Chitewgo On The Hoof or There ain't no beef.....

Get yourself out of that suburban rocking chair and head south to downtown for one of the most pleasant outings you will have this summer. Prepare to graze a bit. And walk among the most whimsical bits of art Chicago has ever exhibited.

You won't see any Picassos. But you'll see a Picowso over on Oak and Michigan in front of the One Magnificent Mile building. And just south of there at Delaware Street you'll see the Rhinestone Cowgirl decked out in glass and rhinestones, as pretty a cowgirl as you've ever seen.

MG works on plan to create a downtown

by Rosemary Tirio

After successfully starting construction on their Waukegan Road Tax Incremental Funding (TIF) project, Morton Grove officials have decided it's about time the village, long noted for its beautiful residential areas, had a real downtown.

Still in the long-term planning phase, the comprehensive plan as the proposed development is known, has been under discussion since the village's Comprehensive Plan Project Advisory Committee was formed more than 20 months and began drawing up plans for developing a village center that will become a focal point for the community.

Community group formed to fight village

Two Skokie women have formed a community-based group to challenge the Village of Skokie. The issue at the center of this controversy is the recent installation of an underground hub site for cable and the noisy, above the ground cooling unit. This controlled environment vault is located at Langfield Walk, a small, quiet park in a residential neighborhood on Park Avenue south of Galitz in Skokie.

The actual cable housing units exist below the ground in the vault.

MG increases penalties for selling tobacco

On July 12, the Village of Morton Grove passed a law that will protect children under 18 from access to tobacco. Ordinance 99-31 stiffens the penalties for retail merchants who violate the law and sell tobacco products to children under 18. "Research demonstrates that if we can keep tobacco products away from children until they are 18, they may never start the dead-end habit."

New area codes loom but 847 safe for now

The good news is, it won't happen for at least six months and possibly not for three years.

The bad news is three new area codes—464, 331 and 872—are definitely in the future for the Chicago area. Eleven-digit dialing just won't go away, it seems.

Lockheed-Martin, IMS, the firm in charge of distributing new numbers for the telecommunications industry, announced the creation of the new overlays Aug. 16.

A Lockheed Martin spokeswoman said Monday that the new codes aren't going to be needed for some time, but they are in the plans and the public needs to know about them.

The Federal Communications Commission requires new overlays to be assigned immediately after state approval is given. The Illinois Commerce Commission approved the three overlay numbers June 30.

Open call for 'Italian American Reconciliation' at Oakton

Oakton Community College is holding auditions for its fall production of John Patrick Shanley's Italian American Reconciliation from 7-9:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 31, and Wednesday, Sept. 1, at the Performing Arts Center, 1600 E. Golf Road, Des Plaines. From the writer of Moonstruck and the director of Greetings comes this comic, Italian-style folktale that chronicles the antics of Huey Maximilian Bonfigliano as he attempts to regain his "manhood" by recapturing the affections of his shrewish ex-wife, Janice. The hilarious complications that ensue prove, once again, that the course of true love never runs smoothly.

All roles are open to the cast of two men and three women. Actors are encouraged to prepare a monologue for the audition and be ready to improvise and "play," engage in storytelling, and perform cold readings from the script. Copies of the script are on reserve at the Oakton Library.

Pointing children towards art

Children will be able to learn the fine points of pointillism, the postimpressionist art of painting that uses dots of pure color, at the 30th Annual Glen Ellyn Festival of the Arts on August 28-29 at Lake Ellyn Park. Children 10 and older will be able to dab their own dots on artist canvases that already has images pencilled in, so that a group of children will create one large painting in the style of Georges Seurat. Seurat's famous A Sunday Afternoon on the Island of La Grande, in which pointillism was used, can be seen at the Art Institute in Chicago. Little postimpressionists under age 10 will also be able to experience this art style by dotting paint on paper pencilled in with outlines of bears, dinosaurs and other simple figures at the "Young Impressionist" area. All efforts to point children towards fine art will be assisted by Cub Scout Den 3, Pack 246 of Glen Ellyn. Participants will receive badges stating "I got the Point at the Festival of the Arts!"

Lambs Farm 8th Annual Model Boat Races

Racers will put on an exciting show at Lambs Farm's 8th Annual Model Boat Races on Saturday and Sunday, August 21-22. Both days, 150 boats are scheduled to race on Lambs Lake from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The Silver Cup Race features super-fast 1/8 scale hydroplanes and the John Spangler Memorial Race will introduce novice racers with tunnel hull boats to the hobby. All races are sponsored by the Minute Breakers Radio Control Model Boat Club and are IMPBA sanctioned. Spectators will enjoy visiting all of Lambs Farm's regular shops and attractions that are open daily from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Delicious food and refreshments will also be served at our Snack Shop and The Country Inn Restaurant throughout the day. No picnic baskets or coolers are allowed as all food sales are used to fund programs that enrich the quality of life for the more than 260 men and women of Lambs Farm with developmental disabilities. Parking is free. For additional information, call the Lambs Farm hotline at (847) 362-6774.

Searle helps students succeed

The Niles Township High School District 219 Summer Youth Training and Employment Program has been a tremendous success. This is in part due to the participation of area business and organization such as Searle in Skokie.

The program is designed to provide employment training and experience for high school special education students. Students earn summer school credit for a six-week program combining daily classroom skill training with on-the-job experience. District 219 Off Campus Learning Center Coordinator, Richard Howard, is the administrator responsible for the project. This is a grant-based program offered under the Federal Job Training Partnership Act (JPTA) with monies made available through the Workforce Development Council of Northern Cook County. Along with Mr. Howard are Alexa Forman, who teaches math and arranged all business partnerships, and job coaches, Fruzenda Stone (vocational skills), Mike Powers (social worker), and Mark Medland (English Teacher).

Searle, a major business partner, hired eight high school students as part of this youth training program. Dorothy Honda, Compliance Specialist from Searle, and Ulyses Grant, Staffing Coordinator, handled all job assignments. The students were welcomed to the company with a comprehensive orientation program and work site tour. They were assigned to various departments to perform clerical and other office duties. These departments included central files and documentation control supporting metrology, validation, and compliance efforts.

According to Mr. Howard, "Searle has given these students real life experience in a work environment. Their assignments provided them with actual job responsibilities complete with goals and deadlines. These summer work opportunities have positively contributed to our students' success."

Why Select A Family Owned Funeral Home?

