by Bud Besser

Readers Digest used to run a feature titled "Most Unforgettable Character (I'd ever met)." Last week 100-year-old Dr. Bernard Rappaport, our dentist for 35 years, passed away. His eccentricities were so extreme you might think what we're about to write is largely fiction.

Rap practiced dentistry from 1921 until about 1990. He had five or six cubicle offices on the 38th floor of the Pittsfield Building on Washington and Wabash. Upstairs on the top 39th floor two or three dental technicians were always on call.

I'd met the dentist in my teen years, accompanying a friend to his offices 60 years ago. I'd heard the Rap stories many times but thought most of them were apocryphal. But I was wrong. They were all true.

Famous people flew in from Europe and Hollywood to have Rap attend to them. Physicists Enrico Fermi and Leo Szilard, as well as long ago Sears' CEO, Julius Rosenwald and artist Ivan Albright, were among his many patients. He held stock shares in Sears which he may have traded for dental work back in the 1920's. He also exchanged his work for artists' paintings.

Incidents at show may be linked to projectionist strike

by Rosemary Tirio

Two recent incidents reported at the Golf Mill Theaters, 9210 Milwaukee Ave., gave police the impression that the strike being conducted by the projectionists union may be getting closer to home than they would like.

An unknown person turned in 13 rounds of .38 caliber and 15 rounds of 9 mm ammunition, which he found in one of the Golf Mill Theaters Aug. 9.

In a second suspicious incident, the security director of the Loews theater chain was investigating the Golf Mill Theater because the projectionist union is in

Library nears completion, gets occupancy permit

The dream the voters of the Niles Library District dreamed when they passed the April 1996 referendum to renovate the library building at Oakton Street and Waukegan Road is one step closer to fruition.

While not yet completely finished, the building has obtained an occupancy permit from the Village of Niles, a clear sign that the end is in sight. As finishing touches are being put on the construction work, library officials are busily moving furniture and materials around in preparation for the official re-opening.

When totally completed, the

The Niles Township High School District 219 Board of Education voted unanimously Aug. 4 to hire Dr. Griff E. Powell, 52, to be the new superintendent.

But while the title may be new, the territory won't be. Powell began teaching math at Niles North in 1969, later becoming dean of students at Niles West, a post he held for four years, and finally serving four years as Niles North High School's assistant principal. He will return to his old stompin' grounds as "top banana" Sept. 1 after being voted in by the Board of Education Aug. 11.

After leaving District 219 in 1978, Powell was principal of

Skokie psychiatrist censured in bizarre misdiagnosis case

A Skokie psychiatrist faces disciplinary charges that may lead to loss of his medical license in a case that rivals modern movie melodrama.

A misconduct complaint has been filed against Dr. Bennett Braun who specializes in treatment of multiple personality disorders and repressed memory therapy.

The victims, Patricia Burgis of Glen Ellyn and her two young sons, last year settled a $10.8 million suit against Braun and Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center where Burgis was hospi-

Class size and salaries are main issues under negotiation

District 63 teachers, board in contract talks

by Rosemary Tirio

As Aug. 25, the first day of school in East Maine Elementary District 63 approaches, teachers union representatives and district officials continue negotiating next year's contract, even after the Aug. 15 expiration date of the teachers' current contract.

Mary Pendegast, head negotiator for the union, described board negotiators as adversarial. Pendegast said she is seeking to change contract language regarding class size.

Under the current policy, class size is an average reflecting total enrollment divided by the number of teachers. Thus a district-wide class size policy might be 25:1, but in actuality, there might be a ratio of 30:1 in one classroom and a 20:1 ratio in another. Pendegast and the union want a maximum class size in each room.

Pendegast is also pushing for teacher retirement incentives for the approximately 40 district teachers nearing retirement. Pendegast pointed out the financial advantage to offering retirement bonuses to teachers earning $55,000 or more and then replac-

Nilesites urged to attend meeting on 11 digit dialing

The Village of Niles is hosting a public information meeting with the Citizen's Utility Board (CUB) in an effort to block Ameritech's mandatory 11-digit dialing on phone users. According to Ameritech's plan, every telephone user will have to dial 11 digits - even if they are dialing across the street. This plan will serve as a hardship for our residents and businesses. The information meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, August 26, 1998, beginning at 7 p.m., Niles Administration Building, 1000 Civic Center Drive, Council Chambers. The organizing drive is designed to let members of the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) hear from residents in area code 847 who will suffer the aggravation and inconvenience of another area code change. Businesses will need to purchase new office supplies indicating the new area code - business cards, letterheads, and other supplies; and residents will suffer the inconvenience of dialing 11 digits whether they are dialing across

School's Open Safety Week proclaimed

Governor Jim Edgar has proclaimed August 24 - 30 as "School's Open Safety Week" in Illinois.

In his proclamation, Edgar alerts motorists to the need for special attention to children walking to and from school as they return to classes. He cautions drivers, when going through areas near schools, to watch their speed and follow the signals of the AAA School Safety Patrols or adult crossing guards. Extra driving care is also needed near school bus stops.

In 1920, the AAA-Chicago Motor Club organized the first student Safety Patrols. Now they are found throughout the U.S. and the world. Their dedicated members have prevented injuries and saved countless lives over the years.

"It's up to us to look out for these youngsters because they are not thinking much about safety...especially those going to school for the first time," said Richard Bensen, AAA-CMC president. "They frequently are too immature and too excited to exercise necessary caution."

AAA-CMC leads the "School's Open, Drive Carefully" campaign for the 51st year. Thousands of School's Open posters and related materials are being distributed free of charge to participating Illinois communities.

For information, contact AAA-CMC's public affairs department at 999 E. Touhy Ave., Des Plaines, IL 60018, or call (847) 390-9111, ext. 1433.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free benefits, households must complete an application as soon as possible, sign it and return it to the school. Copies of the application form are available at the principal's office in each school. Households should answer all applicable questions on the form. An application which does not contain all the required information cannot be processed and approved by the school. The required information is:

Food Stamp / AFDC Households: If a household currently receives Food Stamps or "Aid to Families with Dependent Children" (AFDC) for their child (ren), they only have to list the child(ren)'s name and Food Stamp or AFDC case number and sign the application.

All Other Households: If a household's income is at or below the level shown on the income scale, children are eligible for either free or reduced price meals or free milk. Households must provide the following information: (1) the names of all household members, (2) the social security number of the adult household member signing the application, or the word none if the adult does not have a social security number, (3) the amount of income each household member received last month, where it comes from (wages, child support, etc.), (4) the signature of an adult household member.

If income information is provided and children are approved for meal or milk benefits, households must tell the school when their household income increases by $50 or more per month ($600 per year) or when their household size decreases. If a Food Stamp or AFDC case number was listed, the household must tell the school when they no longer receive Food Stamps or AFDC for their children.

Households may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. If a household is not eligible now but has a decrease in

New outlook at Good Counsel High School

A new administrative team carries the 71 year Felician tradition into the new school year. Good Counsel's first president, Andrea White, leads the administration. Ms. White brings her education and business expertise to this newly created position. Mr. Thomas Chinske, most recently a faculty member at Loyola Academy and Northeastern University, directs the educational program as principal. Ms. Megan Quail, a part of the English faculty for two years, is Assistant Principal.

Seniors will introduce freshmen to GCHS on August 27. Besides a tour of classes, seniors plan an ice cream social to end the day. Classes begin August 28 for all students.

GCHS students will be hoping the Cubs go for the pennant this year since the school holds its 7th annual Walk-A-Thon on Friday.

September 18. Students will hike 10K from Good Counsel's door to the ballpark to earn pledges for the school. The Cubs have booked the GCHS Chorus to sing the national anthem before the game. Last year they were on national television. The highest pledging student will throw out the first pitch.

When the umpire calls, "Play ball!" on September 18, he describes Good Counsel High School's fresh start for the 1998-99 year.

Skies clear for Maine Township 'National Night Out'

Maine Township's Neighborhood Watch group, along with the Cook County Sheriff's Department and nearly 300 local residents gave "Crime and Drugs a Going Away Party" on August 4th, as part of "National Night Out". A unique and growing nationwide program, the "Night Out" is designed to heighten crime and drug awareness, generate support for, and participation in local anticrime programs, strengthen neighborhood spirit and cooperation with police-community partnerships and to send a message to criminals that local neighborhoods are fighting back.

A day of strong rainfall and heavy downpours gave way to clearing skies as residents began to gather at Dee Park, in unincorporated Maine Township, well before the 7:30 opening time. Event Chairperson Ellen Calhoun introduced various speakers including Maine Township Supervisor Mark Thompson, Sheriff Michael Sheehan, Trustee Willard (Bill) Bell, and Highway Commissioner Robert Provenzano.

Maine Township officials were joined by Cook County Sheriff Michael Sheehan for a local "National Night Out" gathering and neighborhood march on August 4th. Varga suggests merit-based pay policy for Dist. 63 administrators

East Maine School District 63 Superintendent Dr. Bob Varga has proposed replacing the present administrative salary ranges with a merit-based policy based on annual performance reviews for the six principals and dozen other administrators who run the district's six schools. District administrators now advance through a series of pay raises, earning more money with each year of experience gained, a practice used commonly throughout the state.

Varga, whose contract would be excluded from the new policy, suggested the change because it would help the district remain competitive when seeking to hire new administrators. The proposal would increase starting salaries, but any future raises would depend on a performance review and consideration of the district's financial situation. Elementary school principal salaries range between $55,000 and $77,000. That would be replaced by a starting salary of $65,000.

Varga said in a letter to school board members that the district had lost its competitive edge in attracting administrative candidates because of the lower starting salaries offered.

