Peter Arvanis went home to Greece three weeks ago. His sons, George and Tom, their wives and Peter's daughter, Georgia, escorted their father to his eternal home in Nestand, a small farming community near Peopolis which is an hour south of Athens.

Twenty-five-hundred years ago in Ancient Greece we first learned no people can afford to neglect their own origins. From these Greeks we learned about the importance of the individual and of his achievements.

District 63 board chief denies conflict

Because the board president of East Maine School District 63, Karen Dimond, was formerly an associate in the law firm that currently represents the district, a resident has called for her resignation.

Arye Ginzberg voiced a conflict of interest charge at the Sept. 12 board meeting, stating, "Soon after you left the law firm, you joined the board." Dimond countered that when she applied for the board post, she announced that she had

Welcome mat pulled for Niles pigeons

The subject of pigeons flew at the August 22 Niles Village Board meeting when village attorney, Joseph Annunzio, suggested some residents may be keeping them, to the inconvenience of their neighbors.

An anti-pigeon-keeping ordinance was discussed but determined unnecessary when Annunzio re-discovered an old village law on the books which allows enforcement at the local level.

Library amends loan policy
 by Barbara A. Mendelsohn

At its September 20 meeting, the Niles library board approved policy changes in Internet access and audio visual loans.

Internet access in the computer lab will now be filtered the same as other Internet access stations throughout the library's system. Previously, the library depended on lab staff to monitor web sites being accessed, but on the advice of attorney, this policy is now consistent throughout the library.

Area family files suit against Nicor

The William Habetler family of Park Ridge, concerned about what long-range effects will result from mercury exposure within their home, has filed suit against Nicor.

The Habetlers, with their three children, vacated their home in mid-August after Nicor detected mercury. They have not been back since.

The children have had sleeping problems, said their mother, Teri. She believes mercury contributed to her digestive problems during a recent pregnancy. The 3-month-old baby also has experienced digestive problems, she said. The family complains of fatigue, anxiety and forgetfulness.

The suit alleges that Nicor and its contractor, Henkels & McCoy, were negligent in removing a gas regulator.

Nicor has found mercury at just under 2% of the homes in-

Canning Day raises funds for M-NASR

M-NASR volunteers had a very successful day collecting funds during the annual "canning day" for the Maine-Niles Association of Special Recreation (M-NASR). Drivers stopping at the traffic lights at the corner of Greenwood and Dempster were extremely generous and expressed support for the agency's efforts to provide recreation services for people with disabilities. M-NASR appreciates the partnership of the First National Bank of Morton Grove which sponsored a matching program for donations collected. Roadside signage announced the matching donation program encouraged many motorists to make contributions. Thanks to the volunteers and donors for their significant gifts to M-NASR.

Maine-Niles serves the towns of DesPlaines, Golf-Maine, Lincolnwood, Morton Grove, Niles, Park Ridge and Skokie. If you would like to receive a seasonal brochure or wish to offer support for individuals with special needs by volunteering, please call (847) 966-5522.

Agency serving adults with developmental disabilities opens new home in Park Ridge

For 38-year-old Mark Amidei, a life-long resident of Park Ridge and program participant of Avenues to Independence, there is no place like home.

Amidei, having a developmental disability, was faced with a future of uncertainty after the death of his father in 1998. Because of his disability, he was no longer able to live alone in his boyhood home that he once shared with his father. With the intention of helping Amidei remain in his home, Amidei's brothers contacted Avenues to Independence, a local not-for-profit organization that Mark Amidei was a program participant of that supports adults with developmental disabilities. Together, Avenues and the Amideis worked to resolve the situation, offering Amidei the opportunity to continue living in familiar surroundings, in the community and among the neighbors he knew so well.

As a result of the agency's intervention, today, Mark Amidei shares his home in Park Ridge with two other men from Avenues. Around-the-clock caretakers provided by the agency assist the residents with daily living activities. Mark Amidei's situation is not unfamiliar to the thousands of adults with disabilities living at home with aging parents or family members. As a result of medical advancements, individuals with developmental disabilities such as mental retardation, cerebral palsy or Down Syndrome, who at one time were never expected to live beyond their twenties or thirties, are now entering their fifties and sixties. With this increase in life expectancy arises the issue of who will care for these adults once their parents or family members are no longer able to. With a handful of alternatives, like Avenues, to residing in state-run facilities, the future for those with developmental disabilities is precarious.

According to Joni Kraft, Avenues Social Services Director, over the next five years 85% of the 250 adults the agency serves will be fifty years of age or older. While more than half of the agency's program participants live outside of Avenues residential programs, housing remains a critical issue, with approximately 100 individuals on the organization's waiting list. The significance of the opening of the home in Park Ridge is that it not only benefited Mark Amidei by allowing him to remain in his home, but provided the opportunity for two other adults to live in a community supported setting.

While the social benefits of living in community residences are vast, financial benefits exist as well. According to Kraft, the annual cost to the state to provide housing for one individual at a state-run facility or institution averages approximately $80,000. Conversely, for organizations such as Avenues which maintain private residences, the cost to state per individual averages less than half that, approximately $37,000. Living in community settings allows able individuals the possibility of employment and encourages self-sufficiency and productive participation in the community and its economy. Many of the individuals who participate in Avenues residential and work programs are taxpaying citizens and recipients of employee benefits.