- *Prices are traditionally much lower than those of corporate owned funeral homes.
- * Our funeral directors and staff do not work on commissions. They will never pressure you to buy something that you don't want or need.
- *All of our preparation work is done at our funeral homes by licensed funeral directors. Your loved one will not be transported to a "factory like" embalming facility.
- *You will be treated with the respect and appreciation that only a family owned business can offer.
- *We consistently upgrade our facilities and equipment to offer families only the best.
- *The comfort of knowing the person you're dealing with. You will always see a familiar face at our chapels. Our staff is not rotated among dozens of funeral homes.

Bipartisan plan proposed to fight Medicare fraud

Following through on a field hearing held last December in Chicago, U.S. Sens. Dick Durbin (D-IL) and Susan Collins (R-ME) introduced bipartisan legislation to combat Medicare waste, fraud and abuse -- problems that cost taxpayers $35 million a day last year.

Collins serves as Chairman of the Senate Governmental Affairs Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations, on which Durbin also serves. The legislation is cosponsored by U.S. Sen. Charles Grassley (R-IA), Chairman of the Senate Special Committee on Aging.

Among other provisions, the Durbin-Collins legislation seeks to crack down on scam artists who can easily obtain an identification number, provide false information and start billing the federal government. The two senators pointed to one case in which an address in the middle of an airport runway was used by a so-called medical care provider. In another case investigated, a medical equipment company provided non-covered adult diapers -- priced at 30 cents -- to nursing home patients but billed Medicare $8 per item after coding the diapers as an item covered by Medicare.

"Cutting corners, cheating seniors and ripping off the U.S. Treasury is unacceptable and intolerable," Durbin said. "Every dollar sacrificed to a fly-by-night operator, every dollar spent paying twice for the same service and every dollar squandered on worthless supplies is a dollar that won't be spent on health care for seniors. Medicare reform won't mean anything unless we plug these gaping holes."

"Fraud and abuse not only compromise the solvency of the Medicare program but also, in some cases, directly affect the quality of care delivered to the 38 million older and disabled Americans who depend on this program," Collins said. "This legislation represents an important step toward a solution to a problem that threatens the financial integrity of this vital social program."

Durbin and Collins said the latest OIG's study released this February estimated that in Fiscal Year (FY) 1998, about 7.1 percent of Medicare's fee for service payments -- nearly $13 billion a year -- were inappropriate because of innocent but wasteful errors, systematic abuse or outright fraud.

While aggressive efforts brought the amount of dollars lost to fraud, waste and abuse down from $20.3-billion in 1997, the $13 billion improperly spent in 1998 represents a loss of more than $35 million per day, $1.4 million per hour and $24,700 every minute.

Affordable Fees Include:

- Weekly Housekeeping
- Daily Activities

Maine Township Seniors Cuisine Club visit serves up a side order of irony

Maine Township Seniors meet regularly to sample fine foods at area restaurants, but the most recent outing in June at Walter's Bistro in Park Ridge turned up a special surprise. Sitting at one table, enjoying her salad, was Gloria Boye of Park Ridge, who remembers another time she spent at the same location -- only that time was nearly 60 years earlier in the mid 1930's, and the name of the establishment was "Bill Boye's Garage," named after and owned by her father. Helping to mark the unplanned occasion is, from left, Gloria Boye, restaurant owner Walter Mizialko and Maine Township Director of Senior Services Sue Neuschel.

WITH 25 YEARS OF EXPERIENCE,
NOBODY KNOWS ALZHEIMER'S CARE
BETTER THAN WE DO

For 25 years, Glenview Terrace Nursing Center has been quietly building a reputation of providing quality skilled nursing care to residents of Chicago's North Shore community. The compassion and clinical excellence of our nursing, medical and therapy staffs have been recognized with the highest accreditation possible by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations - Accreditation with Commendation.

It is with the same compassion and clinical excellence that we developed our Alzheimer's Care Unit - a unit that separates early, middle and later stages of the disease to enhance optimum health, dignity and physical functioning. Residents with early stage Alzheimer's can still enjoy an independent environment with structured activities and supervised outings. Middle stage residents receive the necessary redirection and cues to enhance existing abilities. And, residents with late stage Alzheimer's additionally receive the skilled nursing care required to address their changing physiological needs.

Our intensive, activity-focused programming is individualized and structured to meet the needs of the resident during every stage of the disease and is supervised by staff specially trained by Alzheimer's experts to provide exceptional clinical care and compassionate emotional support. Monthly family support groups and a resource center help provide needed information for families to help them cope in their role as caregiver.

EXPERIENCE — EXPERTISE — COMPASSION. Glenview Terrace has the Alzheimer's Care to help each individual during every stage of the disease. For information regarding our Alzheimer's Care Unit, call Barb Wilczynski at (847) 729-9090.

Lutheran General Health Center offers lesson in puppy love

There are three major hurdles that assisted living and skilled nursing care facilities must contend with: loneliness, helplessness and boredom. The Lutheran General Health Center at the Moorings of Arlington Heights has discovered a secret to overcome these obstacles. It is soft and fuzzy, well-mannered and affectionate, and answers to the name "Aspen."

Aspen, a one-hundred-pound Great Pyrenees, was adopted by the Lutheran General Health Center as part of its commitment to an innovative program called the Eden Alternative. The Eden philosophy centers around ten principles designed to give institutional settings a more homelike feeling by planting indoor gardens, providing variety through interactions with children and allowing the opportunity for animal companionship.

Lutheran General Health Center residents enjoy the companionship of Aspen, their 100-pound mascot.

Aspen is free to roam the corridors, visit the activity centers, mingle with her human friends, drop in individual rooms or just snooze. Residents help with her grooming, feeding and outdoor exercise while making sure that she is petted and hugged with great regularity.

She is a true representation of unconditional love, patiently listening to one and all. As one resident asked, "Aren't we just so lucky to have her?"

Family members participating in the holiday open house recognized how easily the dog has made the environment more like home, interacting with grandchildren and great-grandchildren of residents. Aspen answered requests to "sit" and "give me your paw" over and over again during the day. Shouts of "Grandma, look at your dog now!" or "Grandpa, I love your dog!"

filled the air, reaffirming Aspen's place at the center.

The benefits of the Eden Alternative are already apparent at the Health Center. Aspen has awakened residents' memories as they share tales of first puppies, best dogs, smartest birds or prettiest kittens. For some, these stories have been the first step toward positive exchanges with peers, family and staff.

