by Bud Besser

Niles, Nick Blase and The Niles Bugle lost a good friend in the recent passing of 86-year-old George Hall.

George, who moved to Florida several years ago, always kept in touch. Whenever he visited his adopted home, Niles, he never failed to drop by and visit with our Diane Miller as well as myself. Health reasons led him down to Florida but he always left a bit of himself here in Niles.

George was Niles number one booster. He was effusive in his praise for all things Niles. "Nick Blase was the greatest.....Niles was a wonderful town to live in.....The Niles Bugle was the best newspaper to ever put ink to paper." Such flowery compliments would have been a bit much coming from most people, but George meant it.

In years bygone George headed the Maine Township Democrats. He became good friends with the Niles village president and held Nick in high regard. His involvement in Niles politics as well as

MG man first to observe, identify Asian longhorn beetle

Barry Albach, 30, a Morton Grove resident and 12-year employee of the Skokie Park District was honored July 28 at the board meeting of the Skokie Park District for his curiosity and persistence in discovering and identifying the Asian longhorn beetle that has recently invaded the Chicago area from its home in China.

And standing right behind Albach was his mother who actually was the first to spot the insect riding on the rear view mirror of Albach's truck July 7.

Struck by the insect's ugly appearance, Albach went straight to the internet where the word "beetle" brought up a long list. Luckily for Albach, the Asian longhorn was the second entry on the list, and came with a "pest alert" notice and a phone number to contact if one was found.

Zoning Board paves way for Wal-Mart on former A.B. Dick site

by Rosemary Tirio

The Niles Zoning Board approved a zoning change for the former A.B. Dick property on Touhy Avenue from M, manufacturing, to B2, retail service/business, paving the way for a new 120,000-square-foot shopping center anchored by a Wal-Mart store to be built on the site.

"It still needs to be approved by the Village Board," said Todd Bavaro, director of code enforcement for the village.

"If the new shopping center] would be beneficial to the village if the board approves it," Bavaro said.

In other business, the Zoning Board approved a zoning vari-

Man found with credit cards stolen from MG health club

A 29-year-old Skokie man was arrested at a Park City tire store July 29 when he tried to buy tires using a credit card that had been stolen along with three other cards from lockers at the Bally Total Fitness in Morton Grove.

Leslie Au was charged with misdemeanor credit card crimes after an employee of Waukegan Tire reported the suspicious credit card to police.

A Waukegan police official said Au had first attempted to purchase tires through a mail order business over the phone, but that the credit card was rejected. An employee of that firm advised him to go to Waukegan Tire and then alerted the second store that

Waukegan Road motel to be razed for drugstore and condos

MG motel sale paves way for Walgreens

by Rosemary Tirio

After a long battle that included several hearings and two reversals against the village delaying a condemnation suit, the Village of Morton Grove finally acquired the Admiral Oasis property 9353 Waukegan Road.

Village officials reached agreement with the property owners clearing the way for demolition which may begin in 90 days. A Walgreens Drugstore and a condominium project are planned for the site, which is part of the Waukegan Road TIF (tax-increment financing) district.

A confidentiality agreement between the parties prevented publication of the agreement terms, according to Morton Grove Village Administrator

Larry Arft, but motel owner Mike Siegel said March 13 that he would be willing to sell the property for $4.5 million.

Arft did say that relocation of the motel's approximately 100 longterm residents was included

Nancy Keraminas, former Bugle reporter, dies at age 51

by Rosemary Tirio

Nancy Lynn Keraminas, 51, who wrote for the The Bugle and other area newspapers, passed away Aug. 1 at Lutheran General Hospital.

A Niles resident, Mrs. Keraminas wrote articles for The Bugle from 1991 to 1993. She had also been a columnist for Des Plaines Publishing and wrote the Niles column for the Life newspapers as well as working as a publicist for the Niles Park District.

Coworkers described Mrs. Keraminas as "vivacious," "a sparkplug" and "a lot of fun." She was also a "Mother of the Starlets," her daughter's figure skating group. The Starlets skating group. The Starlets skating group.

Auto jumps curb; crashes through bank's glass doors

A 71-year-old Niles woman and her 62-year-old sister put drive-through banking in a whole new light Monday when the 1995 Eagle Summit they were driving jumped a curb and crashed through the glass lobby doors of the LaSalle Bank, 8745 Waukegan Rd., finally coming to rest by the automated-teller machine.

Morton Grove police theorize that the older of the two women who was driving may have mistaken the gas pedal for the brake, according to Commander Lou Rossi.

The younger sister sustained a cut on her forehead and was treated at Lutheran General Hospital and released.

Extensive damage was done to the bank, as the glass doors and a plate glass window were shattered in the incident, according to Rossi. As estimate of the damage was unavailable.

There were no injuries in the bank. "Thank God there weren't any people in the outer lobby," Rossi said. The incident occurred around 10:21 a.m.

State treasurer recognizes north suburban bank as State Depository

Meeting the strict guidelines put forth by the state, Illinois State Treasurer Judy Baer Topinka recognized The First National Bank of Morton Grove as an official State Depository, making it one of only a handful in the north suburbs.

State Treasurer Topinka presented William McCarty, President of First National Bank of Morton Grove, bank officials and Morton Grove Mayor Daniel Scanlon, with the officials State Depository seal at a ceremony at the Morton Grove branch. "I think it's time for people to recognize that facilities such as First National of Morton Grove are where the State of Illinois deposits taxpayers' money," Topinka said. "I applaud their willingness to adhere to the stringent safety criteria within our investment policy and to pay the state government a competitive rate of return."

"Customers who use First National Bank of Morton Grove should feel confident that their money is in good hands." Currently, FNB of Morton Grove has $4,800,000 deposited in its facility earmarked for access to capital. The bank is afforded this money to help improve the quality of life throughout the surrounding community.

Passport to Adventure Program

There is still time to take advantage of the PASSPORT to Adventure Program sponsored by the Niles Historical Society. This program is open to all children ages 4 through 12 and if you hear "There's nothing to do," take the time to explore the local nature centers and museums. Before you go, stop by the Niles Historical Museum, 8970 Milwaukee Avenue (Wednesdays and Fridays) and pick up a PASSPORT booklet. Each time you visit one of the listed 100+ participating sites, get the booklet stamped to be eligible for a certificate and prizes. When you visit 5 or more sites, receive a certificate of participation; 7 or more sites, coupons to local restaurants; 10 or more sites, one-shot camera and free processing; 20 or more sites, $20 in gift certificates.

The program opened May 24, 1998 and booklets must be returned to the Museum by Sunday, Aug. 23 to qualify for awards. There is still plenty of time for the children and family to enjoy a fun, educational trip and participate in the awards program. For more information, call the museum 390-0610.

Polish American group proposes name for new park

by Rosemary Tirio

Sally Koziara, a spokesperson for the Polish American Civic Club of Niles, is appealing to the Niles Polish community to attend the Aug. 18 Park District meeting to offer support when she presents her group's petition for naming the new park at Harlem and Touhy avenues in honor of a 14th century Polish queen.

Park District officials will accept suggestions for naming the park at the meeting, which will be held at the Howard Leisure Center 6676 W. Howard St., at 8 p.m. Koziara's group, about 30 members strong and growing, has collected more than 360 signatures on a petition proposing the name "Queen Jadwiga Park."

Queen Jadwiga, daughter of King Louis the Great, became Queen of Poland at age 12. Legend has it that the sympathetic young queen would take off her jewelry and other finery in the street and give it to mothers so that they could care for their children. She is regarded in Poland as patroness of children and mothers, Koziara said.

The group seeks to preserve the Polish heritage of the site where St. Hedwig's Orphanage, which once housed 400 to 800 orphans of Polish descent from the Chicago-land area. In 1946, the orphanage opened its doors to 105 Polish orphans, survivors of Stalin's Siberian prison camps.

during World War II, who were not welcome in any other country.

Koziara also cited what she believed to be the official removal of the street sign on Father Rusch Street which honored the priest who collected funds from the Polish community in 1910 and opened the orphanage in 1911.

However, a spokeswoman for the Public Works Department said officials there were unaware that the sign had been taken down.

Koziara said that her group "wants to show that we were a very noble nation, just like England, France, Italy and the others." She said her personal motto is, "People who don't know history have no future."

The Polish American Civic Club has three goals, Koziara said: to rename the fountain Queen Jadwiga Waterfall, to have the street sign honoring Fr. Rusch replaced and to have the park named Queen Jadwiga Park.

Koziara said that in view of the large Polish and Polish American community living in Niles, the park and fountain would be a tribute to the many citizens of Polish descent.

Long-Term Care Insurance seminar at NPH

Information on protecting assets, remaining independent and maintaining family security will be among the subjects covered during a free seminar on "Long-Term Care Insurance: Your Future, Your Choice," by Pete Florek, a Long-Term Care (LTC) insurance consultant with MAGA Limited. This Timely Talk program will be held at 2 p.m., on Wed., Aug. 19, at Norwood Park Home, 6016 N. Nina Ave. Chicago, and is open to the public. Florek will discuss the new tax incentives for LTC insurance purchases, Medicare and Medicaid changes, HMOs, types of LTC plans available, and how to select the best policy. "We believe well-informed adults can better prepare for the financial demands of long-term care," said Lynn Mitsui, NPH development/public relations assistant, and coordinator of the Timely Talks. "The information offered at this seminar will fill that need and enable those in attendance to make wise decisions for a secure and worry-free future."

MAGA Limited has specialized in LTC (nursing home and home care) protection since 1975 and is one of the largest and most respected agencies in the country. The Timely Talks have been offered by Norwood Park Home for the past several years as a service to the community. A question and answer session will follow, and refreshments will be served following the program. They are bringing the past to the present by celebrating their 103rd Annual Picnic on the Grounds of the Home, 6016 N. Nina Ave., Chicago.

This long-standing tradition will be held from noon-4 p.m., on Sun., Aug. 16. Admission to the event and live entertainment is free. Tickets will be sold for the purchase of food (hamburgers, hot dogs, bratwurst, chicken breast sandwiches, and corn-on-the-cob), soft drinks, kids games, ice cream, and a variety of Norwegian delicacies.

Other activities will include a raffle for the three main prizes: $500 cash (first prize), a VCR (second prize) and a 35mm camera (third prize). Tickets are $1 each or six for $5.

Music will be provided by "4 On A Chord," a ladies barbershop quartet, and the "Ernie Sandquist Trio," a family affair that includes Ernie on the accordion, John on bass and Eric on drums.

ENH Hospice seeks caring volunteers

Evanston Northwestern Healthcare (ENH) Hospice's Award Winning Volunteer Program is offering a number of exciting opportunities for caring people who enjoy any or all of the following: providing companionship and support to people dealing with a life-threatening illness; providing transportation, running errands, baking goodies, doing office tasks, and much more.

Our hospice volunteers will meet others with similar interests, will work with a multi-disciplinary team, will gain valuable experience working with people in their last stage of life, and most importantly, will feel good about themselves while helping others.

A 7 week training course will be offered on Thursday evenings beginning September 10th at our Skokie office. However, to be a baking or office volunteer, a 2 hour orientation is all the training that is needed. If you, or anyone you know, are looking for an incredibly rewarding experience doing the things you enjoy and can lend us a couple hours per week or month, please call Nadine Francione at ENH Hospice: (847) 965-6086.

They will play Scandinavian music. Residents also will be selling a variety of hand-crafted items.