Avenues currently supports 83 adults in its residences throughout several northwestern Chicago communities, including Park Ridge, Niles, Wheeling, Des Plaines and Arlington Heights. In addition to providing housing, Avenues maintains work centers in Wheeling and Des Plaines where training and employment is available, in addition to community job placement services. Avenues continually works to insure program participants develop independent living skills and promotes their involvement in community activities.

For Mark Amidei, being able to remain in his home has provided him with a secure future and the opportunity to continue to be a productive member of society. Most importantly, he is able to live his life as independently as possible.

Niles Township founding member of new Community Energy Cooperative

Energy curtailment program could yield over $1 million for local businesses. Last week, 30 Chicago area businesses reduced their electricity use for three hours, and have the potential to earn over $1 million from Commonwealth Edison (ComEd) through an innovative new incentive program run by the Community Energy Cooperative.

The Community Energy Cooperative (Co-op) started in June, 2000 and is the first program in the country to address problems of peak demand and reliability using consumer-based strategies at a community level, rather than a utility-wide approach, and to work with mid-sized companies. "Reliability is a local issue, especially in geographical areas that have a history of outages," said Kathy Tholin, general manager of the Community Energy Cooperative.

"When your electricity goes out, so does your neighbors", and the power outages not only affect the quality of life in a community, but they impact safety, too." Co-op members agree to cut the amount of ComEd's electricity they use during peak times, such as hot summer days, and in turn ComEd compensates the Co-op for the reduction. The Co-op compensates its commercial and industrial members at the rate of $100 per Kilowatt of reduction per year. This curtailment was the first test for this new pilot program.

One member, Niles Township municipality, has the potential to earn $80,000 for its participation. "When I first heard their pitch I thought they were trying to sell me the Brooklyn Bridge, but then I listened and realized that this makes a lot of sense," said Abe Selman, Village Manager for Niles Township. "The Co-op sent engineers over to meet with our public service people to identify strategies that we could use to reduce our energy loads, while maintaining our operational capacity. In addition to switching our biggest facilities off the ComEd grid and on to our own back-up generators, they suggested turning off lights, computers, and coffee makers and showed us ways to save money by raising the set points for our air conditioners. The latter are strategies we now employ daily to reduce energy costs."

Niles Township's two wastewater treatment plants, several pumping systems and the administration building all switched to back-up generators for the three-hour curtailment period. "We first got the call from the Co-op at 11:45 a.m. and by 1 p.m. the curtailment plan was in effect. The Co-op installed a special meter and phone line so they can take continuous readings remotely and post them on a web site for monitoring. Our total cost is the ongoing cost of a phone line -- $12 per month," said Selman. "This is a big win for the village."

Demand for blood exceeds donations

Across the nation the demand for blood for transfusion has increased as Americans live longer with chronic illnesses and the number of elective surgeries increase. Unfortunately the donor supply has not increased but rather has stayed the same and we are continually faced with shortages. A recent study done by the American Red Cross showed that while 76% of American adults expect blood to be available should they need it, only 10% of eligible donors actually donate on a regular basis.

Please consider becoming a blood donor! One pint of blood yielding red cells, platelets, plasma, and cryoprecipitate (a clotting component) can benefit as many as 4 people. In addition the donor has the added health benefits of reducing their own excess iron stores which can add to plaque in the arteries.

Health News

Who's going to crack next?

According to a mental health expert, there are recognizable signs to detect if you or someone you know or love is about to "go over the edge."

Surprising symptoms such as things seeming unreal, deja vu and "looking through someone else's eyes" are huge warning signals. Writing death poems, obsessing about death and violence, deliberately injuring or mutilating the body, pulling out hair, road rage, "freaking out" over minor stress, substance abuse and punching walls should never be ignored. Anyone talking about suicide, homicide, violence, hate, or death is also showing signs they may "snap" - particularly under stress.

"If you can spot the person be-

Diabetes program advanced evening classes

Managing diabetes doesn't mean giving up all the foods that one enjoys eating and other activities one enjoys doing. It just means to prepare dishes with relevant dietary information and also learn proper health care ways that can help one take control of the disease before it takes control of him or herself.

On October 9, 10 and 11, Holy Family's StableLives™ Diabetes Program will offer three evening classes for anyone who has previously participated in the "Basic Facts Courses" held at the Medical Center. These classes will be held from 6-8:30 p.m. in Holy Family's Diabetes Education Classroom. Individuals will have the opportunity to learn about label reading, restaurant eating, exercise, stress management and the complications of diabetes.

Diabetes affects approximately sixteen million people in the United States, yet nearly one half of these people are unaware they have it. The symptoms of diabetes often go unnoticed and therefore untreated. Elevated blood sugar levels can cause gradual damage to many parts of the body, perhaps for years, before an eventual diagnosis.

For more information or to register for this community series, please call Holy Family's StableLives™ Diabetes Program at 847-297-9977. There is a fee for these classes. Each individual may bring one guest. Refreshments will be served.

fore he/she cracks, you can help them dramatically and quickly with the right treatment," says Dr. Leland Heller, a Florida family physician, mental health expert, and author of the new book, "Biological Unhappiness" (Dyslimbia Press, 1999). His first book "Life at the Border" is on the recommended reading list at the National Institute of Mental Health.

