try to work out the problem with the insurance company yourself first. For additional options, call the Hotline.

Q: My neighbor bought an MSA as a tax benefit. What is an MSA? Can I get one?

A: Medical Savings Accounts (MSA's) allow you to pay medical expenses with tax-deductible dollars. This pilot program is limited to 750,000 MSA accounts.

There are qualifications: 1) Self-employed or covered by a small employer health plan with under 50 employees; 2) Purchase a high-deductible major medical policy (minimum $1,500/individual, $3,000/family); and 3) No other major medical coverage.

Tax-free MSA withdrawals are allowed if you use the money to pay eligible medical expenses. Examples are doctor and hospital fees, prescriptions, home health care, dental, vision, and psychiatric care.

Your MSA contribution is tax deductible up to maximum of 65% of the deductible per individual and 75% per family. Employer contributions are not considered as taxable income. Also, interest on the account is not taxed and the unused balance can carry over from year to year.

Many insurance companies offer MSA products. Call your health insurance agent or the Hotline for further information.

Illinois Insurance Hotline is a monthly column based on typical questions asked of the Illinois Insurance Hotline 1-800-444-3338, a toll-free consumer program funded by many insurance companies doing business in Illinois, and operated by the Illinois Insurance Information Service, a not-for-profit organization of major Illinois insurers. If you have any insurance questions, or want to know more about the above answers, you may call the Hotline, which operates Monday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Deregulation, Politics and Investments at Cole Taylor

The economy is healthy, the political climate proves to be exciting and deregulation of the electric industry in Illinois will be good for the State of Illinois, its businesses, and its residents. That's what a group of more than 170 elected officials, public finance professionals, community business executives, industrial development leaders and educators throughout Chicagoland, including officials from the Villages of Skokie and Niles, Skokie Park District, and Oakton Community College heard at the 1997 Chicago Metropolitan Area Public Finance Roundtable sponsored by Cole Taylor Bank.

This was the sixth annual public finance roundtable hosted by the bank. "As our involvement in Illinois' public finance arena has continued to grow, we have found this yearly forum provides an important means of promoting communication between government officials throughout the Chicagoland area," noted Robert F. Corey, Senior Executive Vice-President, Government Relations, Cole Taylor Bank, who has been directing the bank's highly successful government relations business since 1990. As Chicagoland's largest private bank, Cole Taylor has earned a reputation in its nearly 70 years for delivering high quality, personalized service. With $1.9 billion in assets the bank operates 11 business and personal banking facilities throughout Chicagoland with the nearest branches at 4801 W. Golf Road and 4400 W. Oakton in Skokie.

Protecting homes in cold weather pamphlet

Winter brings Christmas cheer, skiing, skating and, for homeowners, possibly ice dams and frozen pipes that can damage your home and make life miserable.

Simple steps can often prevent problems, according to The Hanover Insurance Company, headquartered in frosty Worcester, Mass.

For instance, you should shut off your outside faucets by the inside shut-off valves to prevent them from freezing and breaking. Ice dams can usually be prevented with adequate insulation, good attic ventilation and flashing along the eaves.

Hanover offers a free illustrated pamphlet that gives tips on preventive measures and suggestions on minimizing damage in case of an ice dam or frozen pipes.

For a free copy of "Protecting Your Home in Cold Weather," send your name and address to Betty Mangini, The Hanover Insurance Company, 100 North Parkway, H260, Worcester, MA 01605, or contact her by e-mail at bmangini@allamerica.com.

Thanksgiving bird: To stuff or not to stuff

Each year the USDA issues a warning to consumers about the unsafe practice of cooking stuffed roast turkey. Still, thousands of people continue to stuff the holiday bird in spite of the risk of food borne illness. The primary risk is in serving undercooked stuffing made with such fragile ingredients as sausage, eggs and chicken or turkey broth. To eliminate the risk the USDA recommends cooking stuffing in a separate dish.

For many people the taste of moist, rich stuffing is essential to the holiday season. The aroma of turkey and stuffing embodies the holiday season itself. Family tradition is important too. Since many people insist on having stuffed roast turkey anyway, it is time to talk about ways of minimizing the risk. With proper cooking methods you can actually produce a safe roast stuffed turkey," says Drusilla Banks, Extension Educator, Nutrition and Wellness with the University of Illinois Cooperative Extensive Service. Key factors are discussed below.

