Vandals apprehended thanks to local family

BY WENDY ELLIS
wellis@buglenewspapers.com

The perseverance of a Morton Grove family targeted by vandals may have helped local police departments solve a rash of recent vandalisms. It was early Friday morning, March 26, when Tim Payne walked out to his car and noticed his future son-in-law’s Delta 88 was sitting low. When Payne checked the car he realized all four tires had been slashed and a brick had been smashed through the windshield. The Morton Grove Police were called and a report made, before the car was taken in for new tires and a windshield. That might have been the end of it, but in the wee hours of Saturday morning they heard a noise, and saw their next door neighbor talking to the police in front of their house. Once again the Delta 88, owned by Dan Lehman, had had its tires slashed and its side mirror broken. But this time Payne’s 2002 Kia Rio also had four flats and his son’s car also had two tires cut. This time they found a knife lying in the street next to the car. The Grove Bugle/Maine Township Food Drive. Maine Township Supervisor Ed Dudycz, Bugle Publisher Rich Masterson and the clients of the Food Pantry appreciate the support they have received so far. As we approach the end of the drive however, Food Pantry Coordinator Carol Langan said that hunger isn’t confined to a single time of year. “People always donate during the holidays,” she said. “Everyone thinks of the hunger during the holidays, but there are still people in need after the holidays and they depend on us for help.”

Morton Grove seeks members for Economic Development Commission

BY ANDREW SCHNEIDER
editor@buglenewspapers.com

The village of Morton Grove announced plans this week to form an Economic Development Commission (EDC) of community and business leaders who would contribute to the future development of the village. Since 2000, Tim Angell has served as the village’s full-time staff member dedicated to economic development. Angell said that creating an EDC has been a serious goal for the last two years. “During my time with the village I have wanted to have an EDC,” he said, “I feel strongly that such a body could help me, the staff, and the village chart an economic development course.” The village board approved the creation on an EDC last week and Mayor Dan Scanlon has asked residents and business leaders to considering serving on the new body. “We have benefited from the tremendous involvement of our residents and business owners in volunteering their time for vital committees, from the Plan Commission to advisory groups,” Scanlon said. “Now, I ask the community to aid us in attracting businesses to Morton Grove, as well as keeping the great companies, merchants and service businesses that call Morton Grove home.” While no exact number of members has yet been determined for the new organization, Angell said that, in his experience, seven is a good number. “Seven is a nice number,” he said. “Larger numbers are more difficult to work with, but seven helps make sure that all of the diverse voices of our business community are heard.” Once the members of the EDC are selected and confirmed by the Village Board, the first step will be to establish the bylaws. Angell hopes to have the EDC formed and the bylaws established by late summer. While Angell is unsure what the Board will eventually decide, he said that other EDCs with which he’s worked met once a month. Anyone interested in serving on the new EDC should send their resumes to Mayor Dan Scanlon at 947-965-4162, e-mail at t_angell@mor tengrove.org, or by post to 6101 Capulina Ave., Morton Grove. For further information about the position, call (847) 470-5231.

Garbage Referendum is a great example of 'Community Activism'

I was sitting in the back of a room, listening to a presentation. It was a standard meeting, but the topic was touching. It was about garbage, in particular, the issue of how to deal with it in our community. The speaker was Bob Duda, the Citizen Coordinator for Maine Township.

He started by talking about the problem of garbage dumping in the streets in his neighborhood. He explained that the issue was affecting the quality of life for many people, especially the elderly who live in the area. The problem was getting worse, with more and more people dumping their garbage
on the streets.

Duda then talked about the referendum that was going to be held on the same issue. The referendum would ask the residents of Maine Township if they wanted to have a garbage chores in place. The referendum was scheduled to take place on April 6th, and Duda was encouraging everyone to vote yes.

He explained that the garbage issue was a serious one, and that the referendum was the only way to solve it. He also said that the referendum was a way for the community to take control of its own destiny.

Duda ended his presentation by asking everyone to please vote yes on the referendum. He explained that the referendum was the only way to protect the environment and the quality of life in Maine Township.