Dr. Heller says some obvious signs that a tragedy may be brewing are when a person says things like, "I don't want to live, there's no point to living, everyone seems to have it in for me, life has no purpose, I'm worthless, why bother trying, or others would be better off if I was dead."

"Going over the edge is usually part of a treatable biologically based problem," explains Dr. Heller. "The trick is to recognize the problem before they snap. Many individuals have more than one diagnosis, and some combinations can be deadly."

Stress at work, home, and even at play is causing more reports of people "cracking" or mentally "breaking down," than ever before. The problem is leading to a staggering amount of murders, suicides, road rage, family abuse, drug abuse, unhappiness, and much more.

Dr. Heller has a free screening test online at <http://www.biologicalunhappiness.com>. The test helps determine if someone has any of a variety of disorders, from the Borderline Personality Disorder or Attention Deficit Disorder, to Bipolar Disorder or Panic Disorder, all of which are treatable biological conditions that can cause even a "good person" to lose control and commit a horrible tragedy.

"If we detect and handle the problems now, we can help keep many people from snapping," says Dr. Heller. "Most of the killing can be prevented and the suffering stopped."

Dr. Heller has answered a thousand "ask the doctor" questions on the internet about mental health, particularly about the borderline personality disorder. You can send him an "ask the doctor" question directly at his Website: www.biologicalunhappiness.com. ISBN #192894700X, $22.95 - available at Amazon.com, B&N.com, directly from Dyslimbia Press with a 30 day unconditional money back guarantee, 109 NE 19th Drive, Okeechobee, FL 34972 (S3 S&H), and soon in bookstores everywhere.

Resurrection and Dominick's team up to promote mammography screening

Resurrection Health Care and Dominick's Food and Drug stores for the fourth consecutive year are offering women an opportunity -- and an incentive -- to conveniently schedule a mammogram simply by visiting any one of a dozen selected Dominick's stores during October, National Breast Cancer Awareness Month.

Representatives from the four Resurrection Health Care hospitals will be at the Dominick's stores to provide education on breast screening, schedule appointments for mammograms and offer physician referrals for women who do not have a personal physician. Women who go into one of the 12 participating Dominick's stores and sign up for a mammogram will receive a $20 Dominick's gift certificate after completion of their mammogram at a Resurrection Health Care facility.

Participants can schedule mammograms at these Resurrection Health Care facilities: Resurrection Medical Center and Our Lady of the Resurrection Medical Center in Chicago, Westlake Hospital in Melrose Park, St. Francis Hospital Breast Cancer in Evanston and North Shore Breast Center/North Shore Medical Group in Chicago.

The American Cancer Society estimates 182,800 new cases of breast cancer will be diagnosed in the United States in 2000, and that one of every eight women in the United States has a lifetime risk of breast cancer. The society recommends annual mammograms for women 40 and older.

Resurrection Medical Center representatives will be available at these Dominick's locations: Thursday, October 5 and Friday, October 6 -- 1900 South Cumberland Avenue, Park Ridge. Thursday, October 12 and Friday, October 13 -- 6931 Dempster Street, Morton Grove.

Morton Grove Woman's Club new president

The Morton Grove Woman's club introduces its new president elect - Helen Sobie, her term of office extends from September, 2000 through May, 2002. She has been a member of The Morton Grove Woman's Club for more than eight years. During that time she served on the following committees: (each a two year term) - Courtesy - Ways-and-Means - and - Vice President, as well as one year on the Luncheon/Fashion Committee.

Helen is the mother of 5 sons and 2 daughters, 16 grandchildren and 1 great granddaughter.

Her goals for The Morton Grove Woman's Club are many. First and foremost she would like to increase awareness and gain recognition of The Morton Grove Woman's Club's many ongoing projects. By raising funds through philanthropic projects, the Club is able to assist the community by aiding needy families and assisting in the welfare of others, i.e., our Veterans, Native Americans, the Safe House for mothers and their children and also helping with scholarship funds. Presently, a project is being developed to draw attention to the preservation of our natural resources.

Our very best wishes to Helen during her term of office.

Youth Support Group 'Rainbows'

The Youth Support program called Rainbows will again be offered on Sunday Mornings in the St. Peter Catholic School building in Skokie, beginning in October.

Sign-up day is October 8, at 11 a.m. in the school cafeteria.

The program is made-up of small support groups of children who are living in single families, or families that are going through painful transitions. However it is not a counseling or therapy session. It is strictly peer support with caring, trained adults as facilitators.

Within the small support groups, the children are helped to express themselves and to understand their feelings, to feel acceptance for what has happened, and to feel a sense of belonging and love.

The program does not attempt to solve problems, but does provide peer support, nurturing adults, and a secure place for children to be themselves. The program is ecumenical and all children are welcome, regardless of their religious beliefs.

For information call at 847-679-1202 during the day, or 847-966-8063 in the evening.

SJB preschoolers' museum adventure

Recently the St. John Brebeuf preschoolers' experience were further broadened as each class went on a field trip to one of our area's children's museums.