Limit the turkey size. Stuffing a larger turkey than 15 to 16 pounds is asking for trouble. The larger the turkey the larger the cavity and the more stuffing inside. The stuffing actually forms an insulation during roasting. The interior cooking time of the turkey is slowed considerably due to the stuffing. A smaller turkey minimizes the amount of time it takes for the stuffing to heat up and cook completely.

Precook the stuffing. When the turkey is done, the stuffing should have cooked to an internal temperature of 165°F. If the stuffing goes into the bird hot, it will reach this temperature before the rest of the turkey is overcooked. Ingredients like sausage and other meats are usually precooked before adding to stuffing mixtures. Heating the entire batch of stuffing in a skillet or in the microwave for 5-10 minutes reduces the time it takes for the stuffing to heat up.

Stuff the turkey lightly. Do not use more than 1/2 or 3/4 cups stuffing mixture per pound of turkey. If you are cooking a 16-pound turkey, use no more than eight to twelve cups of stuffing mix. Extra stuffing should be placed in a separate casserole and baked during the last 30 minutes of the turkey roasting time.

Use a meat thermometer. A stuffed turkey takes 30 to 60 minutes longer to cook than an unstuffed turkey. This increased cooking time often results in choke-dry white meat. To complicate matters further, the breast meat cooks faster than the thigh about 10°F. Using an aluminum foil tent over the breast helps to slow the cooking time so that every part of the turkey is done at the same time.

The breast meat is done at 170°F while the thigh takes the longest to cook to doneness at 180°F. If you do not have a meat thermometer, wiggle the leg, it should move freely in the joint. Another test for doneness is to prick the thigh with a fork. The meat juices will run clear without any tinge of pink color when the turkey is done.

Remove the Stuffing immediately. As soon as the stuffed turkey is done remove the stuffing to a separate serving dish. Let the bird rest for 20 minutes before carving for better results. The time allows juices to redistribute producing better carving results. Leftover stuffing should be refrigerated and eaten within one or two days.

Consider cooking the stuffing in a separate dish. Using this method you eliminate the risk of overcooked turkey and the stuffing is always done. You can stuff the cavity of the turkey with chopped celery, onions, mushrooms, lemon slices and sage. You will produce a perfectly roasted, flavorful and moist turkey without the risk.

Home heating tips

- Conserve fuel if necessary by keeping your house cooler than normal. Temporarily "close off" heat to unneeded rooms.

- Hang blankets over windows at night (let the sun shine in during the day). Stuff cracks around doors with rugs, newspapers, towels, or other such materials.

- When using kerosene heaters, maintain ventilation to avoid build up of toxic fumes. Refuel kerosene heaters outside and keep them at least three feet away from flammable objects.

WINTER DEATHS
Everyone is potentially at risk with the actual threat depending upon individual situations. Recent winter death statistics in the United States indicate the following:

Related to ice and snow: About 70% occur in automobiles; 25% are people caught out in the storm; and the majority are males more than 40 years old.

Related to exposure to cold: 50% are people more than 60 years old; more than 75% are males; and about 20% occur in the home.

Oakton Cagers ready for promising season

The Oakton Community College men's basketball team certainly looks like a good bet to make a huge turnaround this season in the Skyway Conference.

A 13-18 record a year ago included an 0-12 slate in the Skyway, but the Raiders could be a contender to win the championship for the 1997-98 season.

"We have the potential to compete for the conference championship," said seventh-year coach Rick Kilby. "Our size definitely is going to present some problems for the teams we play. We'll have to stay out of foul trouble because we don't have a lot of depth, but there is some talent and size. Our big guys not only have size, but they also are athletic and have pretty good speed."

Kilby said he plans to start four players who are 6 feet 7 inches tall along with shooting guard Eric Galati, a 6-2 sophomore. The lone returning starter is 6-7 Andy Lange, who was a first-team all-Skyway selection last season after leading the league in both scoring (24.6) and rebounding (9.0).

