by Bud Besser

We were told by a Skokiean when Benjamin Smith went on his shooting rampage last month it was reported a synagogue on Dempster Street was bombed. The rumor took a circuitous route. A local resident telephoned Israel with the false story and an Israeli returned the call whose message wound up at the Skokie police station. Police cars were immediately dispatched to Skokie synagogues where the rumor proved to be false.

We've often wondered why local cable TV companies should have a monopoly in the towns they serve. Northbrook is seeking a second cable company which will compete with its present company. In Na-

Villages report few heat-related problems

by Rosemary Tirio

Last week's hot spell apparently caused little or no trouble in the Niles-Morton Grove-Park Ridge area.

Jun Noriega, Niles Director of Public Works who was lucky enough to be out of town last week, said aside from some power outages, Niles experienced no heat-related problems that he knew of.

Residents in the area of Dempster and Osceola experienced a six-hour power outage from about 2:30 p.m. until early evening July 28, Noriega said. An-

Repairs completed, new lockers in at Fitness Center

By Rosemary Tirio

"Everybody back in the pool!" After ten days of repair work, the Niles Fitness Center pool and locker rooms are now ready for use again, according to director Teena Mackey.

Despite the fact that the facility is less than a year old, several problems surfaced during the first months of use. For one, the wrong caulk material was used when the pool was installed.

Thinking that the caulk would cure in three days, the pool was filled prematurely and soon patrons were complaining of get-

Niles Zoners approve Cafe Amici expansion

by Christine Caplinger

The Village of Niles Plan Commission and Zoning Board of Appeals has granted the Cafe Amici restaurant, located at 7600 Milwaukee Avenue, a change in zoning from B-1 to B-1 Special Use. This will allow the owners to expand the facility.

Michael Zimmerman, a representative of the restaurant, said at the monthly board meeting on Monday, August 2, that the plan is to expand the restaurant into an existing adjacent building. The new section would house larger patron bathrooms, an auxiliary-

Bethany Terrace residents enjoy bus trip

Bethany Terrace residents love their bus trips! The Activity Department plans at least twice a week trips to local restaurants, plus monthly trips shopping to Golf Mill. In the past, Bethany Terrace residents have enjoyed dining at the Mandarin Village Chinese Restaurant, Glenview Golf Course, Jade East, Red Lobster, Spavone's, Freedman's, Lone Star Inn, Agatha's Restaurant, and Hackney's. The Activity Department plans various trips to school plays or concerts, community activities or the Chicago Botanic gardens. A big summer highlight is a river boat luncheon on the Pottawatomie Paddle Wheel Boat. One highlight during June was a visit to Candyland in North Chicago, makers of 150 different candies, including the famous Jelly Belly jelly beans where the residents actually watched how jelly beans were made. Guests all smelled delicious aromas of chocolate, peppermint, cinnamon or pineapple. Many purchased the second's called "Belly Flops." Activity Director, Lori Lentz, said: "The residents really enjoyed learning about how much effort goes into making jelly beans and other candy at the Goelitz Candyland Factory. In the future, we hope to schedule additional tours."

Many years ago, some residents formed a button business in which they made and sold photo or special decorative buttons for

They charge $1 for a 2 inch button with a pin on the back and $1.50 for a magnet (Great for refrigerators!!!) They also love going out to eat. to the Country Squire Restaurant in northwest suburban Grayslake. Buttons R Us business members Jeanne Heller, Hope Jones, Mary Linden, and Rita Russell enjoyed the ride into the countryside, not to mention a delicious luncheon of stuffed pork chops or steak with all the trimmings (including calorie laden desserts).

Traffic Safety - Sharing the Road with Trucks

In an effort to reduce fatal crashes between trucks and other vehicles, a study was conducted by the Illinois Department of Transportation's Division of Traffic Safety to identify when most fatalities occur and under what circumstances. Here are the results of that study:

- On Tuesday through Friday, between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m., when the weather is clear and dry.
- Due to speed or improper lane use.
- When the truck driver is between 28 and 43 years of age and the driver of the other vehicle is between 20 and 30 years old.
- When the driver (of the truck or the other vehicle) has fallen asleep or has been drinking.

ERA Callero & Catino Realty gets new location

As of July 27, ERA Callero & Catino Realty has moved their Niles office from 7800 Milwaukee, to larger, state-of-the-art, quarters at 7609 Milwaukee. This is the site of the old Niles village hall, adjacent to Parkway Bank. Their phone numbers: 847-967-6800 and 773-774-1900 stay the same, but now they will have the facilities to help even more clients to solve their real estate problems.

Callero & Catino Realty has been a local business since 1956. They started as a partnership between the Callero Family and Frank Catino, building homes and apartment buildings. They built a number of sub divisions in the Niles area, as well as 2 flats, apartment buildings and commercial properties.

They moved into their office at 7800 Milwaukee in 1959. Many of their new home buyers had a previous house to sell, so Callero & Catino became more and more involved in the residential resale market. By 1970, fully half of their business was the resale of

Domestic cases now heard in Skokie Court

The Cook County Circuit Court, located on Old Orchard Road in Skokie, began hearing domestic relations cases Aug. 2.

The move was seen as an effort to make hearing legal matters such as child support more convenient for North Shore residents.

The Cook County Circuit Court's expansion of the domestic relations division into all five suburban courthouses is now complete, officials said. Judge Grace A. Dickler, who heard seven cases Monday, commented that the expansion allows citizens of Cook County to obtain full court services within their own communities, making the ordeal more suitable if children are involved or if high parking costs incurred in downtown Chicago are a factor.

More cases are expected to be heard in the suburban settings as word of the expansion spreads throughout the legal community.

Niles Chamber Remembers Centennial with Ornaments

In recognition of Niles' 100th anniversary, the Niles Chamber of Commerce and Industry is selling beautiful keepsakes/ornaments. This 3-D memento features the Centennial logo, surrounded by patriotic stars and is covered in a 24K gold brass finish. It is the Chamber's hope that this keepsake will remind all of Niles' proud history and extended families.

The ornament is available for $6 at the Chamber office, 7900 N. Milwaukee, Ste 225B, Oak Mill Mall, Niles, (847) 966-7606. Only 150 ornaments are remaining before this remembrance is gone.

homes and they were already the busiest realtor in the Niles area.

Through the 1970s they continued to build homes in Glenview, Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights. They joined the ERA franchise in 1976, as one of the first ERA offices in Chicago.

Local Niles resident Bill Alston just celebrated his 10th Anniversary as President of Callero & Catino Realty.

Although still the busiest realtor in Niles, modern technology has made it possible to successfully represent clients in a much larger area. In fact, they have full access to every area from the Wisconsin border to the Indiana border, and from Lake Michigan to past Elgin.

ERA Callero & Catino has become the family realtor for a great many repeat customers. They sold many families their first home. Helped them to get a larger home as their families grew, and now are helping their children to buy their homes. A very large percentage of their business comes from previous clients and personal referrals from those clients. You only maintain that kind of business by giving excellent service and positive results.

In November of 1997, ERA Callero & Catino opened a second office in Schaumburg, at 33 N. Roselle Road. They needed an office there due to the large volume of business that some of their agents were doing in the farther northwest suburbs. This new office was an immediate success and has been growing rapidly ever since. Their phone number is 847-310-9080.

Their continued success has made Callero & Catino one of the top 100 ERA real estate offices in the United States.

Osteoporosis Screening for Niles residents

1.3 million fractures are caused by osteoporosis every year in the United States. Do you have bone loss due to osteoporosis?

Osteoporosis is a disease that gradually weakens bones, so they become more and more fragile. It is called the "silent disease" because bone loss occurs without symptoms, affecting both men and women. This disease is a major threat to 20 million women and 5 million men in the United States at this time.

A simple, painless five minute bone density scan of the forearm can diagnose this disease. Niles residents can have a bone density scan of the forearm done at the Niles Senior Center, 999 Civic Center Drive on Friday, August 6th, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and Saturday, August 7th from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Eligibility: Female residents, 35 and up; and men, 45 and up, can receive this test for $25. By advance appointment only.

For more information, please contact Terry Sprengel, RN, BSN, at 588-8420.