The "Turning Fours" visited Kohl's Children's Museum in Wilmette. Children who have been there before were offered a focused workshop entitled "Amazing Animals" for the first part of their visit. Here special stories and activities on animal homes were presented. The activities included making a bird's nest, digging in a tub of dirt for real earthworms, crawling through underground-like tunnels, winding webs on a board and mask making. The children could do as many activities as they wanted, then join the rest of the children in the exhibits offered at the museum. Kohls does a wonderful job of changing and upgrading their exhibits every year we visit. This year the children's favorites included face painting, constructing and moving building materials, fishing, shopping, being in a train and sports car, dancing on TV, caring for doll babies, crawling through a giant maze, dressing up in Grandma's attic, painting in the art studio and working in the new exhibit "Animals as Architects." The children had such had time for a workshop entitled "Staying Healthy" which taught us the importance of regular exercise, healthy nutrition, adequate rest, good hygiene and proper care of teeth through giant models and a puppet show. We then played in so many exhibits related to health education in the rest of the museum. We also ate a healthy lunch together during our time here. This was the second field trip the "Turning Fives" had taken this year. Many parents came along for this trip too.

Why Select A Family Owned Funeral Home?

- *Prices are traditionally much lower than those of corporate owned funeral homes.
- *Our funeral directors and staff do not work on commissions. They will never pressure you to buy something that you don't want or need.
- *All of our preparation work is done at our funeral homes by licensed funeral directors. Your loved one will not be transported to a "factory like" embalming facility.
- *You will be treated with the respect and appreciation that only a family owned business can offer.
- *We consistently upgrade our facilities and equipment to offer families only the best.
- *The comfort of knowing the person you're dealing with. You will always see a familiar face at our chapels. Our staff is not rotated among dozens of funeral homes.

A festival for the future of our children

In a world filled with violent and exploitative media, the Chicago International Children's Film Festival is a welcome addition to any parent's agenda. Values take precedence in films like "I'll Remember April" starring Haley Joel Osment and "Tommy and the Wildcat" an adventure story from Finland. This year's festival offers more than 180 films from around the world, with age-appropriate selections for children from 2-15.

For sheer fun, parents and children alike can enjoy the world premieres of "Ra-Tim-Bum Castle," a Brazilian Harry Potter-esque story and "The Spooky House" starring Ben Kingsley and an 8 foot jaguar named, 'Shadow.' On weekends, the festival even includes the youngest members of the family with special international animation programs called "Animal Crackers" for toddlers. Perfect fare for young people and perfectly acceptable by parents, The Chicago International Children's Film Festival was cited by Marjorie Hogan, Chair of the AAP's Committee on Communications as "A jewel representing the very best in international children's video and television programs that have passed strict criteria for selection."

The Festival will be presented at Facets Multi-Media, 1517 W. Fullerton Ave., Chicago, and at the new General Cinemas City North, 2600 N. Western Avenue, offering stadium seating, parking and state-of-the-art sound.

Tickets are $5, all ages, all seats. For schedules and information call the festival offices at 773-281-9075. For group reservations, call Karin Hansen at 773-281-9075. Special school screenings will be held on weekday mornings, from October 13 through November 3.

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. - Admire art? Collect "everything Mickey"? Have a taste for international foods and wines? Follow every swing of golf's top players? Enjoy Christian music? A Latin bear? Soaps? Holiday lights? Snow flurries at Christmastime?

Walt Disney World Resort presents festivals and events celebrating all those passions this fall and holiday season—and continues the year-long Millennium Celebration at Epcot. Hot off the grill, new owner takes over Niles diner

by Laurie Matlin

If the smell of sausages sizzling on the grill doesn't give away your locale as you slide onto an available stool at the counter, it would be the sounds that would convince you that the Niles Grill, 8850 North Milwaukee Avenue, is one legitimate diner.

Hashbrowned potatoes crackle on the grill just on the other side of the counter. Plates clank together, followed by an occasional crash. And, more quietly, the dishwasher's gentle hum tells of customers who have already eaten and been on their way.

Dressed in a clean white apron covering a white uniform shirt, owner Zig Balazhi is hard at work on this mid-week workday. On this day, just after the lunchtime crowd has mostly dispersed, several men sat singularly or with a dining companion at the counter or tables, savoring the last of their midday meals and reading newspapers. Amid it all, there's Ziggy, as many here call him, making an omelet at the counter like an old friend.

Far from the quintessential greasy spoon, the Niles Grill offers good food, jolly banter for the regulars, a spotless environment and just a bit of the quirky ambience that often designates a diner.

Food here is always fresh and made to order, Balazhi points out, adding that there are no pre-cooked foods waiting to be served. Breakfast, the premier of the diner's food, is served at any time. And Balazhi, who has been a cook for more than 20 years, personally serves up many of the menu's offerings.

Balazhi has been owner of the Niles Grill for only the last four months but he easily names all the regulars as he scans the restaurant during a rare break from activity. But then, Balazhi used to be one of the "regulars," too. That was before he decided to become his own boss at the restaurant he used to visit.