The Lutheran General Health Center decided to pursue the Eden Alternative after one of the staff members attended a national seminar. The idea of improving the quality of life among residents, families and staff by introducing animals and children was quickly accepted.

Working with a program called Chicagoland Dog Rescue, the staff searched for the ideal mascot and eventually ended up adopting Aspen.

Studies done by the Institute for Quality Improvement in Long Term Health Care at Southwest Texas University found that homes implementing the Eden Alternative showed a 30 percent decrease in anti-depressant medication use and a 60 percent decrease in bed sores. Another study by the New York State Health Department showed a 50 percent decrease in infections and 26 percent decrease in nurse's aide turnover.

The Lutheran General Health Center continues to pursue the Edenizing process leading to the addition of other plants, animals and intergenerational programs. In the meantime, Aspen is doing a wonderful job.

The Lutheran General Health Center provides assisted living and skilled nursing care. It is located on the site of the Moorings, nestled on 45 beautifully landscaped acres in Arlington Heights. Owned by Advocate Health Care, the Moorings is rated among the fifty best retirement communities in the country. The campus offers retirement living and adult day care as well as the Health Center. The Moorings strives for excellence in enhancing the quality of life. For information on retirement, call (847) 956-4304. For information about the Health Center, call (847) 956-4468.

On long-term care insurance...

Long-term care, or nursing home, insurance may not be worth it for you. Your assets and income are most likely to determine your need for it.

The tax angle

Some long-term care policies' premiums are deductible and some are not. Check with your agent.

The costs of long-term care are deductible, though Congress is debating details. Long-term care costs are far greater than a deduction repays, of course.

Who needs it?

If your income is small (in the $15,000 per year range) and you have small assets, the answer likely is no. Medicaid will kick in once your finances are exhausted. Middle-income people have a tougher choice deciding between high premiums or retaining their savings.

Women are more apt to need long-term care insurance.

Individuals (double amounts for couples) with incomes above $30,000 and large assets ($75,000 or more not counting the home), probably should take the insurance.

If premiums will be less than 10 percent of your income, you probably want the insurance.

Annual Senior Lifestyle Expo coming in September

Harry Volkman

The Senior Lifestyle Expo is back by popular demand! On September 1 & 2, the Drury Lane Oakbrook Terrace will be the hub of senior life in Illinois. Presented by the Northeastern Illinois Area Agency on Aging, the Expo will feature a range of activities, offering two days of exhibits, seminars and entertainment.

"As always, we invite seniors from throughout Illinois to join us for this annual event," says Connie Kobiter, spokesperson for the event. "We offer as much as we can to show that aging isn't about endings, but rather new beginnings."

Nearly 100 exhibitors will make available information on every aspect of mature life, from travel to health, from legal issues to cooking. Scheduled seminars include such topics as finance, travel, caregiving and health. And, back by popular demand, many exhibitors will offer health screenings (bone density, blood pressure, glaucoma/cataract, risk assessment for heart disease and breast cancer, etc.).

Personal safety is an issue of importance to seniors and very much in the news these days. Helping to educate seniors about personal safety this year is J.J. Bittenbinder, a seasoned detective with the ability to communicate the necessary measures needed to take care of oneself. Other personalities include a return engagement of Harry Volkman, the popular meteorologist from WFLD-TV and Brian James Fowler, Brian's "Now-Stalgia" will present rip roaring 20's reviews.

As travel has become a big part of the senior lifestyle, the Senior Lifestyle Expo will feature seminars on travel through Ireland, Arizona, Myrtle Beach and the southern trails to New Orleans. In addition, Southwest Airlines will be giving away two pairs of tickets for the winners of the travel trivia game at the show. But travel is a luxury unattainable without financial planning. That is why there will also be a number of financial planning seminars held at this year's event. Seniors can look forward to discovering financial plans that can help them pay for that vacation without risking substantial savings.

Once again, the Secretary of State will offer renewals and exchanges of driver's licenses for new digital licenses. New identification cards are free to seniors over the age of 65, while new digital drivers licenses are free to seniors over the age of 87. All seniors, however, who do not need a driving test are welcome to come and renew or exchange their licenses for a small fee. Seniors should bring ample identification to access these services.

The Expo will be open from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. each day. In addition, prices have remained the same as last year with tickets costing $3 per person, with group rates available at $2 per person with a group of 15 or more.

The Northeastern Illinois Area Agency on Aging is a nonprofit organization chartered in 1974 to plan and coordinate a comprehensive network of services for older persons in DuPage, Grundy, Kane, Kendall, Kankakee, Lake, McHenry and Will counties of Illinois. Services funded and coordinated by the Area Agency meet the diverse needs of area seniors and acts as an advocate on their behalf.

"Glamour Day" at GlenBridge Nursing Centre

GlenBridge Nursing and Rehabilitation Centre located on Golf Road in Niles hosted a fabulous "Glamour Day" on August 9. Make-up artist Solomon Arnold from the Marilyn Miglin Salon of Oak Street demonstrated his skills and techniques on approximately 30 participants who anxiously awaited their makeover.

The idea originated from Bobbie Beser, Director of Health Care Development for Health & Home Management. "What lady doesn't like a little blush, dash of lipstick and the attention of a personal make-up artist!" stated Ms. Beser as she formulated "Glamour at the Glens" for the five homes in the Glen Healthcare Network.

All ladies desiring a little "pampering" gathered in the lovely Stratford dining room where they enjoyed visiting while sipping iced tea or lemonade. Fresh fruit and pastries were also enjoyed by the ladies. And you can judge by the beautiful smiling faces, "Glamour Day" at GlenBridge was a fun and spirit-lifting day!

Regency health Centre, 6631 N. Milwaukee Ave., Niles hosted a visit from Kent Barnheiser, Executive Director of the Greater Chicagoland Alzheimer's Association on Wednesday, Aug. 18 presented him with a check in the amount of $3,000. The funds were raised as a result of Regency's 3rd Annual Summer Sounds Concert Fund-raiser benefiting the Chicagoland Alzheimer's Association. The presentation was made at the Nursing Center and a short program honoring staff and residents who participated in fundraising followed. A reception for staff, health professionals, residents and their families was also held.

St. Matthew Lutheran Home celebrates 40th Anniversary

Shown above are St. Matthew Lutheran Home resident Alice Granwick and Administrator John Carter.