According to Varga's plan, future increases would be based on performance evaluations coupled and consideration of the district's financial condition.

Zoning for Osco drive-through lane rejected by Skokie Board

Fearful of increasing traffic congestion and creating other safety hazards, trustees of the Village of Skokie voted 4-3 against rezoning a site at the southwest corner of Crawford Avenue and Main Street for an Osco drugstore with a drive-through prescription pickup window.

A regular Osco store without the drive-through facility is permitted under the current zoning of the site, officials said, and could be built there without public hearings.

An attorney representing American Stores Properties, corporate owner of Osco and Jewel, said the firm had not yet decided whether to go ahead with an Osco minus drive-up lane on the site.

Osco officials introduced the idea of the drive-through lane at the July Plan Commission hearing, a feature representatives said the firm was trying to include in all its new stores planned for this area. Officials estimated that between 35 and 70 cars would use the drive-through facility daily, with use increasing during bad weather months. Mothers with children in tow, disabled or injured persons and elderly customers would probably use the drive-through lanes most, officials predicted.

The site, formerly occupied by Tenenbaum Hardware, which closed last year, would accommodate the new almost 12,000 square foot store. Liquor, however, would not be sold at the store.

Ultimately, the bond of all companionship, whether in marriage or friendship, is conversation.

Maine Township High School District 207 announced its policy for free and reduced price meals for students unable to pay the price of meals served under the National School Lunch Program at Maine Township High School East and Maine Township High School West. The following household size and income criteria will be used for determining eligibility:

Children from households that meet Federal guidelines are eligible for free or reduced-priced meals.

All meals served must meet requirements established by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. However, if a child has been determined by a doctor to have a disability and the disability would prevent the child from eating a regular school meal, the school will make substitutions prescribed by the doctor. If a substitution is needed, there will be no extra charge for the meal. If you believe your child needs substitutes because of a disability, please get in touch with us for further information.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free or reduced price benefits, complete the application form as soon as possible, sign it and return it to the school. Additional copies of the application form are available at the principal's office in each school. Households should answer all applicable questions on the form. An application which does not contain all the required information cannot be processed and approved by the school. The required information is as follows:

Food Stamp/TANF Households: Households that currently receive food stamps or "Temporary Assistance for Needy Families" (TANF) for their child(ren), only have to list the child(ren)'s name and food stamp or TANF case number, print their name and sign the application. Link card number cannot be used.

All other households: If a household's income is at or below the level shown on the income scale, children are eligible for free or reduced-price meals. Households must provide the following information: (1) the names of all household members; (2) the Social Security number of the adult household member signing the application, or the word "None" if the adult does not have a social security number; (3) the amount of income each household member received last month and where it comes from (wages, child support, etc.); and (4) the signature of an adult household member.

The information on the application may be verified by school or other officials at any time during the school year.

If income information is provided and children are approved for meal benefits, households must tell the school when their household income increases by $50 or more per month ($600 per year) or when their household size decreases. If a food stamp or TANF case number was listed, the household must tell the school when they no longer receive food stamps or TANF for their child.

Households may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. Households that are not eligible now but have a decrease in household income, an increase in household size, or a household member becomes unemployed, should fill out an application at that time.

In certain cases foster children are eligible for meal benefits regardless of household income. Households that have foster children living with them and wish to apply for meal benefits for them should complete the application.

Under provisions of the policy, the principals of Maine Township High School East and Maine Township High School West, as shown below, will review applications and determine eligibility.

Maine Township High School East - Mrs. Carol A. Grenier, (847) 825-4484.

Maine Township High School West - Dr. Paul J. Leatham, (847) 827-6176.

Households dissatisfied with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss it with the school. Households also have the right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing Dr. C. Steven Snider, Superintendent, 1131 South Dee Road, Park Ridge, Illinois 60068, (847) 696-3600.

In the operation of Child Nutrition Programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, color, national origin, age, sex or handicap. If you believe you have been discriminated against, write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Regional Catholic men's conference to be held

Speakers from the fields of sports, business and religion will be featured at the fourth annual Great Lakes Catholic Men's Conference that's expected to draw several thousand men from Illinois and other states. Last year's Conference drew 3,000 men.

"Walk the Talk" is the theme of the Conference to be held at the MetroCentre in downtown Rockford, IL on Saturday, October 17, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. It is open to all men, teens and older, of any faith.

Speakers include the Most Reverend Thomas G. Doran, Bishop of Rockford; Dale Brown, former Louisiana State University (LSU) basketball coach; Bowie Kuhn, Commissioner of Baseball for 16 years.

Also speaking will be Jim Berlucchi, executive director of Legatus, an association of Catholic CEOs; Matthew Kelly a young, internationally recognized author and speaker; Curtis Martin, frequent television guest, and others.

The purpose of the Conference is to give men the time and information needed to consider the significant issues of life while helping them direct their thoughts and energy toward forming a personal relationship with God. From the speakers' personal testimonies, men will gain insight into how deep-rooted faith can heal, encourage, strengthen and inspire them in good times and bad as they face the challenges and pressures of marriage, children, family and workplace.

The Conference includes lunch, exhibits, music, reflection time and more. Registration fee is $30, $25 in groups of 10 or over, and $40 at the door. All seats will be reserved. For information or to register with a credit card, call 815-231-2180, or see the Conference web site at <http://users.aol.com/cathlikman/mensconf.htm>.

State law mandates hepatitis B immunizations for children

The Cook County Department of Public Health is urging parents to get their children immunized for the 1998 school year. All children entering fifth grade or, those 2 years of age or older entering a child care facility or pre-kindergarten program, must be immunized with three (3) doses of the hepatitis B vaccine. Under an Illinois State law that went into effect in July of 1997, children must be current with their immunizations in order to start school this fall.

Hepatitis B immunization requires the receipt of 3 doses of vaccine spaced over a minimum of a 4-month period. Students who have started the series, but have not yet completed it, will be allowed to begin classes. Current fifth graders will be required to show proof of hepatitis B immunization.

Hepatitis B is a viral infection, which causes inflammation of the liver. It is spread by direct contact with blood or other body fluids of infected people. Although generally not a serious health threat, some cases of hepatitis B can be chronic, with up to 10% of the cases producing liver failure, liver cancer and death.

To find a suburban public health clinic, residents should call the Cook County Department of Public Health office nearest them. North suburbs: (847) 818-2860; West suburbs: (708) 344-6652; Southwest suburbs: (708) 974-6160; South suburbs: (708) 210-4500 or TDD for the hearing/speech impaired at (708) 445-2406. Persons needing accommodation for a disability should contact the office nearest them.

Planning a trip to the eye doctor?

Because one preschooler in 20 has a vision problem that could cause permanent sight loss if left untreated, Prevent Blindness recommends that you take your 3-5 year old to an eye doctor for a professional eye examination. To ease the trip for both you and the youngster, Prevent Blindness America offers the following suggestions:

1. Ask your relatives, friends and neighbors if they know the name of an eye doctor who is good with children.
2. Schedule the appointment when your little one is not likely to be sleepy or hungry. If your child has a "cranky" time of day, schedule around it.
3. Make a list of your questions and bring it to the appointment. Take notes when speaking to the doctor, so that you can refer to them later.

Volunteers sought for stroke/vitamin study

Recent stroke victims are sought to participate in a research study to evaluate whether taking certain vitamin supplements can reduce the risk of having another stroke.

Participants in the Vitamin Intervention for Stroke Prevention (VISP) study, conducted by researchers at Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center, will be asked to take daily multivitamins with supplemental folic acid and vitamins B-6 and B-12.

Specifically, researchers will be studying the effect of folic acid and vitamins B-6 and B-12 on lowering homocysteine levels in blood. Homocysteine is an amino acid normally found in the body. Recent studies have linked high levels of homocysteine to an increased risk for strokes and heart attacks. The goals of the study are to lower the risk of another stroke, to help people change risk factors for stroke and to improve the overall health of people who have had strokes. Eligible participants must be age 35 or older, and must have experienced a mild to moderate stroke within the past four months.

The Rush study is sponsored by the National Institutes of Health. Similar studies are being conducted at 36 sites in the United States and Canada. For more information, or to enroll in the VISP study, call Ana Iniguez at 312-563-2030, Monday through Friday 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

LGH first suburban hospital to offer new treatment for venous leg ulcers

Lutheran General Hospital announced that living, bilayered skin called Apligraf (graftskin) is now available to patients for the treatment of venous leg ulcers that have not responded to traditional therapy. Venous leg ulcers are chronic wounds that usually occur on the lower leg and are caused by venous insufficiency, or poorly functioning valves in the veins, and affects nearly one million people in the United States.

Apligraf is the only product of its kind—a living, bilayered skin construct. It contains the skin's dermis and epidermis and looks and feels like human skin. Once applied, it is held in place by a dressing, and then compression bandages. Within several weeks, the healing site will begin to adopt some of the physical characteristics of the patients' own skin, including skin color.

"Apligraf gives our team of experts the ability to provide the newest therapy to our venous leg ulcer patients," said J. Buckman, M.D., medical director of Lutheran General Hospital's vascular laboratory. "Hard to heal leg ulcerations are a serious and debilitating condition that have had very limited treatment options until now."

LGH Adult Day Care

Lutheran General Hospital's Adult Day Care (Advocate Health Care) is designed to provide socialization, nursing care and therapeutic programs throughout the day to older adults suffering from mental and physical frailties who require supervision during the day, yet do not require 24-hour nursing care in an institution. While family members are at work their loved ones become members of an upbeat program, (sometimes referred to as "the club"), that provides stimulation and security. Older adults are either brought to the center by their families or an Adult Day Care vehicle will transport them.