"This event is for the entire community," said Elizabeth Hagopian, Picnic coordinator. "Even though there is an emphasis on Norwegian/Scandinavian culture, it is another way of bringing the family together to enjoy each other's company, socialize with friends and enjoy a way of life that somehow has escaped our current lifestyle. We hope the community takes advantage of this old-fashioned event that is in keeping with the rich tradition and history of Old Norwood Park and Norwood Park Home."

All proceeds will benefit the Capital Campaign: "Building a Second Century of Tradition." Chairs and tables will be provided by the Home although residents may want to bring their own blankets and lawn chairs.

Volunteers are needed, and persons interested in offering a portion of their time to make the event enjoyable for everyone are asked to call Patricia Torres or Elizabeth Hagopian, at (773) 631-4856.

To appreciate non-sense requires a serious interest in life.

History and government courses offered

Study contemporary world history or state and local government in an Emeritus class this fall at Oakton Community College. The 16-week classes, offered through Oakton's Emeritus Program, will meet Aug. 24-Dec. 18 at Oakton's Ray Hartstein Campus, 7701 N. Lincoln Ave., Skokie.

Contemporary World History (HIS 133 010, Touch-Tone 9906) will survey the political climate in Africa, Latin America and Southwest Asia. Find out how the historical, political and social background of these countries affect the United States. The class will meet on Wednesdays from 12:30-3:20 p.m.

State and Local Government (PSC 102 016, Touch-Tone 8803) investigates the relationship of the city and suburbs to the state in regards to public policy, the power base and the budgeting process. Financial issues related to school funding and prison building are among the topics that will be discussed. The class meets on Fridays from 9-11:50 a.m.

Students can register for these and other Emeritus fall credit offerings Monday through Thursday from 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. in Room A-100 at the Skokie campus and in Room 1140 at the Des Plaines campus. Those who have registered for Oakton or Alliance for Lifelong Learning (ALL) classes within the last three years and have their correct Social Security number on file may register by the Touch-Tone telephone system at (847) 635-1616.

Tuition is $39 per credit hour for persons under 60 and $19.50 per credit hour for persons over 60 who live in-district; $148 per credit hour for persons who do not live in-district. A $15 registration fee is required for persons under 60 or for those who live out-of-district.

For more information about this or other fall class offerings, call the emeritus office at (847) 635-1414.

Preparing Your Garden for Winter lecture

Bill Stein, a gardener with 30 years experience, will discuss "Preparing Your Garden for Winter" on Tuesday, Aug. 11 at Oakton Community College. This presentation is part of the Passages Lecture Series sponsored by Oakton's Emeritus Program. This lecture will be held from 1 - 2:30 p.m. in Room A145 at Oakton's Ray Hartstein Campus, 7701 N. Lincoln Ave., Skokie.

It takes more than a green thumb to have a successful garden season. Join Stein for a discussion of the steps to take this fall to insure a healthy start for plants in the spring. Admission is $2 at the door; seating is limited. For more information, call the Emeritus Office at (847) 635-1414.

Horseman speaks at men's club

Micheal Campbell, trainer and member of the Thoroughbred Horseman Association and father of two jockeys, recently spoke at the Niles Senior Center's Men's Club meeting. Over 100 men attended. Niles senior men are invited to attend any of the monthly meetings. The next scheduled meeting of the Senior Men's Club is on Monday, August 17 at 10:30 a.m.

Senior Adult Beginners Band

How about a little conversation, some laughs, friendly people, and a lot of fun while you learn to play your favorite band instrument?

Come Join the Senior Adult Beginners Band at Benedictine University.

The Benedictine New Horizons Band provides an opportunity for adults, 50 or over, to learn or re-learn to play a musical instrument and enjoy playing together in a band.

NO previous background in reading music or playing a musical instrument is necessary to join. It is possible for senior adults to learn to play an instrument, and it's too much fun to leave to just the "kids".

Group Lessons are offered for 1/2 hour, two times a week. Full Ensemble Rehearsals are held one evening a week.

For more information, contact Maryann Flock, New Horizons Band Director (630) 829-6332.

NARFE meeting

A regular meeting of the National Association of Retired Federal Employees will be held on Friday, Aug. 7, 1998 at 1 p.m. at Warren Park Field House, 6601 North Western Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. All active and retired federal employees are welcome.

The '65 Roses' Story

Mary G. Weiss became a volunteer for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation in 1965 after learning that her three little boys had CF. Her duty was to call every civic club, social & service organization seeking financial support for CF research. Mary's 4-year-old son, Richard, listened closely to his mother as she made each call. After several calls, Richard came into the room and told his mom, "I know what you are looking for." Mary was dumbfounded because Richard did not know what she was doing, nor did he know that he had CF.

With some trepidation, Mary posed the question back to her son, "What am I working for, Richard?" "You are working for '65 Roses,'" he answered so sweetly. Mary was speechless. She went over to him and tenderly pressed his tiny body to hers. He could not see the tears running down Mary's cheeks as she stammered, "Yes, Richard, I'm working for '65 Roses.'"

'65 Roses' is what little children suffering from cystic fibrosis call their disease and the rose, appropriately the ancient symbol of love, has become a symbol of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Child Assault Prevention volunteers needed

FBI Statistics indicate that 1 in 3 girls and 1 in 6 boys will be sexually abused before they reach 18 years of age. Northwest Action Against Rape (NWAAR) is seeking dedicated volunteers to help implement the internationally recognized and highly successful Child Assault Prevention (CAP) Program. Volunteers are needed to work with K-6th grade children in the north and northwest suburbs of Cook County to facilitate role-play based empowerment education. CAP workshops are extremely fun to conduct and provide invaluable empowerment tools to children regarding their rights to be safe, strong and free. In addition, volunteers gain exceptional public speaking and outreach experience.

NWAAR will be hosting a three-day CAP training session on September 22-24. Volunteers are also required by the state to complete a 40-hour training class, which will be held prior to the CAP training starting September 8. Child abuse and assault are increasing problems and immediate action is needed towards prevention. For information about the training please call NWAAR at (847) 806-6526.

World record haircutting event to be held

Zootcuts Family Hair Center's President, Ivan Zoot, a national, award winning salon industry educator and self-described "World's Greatest Barber", is going to attempt to break the Guinness Book of World Records' world record for "the most professional haircuts done in one hour", as well as establish a new world record for "the most professional haircuts done in one eight hour business day". All of the proceeds from the haircuts will be donated to Maryville Academy. Ten percent of the profits from the sale of Kenra haircare product during the month of August, 1998 will be donated as well. The public attending the event will be given the chance to enter a raffle by purchasing raffle tickets for $1 each. Raffle prizes are being donated by local businesses. Haircut recipients, in exchange for their donation and participation, will receive a gift package provided by the group of sponsoring businesses. The event will also include free entertainment and refreshments.

Help for grieving children

Support for children experiencing loss is now available at Swedish Covenant Hospital through The Barr-Harris Children's Grief Center, a program of The Institute for Psychoanalysis located within the Family Practice Center, 5140 N. California, Chicago. Children can experience a great deal of pain and trauma when they lose a sibling, parent, friend, grandparent or loved one through death, separation or abandonment. Professionals are available to offer presentations and workshops to schools, churches, community groups and parent's groups. Fees are on a sliding scale, and are determined by the family's ability to pay. No child is ever turned away. For more information or a consultation, call the Children's Grief Center at (312) 922-7474.

The Youth Campus receives support for new day care center

The Rotary Club of Park Ridge and United Way of Suburban Chicago have approved grants assist in the development of a new day care center at The Youth Campus (TYC) in Park Ridge. As the major recipient of the Rotary's Annual Dinner Dance Gala and Fundraiser, TYC was awarded funds to support building renovations. The United Way awarded a $20,000 grant for start-up staffing and supplies support. The center, planned as the result of a needs survey conducted by TYC, will initially provide care for infants aged 6 weeks to 15 months. The Youth Campus hopes to add additional programming for toddlers and pre-schoolers in the near future. The Youth Campus is a private not for profit, non-sectarian, child welfare agency that has been meeting the critical needs of at risk children and their families since 1877. For more information about the new day care center or other programs and services of The Youth Campus including volunteer opportunities call Barry Komic, Marketing Coordinator, at 847-823-5161.

SENSITIVE ALZHEIMER'S CARE THAT PRESERVES THE HUMAN SPIRIT.

Being a caregiver for an Alzheimer's patient may be the most difficult job you will ever have to face. The heartache of loving and caring for someone who slowly loses themselves to this disease is a painful process of isolation and frustration.

WE KNOW. Whether it is your spouse or parent, you want to provide the best care possible to enhance health, independence and dignity in a safe, supportive environment.

WE UNDERSTAND. Glenview Terrace has designed an Alzheimer's program to preserve the human spirit and quality of life for our residents. Our intensive, activity-focused programming begins early with a sunrise group and continues through the evening with purposeful and enjoyable activities supervised by specially-trained staff. Programming is individualized and structured to the needs of the resident depending on the stage of the disease.

And, our monthly family support group will help you learn more about Alzheimer's disease and coping strategies as a caregiver. More importantly, you will learn that you are not alone in facing these challenges.

WE ARE HERE FOR YOU.

- Monthly Family Support Group
- Short-Term Respite Care
- Medical/Clinical Alzheimer's Assessments

Why Select A Family Owned Funeral Home?

- *Prices are traditionally much lower than those of corporate owned funeral homes.
- *Our funeral directors and staff do not work on commissions. They will never pressure you to buy something that you don't want or need.
- *All of our preparation work is done at our funeral homes by licensed funeral directors. Your loved one will not be transported to a "factory like" embalming facility.
- *You will be treated with the respect and appreciation that only a family owned business can offer.
- *We consistently upgrade our facilities and equipment to offer families only the best.
- *The comfort of knowing the person you're dealing with. You will always see a familiar face at our chapels. Our staff is not rotated among dozens of funeral homes.

Former Clinton Special Assistant Jay K. Footlik speaks at Jewish United Fund event

Skokie native Jay K. Footlik, former Special Assistant to Bill Clinton, was the guest speaker at a brunch held on behalf of the 1998 Jewish United Fund-Israel Fund campaign on Sunday, May 17, at A.G. Beth Israel Congregation in Peterson Park. The 67 people attending the brunch raised $17,416, bringing the total amount raised by the congregation for JUF in 1998 to $45,394.

St. Maximilian Kolbe Memorial Mass to be held

On August 14, the feast day of St. Maximilian Kolbe, Polish people all over the world will commemorate the "Christian Holocaust." The world needs to know that not only the Jews died and were victims of Hitler's Holocaust but also in addition Poles and Christians were victims of this same holocaust during World War II.

Father Kolbe, a priest and martyr, was sent to the death camp at Auschwitz "Oswiecim", on May 25, 1941. There in an incredible act of heroism he gave up his life for his fellow man. Father Kolbe has become a symbol of those priests, nuns, and other Christians who were slaughtered during the German-Nazi occupation of Poland.

On Sunday, August 16, 1998, the Polish National Alliance will join the Polish community at a Commemorative Mass held at the Holy Trinity Mission, 1118 N. Noble St. Chicago, at 10:30 a.m. in honor of Father Kolbe and the millions of Christian martyrs of World War II.

We urge all of Polonia and members in our neighboring states to remember Father Kolbe and the Nazi victims of World War II, on his feast day.