"Right now, Andy probably is the only 6-7 point guard around," Kilby said. "He's a very versatile player who can do several things and play any position on the court."

The other 6-7 starters are Sche-

Review of A Place to Call Home

Connie Adelman will discuss A Place to Call Home by Deborah Smith at the Lincolnwood Public Library on Friday morning, Dec. 5 at 10:30 a.m. The novel is a rich evocation of family and place that portrays all too painfully the hurt and comfort, the frustration and rewards brought by heritage and family. The main character, Claire Maloney, is feisty, unafraid and burning to right the injustices of the world, starting with those in the small Georgia town dominated by her extended family. Two tragedies make her realize that the most generous impulses can be as destructive as the selfish ones. The program is the last review in the Friday Fare series for the year. Exploring Niles' History: Anyone for the Panthers? Who's got a Gangue?

Panthers
Harry "Chick" Jagade probably said it a dozen times, "You got the wrong man."
"But coach," says the exasperated player.
"You're supposed to cover the tight end," responds Jagade.
"The guy who lined up at right end was wearing 42, I thought he was a flanker," responds the linebacker.
"Cover your man," shouts the coach.
"But you always tell us to look for my number," says the player angrily.
And so it went. A very brief newspaper account of the game described it as "wild and woolly" with the Niles Panthers losing by three points. Afterwards, the Panthers' Coach protested the entire game since none of the opposing players were wearing numbers assigned to players for specific positions. The linemen were wearing numbers only the backfield should have been wearing and the backfield players were wearing numbers only linemen were supposed to wear.

The Panthers were a semi-professional football team that identified with Niles. They played their first game sometime in August 1965. They won that game against a team from Milwaukee by the score of 25-19.
Jagade was the coach. He played for Paul Brown, the highly respected coach of the Cleveland Browns in the old American and later National Football League.
After the Panther's second game in 1965, not being able to find further accounts, it is difficult to determine if the Niles Panthers played any more games in 1965.
The next year, Joe Osmanski, former Chicago Bear fullback, was the coach of the Panthers. The first game that year was scheduled for August 27, 1966. No information could be located to determine if the Panthers did, in fact, play any games in 1966.
These fragments of information on the Niles Panthers leave many questions unanswered.

Where did they play? Why did they choose Niles for their "home"? How much were the players paid? Were any former or future pro-football players on either of the teams?
There are probably more than a few in Niles who know more about the Niles Panthers than is available in print. We would like to hear from you if you went to a game, or better yet, may have taken a photo of one of the "stars" of the team. Perhaps you are in the photo. If the Panthers had a scorecard of a mimeograph sheet with player's names that you just may have saved, it would be a really great find for the Niles Historical Museum. Let us know. See address at end of column.
Gangue
What in the world? And why "Gangue"? A quick glance in the dictionary: "the stony or earthy minerals occurring in the metallic ore in a vein or deposit."
Wow! you got me. Score one, make that two, for you. That was really clever. With a title like that, we know the vein you struck must be really something. Now all we have to do is find out, evaluate how rich it is. We can't wait to see for yourself after such a clever invitation.

That's it. How does one get the rest of the story?
"Gangue" was the title of a collection of creative writing published by the Creative Writers of Niles. It was published and on sale in July of 1966. There were four names listed in a short newspaper article, members of the Creative Writers group who were selling the book, but none are in Niles at this time.
Odds are a copy of Gangue must be some place, somewhere in probably more than one home in Niles. It is not at the Niles Historical Museum—the museum was started much later. The Niles Public Library does not have a copy—the library was just moving into its new facility and probably other events and details commanded more of its attention. The only book store selling Gangue was in Park Ridge. Could it be that Niles did not have any bookstores at the time?

That vein, our imagination already tells us, must have been pure gold. How much more valuable can it be today?
To any readers having a copy of the historic "Gangue," please consider donating the copy to the future generations of Niles by sending it or delivering it to the Niles Historical Museum.
Let us hear from you at the:

Daniel Hrab, barber in Niles, saw our appeal asking for items on the history of Niles. He glanced at two photographs he had in his shop for years and decided they belong in the Niles Historical Society. Those two photographs were identified as the Niles Fire Department in 1908 and 1915.
Thanks Dan for your donation to the Niles Historical Museum.