Celebrating its 40th Year Anniversary, St. Matthew Lutheran Home, a program of Lutheran Social Services of Illinois (LSSI), is gracefully maturing along with the nation's growing population of seniors. Equipped with experience and longevity, St. Matthew provides short-term rehabilitation and nursing services for older adults in a caring community setting. With an $800,000 renovation already completed in the long-term care wing of the Parkway Ridge facility, a $1.7 million dollar renovation is slated for the original east-end units that were first built in 1959. St. Matthew will be set to expand upon the reputation administrator John Carter says it has traditionally enjoyed "serving people well in a home-like environment."

In a day and age when discriminating baby boomers are concerned about the future of their aging loved ones, a safe, caring, attending environment is what seems to rise to the top of the list when seeking a nursing home. Foremost among the strengths of St. Matthew is a staff committed to quality care and respecting residents' dignity and rights," says Carter. The staff emphasizes establishing and maintaining caring relationships with the residents. The families who have loved ones at St. Matthew say it is the warm spirit of the St. Matthew staff that gives them reassurance of the care that is being given and received. Mary Quinn, accompanied by her young niece, often visits her godmother, Virginia Corbett. "We're here about once a week. The people here love the kids. I love it (here). It's more like a living center than a nursing home," Quinn says.

Challenging the notion of a nursing home as the "end of life-it's over," Director of Nursing Elaine Weamer describes it as "the beginning of another chapter. It's a continuation. It can be fulfilling, with new challenges being met on a daily basis." The effort to address the well-being and continued development of the residents is seen in the staff working to help people set goals and discover new ways to engage in daily living. Evodia Nelson, resident of the Home for nearly five years, expresses her experience of the staff's efforts, "I like their attitude!"

St. Matthew Lutheran home is a program of Lutheran Social Services of Illinois (LSSI), a statewide, not-for-profit social service agency of the three Illinois synods of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA). LSSI's services include counseling, mental health, substance abuse treatment, residential treatment for children and adolescents, early childhood education and child care services, foster care and adoption, housing for older adults and individuals with disabilities, nursing care, programs for prisoners and their families and services for older adults.

A Medicare prescription drug benefit is smart medicine

Dear Editor:

About every 30 days, many senior citizens write a big check. It's not for electricity, groceries or housing, but for medicines they need to stay healthy.

One of the reasons why Americans are living longer, healthier lives is because of incredible advances in medical science, including new pharmaceuticals to prevent or slow the ravages of killers like heart disease, hypertension and diabetes. Yet for many seniors, these medications are not an option.

There's a plan under consideration in Congress that would give a little help to seniors paying hundreds of dollars each month for prescriptions. It's a voluntary program that allows seniors to keep the pharmaceutical coverage in their existing insurance plans, or pay a little extra each month to get additional coverage from Medicare. About one-third of all seniors over 65 don't have prescription drug coverage of any kind, so making it available through Medicare is especially important for them.

A Medicare prescription drug benefit is smart medicine.

Sincerely,
Alvin F. Friedman

Is there a connection between childhood asthma and antibiotic use

by Dr. Robert L. Richart

Asthma is now the leading chronic illness among children. Beginning in the early 1960's asthma deaths among young persons began to climb. In 1985, there were approximately 300 deaths from asthma. Beginning in 1994, deaths from asthma reached 5,000 annually. There are currently over 15 billion asthma sufferers.

A recent study in the Journal of Clinical and Experimental Allergy suggests that taking antibiotics, particularly in the first year of life, may be associated with an increased risk of developing asthma.

In the study, a survey based on questions from the International Study on Asthma and Allergies in Children was sent to the parents of grade school age children. The study looked at the risk of children experiencing asthma symptoms based upon if, when and how often they had taken antibiotics.

The study found that if a child was given antibiotics, he or she would be almost three times as likely to develop asthma as a child who was not given antibiotics. If a child was given antibiotics in the first year of life, or if three courses of antibiotics were given the likelihood of developing asthma increased to four times as likely.

The researchers caution that their study should not be taken as definitive but rather as hypothesis raising. The researchers, however, also state that the results of the study indicate a probable link between childhood asthma and antibiotic use. Broad spectrum antibiotics came into usage in the 1960's and their increased use coincides with the time trends for the increasing prevalence of asthma. It is possible that the antibiotics may decrease the beneficial bacteria in the intestinal tract and that this may turn off signals that the bacteria send to the developing immune system.

A study with similar findings was published in the journal Thorax last year. Chiropractors treat their patients by removing nerve interference or spinal stress caused by spinal subluxations. There is a close connection between the spinal column, the nervous system and breathing. Birth trauma, jumping and running, falls and accidents are all part of a normal childhood, but can also cause spinal subluxations. Subluxations may impair communication between the nervous system and the lungs, affecting their function.

It is recommended that children receive spinal checkups to locate and eliminate spinal subluxations just as they currently receive dental and medical checkups.

Students gain new 'Perspective'

Thirty-five students from Niles North's summer school met with students from Perspectives School in Chicago. Dale Vogler, director of administration at Niles North, gave the students an introduction to life in District 219. The morning of communication was part of a workshop sponsored by the University of Illinois at Chicago.

The students had a chance to share experiences with one another regarding their lives at school and in the community. After a brief panel discussion, students from the two schools compared curriculum, discipline and extra-curricular activities. The positive effect of the meeting was a confirmation that despite differences, high school students have a shared desire for success.

Henry Gagne, masterbuilder, lover of birds, dies at 78

by Rosemary Tirio

The man who built and decorated the front yard of his Cleveland Avenue Niles home with a whimsical collection of 85 expertly crafted birdhouses died of a heart attack Aug. 9.

Henry L. "Tiny" Gagne, known affectionately as the "Birdman of Niles," continued his childhood love of birds into adulthood when he used his considerable skills as a master builder to provide shelter and food for them.

Born in Holyoke, Mass., Mr. Gagne moved to Chicago after completing grammar school to seek employment so he could help support his family.

Beginning as a water boy in the construction industry, Mr. Gagne acquired many skills, eventually becoming superintendent of many construction projects, according to his wife Anna.

A decorated World War II veteran, Mr. Gagne served in the South Pacific, returning to Chicago in 1945 and marrying Anna in 1946.

In 1954, Mr. Gagne was recognized by the American Institute of Architects with the Craftsmanship Award of Honor for his overseeing of the construction of the North Shore Congregation Israel Temple in Glenview.

In addition to building birdhouses, Mr. Gagne also used his gift for carpentry in his Niles home where he built many cabinets and other furniture. He was a longtime member of Local 21 of the Bricklayers and Stone Masons Union of Illinois.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Gagne is survived by a brother, a son, a daughter, two grandchildren and a great-grandchild. Funeral services were held Aug. 13.

