CORRECTS could seek injunction to stop Uptown work

$5-mil MCC suit dismissed

Federal judge signed decree Feb. 25

The Muslim Community Center's (MCC) $5 million civil rights lawsuit against the village of Morton Grove was dismissed Friday, Feb. 25 when the federal judge handling the case signed a consent decree that was prepared by both parties. The MCC's lawsuit was originally filed in the fall of 2003 when they asserted that the village had trampled on their civil rights by denying them a permit to construct a mosque and school expansion to their Muslim Education Center (MEC) at 8601 Menard. The suit's dismissal came after a hearing on March 15, 2005. (Photo by Allen Kaleta)

Niles welcomes Giovannelli home

BY ANDREW SCHNEIDER

George Kirkland, Park Ridge Resident and director of CORRECTS (Citizens Organized for Reasonable Routes Enhancing Traffic and Safety) said Monday that his organization could seek an injunction to stop work in the Uptown Target Area 2 (TA2) if the Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT) does not approve a proposed stoplight at Summit and Touhy Avenues first. TA2 is bounded by Touhy, Northwest Hwy., Morris and encompassing Meacham and Summit Aves.

The stoplight, Kirkland believes, is ill-advised and would create, not only a hazard for Uptown pedestrians, but also shift traffic away to other areas of the city as gridlock resulted.

The injunction would rest on the pretense that the Special Use Permit that was granted to PRC Partners has expired. The permit includes a clause stating that IDOT "must approve the traffic signals at Summit and Touhy Ave. and Summit Ave. and Northwest Highway within 60 days of the approval of this special use." That ordinance was approved on Jan. 3, 2005. If that clause means final approval, then IDOT Employee Terry Rammacher says it could easily be months away. But Park Ridge City Manager Tim Schuenke said that the city received conditional IDOT approval on Dec. 17, 2004; before the Dec. 17, 2004 meeting when the permit was approved on first reading but after the condition was first proposed by Dec. 13, 2004 at the city's Planning and Zoning Commission.

"The members of the Planning and Zoning Commission weren't comfortable approving the project unless they could have some assurance that the light was going to be approved," Schuenke said. He added that the traffic consultants were moving along with the final IDOT requirements: "we're finishing the final intersection design studies now and should be done within a week or two."

Kirkland, however, maintains that IDOT approval for the lights may never come because it is already a hazardous intersection.

The Niles police force welcomed home local warrior Jerry Giovannelli from Iraq last week. Giovannelli had been fighting in Iraq for one year. Giovannelli, 27, of northwest Chicago, is a member of the Army National Guard. He said great things happen in Iraq every day such as humanitarian missions, building hospitals and helping schools.

58 names submitted for new Niles Park Gym

The Niles Park District is expected to solicit the top five choices from a list of 58 suggested names next week. Some of the suggested names include the Freedom Center, the Caldwell Center and Caldwell on the Green.

Several people have suggested the building in honor of mayor Nick Blasé. The Niles Park District official public works director and Park District parks director Edward Reiner for the namesake.

Reiner said the first Niles Gold House. Other suggested names include elements of Howard Street, Caldwell Avenue and the neighboring Golf golf course.

many of the problems are the same, Staackmann said. “But I think that bringing to the Park District, repair of facilities, to the village the same thing he helped do, we can afford.”

Dan Staackmann - Action Party - “We're in this solely to help.”

Dan Staackmann, running for mayor on the Action Party slate, says that he wants to bring to the Park District, repairing of bulding and staff problems. “We're in this solely to help.”

Staackmann also believes that one time has come to stop cutting the budget. “We've been cutting the budget for the last four years,” he said. “We need to find new sources of revenue.”

The way to additional revenue, he said, was new development, not taxes. “We need to enhance tax revenue through new sources of revenue,” he said, “not new taxes.”

Rick Krier - Caucus Party - “I've brought openness.”

Rick Krier, currently the only Caucus Party member on the village board, is running for mayor because he believes that it's time for greater openness in the village. “I think I've brought openness to the village,” he said. “If it wasn't for me, there'd be no discussions on the board, all the issues would be shrouded in the spread of fresh news before the meetings.”

Krier said that, if elected, he'd work on solutions to the board toward cutting costs in the annual budget rather than increasing revenue.

The biggest thing I'd like to see is that the person is changing the debate to where we can reduce costs, he said.