Day care participants include adults who are physically impaired, socially isolated, in need of assistance with personal care, mentally confused, or limited in their ability to function independently. Adult day care offers an individualized plan of care for each person. Services like nursing care, medication monitoring, arts and crafts, discussion groups, outings, group exercises, recreational opportunities, intergenerational programming and Alzheimer's Specific Programs are provided in a safe, secure and stimulating environment.

"We have found in the past 18 years that the need for older adult day care services has grown," said Gwynne Chovance, director of Older Adult Services. "So many families are faced with the question of whether or not to place their loved one in a nursing home because they are not aware of our programs. The Older Adult Day Care Center is another alternative."

Each patient receives what they need. Activities include stroke exercises, art therapy, cooking, card games, discussion groups, excursions, woodworking, and more.

"Art therapy really helps different people in different ways. It allows them to focus on what they can do instead of what their limitations may be," said Marcy Koloth, art therapy and activity coordinator, M.A., A.T.R. "We have beautiful pieces done by our participants displayed throughout the center. Some were done by individuals, but others were group projects."

Advocate Health Care offers Older Adult Day Care Centers in Arlington Heights, Des Plaines, and Roselle. For information, call (847) 723-7770.

American Red Cross baby-sitting course offered

Lutheran General Hospital will offer an American Red Cross baby-sitting course for young people ages 11 and above who want to be certified as American Red Cross baby-sitters. Participants will learn baby-sitting basics such as handling emergencies, preventing accidents, understanding parents' instructions, and caring for children of different ages.

For more information, dates and times, call Health Advisor, 1-800-3-ADVOCATE, to register. All classes are held at Lutheran General Hospital, 1775 Dempster, Park Ridge.

brighter financial future. A total of 1858 adults were interviewed. The main study was based on a total of 1500 interviews, including 1000 women and 500 men ages 25 to 55 and has a margin of error of plus or minus 2.5 percent.

When asked if they agreed with the statement, "I usually have little or no money available after paying all my bills to save for retirement," 61 percent of women and 53 percent of men agreed. Among minorities, the proportions were even more significant with 75 percent of African American women and 69 percent of Hispanic women saying they agreed.

The survey found that for nearly one half of Americans ages 25 to 55 there may be no such thing as retirement, if retirement is defined as not having to work. Almost one in two men and women polled expect to have to take on a full or part-time job after retiring in order to support themselves.

"This survey suggests that we have more than a Social Security crisis in this country - we have a retirement crisis," said Teresa Heinz, Chairman of the Teresa & H. John Heinz III Foundation. "Retirement is viewed as something far away and such an attitude is a dangerous position for many women. We must expand retirement planning education to help women make informed choices about savings and retirement."

The National Women's Retirement Survey is part of a continuing effort by the Heinz Foundation to explore, study and educate all Americans, particularly women, on the complexities of pensions and saving for retirement. An extension of the work started by the late Senator John Heinz, the Foundation has held educational forums on retirement related issues across the United States. In 1997, the foundation launched WISER to begin to educate women about the importance of savings and retirement security.

"Dentists have always noticed the relationship between dental injuries and children who have an overjet or whose upper lip doesn't fully cover the upper teeth," says William Kutler, DDS, spokesperson for the Academy of General Dentistry. "But what's surprising about this study is investigators discovered a relationship between obesity and traumatic dental injury, which emphasizes the link between medical good health and dental good health."

"The polling data underscores that the real urgent need in this country is to address the fact that nearly sixty millions Americans, many of whom are women, have no pension and therefore, will remain dependent on Social Security," said Jeffrey Lewis, Executive Director of the Teresa & H. John Heinz III Foundation.

The Women's Institute for a Secure Retirement (WISER) works to increase awareness of the structural barriers that prevent women's adequate participation in the nation's retirement systems. Created in 1996 by Teresa Heinz, Chairman of the Heinz Family Philanthropies, its goal is to improve the long-term economic security of millions of American women and men. WISER is a 501(c)3 organization.

For more information, contact WISER at (202) 393-5432 or online at wiserswomen@aol.com.

Is your child at risk for a dental injury?

One out of every five grammar school students will experience a preventable traumatic dental injury, reports the Academy of General Dentistry, an organization of general dentists dedicated to continuing dental education. Leading factors that place a child at risk for dental injury include obesity or an overjet, a slight protrusion of the upper teeth.

Investigators examined 938 children ages 6 to 11 years old to determine which risk factors were related to traumatic dental injuries. After reviewing the behavior, lifestyle, enamel, and type of dental injury, they discovered that 21.3 percent of these children had a dental injury. They also noticed that 11.4 percent of the children were obese - defined as having a body mass index value that was equal to or higher than the value of the 97th percentile of the age. Dental injuries were found in 30.8 percent of the obese children compared to 20 percent of the non-obese children.

Former Niles resident bursts onto music scene with first CD

Jim Workman, Lead Guitar; Brian Sheridan, Vocals/Bass; Andy Perostianis, Vocals/Guitar and Ron Barnes, Drums.

Brian Sheridan, 31, who lived on Roseview Drive in Niles until 1993, has released a CD titled "Ever Since Ever" on Waterdog Records with his band, Middle 8. By day Sheridan designs and sells audio visual systems for conference rooms. But by evening and weekends the bass and acoustic guitarist is seriously pursuing his other life as musician and composer.

Sheridan said he started playing bass guitar in 1982 when he was 15. A cousin visiting from Ireland played the acoustic guitar and inspired him to learn it, he said.

In 1996, Sheridan and long-time friend and fellow musician Andy Perostianis met Ron Barnes, a drummer, and Jim Workman who plays electric guitar, and their group, Middle 8, was born.

After two and a half years of hard work and a large investment of time and money, the CD featuring 12 original cuts composed by Sheridan and Perostianis has made its debut. Sheridan described the group's style as "Pop rock, like the BoDeans, Crowded House or Del Amiri."

Middle 8, named for the musician's slang term for the middle eight bars of a song, were featured artists on "Local Anesthetic" on radio station WXRT (93.1 FM) hosted by Richard Milne whom Sheridan described as "very supportive" of the group and their first CD.

Sheridan also expressed gratitude to Ralph Covert of The Bad Examples who produced "Ever

by Rosemary Tirio

Since Ever" and arranged for the cover art on their CD to be done by nationally known artist Tony Fitzpatrick who has done cover art for such notables as the Neville Brothers and Steve Earle, Sheridan said.

"Ever Since Ever" presenting 43 minutes and 43 seconds of classic harmonies, melodies and musicianship, is available at Tower Records and Best Buy

proud of village/
township name

Dear Editor:

On Tuesday, August 25, 1998 the Village of Niles will commence on its centennial year as a village. All residents of the Village of Niles and the Township of Niles should be proud of the name Niles, because of its origins to the great newspaper publisher Hezekiah Niles (1777-1839) who founded his own news magazine the Niles Weekly Register and later the Washington D.C. based Niles National Register.

Hezekiah Niles was born in Chester, Pennsylvania, the oldest city in the Keystone State, which was settled by Swedish colonists in 1644. Chester is located on the extreme lower west bank of Pennsylvania's mighty Delaware River, which forms the Keystone state's eastern border. Hezekiah Niles idolized Pennsylvania's own great man of science and publishing giant Ben Franklin, who died when young Hezekiah was 13 in 1790. Franklin's last public act was to petition the 1st U.S. Congress to immediately abolish slavery.

In the spirit of Hezekiah's Pennsylvania Quaker roots many early Illinoisans depended upon the Niles' Register papers to quench their thirst for an enlightened, unbiased news account of America. Hezekiah Niles' politically active Register papers inspired younger newspaper publishers Joseph Meharry Medill and Horace Greeley to solidify the stature of the new Republican Party on July 6, 1854 at a convention in Jackson, Michigan, after the Party was initially founded by Alvin Tovey in the "Little White School House", on February 28, 1854 in Ripon, Wisconsin.

Residents of the Village and Township of Niles should rededicate themselves to the spirit of Hezekiah Niles' Registers that inspired Illinois Republicans under the able leadership of President Abraham Lincoln to crush the Democratic Party of Virginian Thomas Jefferson and win the ensuing bloody Civil War, where more American men were killed than all other American Wars combined.

Informed Illinois Nilesites are proud of the role Hezekiah Niles' life played in achieving the goal of Ben Franklin's last public act of petitioning the 1st U.S. Congress to abolish slavery.

Sincerely,
Leonard R. Reinebach

'Where People Count'?

Several weeks ago there appeared in the local newspapers a news release put out by our village government that the Code Enforcement Department was in the process of inspecting the homes and properties in the community. In theory, this notice was intended to make the inhabitants in Niles more aware of their responsibilities as homeowners so as to maintain the high property values of the area.

However, as a resident of Niles for over 35 years, I have noticed a lack of real effort on the part of the Niles government to enforce its housing, health, and public service codes. This deficiency is evident in the Courtland Park area. Some of the conditions/problems that have gone undetected are:

- Absentee landlords who are not held accountable for code violations on their properties.
- Single family dwellings that serve as 'hotels.'
- Small home operated businesses that use their backyards as unsightly 'junkyards.'
- Abandoned vehicles in both the parking lots and on the streets.
- Open garbage and lawn/yard waste strewn throughout the area.
- Uncontrolled animals, especially cats.
- Crumbling alleys and dirty streets.
- Sidewalks and gangways that are almost impossible to use because of the overgrowth of weeds/bushes.
- Trees that are much too large for a townhouse environment.
- Fences that are in disrepair.
- Yards and lawns that are unsightly.
- Eaves, soffits/fascia, gutters, downspouts, windows, and siding that are in disrepair.
- TV wires hanging from the rooftops.