The change-in-ownership came unexpectedly, Balazhi explained. While eating in a booth one day earlier this year, the restaurant's former owner told Balazhi that he was looking to sell the place. When Balazhi fantasized about how nice it would be to run the grill, his dining companion, a former boss and friend of many years, encouraged him to buy it. Two months after first hearing of the idea, Balazhi became the new owner of the Niles Grill.

Under his ownership, the menu has been expanded and the place has been spruced up. New blinds have been added and the walls repainted.

What hasn't changed is substantive, good food at reasonable prices. Balazhi kept all the staples -- steak and eggs, omelets, pancakes and French toast -- but he added some additional selections, including pork chops with eggs and waffles of various kinds. He kept the prices the same, too, with an average meal selling for about $5.

"I get to meet a lot of people. We get a lot of families, business people, store people," Balazhi says with only a trace of an accent. "It's fun."

The restaurant, which is located just north of Dempster Street, is open from 5:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily.

Maine Township offers parenting program

Oakton announces dual admission agreement with Barat College

Under terms of an agreement signed recently, Oakton Community College students who meet the admission requirements for Barat College and who formally request dual admission will be admitted to both institutions simultaneously.

This agreement will ease the transition process for Oakton graduates completing their baccalaureate degrees at Barat. While working toward their associate in arts (A.A.) or associate in science (A.S.) degrees at Oakton, dual-admitted students will have full access to the Barat College offices of admissions, financial aid and academic advising. Barat will designate a Dual Admissions Coordinator to work with Oakton counselors in advising students individually and in exploring scholarship and financial aid opportunities for which they may qualify.

Students remain eligible for dual admission as long as they maintain a 2.0 grade point average at Oakton. They will have junior standing at Barat upon completion of their A.A. or A.S. degrees. Academic program requirements at Barat will take effect for dual-admitted students as soon as they begin their coursework at the four-year college.

In the past two years, Oakton Community College has developed similar agreements with Roosevelt University, Western Illinois University, Northern Illinois University, Northeastern Illinois University and Loyola University Chicago.

For more information about the Dual Admission Agreement, contact Oakton's Office of Admission and Enrollment Management at (847) 635-1629 or Barat's Office of Admissions at (847) 295-4260.

Chamber offers assistance with consumer complaints

The Niles Chamber of Commerce and Industry encourages you to shop at Chamber member locations. As a bonus for your efforts, the Chamber will assist any consumer with complaints against Chamber members. Simply contact the Chamber office for a complaint form, send it back, and the Chamber will do the rest. "Chamber members most often are businesses that are invested in the community, they have good reputations and want to maintain their good standing in the Chamber," stated Denise McCreery, Executive Director of the Niles Chamber. "They are eager to resolve any problems before they escalate. We will accompany a letter from the Chamber, along with the complaint, encouraging members to resolve the issue."

For more information or for a complaint form, call the Chamber at (847) 966-7606. The Niles Chamber does not guarantee results, but will try to assist.

Honors abound at Park District meeting

by Barbara Mendelsohn
Niles Park District Grounds Foreman, Lupe Martinez, received a 10-year service plaque at the district's meeting Tuesday, September 19. Martinez was complimented for an excellent standard of grounds maintenance by Joe Anderson of the Niles Baseball League. Anderson, who personally donated "Gang Boxes" (equipment storage) to park facilities, received a plaque from the district for his efforts on behalf of Niles baseball. Anderson said 41 teams played on Niles ball fields this summer. Lastly, Anderson presented a $2,000 check to the board from the Niles Baseball League.

Also discussed were Pioneer Park's new Bocci court and the startup of a new season at IceLand.

Four volunteers awarded for commitment to literacy

Four volunteers in the VITA (Volunteers In Teaching Adults) program at Oakton Community College have been honored this year for their long-term commitment to literacy.

Jane Carey of Northbrook and Kathleen Harrold of Winnetka were awarded Spotlight on Service Awards, sponsored by the Illinois Press Association, the Illinois Literacy Foundation and the Office of the Illinois Secretary of State. Carol Barrington of Skokie received the Tutor of the Year Award, sponsored by the Rotary Club of Chicago and the Literacy Volunteers of America-Illinois. John Kingston of Glenview received the Golden Rule/Outstanding Volunteer Award from the Volunteer center of Northwest Suburban Chicago and JCPenney.

Together, these four volunteers have contributed thousands of hours of service to Oakton's Alliance for Lifelong Learning (ALL) Literacy Program, which offers several levels of instruction at locations throughout the district. English as a Second Language (ESL) classes help adult non-native speakers acquire listening, speaking, reading and writing skills necessary to function in the American culture. The Learn to Read to Learn (LTRL) literacy program is designed for adult native speakers of English and ESL adults who need to improve their reading and writing skills in pursuit of specific life goals. The Bridges to Academic Reading Program concentrates on the needs of ESL students entering General Education Degree (GED) preparation or college classes.

"I know it's trite to say, 'I receive more than I give,'" said Carey, a Spotlight on Service Award winner. "But it's true. I give them vocabulary, but I have a lot of learning about their countries. I give them grammar, but I make friends from all over the world. I give them pronunciation, but I have the opportunity to see the United States through their eyes."

For more information about volunteering in Oakton's VITA/ESL Literacy Program, call (847) 965-1426.