Liponi Foundation purchases accessible van

The Liponi Foundation for Special Recreation has realized their dream of raising the entire sum of $55,000 to purchase a 15 passenger accessible van for the use of Maine-Niles Association of Special Recreation (M-NASR). In the past, the Foundation has partially supported the purchase of M-NASR's accessible vehicles. The funds were raised over a two year period by members working to plan and encouraging the public to support the Liponi Foundation fundraisers, their Dinner Dance and Miniature Golf Outing.

Formed in 1990, the Liponi Foundation facilitates participation by children and adults with disabilities in recreation programs. The Foundation was named after Sam Liponi, who supported and made very generous donations to M-NASR during his lifetime.

The new accessible vehicle is state-of-the-art, with an all steel shell, a V10 engine, large windows, five spaces for wheelchairs to be secured, extra headroom and the finest lift system available. This vehicle will allow more individuals with disabilities to enjoy programs and outings in greater comfort and safety. In addition, Superintendent of Recreation, Craig Culp reports, "It's a dream to drive!"

The Foundation's next fundraising activity is a miniature golf outing to be held at the Adventure Mine Course of the Des Plaines Park District on Wednesday, August 18. Please call (847) 966-5522, if you are interested in attending the golf outing, joining in the work of the Foundation or have needs that may be met by Maine-Niles Association of Special Recreation.

The free "celebration of life" event was held on Sunday, June 6, in Olson Auditorium at Lutheran General Hospital, 1775 W. Dempster St., Park Ridge.

A cancer survivor, Allen tours the country using his musical and comedic talents to share thoughts, inspiration and reach out to other cancer survivors through laughter and song.

The only TV comedian from the 1950s Golden Age of Comedy who still appears frequently on TV, Allen created and hosted the "Tonight" show, starred in the critically-acclaimed NBC series "The Steve Allen Comedy Hour," was creator, author and host of the Emmy award-winning PBS-TV series "Meeting of the Minds" and was inducted in the TV Academy's Hall of Fame. In 1994, the Museum of Television and Radio honored Allen with a six-month retrospective of his work.

Study links lead to tooth decay

Children exposed to higher levels of lead have more problems with tooth decay, according to a new study that suggests lead could account for as much as 11 percent of cavities in children.

The study on cavities, conducted by Drs. Peggy Auinger and Mark Moss of the University of Rochester, New York, and Dr. Bruce Lamphear of the Children's Hospital Medical Center of Cincinnati, compared dental records and blood lead levels from 25,000 children and adults. The study was published in the June 23 issue of The Journal of the American Medical Association.

Focusing on children aged 5 to 17 years, they found that every increase of 5 micrograms per deciliter in lead levels was linked to an 80 percent increase in risk of tooth decay. The Atlanta-based Centers for Disease Control and Prevention has set 10 micrograms as the maximum acceptable level.

The researchers are not sure how lead exposure may lead to cavities. Dr. Lamphear says the next step in research is to determine the mechanism involved. However, he speculated that lead either reduces production of saliva that contains elements that protect teeth, or crowds out calcium during tooth formation, or prevents fluoride from bonding with tooth enamel.

"Tooth decay is a major health problem by itself," Dr. Lamphear says. "This study provides additional evidence that lead is a systemic toxin and that further efforts to reduce residential hazards are needed."

Officials at CDCP estimate that 57 million private homes in the United States have at least some lead paint, and paint chips are a common source of lead exposure. Exposure to lead has fallen sharply in recent decades since it was removed from household paint and gasoline. But nearly a million American children are still believed to have elevated lead levels in their blood, with consequences that can affect brain development.

Tooth decay often is concentrated among poorer, inner city children where roughly 20 percent of the nation's children account for about 80 percent of all cavities.

Patients "get it" when it comes to drug interactions

Patients generally do a good job of informing their dentists of medications they are taking in order to avoid drug interactions, says a dentist and expert in pharmacology issues.

"Yes, I think patients, generally, are very straight-forward and they answer questions about their health truthfully," says Peter Jacobsen, Ph.D., DDS, professor and director of the Oral Medicine Clinic at University of the Pacific, San Francisco. "I think patients realize that the drugs used in dental procedures can complicate their medical problems and that they must work with their dentists to prevent problems."

In the past, says Dr. Jacobsen, many people were not comfortable divulging the medications they were taking. They could not understand why dentists need to know. "They thought dentists were snooping around and being nosy," he laughs. "They didn't think their medical health was any business of the dentist."

Today, dentists are required to give patients a medical history form to complete that asks among other things, about medication used. The dentists must then review the form with patient, and interview them about drug use, including illegal drug use.

"Almost any medical condition—heart disease, HIV, cancer therapy, pregnancy, diabetes, to name just a few—the dentist must be informed to deliver safe dental care," says Dr. Jacobsen. "Dentists know which medications they use that can cause adverse effects. For example, Erythromycin, an antibiotic used in place of penicillin, and Ketoconazole, an anti-fungal, can inhibit liver enzymes. Those are the two drugs that cause the most drug interactions. The dentist must know what drugs the patient is taking to avoid possible interactions."

Dr. Jacobsen notes that in the future dentists will need to ask patients about their use of alternative health products and therapies. "A recent study published in the Journal of the American Medical Association shows that about 43 percent of the American public participate in some kind of alternative therapy, including alternative oral care therapies," he says. "For example, some patients use herbal products such as echinacea, or use homeopathy products and therapies that may be affected by dental treatment or interact with other medications."

We do not yet know because this area has been understudied in the past. However, don't be surprised if your dentist asks you about alternative therapies in the future."

Dr. Jacobsen says that basic knowledge of a product's ingredients can provide relief for patients. "For example, patients who have oral mouth sores—canker sores, fever blisters or sores from trauma—should avoid toothpastes that contain sodium lauryl sulfate," he says. "Sodium lauryl sulfate is a soap and irritates the sores. There are only two toothpastes that don't have it—Biotene Dry Mouth Toothpaste and Rembrandt for Canker Sore Sufferers. They have no flavor and are perfect for those with oral sores."

Dr. Jacobsen advises patients to continue to discuss their medication use and medical conditions with their dentists. "The more the dentist knows, the more she or he can provide optimal care for the patient."

Women's Business Development Center

Next time you travel past apartments and homes in the city and suburbs, note the number of lights on from early morning to late at night.

More than ever, they may signal an entrepreneur running a business from her home, said Hedy Ratner, co-president of the Women's Business Development Center (WBDC).

"Studies show that 25 to 35 million self-employed work at home, and just under half of those are women. While technology -- such as computers and fax machines -- has made the shift to home-based businesses easier, entrepreneurs who compete with corporate rivals may still need help establishing their credibility, projecting confidence and looking larger than they are," she said.

If you're among those wanting to appear more professional, here are suggestions from WBDC experts:

- Invest in a separate business telephone line and answer it with your company name. A business line will also get you listed in the yellow pages, alongside others in your field.

- Use voice mail, or an answering service to field calls when you're out of the office. Don't rely on relatives to take messages, or your home answering machine to carry it off.

- If your home address sings out "residential," consider renting a mailbox from a local print shop or postal service chain, or post office box that is located in a business district.

- Another option is to link up with an executive suite company or a business incubator that offers business and support services to entrepreneurs. The office can provide you with a building directory listing, receptionist service, use of a conference room, and voice mail. The WBDC can provide referrals to incubators.

- Develop informal partnerships with professionals whose services complement yours. Writers and graphic designers make good unofficial teams, and frequently join together to develop proposals that can compete on both product and price with bigger companies.

- Be creative when it comes to arranging meetings with clients. If your home is too cozy or too cluttered, consider a luncheon meeting at a restaurant or arrange for a conference room at a shared space.

- Think big. If you truly want to convey an image of professionalism, be aware of how you tell others about yourself. "Just a freelancer..." or "president of my own business?" Which conveys the image you want?

Ratner said that in the 13 years the WBDC has been in operation, the idea of working from home has become much more widely accepted by owners and customers alike. "Originally, people thought if you operated out of your home, it was a step down, but today, it's a very viable option, she said."

According to studies, the type of home-based work and profile of the typical worker has changed over the years. Once retail sales accounted for the majority of home-based businesses, but now that figure has dropped to 11.8 percent.

Crafts manufacture makes up 4.4 percent of home-based businesses; financial services, computer-related services and consulting account for about 30 percent; and construction, health care, real estate, wholesaling, and educational and legal services are the remainder.

"The erroneous home-based business stereotype of the housewife seeking extra pin money has been replaced by the reality of baby-boomers in their 40s who seek independence, flexibility and an opportunity to translate their corporate expertise to profit-making ventures for themselves," Ratner added.