Jewish Genealogical Society of Illinois

The Jewish Genealogical Society of Illinois will present, on Sunday, August 23, at 2 p.m., "Latest Information in Jewish Genealogy," a report on the Jewish Genealogical Summer Seminar.

The meeting will take place in the Library of the Marshall Learning Center, Building D (the former New Trier West High School), 2nd Floor, 7 Happ Road, Northfield, IL.

Genealogical reference materials will be available from 1 p.m. This program, as are all our programs, is open to the public at no charge. All are welcome. For more information, call Belle Holman at (847) 679-1995 or (312) 666-0100.

Save on the capital gains tax

A recommended gifting strategy is to give your child appreciated assets that you're ready to sell. Assuming your child is in the lowest tax bracket, he or she will pay a capital gains tax of 10 percent as opposed to the 20-percent rate that would most likely apply if you were to sell the assets yourself. The child can then invest the proceeds to fund his or her education or meet some other financial goal.

When you put money in a child's name, keep in mind that there is a price you pay for the resulting tax savings. Most importantly, you lose control of the money. Once your children reach age 18 or 21 (depending on your state's laws), the money is legally theirs, and they may do with it as they want - even if that means foregoing college for the latest sports car. You should also be aware that by putting money in your child's name, you may reduce your child's chance of qualifying for financial aid. That's because colleges expect a child to contribute 35 percent of his or her assets to pay for college expenses, while as the child's parents, you are expected to contribute 5.6 percent of your assets.

This is not to say you should always buy low P/E stocks and never buy those with high P/E's. With the popularity of stocks today, some of the most solid companies are selling at prices that are high to relative earnings. However, a stock's P/E factor can be a significant consideration in your overall evaluation. A high P/E may be an indication of a company that doesn't have the earnings and growth potential to justify its market value. The lesson here is to do your homework and weigh all factors before you decide to buy.

Edward Jones: Finding Value in the Stock Market

How do you know a good value when you see it? In the grocery store, finding value may mean buying plain-label items that are the same quality as those with brand names. When car buying, looking for value means conducting thorough research and comparison shopping.

But what about when you're buying stocks? Finding a good stock means choosing solid companies that consistently make profits for their shareholders - while paying a reasonable price compared to the stock's earnings. That's the price-to-earnings ratio, or P/E.

For example, a stock selling at $60 and earning $4 per share has a P/E of 15 (60/4=15). Another one selling at $60 but earning $2.40 per share has a P/E of 25 (60/2.40=25). If the overall stock market has an average P/E of 20, the first stock has a low P/E and the second has a high P/E compared to the average.

However, the P/E alone is not enough to base your decision on. A stock may have a higher P/E but also may be a more solid company. But if you were comparing two companies with the same fundamentals - a long history of solid growth, profits, and dividends, among others - and one had a higher P/E, the stock with the lower P/E may be a better value.

A recent study found that low P/E stocks have often outper-

First National Bank of Morton Grove adds Waukegan Road facility

First National Bank of Morton Grove, a local institution since 1951, is pleased to announce the addition of a new branch at 9147 North Waukegan Road in Morton Grove. The branch, formerly part of Republic Bank in Darien, officially opened under its new name Saturday, July 25.

The branch is First National Bank of Morton Grove's (FNBGM) second location in its home community and provides customers with a convenient banking option along the well-traveled stretch of Waukegan Road between Dempster Street and Golf Road.

FNBGM President William F. McCarty III is proud to be part of a vital, growing area in Chicago's northern suburbs.

"The people of Morton Grove are very loyal to locally owned businesses. We wanted to thank them for our growth and success by expanding our bank's reach," McCarty said. "We can now bring our tradition of community banking to more people in Morton Grove and the surrounding neighborhoods."

Branch Manager Marge Kraus, who has a long history with the branch and its customers, will remain in her current role. She expressed her enthusiasm for her new bank.

"I'm excited that our branch is part of such community-focused institution," she said. "Our customers will benefit from the added convenience and a wider variety of financial products and services now available to them through First National Bank of Morton Grove."

FNBGM opened its doors to the community in 1951 and quickly outgrew its first location at 6300 North Lincoln. The main facility at 6201 Dempster opened in 1958 and was recently renovated in 1997.

In a recent survey by Crain's Chicago Business magazine, First National Bank of Morton Grove ranked in the top 25% of Chicago-area banks in terms of return on average assets. Their 1997 performance featured a re-

Write a will and name a guardian

To ensure that your property goes where you want it to when you die, you must create a will. For parents of minor children, a will is essential for another important reason: it is through your will that you name a guardian to raise your children and to manage their finances in the event of the untimely death of you and your spouse. Should you die without a will, a court will determine how your assets will be divided among your heirs and also will choose a guardian for your minor children.

Establish trusts

Trusts are another way to preserve your family's wealth. A trust is a legal vehicle that holds property for the benefit of your heirs. In the written document that establishes the trust, you decide what property will be included in the trust, how the assets are to be managed, and when and how the assets are to be distributed. A trustee, appointed by you, typically manages the trust's assets.

Jewish War Vets give library Memorial Flag

Three members of the Dr. Samuel Perlman Jewish War Veterans Post #800, Lincolnwood, recently presented the American Flag which draped the casket of departed Post member Dr. Bernard Perlman to the Lincolnwood Public Library. Bernard is the brother of the man for whom Post 800 is named.

Library Director Cynthia Josephs accepted the flag which is housed in a triangular, beveledglassed, mahogany case for display in the library, the Post's former meeting place. The veterans who made the presentation had participated in the June 2, 1998, graveside services for Dr. Perlman. They were David Hymes, of Lincolnwood, past National Commander of the Jewish War Veterans, 1994-1995; Stan Nathanson, Buffalo Grove, current Post Commander and Edward Elbaum, Skokie, past State Commander.

LEGAL NOTICE

VILLAGE OF NILES TOUHY/CENTRAL REDEVELOPMENT PROJECT AREA #5

Notice is hereby given that on August 25, 1998, at 8:00 p.m., in the Village Hall Council Chambers, 1000 Civic Center Drive, Niles, Illinois, a public hearing will be held to consider the approval of a Redevelopment Plan and designation of a Redevelopment Project Area to be called the Touhy/Central Redevelopment Project Area #5 (the "Redevelopment Project Area"). The Redevelopment Project Area consists of the territory legally described as follows:

Lot 2 and that part of lot 1 described as follows: Beginning at the northeast corner of said lot 1; thence south 0 degrees 49 minutes 37 seconds west along an east line of said lot 1, 454.48 feet to the northeast corner of said lot 2; thence south 89 degrees 53 minutes 56 seconds west along the north line of said lot 2, 306.89 feet; thence south 0 degrees 49 minutes 37 seconds west along the west line of said lot 2, 781.56 feet to a southeast corner of said lot 1; thence south 89 degrees 53 minutes 56 seconds west along a south line of said lot 1, 735.43 feet; thence north 0 degrees 06 minutes 02 seconds west, 1235.83 feet to a north line of said lot 1; thence north 89 degrees 53 minutes 46 seconds east along said north line, 1052.33 feet more or less, to the point of beginning all in A.B. Dick Company subdivision, a resubdivision of lot 15 & part of lots 9 to 12, 14 and 16, all in Assessors Division of the southeast quarter of Section 29, Township 41 north, range 13, east of the third principal meridian, according to the plat recorded December 3, 1992, as Document Number 92907082, in Cook County, Illinois.

The area is now occupied by a large industrial facility at the intersection of Touhy Avenue and Central Avenue, Niles, IL.

There will be considered at the hearing the proposed Redevelopment Plan for the Redevelopment Project Area. The objectives of the Redevelopment Plan are to encourage the redevelopment of the Redevelopment Area. The objective is to be accomplished by utilizing public finance techniques including, but not limited to, tax increment allocation financing. The Redevelopment Plan provides for the financing of site preparation, utility removal, demolition and environmental clean-up of existing buildings and sites, and site grading and clearance. In addition, the financing of the Redevelopment Plan provides that its objectives may be achieved by the Village entering into redevelopment agreements with developers regarding qualified projects. A draft of the Redevelopment Plan relating to the proposed Redevelopment Project Area is on file and available for public inspection at the Village Clerk's office, 1000 Civic Center Drive, Niles, Illinois.

Prior to the date of the hearing, each taxing district having property in the proposed Redevelopment Project Area and the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs may submit written comments to the Village, to the attention of the Village Clerk, Village of Niles, 1000 Civic Center Drive, Niles, Illinois, 60714.

At the hearing, all interested persons or affected taxing districts may file written objections with the Village Clerk and may be heard orally with respect to any issues regarding the designation of the Redevelopment Project Area and approval of the Redevelopment Plan. The hearing may be adjourned without further notice other than a motion to be entered upon minutes of the hearing fixing the time and place of the subsequent hearing.

Flex Care Preschool announced

Our five day four year old preschool has just gotten better! You now can sign your child up to any two, three or all five days that may fit your schedule. That means you can customize your child's preschool session to fit your schedule.

Sign up for the days that are convenient for you. Our play-based curriculum will introduce children to a broad variety of experiences in a safe and stimulating environment. This program has parent and child in mind. For more information call Laurie Strzelecki at (847) 967-6633.

Swing into fall and golf Crazy style

That's right! Now is your chance to get that last game in before school's back in session. Come to Jozwiak Park for a game of Crazy Mini-Golf with obstacles to drive you silly! If you are up for the challenge, the Niles Park District is ready for you.

Practice your swing, and come on over to Joz on Tuesday, August 18, located at Touhy and Franks. Register for this free event at the Howard Leisure Center, 6676 W. Howard Street in Niles. Prizes will be awarded. See ya there!

MG Park plans Cub game trip

How about those Cubbies! Join the Prairie View Travel Club on Wednesday, Aug. 19 as we watch the Chicago Cubs battle the St. Louis Cardinals at Wrigley Field. The bus leaves Prairie View Community Center at 11:30 a.m. and returns at approximately 5 p.m. The cost is $31 for Morton Grove residents and $34 for non-residents and includes a deluxe coach, admission, a box lunch and beverage. Register at Prairie View, 6834 Dempster Street. For further information, call Catherine at 965-1200.

YMCA Camp meets Casey the 'Goosebuster'

Casey is still gaining recognition, as well as a fan club. Campers from the YMCA came to the Niles Park District to meet Casey, the "Goosebuster." Tom Mulcahy, Tam Golf Manager met with the campers and introduced them to Casey. As the group personally visited with Casey, Mulcahy informed them of Casey's background, and answered any questions that the campers had.

It was a celebration to remember

For all those who attended the Niles Park District Post-Parade Celebration, know just what I am talking about. This year's event was like no other. The park district worked very hard to make the Fourth of July fun for everyone, and succeeded.

Like every year, the celebration took place after the Village Parade, at Grennan Heights. As the parade marched to its ending mark, the post-celebration began. A three-story balloon arch into the park welcomed the marchers and the viewers.

For children under 12, all received a "goodie bag" filled with treats and trinkets. Once you passed the "Arch into fun," the choices were endless. There was food and treats to eat, games to play, jousting, jumping as well as singing along to the Fabulous Murray Brothers. But that's not all!

There were animals to pet, ponies to ride, faces to paint and raffle prizes to win. If you like more...

The fun is revvin' up at Joz

It's that time of year when those priceless beauties come cruizin' in at Joz. That's right, it's the annual Classic Chevy Cruisers and Rodders in Motion show. The hot wheels of the 50's and 60's will be on display for all to see on Thursday, August 13 from 7-9 p.m.