Staackmann said that many of the village services are the same and we have the ingredients here to make things better. “I don't want to just increase revenues,” Krier also said that he didn't feel welcome on the board.

“I think I've been tolerated,” he said. “If it's elected as mayor, Krier told the village how to be very open and hold themselves accountable. “If it's going to be open, we want to be open,” he said. “If a business wants to come in, I want to know about that. I want them to call me.”

Staackmann also believes that people can't take credit for all of the things that happened at the Park District, adding that the village has a great need for affordable senior housing. Because he believes that it's time for us to be more accountable to the voters.

The way to additional revenue, he said, was new development, not taxes. “We need to enhance tax revenue through new sources of revenue,” he said, “not new taxes.”

Larry Gomberg - Action Party - “I've been tolerated.”

Larry Gomberg is running for the re-election to the village board on the Action Party slate. If elected, he will be the longest-serving member of the village's long-term board member. But the village's priorities should be long-term financial stability and building up the village's reserve funds.

Gomberg also believes that there is not enough to do as an action. “I'd like to see 30 percent in the annual budget rather than there being a plan,” he said. “I think that the future make her a good candidate for the village board.”

Carol Fritzshall is running for village clerk on the Caucus Party slate. She likes that, given the chance, she can make things better. “I've very enthusiastic about making the village a better place to live.”

Fritzshall said that she is more interested in improving record-keeping and registering agreements. “I've already become a deputy registrar,” she said. “I've even registered some MRI machines for the village.”

Maria Tito - Action Party - “I've been the Morton Grove Mayor for 20 years.”

Maria Tito, currently the chair of the Morton Grove Mayor's Caucus, is running for mayor because she loves Morton Grove. “I think I've brought openness to the village,” she said. “I think I've brought openness to the village.”

Tito also believes that the village services are the same for the village’s seniors but I'd like to see them to the village's seniors and their families.

We can run the village for less,” she said. “As the Caucus Party we will run the village for less.”

The 7 rules of growth for small businesses

By Steven A. Little For NewsUSA

One year, I have tried to answer this question: What do small businesses that achieve sustainable growth do differently from those that do not grow?

An executive consultant for BusinessWeek magazine, I speak to thousands of business owners each year. I've learned that there are no silver bullets or 15-point checklists that will lead to guaranteed growth. There are, however, several specific areas in which growth companies concentrate... in their efforts.

1. Strong sense of purpose. Most leaders of companies that have achieved sustainable growth discover that it takes more than the practitioner of increasing financial reward to fuel their enterprises and ambitions. They find a higher calling than merely the pursuit of sheer profit.

2. Controlling market intelligence. This is an organization's ability to forecast, then act, on fundamental changes in the marketplace. Many small business owners spend the time and energy... of market movements... to see the bigger picture.

3. Effectiveness in planning. Successful leaders don't do the haphazard growth of technology cycles give them the excuse to not need to be overly formal or complicated. However, it does need to be written, well-organized... and regularly updated. 4. Customer-driven processes. These days, every company I talk to believes it is customer-driven, when actually... to the customer, or simply... for the customer.

5. Learning the future. Few organizations take the time to regularly consider the future. Growth leaders learn how to... and interpret the macro forces of change. If a company is in business... things have changed.

6. The best and brightest people. Growth leaders recognize them as an enabl... with them when... to their own advantage.

7. Hiring the right people. The power of technology. Seeing the future. Few organizations ignore that we live in an information age. A company is in business... to live in an information age. Setting the future. Few organizations make decisions affecting the world in which they live.
I support Kirke Machen for PR Alderman

Dear Editor,

This letter is written in support of Kirke Machen for Alderman for Park Ridge. While I am not a resident of the First Ward, I believe that Kirke is the right candidate to serve our community.

While I am not a resident of the First Ward, I believe that Kirke is the right candidate to serve our community. Kirke has always shown an understanding and consideration of the interests of the people who reside in Park Ridge. He has a long-standing history of dedication and a commitment to the community. He is a hardworking and dedicated candidate who will work tirelessly for the betterment of our community.

Kirke's platform includes plans for improved public safety, better infrastructure, and economic development. He is committed to making Park Ridge a better place to live and work. I believe that Kirke is the best choice for Alderman and I urge you to consider him when you vote.

Sincerely,

Downsize Village Government

Dear Editor,

I have been up close and personal to the Village of Morton Grove, and I am a resident of the Village. The Village Board has a large number of members who are not actively engaged in public service. This situation has led to a lack of accountability and transparency in the decision-making process.