Letters to the Editor

Thank You on behalf of Polish flood victims

Dear Editor:
On behalf of the children, in the devastated flood areas of Poland, who are unable to speak for themselves at the moment—a most sincere and heartfelt "Bog Zaplac" to each and everyone of you who participated in giving of yourselves to support our "Smile Drive!"
It is through the gracious hearts of those who care, that smiles far away in our homeland will appear magically like rainbows on the canvas of children's faces during this unusual holiday season.
Christmas packages will be mailed filled with toys and candies to "Dom Dzieczka" located in Clawa, Klodzko, Katy Wroclawski, Opole, and Kedzierzyn Kozle.

Most recent contact with Poland indicates that the next important step is the replacement of laundry machines, refrigerators, and furniture. Many families are still in tents—not yet back in houses—and the cold winter has already set in.

Bishop Hill Arts Council

The Bishop Hill Arts Council invites you to experience the sights and sounds of a traditional Swedish Christmas in the historic village of Bishop Hill, Henry County, Illinois. Giving teens a clothing allowance helps monitor spending Most parents spend more than $500 annually on clothing for each teenager. Giving teens a clothing allowance is one way to budget this large expense, according to Mary Ann Fugate, University of Illinois Extension educator, consumer and family economics.

The Consumer Expenditure Survey showed that in 1995, U.S. families earning less than $33,700 and headed by a husband and wife, spent $760 annually on clothes for a 12-14 year old, and $670 for a 15-17 year old. Families earning more than $56,700 spent $1,120 annually for a teenager, age 12-14. Single-parent families earning less than $33,700 spent $720 on clothes annually for a teen age 12-14 and $840 for a teen age 15-17.

Budgeting clothing by giving teens a clothing allowance is one way to limit excess spending, according to Fugate.

"Most teenagers have already received an allowance for personal and entertainment items and they may even have an income from a part-time job," Fugate said. "At this age, they are familiar with the idea, but they can use an allowance specifically for clothing to set priorities and keep overspending at a minimum."

The amount of money used for a clothing allowance would be determined by the family's income and lifestyle. It may help to track spending for a year to decide how much money should be chase of the building became public about two weeks ago.

"A.B. Dick never indicated to us that they planned to evict us," Czarniecki said, countering rumors that A.B. Dick had threatened to oust the library Feb. 1 when the lease expires.

Czarniecki said that staying in the Caldwell Avenue building until construction on the new building is complete will be the most desirable and economical solution because the many furnishings and materials will be moved only once to their new permanent location rather than being placed temporarily in an incomplete building and then having to be moved again.

"The desks and shelves will end up where they'll be permanently," Czarniecki said. "They wouldn't have to be moved twice," he added.

The Niles library board held a special meeting Nov. 13 to discuss the library construction project, which has become immersed in controversy since the public learned that the Broadway Construction Co., of Chicago, the general contractor on the project, is behind schedule but not bound by a penalty clause.

The move into the new building will almost certainly be delayed beyond the Feb. 1, 1998, lease deadline at the temporary location at 7400 Caldwell Ave.

The library has been paying $40,000 per month rent at the temporary location, which includes utilities and maintenance costs, according to Library Administrator Cary Czarniecki.

Library Board attorney Dennis Walsh is negotiating with the general contractor in order to have at least 35,000 sq. ft. of the space completed by April 1, Czarniecki said.

Village Manager Abe Selman refused to comment on the library dilemma but said that the general contractor of the new Niles Fitness Center currently under construction is working under a penalty clause of $1,000 per day if the project goes beyond deadline.

However, the contractor "has opportunities to extend the timeline in the event of delays that are beyond his control," Selman said.

The library's architectural firm, Frye Gillan Molinaro of Chicago, discouraged the inclusion of a penalty clause in the

for the first two years: 5.2% for 1997-1998, 4.7% for 1998-1999. The latest national Consumer Price Index (CPI-U) is 2.4%.