P.S. I would be more than happy to escort members of your staff (with a camera) and/or the Code Enforcement Department on a tour of Courtland Park.

VILLAGE RESPONSE:

We wish to respond in this fashion: Comment #1 is absentee landlords are not held accountable for code violations on property. We have inspectors that are assigned to each area. When violations are noted landlords are given two notices to correct the violations and then must appear for a court hearing.

Single family dwellings that

Overgrown weeds on a public sidewalk prompted me to take my complaint to the top.

Morton Grove's Village Board meets the second and fourth Monday of the month at 8 p.m. in the Chambers at Village Hall. The public is encouraged to attend. The agenda is posted on Government Access Cable Channel 6, and at Village Hall the week prior to the meeting. At the close of the meeting, the public is invited to come to the podium and address the board.

I chose this forum to vent my grievance with the sidewalk. Hearing the complaint, Charles Collett, the newly appointed Interim Director of Public Works, noted the location and said he would take care of it.

I was surprised and duly impressed, when a Public Works crew appeared, the weeds quickly dispatched, to the delight of the • Porches that are all but falling apart.

Since Courtland Park is part of Niles and Niles is a village 'Where People Count' it is about time for the Code Enforcement Department to stop its annual public relations campaign with its perception of cleaning up this area and take action. If the existing codes are poorly written and ineffective --- then our Mayor Blase and his trustees should pass more rigid codes and hire enough qualified people to enforce them. If this is not done Courtland Park runs the risk of becoming a SLUM!!!

Aggravated battery

An 18-year-old Morton Grove man sustained cuts and bruises on his face and arm in an attack in which a bat and a flashlight were used to batter him. The attack took place in a parking lot in the 8000 block of Milwaukee Avenue around 4:50 p.m. Aug. 14 when the victim, who was walking in the parking lot, was confronted by two unknown men, both described as being about 19 years of age driving a beige 1994 Toyota. One of the men had a gang insignia tattooed below his left eye.

The attackers demanded that the victim represent a gang, and when he refused one struck him on the right side of his face with the flashlight while the other struck him on the left arm with the bat.

The victim refused medical attention and told police he did not know the offenders by name. The victim said he is not affiliated with a gang and refused to sign a complaint.

Battery

A 55-year-old orthopedic surgeon from Milwaukee was involved in a traffic incident around 3:45 p.m. Aug. 15 when police observed his auto, a blue Cadillac with Wisconsin license plates, and a gray Chevrolet Blazer stopped at the intersection of Touhy and Austin Avenues. The vehicles appeared to have been involved in an accident.

Police observed the driver of the Blazer, a 37-year-old Chicago man, standing by the open driver's side window of the victim's vehicle striking the victim several times about the head and face with a closed fist through the open window. He then returned to his own car.

The offender told police his car was struck from behind by the victim's auto, and that when he got out to look for damage and speak with the victim, the victim backed up his car and struck the offender's vehicle a second time.

The victim was bleeding from cuts to his left eyebrow and lower lip but declined medical attention. Police detected a strong odor of an alcoholic beverage on the victim's breath and observed a partially empty vodka bottle on the rear passenger seat of his vehicle.

Police asked the victim to exit his vehicle and produce a driver's license. The victim appeared unsteady while standing and failed field sobriety tests administered by police.

Three victims came forward and reported that they were in traffic behind the two vehicles and observed the incident. They told police they observed the victim's car strike the offender's car and then saw the offender strike the victim four times through the open driver's side window.

The offender was taken into custody and charged with battery. The victim refused medical attention offered by the Niles Fire Department and refused to sign a complaint against the offender.

The victim was turned over to another Niles officer for investigation of a driving under the influence charge. In addition to the DUI charge the victim was also charged with failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident, having no proof of insurance, failure to wear a seat belt and transportation of open alcohol.

Youth complaint

While investigating a noise complaint, police observed an 18-year-old Niles man and five male juveniles in the living room of a condo in the 6800 block of Touhy Avenue around 1:10 a.m. Aug. 7 with a half barrel of beer.

The 18-year-old offender admitted that he was the only one drinking from the keg and was cited under Village Ordinance PP000-523. All the other individuals were removed from the residence. The keg was confiscated and inventoried.

Theft from auto

A 38-year-old Niles woman residing in the 7600 block of Osceola reported that sometime between 1 a.m. and 8 a.m. Aug. 14, unknown offender(s) damaged the driver's side window of her 1989 Plymouth Voyager van to gain entry and removed the in-dash stereo, an amp system from under the rear seat and a set of speakers from the rear cargo area which had just been installed at a Niles electronic shop in the 8000 block of Milwaukee Avenue Aug. 12.

A neighbor reported being awakened by footsteps around 2:30 a.m. He observed two subjects standing by the victim's auto who then entered a red vehicle parked down the block. The suspects circled the block returning to the victim's vehicle. The neighbor thought nothing of the incident and went back to sleep. Police are investigating.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The Village Board of Trustees will hold a public hearing at 8 p.m. on Monday, September 28, 1998, in the Council Chambers of the Richard T. Flickinger Municipal Center, 6101 Capulina Avenue, Morton Grove, Illinois 60053, to discuss the proposed meter rate increase requested by American Taxi Company.

Copies of the existing and proposed taxi rates are available upon request at the Office of the Village Administrator, 6101 Capulina Avenue, Morton Grove, Illinois 60053.

Theft

A 38-year-old Columbus, Ohio consultant reported that she inadvertently left her purse containing $120 cash and a cellular phone in the women's washroom of the copying company in the 5700 block of Touhy Avenue around 2 p.m. Aug. 13. When she returned two hours later, the purse was missing. She later located the purse, but the money and phone had been removed. Police are investigating the incident.

A 42-year-old Niles research scientist reported that he observed an unknown male described as being 15 years of age and standing 5 feet 4 inches tall with short black hair, a thin build and fair complexion and driving a Plymouth Voyager van from the window of his residence in the 8000 block of Oketo Avenue around 4:15 p.m. Aug. 14. The suspect parked the van a few houses south of the complainant's residence and then was observed walking a bicycle toward the van.

The complainant's daughter informed him that the offender had taken the bicycle from their garage. The complainant got into his car and followed the offender's vehicle, which was leaving the area. The complainant last saw the offender's vehicle traveling southbound on Milwaukee Avenue at Oakton Street. The victim provided police with a partial license plate number. The bicycle was valued at $200 and was taken from the garage, which was unlocked at the time of the incident. The complainant told police he thought a second offender was driving the van, but he wasn't sure. Police are investigating the incident.

A 53-year-old Niles woman reported that she had left her socks, underwear and a brand new brown blanket in the dryer of the laundry room of the apartment complex in the 8400 block of Dempster Street where she resides between 2:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. Aug. 16. When she returned, she discovered all her laundry was gone. She suspects a 16-year-old male resident of the building where the laundry room is located of taking her laundry, but she does not know the suspect's name. Police are investigating the matter.

A 68-year-old Niles woman reported that unknown offender(s) cut a screen door, forced open a storm door and pried open and removed the jamb from another door to gain entry to the kitchen of her residence in the 7600 block of Oriole sometime between 8:20 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. Aug. 16. The residence was ransacked in all the rooms. Police found a pillow case taken from the northeast bedroom on the dining room table with silverware and pieces of silver inside it. The items were left at the scene, and the offender

(s) exited the house via the southeast patio door. The scene was photographed and the items found in the pillow case were brought to the Niles Police Department for processing.

When the victim returned home she observed the open door and called police prior to entering her residence. Police searched the home for an offender with negative results. Niles police requested assistance from the Cook County Sheriff Police K-9 unit. The dog tracked the scent from the residence through the yard, over the fence into a yard behind a residence on Oleander, north to Jonquil, east to Olcott, south on Olcott to Chase, east on Chase to Estes, south on Estes to Odell to the 6900 block where the scent was lost. Niles detectives went to an address on Odell where the individual known to have been involved in prior burglaries resides and were informed by the suspect's father that the suspect was not at home. Niles police are conducting a follow-up investigation.

Deceptive practice
A male employee of a convenience store in the 7400 block of Oakton Street reported that an unknown man between 20 and 22 years of age standing 5 feet 10 inches tall with dark hair and medium build and complexion driving a brown Ford Mustang paid for the purchase of some items with a $10 bill that later proved to be counterfeit.

The complainant said he can identify the offender, who, he said, did not speak with an accent. The bill was inventoried as evidence.

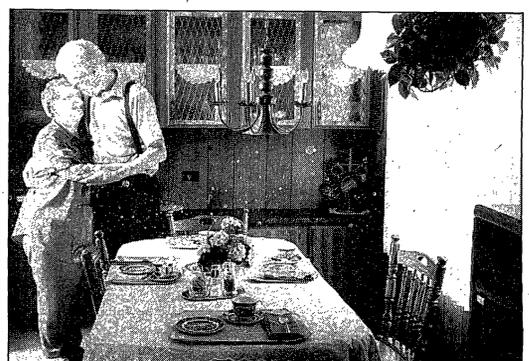

Damage to property
A 55-year-old Niles shipping foreman reported that person(s) unknown used an unknown vehicle to drive up onto the front lawn of his home in the 8100 block of Root Court and destroyed 15 feet of grass. Cost to replace the lawn was estimated at $50. Police are investigating the incident.

the process of striking numerous theaters around the country, many of which have been victimized by homemade smoke bombs.

The two ingredients used to make the bombs are brake fluid and chlorine. An 18-year-old Des Plaines man was observed removing two containers of brake fluid and a container of chlorine tablets from a closet in the theater manager's office around 5 p.m. Aug. 15.