The Women's Business Development Center, at 8 S. Michigan Ave., Suite 400, Chicago, IL 60603, (312) 853-3477, helps people who are thinking about starting their own businesses, those already in business who want more information and skills, and business owners who have been in operation for a few years and want to expand their markets to major corporations and government agencies.

Passages of Time by Ophelia Chambliss

Passages of Time by Ophelia Chambliss is on exhibit at Lincolnwood Village Hall, 6900 N. Lincoln Ave., now through September. The public is invited to meet the artist at a reception in Village Hall, 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Aug. 19.

A widely shown practicing fine artist who is also an art director for a publishing company, as well as a graphic designer and illustrator, Ms. Chambliss works in a number of mediums. Currently, she is working primarily in oils, pastels and paper collage. Her style is mostly compared to cubism, but many pieces have an impressionistic feel to them. Her subject matters are abstract as well as realistic; her colors are bright, lively, and intriguingly complex.

The artist sees things from a different point of view. In her cubism, Ms. Chambliss brings the viewer to see things not only from a different point of view but at a different time of view. Many of her pieces now go beyond Cubism as she explores the use of Dualism incorporating not only the artistic style point of view but also more than one image to be seen. Some of the hidden images require the canvas to be turned completely upside down for the viewer to see the second image. Several of her pieces are wired with double hanging wire for this purpose.

A Lincolnwood resident, she has exhibited in several locations throughout the Chicago area and recently had a show along with the noted author and black art historian, Dr. Samella Lewis at the South Shore Cultural Center.

museum's latest exhibition, American Photographs: The First Century, from the Isaacs Collection in the National Museum of American Art, on Tuesday, August 10, at 6 p.m., at Terra Museum of American Art, 664 N. Michigan Ave., in Chicago. Entitled "Metal, Glass, Paper: Process and Production in American Photography," the lecture will explore the evolution and transformation of photographic technology and aesthetics in the nineteenth century, including the daguerreotype and wet plate, along with artistic practices of Pictorialism. There is no cost to attend the lecture. For more information, call the Education Department at Terra Museum of American Art at (312) 654-2255.

Local quilter's work chosen one of the best

It was not an easy task, choosing the 100 Best American Quilts of the 20th century. Dubbed "The Ultimate Quilt Search," the historic effort would end up taking hundreds of hours of labor, debate, and no small amount of agonizing while making decisions as each of the panel of 20 experts made their final choices for the list. But when the dust was cleared and the list was final, Nancy Pearson, of Morton Grove, and her quilt Nancy's Garden were on it.

An accompanying special exhibit of as many of the 100 quilts as can be located will be on display at the 1999 International Quilt Festival from October 21-24, in Houston, Texas. Called "The 20th Century's 100 Best American Quilts," it will be curated by noted quilt author/expert Bob Shaw. Quilter's Newsletter Magazine will also publish a book complete with color photos of all 100 quilts, and commentary by the distinguished selectors, for $9.95 plus tax. It will first go on sale at Festival. For more information on purchasing the catalogue, call (800) 881-6634.

Passages of Time by Ophelia Chambliss

Passages of Time by Ophelia Chambliss is on exhibit at Lincolnwood Village Hall, 6900 N. Lincoln Ave., now through September. The public is invited to meet the artist at a reception in Village Hall, 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Aug. 19.

A widely shown practicing fine artist who is also an art director for a publishing company, as well as a graphic designer and illustrator, Ms. Chambliss works in a number of mediums. Currently, she is working primarily in oils, pastels and paper collage. Her style is mostly compared to cubism, but many pieces have an impressionistic feel to them. Her subject matters are abstract as well as realistic; her colors are bright, lively, and intriguingly complex.

The artist sees things from a different point of view. In her cubism, Ms. Chambliss brings the viewer to see things not only from a different point of view but at a different time of view. Many of her pieces now go beyond Cubism as she explores the use of Dualism incorporating not only the artistic style point of view but also more than one image to be seen. Some of the hidden images require the canvas to be turned completely upside down for the viewer to see the second image. Several of her pieces are wired with double hanging wire for this purpose.

A Lincolnwood resident, she has exhibited in several locations throughout the Chicago area and recently had a show along with the noted author and black art historian, Dr. Samella Lewis at the South Shore Cultural Center.

museum's latest exhibition, American Photographs: The First Century, from the Isaacs Collection in the National Museum of American Art, on Tuesday, August 10, at 6 p.m., at Terra Museum of American Art, 664 N. Michigan Ave., in Chicago. Entitled "Metal, Glass, Paper: Process and Production in American Photography," the lecture will explore the evolution and transformation of photographic technology and aesthetics in the nineteenth century, including the daguerreotype and wet plate, along with artistic practices of Pictorialism. There is no cost to attend the lecture. For more information, call the Education Department at Terra Museum of American Art at (312) 654-2255.

rina, the son of Vince Ferina of Morton Grove, and son-in-law of Ruperto Ruiz of Skokie. Assigned to the aircraft carrier USS Theodore Roosevelt, homeported in Norfolk, Va., Ferina and nearly 6,000 men and women recently deployed to provide support in the war-torn Adriatic region.

Joining the Navy in September of 1996, Ferina said he did so to be a part of naval aviation.

"I joined the Navy for college money and the experience," said Ferina, 22. "I also joined for the aviation program."

And as an aviation boatswain's mate, Ferina's job is very important.

"I'm an aviation fuels quality assurance lab technician. Every day I take several tests on jet fuel to see if it meets the Navy's standards and regulations," he said. "I also work on the flight deck, which is very interesting."

Currently, the carrier and its battle group are operating in the Mediterranean Sea in support of Operation Allied Force. The United States has joined 18

NATO allies and several other nations in providing personnel, equipment and weapons in this operation. For NATO and its allies, this is the last resort to provide peace in the region.

For Ferina and the crew, this effort is one that they prepare for on a daily basis. Sailors are taught the skills they need to survive any skirmish, and beyond that, they are taught many life lessons as well.

"I have learned responsibility and cooperation. And I consider my greatest achievement to be being responsible enough to marry my beautiful wife. The Navy has benefited me in this way by teaching me my priorities."

Married to the former May Joy Ruiz, Ferina plans to stay Navy for a while longer and leave his options open for the future.

"I don't really know what I want to do right now. If I stay in the Navy it will be for another enlistment for shore duty in Spain or Italy. Then, I'd like to go to college and get a part-time job at O'Hare and study aviation mechanics."

Wherever the winds may take him, Ferina will know he significantly contributed to the stability and peace in an unstable world. He'll also have the pride and satisfaction that comes from wearing a Navy uniform.

Niles North history students represent state

Niles North U.S. History teacher Betsy Holman assists students, Libby John and Arti Bhandari in revising their Illinois State winning Histroy Day exhibit for competition at National History Day '99.

Niles North history students, Arti Bhandari (Skokie), and Libby John (Morton Grove), represented the state of Illinois at National History Day in College Park, Maryland. The students collaborated on their group exhibit entitled "The Amazing Bridges of Chicago".

Arti and Libby began their research in American History class during the previous school year. Their research focused on technology that had an important impact on our history. The project, along with nine others, was chosen to represent Niles North at a regional competition leading to winning a $100 scholarship at the Chicago Metro History Fair. The girls' project ultimately won the state of Illinois History Day in the senior exhibit category. Reworking their project for national competition, Arti and Libby had to focus on new criteria. Their efforts were rewarded when they received the high evaluation of "exceeds" by all judges at the National History Day competition in College Park, Maryland. The prize-winning exhibit will be on display at the Niles North IRC through the month of July.

SJB student accepted at Illinois Math & Science Academy

David Kalisz, an eighth grader at St. John Brebeuf School, has made the school very proud of his academic achievements. David is one of very few eighth graders in the state to be accepted as a freshman for the 1999-2000 school year at the Illinois Math and Science Academy in Aurora. This is a select group as most students are accepted as sophomores.

David is excellent in Math and Science besides being very disciplined in all areas. Through the cooperation of Notre Dame High School, David has completed Algebra I, Algebra II and Trigonometry and Geometry. This is a feat usually accomplished at the end of junior year.

Northwestern University has been a "second home" on Saturdays to David. Since third grade, David has participated in special Math and Science classes at the university. Last summer, he also enjoyed a Trigonometry class.

Don't let this academic prowess fool you! David is well rounded in other areas as he is a very capable basketball and baseball player.