Vikings are First in Mayor's Cup

Metropolitan Water Reclamation Dist. recognized

The editors of Engineering News Record, The Construction Weekly, have named the top 125 engineering projects of the past 125 years in their July 26, 1999 edition. The magazine is celebrating its 125th anniversary by highlighting these notable accomplishments. For the second year, editors selected the Metropolitan Water Reclamation District's construction of the Chicago Sanitary and Ship Canal to reverse the flow of the Chicago River and protect the city's water source, Lake Michigan, from pollution. The job required the excavation of 42 million cubic yards of earth to build the 28-mile channel, and reversal helped eliminate water-borne diseases in Chicago.

Engineering News Record also chose the District's Tunnel and Reservoir Plan, known as the Deep Tunnel. The project was named the Outstanding Civil Engineering Achievement of 1985. The 95 miles of completed tunnels capture the overflow from combined sewers and convey the flow to the water reclamation plants. Since 1985, when the first portion of tunnel became operational, 85% of the discharge and pollutants that had previously overflowed into rivers, streams and basements have been eliminated. Fish have returned in large numbers to the Chicago rivers.

Terrence J. O'Brien, President of the Board of Commissioners said, "We are proud of the engineering accomplishments that distinguish the Metropolitan Water Reclamation District as leaders in the field. For Engineering News Record to place two of the District's major public works projects in the same category as the Hoover Dam, the Golden Gate Bridge, the Sears Tower and the Kennedy Space Flight Center is high praise indeed. No other wastewater treatment agency anywhere in the world was recognized twice for this prestigious honor. the Board of Commissioners is committed to maintaining this high standard of excellence in protecting the water environment, and we look forward to many more years of innovative engineering in the next century."

Try your hand at 100 holes of golf and help fight asthma

In Illinois, approximately 250,000 children have asthma and unfortunately some of these children die as a result of this disease.

Kyle Bruckelmeyer was a nine-year-old boy from Oswego, Illinois, who led a full life until an asthma attack robbed him of it. To honor his memory and to try and prevent anymore children or adults from dying from asthma, the American Lung Association is sponsoring its fourth annual Kyle Bruckelmeyer Memorial Golf Marathon on Monday, September 13, at Blackberry Oaks Golf Club in Bristol, Illinois. Fifty golfers are needed to play 100 holes of golf in a single day. Proceeds benefit the lung association's Asthma Clinical Research Center in Illinois.

Each golfer is asked to raise a minimum of $1,000 in pledges. There are great incentive prizes for the golfer who goes over the pledge minimum including a new putter for a $1,500 pledge, a set of irons for $3,500, and the highest fund raiser over $5,000 receives a golf resort vacation.

There are ample opportunities for corporations to get involved. Corporate teams may include up to 4 players for a pledge minimum of $2,000. Limited hole sponsorships are available for $500 a hole and cart sponsorships are $200. A $5,000 gold sponsorship includes a variety of promotional opportunities, plus free marathon golf for four players. The event starts at 5:30 a.m. with a country breakfast served at 6 a.m. Golfers tee-off at 6:30 a.m. and play until 5:30 p.m. Lunch is served around noon with snacks and beverages served throughout the day. All golfers are honored at the awards dinner at 6 p.m. where prizes will be given out including longest drive, closest to the pin and best score.

Golfers can expect to enjoy a full day of activity on this beautifully appointed private golf course. With exclusive use of the club, golfers can do whatever it takes, within reason, to complete the challenge. Golf carts are provided and caddies are optional. Not everyone is expected to complete all 100 holes but golfers are urged to secure sponsors for each hole they complete.

The lung association's goal for the event is to raise at least $50,000 for its clinical asthma research center. The center is actually a unique consortium of Northwestern University, Rush Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center, University of Chicago, University of Illinois and Southern Illinois University.

To register and do your part for the fight against asthma, call the lung association at (312) 243-2000.

Edward Jones: Solving the Interest Rate Mystery

Interest rates can be more mysterious than a Stephen King thriller. If the prime rate is 5 percent, why does it cost 10 percent to borrow money?

Cracking the interest rate code starts with understanding two significant short-term rates: the federal funds rate and the prime rate. Short-term rates are most affected by the federal funds rate. Federal funds are funds, such as those in excess of reserve requirements, deposited by commercial banks at Federal Reserve Banks. On the flip side, banks that don't have enough funds to meet reserve requirements may have to borrow from other banks. They can borrow funds deposited by other banks at Federal Reserve Banks, and the amount of interest they pay is the federal funds rate. These borrowing transactions are generally overnight.

The federal funds rate is volatile because it's calculated on a day-to-day basis. Economic and technical factors influence its direction. By increasing or decreasing the federal funds target rate, the Fed can orchestrate the flow of money into the economy. A lower federal funds rate makes borrowing more attractive for banks and their customers, thereby increasing the flow of money into the economy. A higher federal funds rate tightens the flow. These moves by the Fed are generally cautious, avoiding knee-jerk reactions to breaking news of the economy. The federal funds rate is the benchmark for pricing other short-term securities.

The more widely publicized prime rate is the interest rate banks charge to their most credit-worthy customer, typically only blue chip corporations. Rates on loans to less credit-worthy customers (which generally include most individuals and businesses) are tied to prime rate.

Prime rate is determined by the market forces affecting a bank's cost of funds and the rates borrowers will accept. Because Fed funds are the source of funds to a bank, the prime rate set by a bank must be higher than the federal funds rate the bank pays. The difference, or spread, reflects the amount of risk the bank is willing to take in assuming a customer loan, plus a reasonable profit for the bank and its shareholders. When the Federal Reserve raises or lowers its rates, the prime rate follows.

The next time you're mystified by rates on short-term securities, remember these two clues: prime rate and federal funds rate.

If you're a sports fan you might say, "The hell with art." Fair enough. But wander over to the Tribune Tower building just north of the Michigan Avenue bridge and say hello to Holy Cow, a cow riddled with vertical holes. Harry the C has been re-arnated, returning as a bovine, complete with those heavy horn-rimmed glasses.

After this summer of horrors you might think your old funny bone has been so jaded you can't laugh at simple pleasures. But a walk down north (or south) Michigan Avenue will restore your humor hormones even though they might have been mothballed for the summer.

