West Nile threat continues in Niles

TRACY YOSHIDA

The Northwest Mosquito Abatement District has been keeping its eye on the Glenview/Niles border ever since a batch of mosquitoes in that area tested positive for the West Nile Virus at the end of July.

Treatments have been done and since Sept. 7 there has been no sign of the virus in that area. "This is the critical time," said Northwest Mosquito Abatement District Director Mike Szyka. He said that now that the weather is warming up this is the time of year for residents to be more cautious.

Szyka said that there were fewer infected mosquitoes found and fewer human cases of West Nile Virus this year since the summer has been cooler.

However, he said residents should still wear repellent and be sure to empty out any standing water, such as in flower pots. "You have to protect yourself," said Szyka.

A dead Blue Jay tested positive for the virus on Aug. 14. Szyka said that hundreds of dead birds have been reported to the Northwest Mosquito Abatement District's website, but that does not mean they all tested positive.

In Illinois, there have been 10 human cases, including one in Cook County in Evanston. There have not been any fatalities in Illinois, according to Szyka.

Szyka said that when rain is in the forecast people should be extra careful by making sure there is no standing water near their homes.

Park Ridge Mayor Wietecha resigns post after 12 years

ANDREW SCHNEIDER

Park Ridge Mayor Ron Wietecha resigned this Monday, after about 12 years in the office.

Wietecha said he was surprised about his own decision. "I didn't make it until a couple of weeks ago. It's right for me, and it's right for Park Ridge." Among the reasons Wietecha cited for his decision were a desire to spend more time with his family, and a need for younger blood in the city.

"The job of mayor today requires a lot more time then it did when I started 12 years ago," he said. "It needs someone with more fire in the belly. I'm a volunteer and I don't need to anymore. It's time for me to get out of the way."

Wietecha said the increasing time commitment that the job required prevented Wietecha from spending time with his family.

"I've got one son that's married and another wedding to plan," he said. "I'm changing my priorities in life. Among his new priorities, are playing more golf and working out more often."

"I intend to start an exercise program as soon as possible and lose the 15 pounds around my waist," said Wietecha.

Besides working with the City Council, Wietecha said he will miss working with the City's professional staff.

"Park Ridge is one of the best places to live," he said. "And that's due in no small part to the professional staff. The employees are highly motivated. I think that Park Ridge enjoys one of the best city staffs in the entire state of Illinois."

Wietecha's resignation means that the City Council will have to appoint an alderman to serve as interim mayor until the end of Wietecha's term in 2005. The selection of an interim mayor was scheduled to take place on Monday, October 6.

Morton Grove trustees consider sales tax increase

WENDY ELLIS

The Morton Grove Board of Trustees is expected to approve a .25 percent increase in the village sales tax at its Sept. 22 board meeting. The trustees gave first reading to an ordinance that increases the local sales tax from 8.50 percent to 8.75 percent at their Sept. 8 meeting. The increase would raise the community's local option sales tax rate to a full 1 percent, and would generate around $450,000 in added tax revenue next year.

If the Village wants to begin collecting the added revenue January 1, then the state must be notified of the increase by Oct. 1.

The new sales tax is just one of several revenue generating options the board is considering. Also under discussion is an increase in waste management services, and the charging of a fee for that service. The Board of Trustees will hold a special meeting Thursday, Sept. 20, at 8:45 a.m., to go over some of the options. City Administrator Pro Tem Ralph Czerwinski is hoping to focus on the solid waste proposal at that meeting. Also on the table for future discussion are a possible food and beverage tax, a local motor fuel tax, water and sewer rate adjustments and a real estate transfer tax increase.

The Board has already approved a change in ambulance fees. The village will continue charging out of town residents for ambulance service. Morton Grove Residents who have insurance that covers ambulance service will have their insurance billed for the service. Rather than establish a set fee, the village will accept whatever amount is covered by the insurance. The Village Board approved the new plan at its Sept. 8 board meeting.

Administrators hope the ambulance revenue will bring another $250,000 in to city coffers.