When the security director confronted the suspect because of recent problems with smoke bombs in some theaters, the offender could not give a legitimate reason for having the items. The security director reported the incident to Niles police at 1:22 a.m. Aug. 16 and requested that the incident be documented as a matter of record.

Newark, Niles will host an Arts & Crafts Fair on Saturday, Oct. 3, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Come join other crafters selling their handmade items for the holidays and other occasions. There will be a fee of $3 for each space and a $5 table fee if one is needed plus an item from your exhibit for our raffle.

You can make a difference

If you're looking for something to do that is close to home and would help children, consider getting involved in Melzer School in Morton Grove.

We are looking for dedicated volunteers to assist with children in the classroom. Brief training will be provided. The school also needs volunteers to do clerical work and act as a greeter at the entrance door of the school to direct visitors to their destinations.

The children attending school range from pre-school to kindergarten age and 40% of the children are bilingual (with a total of 47 different languages they also are able to speak). If you are bilingual, this opportunity may interest you, although English is the only language you would need. Many children do not have grandparents living in this country and therefore miss out on the continuity of intergenerational relationships.

The children need you. If interested please contact Chris Bauske, from the Retired and Senior Volunteer Program, at (847) 228-1006.

Edward Jones: Investors Are Returning to Load Funds

Most people wouldn't tackle a car repair or home improvement project themselves. They know it's worth the money to leave those jobs to the professionals.

Now, more people are realizing the value of professional investing help, too.

A recent article in The Wall Street Journal revealed that a number of traditionally "no-load" mutual fund groups are adding load funds, or converting their no-load funds into load funds. Load funds are offered through financial professionals, who charge a commission or fee for their services. Investors can buy no-loads, however, directly from the fund companies and avoid paying an upfront fee.

Why return to the load funds? One reason may be that investors have larger sums to invest. According to the article, this money is coming from inheritances, the long bull market, and distributions from 401(k) retirement plans. In addition, many of today's investors are older and have more complex financial problems. With more money and more complicated finances, investors are hesitant to make investment decisions completely on their own and are willing to enlist professional help.

Such help not only puts investors at ease, it may even result in better returns, according to one study. Dalbar Financial Services conducted a comparison of load and no-load mutual funds and found that investors who bought funds through financial professionals often achieved better results than do-it-yourselfers.

During the period studied (the beginning of 1984 through Sept. 30, 1993), Dalbar found that the average sales force-distributed mutual fund achieved an annual growth rate of 6.82 percent, compared to 5.61 percent for funds marketed directly to the public. This equates to total returns over the period of 90.21 percent for the load funds vs. 70.23 percent for the no-load funds.

Part of the reason for this difference appears to be that investors who use professional help are less likely to trade in and out of funds. The more an investor buys and sells, the lower the potential return.

Apparently, more people are discovering what successful investors have known all along. An investment professional not only can help you buy the right investment for your needs, he or she can also help you stick to your long-term objectives, hold on through short-term volatility, and even achieve better returns.

Jeffrey Cardella can be reached at Edward Jones, 8141 N. Milwaukee, Niles, 470-8953.

'Grandparents Day' well attended

"Both clearing weather and nearly 150 attendees helped make this year's Maine Township Grandparents celebration a success," said Adult & Senior Services Director Sue Neuschel. "Everyone had a great time including all the staff and volunteers who helped out."

Grandparents and grandchildren alike enjoyed juggling acts, an "Alien Egg Hunt", pony rides, games, face-painting, space-age books. Both the pony rides and petting zoo, however, were populated by terrestrial farm animals and ponies.

For the "Grandparent-Grandchild Look-Alike" contest, both Grandmas and Grandpas posed side by side with their much-younger grand kids and grinned, smiled widely or simply grinned as several Maine Township officials acted as judges. "It was a hard choice, but little bit of paint and imagination gave one pair a slight edge," commented Neuschel. Winning First Place, along with a $100 Savings Bond, were Helen Fisher of Park Ridge, who painted her two front teeth black to more closely match granddaughter Liz Dehler's natural "gap".

The Maine Township Grandparents Day was jointly sponsored by: First Chicago Bank Park Ridge, Des Plaines Library, Journal-Topics Newspapers, Oakton Pavilion, Des Plaines Fire Department, McDonalds and Cyberstation.

Former Niles resident named Ms. Illinois Senior for '98

by Rosemary Tirio
Cathy Emma Urban, 66, who says she spent the best years of her life in Niles, has won the title of Ms. Illinois Senior and will compete in the national competition in Wilmington, Del., during the first week of September.

Urban said she and her husband Ronald raised their son Gregory, now 42 and a vice-president with Harris Bank, in Niles where he attended St. Isaac Joques School and Notre Dame High School for Boys. They lived here from 1965 until 1978.

Title winning must run in the family, because son Greg was named Niles Teen of 1971.

Urban said, "We were involved in all the activities. We didn't miss any of it."

Urban said she entered the Ms. Illinois Senior competition quite by accident, after seeing an article in a women's magazine about a contestant in another state.

Her curiosity piqued, she inquired at the Secretary of State's office where she learned the requirements of the competition: Contestants have to be Illinois residents at least 60 years of age, have a six-minute interview with a judge, create a written platform, appear in an evening gown competition and make a 2 min. 45 sec. talent presentation.

Urban said she saw it as a wonderful opportunity to voice her very positive ideas about aging in a public forum. She already had a platform against age discrimination at the tip of her mind; she needed only to write it down.

"I'm strongly committed to this issue," she said. "I want to dispel the myths about aging and reveal the truth," she said. "I'm saddened by the idea that once you reach a certain chronological age, society gauges you by that number. An individual can still be very productive [at any age]," she added.

"I call seniors the walking computers of today with all the wisdom and experience of their years," Urban said.

Her platform includes advice to today's seniors, as well as praise. "If you don't want that [negative] image, you have to start doing something about it—be responsible for yourself by eating sensibly, exercising regularly, keeping your mind active with activities and continued education and staying up to date with the modern world."

"Don't get stuck in time," Urban warned, and the best way to keep current is to keep in touch with children because they always ask thought-provoking questions, Urban said. "The past is nice, but you can get hung up," she added.

Urban said only 11 women competed for the title in Illinois, and just 33 will compete nationally. Every state is not represented. "A lot of people don't know there is such a thing," Urban said of the competition.

Urban wore a teal blue gown in evening gown competition and found the talent portion a piece of cake. She has been an entertainer for many years and formerly performed at clubs, such as the Tack Room at the Arlington Hts. Hilton, Landers and the Candlelight Dinner Playhouse, as well as many private functions. Her group was called "Cathy and the Good News."

When the group disbanded, Urban became proficient on keyboard and synthesizer and went out on her own as a one-woman show. She continues performing at charity events and other private functions in the northwest suburbs.

Urban is looking forward to a busy schedule as Ms. Illinois Senior. She made a special appearance in Carpentersville for Jamboree Days Aug. 7 where she presented her music and an inspiring speech. She will also be part of a ribbon-cutting ceremony at the Illinois State Fair in Springfield where she will also be involved in "veteran and senior appearances," Urban said, among them, lunch on the governor's lawn.

Urban, who taught elementary school in Chicago for 18 years and was a member of the Lyric Opera Chorus, now resides in Hawthorn Woods.

"The motto I live by," she said, "is 'The best is yet to come.' That keeps me going," she said.

With her singing, song writing and arranging background, Urban said she found it a pleasure and another opportunity to express her feelings about aging in the song she wrote and arranged for the Ms. Illinois Senior competition. Titled "My Song," Urban said the song expresses the idea that she is finally writing a song that's right for her, starting in an operatic style and then changing to a jazz beat "more in tune with today," Urban punned.

Retirement: Know before you go

For less than you might expect, it's possible to "sample" your retirement before you actually retire.

Many adult communities are developing affordable mini-vacations called retirement samplers. These outings provide opportunities for prospective retirees to sample the active adult lifestyle before they buy.

Visitors to Green Valley, Arizona, where one such retirement sampler is offered, are able to see for themselves how safe the area is and what kind of activities and services the community has to offer.

They can experience the climate first, chat with potential neighbors and spend a few days exploring what retirement means, 1998-style.

Fairfield Homes, the principal home builder in Green Valley, offers a package which includes a stay in Fairfield's comfortable Vacation Villas (which happen to be located next to a beautiful 18-hole golf course), free passes to over $10 million worth of recreational facilities and breathtaking views of the nearby Santa Rita mountains.

Rates for the villas are more favorable than those of high-quality hotels. Visitors choose between furnished single-room villas or one-bedroom suites. The amenities include an on-site spa.

"People love sampling life in Green Valley," says Mary Lou Robinson of Fairfield Homes Vacation Villas. "They get right into the golf, the small-town feel, the recreational facilities and the sunshine. It's amazing how quickly they decide the lifestyle would be great for them year-round."

Robinson says this all makes Green Valley one of America's great retirement towns.

Conveniently situated about 25 miles south of Tucson, Green Valley offers guests a wide choice of nearby tourist and cultural attractions. Within an hour's drive or less are scenic trails and canyons, historic Spanish missions, casinos, ghost towns and such famous sites as legendary Tombstone and the mining-town-turned-arts-community of Bisbee, AZ.

Visitors cite Green Valley's fresh clean air and the town's low humidity as compelling reasons for their desire to return. The town's 3,000-foot altitude makes for a pleasing comfort index.

According to Robinson, getting to know the local residents is among the best ways to sample retirement. She says the Fairfield Homes' Vacation Villas put you in close proximity to residents, each of whom she describes as incredibly friendly and accessible.