While viewing these Hot Rods, enjoy a game of mini-golf, or bat your way to fun at the batting cages. Test Your knowledge and participate in a game of Trivia. Prizes will be given away!

Jozwiak Park is located at Touhy and Franks. Call Julene for more information at (847) 647-9092.

Niles Township School free and reduced meals

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free benefits, households must complete an application as soon as possible, sign it and return it to the school. Copies of the application form are available at the principal's office in each school. Households should answer all applicable questions on the form. An application which does not contain all the required information cannot be processed and approved by the school. The required information is:

Food Stamp / AFDC Households: If a household currently receives Food Stamps or "Aid to Families with Dependent Children" (AFDC) for their child (ren), they only have to list the child(ren)'s name and Food Stamp or AFDC case number and sign the application.

All Other Households: If a household's income is at or below the level shown on the income scale, children are eligible for either free or reduced price meals or free milk. Households must provide the following information: (1) the names of all household members, (2) the social security number of the adult household member signing the application, or the word none if the adult does not have a social security number, (3) the amount of income each household member received last month, where it comes from (wages, child support, etc.), (4) the signature of an adult household member.

If income information is provided and children are approved for meal or milk benefits, households must tell the school when their household income increases by $50 or more per month ($600 per year) or when their household size decreases. If a Food Stamp or AFDC case number was listed, the household must tell the school when they no longer receive Food Stamps or AFDC for their children.

Households may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. If a household is not eligible now but has a decrease in household income, an increase in household size, or a household number becomes unemployed, they should fill out an application at that time.

In certain cases foster children are eligible for meal or milk benefits regardless of household income. If a household has foster children living with them and they wish to apply for meal or milk benefits for them, they should complete the application. Households dissatisfied with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss it with the school. Households also have the right to a fair hearing.

Area residents graduate from Oakton's GED program

The Alliance for Lifelong Learning (ALL), Oakton's adult and continuing education program, hosted a recognition reception on May 14 to honor 16 students who earned their GED credential.

Oakton President Margaret B. Lees welcomed the proud graduates and their guests at the evening reception. Students received certificates from Barbara Rizzo, executive director of Continuing Education and Training at Oakton. The keynote speaker was Denis Berkson, chairperson of Oakton's Performing Arts Department.

The graduates are: Ricardo Correa, Romeo De Leon, Christina De Leon, Yazmin De Leon, Easow Varghese and Jared Larson. Niles: Sattie Persaud, Amal Khaled, Ovidiu Costescu, Jr. For more information about ALL's GED program, call Gail Sullivan at (847) 825-6299.

Skokie teacher receives chemistry award

Skokie chemistry teacher Frank Cardulla makes an innovative bargain with his students: If he doesn't give 100% they don't have to, either. That's why he has been selected 1998 winner of the American Chemical Society's Great Lakes Regional High School Chemistry Teaching Award, for his 35 years of teaching high school chemistry. Cardulla teaches at Niles North High School in Skokie.

"When the bell rings at the end of each class, you may walk out of here saying you didn't like what I did, that maybe you didn't like the activity, or maybe that you didn't think I explained things clearly. Or you may say that it was a great day, that you loved what we did, or everything was explained with great clarity. But there is one thing that you will never be able to say, and that is that I didn't give you a 100%--the very best I had to give you, each and every day. If you can ever say that I gave you less than a 100%, that's the day that you don't have to give 100% either."

Cardulla videotapes every one of his classes, and allows absentee students to view the classes they missed. His style -- and tapes -- are so engaging that when the Teaching Company was looking for an instructor to make their teaching tape for high school chemistry, they selected a regular classroom teacher of Cardulla's over 109 prepared demonstration tapes from other teachers.

The Willows Academy in their new home

Barbara Sunko, Director of The Willows Academy, stands next to the school's new sign on the Des Plaines campus.

New locations require new signs. After two years at 1012 Thacker Street, The Willows Academy has placed a new sign at their DesPlaines campus. Barbara Sunko, the Academy's director, is pleased that this permanent location has worked out so well for the school. "Ownership has allowed us to establish our permanent home site," she said. "In addition, this is a central location for public transportation which means easier access for our

Niles North and West

Accreditation Renewed by NCA
Dr. David Schusteff, Principal of Niles North High School, and Dr. Roger Stein, Principal of Niles West High School, have announced that each school's North Central Association (NCA) accreditation has been extended through the 1997-98 school year following the review and approval of their annual reports at the NCA's Annual Meeting. Accreditation is for one year and must be annually renewed.

By setting standards for basic operations of the schools and requiring continuous school improvement efforts, the NCA stimulates District 219 to strive towards continuing excellence. NCA accreditation also helps build public confidence by providing evidence to the public as well as to other schools and educational institutions that the schools are meeting expectations and fulfilling not only local standards but also those more widely accepted throughout both the region and nation.

students." The Willows also needed more space. Their enrollment for the upcoming school year stands at 195 students spanning grades 6-12 which represents a 34% increase over the last ten years. Their brother school, Northridge Preparatory School in Niles is expecting 230 students this fall.

Not everything, however, is new to The Willows. The school's character development program and insistence on parental involvement with their children's school career have been cornerstones of the Willows' philosophy since its founding in 1974. In addition, every girl has a personal advisor who focuses on the student's academic needs as well as her social development. Academics and character education are continually reinforced.

This reinforcement shows in the academic and social success of The Willows students. The schools' ACT scores have consistently ranked within the top five of Chicagoland area schools. National Merit scholars are recognized annually and this year, the sixteen members of the class of 1998 collectively earned $635,000 in scholarship monies.

In addition to managing a challenging class load (most classes are taught at an honors level), the girls are required to complete service hours—20 per year for the junior high students and 40 per year for those in high school. Friendships developed through classes and service projects extend well past the DesPlaines campus with twelve Willows students currently in Mexico as part of a student exchange program begun last year.

Students at The Willows also have the opportunity to develop their spiritual lives by taking either a Catholic theology or ethics course. In addition, Father Peter Armenio, a priest of Opus Dei, celebrates daily Mass in the school's chapel. Finally, The Willows believes all of its students possess special gifts. These talents need to be identified, practiced and showcased. In light of that belief, The Willows offers outstanding athletic, drama and music programs. Last year's basketball team advanced to the IHSA Class A regional finals. The school's drama productions are presented twice a year and the Willows' musical performances, under the direction of Ms. Karen Wilberg, a member of the Lyric Opera Chicago Chorus, have consistently been standing room only. With all of the challenges, opportunities and support that The Willows Academy offers its students, it's no wonder that so many of the girls have become very much at home in The Willows' new home. For more information about The Willows Academy, visit the school's web site at www.willows.org, attend their Open House on Sunday, November 1, 1998 from 2-4 p.m. or call the Admissions Office at 847-824-6900.

The Port Clinton Art Festival

The Country's leading artists will share their creative best with Chicago art enthusiasts at the Annual Port Clinton Art Festival, August 29 and 30, in Highland Park. A world class, juried art event, this year's festival will welcome more than 250 talented artists from 44 states and South America. Exhibits will be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. both Saturday and Sunday and will include original paintings, lithographs, watercolor, photography, sculpture, glass, wood, ceramics, jewelry, mixed media and fiber art. Musical performances by Cirrus Falcon, art demonstrations and delicious fare from popular local establishments will add to the festivities.

KidzArt '98
 The Port Clinton Art Festival is also proud to present the works of young artists every year at the KidzArt Festival, which runs in conjunction with the Port Clinton Art Festival. Approximately 40 young artists from the surrounding area will share their original creations with the public. Space is still available for artists ages 5 to 17. Call (847) 433-5306 for more details.

Parking and admission are free. The Festival is an open access event. For additional Festival information, please call (847) 433-5306 or (847) 433-1200.

Mercury Rising at the Morton Grove Library

The Morton Grove Public Library presents three showings of Mercury Rising on Monday, Aug. 10. This film stars Bruce Willis as FBI agent Art Jeffries, who is assigned to protect a 9-year-old idiot savant, who cracks a multi-billion dollar government encryption code, making him an assassin's target. Mercury Rising runs at 11 a.m., 2:30 p.m., and 7 p.m. in the Library's Baxter Auditorium. The film is rated R and is 112 minutes. No one under 17 will be admitted without a parent or guardian.

The Morton Grove Public Library is located at 6140 Lincoln Ave. For more information, or for mobility and communication access assistance, call (847) 965-4220. This and all library programs are free.

Oakton art professor to present one-man show

Robert Stanley, professor of art at Oakton Community College, currently has a one-man show at the Contemporary Art Center of Peoria, 305 SW Constitution Ave. The exhibit, titled "Changes: Tracing an Artist's Growth," is open Tuesday through Saturday, 11 a.m. - 5 p.m., until Aug. 23.

Stanley's artwork combines items from the real world to create unusual items, such as tables, bottles and chairs, with his own personal vision to create unusual artifacts.

Stanley was named the winner of the 1997 Prix de la Ville de Vichy presented by the Museum of Contemporary Art in Chamailleres, France, where his artwork was exhibited at the museum's Fourth World Triennial held Oct. 18-Nov. 30, 1997. In October, he gave a presentation at the 1997 Mid-America College Art Association Conference in Richmond, VA, outlining some future courses for art in America. He is scheduled to present a one-man show at

Travel to Morocco as part of Oakton tour

Visit ancient sites and historic cities of Morocco on a tour scheduled for Oct. 3-17 as part of Oakton Community College's Travel Study Program.

Among the cities you'll tour are Casablanca, Fez, Rabat and Marrakesh. Sites included on the trip are the Karouine Mosque in Fez, capable of accommodating 22,000 people for worship, and the famous Djemaa El Fna Square in Marrakesh where snake charmers, storytellers, fire-eaters and acrobats entertain.

In Meknes, "the Moroccan Versailles" and the creation of the great Alouit Sovereign Moulay Ismail in the 17th century, you'll admire the Bab-el-Mansour and Bab-Berdaine gates, built into the 25 miles of wall surrounding the ancient city. An excursion to explore the ancient Roman City of Volubilis is also included.

For complete itineraries and more information about the trip to Morocco, call Bea Cornelissen at (847) 635-1812.

Computer upgrade at Library

The Lincolnwood Public Library, 4000 W. Pratt Ave., along with 24 area libraries who are members of the Cooperative Computer Services network will undergo a computer upgrade of hardware and software for four days beginning Tuesday, Aug. 4 through Friday, Aug. 7. The upgrade will ensure that the network's system failure in April will not recur. During the upgrade, some reference services will be temporarily suspended and books will be checked in and out manually -- the old fashioned way, according to Cynthia Josephs, Library Director. "While the upgrade is being made, our patrons will experience very little disruption in services," she said.

Save-a-Life Summer Water Ski Safety

- Wear a Coast Guard-approved life jacket.
- Be sure the boat and ski equipment are in good shape.
- Always turn the boat motor completely off when you approach a fallen skier.
- Watch the water ahead of you at all times.
- Watch for other boats and skiers in the area and avoid getting too close.
- Have an extra person aboard to watch and assist the skier while you concentrate on driving.
- Run parallel to shore and come in slowly when landing. Sit down if coming in too fast.
- Use proper hand signals to signal boat operator.
- Do not ski at night or in restricted areas.
- Learn to swim. The best thing anyone can do to stay safe in and around the water is to learn to swim. This includes anyone participating in any water sport.
- The American Red Cross has swimming courses for people of any age and swimming ability. To enroll in a swim course, contact your local Red Cross chapter.
- Know local weather conditions. Make sure the water and weather conditions are safe. Because water conducts electricity, it is wise to stop swimming, boating or any activities on the water as soon as you see or hear a storm. Also, heavy rains can make certain areas dangerous.