Letter from the Executive Director

by Joseph V. LoVerde Jr., Executive Director

Dear Niles Residents, The Niles Park District continues to offer quality programming while dealing with the rising concerns of any business. We face the same challenges as all businesses. A serious concern is the ability to hire the staff required to run an effective park district. The current robust economy presents the same problems to us as in the private sector.

People are hard to find and positions are a challenge to fill. Qualified aquatics people are becoming a major concern. The safety of our customers will not be compromised. We won't open our pools without the proper number of lifeguards and deck attendants. While other industries offer these young adults more pay we see summer park employees continue to decline.

As I look back on our summer season, I want to share with you some interesting information. The following summer information (from April 15-September 5) will give you a sense of how busy our summers are and how many summer employees are needed:

- * Over 6,500 customers registered for recreation programs.
- * Over 40,000 customers attended our pools.
- * Over 38,000 rounds of golf were played.
- * The following are the staff hours worked:

Administration/Finance	7,325 hours
Golf Course Maintenance	10,320 hours
Parks Service Maintenance	12,650 hours
Recreation/Registration	15,575 hours
Athletics	10,160 hours
Pioneer Park	7,420 hours
Iceland	12,340 hours
Pool Operations	25,265 hours
Golf Course Clubhouse	9,107 hours
Total:	110,162 hours

You can see the importance of our summer staff. As always we will continue to provide quality programming, in light of the tax cap and new challenges we may face. I thank all the summer staff for a job well done. I thank you for your continued support.

Police said the man admitted making a threatening phone call that implied a bomb threat on September 5. The man was charged with misdemeanor disorderly conduct. A court date was set for October 19.

DUI

A 23-year-old Glenview man was arrested in the 400 block of 4th Street shortly before 5 a.m. September 16 on charges of driving under the influence of alcohol. Use of helmets on school premises

At the September 11 Board of Education meeting, School Board members agreed to establish a policy requiring students to wear helmets while on District 64 property, when coming to school and leaving school to go home when using any of the following (or a similar apparatus):

- Bicycle
- Roller blades
- Skateboard
- Scooter

District 64 administrators will develop rules and guidelines to support the proposed policy and communicate them to District 64 families, stressing the safety of our children. If adopted at the October 23 Board meeting, the policy will take effect immediately.

PTO Presidents strongly favor a helmet policy. District 64 will be working with parents through their PTO's to find ways of encouraging students to wear helmets when participating in "wheeled" activities.

District administrators plan to draft a letter to the City of Park Ridge and Village of Niles encouraging them to consider developing a helmet ordinance.

New teacher's aide at SJB

Greetings everyone! I would like to introduce myself to the St. John Brebeuf community. My name is Margaret Szajowska and I have been hired to work with Mrs. Nichols as her teacher's aide in the four-year-old pre-school program. This is my first formal participation in a classroom setting, however, I do have previous experience working with young children in a home day care environment as well as years of various volunteer jobs at my children's elementary school.

My educational background includes a BA in Business with High Honors from Northeastern Illinois University. Other areas of concentration were in computer science, dance, and foreign language. I speak Polish fluently and I have also studied Spanish and sign language. One highlight of my college experience was the study of three international business courses abroad in England, France, and Italy. In June of 2000, I returned to school to pursue a post graduate certification or a Master's program in Early Childhood Education, still to be decided.

I am very delighted and blessed to be a part of St. John Brebeuf's family. I cannot imagine a better way to further my education in this field than to have this hands on opportunity to work with Mrs. Nichols and your wonderful, special children.

Cardella said, "I am very pleased to be given an opportunity to increase my ownership in the firm. Knowing that I share ownership of the company I work for is tremendously rewarding."

Johnson is a native of Niles, Ill., and joined Edward Jones in 1991. She was promoted to senior branch office administrator in 1998 and is responsible for management of the office.

"I am honored to be invited to increase my ownership in the firm," Joanne said. "I really enjoy working for Edward Jones, and I am very proud of the way we do business and the way we treat investors."

John Bachmann, the firm's managing partner, added, "Edward Jones is owned entirely by its employees. We believe one of the best ways to reward outstanding associates is to offer them an opportunity to share in the ownership of the company they help build. I'm pleased to say that Jeff and Joanne have most definitely earned their limited partnership offerings."

Edward Jones traces its roots to 1871. The Jones Financial Cos., was created in 1987 to enable the firm to expand into new business areas while allowing it to remain a partnership. The Jones Financial Cos. owns Edward Jones, EDJ Leasing Co., and its two international financial-services subsidiaries, Edward Jones Canada and Edward Jones Limited in the United Kingdom.

Edward Jones is the largest financial-services firm in the nation in terms of offices. It currently has more than 6,000 offices and plans to expand its office network to 10,000 by 2003.

Edward Jones offers a variety of investments to help individual investors meet their financial needs and goals. These investments include: certificates of deposit; government, municipal and corporate bonds; mutual funds; stocks; annuities; insurance; and retirement-planning tools, including IRAs.

Abigail Fillmore, First Lady of President Millard Fillmore, created a stir by installing a bathtub in the White House.

"Is the mayor asking us to only shop in Niles?"