David is an example of a "gifted student", good athlete, and above all a person with great humility. We are sure we will read of many more accomplishments by this fine young man.

Nicole Marie Sindermann

A Northbrook student received a degree with honors from Bradley University in May. Nicole Marie Sindermann graduated cum laude achieving between a 3.4 to 3.59 grade point average.

Sindermann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sindermann of Northbrook, received a Bachelor of Science degree.

Bradley University is an independent, privately endowed, co-educational institution founded in 1897. Located in Peoria, Illinois, Bradley is the ideal size for living and learning, offering a full range of baccalaureate and graduate level programs as well as small classes, personal attention, diverse opportunities, and a dedicated faculty.

PNA presents Luzinski painting to Notre Dame High School

The Polish National Alliance (PNA) recently presented a portrait of baseball star Greg Luzinski to Notre Dame High School in Niles.

The artwork was presented to Father Ken Molinaro, President of Notre Dame, by Richard Plasecki, Chris Nowotarski (a Notre Dame alumnus) and Robert Maycan, as representatives of the PNA.

The action portrait is the work of Stanley Gordon of Rochester, N.Y., who produced the piece in 1983 and donated it to the PNA. It was at that time that Luzinski performed for the Chicago White Sox as a first baseman and designated hitter. He also played for years as a member of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Luzinski was a 1968 graduate of Notre Dame High School. Many of the baseball records set by him during his years there are still standing and the students take great pride in his accomplishments.

Father Molinaro informed the PNA that the painting now adorns the library wall at the high school so that all Notre Dame students can view their famous alumnus.

Niles Concert Choir seeking singers

The Niles Concert Choir is calling all voices for men and women interested in music performance to join the group. Sopranos, altos, tenors and bass-baritones are welcome, according to Scott Arkenberg, the choir's musical director.

Arkenberg said the choir consists of more than 65 non-professional singers who enjoy both classical and popular music.

The choir will perform at several concerts during the 1999-2000 season. The music consists of Mozart, holiday favorites performed at two concerts and the annual spring concert. The choir is accompanied by a concert orchestra or other instrumental backing.

Arkenberg stressed that auditions are not required, but basic musical knowledge is necessary and previous experience is desirable. The choir rehearses every Thursday evening.

Choir members are responsible for annual dues and the cost of musical scores. For more information on joining or on concert, call (847) 289-4484.

The Niles Concert Choir, founded in 1964 by the Rev. Stanley Rudki, was begun in response to those who wanted a place to perform and an opportunity to hear the great choral literature that was rapidly disappearing.

In 1997, Father Rudki retired and Arkenberg, a well-known professional musician and conductor in Chicago, became the musical director.

SJB students honor the Blessed Mother

On May 18 the St. John Brebeuf 8th grade gathered the entire school community in church for an afternoon of prayer to honor the Blessed Mother. Students formed a Living Rosary, introducing each decade with a reflection on the qualities of Mary that make her a role model for all young men and women. These reflections were based on Mary's compassion and trust witnessed in the gospel of Luke.

A traditional May Crowning followed the Rosary. Fourteen 8th grade students formed a Court of Honor while Yvonne Swiergula carried the crown and Katie Podkova crowned Mary. The Court was chosen on the basis of their written reflections. Music for the prayer service was provided by Mrs. Bev Tabern and the SJB Children's Choir and by Mr. Mark Sellars. The eighth grade teachers are Mrs. Christine Uliassi and Mrs. Penny Guertler. Shown in the photo is: Katie Podkova and Yvonne Swiergula.

Improper use of backpacks leads to chronic back pain

by Dr. Robert L. Richart

Across the nation, millions of elementary, high school and college students will soon be racing out to the school bus or scurrying to their classes with overstuffed backpacks slung over their shoulders. While carrying a backpack to school each morning might seem harmless enough, it can cause some painful back and neck problems for students who don't pack or carry their backpacks properly.

Low back pain is the most common health problem experienced by working Americans today, and a condition which costs our nation's economy at least $50 billion a year in lost wages and productivity. Much of this suffering is brought on by bad habits initiated during our younger years. The improper use of backpacks can lead to muscle imbalance that could turn into chronic back and neck problems later in life.

The American Chiropractic Association suggests the following tips to help prevent the needless pain that backpack misuse could cause the students in your household. (And, now that backpacks have begun replacing briefcases in the work place, you, too, might want to follow this advice.)

- Make sure the backpack weighs no more than 5 to 10 percent of your body weight. If the backpack is heavier, it will cause you to begin bending forward in an attempt to support the weight on your back rather than on the shoulders, by the strap.

- A backpack with individualized compartments will help in positioning the contents most effectively. When packing the backpack, make sure that pointy or bulky objects are packed away from the area that will rest on your back.

- It is important that you wear both shoulder straps. Lugging the backpack around by one shoulder strap can cause the disproportionate shift of weight to one side, leading to neck and muscle spasms as well as low back pain.

- Padded straps are very important. Non-padded straps are uncomfortable, and can dig into your shoulders.
- The shoulder straps should also be adjustable, so the backpack can be fitted to your body. Shoulder straps that are too loose can cause the backpack to dangle uncomfortably and cause spinal misalignment and pain.

- Talk to your child about the proper use of backpacks and help him or her understand why this and other ergonomic issues are important. A child who is educated early in life on the importance of ergonomics can apply this knowledge later in life -- at home or in the office -- and will be happier and healthier as a result.

If you or your child experience any pain or discomfort in the shoulders, arms, legs, or back, call your doctor or chiropractor. Doctors of chiropractic are licensed and trained to diagnose and treat patients of all ages. In addition, doctors of chiropractic can also prescribe exercises designed to help children develop strong muscles, along with instruction in good nutrition, posture and sleeping habits.

Dr. Robert Richart is a 1986 graduate of Palmer College of Chiropractic. In addition he has completed postgraduate programs on the diagnosis and treatment of soft tissue injuries through National College of Chiropractic and Texas Chiropractic College. He maintains a practice in Niles at 8933 West Golf Road. To receive a complimentary spinal examination, please contact Dr. Richart at (847) 827-8686.

Indecent exposure

A 54-year-old Chicago woman reported that a man she described as 55 years of age standing 5 ft. 8 in. tall wearing the uniform of a cemetery worker followed her in the cemetery in the 6800 block of Milwaukee Ave., while driving a gray cemetery truck. After parking a short distance away from the victim, the suspect exited the truck and exposed himself. The victim got into her car and drove away.

The victim told police similar incidents involving the suspect exposing himself have occurred on approximately 50 other occasions, but the victim did not report the incidents. Police are investigating the matter and have informed the cemetery manager of the incident which occurred July 6 at 3:30 p.m.

Village ordinance violations

Police issued citations to three persons found to be living in rooms in three Niles motels in violation of a village ordinance. The citations were issued July 27 between 9:43 p.m. and 10:28 p.m.

A 34-year-old Elmwood Park woman was living in a room in the motel in the 6800 block of Milwaukee Avenue. A 69-year-old Chicago man was cited for living in the motel in the 8900 block of Milwaukee Avenue. A 37-year-old Niles man was living in the motel in the 7100 block of Milwaukee Avenue.

The mandatory court date for all three of the offenders was scheduled for Aug. 18.

Battery

A 39-year-old Bensenville woman was driving northbound in the 7900 block of Caldwell Avenue around 1:20 a.m. July 28 when she noticed she was being followed by a vehicle with flashing headlights. The victim pulled into a restaurant parking lot to find out who was in the vehicle.

The victim identified the occupant of the vehicle as her sister-in-law. Both victim and offender exited their vehicles to talk when the offender attacked the victim by slapping and scratching the victim's face, chest and left arm.

The offender verbally threatened to kill the victim if she testified in an ongoing sexual assault case in which the victim was attacked by a 58-year-old Orland Park man. The offender then fled the scene.

The victim fears for her safety and told police she will sign a criminal complaint.

The 37-year-old security guard in a bar in the 8900 block of Milwaukee Avenue observed a subject throwing bar glasses at the bartender around 1:27 a.m. Aug. 1.

When the victim approached the subject, he was attacked from behind by numerous offenders who struck the victim about the head and body with closed fists. An unknown offender bit the victim behind the right ear during the melee.