Although several new businesses have recently moved into town, the loss of Aft Restaurants last year cost the Village $3 million in tax revenue, which must somehow be replaced if the village is to stay in the black.

Edward Jones: Take Advantage of Cut in Capital Gains Rate

BY JEFFREY CARDELLA

By now, you’re probably fairly familiar with some elements of the Tax Relief Act of 2003. If you have children at home, you’re likely aware your child can still benefit from “kiddie” payments. And if you haven’t, your “tax rates” will increase in response to an increase in marginal tax rates. But here’s another key area of the new legislation that you may not know: the cut in capital gains taxes.

You recall that in the late 1990’s, Congress passed a new law that provided for a ten-year deferral of capital gains taxes for the sale of homes. This was followed in 2001 by a morerecent law that provided a full deferral of capital gains taxes on the sale of a principal residence or home. Today, the result is a ten-year deferral of capital gains taxes for the sale of a home.

As the first of the ten-year deferral period is now coming to an end, it’s a good time to take a look at the possibilities that exist in the real estate market...capital gains taxes, opportunity: If you give them at your gains taxes, they will increase in response to an increase in marginal tax rates. But here’s another key area of the new legislation that you may not know: the cut in capital gains taxes.

Morton Grove Police Department is considering a new parking plan for the area.

The village is looking into the development of a program that is reasonable, responsible, and practical. The village council has approved the study, which has been ongoing for some time.

From June 2002 to June 2003, parking congestion and racing problems were an issue. The plan was presented to the village, and oncoming traffic was added to the streets as a focus. In July and August, the number of service calls in the area was reduced by 79%.

Parking congestion and racing problems have been an issue for some time, but the village has been under consideration for some time. The plan was presented to the village and was approved by the village council. The village is considering a new parking plan for the area.

They hold an annual summer picnic, two annual fishing trips, usually to Illinois or Wisconsin in July, and a catered dinner around August 8th at Joe's Tavern in Morton Grove. Scott says many people would rather fish there than go to other places, but there are many options for those who want to try something else. There are also classes on fly tying and fishing techniques available for those who want to learn more on their own.

The Morton Grove Sportsmen's Club president Bob Scott says youth interest in outdoor activities has increased, with over 50 members in the club right now from Morton Grove, Mount Prospect, Niles, Skokie and surrounding suburbs. The club meets at the Moose Hall on the first Monday of every month, and there are a lot of local fish to be caught, according to Scott. "It's tough when the kids are really interested and when they don't fish," Scott says. "The enthusiasm is there, but it's not always easy to get them to start fishing." The club also has a membership that includes a membership to a local church youth group in Skokie and surrounding suburbs. The club is interested in recruiting new members, especially those who are interested in fishing, and provides classes and fishing trips for those who are interested.

"Kids these days with their corn-powered toys," says Rich Masters, who is retiring after 35 years in the Morton Grove Sportsmen's Club, "don't know how to do it right less than 1/3 of the time. That is not good enough for us! We want to get it right every time. You can't fish if you can't fish. So we want to help them by teaching them the basics and by teaching them how to fish." The club is dedicated to teaching children about fishing and the outdoors and is interested in recruiting new members, especially those who are interested in fishing, and provides classes and fishing trips for those who are interested.

Although the sign says Italian Specialty, Scott says they are not sure if they will keep running it. "We need the league of nations in here," he says. "If they can".

Running a family business like theirs is not always easy. "We've had our share of good days," says John who is 65 this year. "But they're not that bad," he says. The family has been in the business for many years and is determined to keep it going.

Prague is rich with architecture, food, culture

Prague is just fantastic. Visiting Prague for the first time, you are walking over a long, long stone bridge, at a height of seven hundred years old. On both sides of you are statues from the 1600s and 1700s. All along the bridge, musicians play, photographers snap, and artists stretch, paint, and sell their work. Below you, boatmen cross the famous river called the Moldau, and in front of you, to see, music to hear, and things to do.