There are 300 fiberglass cows grazing in the financial section on LaSalle Street, and on Wacker Drive and up and down snooty north Michigan and south at the Field Museum where a solar cow's udders light up for motorists. There's O'Leary's cow at the Water Tower and a Carousel Cow around the corner and the multi-colored Mock Turtle Cow in front of Eddie Bauers and a Mosaic Cow Mirroriam in front of Crate and Barrel. In front of the Banana Republic is a Cacophony Cow in Six Moo-oo-oo-vements and in front of Tiffany's is a Blue Is The Color Of My Dreams cow.

In the loop in front of Field's is a moo-cow scribbled with Field's 100 year old slogan, "Give the Lady What She Wants."

A Chicago businessman, Peter Hanig, saw a fiberglass cow exhibit in Zurich, Switzerland and thought Chicago would be the perfect setting for some cows grazing in the canyons at the base of the glass and steel high rises in the loop. The 350 pound fiberglass cows cost about $2,500 each and will be auctioned to the highest bidders after the summer exhibition. Chicago artists were invited to show off their creativity by designing their own kind of cows. The results have been moo-oo-gnificant.

Blues singer Joe Williams used to sing a Chicago song which includes the lyric "Chi-town is my town." Well, Joe, it's my town and millions more of us who've grown up in Chicago land.

For now, however, the 847 has not been assigned a new overlay.

In June of 1998, the 847 area code became a national test case, when a new overlay, 224, was an-

I'm a big city boy who has always liked big cities. I love New York. I had many good times in Philly. I've spent many days in the Golden Gate Park near the bridge in Frisco. Boston is stylish and grand, and LA's outer limits are great for living. Overseas, London is my favorite. Paris and Rome are great walking towns and I've spent many GI months in Berlin, and pleasant days in Budapest and Vienna and interesting days in Moscow and Hong Kong. (That's quite a bit of city name-dropping.)

Give me my choice and I'll take Chi-Town. Many years ago a New York boxing writer, Joe Leibling, nicknamed Chicago "Second City." He implied Chicago lived in the shadow of New York City. He thought it had a metropolitan inferiority complex. Well, his flirtation with Freud made fun reading and perhaps some of what he said may be true. We have a lot of mediocrity - our sports teams and our columnists and a lack of eloquence from the Chicago Mayor's chair since the 1920's when Mayor Bill Thompson said he'd punch the nose of the King or Queen of England if they visited Buckingham Fountain as was their want.

What is extra special about Chi-town is we lack New York's pretensions. We're not as sophisticated (an awful word) as those living in Gotham. There's no way New York would have these wonderful cows grazing along Fifth Avenue or Broadway or on Madison Avenue. The Manhattanites would think such an exhibit was what the French would think if someone suggested the cows should graze between the Eiffel Tower and the Arc de Triumphe. And while John Bull's Londoners might be amused if Piccadilly Circus and Charing Cross and Hyde Park would host these cows, it's doubtful many would raise their Guinness pints to give the cows the welcome they've gotten in Chi-town.

Hurray for our side.....good old Chicago. We've been the home of the champion Bulls for much of the nineties.....and now we close out this decade and the millennium by hosting the best 300 cows in the world. Go down-town and give them a pat on their colorful rumps.

Hospital in Evanston. Miculescu, 20, of Chicago, was charged Saturday with one count of reckless homicide. Bond was set at $40,000. No drugs or alcohol were found to be involved in the incident, police said.

An Aug. 26 court date is scheduled for Miculescu. In an unrelated incident, Carl Florence of Chicago, believed to be about 50 years of age, was found in an apparent lifeless state in a cell in the Lincolnwood police station around 9:20 p.m. Aug. 11.

Florence, an admitted long-time heroin addict, was being held on felony retail theft charges after he was arrested in a shoplifting incident at the JC Penney store in the Lincolnwood Town Center around 7:30 p.m. Aug. 10.

Normally, Florence would have had a bond hearing the following morning at the Old Orchard Courthouse. However, because Florence gave police several different names and birthdates there was a delay in identifying him and obtaining his complete criminal history, both of which are required before a bond hearing can proceed, police said.

Since his first arrest in 1965, Florence is known to have used 36 different aliases and 21 dates of birth, police said.

Florence's cell was equipped with a camera enabling police communications center personnel to monitor him, police said. He was also checked every half hour in accordance with Lincolnwood Police policy.

At 9 p.m., he was observed to be sleeping in the cell, but when he was checked again at 9:20 p.m., he appeared not to be breathing, police said. Police and fire department personnel attempted to revive Florence, but he was pronounced dead at 10:03 p.m. at St. Francis Hospital in Evanston, police said.

Wisconsin Dells celebrates 32nd Annual Wo-Zha-Wa Days

Downtown Wisconsin Dells will celebrate the 32nd Annual Wo-Zha-Wa Days Fall Festival on September 17, 18, and 19. A Native American word meaning "time of fun," Wo-Zha-Wa, has become well-known for its three days of family entertainment. Developed in 1968, Wo-Zha-Wa is expected to draw 100,000 visitors to the area. The festival celebrates both the beginning of autumn and the camaraderie among local business owners. Wo-Zha-Wa Days' free activities include an arts and crafts fair, antique flea market, Maxwell Street Days, live entertainment and a 100-unit parade.

The 17-acre site at Lincoln Avenue near Ferris Avenue formerly occupied by Lawware Products is more attractive to the committee because of its size and availability. However, its location is a bit out of the way.

A 4.5-acre tract along Waukegan Road to the north of the Dempster TIF is also available and is being considered. It may be more desirable because its location is more accessible and visible.

Other features of the comprehensive plan include increasing housing for young families and senior citizens and improving four commercial areas located along Dempster Street, Lincoln Avenue, the Lehigh/Ferris train station area and the Waukegan Road TIF area.

Luxury features distinguish condominium homes

What distinguishes a condominium home designed for former single-family home owners from conventional multi-family housing?

One major clue is the number of luxury features included as standard items, suggests Helen Weiss, a principal of long-time condominium developer Weiss Development Corp. The firm is currently developing Village Green Condominiums, its third condominium complex in urbane Lincolnshire. The elegant and exclusive Village Green Condominiums will provide 108 luxury two- and three- bedroom residences in three mid-rise buildings in a gated community on an 8.33-acre parcel just south of Old Half Day Road. The site is opposite Village Green Retail Center in downtown Lincolnshire. Here are some of the special features included as standard:

- Heated indoor parking. All Village Green buildings have heated ground-level parking with remote control access with an area for storage.