A 21-year-old Chicago man attempted to assist the victim but was struck in the head with a bottle. The injured men were taken to Lutheran General Hospital. All the offenders fled the scene before police arrived. Police cited the bar manager for allowing subjects under age 21 in a liquor establishment.

The victim apparently walked to the pub and was served by the bartender. The bartender on duty told police the victim was already in the pub when she began her shift at 8:15 p.m. The previous bartender said he had served the to pay for their orders. The two money orders amounting a total of $345.47 were never credited to the customer's accounts but were altered by the offender. One was sent to a Chicago department store for payment of an account in the suspect's name. The other money order was sent to an automobile credit company account also in the name of the offender.

The suspect was fired May 27 for altering two other money orders totalling $103.98. The offender admitted stealing the money orders from the data entry area where she was assigned. The suspect made restitution for the earlier money orders she stole and was fired.

Overseeing alcohol

Police observed a Niles busboy passed out on the floor of a pub in the 8700 block of Milwaukee Avenue around 9:18 p.m. July 25. The police recognized the victim as the same person whom they had discovered sleeping on a lawn in the 8100 block of Oak earlier that day and escorted to his home in the 8200 block of Dempster.

The victim apparently walked to the pub and was served by the bartender. The bartender on duty told police the victim was already in the pub when she began her shift at 8:15 p.m. The previous bartender said he had served the victim five or six beers and was given a P.O. ticket for overserving alcohol and a mandatory court date of August 19. The victim was transported to Lutheran General Hospital for medical treatment.

Theft
 Two Chicago men were arrested at 4:24 p.m. July 26 just minutes after they stole $368.23 worth of groceries from the supermarket in the 8700 block of Dempster Street, placed the groceries in the trunk and back seat of a black Chevrolet Cavalier and fled eastbound through the lot to northbound Greenwood.

Police located the fleeing auto via the license plate report turned in by the co-manager of the supermarket. Both men will appear in court Aug. 6.

Damage to auto
 A 36-year-old Des Plaines man was stopped for a red light at Western Avenue and Golf Road in his 1995 red Nissan Quest van around 11:16 a.m. July 30 when a bottled water delivery truck traveling westbound on Golf made a right turn onto northbound Western Avenue and approximately 10 water bottles fell out of the truck hitting the victim's auto on the left side.

The victim apparently walked to the pub and was served by the bartender. The bartender on duty told police the victim was already in the pub when she began her shift at 8:15 p.m. The previous bartender said he had served the victim five or six beers and was given a P.O. ticket for overserving alcohol and a mandatory court date of August 19. The victim was transported to Lutheran General Hospital for medical treatment.

- Mild high blood pressure, 150-159/90-99; confirm within two months.

Letters to the Editor

Nilesite responds to 'From the Left Hand' on Kennedys

Dear Editor:

This is a reply to Bud Besser's column, "From the Left Hand," of July 22, 1999, most of which I disagree with. I found it to be extremely prosecutive - like an attorney preparing for court with ample ammunition.

That Princess Diana was a woman of small consequence whose celebrity outweighed her contributions to the world is insensitive. Surely, her charitable deeds were not of small consequence - documented by her many efforts for the needy.

That her (Jackie Kennedy's) son's salute was planned and rehearsed - so what if it was? Mothers and fathers all over the world want their children to shine in the eyes of others - to be at their best behavior - to show respect. How else would a small child know we all teach our children what to do and not to do through the process of growing up?

SCORE expands workshop schedule

SCORE, the volunteer counseling arm of the Small Business Administration has added five all new workshops to its August schedule. The new topics include, Doing Business With the Government, Business Insurance, Human Resources and Business Controls Made Simple. These and SCORE's traditional half-day workshops will be conducted each Tuesday throughout the month. A grand total of eleven workshops will be presented during August.

Free On-Site Counseling Is Also Available.

In addition to workshops, SCORE offers free one-on-one counseling and a Business Information Center in the Chicago office, which is an excellent source of reference material. If you would like more information on SCORE counseling, locations or workshops, call (312) 353-7724 or visit the web site at <http://www.mcs.net/~bic>.

On-Site IRS Technical Specialist.

An IRS specialist is also available at SCORE's Chicago office from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. every Wednesday and Thursday to answer tax related questions. Small business tax forms and publications are also available. Visit the Small Business Administration Center (BIC) at 500 W. Madison, Suite 1250, Chicago. No appointments or fees are required.

The August Workshop Schedule Is As Follows:

August 10, 1999: Doing Business With the Government. How to gain the world's biggest buyer as a client.

August 10, 1999: Inventions and Patents. How to develop and protect your ideas, and to understand your rights.

August 12, 1999: How to Start a Successful Business.

A full-day workshop. Designed to introduce you to the fundamentals of operating a successful business. Basics of Management, Financial Basics, Marketing/Advertising and Legal Structure will be discussed.

August 17, 1999: Franchises. Learn the basics of franchise ownership, which franchises are available and how to protect your interest.

The sexual proclivities of J.F.K. and Teddy and Robert Kennedy's romps - then more tragedy and stupidity with drugs among the younger clan. Have these things not always existed in our society with some celebrities and others and their offspring?

From father Joe Sr., through the next two generations, the Kennedy clan seemed to live by their own rules. Don't most people who are of affluence do this? But the Kennedys served our country in time of war and were willing to give their lives as one did, they did not hide behind their wealth to escape this. Whatever they were not and are not - must be balanced by what they were and are.

You are right that the three recent deaths are sad, senseless, an awful loss. Many say that J.F.K. Jr. was an ordinary, kind, and generous person. If he used different stop signs to live by and it did not result in harm to others - then he committed no crime. I am sure that his final conscious moments had to be the worst kind of hell as he knew he was killing two people.

For Caroline Kennedy - I hope that her thoughts will always be of the good things her father and brother were and did - and if there were sins along the way - that she not give leave their repentance, but that she put the final justice in the hands of a higher authority.

I am sure we're all familiar with, "Let him who is without sin..." In my lifetime, I have not yet known anyone who can "...cast the first stone." And I wonder if you do.

'A voters' guide is one part of the solution'

Dear Editor:

"I never vote for anyone," said W.C. Fields. "I always vote against."

I guess everyone needs a reason to vote. Unfortunately, more and more people are finding reasons - or excuses - not to vote.

In the last presidential election, only 49 percent of eligible Americans bothered to vote, a drop of 14 percentage points since the high interests Kennedy-Nixon election in 1960.

When there isn't a high profile presidential battle at the top of the ballot, voter turnout is even worse. In 1998, the national voter turnout fell to just 36 percent, the lowest mark since World War II.

The reasons for this voter decline run the gamut. Some people are so turned off by negative campaigning that they end up disliking all of the candidates. Even W.C. Fields would have had a hard time voting in that scenario.

Some ignore government and leave it to others to pick their leaders. Some say they are just too busy or exhausted from working two jobs, hauling kids to soccer practice and picking up a pizza on the way home. Still others say they don't know how to register to vote and wouldn't know where to find a polling place anyway.

The Illinois Campaign for Political Reform is working to eliminate those excuses. Since our non-partisan group was formed in 1997, we've helped enact reforms of campaign financing laws, worked to reduce the influence of money in elections and government, increased information about who funds political campaigns, and encouraged fairer, issue-based election campaigns.

More needs to be done. Clearly, voters need easy access to basic, straight-forward information about the people running for public office.

Several states now create voters' guides, these handy pamphlets are filled with information about the backgrounds of all candidates. They also tell citizens how to register to vote, how to find their polling place and how to find more information about the candidates.

We would like to see a similar guide in the home of every resident of Illinois.

The future of our government depends on the active involvement and interest of an informed electorate.

Unless we pay attention to the problem now, we'll be talking about low voter turnout again in November 2000, and there will be another round of hand-wringing as we try to decide the cause and the solution.

A voters' guide is one part of the solution.

If you would like more information about voters' guides or have your own suggestions on how to increase participation in elections, please contact the Illinois Campaign for Political Reform at 312-335-1767. Or visit our web site at www.ilcampaign.org.

Edward Jones: What Should You Do With Your Qualified Plan Distributions?

Do you have a retirement plan where you work? If so, consider yourself fortunate - especially if you have a 401(k) or other type of "tax-qualified" plan. Your plan receives special tax advantages from the government, which means you pay no taxes on your earnings until you start making withdrawals. This is a very good deal for you: Because your earnings grow on a tax-deferred basis, they will accumulate much faster than they would if you paid taxes on them each and every year.