Dear Editor:

It's interesting how the politicians scramble to find a solution to a loss of their income, and a relatively small loss at that. Our mayor claims that internet sales are cutting too deeply into local sales tax revenue to be ignored anymore, and has launched a public-relations campaign to convince us not to buy over the internet (and presumably via catalogs which are also normally sales tax free), at least until local governments figure out a way to tax them. Then it will probably be okay again.

When common, ordinary folks lose their jobs (which usually includes their health insurance, etc.) to the changing times and new technology, they're told by the politicians that it's the normal evolution of the marketplace, and that they'll just have to change with the times. When the politicians lose just a small percentage of their income, for the very same reasons, it's not the normal evolution of the marketplace, no, it's a monster that has to be dealt with quickly and without debate.

I wonder if the mayor, and others who have joined his campaign to recoup sales tax revenues have ever considered this: why would anyone want to shop via the internet instead of in the local marketplace? Maybe it's because they can only find exactly what they need via the internet. Or maybe it's because they've found better prices than those offered in their own home town. Or it could be that instead of fighting traffic and wasting gasoline, they've simply decided to "let their fingers do the walking" as an old Yellow Pages ad once suggested. Whatever the reason, or combination of reasons, it's not anything nefarious, it's practically and it's the normal evolution of the marketplace.

If in our travels to other towns, or (heaven forbid), another state, we buy things there and bring them back home to use, are we someday going to be subject to a "use" tax as well? It impacts the Niles sales tax revenue base in the very same way doesn't it? Is the mayor asking us to only shop in Niles, otherwise we're somehow being disloyal to Niles and its merchants? As John Stossel would say, "Give me a break!"

Name withheld upon request.

Jerry Lewis thanks Niles

Dear Editor:

I knew we could count on the wonderful folks of Niles! Thank you for helping the Jerry Lewis MDA Telethon raise a record $54,610,289 in pledges and contributions.

Hundreds of celebrities and nearly a million volunteers worked Labor Day weekend to help "my kids." Yet, all our hats are off to you Niles residents for phoning in pledges to the Telethon on WGN-TV, for supporting fire fighter "Fill-the-Boo" drives and other local MDA events. Your caring gives tremendous support to children and adults in Illinois and to families across the country.

Thanks to you, MDA maintains 230 clinics, including the clinics at the University of Chicago Hospitals, at Northwestern Memorial Hospital and at Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center, all in Chicago, plus the clinics at Evanston Hospital and Hinsdale Hospital. These havens of help are staffed by top medical experts dedicated to giving life-enhancing care to people challenged by muscle-wasting diseases.

Thanks to you, MDA will continue to accelerate worldwide research seeking treatments and cures for devastating neuromuscular disorders which affect people of all ages, both sexes and every nationality. You'll be interested to know that the breakthroughs being pioneered by MDA investigators may also soon lead to therapies for heart disease, cancer, AIDS, Alzheimer's, Huntington's, Parkinson's, and cystic fibrosis.

For more information or to get involved, call your local MDA office at (630) 574-8540, MDA national headquarters at (800) 572-1717, or visit www.mdaua.org.

Sincerely,
Jerry Lewis
MDA National Chairman

Disney on Ice™ presents Toy Story

At first glance, the costume design for Disney on Ice presents Toy Story, gliding into Rosemont's Allstate Arena, September 28-October 2, and Chicago's United Center, October 6-9, may seem fairly straightforward. But making Buzz Lightyear, Woody, Mr. Potato Head®, Bo Peep and Slinky® Dog look like the characters in the hit Disney film isn't all kid's play.

Tickets for Disney on Ice presents Toy Story may be purchased at the Allstate Arena box office, 6920 N. Mannheim Road, The United Center box office, 1901 W. Madison St., and all Ticketmaster locations. To order tickets by phone, call (312) 559-1212. Prices are $9.75, $17.75, $22.75, and $45. Groups, call (847) 671-9800 for Allstate Arena tickets or (312) 455-7469 for United Center tickets. For general show information, call the Allstate Arena at (847) 635-6601 or the United Center at (312) 455-4500. To learn more about Disney On Ice, log on to www.DisneyOnIce.com.

Polish Women's Alliance hosts screening of Wajda's Pan Tadeusz

The Polish Women's Alliance of America (PWAA) is hosting a private screening of the film Pan Tadeusz directed by the Oscar-winning Polish filmmaker, Andrzej Wajda, at 5 p.m. on Saturday, September 30 at The Society for Arts, 1112 N. Milwaukee Avenue, Chicago. The film is in Polish with English sub-titles.

Andrzej Wajda is regarded as the father of modern Polish cinema. And recently, Hollywood acknowledged his talent by awarding him a special Oscar for lifetime achievement - the first time an eastern European earned such recognition. Not resting on this or his past achievements, Wajda took on the task of filming the legendary literary work of Adam Mickiewicz's "Pan Tadeusz."

When the film was released in Poland last year it defeated the Hollywood blockbusters Titanic and Star Wars at the box office. Among Wajda's most successful films were the Man of Marble and its sequel Man of Iron about the disillusionment of a father and son under the communist system. Man of Iron won the Cannes Film festival's Golden Palm in 1981.