"Let's face it," she says, "a community is really its people. We like our guests to get to know those who are already residents. They're invariably our best good-will ambassadors."

Harry Volkman to speak at Senior Lifestyle Expo

Come one! Come all! To the 3rd Annual Senior Lifestyle Expo! Following the Expo's previous success, more than 5,000 seniors and their families are expected to participate in this year's event to be held on September 2nd and 3rd, 1998, in Westmont, Illinois. The Inland Meeting & Exposition Center will become the entertainment and information mecca for Chicago and area seniors. Presented by the Northeastern Illinois Area Agency on Aging, the expo will feature a range of activities, offering two days of exhibits, seminars and entertainment.

Nearly 100 exhibitors will be making available information on every aspect of mature life, from travel to health, from legal issues to cooking. Scheduled seminars include such beneficial topics as finance, travel, caregiving and health. And, back by popular demand, many exhibitors will offer health screenings (cholesterol, blood pressure, hearing, etc.). New this year, the Office of the Secretary of State will provide free state id's to seniors (for those over 65) and the disabled. Just bring a social security card (original) and either your birth certificate, passport or Medicare card, as well as proof of address. Vision screenings will also be provided.

Of course, the Expo is not exclusively dedicated to such pragmatic and sensible activities; essentially, this is two days dedicated to pure enjoyment. WFLD-TV's Harry Volkman, an established favorite among seniors, will speak at 10:30 a.m. on Wednesday and 11:30 a.m. on Thursday. Second City Comedy, first in Chicago improvisational comedy, has customized its show for seniors; it will be performed on Thursday at 2:30 p.m. And while the young hipsters are just discovering the joy of Swing, the folks who brought it to life in every town in America will have a chance to cut a rug with Big Time Riley Wimes (DJ) at the Swing Dance on Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. There will also be dance instructors from Big City Swing.

Ms. Senior Illinois, Cathy Urban of Hawthorn Woods, will be speaking and performing Thursday from 12:30 - 12:40. At 66, she has been an elementary school teacher for 18 years and is a member of the Lyric Opera of Chicago. As a singer, she generously donates her musical services to innumerable benefits, charity fund-raisers, children's groups and hospitals.

From fitness activities hosted by the YMCA to Barbershop Quartets, the Senior Expo offers a little bit of everything and a lot of fun for everyone. The Expo will take place from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on September 2nd and 3rd at the Inland Exposition Center in Westmont, Illinois. Tickets are only $3 per person for both days, with group rates available at $2 a per person with a group of 15 or more. For more information on the event, call 1-800-528-2000 or visit their website at www.ageguide.org.

The Abington of Glenview receives accreditation

The Abington of Glenview in Glenview has achieved accreditation from Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations.

Formed in 1951, the Joint Commission is dedicated to improving the quality of the nation's health care through voluntary accreditation. The Abington of Glenview received Joint Commission accreditation after an on-site review in June which found The Abington of Glenview had demonstrated compliance with the Joint Commission's national standards for long term care.

"Accreditation standards exceed federal and state requirements," says Marianna Kern Grachek, R.N., C., M.S.N., executive director, Long Term Care Program, Joint Commission. "Further, because this is a voluntary program, accreditation represents The Abington of Glenview's decision to be recognized for its efforts to provide quality care."

Phillip DeLeon Jr., Administrator, praised caregivers and nonprofessional employees alike in working to meet the Joint Commission's benchmarks of quality. "Everyone works hard to achieve this recognition. We view it as another step towards excellence."

"By achieving accreditation, The Abington of Glenview has joined a select group of Joint Commission accredited long term care organizations," Grachek says. "Only about 2000 long term care organizations have received accreditation nationwide."

Regency hosts Community Music Concert

Residents, staff, families, and community members enjoyed listening to music of the 30's, 40's, and 50's during Regency's outdoor music concert. Featuring the Sark Antaramian Band, the concert was a big success, with people dancing in the parking lot and clapping their hands to the uplifting melodies.

The outdoor music concert symbolizes Regency's commitment to sponsoring programs that involve community members in facility life. Invitations went out to all Regency family members, with posters placed in local businesses and ads featured in local newspapers. Over 150 people attended this lively event, with many people commenting on how much fun they had during this festive afternoon.

The Sark Antaramian Band skillfully played a variety of musical favorites, ranging from "In the Mood" and "It Had to Be You" to the "Chicken Dance." Many people rose up to their feet to move their bodies to the infectious melodies.

During the "Macarena," several staff members and guests lined up to perform the movements to this lively song. Even some of the young children were in the parking lot dancing away to this jazzy tune!

Food offerings included large slices of pizza, chocolate chip cookies, watermelon, and fruit punch. In addition, the participants were able to register for a free raffle that featured lovely gift baskets created by the Regency staff.

Regency's Outdoor Music Concert provided a wonderful way for residents, staff, families, and community members to have a fun time together. The concert is but one example of the many ways that Regency reaches out to the community to enhance resident well-being and quality of life.

Marijuana for seniors?

If you're old enough to remember when it was called a reefer, or later, referred to as a joint, you know we're talking about marijuana cigarettes. And, as you know marijuana has been on the government's controlled substances list for years. However, while it's still illegal to use it as a recreational drug, we are seeing more medical uses proposed for the "weed". For example, it has been shown to be effective in many cases in reducing intraocular pressure in glaucoma. It also helps some people deal with the vomiting and other aftereffects of chemotherapy.

New research shows marijuana - which, unlike tobacco, dilates blood vessels - may be helpful for people who have suffered stroke, especially with older people who may have a long history of cardiovascular problems. It may even be helpful in Alzheimer's disease.

The stroke research, so far, has been restricted to lab rats, but tests with humans may start within two years.

By the way, if marijuana takes its place in the nation's pharmacopeia, it will be as pills or potions, not something to smoke.

We've talked about Medicare and Social Security fraud in this column. Here are some telephone numbers you can use if you suspect your health care provider or anyone else is defrauding the system. To report Social Security fraud, contact the Social Security Administration Office of the Inspector General at 1-800-269-0271. To report Medicare fraud, contact the US Department Health and Human Services Office of the Inspector General at 1-800-447-8477.

Future plans include trips to Jerusalem and Rome and spending more time with her family.

at Bethany Terrace as a Certified Nursing Assistant on October 10, 1972. She presently works the night shift and because of her and other very capable night staff, the residents are always cared for lovingly and properly. She comes from a large family, having five sisters and one brother. She is very proud of her two sons and one daughter and is an excellent cook.

Ameritech "Works for Me" contest winner

Do you know how to put technology to work for you? Susan Pelinski of Park Ridge does. Susan attaches a pager to her key ring so that whenever she misplaces her keys at home, all she needs to do is call the pager and follow the beeps to her keys. Susan's original idea made her the grand prize winner of Ameritech's "Works for Me" contest.

Open to residents of Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio, Missouri and Indiana, the "Works for Me" contest asked consumers and small business owners to offer an original idea, in 50 words or less, that demonstrates how communications technology—telephones, computers, fax machines, cellular phones and pagers—can help make life easier. Entries were judged based on originality, creativity, relevance to topic and usefulness of idea.

Pelinski's grand prize is worth $15,000 and includes a trip for two to Walt Disney World and Epcot Center, a state-of-the-art Ameritech Communications Package and the choice of personal services including housekeeping services, dinner delivery or a personal trainer.

Youth Foundation Teen Center seeks name and benefactor

The Youth Foundation of Skokie is seeking to build an endowment to sustain the operations of its new but yet unnamed teen center at 8212 N. Lincoln Ave.

At a recent meeting of the Youth Foundation Board of Directors, President John W. Haben stated, "The Foundation is offering an individual or group of individuals a unique opportunity to have a building dedicated in their name while leaving a permanent legacy to the young people of Skokie." Haben added, "This is truly a distinctive building located near the heart of a world-class community. If anyone is shopping for a lasting monument to his or her generosity and concern for children, this is it."

Originally owned by American Legion Skokie Post 320, the building was sold to the Skokie Park District for conversion into a teen center. With the generous financial assistance of the American Legion, the park district is presently renovating the facility to bring it up to current building codes and make it "kid-friendly." The Youth Foundation, a 501 (c) (3) charitable organization was incorporated in June '97 to raise private funds for the teen center.

The teen center is scheduled to open in mid-October. Interested contributors should contact the Youth Foundation of Skokie Development Office, (847) 933-4511.

Holiday cheer continues through the year

"This was our most successful year," said June Jackson, wife of Chicago Bulls' head coach Phil Jackson, "Team Mates, the Bulls wives organizations, raised $20,000 more than in previous years." The 12 organizations that received funds from Team Mates are: Chicago Bulls' $4,000; C.A.I.S.E.S. (Child Abuse Unit for Studies, Education and Services) - $3,500; School Street Movement (AIDS prevention program) - $2,800; Jewish Women Internationals' Humor Cart (entertainment and gift cart for hospitalized children) - $2,500; Rainbow House - $2,500; Preservation for Human Dignity (Palatine) - $2,500.

In addition to the annual holiday ornament sale, Team Mates also supports the National Basketball Association's national breast cancer awareness program, NBA Wives Save Lives.

Checklist for New Home Buyers

Experts Say You Need to Look "Under the Hood"

Thinking of buying a house? Here are a few pointers to help you choose a home that keeps you and your family comfortable year-round.

One common cause of homebuyer after-the-sale complaints is problems with a home's comfort "engine," its heating/cooling system and operating accessories. An expert from a leading manufacturer of home comfort systems recommends that you "kick the tires" and take a careful look "under the hood" before closing the deal.