Travel and learn on an adventure to Turkey

Experience the colorful and intriguing Turkish culture, from the bustling modern city of Istanbul to the serene Cappadocia region, on a tour sponsored by Oakton Community College's travel study program. The trip is scheduled Sept. 12-26.

This Turkish adventure includes tours of many historic places in Istanbul, including the great structures of the St. Sophia and the Blue Mosque. Travelers will view the riches of the Topkapi Palace in Istanbul and take a cruise along the Bosphorus, the winding strait that separates Europe from Asia.

Spend several days touring the cultural sites of the Cappadocia region. Visit homes, churches and an underground labyrinth carved in volcanic rock. Enjoy driving through the fertile land of southwestern Turkey to the coastal town of Antalya and strolling on the beaches along the Mediterranean.

Make your travel plans now! For more information about the trip to Turkey, contact Bea Cornelissen at (847) 635-1812.

Brady Bill waiting period extension supported

Republican Candidate for Governor George H. Ryan endorsed efforts to make the waiting period required under the Brady Bill permanent law.

"The Brady law has worked for four years as an effective deterrent keeping guns out of the hands of criminals," Ryan said. "In 1997 alone, the Brady law blocked 69,000 gun sales. Most purchases were rejected because of the buyer had a felony conviction or was under felony indictment. I believe the waiting period required under the law should be made permanent."

The Brady law requires a five-day waiting period to allow criminal background checks of the gun purchaser. Under the law, the five-day waiting period is scheduled to be phased out on November 30, 1998 and replaced by a computerized instant background check.

Ryan's opponent, Glenn Poshard, opposed the Brady law and the required criminal background checks. Poshard explained his opposition to the Brady law in a 1993 letter to a constituent, I do not support gun control such as the Brady bill, because it places too great an imposition on Second Amendment freedoms and intrudes on the rights of responsible gun owners and users." "Congressman Poshard's reasoning is misguided. The Brady waiting period does not infringe upon anyone's Second Amendment rights," Ryan said.

Poshard opposition to the Brady law is consistent with his previous efforts to eliminate the Firearm Owner's Identification Card in Illinois. Poshard's effort to repeal the FOID requirement would have allowed anyone to purchase guns without any criminal background checks.

"Guns and gun violence are a key issue in the race for governor, and it's where my opponent and I have fundamental disagreements," Ryan said. "Today I am calling on Congressman Poshard to vote to keep the Brady law intact - with a mandatory waiting period."

George Ryan also supports the ban on assault weapons and was the first statewide official to stand up to the gun lobby on this issue when he announced his support for the ban in 1989. As recently as two years ago, Glenn Poshard voted to repeal the assault weapons ban.

Ryan has also proposed a new law to crack down on individuals who use guns illegally.

Consider a career in fire science technology

Does a career in fire science technology interest you? If so, enroll in fire science course this fall at Oakton Community College's Des Plaines campus, 1600 E. Golf Road. Classes begin the week of Aug. 24.

Hazardous Materials (FIR 131 050) focuses on identification and classification of hazardous materials; physical and chemical properties of hazardous materials; planning, response and mitigation of hazardous incidents; analysis of case histories; and application of learned principles to simulated exercises. The class meets on Monday evenings from 6:30 - 9:20 p.m.

Building Construction (FIR 205 050) focuses on the characteristics of buildings which affect fire behavior. Considerations will be given to structural and interior construction and building equipment as related to fire safety, analysis of vertical and horizontal openings, and exterior structural integrity of buildings. The course also covers blueprint reading required for the analysis of buildings' fire safety. The class meets on Monday evenings from 6:30 - 9:20 p.m.

Students may register in-person for fall classes Monday - Thursday from 8:30 a.m. - 7:30 p.m. Students who have applied and registered for Oakton classes since fall of 1995 may use the Touch-Tone Registration system. Monday through Thursday from 8:30 a.m. - 7:30 p.m. To register by phone dial (847) 635-1616 and refer to the computer ID number listed by the course title in the Fall Credit Class Schedule.

For more information about fire science classes, call Fred Salzberg, chairperson, Fire Science Technology Program, at (847) 635-1688.

Students complete Sheriff's D.A.R.E. Program

More than 60 students from St. Raymond School and more than 80 students from Frost School, both in Mt. Prospect, were recently awarded certificates of graduation for completing the Drug Abuse Resistance Education (D.A.R.E.) Program, according to the office of Cook County Sheriff Michael F. Sheahan.

"Law enforcement officials and educators must work together to convince children of the dangers of gangs and drugs," Sheriff Sheahan said. "The Sheriff's Office also offers D.A.R.E. sessions for parents. This five session program covers topics such as parenting skills, warning signs of drug use and factors that can lead to gang membership. For more information about the Cook County Sheriff's D.A.R.E. program or for information on parent D.A.R.E. sessions, contact the Sheriff's Office of Preventive Programs at (708) 974-6772.

Driving and rainstorms

Spring is here and with it comes showers, making driving hazardous by increasing the risk of hydroplaning, skidding or in some areas, even flash flooding. Surface oil and grease form a slick film on roads that is not washed away until after a good, hard rain. Therefore, slow down during rainstorms and maintain optimal tire pressure and tread to avoid an accident.

Q. What is hydroplaning?
A. Hydroplaning occurs at about 35 miles per hour on wet pavement when tires begin to lose contact with the road surface. At speeds up to 35 mph, most tires "wipe" the road like a windshield wiper. As speed increases, tires actually float or ride up on a thin layer of water like a set of water skis. This is very dangerous because the driver has virtually no control over the vehicle.

Q. How can flooding affect my driving?
A. Flash floods are very dangerous. They occur very quickly and can form raging torrents of water that sometimes cross roadways. Many motorists underestimate the depth and speed of the water and attempt to drive through.

A. Flash floods are very dangerous. They occur very quickly and can form raging torrents of water that sometimes cross roadways. Many motorists underestimate the depth and speed of the water and attempt to drive through.

Q. What should I do if I begin to skid?
A. If you start to skid at speeds less than 55 mph, you should be able to regain control by taking your foot off the accelerator and letting the car slow down. Avoid any sharp braking and steer in the direction you want the front of the car to go.

Q. What if I'm traveling more than 55 mph?
A. The faster you drive, the more dangerous and difficult it will be to regain control from a skid. At speeds 55 mph and above, you will be unable to brake, accelerate or corner because the tires lose all contact with the road. As a result, a gust of wind, curve in the road or slight turn can throw your vehicle into an uncontrollable skid. If this occurs, the accelerator and ride out the skid.

Theft from purse

A 46-year-old certified nursing assistant was exiting a retail store in the 8700 block of Dempster Street around 4:15 p.m. July 31 when an unknown male subject bumped into her in the doorway, reached into her purse and took out $600 in cash. The offender ran across the parking lot and entered a vehicle driven by a second unknown male subject. The offenders fled the area.

The victim told police she had cashed a check at a nearby currency exchange prior to the incident and is unsure if the offenders followed her from the currency exchange.

Suspicious activities

A 74-year-old woman let an unknown man between 35 and 40 wearing black pants and shirt with silver words printed on it into her home in the 6900 block of Madison around 11 a.m. July 31. The man walked into a bedroom and sat on a bed. The victim told the man to leave and he walked out of the house. Police told the victim to call the Niles Police Department if she sees the man again. The victim said she can identify the man if he returns.

'Rules of the Road' on Internet

Illinois motorists who need to renew their driver's licenses or simply brush up on Illinois traffic laws can now access the "Rules of the Road" manual through Secretary of State George H. Ryan's Internet site, the "Illinois Gateway."

"Adding the 'Rules of the Road' to the Internet is the latest step in our efforts to employ technology that makes life a little easier for Illinois citizens," Ryan said. "Information from the 'Rules of the Road' can be downloaded in a matter of minutes."

The "Rules of the Road" also is available in Portable Document Format (PDF), which can be viewed or printed using a Web browser and Adobe's free Acrobat Reader software. Using this feature, driver education teachers can print copies of chapters of the manual as they teach them. Answers to study questions at the end of each chapter also can be accessed.

Additionally, an online version of the Secretary of State change of name or address form is available from the "Rules of the Road" page. Name or address changes, which must be reported to this office within 10 days, can be done by e-mail.

Information about Illinois' new digital driver's license and other secretary of state programs also can be accessed.

block of Touhy Avenue reported that she observed a stocky woman in her late 50s taking five landscape rocks and placing them in the rear seat of a maroon Pontiac around 8:10 p.m. Aug. 1. The complainant confronted the offender, who put the five rocks back. The complainant told police that she and the condominium association manager had made a prior report of stolen rocks and said that the offender was the same person who took the rocks on the prior occasion. The complainant requested that the offender be contacted by police and told to return the other rocks.

The offender was placed in a cell pending bond.

Trespass to property

Two 19-year-old Northbrook men, an 18-year-old Northbrook man and an 18-year-old Niles man were found walking around on the roof of the church in the 8300 block of Harlem Avenue around 4:53 a.m. Aug. 2. The police found no ladders and contacted the Niles Fire Department who set up ladders to enable the police to access the rooftop. Police escorted the suspects down the ladder and took them into custody, transporting them to the Niles Po-

BBB membership identification program

For the first time in the 72 year history of the Better Business Bureau of Chicago and Northern Illinois, business members will be able to state they are members and can use a version of the BBB Torch logo in their advertisements. The "Torch" stands for the symbol of truth and is meant to light the way between buyer expectations and business performance. This program is being implemented to be more responsive to the needs of consumers, who seek information which will assist them in making wise purchasing decisions. This program will also provide BBB members with an opportunity to proudly proclaim their support of the mission and standards of the BBB.

"Consumers should look for the Torch before making a purchase and are encouraged to call the BBB to receive a current reliability report on any company with which they are considering doing business," stated James E. Baumhart, BBB President and CEO. The BBB will be closely monitoring the use of its logo to ensure consumer satisfaction with member companies as well as to verify that only member companies are using the trademarked logo.

The use of the BBB torch logo and the statement: "Member of the Better Business Bureau of Chicago & Northern Illinois" will be permitted in broadcast and print advertising including newspapers, TV, radio, flyers, direct mail, and yellow page directories, as well as on business documents such as business cards, stationery and invoices.

Burglary to auto

A 17-year-old Niles youth reported that unknown offender(s) used a hard object to smash a window of his 1985 Audi 5000 while it was left in the parking lot of a store in the 8600 block of Dempster Street sometime between 5 p.m. and 9:55 p.m. Aug. 2. An in-dashboard radio valued at $400 was removed by the offender(s). The cost to replace the window was unknown.

Burglary

An alarm company notified police that unknown offender(s) had kicked in a window pane on an overhead door to gain entry to an oil changing shop in the 8400 block of Dempster Street around 6:08 a.m. July 30. The offender(s) entered the office area where they knocked the motion detector sensor off its mounting on a wall above the cash register and rifled through a desk drawer leaving the drawer open and a $10 bill undisturbed.

The offender(s) climbed into the rafters apparently climbing up a nearby ladder. In the rafters the offender(s) located a bank cash bag containing $100. Greasy footprints were found leading from the rafter area and next to the cash register.