For the remaining two years, the NCT proposal is: consumer price index for 1999-2000 plus step increases; and consumer price index for 2000-2001 plus step increases. If the consumer price index increased by 3% for the last two years of the contract, the NCT proposal could produce a 21% increase over the four year original contract with the general contractor, citing bad blood between the contractor and the library board, Czarniecki said. The renegotiation of the contract will probably include a penalty clause, Czarniecki added.

Village Attorney Joseph Annunzio said that construction contracts for the village come under his inspection, and that "normally you have a substantial completion date, when people can walk in and live and begin to find things wrong. If that substantial completion date is blown, usually a liquidation damages, more commonly called a penalty clause, comes into effect," Annunzio said.

While Annunzio would normally meet with the village manager to work out any problems in construction contracts the village enters into, the library board is a separate entity out of Annunzio's bailiwick.

"The only thing I can do is volunteer my services if they [the library board] ask," Annunzio said. "They seem to have it all under control over there," he added.

Selman said that the future looks more promising because the library board has retained the services of Rust Environmental, the same construction management company that is overseeing the Fitness Center construction.

"The Rust firm 'acts as liaison between the Village and the contractor to make sure the contractor is building the building according to specifications. They work out problems with the contractor and keep everything on the time line,'" Selman said.

Although the library construction project has hit some serious snags, the final outcome still promises to be worth waiting for, according to both Selman and Czarniecki.

"I watch it [construction on the library] every day. I can't wait until it's completed. It's going to be a beautiful addition to the area. It's going to be a beautiful building and efficient from the users' viewpoint," Selman said.

"We're very pleased with the design. It will be an outstanding building architecturally," Czarniecki said. "It's taking shape, and we're very pleased with the quality of the construction going into it," he added.

both girls at the party after the alleged assault, went into a coma. She was taken to the Intensive Care unit of Holy Family Hospital in Des Plaines where she remained on a respirator for several hours. She was released from the hospital on Nov. 9, according to police.

The other victim, from Des Plaines, also received treatment at the hospital but was released soon after arriving.

The suspect gave both victims and two teen-age boys who also attended the party, a clear drink that made them all pass out. The four teens were acquaintances of the suspect and were invited to his apartment for a celebration, police said.

The suspect told police the drink was a steroid, but police were awaiting results of lab tests to identify the liquid.

The suspect allegedly assaulted the girls after the four lost consciousness, police said. The boys were not assaulted, according to officials.

Police arrested the suspect at his apartment. Bond was set at $200,000 but was upgraded Nov. 10 to $300,000 during a hearing in the Skokie court.

The suspect has an FBI number indicating he has a prior arrest, police said, although police were uncertain of his criminal background.

For two years they would suffer the filth and indignity of life in the small dirty cubicles filled with as many as 30 people at a time. Sanitation facilities were ghastly, as was the food, according to the two cousins.

Now, however, all that is changed and, like a bad dream, on the way to becoming an unpleasant memory. For the two cousins, life is beginning again as they have taken up residence in a quiet Morton Grove neighborhood with their grandmother's brother, Ratko Rasokovich, who immigrated to the U.S. in 1966.

For Raskovich, the Accords are a bitter pill to swallow. His dreams of building a summer home near Knin are forever shattered, and he laments the fact that his parents' graves have been bulldozed over.

Raskovich had been sending $300 every month to his 27 relatives and was tireless in his efforts to find a way to get them out. Finally, with the assistance of the World Church and Immigration Missionary of Chicago, he found a way to bring Danijela, Uros and eight other extended family members to the Chicago area Sept. 9.

Raskovich's sister Olga of Highland, Ind., sponsored 11 more family members, eight of whom also arrived in September.

Now, surrounded by family in clean and comfortable surroundings, Danijela and Uros are doing just fine in their new school, according to Maine East officials. However, they also have a lot of words to master before they can feel truly comfortable, but compared to the rocky road they have already trodden, that should be a piece of cake for the newcomers who say they are looking forward to success and a good life in the U.S.

Lewis was being held in Champaign County on a $10,000 bond, but is now free on bond, according to Morton Grove Detective Brian Bolger.

A 46-year-old Granite City, Ill., man suspected of being part of the shoplifting ring witnessed the stabbing and is being sought by police.

Slaughter's Nov. 13 court appearance ended with a continuance to Dec. 1, according to Bolger because Lewis, the victim in the case, failed to appear. Bolger said the state's attorney was working on locating Lewis.