But, sooner or later, you will retire or leave your job. When that happens, what should you do with your qualified plan distributions?

Basically, you have four choices:

Leave the money in your plan, if the plan allows it. Some employer-sponsored plans allow former employees to leave their retirement funds in the plan, even after they leave their job. If you have been satisfied with the performance of your retirement plan, you might want to consider this option. Your earnings will continue to grow tax-deferred, and you won't have to look around for a new place to put the money. If you choose this option, however, you generally won't be allowed to contribute any new funds, and your distribution options might be limited.

Roll the money over into an IRA. If you pick this option, you can retain the benefit of tax deferral. And you can invest your IRA dollars in virtually any type of investment, such as stocks, bonds or mutual funds. Once the money is in the IRA, you may even be able to roll the money over your earnings grow totally tax-free, provided you meet certain qualifications.

Roll the money over into your new employer's plan. Your new employer's qualified retirement plan may accept a rollover from your old plan. If you like the investment choices available in the new plan, this type of rollover could be a good move.

Take the money as a lump sum distribution. If you are leaving your job to start your own business, you might need to take your retirement funds to help pay for your start-up costs. However, you should be aware that this move has some serious tax consequences. You will have to pay income taxes on your distribution, and you may also have to pay a 10 percent early withdrawal penalty. Still, if you have an opportunity that you want to take advantage of, and you don't have access to other financial resources, you might want to consider taking your retirement money as a lump sum.

Which retirement distribution option is best for you? It depends on your individual circumstances - your employment situation, tax picture, investment portfolio and personal preferences. Before you make a decision, you will probably want to consult with your tax adviser. Remember, your distribution may well represent the largest sum of money you'll ever receive at one time - so use it wisely.

Will your home stand up to the wind?

Last November, a storm blew through the Chicago area so intensely that had it been over the ocean, it would have classified as a hurricane. Branches and whole trees fell, traffic signals and signs blew loose, and homes throughout the area sustained everything from loosened shingles to major structural damage.

Now that Spring has past, many homeowners are reevaluating the strength of their home against the forces of nature. According to Michael Klein, principal of Airoom Architects and Builders, homeowners can employ a variety of modern construction methods to strengthen their home against the wind.

Techniques to Protect Against Wind Damage:

- Installing heavy-weight, 365 lb., 40-year, roof shingles
- Use of hurricane clips
- More nails
- Heavier roof sheathing
- Installation of high performance windows - classified 60 or higher

Replacing hot water heater may help to lower energy bills

Question: I understand that General Electric's new Smart-Water™ water heater will lower energy costs compared to standard models. Are water heaters difficult to install, or will I need to call a plumber?

Answer: Removing your old water heater and installing a new one can be accomplished by a do-it-yourselfer if the replacement unit is similar to the old one, according to Jack Duncan, a plumbing expert with The Home Depot.

You must turn off the power source (either gas or electric) and disconnect the water heater, including the exhaust duct if it is a gas unit. Working with the water supply lines is like working with any supply lines. To install the new unit, you simply reconnect the power source exactly as it was attached to the old unit, following the manufacturer's directions.

Dry lawn recommendations

Is summer beginning to take its toll on your lawn? For the hot and dry months ahead, heavy watering is the best strategy for helping to rejuvenate a dormant lawn. You'll need to water 1 to 2 inches weekly to be effective. Light watering with techniques such as hand spraying can actually weaken grass seedlings, according to Philip Jones, of The Home Depot. To gauge the amount of water your lawn is receiving throughout the week, he recommends you place an empty tuna fish can somewhere conspicuous and, when it's full, you know your lawn is satisfied.

Most lawns should not be fertilized during the hot, dry mid-summer days. Jones adds, however, that insect problems should be treated immediately with products such as Scotts Step 3, available at The Home Depot.

It's best to wait for a cool day before applying any type of fertilizer or bug/weed treatment.

TimeSmart Ask Carolyn

Q: Does it matter how old ice is? Does it lose its freshness? I notice an odd taste sometimes.

A: Cold surfaces, such as ice, absorb odor compounds faster than warm surfaces. However, there are some things you can watch for to lessen the incidence of odor in your ice cubes. Empty the bin once a week and wash the bin with soap and water. Remember, air circulates between the refrigerator and freezer, so wrap foods like garlicky pizza to prevent food odors from settling into ice cubes. Be sure that the ice is made with good quality water...you might need an in-line water filter to give you better tasting ice.

Q: Do you have a home management question? Why not ask an expert - Whirlpool Home Economist Carolyn West. Write to her at: Ask Carolyn, Whirlpool Brand Appliances, Whirlpool Corporation, Benton Harbor, MI, 49022. You just might see your question answered in an upcoming column.

It pays to buy top quality paint

Does quality really matter when selecting interior latex paint? You bet it does, say experts at the Rohm and Haas Paint Quality Institute. And the benefits are apparent from the time you pick up your brush or roller.

One of the first things you'll notice is that a quality latex paint will not spatter much, saving you a lot of time on cleanup or touch-up later on. High quality interior paints also go on smoothly and evenly, so that brush and roller marks "flow out" and become virtually unnoticeable.

Something else is apparent as you apply a quality latex paint - what the experts call "sag resistance." Sagging occurs when a paint droops between the time it's applied and the time that it dries, leaving an uneven coating with a thick lower edge that can make the job look sloppy. Quality paints contain special ingredients that minimize this sagging tendency.

Tips to get rid of pesky mosquitoes

Warm summer afternoons and evenings may be perfect for outdoor activities, but how do you prevent unwanted pests like mosquitoes from joining in the fun?

In order to breed, mosquitoes only need a small amount of standing water. To keep them from nesting in your yard, remove standing water from outdoor fixtures such as bird baths, sand box covers and gutters. In addition, apply an insect repellent containing at least 15-25 percent DEET -- the active ingredient in most repellents generally recognized as the most effective -- which will keep insects from landing on and biting humans, according to Philip Jones, of The Home Depot.

Because twilight is a popular time for mosquitoes to bite, protection from bugs in the evenings is crucial in order to prevent unnecessary bites. A wide range of outdoor bug lights are available to keep insects away from yards and porches so that homeowners can enjoy the summer nights outside.

Citronella is an extended plant oil which has been used as a mosquito repellent since 1882. Today, the plant oil is commonly found in outdoor candles which are burned to repel mosquitoes and other biting insects. Citronella candles come in different sizes and shapes, making them useful not only for porches and decks, but also for beach outings and picnic areas.

Safety tips for going on vacation

Are you the type of traveler who leaves the house only to return a few minutes later to make sure the toaster is unplugged? If this sounds familiar, you may want to attach the following checklist to your refrigerator if you're planning a vacation this summer.

The experts at The Home Depot offer the following tips to help make your departure from home a little less stressful.

- Turn your main water valve off.
- Secure all of your doors and windows.
- Make sure your stove is turned all the way off.
- Pull plugs on appliances to protect from a power surge (i.e. computers, televisions, etc.)
- Install timers on interior lights so it looks like you're home.
- Install motion or photo sensors for exterior lighting.
- Clean up your yard so that all debris is removed and all patio furniture is secured, in case of a storm.
- Make arrangements for having your grass cut if you are away a long time.

Product safety information about Versed Syrup

Important safety information and dosing considerations: Versed Syrup has been associated with respiratory depression and respiratory arrest, especially when used for sedation in non-critical care settings. Versed Syrup has been associated with reports of respiratory depression, airway obstruction, desaturation, hypoxia, and apnea, most often when used concomitantly with other central nervous system depressants (e.g., opioids). When Versed Syrup is given as the sole agent at recommended dosages, these adverse respiratory events occur infrequently.

Versed Syrup should be used only in hospital or ambulatory care settings (including physicians' and dentists' offices) that can provide for continuous monitoring of respiratory and cardiac function. Immediate availability of resuscitative drugs and age- and size-appropriate equipment for ventilation and intubation, and personnel trained in their use and skilled in airway management, should be assured. For deeply sedated patients, a dedicated individual, other than the practitioner performing the procedure, should monitor the patient throughout the procedure.

Versed Syrup should only be used with itraconazole or ketoconazole if absolutely necessary due to the potential for intense and prolonged sedation as well as respiratory depression. Versed Syrup should be used with caution in conjunction with any medications known to inhibit or induce the cytochrome P450 3A4 enzyme system.