The private screening will be shown in an intimate art gallery setting and includes a wine and buffet reception; tickets are $35 per person. To order tickets, please contact PWAA Vice President Sharon Zago at (847) 384-1208; since seating is limited reservations should be made by September 23. Proceeds from the screening will benefit the organization's "Komitet Oswiaty," which supports and promotes culture, heritage and educational programs for young people in the Polish and Polish American communities.

years ago - went back to his home briefly and then returned where he lived with his wife and children in Morton Grove.

The Arvantis' story is a familiar one. The sons came first, emigrating to the United States in the mid-50's and early 60's. Eighteen year old George came first, becoming a waiter at Chicago's Drake Hotel. Five years later his brother, Tom, followed, becoming a cook in another downtown Chicago restaurant. In 1971 Peter joined his children who were then owners of their own restaurant at Oakton Street and Waukegan Road in Niles.

We remember Peter working at the salad bar at the front of the restaurant. A proud smiling man, Peter spoke little English and yet greeted the customers, remembering all their names. After the greeting he would share time with them, somehow overcoming the language barrier. He carried the Zorba qualities of the ancient Greeks, a man of zest and joy.

In Peter's younger days he was a soldier who guarded the Greek royal family and was part of the honor guard at the memorial of the unknown soldier.

At Peter's funeral four priests and a bishop presided. The townspeople were there to honor a good man whose hard work ethic was rooted in the farmlands of Nestand. He was buried alongside his wife of 60 years.

The Arvanti-Arvey story is a success story which has been repeated by many immigrant families. But the hard work that led to their success as restaurant entrepreneurs was handed down from the father to the sons. From working the farmland south of Athens to creating the restaurant in Niles manifested the harmony and individual achievement that were gifts handed down from Ancient Greece.

Peter was a warm and loving man whose 17 grandchildren and great grandchildren would sit at his feet while he sang Greek folksongs which told of bygone days. It was that other world in another time which Peter was handing down to the next generations—the ethic of hard work and the zest for life and the pursuit of individual achievement—which is the legacy of Peter Arvantis as well as the legacy of Ancient Greece.

white male, in his 20s and approximately 5 foot, 7 inches tall. The man apparently entered the store and looked around for about 20 minutes before asking a clerk where the cat nips were located. After being shown the item, the man came to the check-out counter and placed his items on the counter, according to police reports. He then revealed a black, semi-automatic handgun, pointed it at the manager behind the counter and said, "This is a stick-up." He told the manager not to call anyone or he would shoot, police said.

The man then reportedly ordered the two employees at the front counter, as well as three other er people who were in the store, into a back closet and told them all to remain quiet. He took the manager to the front of the store where he ordered her to open the safe.

After bringing the manager back to the closet, the gunman ordered the one male customer into a separate closet and told the five prisoners to strip to their underwear. Before leaving, the gunman instructed the five to wait 20 minutes before leaving the closets or, he warned, they would be shot.

After a short time of waiting, the five were able to safely find their clothes on a shelf in the store and call police. There were no injuries in the robbery.

Shawkat Abdullah Elabed, 47, was arrested on charges of aggravated criminal sexual assault, unlawful use of weapon, home invasion, and possession of firearm without a Firearm Owner's Identification Card. Bond was set at $300,000, according to police.

Elabed had a past relationship with the victim and had been babysitting when the victim returned home the previous evening. He threatened to kill the victim and shoot himself, police said. The woman called police while Elabed was asleep.

Elabed is scheduled to appear at the Skokie's Cook County Circuit Court at 1:30 p.m. on October 25.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency discovered traces of mercury at Lutheran General Hospital recently after Nicor inspectors found none, a hospital spokesman said.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency recently began supervising cleanup of the Chicago Heights scrapyard where Nicor disposed of mercury-filled regulators. About 60 out of the 200-plus regulators located at the site still contained mercury.

Pigeons . . .

About four households in the village keep the birds on property, as carrier or racing pigeons, Annunzio said, and added, "We just want everybody to comply with village ordinances."

Inspectors from the Department of Zoning will begin enforcement in about a month or so, Annunzio said, as he posed the question, "Would you want 50 pigeons flying over your head three times a day?"

'Click-it or Ticket'

During the last 12 months the Niles Police Department has been a participatory agency in the "Click-it or Ticket" (America Buckles up Children) program. This traffic safety campaign sponsored by IDOT provided funds to the Niles Police Department via grant money to cover the costs of enforcement for this special 5 part enforcement campaign.

The Niles Police Department has just completed the final phase of enforcement which ran from August 21st through Labor Day weekend, September 5th, 2000. During this period officers assigned to this traffic safety campaign arrested 5 drivers for DUI (Driving Under the Influence), issued 52 seat belt tickets, 245 speeding tickets and cited 207 other miscellaneous moving violations.

The year end results of the survey conducted on this traffic safety awareness campaign was illustrative of its success revealing that motor vehicle seatbelt use increased from 63% to 68%. IDOT has approved the Niles Police Department to continue enforcement of this IMAGE Grant for the year 2001. The first phase of traffic safety awareness will commence around the Thanksgiving holiday in late November 2000. The Niles Police Department would like to remind all motorists to not only be conscious of traffic safety but practice it and BUCKLE UP!