Picture this: you have arrived. On the back of it all, a huge castle is one of the biggest in the world. Founded in the 1200s, it has 777 windows and was the center of war, and has a dazzling array of architecture from the Gothic, Renaissance, Baroque, Neo-Classical, Art Nouveau, and Art Deco Styles—all on existing city.

To study the architecture, art, history, and music of this momentous city, we traveled with Dauphin University’s School of Business in a degree program exclusively for business majors and in a nice mix of ages and backgrounds, our group of 20 students and a few from outside of Prague, we were able to see Prague, a revered national site at the Church of Our Lady Victorious. Many attributes are its ‘Vênus Anadis’, the first hour concerts held in gorgeous, new locations on the Moldau. In the early ‘50s to 1993, the Czech Republic was created. Since 1918, the father of Czech nationals, it is just under 12 million people.

At the new Glenview Terrace, we believe life is something to soak in rather than drift through. It’s time to focus on who you really are and redefine what’s important to you. Rainbow Hospice offers a unique atmosphere for you to live, love, laugh, and explore new experiences. A great way to introduce a new friend or family member to Glenview Terrace is with a Live-in Care A Live-in Care allows you to be cared for by a dedicated staff member who can help you navigate the city and enjoy life to its fullest. A Live-in Care member will work with you to create a customized experience that suits your needs and preferences. As a Live-in Care member, same staff members can offer a consistent level of care and support, making it easier to establish relationships and provide a sense of familiarity. Rainbow Hospice offers a 24-hour, non-profit organization that provides care to more than 2,000 patients in 2002. Hospice care assists patients and families in finding meaning in the final months and days of life. Having trouble finding a reliable contractor?

"Once money is no object, I will have no problem finding an alcoholic to consider my doctor's advice. Just ask my housemate who has just been through a surgery and is now in rehab. It's true that he's an alcoholic, but he wasn't drunk the day she chose you."

So what's the answer? There are several things you can do to find a reliable contractor.

1. Contact your local Better Business Bureau. They can provide you with a list of reliable contractors in your area.
2. Check with your neighbors. Ask them for recommendations on contractors they've used in the past.
3. Search online. Look for contractor reviews on sites like Angie's List or HomeAdvisor.
4. Ask for references. When contacting a contractor, ask for references and check them out.

Free White Pine Trees

Ten two white pine trees will be given to each person who joins The National Arbor Day Foundation during September.

The trees are part of the foundation's Trees for America campaign.

"The white pine will add yearround beauty to your home and neighborhood," John Rosnow, the foundation's president, said. "They are fine growing landscape trees with soft needles and graceful branching. You can use them as specimen trees or as a privacy screen or windbreak... even as a beautiful

windbreak"

The trees will be shipped just in time for planting between October 15 and December 15 with enclosed planting instructions. The six to eight trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

Members also receive a subscription to either Free, the foundation's bimonthly publication, and The Tree Book with information about tree planting instructions.

To become a member of the foundation and receive the free tree, and a $10 contribution to the Tree Planting Foundation, The National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 North Avenue, Des Plaines, Illinois 60016, by September 30, 2003.

Special Needs Seminar
Thursday, October 2nd at 9:30am
Your child still not out of the nest?

This seminar is especially designed for those of you who have a concern for a vulnerable or dependent adult child, son, daughter or relative. Often when adult children have ongoing long-term problems, parents may have been providing emotional and/or financial support. If you are concerned about the future for your family member, the information provided at this seminar will be helpful to you. The focus of this seminar will be to provide information about Social Security Disability, Supplemental Security Income and Public Assistance Programs. In addition, information will be provided regarding Trusts, Wills and Guardianship. If you have already created a financial plan, come to learn the latest and measure your decision. We are most pleased to be able to offer a presentation by Ehlert Financial Group that includes an attorney and a financial planner specializing in disability resources. You must register in advance by calling Bev Wessels, MSW, ACSW, LSW at 847/388-8420. She will give you more details that will help you decide if this seminar is for you. No walk-ins please!