"Modern homes are really a challenge to keep comfortable," said Steve Arnholt, Honeywell director of home comfort marketing. "People want lots of space, lots of windows, vaulted entries, high ceilings and interesting floor plans. A bare-bones heating/cooling comfort system often just can't do the job." The most common complaints include areas in the home that often feel too hot or too cold, poor ventilation and air quality and humidity problems. A bare-bones comfort system may also reduce a home's resale value, Arnholt said.

Upgrades that pay for themselves

By contrast, an upgraded comfort system, with options that can significantly improve comfort, convenience and efficiency, may be an almost free home improvement in the long run.

It may add one to two percent to the price of a home. However, many upgrades can pay for themselves many times over in energy savings and by helping preserve and protect the structure and contents of a home.

How can you tell if a home's comfort system is up to the job? First, ask questions of the builder or seller. If necessary, get an opinion from a quality heating and cooling contractor. The following checklist, from the Perfect Climate® system experts at Honeywell, describes the components in a complete home comfort system:

Central heating/cooling: According to the U.S. EPA's Energy Star® program, high-efficiency heating and cooling systems can save consumers 20 to 40 percent on utility bills. Here is how to tell if it is a high-efficiency system:

- A high-efficiency furnace has an Annual Fuel Utilization Efficiency (AFUE) rating of 90 percent or above.
- High-efficiency air conditioners and heat pumps have a Seasonal Energy Efficiency Ratio (SEER) of 10 or higher.

Temperature control: According to Honeywell, a programmable thermostat or a zoned temperature control system can help reduce heating/cooling bills by up to $150 or more in a typical home.

- According to the U.S. EPA, a programmable thermostat can help reduce heating and cooling bills by up to 20 percent.
- A zoned temperature control system can further increase savings because it sends heated or cooled air only to the areas in a home that need it, only when they need it. It also can improve air distribution and help reduce problems with annoying hot or cold spots in a home.

Air filtration: An ordinary disposable furnace filter only provides minimal protection for your heating/cooling equipment. A whole-house high-efficiency air cleaner better protects that equipment. It can also help keep your home and indoor air cleaner and fresher. There are a number of alternatives in different price ranges, such as these from Honeywell.

- A whole-house electronic air cleaner can trap more than 94 percent of common airborne particles (0.5 microns and larger) that pass through it. This type air cleaner has permanent, washable air-cleaning cells.
- Whole-house media air cleaners use disposable filters and are significantly more efficient than ordinary disposable filters.

Ventilation: Experts say a home's stale indoor air should be replaced by fresh outdoor air every three hours, but air exchange rates in tightly built and insulated homes can be as low as once every ten hours. The solution is a whole-house fresh air ventilation system.

- Look for models described as a heat recovery ventilator (HRV) or energy recovery ventilator (ERV); they expel polluted indoor air, bring in fresh outside air, and recover up to 80 percent of the energy originally used to heat or cool the indoor air.
- A whole-house fresh air ventilation system is an almost silent way to remove excess humidity from problem areas such as bathrooms, kitchens and laundry rooms.
- Look for ventilation equipment whose performance is certified by the Home Ventilating Institute.

It's time to give your car a checkup

You may be interested in tips that can steer you in the right direction when it comes to caring for your car.

One of America's most trusted car care authorities, Lucille Treganowan -- host of a national television show and author who oversees two auto mechanic shops -- offers this advice to help keep your automobile in shape inside and out:

All Washed Up

- Give your car a really good wash job. Concentrate on the undercarriage and flush away all of the salt and mud accumulated during bad weather.
- Check your wiper blades. If they're still intact, take a soft cloth with some alcohol and clean them.
- Look for signs of uneven tread wear on your tires. Pick out small stones.
- Scrub and vacuum floor mats.
- Lubricate hinges, including the hood, trunk, and doors.
- Drive and Listen
- Take your car for a road test with the radio off. Listen for sounds that could indicate problems.
- Pay attention to your transmission. Are the shifts smooth and on time?

A Driver's Checklist

- Check all fluids: washer solvent, brake fluid, transmission fluid, power steering fluid and coolant. Shops such as Jiffy Lube can let you know what your car may need.
- Check hoses, belts and battery terminals.
- Make sure you keep a safety kit in your car to help you in times of emergencies. The kit should include a rug, towel or old shower curtain for when you're kneeling next to your car or getting under it. Keep a set of battery cables, a flashlight and a basic first-aid kit.
- If the car is quiet and performs well, you probably don't have any weather-related damage. It may, however, be a good idea to get an oil change. Automotive experts recommend you get your oil changed every three thousand miles. You can bring your car in for an oil change to such places as Jiffy Lube.

Jiffy Lube, which began in 1979, now has 1,540 centers in 48 states. For other helpful information about car care, you can visit the Web site at: www.jiffylube.com.

Consider home and personal security before traveling

When planning a vacation, most travelers take safety and security for granted. In the excitement of gearing up for travel, many people may overlook simple, yet important safeguards which can help them avoid being victimized while on a vacation. The AAA-Chicago Motor Club urges travelers to take a few simple precautions to avoid being easy targets when they travel.

- Protect your home -- Make sure your home is secure. Let a family member or trusted neighbor know your vacation plans. Postpone the delivery of mail, newspapers and other deliveries and have the grass cut regularly. If possible, put your house lights and a television on an electric timer (with the volume up high), or have someone you trust turn on the lights for you. Consider installing a motion detector switch on exterior lights.
- Be careful with luggage -- Use your business address on your luggage tags to avoid letting strangers know that your house is empty. Always lock your luggage and never let your baggage out of your sight.
- Carry minimal cash -- Use credit cards or travelers cheques as much as possible. Buy only well-known cheques in small denominations. Write down the serial numbers and learn the procedure for replacement in case of theft or loss.
- Be smart at your hotel -- Make sure the door locks work properly and use the deadbolt. Don't hide money or valuables in your room (use the hotel's safe deposit boxes).
- Be a wise tourist -- Travel in groups when possible. Ask hotel management which parts of town to avoid and travel by cab after dark. Be careful in crowded areas and wear a money belt if you must carry cash. Leave expensive possessions at home.

The AAA-Chicago Motor Club provides automotive, travel, insurance and financial services to more than 700,000 members and the public in Illinois and Northern Indiana.

Car Talk

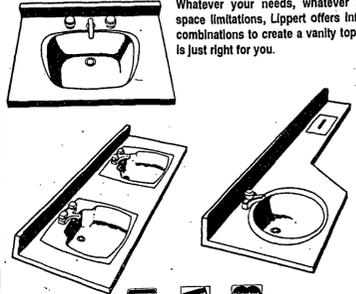

Up to a third of all auto air conditioners are infected with fungi, a problem for allergy and asthma sufferers. Action: Keep car windows partly open for 10-15 minutes after turning on the air conditioner...use fresh air rather than recirculated air...have your car treated with special disinfectant, available at auto dealers, some service stations and most auto air conditioner shops.

Meet Your Carpet's New Best Friend

It's good to know who your friends are. If you choose your friends wisely, chances are the relationship will last for a long time. The same can be said for carpet and carpet cushion.

Carpet cushion can be your carpet's best friend, so it's important to know which styles and construction of cushion will provide the most benefits throughout the life of your carpet.

Carpet cushion is available in many different types including rubber, polyurethane, and synthetic fibers.

By selecting the highest quality cushion to be installed with your carpet, you can help protect your investment, preserve its fresh new look, and provide additional benefits.

Installing The Proper Carpet Cushion Under Your Carpet Will Help You...

• Keep it longer: Carpet cushion absorbs most of the impact from foot traffic, helping to reduce the wear on your carpet.

• Keep it quiet: Carpet with quality cushion can significantly improve noise reduction.

• Keep it clean: Carpet with quality cushion is often easier and less expensive to clean and maintain.

• Keep it comfortable: Proper carpet cushion can improve your comfort by greatly reducing walking fatigue.

The Carpet Cushion Council recommends using better than the minimum grade of carpet cushion to provide more support and cushion for your carpet because cutting corners on cushion might mean cutting the useable life of your carpet short.

So, when buying carpet, be sure you know your options and make sure that you choose the right cushion for your home.

High-quality carpet cushion can be your carpet's best friend and if you introduce it to your carpet during installation, you can watch the relationship continue for years to come.

To learn more about carpet cushion and how to purchase the right cushion for your carpet, please contact the Carpet Cushion Council, P.O. Box 546, Riverside, CT 06878, or call (203) 637-1312.

Auto questions answered

Q. I have a 1995 Geo Prism. When I use my air conditioner I get a very strong musty odor. Is there anything that can be done to eliminate this smell?

A. This is a common problem that customers complain about in many different types of vehicles. The first component to check is the air conditioner drain. This eliminates condensation that forms when the air conditioner is used. If the drain is clear, there is a procedure that can be performed to disinfect the air conditioner's evaporator and help eliminate this odor.

Q. When my '92 Ford Tempo is running I hear a loud humming noise from the rear. Is this noise something I should worry about?

A. For many years, now, since the arrival of fuel injection, vehicles require much more fuel pressure and volume to operate. Because of this need, electric fuel pumps have been placed in the fuel tanks. I suspect the noise you are hearing is from your electric fuel pump.

You may consider having a fuel pump pressure and volume test performed. This will let you know the condition of your fuel pump based on the vehicle's factory specifications.

On a fuel injected vehicle you can take a few preventive measures to protect your electric fuel pump. One is to change your fuel filter every 12 months or 15,000 miles whichever comes first. The other is to keep your gas tank at least 1/2 full. The gas acts as an insulator to keep your electric pump running cool and efficient.

Q. My car has a driver's side air bag. Sometimes while driving down the road the air bag light flashes on and off. What does this mean?