"This convenience provides protection for both driver and auto even during Chicago's fiercest weather, especially for to spend a lot of time traveling. • Tub/shower stall combinations in the private master bath. Because people love to maintain options, luxury condominiums provide both a separate shower enclosure and adult-size soaking tub in master bedrooms. "Double-bowl vanities are an amenity that permits simultaneous use of the master bath," she noted.

plan), bay windows (per plan), and much more.

Kitchens bathed in natural light will include European-style cabinetry, ceramic tile floors, Jenn-Air appliances including self-cleaning gas ranges with sealed burners, built-in microwave ovens, 21-cubic-foot refrigerators with ice makers, dish bowl, Kohler porcelain sinks, single-lever faucets and pantries are also standard. Several breakfast rooms lead to private terraces.

Deluxe bathrooms will include ceramic tile floors and shower surrounds, frameless shower doors and Kohler fixtures. Private master baths will be enhanced with Jacuzzi soaker tubs, separate tiled showers, drawered vanity cabinets, double-bowl Swanstone vanity tops, recessed medicine cabinets and, in fourth-floor units, skylights.

The development plan provides for large open spaces abutting a newly created lake that results in spectacular views for many unit owners and an informal recreational amenity with scenic bicycle and pedestrian links to the community's trail system for all owners.

Other recreational amenities will include an outdoor swimming pool with a sun deck and an exercise facility.

The first building now under construction is a two- and three-story L-shaped structure with 31 residences on the southwest section of the property. Accessed through a gabled entry, it will have 10 floor plans ranging in size from 1,546 to 2,524 square feet. Pre-construction prices for remaining units in the first building, range from $246,900 to $329,900, and include one heated indoor garage space. Additional garage parking and storage spaces are available. (Prices and availability are subject to change without notice.)

The appeal of Village Green Condominiums will be enhanced by an extensive and colorful landscaping plan that includes a European-style central courtyard beyond the gated entry.

The frontage area along Olde Half Day Road also will be heavily landscaped. Gardens will surround the buildings and ornamental trees and shrubs will be added near the building and entrances to enhance their appearance. Together with large green spaces, they are aimed to create an interesting, cohesive environment for the community, said Weiss.

In addition, Weiss explains, many custom enhancements will be made available to Village Green buyers, from floor plan modification to custom upgrades when desired.

The Village Green sales/display center is in downtown Lincolnshire in the Spectrum Office Centre, 175 Olde Half Day Road, one block north of Route 22 and one block east of Milwaukee Avenue. Hours are from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, closed Friday, or by appointment. For directions or information, call (847) 821-8080.

Protecting your home, maintaining peace of mind

Have you done all you can to safeguard your home against break-ins? A little common sense, some simple upgrades and good solid lighting may be just what you need to help protect you and your property.

Chris Carter, an expert with The Home Depot, offers the following suggestions as the first step toward feeling safer and making your home less attractive to burglars.

Use Common Sense
Avoid being an easy target by making your home look difficult to enter. Criminals don't want to work too hard to get in. Never hide keys in predictable spots. It's best to get to know your neighbors -- they can keep your eye on your home when you're away.

Update Your Garage Door Opener
If you have an attached garage, here's some important news. One of the most popular ways to enter a home is by stealing garage door opener codes. You have a one in ten chance that a criminal can use a generic opener with a code that matches your home, unless your opener is digital. The latest digital openers change those odds to one in 4.5 billion.

Make Your Home Look Occupied
Use inexpensive timers that will periodically turn on lights throughout your house. Consider leaving a television or stereo on when you're out.

Illuminate Entryways
Another major deterrent for burglars is a well-lit home. Keep extra bulbs on hand to replace outdoor lights as soon as they burn out. Install a motion-activated light for all shaded areas around your home.

Secure Doors and Locks
Start with a quality door, preferably steel with wood or steel frames. Use deadbolts with long screws that firmly attach the lock's plates to your door frame. Buy a security door with iron grates for added protection.

Illinois Girls State rep chosen

The auxiliary president of Morton Grove Unit #134 American Legion announced Julia Anne Selzer was the group's candidate for this year's Illinois Girls State Program. Girls state was a week's course held on the campus at Charleston, IL in June.

Each year a representative is selected to represent the Unit. She must be a junior in high school, have good scholastic attainment, participate in both school and extra curricular activities and be an all around high degree representative of the teens of today.

Julia is the daughter of David and Barbara Selzer and resides in Normal, IL at present but formerly lived in Morton Grove until about 4 years ago.

Her family ties date back a long time with community service beginning with grandparents and other relatives. Local grandparents are Terry and Frank Selzer, both past leaders of the Morton Grove American Legion and its Auxiliary.

Julia attends Central Catholic School in Normal majoring in English, Spanish and is active in basketball. She does babysitting and is looking forward to attending TWU or Eureka College as a future goal with a major undecided.

(TWU is Illinois Wesley University in Bloomington) and Eureka College is in Eureka where the teen is hoping to obtain a basketball scholarship.

Julia's siblings are Elizabeth, 14; Robert, 10 and Katherine, 9.

While at Girls State, the participants are taken to Springfield to see the Capitol, meet the Governor and Secretary of State and other state representatives and dignitaries.

The Morton Grove Unit paid her transportation and tuition as well as incidentals and spending money for souvenirs, etc.

Julia will appear at a fall meeting of the Morton Grove Unit to present a resumé of her activities while at Illinois Girls State this year.

New Vehicle Donation Program brings in unusual items

An unexpected aspect of Lambs Farm's new Vehicle Donation Program is the donation of unusual vehicles and other items. Since the introduction of the program, many interesting things have been donated including a 60' ferris wheel, a motor home, a 200-gallon fish tank, a moped, a grave site, baseball tickets, a red fire truck and merchandise from a store that is going out of business.

Lambs Farm's Vehicle Donation Program has been growing steadily since its launch in March of this year. With a modest marketing effort including the distribution of flyers at Lambs Farm events, word has spread and as many as three donations occur each day. Donors have found the program to be a convenient way to part with an unwanted vehicle that benefits them with a tax deduction and also helps others.

Stressed out? You might be grinding your teeth

About 95 percent of American adults grind their teeth at some point during their lives, but the majority goes undiagnosed, says a pioneer in the field. The result is that many tolerate pain and dental problems that dentists can treat successfully.