The only employee who knew where the money bag was kept was the store manager, a 30-year-old Chicago resident. He told police he threw the bag into the rafters before closing the shop for the night. The manager climbed the water heater when asked to retrieve the money bag from where he had put it. The business experienced a similar incident June 15. A canvass of the neighbors proved negative.

Niles resident called back to active duty

U.S. Navy Chief Petty Officer Dennis Argyrakis was recalled to active duty under presidential recall orders and is presently serving a nine-month tour in Sarajevo, Bosnia-Herzegovina. Argyrakis, a Niles West High School graduate, taught English at Notre Dame High School and was a Niles Police auxiliary officer. He is serving in NATO's SFOR (stabilization force) in Operation Joint Guard.

Argyrakis is the son of Marie Argyrakis, and is married to Patricia, both of Niles. The Argyrakis family has lived in Niles for over 35 years.

Late summer tree planting possible with 'containerized' seedlings

Trees for Tomorrow, the Eagle River, WI conservation school, has a limited supply of "containerized" red pine and white spruce seedlings available by parcel service through early September. Proceeds from the seedling sales help finance the school's education program. "Containerized means each tree seedling comes in its own plug of soil. These trees, unlike 'bare root' seedlings, can be shipped and stored for longer periods of time without refrigeration and can be planted successfully all summer long," said forester and teacher Sandy Lotto who runs the tree seedling program.

Red pine seedlings cost 50¢ and white spruce are 75¢ each. Trees can be shipped in quantities of 15 to 500. Shipping charges are $4.50 per order.

"Call 1-800-838-9472 to order, or to receive a free brochure describing our seedling program," Lotto said.

Trees for Tomorrow is a private, nonprofit conservation school offering forestry and related resource workshops to middle and high school students from a three state area, and has sold seedlings to help support its education efforts since 1944. For a brochure describing the school and a membership coupon call 1-800-TFT-WISC.

Permanent solution for driveway cracks

Dalton Enterprises, Inc., with over 50 years experience in pavement maintenance, announces a new way to repair asphalt and concrete pavement cracks and joints... Airport-Grade Pli-Stix "Hot Applied" Crack Filler.

In the past, "do-it-yourselfers" had no alternative but to use cold pour crack fillers, which provide only "temporary" repair. Other drawbacks to cold crack fillers: they take 24 hours to try and fill cracks up to only 1/4" wide. Cold crack fillers typically come packaged in plastic bottles or caulking tubes.

The new Pli-Stix crack filler is the same material used by D.O.T. Departments and Paving Contractors for highways and parking lots. However, Pli-Stix comes in a "rope-like" coil of specially-formulated, thermo-plastic rubber "Stix" which is pliable to custom fit cracks and joints (it can be stretched, bent, doubled). A melt-a-way plastic wrapper makes it clean and easy to use. 3 steps and 3 tools (a broom, screwdriver and Bernz-O-Matic propane torch): First, clean out the crack and cut the Pli-Stix to fit. Second, shape and pack the Pli-Stix into the crack. Third, heat the Pli-Stix until it is melted/liquid. Pli-Stix forms a 100% water-tight "rubberized" seal that remains flexible year round, even during expansion and contraction. The repaired crack is traffic ready in 30 minutes, providing a neat, professional-looking "permanent" repair that is guaranteed for life.

Pli-Stix is available in three sizes and has a suggested retail price of $12.99-$14.99. For a retail store in your area or for complete information and a free sample send a self-addressed, business-size envelope (.55 postage) to Dalton Enterprises, Inc., Attention: Roger Dickinson, 131 Willow St., Cheshire, CT. 06410 or call: 1 (800) 851-5606.

Japanese beetles are here

Adult Japanese beetles began emerging in late June this season and will continue to be around for six to eight weeks. As with many insects, the Japanese beetle is early this year because of the early spring. Normally they arrive in mid July.

The adult beetles feed on nearly 300 different plant species and nearly 140 plant families. Highly preferred hosts include roses and related species, grapes, raspberries, lindens, crabapples, and certain elms. The beetles feed on the foliage in a skeletonized appearance. Highly preferred plants may be severely defoliated. The adults are about 1/2 inch long, shiny, and have a metallic green or greenish-bronze appearance with reddish wing covers. They have five white pairs of spots (tufts of hair) on both sides of the abdomen.

The insect spends most of the year in the soil as a grub feeding on turfgrass roots. Growth is completed during June and adult emergence occurs in early to mid July in northern Illinois. Eggs are laid in the soil by the adult female beetle, they hatch, and the grubs overwinter in the soil. There is one generation per year.

To prevent feeding damage by the adult beetles, insecticide sprays may be applied to susceptible plants. Newly transplanted or newly installed plant material will probably need protection as their root systems are not established and require leaves to produce food for growth. More established that are healthy and vigorous should be able to tolerate some defoliation. Highly valued ornamental or aesthetically visible plants will also require protection. Since the adults are feeding for an extended period of time, multiple sprays may be needed depending on the product. Be sure to read and follow label directions.

Research studies have shown that Japanese beetle traps are generally ineffective and thus are not recommended. They tend to attract more beetles into the area thus increasing the potential for defoliation of susceptible plants.

Keeping your plants healthy and well maintained is the key!

Good Housekeeping

SPRINKLERS: WHAT'S BEST FOR YOUR LAWN? The Good Housekeeping Institute's Engineering Department tested 20 different sprinklers, in a wide range of prices and designs. What they found: In general, metal sprinklers cost more because they're the most durable and have more precise spray patterns. But some of the newer all-plastic designs (the oscillating type, in particular) are also well-made and provide high-tech accuracy. It's important, too, to consider how far the sprinkler shoots and how many adjustments it allows you to make. Here's how to choose among the four basic styles:

OSCILLATING ($10 TO $55): A tube with tiny holes rocks back and forth to create a high-arching spray; water cascades down gently like a spring shower. You can usually adjust how far the tube moves, so you get wider or narrower coverage. Consider this if you have a medium to large rectangular-shaped lawn with few obstacles and need coverage of up to about 3,600 square feet or you want a sprinkler that operates almost silently.

STATIONARY ($4 TO $20): Water sprays from what looks like an inverted showerhead. Most are simply a plastic or metal dome with pinholes that determine the shape of the area to be watered. Consider this if you need to water only a small area, needing coverage of up to about 900 square feet. This type can also water a very narrow strip of lawn; other models can't.

ROTARY ($7 TO $20): Arms spin like a helicopter rotor while throwing out droplets of water. Some models let you control the size of the water drops (from mist to stream). Consider this if you have a small to medium square- or circular-shaped lawn needing coverage of up to about 2,500 square feet or if you want something that's simple to set up.

PULSATING ($10 TO $40): A powerful stream of water sweeps the area in a circular pattern, like a second hand rounding the face of a clock. You can change the distance and rotation of the spray to fit your lawn. Consider this if you have a large and/

Get to know your new refrigerator

Imagine installing a brand new frost-free refrigerator and hearing strange sounds coming from the inside. Frost is growing on the freezer walls and on the food packages. Meanwhile, Drops of water are collecting in the fresh fruit and vegetables compartments.

What to do? Pack it up and send it back? Not so fast! According to the experts at Whirlpool Home Appliances, that new refrigerator may be just fine.

First the frost. Whirlpool consumer assistants explain that this can occur because new refrigerators retain colder temperatures due to the foam insulation now being used to reduce energy use. On hot or humid days, these colder temperatures can promote frost and moisture inside the refrigerator. Food packaging also contributes.

To help remedy the problem, check that the cold controls are set to manufacturer's recommendations. Different settings may be suggested for summer and winter. Also, be sure to clean the condenser coils at least twice a year. This also helps to save energy.

Opening the refrigerator and freezer doors as few times as possible is an effective way to minimize frost. Making sure that liquids and high-moisture foods are properly sealed is another way to help reduce frost.

Now, about those sounds... relax, new sounds are normal. New high-efficiency compressors often run longer than older types and may emit a pulsating or high-pitched sound. Rattling noises may be caused by the flow of refrigerant, the waterline or items stored on top of the refrigerator.

If the new refrigerator has an ice maker, there will be a buzzing sound when the water valve opens to fill the ice maker. Drizzling, clicking and gurgling noises are also normal and caused by the automatic defrost equipment.

Even the design of the kitchen can contribute to the sounds. Hard floors, walls and cabinets can amplify the noises and make them seem louder than they actually are.

Powdered rice may be used to thicken and enrich a soup. Powder it in a grinder or blender. Add when soup is simmering.

Annual white grubs are early this year

Adult southern masked chafers, the adult stage of the annual white grub, have emerged in northern Illinois about ten days early this year. Peak number of adults was observed the first few days of July. Usually they emerged in northern Illinois around the second week of July.

The adult beetles are about 1/4 inch long and are tan colored. This beetle is not the same as the May/June ("bug") beetle that emerges in the lay May and early June. Adult female southern masked chafers lay eggs in the moist soil and eggs hatch into "grubs" which feed on the roots of turfgrass. The grubs will feed until late fall then overwinter. There is one generation per year.

In cases of severe feeding, the sod may be "loose" and pulled up with minimum effort much like freshly laid sod. The grubs can easily be seen under the loose sod and on the soil surface. The grubs are small initially but will grow to be about 1/2 inch long with a white body and brown head. Feeding damage by the grubs will result in brown irregular-shaped patches. Be sure to confirm that grubs are responsible for the damage as many other turf grass diseases and cultural problems may mimic grub damage.

When and should you treat for grubs? Since the adults emerged earlier this year, grub damage may have occurred by late July instead of the more typical early to mid-August. Weather (soil temperatures and rainfall) will have a tremendous impact on grub damage and timing for insecticide treatments. Since there was widespread rainfall at the beginning of and during egg laying, grub populations should be more widely distributed over larger areas. Areas that did not receive rainfall, but were irrigated will have potentially heavier concentrations of grubs again, because the adult female beetles like to lay their eggs in moist soil. If we begin a dry spell with little or no rainfall, we may see some larval mortality. This could also significantly affect grub populations and subsequent turf damage.

In order to effectively prevent grub damage, check first of all to make sure grubs are present. Pull the sod back and examine the soil surface. If grubs are present, they will be readily visible. Do not assume that every brown patch is due to grub feeding. If grub population exceed 10-12 per square foot, then treatment is usually warranted. Sample throughout the affected area and get a good "idea" as to the "big picture." Grub populations can vary greatly from location to location. If treatment is warranted, apply a soil insecticide. There are several different products available. Be sure to read and follow label directions. Be sure to thoroughly water the insecticide into the soil while applying to insure that the grubs come in contact with the insecticide. Usually a drenching equivalent of 1/4 to 1/2 inches of moisture should be adequate. One application is all that is needed. It will usually take 10-14 days for the grubs to die, but they cease feeding within 24 hours. Generally grass roots will regenerate and affected areas will recover.

To review, thoroughly inspect the affected area, make sure grubs are present, and then treat only if grub population exceeded treatment thresholds. Grubs are easily managed if you follow these basic steps.

Maintenance procedures for RV owners

Traveling in a recreational vehicle (RV), including campers, trailers, conversion vans and motor homes, is a convenient and comfortable way to vacation during the summer months. Before driving an RV, follow all maintenance procedures in the owner's manual and review your driving skills.

Q. What routine maintenance is necessary?

A. • Change fluids and filters, lubricate and tune up the RV, inspect the lights and check the brakes.

• Check tire treads for adequate depth.