The dose of Versed Syrup in pediatric patients is based on body weight and must be individualized. When used in high risk patients, or in conjunction with narcotics or other CNS depressants, the minimum effective dose should be considered. Versed Syrup must be given only to patients if they will be monitored by direct visual observation by a health care professional.

Tips for Teenagers Hitting the Roadways

Summer is here and with it comes nice weather, more outdoor activity, and a new set of teenage drivers on the road. Driver education programs will train thousands of new drivers over the next few months and unfortunately, many of these young drivers will end up visiting a local body shop.

"We see our share of crashed vehicles coming into our facility that are driven by teens," said Sherri Slater Manager, of Wally's Carstar. "And when you see the staggering industry statistics on teenage driving, it's no surprise why."

The Insurance Institute for

Highway Safety reports that the per-mile crash rate for 16-year-olds is the highest among all age groups, and 36 percent of all deaths among young people ages 16-19 are the result of motor vehicle accidents.

"Everyone wants their teenager to enjoy the freedom associated with driving, but we also want them to be safety conscious," said Slater.

Carstar, the nation's leading provider of automobile collision repair, offers these safety tips for teenage drivers:

- Don't accept that your teenager has learned everything they need to know about driving from their class training. Drive with them in various situations and emphasize the importance of safety.

- Limit the amount of nighttime driving your teenager is allowed to do. Then increase it as they prove their responsibility.
- Discourage your teenager from using a cellular phone while driving.
- Think about the everyday driving situations you find yourself in, and talk to your teenager about how to handle those situations.
- But do teens or other drivers know what to do after an accident? Unfortunately, for too many the answer is no.

"A driver's reaction immediately after a crash is vital to ensuring the safety of all individuals involved, and to getting your car back on the road in the same condition it was before the accident," said Slater.

CARSTAR offers these important safety tips for what to do in case of an accident:

- Remain calm. Panicking will only make matters worse. Take a few deep breaths and relax.
- Assess the situation: Are there any injuries? If so, medical attention should be provided by professionals only. How extensive is the damage? Move the cars only if necessary, and then to the side of the road or to a nearby parking lot.

- Call the police: give all pertinent information (name, location of the crash, make of vehicles involved) to the dispatcher.
- Exchange information with the other person(s) involved in the crash. This includes name, address, license numbers and insurance information.
- Get the names, addresses and even license numbers of any witnesses.
- Do not admit fault in an accident. The police will issue a ticket if blame is warranted.

Dentists identifying, reporting more child abuse

General dentists are identifying and reporting more signs of child abuse, according to a 1997 American Dental Association survey, than when surveyed by the ADA in 1994.

Topics covered in the "1997 Survey of Current Issues in Dentistry: Dentists' Efforts to Identify and Prevent Child Abuse" report include dentists' formal training in the recognition and prevention of child abuse, percentage of dentists who notice signs of child abuse, and actions taken by dentists who detected child abuse.

In 1997, more than two-thirds (68.9 percent) of dentists who detected signs of child abuse talked to the patient's parent or guardian, a jump of nearly 20 percent when compared to the number of dentists (46.7 percent) in the 1994 survey. The percentage of dentists who reported child abuse to the appropriate authorities increased to 73.1 percent in 1997 from 62.2 percent in 1994.

The report also showed that 76.3 percent of dentists made notes in the patients' files and evaluated the patient during the next visit in 1994. However, 1997 data revealed that almost nine of 10 dentists (89.6 percent) took the same action.

Between 1994 and 1997, the report showed the percentage of dentists who reported completion of formal training related to recognizing signs of child abuse increased to 61.8 percent in 1997 from 47.5 percent in 1994.

"Dentists are in an ideal position to help detect signs of child abuse because 65 percent of all physical trauma associated with abuse occurs in the face or neck area," says ADA President Timothy Rose, DDS. "We are pleased that the ADA resolution passed in 1994 that encouraged dental schools and state dental societies to develop programs that train dentists to detect signs of child abuse is having an impact. The ADA Code of Ethics recognizes that dentists have an ethical obligation to become familiar with signs of child abuse and report suspected cases. Our children are our future."

Data in the survey was collected from 2,983 responding dentists in late 1997 and early 1998 from a random sample of 6,300 dentists. Both ADA members and nonmembers, general dentists and specialists were included in the sample, and the final adjusted response rate was 57.2 percent.

Bicycle Registration

Bicycle stickers are available free of charge. The application serves as proof of ownership and is kept on file with the Niles Police Department in case of theft. To register a bicycle, stop by the Police Department, 7200 N. Milwaukee, or contact the department at 588-6500.

What's the Diagnosis?

A man went into a doctor's office and told the receptionist that he had the shingles, writes Ted McKenzie of Wallawa, Oregon.

She took down his insurance company's name, had him sign some papers and told him to sit in the waiting room.

About half an hour later, a nurse took him to an examining room, told him to have a seat and that another nurse would be in soon.

Another half an hour went by. Finally a nurse came in, took his blood pressure, pulse and a blood sample. Then she told him to get undressed and that a doctor would be in shortly.

Well, this time it was a 45-minute wait before the doctor arrived. He looked the man over and promptly told him, "You don't have the shingles."

The man answered, "Yes I do, Doc. They're out in my truck. Where do you want them?"

perville residents have a choice of two cable companies.

When Cablevision first came to Niles, residents had an introductory offer of about $4.95 to hook up to its cable lines. While most people knew the low ball price would never hold, nevertheless, it was a great inducement to join. Subsequently, the cost for cable began to edge up, reaching a plateau of about 2,800 subscribers in the early 1990s. Eventually, the Cablevision owners sold their interest in this franchise. Creating a successful franchise with no competition likely proved to be a profitable investment. Niles was given an upfront money guarantee which eliminated competition from competing companies.

While a monopoly such as Commonweath Edison might be considered a necessity, nevertheless, a city like Evanston has studied the possibility of having a competing facility serve its community if Commonweath Edison doesn't meet its needs.

The closing of Chernin's Shoes is a shocker which defies understanding. In bygone years we were told Chernin's sold one of every six pair of retail shoes sold in the Chicago market. It was reported Chernin's expanded additional stores in the Detroit market and borrowed about 10 million dollars for its expansion. The plan failed and forced the company to close the rest of its stores in the Chicago area.

The report that a new 16 to 18 multi-screen movie house will be opened on the Niles-Skokie border in the shopping center on Touhy Avenue will give local movie-goers a more convenient location to see the same movies they can see at theatres only a short distance away from these new theatres. Why can't theatre-owners provide one or two movie screens for foreign films which are shown at only two or three theatres through Chicago? Saturday night we were in Three Oaks, Michigan, a town of about 1,000 people, and went to its one and only theatre and saw "Be-seiged," a very good Italian film. The small movie house only had 150 seats and yet it has succeeded in Three Oaks, Michigan, a town of about 1,000 people, and went to its one and only theatre and saw "Be-seiged," a very good Italian film. The small movie house only had 150 seats and yet it has succeeded in this very small community for three or four years.

We estimate the Niles-Morton Grove-Skokie-Park Ridge-DesPlaines areas will have 50 movie screens available in the coming months. Since so many screens duplicate what is shown on other movie screens, why couldn't one or two screens present off-beat and foreign films?

In our area, you have to go 25 miles to the Fine Arts Theatre on south Michigan Avenue, or to a couple of North Shore theatres along the lakefront to see these sometimes-excellent films.

Since we're telling theatre-people how to run their businesses why not have a second screen to show old movies from bygone years? How many Marx Brothers fans or Oscar-winner fans would flock to the local theatre to see some of their favorite old films on the wide, wide screens? How about a daily double like Groucho in "A Day at the Races" and William Powell in "The Thin Man"? Or a Hepburn double feature, Katherine in the "African Queen" and Audrey in "Breakfast at Tiffany's"? If such couplings came to be, you can come to the front of the line and say, "hello," because that's where I'll be standing.

kitchen, storage and offices. The existing patron bathrooms would be removed and 20 tables added to the dining area. The capacity of Amici would then go from 138 to 158 diners.

Zimmerman included the exterior of the new section would be succeeded and painted like the current building.

Parking will increase by four spaces, as the section that will be added includes these. However, this was not a concern to the board. The restaurant will be required to have 75 parking spaces when it reaches a capacity of 158. It already has 78, and the addition of the four will bring the total to 82. Home delivery will not be become available.