Maine Township Community Concerts presents The St. Louis Brass Quintet

For an evening of fun with brass, come see, hear, and enjoy the St. Louis Brass Quintet play music from baroque to modern American popular works at the second concert of the 1997-98 Maine Township Community Concert series on Sunday, Nov. 23 at 3 p.m. in the Maine East High School Auditorium, 2601 Dempster, Park Ridge.

Although the members of the St. Louis Brass Quintet wear tuxedos when they perform, audiences are pleasantly surprised at the relaxed and informal atmosphere the quintet creates. With extraordinary grace, the ensemble transforms the stiffness associated with classical chamber music, combining professionalism and showmanship to produce a thoroughly enjoyable musical experience.

Tickets for Maine Township Community Concert Association

performances are available through memberships: $30 for individuals, $70 for families and $12 for students. Membership cards are transferable and can be used by someone else in the event of a conflict. Memberships will be available at the door before the St. Louis Brass Quintet concert on Nov. 23.

Maine Township Community Concert Association's third concert of the season in early spring will be Max Morath, the Ragtime Man - pianist/humorist/singer/historian on March 22 also at Maine East High School Auditorium.

In addition to those two concerts and at no additional cost, seven more concerts are included - three are presented by the Arlington Heights Community Concerts held at Forestview High School fieldhouse, 2121 Goebbert Rd. and three are presented by Waukegan Community Concerts at Waukegan High School auditorium, Brookside and McArae Rds. The three community concert associations are honoring each other's memberships making this year's concert season membership especially valuable.

Concerts presented by the Arlington Heights association include Leroy Villanueva, Baritone, Jan. 24; Elite Syncopation, Mar. 6, 1998; and Bulgarian Children's Chorus, April 24, 1998.

Concerts presented by Waukegan include Brassissimo Vienna, Feb. 7, 1998; Khenany, music from Latin America, April 4; and the Bulgarian Children's Chorus will perform again on April 26, 1998.

For additional details regarding the concerts, please call Inge Eschenbach, 827-4694 or Irene Ginger, 825-2982.

Gemini staff go the extra mile

Secretaries, teacher assistants, teachers and administrators at Gemini Junior High School are spending a little extra time and energy this year to serve in the Gemini Mentor program. Staff who normally work with hundreds of students each day are finding time to work with one more.

The program, developed and coordinated by Gemini counselors, Ginny Ries and Patrick O'Connell, matches a staff member with a student who would benefit from one on one attention from an adult. Over 25 staff members at Gemini are currently serving as mentors. The adult mentors follow up on the student's academic progress, help with organizational skills, and provide an adult just to talk to when necessary. While most activities are individually arranged between the mentor and the student, some group activities are planned for this year. The program has proven to be a positive experience for the adult mentors as well as the students. One mentor comments that "I think I get as much out of the relationship as the student. It's great to be able to show students that we are interested in them as individuals."

Gemini Junior High School is one of six schools in East Maine School District #63 and is located at 8955 Greenwood Ave. in Niles.

Additional landscaping and other improvements are also included in the plan to improve the appearance of the area.

Only a Walgreen's drug store and condominium building on the Admiral Oasis site have been agreed to and signed by the village thus far. Additional restaurants and a small movie theater are other possible businesses that will be considered for the development.

Additional landscaping and other improvements are also included in the plan to improve the appearance of the area.

Parkway Bank adopts families for the holidays

Four years ago, the staff at Parkway Bank & Trust Co. began a fund-raising program designed to provide less fortunate families and children of the community with a happier holiday season.

Through these efforts, the staff manages to raise enough money each year for food and gifts for four adopted neighborhood families and for 20 children residing at Hephzibah, a shelter for abused children.

Last year the Parkway Bank staff raised a record-breaking amount of over $4,400, providing all the items on the wish list of the adopted children and families, as well as supplying their Christmas and New Years dinners, and 30-day supply of food pantry items.

This year's team captains have been chosen and are beginning their fund-raising efforts with the assistance of JBC Farms, who donates portion of Holiday wreath and centerpiece sales to Parkway's adopted children and families.