• Flush the holding tanks with clean water. The drinking water tank should be flushed and refilled. Then add one ounce of bleach and flush it again. Check all water pumps for pressure and proper operation.

• Inspect the air conditioner, furnace, water heater and appliances for proper operation, and check batteries, the converter unit and battery charger.

Q. What precautions should I take when driving an RV?

A. • Because of their size and weight, you need to allow more distance when stopping and turning.

• To compensate for sluggish acceleration, allow plenty of time and room for lane changing and merging.

• When backing up with a trailer in tow, turn the steering wheel in the opposite direction you want the rear of the trailer to go, using the hitch as a pivot point.

Q. How do I know if my vehicle is capable of towing a trailer?

A. Consult the owner's manual for its maximum towing load. Many subcompact cars cannot tow heavy trailers. The weight of the trailer should not exceed the maximum load the hitch can pull.

Q. What safety measures should I be aware of?

A. • If pulling a trailer, make sure you have the correct hitch and that your vehicle can handle the weight. Most trailers require a 3- or 4-class hitch.

• Be sure the propane tanks are secured and the sewage cap is on tight.

• Make sure the lights of the RV are hooked up.

Family Camping Fun

Planning a technology-free week in the woods with the whole family may sound a little daunting at first, but a vacation without e-mail by day and videos by night can be done when you let Mother Nature provide the entertainment! Your family can have hours of fun with these outdoor activities.

EASY BOARD GAMES
Play a game by tracing a tick-tack-toe grid in the dirt or sand with a stick. Or draw a simple checkerboard on a bandanna or backpack before you leave home. Gather acorns, pebbles and shells to use as game pieces. Larger items can serve as kings.

SCAVENGER HUNT
Divide your family into teams with an adult on each team. Make a list of items for the teams to collect: a specific kind or color of shell, pebble or pine cone, a piece of fallen bark from a tree, acorn, etc. Set a time limit and see how many items you can gather.

BEDTIME SNACK
Cut off a lengthwise strip of a banana peel. Scoop out a portion of the banana and eat. Fill the empty space with marshmallows and pieces of a chocolate bar. Wrap the banana in aluminum foil. An adult should place it by the campfire coals and heat through 5 minutes, remove and unwrap. Cool until comfortable to the touch. Scoop out the tasty dessert with a spoon.

Household Help

Q. There are two "whirlybirds" ball-bearing turbines (no motor) on the roof to vent the attic. The turbines seem to be running much of the time, even when it's chilly and the furnace is on to heat the house. (The furnace is in the attic.) It seems kind of wasteful to be running the turbine to heat the house at the same time the turbines are venting warm air out of the attic, but that may just be how things work. The attic insulation is R-14, and I plan to add more insulation. Can you tell me if I should have layers of insulation added to the underside of the roof, or have it blown in on the floor of the attic?

A. I'm sure that when the weather is extremely hot and humid, the whirlybird turbines do a fantastic job of extracting warm air through the vents. However, you cannot block off the vents and thus stop the turbines from working.

I'm not an expert in this type of non-motorized ventilation, but you could possibly ask for information from the manufacturer. If it's possible to prevent the ball bearings from rotating, you may stop the turbines from turning. Also look for a bolt access hole that can also lock the turbines from circulating.

Q. I have a problem my patio. I hope you can help me. The cement on my enclosed patio floor has a fungus or something eating away on top of it and it's almost one-half covered. I've tried washing it but with no results. Could you tell me what to do without having to paint over it?

A. Of course, before you even consider painting the surface of your patio, you must clean the fungus off completely. There is a very simple method to use and I'm sure you have the product in your laundry room.

Begin by mixing an almost full-strength solution of chlorine bleach and warm water in a bucket. Also use a long-handled, stiff bristle brush attached to it. As you are scrubbing, you have to scrape away the fungus with a wide putty knife. After you finish, spray the surface with a high-powered nozzle and you garden hose.

Plug into electrical safety

This little, inexpensive device could save your life. Every year, hundreds of people are killed or injured in their homes by electrical shock from ordinary appliances and power tools. How does this happen? When a small amount of electrical current leaks to the exposed metal parts of an appliance or tool, the entire appliance or tool becomes "hot." When you touch the live or "hot" device, you could get a shock or could even be electrocuted. What is this life-saving device that the National Electrical Safety Foundation strongly recommends be installed in every household? It is a ground fault circuit interrupter, commonly known as a GFCI.

A GFCI should be used in any area where water may come in contact with electrical products, such as kitchens, bathrooms, garages, crawl spaces, basements, around swimming pools, and on outdoor outlets.

GFCIs are products designed to prevent serious injury or death from electrical shock by detecting ground faults at very low levels.

If a GFCI senses minimal current leakage to ground in an electrical circuit, it assumes a

Tips for building the ideal deck

Everywhere you look in the neighborhood, it seems someone is adding a new deck, or expanding an existing deck.

Whether small or large, a deck can serve many useful purposes. It can be an outdoor play area for children a place for cookouts and family gatherings, or just a favorite spot to plop into a lounge chair and enjoy the breeze.

Building the "deck of your dreams" can be a fairly simple project, depending on the level of your woodworking skills, the site you have to work with, and the complexity of your design.

Choosing the right materials for the job is the easy part. Versatile and durable Southern Pine lumber, pressure-treated with preservatives, is ideal for just about any outdoor structure.

Treated Southern Pine resists termites and decay for many decades, according to tests sponsored by the USDA's Forest Service.

When it comes to putting your deck ideas on paper, think practical...and simple. During what part of the day will we use the deck? Do we want built-in seating or planters? Take a tour of possible locations. Notice where the shady areas of the yard are throughout the day -- something to consider when those long hot summer days roll around.

Whether you build your deck in a weekend, or a builder needs three weeks, be aware of the value you've just added to your property. Just like any other part of the house, your deck requires maintenance. As soon as construction is completed (making sure the wood surface is dry) apply a water repellent sealer to all exposed wood surfaces. And depending on your climate, reapply this sealer every year or two to reduce the effects of weathering. Treated Southern Pine can also be stained or painted.

Need some help to get started? The Southern Pine Council offers a colorful Garden & Outdoor Idea Book full of helpful information all about building with pressure-treated lumber. Ask for #304 and send $3 (includes shipping) to SPC, Box 641700, Kenner, LA 70064. Or visit www.southernpine.com.

New stripes arrive at Brookfield Zoo

An endearingly Grevy's zebra filly named Rowen was born at Brookfield Zoo on July 10. The mother, Carla, a 15-year-old on loan from St. Louis Zoological Park, Missouri, gave birth to her fourth foal while on exhibit. Many zoo guests in front of the zebra yard were able to witness the birth.

Grevy's zebra births are significant because man has pushed this species to the brink of extinction. It is estimated that only several thousand exist in the wild today. Grevy's zebras compete for habitat with increasing numbers of domestic livestock and contend with water shortages due to irrigation projects created for agriculture and livestock. They also have been hunted for their skin.

To help ensure the survival of this species, Brookfield Zoo is one of 36 North American zoos to cooperatively manage 240 Grevy's zebras through the Species Survival Plan (SSP), coordinated by the American Zoo and Aquarium Association. Through the SSP, zoos strive to protect Grevy's zebras from extinction with a long-term captive breeding program. Grevy's zebras are one of 32 SSP species managed at Brookfield Zoo.

Although Grevy's zebras may all appear to look the same because of their black-and-white striped coats, they are, in fact, all different. Like human fingerprints, no two zebras' stripes are alike, and the striped pattern on each individual also varies. These stripes help a zebra to camouflage itself from predators, such as lions and African wild dogs, that lack color vision and see the world in black and white. To these predators, the zebra's irregularly striped pattern may blend into the background of tall grass or scrub, particularly in the shimmering heat haze of the African savannah.

The newest addition to the Brookfield Zoo, Rowen, a Grevy's zebra, gets acquainted with her mother, Carla, only one hour after birth on Friday, July 10, 1998. Grevy's zebras are one of 32 SSP species managed at Brookfield Zoo.

mering heat haze of the African savannah.

Rowen, the eighteenth Grevy's zebra born at Brookfield Zoo, was named after Mary Rowen, Ph.D. Dr. Rowen, an expert on east Africa's hoofed animals, has compared wild and captive Grevy's zebras to examine how ecological variables may affect infant survival and female social organization. Dr. Rowen's research has been supported with a grant from the Chicago Zoological Society's Conservation and Research Committee.

Open every day of the year, Brookfield Zoo is located at First Avenue and 31st Street in Brookfield, IL, just 14 miles west of downtown Chicago. The zoo is accessible via the Stevenson (I-55) and Eisenhower (I-290) expressways, Tri-State Tollway (I-294), Burlington Northern commuter line, and PACE bus service.

Honor bestowed on Kathleen A. Casey

Glenbrook South High School honored Kathleen A. Casey with its cherished "Distinguished Alumnus Award." Kathleen Casey attended Glenbrook South High and graduated with the Class of 1976.

The auditorium was packed to a standing room only crowd and the school orchestra ushered in the graduating class of over 500, school officials and board of education members to a splendid orchestration of "Pomp and Circumstance." Shortly after the seating of the graduates, Mr. David H. Smith, Principal explained the meaning of the distinguished Alumnus Award, its infrequent and rare designation. Mr. Smith continued by providing the audience with a capsule version of the life and accomplishments of Kathleen A. Casey, founder and the Executive Director of Bear Necessities Pediatric Cancer Foundation, Inc. Smith related that after graduating in 1976 from Glenbrook South High School, Kathleen embraced college life in Boston, later entered the work place specializing in high style graphic design and surrendered her growing career to marriage and motherhood. Mr. Smith talked of Kathleen's total dedication to her son "Bear," as he struggled for five difficult years fighting pediatric cancer. The Bear Necessities Pediatric Cancer Foundation was founded and became their new cause in life. After "Bear's" death, Kathleen and Courtney, Bear's sister, struck out to really make a difference because little, if any, support or attention has been given to the needs of pediatric cancer research or the needs of the courageous children. As Bear Necessities grew and became more operational, Kathleen found that pediatric cancer is, by far, the Number One cause of death by disease. There are 41,000 children stricken with cancer in the U.S. right now and the yearly number of cases reported has grown to over 8,300. Kathleen Casey is now directing the efforts of Bear Necessities, its board made up of renowned medical people, lawyers, and corporate heads. Under her direction, Bear Necessities now touches the lives of thousands of children on a national basis, with strong local ties, of obvious concern. Kathleen and the foundation have raised over $1.0 million for pediatric cancer in four short years, yet receives no federal or state funding. Kathleen related she was overwhelmed when she was notified that she had been selected for this cherished award. She continued, "This is an honor of great consequence to me. This school, its teachers and administration had left a lasting impression upon me and if I am contributing anything at all to the community, I sincerely believe that desire, dedication, and direction was shaped at Glenbrook South High School. I am very very proud, honored and humbled with this honor."

Teddy Bears unite at Brookfield Zoo

Prepare your teddies for fun, sun, and a roaring good time at Brookfield Zoo's annual Teddy Bear Picnic on Saturday, August 8, and Sunday, August 9. Activities take place both days from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. on the zoo's East Mall and along the Bear Grottoes walkway.

If your teddy is feeling blue, and possibly needs a little stuffing, too, stop by the Quikswell Clinic. Brookfield Zoo's specially trained volunteer "doctors" will be available to repair or cure whatever is ailing your bear.