He also asked everyone to spread the word about the referendum to their friends and neighbors. He said that the referendum was a way for the community to come together and make a difference.

0-plan Serves more than Niles, Des Plaines

Dear Editor,

On the 15th years ago when our first daughter was christened, at Rainbow Christening, the church was full and the day about done. We were the last family to sign out our services as so much time had passed before our daughter because of age, was hale and hearty. We got home to our apartment in the evening and before Church services had ended, OLK was not the only service for Niles and Des Plaines but also the entire community of Park Ridge. Park Ridge is an area with about 30% or more Catholic population and only two other Catholic Churches - one in the southwest and Moorhead and one in the center of town. Paul of the Cross - should be serving the North part of Park Ridge as well as the west end of Niles and Des Plaines. The church and the school should be evil. I am not it the poor management and ability to serve these communities, which falls in the lap of Father Halp. The point I am trying to make is that a decade ago OLK was full in all churches, hope and green and gold and the church which the demographic of the neighborhood has brought in more families and children and a person who has too much money who still believe in sending their children on the spiritual journey of parish school. We live and breathe away from the church. In the last 15 years families have moved in - 3 of those families send their children to St. Paul of the Cross and Sts. John.

This is a very sad and lonely fact I know 15 years ago these families would have sent their children to OLK as their parents could watch them walk to school in the morning.

OLK is a necessity for the community and the area.

Sincerely,

Wednesday, April 15

Second Uptown developer calls for mix of retail, residential

BY MIKE SANTORO
msantor@buglenespapers.com

The Target Ann Arbor development, announced by Opus North and Barney Investments last fall as the first of five development teams presenting their plans for a commercial area in the corridor of Touhy Avenue and North Western Highway with residential in the area beyond that stretching to Niles, may be called off.

Touhy Park has been in the national headlines in recent years over its future use, and developers have been focusing on creating an area of pedestrian traffic through the area. The plan calls for a commercial area on the corner of Touhy and North Western Highway with residential in the area beyond that stretching to Niles.

The developers have been focusing on seven key issues: pedestrian-friendly environment, a good look for the area, what the area would work, and what positive responses from many of them were able to build some potential scenarios for the development.

One key issue that the city council will have to deal with is the existing architectural look of Park Ridge. The development team designed the area with an intentional look that would work, and with positive responses from many of them were able to build some potential scenarios for the development.

By one of the developers, it's unique look for the units, differentiating it from other developments in the area. The variety would hopefully give a feeling of a different look for the units.

The City Council will pick one of the developers to develop the area. The City Staff and our City Council.

The appointed City Staff who present this week. The City Council will pick one of the developers to implement the TEC project.

The slides were pretty, and the presenters did a great job. But what do they propose. Yawn. Nothing a traffic signal as well, as the elimination of Turnpike as through street. A new street would be created from Park to Meacham. The block would begin at the existing Meacham at the old shape of the area would be improved and traffic lanes would be widened.

Overall, the development teams dressed that they would build upon what exists in Park Ridge through pedestrian-friendly areas and aesthetic racism of architecture. Through these ideas to create something that Park Ridge would admire for long time.

Capsule endoscopy for GI diagnosis
In this new procedure, the patient swallows a capsule that moves naturally through the gastrointestinal (GI) tract, recording thousands of images over eight hours while the patient goes about a normal day.

F a s t e r

Innova™ 4100 for interventional vascular procedures
As the first hospital in the Chicago area to acquire the Innova 4100, we now have the most advanced digital imaging system available. Because it provides a clear view inside the body in real imaging, it greatly enhances our ability to use minimally invasive techniques instead of major surgery.

S m a r t e r

PET Scans: the most advanced imaging for diagnosing cancer and other diseases
The latest major advance in imaging technology, PET scans allow more precise assessment of cancers than any other tests. Each scan provides as much information as numerous tests combined, including how organs are functioning, whether or not a tumor is active, and the effectiveness of treatments.