Wisconsin Dells attracts antique enthusiasts

Wisconsin Dells is quickly making a name for itself among antique collectors. With five thriving antique malls and more than 450 dealers, enthusiasts are finding their latest treasures in this unlikely antique community.

Located in the heart of the Dells River District, among area restaurants, candy shops and exciting attractions, antique shops sell everything from depression glass to Beanie Babies™. Whether you visit Oak Street Antique Mall or take the scenic route to visit the Antique Mall of Wisconsin Dells, you are sure to be enchanted by rare discoveries.

Oak Street Antiques and Collectibles is a premier antique shop that appeals to the young at heart by featuring a wide variety of collectible toys including Barbies, Hotwheels, autographed sports cards and Beanie Babies™. Customers also appreciate collections of character glasses, old magazines and handmade linens.

Days Gone By is a virtual antique museum that appeals to collectors of China dolls, sterling jewelry, depression glass and pedal cars. A second location hosts thousands of collectible books and magazines. A neighbor of Oak Street Antiques and Collectibles, this antique shop is open year round.

Located on Washington Avenue, the Victorian Parlor Antique Mall and Country Cottage is known for its decorative Victorian clothing, hats, linens and glassware. The parlor's unique decorations are a fine complement to the antiques available for purchase.

Antique Mall of the Wisconsin Dells, the oldest and largest antique mall in the area, features collections from more than 65 dealers. For visitors willing to travel beyond the downtown vicinity, the Antique Mall of Wisconsin Dells has a second location featuring collections from 285 antique dealers. Visitors will find antiques and collectibles including pottery, tins, trains, dolls and furniture as they explore artifacts from the past.

To find out more about area attractions, restaurants or shopping opportunities, contact the Wisconsin Dells Visitor & Convention Bureau at 1 (800) 223-3557 or visit: www.wisdells.com professor at the University of Southern California School of Dentistry, says that in addition to causing chronic facial pain and muscle fatigue, bruxism, or teeth-grinding, can wear down tooth enamel and most dental restoration, and can even cause teeth to become loose. Most bruxing occurs at night while people are asleep.

"When people brux, they often wake up with some very sore and tired facial muscles," said Dr. Tanaka in an interview with Dentistry Today. "That is a very good clue to them that they brux and should have a dentist do a thorough examination to diagnose the cause of their pain."

Dr. Tanaka said that more research is needed to determine the exact mechanisms that cause bruxism and jaw clenching, but it is believed that emotional and physical factors are involved. Stress and sleep disorders also are believed to be contributors.

To relax clenching muscles, dentists recommend applying warm washcloths on the side of the face. To help relieve stress, they recommend advice such as cutting down on caffeine or getting exercise. Custom-fitted mouthguards made by dentists worn at night prevent grinding.

Dr. Tanaka said that one potential problem in the huge boom of esthetic dentistry is that many tooth-colored materials used for fillings cannot withstand the unremitting pressure that can occur when a patient bruxes through the night. "The esthetic materials used now are better than ever," he said, "but there needs to be consideration of bruxism and clenching in what materials dentists choose to use."

Dr. Tanaka agreed that future generations of esthetic materials will withstand pressure from bruxism but that the issues underlying teeth grinding still need to be treated effectively for the overall health of the body.

Living with Low Vision?

There are ten steps to ensure your independence if you are living with low vision:

1. Investigate. There are national and local resources available that can help people who have low vision. Information and referrals can be provided by various agencies, organizations and institutions located throughout the U.S. These resources can help educate you on your eye condition, offer support services and provide rehabilitation services. Call Prevent Blindness America at 1 (800) 331-2020 and let us help get you started.
2. Advocate. If you've been told "nothing more can be done with regular corrective eyeglasses," you may need to have a low vision specialist's evaluation. Vision rehabilitation specialists can prescribe magnifiers, telescopic aids, closed-circuit televisions and other adaptive equipment that can enhance your existing vision. Ask your eye doctor for a referral to a vision rehabilitation specialist.

3. Support. If you are having difficulty adjusting to your vision loss or want to network with other people who are overcoming vision problems, a support group can be an invaluable resource. Support groups can assist people with vision loss by providing the opportunity to find out how others are coping. They can help you learn how to do old things in new ways. Receive information on resources and find support in a variety of other ways. If there is no support group available in your community, call Prevent Blindness America at 1 (800) 331-2020.
4. Communicate. Write down questions for your eye doctor before your next visit. Speak frankly with your eye doctor about your questions and concerns. Tell the doctor if you do not understand. Repeat if necessary. Ask a family member or close friend to go with you into the examining room. It helps to be able to confirm information with a family member. Including family members initially helps them get involved and enhances their understanding of your eye condition and future concerns. Family members may surprise you with their creative solutions.

5. Anticipate. If your eye doctor has told you that further vision loss is possible, get prepared. Living with low vision may be viewed either as an obstacle to your independence or more positively, as a challenge. You will need to consider developing new skills in your activities of daily life. Learn as much as you can about resources and rehabilitation services that are available. Learning as much as you can before vision is lost can make your adjustment easier.
6. Assert yourself. Don't take "no" for an answer! Most people who have low vision did not know that help is available. Ask your eye doctor for information and referrals. Remember you are on a mission to maintain your independence.

7. Educate. Learn everything you can about your eye condition. The more you understand, the less fear you may experience. Educating yourself helps you confront concerns and speak intelligently with your eye doctor and others. Knowledge gives you control.
8. Determination. Know that many people who have experienced vision loss at first feel anger, grief and depression. Losing even part of your vision can be devastating. Remain determined and persistent. You can make the most of your remaining vision.
9. Motivate. Empower yourself with the knowledge that much of what has to be done must be done by you. Take control.
10. Hope. Research. There are many exciting advances that have been made possible through medical research. This may put an end to many eye conditions and diseases in the future.

Tips to get rid of pesky mosquitoes

Warm summer afternoons and evenings may be perfect for outdoor activities, but how do you prevent unwanted pests like mosquitoes from joining in the fun?

In order to breed, mosquitoes only need a small amount of standing water. To keep them from nesting in your yard, remove standing water from outdoor fixtures such as bird baths, sand box covers and gutters. In addition, apply an insect repellent containing at least 15-25 percent DEET - the active ingredient in most repellents generally recognized as the most effective - which will keep insects from landing on and biting humans.

Because twilight is a popular time for mosquitoes to bite, protection from bugs in the evenings is crucial in order to prevent unnecessary bites. A wide range of outdoor bug lights are available to keep insects away from yards and porches.