At the August Village Board Meeting, Mayor Nicholas B. Blase and the Board of Trustees proclaimed the week of September 21 through September 28, as Chamber of Commerce Week. This year marks the 32nd Anniversary of the Niles Chamber of Commerce, a leading broad based business organization. The Chamber of Commerce and its members provide citizens with a strong business environment that increases employment, the retail trade and commerce, and industrial growth in order to make the Village of Niles a better place to live.

The Chamber of Commerce encourages the growth of existing industries, services, and commercial firms and encourages new firms and individuals to locate in the Village of Niles. We call its significance to the citizens of the Village of Niles.

Love is in the Air at Bethany Terrace
Betty Davis, longtime member of Bethany Terrace Nursing Center could not wait for her great grandson Jason’s out-of-town wedding.

On August 12, 2003, with the assistance of the Activities Department, her family hosted a reception at Bethany Terrace. Wedding cake was served as Jason and Michele, looking resplendent in their wedding attire, danced to numerous songs. Betty and all the residents were delighted to share in this joyous occasion.

The actual ceremony was held on August 17, 2003 in Champaign, Illinois at The Community United Church of Christ. The honeymooners left for Hawaii, with good wishes from their Bethany family.

PARK RIDGE

Park District, City TIF agreement in final stages

WENDY ELLIS

An agreement over the distribution of tax revenues from the new Lynwood Bartlett Park in the Maine Park District between the City of Park Ridge and the Park District is in its final stages. Park Ridge City Manager Tim Schumacher said he hopes to present the proposal to the Park District board for approval at the Oct. 7 city council meeting.

TIF districts are created in economically depressed areas. Municipalities invest money in the area's infrastructure in order to attract new development. Any increase in property tax revenues is used to reimburse the municipality. A TIF can last up to 23 years.

"It's just a matter of having the attorneys craft the language," said Schumacher Tuesday morning. The agreement with the park district is almost identical to the agreement with local school districts, 64 and 217, earlier this summer. Those agreements allow the districts to receive 40% of the tax revenues generated by any new growth in the adjacent TIF during the 23-year existence. Under a Tax Increment Financing plan, tax revenues generated by new development in the district are set aside for improvements within the district, but both school districts, and the park district, would have lost millions of dollars in revenue during those years, if they had not worked out agreements with the city.

The park district's share of the new park is 50%, Schumacher said. Under the new agreement, the city will split the first 25 years of the TIF, with the park district receiving 55% of the new growth tax revenue from the city, which would be calculated as $1 million per year for 25 years.

In addition, the city will provide the park district with any tax revenue from the new development in the neighboring areas of Hinsdale and Hedges Park, which are in the middle of the new district on the former Niles Golf Club property and the city Water Resources on the nearby Mill Road. Those areas could include sidewalks and greenbelts.

The new agreement would also move the park district's share of the district to the Park District Board of Trustees.

Park District sells 127 tags for dog park

WENDY ELLIS

The Park Ridge Park District sold 127 dog tags for dog park during the first two weeks of the new dog tag program. As of Sept. 1, all dogs using the Park District's dog park in Maine Park have been required to sport a park district dog tag. Park District public relations director Tim Durlacki said that there have been few if any complaints about the new program, since most dogs parks in the area already charge for the privilege of being allowed to play unfettered in a fenced area.

Paws Park is a half acre area that opened behind the Paws Park parking lots near the parks. This fine educational and recreational park, which is located within the Maine Park District, is funded by the park district. The dog park is open every day at 7 am through 9 pm, at which time the dog park is closed. The dog park is open weeknights at 7 am through 9 pm.

The new park district is open every day at 7 am through 9 pm, at which time the dog park is closed. The dog park is open weeknights at 7 am through 9 pm.

The money collected from the dog tag fees go into the park district's general fund. The tag costs $35 dollars for a Park Ridge resident's first dog, and $5 for the second. Non-residents pay $50 for the first dog and $10 for the second. The tag fees are to be used to maintain the parks. The dog tag fees will be used to maintain the dog park.

The park district is open every day at 7 am through 9 pm, at which time the dog park is closed. The dog park is open weeknights at 7 am through 9 pm.