A. Your air bag system is controlled by a computer and a series of sensors. In order for your safety restraint system to function properly, every component must be in working order. When the air bag light flashes on and off it can mean there is a malfunction in one or more system components. You need to take your vehicle into a shop that has the ability to access the system's trouble codes. When the system is not functioning properly it can prohibit the air bag from activating if needed.

 You know what charm is: a way of getting the answer yes without having asked a clear question.

Teach youngsters early about bus safety

Riding to school on the traditional yellow bus is an exciting activity for a new student, and parents should stress safety from the very first day of school, says AAA-Chicago Motor Club.

More than 23 million pupils ride school buses each year in the United States, and being transported to school generally poses few dangers. However, an estimated 134 persons, including 33 pedestrians, were killed in school bus-related crashes in 1995 (the latest national statistics available).

Knowing where to stand and being alert to traffic while waiting for the bus, behaving while riding it and exiting it safely can make an important difference in a student's life.

"Students are injured most often when the school bus approaches or leaves a loading area," says Brian Sterling, AAA-CMC's manager of public affairs. "Problems usually occur when children near the bus move out of the driver's line of sight. This might happen when they bend down to pick up something, or walk behind the bus or where they can't be seen by the driver."

To ensure that the ride to and from school is as safe as possible, AAA-CMC offers these safety tips for parents of first-time school bus riders:

- Make sure the student leaves home early enough to arrive at the bus stop on time.
- See that your child waits for the bus in a safe place well off the roadway and remains quiet and orderly. Remind him or her that horseplay can cause someone to fall or be pushed into the path of the bus or another vehicle.
- Tell youngsters to remain

A dental appointment with Rap was a test of wills and patience each time you visited his office. You sat in the reception room and waited...often spending one or two hours there. When you moved into his office chair you waited again. And then Rap would begin to work for a few minutes and then disappear and work on the patient in the next office and then the next one and the next one. Somehow, he weaved his way back to you and you left his office fatigued and sometimes angry, often vowing never to return. But you came back because his dental work was superior.

I trailed my family's odysseys into Rap's offices by many years. I knew what my dental future would be once I began going there. He took out all my fillings and replaced them with gold inlays, a job which took many months.

When the inlays were ready to be placed, the technician from upstairs would come into your cubicle and wait there while Rap fitted it into place. You'd grind your teeth, he'd fiddle around and if he or you were dissatisfied, the technician would take the inlay back upstairs and grind it into better shape. This technician's in and out movements over one inlay could continue for five or six times. It was an incredible effort. But Rap's work was almost artistic. Subsequent dentists would always call fellow-dentists into their offices to admire the almost perfect inlays. There were few dentists in Chicagoland, and perhaps the country, who did not marvel at Rap's work.

As for the eccentricities they were endless. Rap did not believe in giving patients anesthetics for routine work. Former Chicago alderman Leon Despres said, "The pain tells him how far he can go. With anesthetics he loses the message that comes from pain." Rap said the recovery without the pain killer novocaine was much quicker and better.

I used to visit Rap at four and five o'clock in the morning. He lived downtown and would be in his office often by three in the morning. After signing into the Pittsfield building downstairs you took the elevator to the 38th floor and then used the buzzer, often to wake him up. The early morning visits enabled me to be at work around nine o'clock and allowed me to do an end around the waiting for many hours which was normal during the later hours. Rap regaled you with the same stories over and over again. His entire life was centered around his work and his patients and he reveled in stories about them. He told me notorious stories about a famous Rabbi, who was rich and arrogant and the pride of his wealthy congregants. His friend A.N. Pritzker, who owned the Hyatt Hotels among much, turned him down when Rap was kicked out of his condominium next door to the Drake hotel. Rap used to forget to turn off the tub water and the overflow would seep through the floor and pour into his downstairs neighbor's apartment. Pritzker, a good friend and patient, was on the condo board, but said the other officers insisted Rap leave the building and he moved over to Randolph Street overlooking the lake.

The dentist spent the 1921 to 1990 years at the Pittsfield Building. It was an all-consuming life. He never took vacations. Worked six days a week. He was often in the office at three in the morning and left at six at night and took his X-rays home to review for the many next days' work. His social life was his office visits with his patients, perhaps living vicariously through their experiences.

One of my daughters reminded me how he would occasionally drop a dental tool down the front of her blouse. She inferred he was a dirty old man. He once studied R. Besser's X-rays and began drilling a tooth which the X-rays showed needed work. But the X-ray belonging to R. Besser was Robert Besser and the R. Besser he was drilling was Randi Besser. As Kurt Vonnegut might say, "And so it goes."

Like many dentists he often made jewelry from the left-over gold in his office. My kids received such gifts and after making cuff links for Pritzker, the hotel owner told Rap, "You're a better jeweler than you are a dentist."

His modus operandi of bouncing from room to room was chaotic. His nurse, Mary, was long-suffering with this man, who often was irascible. He would sharpen his tongue and she would yell back at him and the inner-office anger hung heavy for hours. Her punishment was his nasty tongue but she stayed with him for many years. She too was a bit unusual. She was in his office from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. She then took the buses home. Not one but three. She lived in South Chicago and likely arrived home about 8:30 each night. She was up and out by six the next morning in order to arrive downtown by seven.

Rap had a kindness which spilled over to the people he hired. For many years a fellow-dentist worked in his office and only cleaned teeth. In his younger days he was not sufficiently protected from X-rays in his office and he lost an arm to surgery because of the radiation damage. Only in Rap's office would you have your teeth cleaned by a one-armed dentist.

Despite the nuttiness and the extremes of his conducting business his patients were legion, and were convinced his work was the best. Rap reveled in the accomplishments of his patients and seemed to live through their experiences. Even though I published small community newspapers he insisted I leave the dental chair and meet a big time publisher who was in the next office. We shook hands and smiled and said, "Hello" and then returned to our chairs. That "Hello" was our entire conversation. It was silliness. But it was the way it was in Rap's office.

The last time I visited his office he asked me to step into his business office and he whipped out a bank statement to show me his several million dollar statement. I felt very uncomfortable since it was none of my business nor his to show me. I never returned. But with all his craziness he endowed Northwestern's Dental School with a great deal of gold which was valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars. He was a social misfit, his life was as narrow as his office space where he spent most of it, and his generosity and good works will long be remembered after the many crazy stories are forgotten.

He was exasperating and cruel and erratic. And he was kind and generous and giving. He was the most unforgettable character I've ever met.

renovation project will have provided a total of 60,000 square feet of space. The library moved back into the 40,000 square feet of completed space April 2, two months behind schedule.

Broadway Construction, the contractor for the project, was criticized for not completing the job by the Jan. 1, 1998, target date. However, since no penalty clause was included in the original contract, and because the A.B. Dick Company, which had bought the building on Caldwell Avenue that provided temporary headquarters for the library, extended the lease for two months, a new contract that included a penalty clause was negotiated with Broadway. According to the second contract, Broadway was to have completed the final phase of renovation by July 17 or pay a penalty. The Library District attempted to charge Broadway $43,000, but the matter is still being negotiated. Broadway officials have countered with charges that the library has issued change orders for problems not accounted for on the original plans, according to Library Administrator Cary Czamecki. Czamecki predicted that the work will be finished in September.

Stevenson High School for five years and later served as superintendent of Grayslake High School District 127 from 1983 to 1989, and Highland-Highland Park School District 111 from 1989 to 1992. He has been superintendent at Ramapo Central School District in New York, from 1992 until 1997.

Board of Education President Robert Silverman said, "Dr. Powell has proven himself to be an outstanding educational leader. His nine years of District 219 experience along with his exceptional abilities make him the right choice to lead our school system into the 21st century."

Powell said he is looking forward to the challenges of his new post. "The district faces many challenges, and I am eager to work with the Board and the community in addressing them." Powell was born and raised in Chicago, but he became familiar with Niles Township at an early age because his father owned and operated a paint store in downtown Skokie for many years. Powell plans to move into the district. He said, "I am excited about coming home to Niles Township and its tradition of excellence."

Powell received degrees from Northeastern Illinois University and Roosevelt University in Chicago, and earned his doctorate at Northern Illinois University in DeKalb.

Powell will officially take up his duties in the district Sept. 1. Associate Superintendent Galen Hosler will continue as interim Superintendent until that time.

talized for two years based on a misdiagnosis by Braun.

Burgis has accused Braun of using hypnosis, leather restraints and drugs to induce memories of activities that convinced her that she was suffering from a split personality and had participated in satanic rituals including human sacrifice, cannibalism and torture.

Braun also convinced Burgis that the affliction she suffered could be passed on to her sons, who were hospitalized three years on the strength of Braun's advice.

The chief of the Illinois Department of Professional Regulation's medical prosecution unit, Thomas Glasgow, termed Braun's conduct in the case "shocking to the conscience."

A preliminary hearing before the Medical Disciplinary Board will take place on Sept. 28 in Chicago.

town or across the street. According to CUB analysis of phone number usage data presented to the ICC last year, customers are only using half of the total phone numbers available in 847. Most of the rest, approximately 4 million, are being wasted by the phone companies and could be used to prevent the new area code. As of June 22, only 299,000 phone numbers, out of a pool of more than 2 million unused numbers, had been returned. Plus, Ameritech continues to assign phone numbers to companies without any proof that they actually have customers who need them.

By the end of the year, the Illinois Commerce Commission will decide whether Ameritech can go forward with its plan. It is imperative that you attend the information meeting on Wednesday, August 26, 1998. At the meeting, CUB will also circulate a petition against the new area code, and the petition will be presented to the ICC prior to its vote.