The hours of operation will remain the same, as will the menu and catering services. The residential sections of the building will remain unchanged.

ting the caulking material on their swimsuits. The pool was supposed to have cured for five days, Mackey said.

The spray feature for children at the zero depth end also were rusting at the base, Mackey said.

Perhaps most important of all, the 12-inch-deep lockers in all three locker rooms were replaced by 20-inch deep models.

Mackey said that "from day one," center officials realized the lockers were not adequate for patrons to store their things in while swimming or working out.

The repair was done in the summer because fewer people are using the pool when more outdoor pools and facilities are available, according to Mackey. When the center opened last fall, officials were hoping to have a membership of 1,500 by the end of the first year. To everyone's amazement and delight, however, current membership is over 4,000. "We're very happy," Mackey said.

However, Mackey concedes that the number of renewals in January "will tell the tale" and measure the success and popularity of the center.

All the "little problems" with the pool have now been remedied, Mackey said, and it was re-filled Aug. 3 and reopened Aug. 4, right on schedule.

Other repairs that were done outside the pool and locker area included repainting the gymnasium where "the world's cheapest flat paint" was replaced with semi-gloss paint. A leaking window was also repaired, Mackey said.

The original contractor made most of the repairs, and "gave us a good price" on the replacement lockers, Mackey said. The Fitness Center hopes to sell the original lockers which are virtually new. "We've had several inquiries [about the old lockers]," Mackey said. They will be sold via a bid process, she added.

In addition, a transformer was replaced with a larger one by ComEd, Mackey said. The new transformer will preclude any more power outages such as the ones the center recently experienced.

Mackey said she is most thrilled by the "dozens of success stories—people who lost weight, went off medicines, and truly improved their quality of life by joining the Niles Fitness Center."

Many center patrons have lost 20 to 35 pounds on daily workouts, Mackey said.

other outage occurred in the Milwaukee Avenue-Oakton Street intersection.

Water was in high demand during the period, however, Noriega said. "We were pumping a lot of water," Noriega said. "People were using more water."

The average amount of water used on a typical day by Niles residents is between 8 million and 9 million gallons, Noriega said. During the hot spell, 13 million gallons used on Saturday, July 31, was the top amount used on any one day.

A water main break in the area of Wisner Street west of Dempster Street occurred Sunday, Aug. 1, "but we got it fixed right away," Noriega said.

Morton Grove District Fire Chief Ron Ruehrdanz said, "We were blessed. It was pretty peaceful."

Although they opened a cooling center at the Senior Center near the Village Hall for residents without air conditioning to come in and cool off, Ruehrdanz said not one single Morton Grove resident availed themselves of the service.

"People realize they just have to take it easy and stay out of the heat," Ruehrdanz theorized, adding that the village is equipped to accommodate residents at several locations, including park district buildings that could be utilized in case of a weather emergency.

two bills before federal legislators, one which proposes to add an additional 100 flights from O'Hare, the other proposes "unlimited flights" to and from the airport.

At Weaver's urging, Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase sent a fax to Illinois Senators Richard Durbin and Peter Fitzgerald, as well as the village's congressional representatives, asking them to oppose House Bill 82, which proposes increasing flights from O'Hare International Airport.

Blase said he was "very disappointed" when Illinois representatives disregarded constituents' requests, and supported the bill which passed in the House of Representatives in June.

Weaver says she appreciates Blase's efforts, but that more needs to be done.

New noise monitors that detect the amount of noise pollution emitted from airplanes are going to be set up in DesPlaines and Morton Grove, but not in Niles.

"Niles is being bypassed," said Weaver "and maybe it's because we're not protesting enough. Then again, people are concerned about noise pollution, but if you can't breathe, you're not going to care about noise."

Weaver suggests that concerned residents call the O'Hare Noise Abatement Hotline (1-800-435-9569) which records the number of noise and air pollution complaints made per municipality.

Weaver says she seeks to persuade local officials to contact their representatives in Washington DC for support of Senate Bill 775, the Right To Know About Airport Pollution Act of 1999, which would provide national studies of the "adverse environmental impacts of airport ground and flight operations."

Additionally, Weaver hopes local officials will ask their federal representatives to vote against bills which would increase flights from O'Hare. There are currently Bud Swanson of the Morton Grove Department of Human Services also said there were no special heat-related problems in the suburb.

At Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge, Media Relations Manager Adrienne Dimopoulos said the emergency room staff reported a slight increase in heat-related maladies during the recent heatwave. "There were more [heat-related cases] than usual, but we never have a lot because most people in our area have air conditioners," Dimopoulos said.

No one was actually admitted for a heat-related illness. The people who were treated and released came in with "all the symptoms of dehydration," Dimopoulos said, "which include headaches, dizziness, exhaustion, nausea. People feel a little queasy but don't know that the heat is causing it," Dimopoulos said.

She added that children and seniors are affected more by the heat because they don't perspire as much as adults do. "Parents really have to watch their kids [in very hot weather]," Dimopoulos cautioned.

At Holy Family Medical Center in Des Plaines, spokesperson John Brady said no one was admitted to the emergency room suffering from a heat-related malady.

8	$36,374	$3,032	$ 700
Each Additional Household Member Add	+$3,666	+$ 306	+$ 71

Maine Township High School District 207 announced its policy for free meals and free milk for those students unable to pay the price of meals served under the lunch program at Maine Township High School South, 1111 South Dee Road, Park Ridge. The following household size and income criteria will be used for determining eligibility.

Children from households that meet Federal guidelines are eligible for free milk/meals.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free milk/meals benefits, households must complete the application as soon as possible, sign it and return it to the school. Additional copies of the application form are available at the principal's office in the school. Households should answer all applicable questions on the form. An application which does not contain all the required information cannot be processed and approved by the school. The required information is as follows:

Food Stamp/TANF Households: Households that currently receive food stamps or "Temporary Assistance for Needy Families" (TANF) for their child(ren), only have to list the child(ren)'s name and food stamp or TANF case number and sign the application. Link card number cannot be used.

All Other Households: If a household's income is at or below the level shown on the income scale, children are eligible for free meals/milk. Households must provide the following information: (1) the names of all household members; (2) the Social Security number of the adult household member signing the application, or the word "None" if the adult does not have a Social Security number; (3) the amount of income each household member received last month and where it comes from (wages, child support, etc.) and (4) the signature of an adult household member.

The information on the application may be verified by school or other officials at any time during the school year.

If income information is provided and children are approved for free milk/meals benefits, households must tell the school when their household income increases by $50 or more per month ($600 per year) or when their household size decreases. If a food stamp or TANF case number was listed, the household must tell the school when they no longer receive food stamps or TANF for their child(ren).

Households may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. Households that are not eligible now, but have a decrease in household income, an increase in household size, or a household member becomes unemployed, should fill out an application at that time.

In certain cases, foster children are eligible for free milk/meals benefits regardless of the household income. Households that have foster children living with them and wish to apply for free meal/milk benefits for them should complete the application.

Under provisions of the policy, Dr. Thomas J. Cachur, Principal of Maine Township High School South, will review applications and determine eligibility. Households dissatisfied with the ruling have the right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing Dr. C. Steven Snider, Superintendent, Ralph J. Frost Administration Center, 1131 South Dee Road, Park Ridge, Illinois (847) 696-3600.

In the operation of Child Nutrition Programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, color, national origin, age, sex or handicap. If you believe you have been discriminated against, write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Households may apply for

Captain Morgan blows into the Windy City

An adventurous pirate will capture the attention of thousands of unassuming civilians in three cities during "Captain Morgan's Summer Siege 1999" which storms into Chicago on Friday, August 6 and Saturday, August 7. The marketing initiative consists of a series of highly visible personal appearances by the icon of Captain Morgan Original Spiced Rum and his charming sidekicks, the "Morganettes."

Crusing through Wrigleyville, Lincoln Park and Bucktown in a "Morganized" hummer on Friday and Saturday nights, the Captain and his crew will be giving away promotional items while a giant gobo light projects the product logo on a prominent Chicago building. On Sunday, Lakefront beach-goers will be challenged by the Morganettes to games of volleyball while other beach-goers (over 21) can take advantage of free in-line skating hosted by the Captain at the Lakefront Multiplex.

The awareness campaign for the larger-than-life pirate character reflects the adventurous and irreverent spirit of the brand, which puts the consumer in the mood to enjoy and share good times.

"The Captain and Morganettes will convey their message of extreme fun to everyone they meet."