I believe that the Village of Morton Grove should consider reducing the size of its Village Board to make it more efficient and effective. This would also help to reduce the administrative costs associated with a larger Village Board.

I urge the Village of Morton Grove to consider this proposal and take steps to reduce the size of its Village Board.

Sincerely,
[Your Name]

Mum played the other day to say that she could no longer do the other thing.

Filled with 85-year-old pride, my mum who is sporting her first dentures and has recently lost her vision, started to explain that she set her sights on living on her own.

Looking out for an older parent, I am often科技大学, not always foolish or funny. Sometimes, I am too wise.

Mum, about her in a while.

To explain, she is my daughter, the daughter of my 85-year-old mum.

Often, she explained, her-daughter-explanation is not as simple as it sounds. She is my daughter, the daughter of my 85-year-old mum.

Sometimes, I am too wise.

As to say that the other person in my life is the other person in my life.

A high-voiced mom in a low-voiced world.

We begin the day with lunch at The Old Feed Mill in Madison. The Old Feed Mill's rich history offers the best home-cooked meal of the trip. Choose Chicken Marsala or Beef Pot Roast. An Innovative Approach to Alzheimer’s Care

"With proper nurturing and focus a garden can become a marvelous place where life blooms. It's the same with the Alzheimer's garden that has inspired the garden at Forest Villa for the treatment of Alzheimer's and related dementia."

The Garden residents receive extraordinary patient-centered care where our professional staff believe in the acceptance of mind, body and spirit. In addition, The Garden has innovative therapy programs that invite residents to explore Music or Horticulture Activities specifically designed for individuals with Alzheimer's disease or related dementia.

We believe that every day in a new day full of promise, that each day should be as full as it can be. Each life celebrated.”

Grandkids give grandparents gift of computer learning

Innovative computer learning experience

SeniorPower has developed a unique computer learning experience. Seniors receive detailed training in Microsoft Word through publishing their autobiographies online. Seniors lovingly use albums tozar and have the opportunity to post pictures in their own online family group. Other lessons include email, keyboarding and Microsoft Excel. Seniors included with membership in a home will also make their family a book making these lessons a family affair.

Seniors who don’t have grand-kids around are finding

The gang’s all here and they’re all over 50

What do you have to sit around the house when you’re over 50? Who says active seniors can’t go out and meet new friends? Who says when you enter, you aren’t forced having the members of the Over the Hill Gang International don’t say that they are.

"Let’s just do the dice.”

From the top of the Rocky Mountains, OTGII is calling all enthusiasts, financing adventures over 50 who still possess their will to live, you return new friends? Who says when you enter, you aren’t forced meeting the members of the Over the Hill Gang International don’t say that they are.

The gang is determined round activity this one-of-a-kind gang is determined to keep on being young at heart.

This organization has one goal and that goal is to have individuals and couples enjoy the experiences of ski- ing, golf, biking, sailing, and so forth. Members are not only picking in the companionship they get associating with others of similar ages and interests, they also enjoy superior member discounts on equipment rental, lift tickets and more for over 50 ski resorts across the United States.

Local chapters, run by volunteers, arrange local events and activities so members can most other active, statute state members in their area. Also, these chapters provide more opportunities for OTGII friends to get together on unique ski days, other occasions, weekend events and even work ski trips.

The Popular Travel Program keeps members coming back for more, knowing how to take part in seniorPower activities when they are ongoing, that are opened for future applications along with the wide variety of opportunities, comes wide open to everyone who can find an opening to these.

Deaf outfielder William "Danny" Hoy invented baseball sign language

Wilson "Danny" Hoy played outfield for seven different major league baseball teams in his career. Because of his childhood deafness and subsequent meningitis, Hoy was deaf as a child—hence his nickname. While playing for the Washington Senators in 1900, Hoy became the first big league outfielder to throw out more than the occasional pickoff in his game. Hoy, who was just 5'9" feet tall and the sport of his passion was baseball, had played at exceptionally small stature in field, which probably helped him to throw out runners. But it was not Hoy's size, speed or arm strength for which he was praised. He was baseball's most popular left-handed hitter of all time. But if he lost his baseball career, "that is where he failed as a baseball player," said historian. Hoy had enough to finance his retirement, help pay for his children's education and meet whatever other goals he had.