At 1 p.m., join other bear lovers at the south gate for the Teddy Bear Parade followed by the Teddy Bear Showcase (on the East Mall), where everyone is a winner. Each participant in the showcase will receive a ticket for a change to win bear-ious prizes courtesy of Enesco's Cherished Teddies Collection and North American Bear Company. Winners will be announced following the show case (winners need to be present).

Do you know your bear IQ? Docents (volunteer educators) will test guests' knowledge at four fun-filled Activity Stations located along the Bear Grottoes walkway. At the Teddy Roosevelt Station, guests will have the opportunity to play a puzzle game to discover the link between Teddy Roosevelt, the 26th president of the United States; teddy bears; and Brookfield Zoo. Also, don't miss the chance to have a photo taken of you and your teddy bear with a life-size cutout of Teddy Roosevelt himself!

The Bear Touch Table Activity Station, allows guests to "feel out" the answers to bear trivia through hands-on learning games.

How much do Brookfield Zoo's bears eat? Find out at the Bear Buffet Activity Station. Guests also will learn about the wild and captive diets of the four species of bears at the zoo by preparing a "meal" for a bear from a variety of plastic foods.

Young zoo guests can play a board game to learn more about the different kinds of bears that live at Brookfield Zoo at the Goldilocks and the Four Bears Activity Station. Participants make their way through the bears' cottage to discover the different foods bears eat, the habitats they prefer, what they look like, and how much they weigh. By choosing correctly, they find out "who's been sleeping in the bears' bed?"

Be sure to visit Brookfield Zoo's four species of bears - polar bear, spectacled bear, brown bear, and sloth bear. Bear fans wanting to help the zoo care for its bears can "adopt" one through the Parents Program. For $25, you'll receive a personalized certificate, a 5-inch by 7-inch color photo of the bear of your choice, a bear fact sheet, window decal, and an invitation to the annual Parents' Evening Picnic. For more information on the zoo's Parents Program, call (708) 485-0263, ext. 341.

During your visit, bear in mind that humans continue to adversely impact bear populations worldwide. For instance, the spectacled bear from South America is endangered due to habitat destruction and hunting. To help protect this species, Brookfield Zoo is managing its spectacled bears through the Species Survival Plan of the American Zoo and Aquarium Association.

For more information: on Teddy Bear Picnic, call Brookfield Zoo at (708) 458-0263, ext. 879.

Open every day of the year, Brookfield Zoo is located at First Avenue and 31st Street in Brookfield, IL, just 14 miles west of downtown Chicago. The zoo is accessible via the Stevenson (I-55) and Eisenhower (I-290) expressways, Tri-State Tollway (I-294), Burlington Northern commuter line, and PACE bus service.

Home Tips

GOT YOU COVERED
When covering a cake or pie with foil or plastic wrap, instead of using toothpicks or straws to keep the covering off the cake, I spray the foil or plastic wrap with non-stick cooking spray. The spray does not affect the taste of the cake or pie and there are no holes from toothpicks or straws. Jane D., Camarillo, CA.

Zijada Zec

many of its social activities made George an important part of our town.

He was The Bugle's man in Florida. Every few months we'd receive a letter from a man who wanted to keep his ties to his old town.

George was an important part of Niles' past. He helped make Niles a better place for all of us. He missed his town and his friends when he moved away and we'll miss him, his letters and his periodic "dropping by" whenever he was in the neighborhood.

Eighty-eight year old Bill Hlavacek died last week. Bill helped set up Niles' Health Department and was director of the department for more than ten years during the late sixties and through the 1970's.

Niles' Todd Bavaro, present director of code enforcement, said Bill was "a gentleman's gentleman who was very progressive in getting the job done in the village. He always had a smile for everyone and people had a lot of respect for Bill Hlavacek."

Bill was an aviation buff who began flying back in the 1920's when he was a teenager. He belonged to the Quiet Birdmen, Experimental Aircraft Association, several owners and pilot associations as well as to the Civil Air Patrol Association and the Early Bird Association.

During World War II he spent nine months in flight training. When Bill dropped by I'd pepper him with questions about his flying experiences and particularly about the pioneer days of flying back in the 1920's. It's hard to believe Bill could have been flying Piper Cubs before Lindbergh's initial flight across the Atlantic in the Spirit of St. Louis.

Bill was a gentleman, a very stylish guy and we are all the better for his having passed our way.

The more superstitious contend death often visits us in combinations of three. In the past two weeks three young women journalists passed away in our area. Forty-two year old, Terri Kruszczak, an editor for the Lerner Times newspaper passed away after a short illness. Another former Lerner reporter, Judy Heymann, died after suffering a stroke in her sleep. We spent many years with Judy covering Niles village, park and school board meetings. In subsequent years she worked for Maine Township handling publicity and public relations for the township.

In Niles, fifty-one year old Nancy Keraminas passed away after suffering many months of illness. Nancy worked for The Niles Bugle in the early 1990's reporting on the goings on in our community. She moved on to the Lerner newspapers and then as a columnist for the Niles Times-Herald.

Nancy was feisty and full of pizzazz. She felt very deeply for many causes and threw herself wholeheartedly into whatever battle she encountered. We remember parties and hayrides where Nancy and her Vito added a lot of fun to our Bugle get-togethers.

Nancy was involved in the ice skating program in the park district and in her obituary it reported she was "Mother to the Starlets forever." After her newspaper days she handled publicity and public relations for the Niles Park District to cap off a very full and productive life.

Like George Hall and Bill Hlavacek, Nancy was an important part of Niles and she, too, will be missed.

in the agreement. While specifics of that relocation were unavailable, the village has met with officials of the Interfaith Housing Center of the Northern Suburbs to consider suitable housing replacements for the displaced motel occupants who pay between $300 and $600 a month to live in the motel.

Compensation for moving expenses, scattered-site moderate income housing and job training were among resident demands at a February meeting. Village officials are hopeful that the TIF project, when completed, will bring Morton Grove more into line surrounding suburbs. With no large major shopping areas, the village lags behind its neighbors in commercial development and economic growth, officials said.

Motel residents will have two months to make other housing arrangements, Arft announced. Demolition will be completed and construction begun by late fall, if plans proceed according to schedule.

ed in London, France and other countries the world over, said Tom Troiani, assistant manager of the IceLand Skating Rink.

Mrs. Keraminas was one of the founders of the SPIN (Skating Parents in Niles) Club, Troiani said. "I've known her for nine to ten years," Troiani added. She had a very big part in the club's fund raising activities, one of which is the Sweetheart Open figure skating competition held each year on or near Valentine's Day, according to Troiani.

In addition to her daughter Evan, Mrs. Keraminas is survived by her husband, Vidutis (Vito), a brother and her mother-in-law and father-in-law.

Services for Mrs. Keraminas were held at Skaja Terrace Funeral Home Aug. 5.

Au might attempt to use the credit card again. A Waukegan Tire employee then notified police.

When police arrived, Au reportedly became nervous and canceled the purchase he was attempting to make. After questioning, Au was found to have one stolen credit card on his person and four others in his car, police said.

Four of the cards had been stolen from Bally's during the last two months, police said. Au, a member of the health club, denied stealing the cards himself but told police they had been given to him by friends whom he refused to name.

Au reportedly told police he was buying the tires for a friend as repayment of a debt. He is free for a personal recognition bond and will appear in Lake County Circuit Court Aug. 10.

anice requested by the Ha-Lo Company for a seven-story office building to be built at the corner of Lehigh and Touhy avenues to house the main corporate offices of the firm.

"They are based in Niles but have outgrown their present parcel," Bavaro said.

The board also granted permission to the Nextel Communication Co. at 6420 Howard St. to place nine antennas on a water tower that will be used for portable phones, pagers and other wireless communications devices.

Karl E. Johnson

Marine Capt. Karl E. Johnson, son of Sharel Johnson of Skokie, is currently halfway through a six-month deployment to the Western Pacific Ocean with the 31st Marine Expeditionary Unit (MEU), embarked aboard the ships of the USS Belleau Wood Amphibious Ready Group (ARG).

Regency residents enjoy Atlantic City Boardwalk

Regency residents joined with residents from the Bethesda Home and Retirement Center for an afternoon on the "Boardwalk at Atlantic City." The activity staff created a boardwalk environment by decorating the lower level with streamers, fishnets, and fish.

The event featured a variety of carnival games including Clown Bean Bag Toss, Guess Your Weight, Toss-a-Color Dice, and Big Mouth Catch. Residents won tickets for each event. At the end of the afternoon, the three residents who had won the most tickets received some lovely prizes. Participants were asked to bring in pictures of themselves at any age for our "Picture Beauty Contest." Three of our male guests served as the judges and had a difficult time choosing the winners. Our first place winner was Florence Dembek from Regency and second and third prizes went to two of our guests from Bethesda.

After the games, everyone enjoyed popcorn, corn dogs, and lemonade. The Atlantic City Boardwalk Party provided a fun afternoon and offered a successful way for the residents of Regency to enjoy some quality time and make new friends with the residents from Bethesda.

Time well spent

If waiting in line at the bank is more than you can bear, and you can't find a few minutes a day to talk with your spouse, you're in activity overload. You may want to slow down and do less. The Mayo Clinic provided these suggestions to simplify your life and find more time for the things you enjoy.

- Keep a time diary. Write down everything you do for one week and estimate how much time you spend at each activity. Is there anything you can delegate or eliminate? Try to cut out activities that aren't necessary or enjoyable.
- Reconsider waiting time. Waiting doesn't have to be considered lost time. Use that time to talk with people, plan for the week ahead, read articles you've clipped from newspapers and magazines or daydream.

- Just say "no." Although you may be afraid to say "no" when someone asks for your help, you may be surprised how sympathetically people will respond.

- Choose one activity at a time. If you do too many things at once, you get the illusion that you can do it all and even more. Practice doing one task at a time and give it your entire focus. You'll probably do a better job.

- Once in a while, give yourself time to recharge when you're running on empty. Do something that you enjoy.

suspicion was confirmed. By the time Washington, D.C., labs corroborated Albach's finding, he and agriculture department officials had traced the path the beetle had taken to end up in Albach's truck.

The beetle came along with an infested tree branch another Skokie Park District employee, Gary Luka, had cut from a tree in the Ravenswood neighborhood of Chicago, since determined to be the epicenter of the infestation. Luka gave Albach the limb to use as firewood on an upcoming camping trip.

Finding several more beetles in the wood, Albach slammed his truck top closed preventing the escape of any more longhorn beetles. The Illinois Department of Agriculture will now conduct a check of trees in Morton Grove, Skokie and Elk Grove Village, the places Albach drove his truck before discovering the presence of the tree-threatening insect. The inspections will be made during the next few weeks, officials said.

The beetle lays its eggs in hard wood trees, and the larvae eat their way out when they reach the adult stage, creating the holes that ultimately cause the tree to die.

No known insecticide can eradicate the pests, so the infested trees must be destroyed by burning to insure the insects don't spread to other trees, agriculture officials said.

Patrick Hogan of the Illinois Department of Agriculture, said his department set up a hotline for citizens to call if they sight the insect. Thus far calls have been logged from Skokie, but none from Morton Grove, Hogan said.

Albach, who says he is an outdoorsman at heart, supervises the ball and soccer field maintenance crews for the park district. He described his discovery as a stroke of luck and said he finds his sudden fame a bit overwhelming.
