The site plan was approved by the village board on May 9.

Another Perspective

Wrestling is the best sport for boys. It is an ancient history that has been practiced by all peoples since antiquity. Wrestling is a perfect form of athletic competition to exist in the world of organized sport. It was an important aspect of Greek, Roman and Egyptian culture, and almost every European country.

Wrestling is one of the remaining sports that are naturally conservative. They can be learnt anywhere and at any time. They do not necessarily require a coach or formal training. All that is needed is a two-man team and a good referee.

Wrestling is easily as cerebral as chess. Winners think well and are natural athletes that ultimately come from the sport. Self-defense develops desirable physical and mental characteristics by constant practice. Wrestling is the perfect sport for young men as it develops discipline, physical and mental strength.

Finally, the FC crowd has a good mix of both home and away supporters. There is a chance that the team might lose the match, but they will continue making the contributions.

Dear Editor,

I am very thankful for the encouragement and support of my husband, Mary Wyne Ryan, Park Ridge Alderman-elect, and the help of my extended family, Friends of Parther's LLC, including my husband, Frank, and our hardworking friends, Frank's colleagues, and the citizens of Park Ridge.

Ultimately, however, it was the overwhelming support of our Park Ridge neighborhood residents that made my Park Ridge run in November 2005 so successful. I feel I have many friends who have been so loyal and supportive. I am especially grateful to the neighborhood residents who have worked hard to provide the leadership and organization needed to elect a new mayor. I want to personally thank you, the citizens of Park Ridge, for your trust and support.

I want to sincerely thank you, the citizens of Park Ridge, for your trust and support.

By Jeffrey Cardella

When your children are grown and out of the house, you may have some adjustments to make in your life — especially in the way you save and spend. By the age of thirty-five, you can use your new "empty nest" status as an opportune time to assess your progress toward some important financial goals.

As a parent of children who may be entering the workforce or college, you could discover that your empty nest is full of possibilities for you to build your financial security.

Assuming your level of disposable income has increased, you have a number of choices. But deciding which, at what age, and how you will go about it is an important financial decision. You should discuss this with your financial advisor and plan it together.

If you are living in a big house and you no longer have children to share the expenses, it’s a good idea to start thinking about living in a "downsize" your living arrangements. As long as you’ve owned and lived in your home for at least two years within the five years preceding its sale, you may be eligible to exclude up to $250,000 of the gain on your home from your income tax.

Assuming you have "bundled" some income, you may not be able to use any of it to pay off any debts, especially if you have high-interest debt cards. The lower your debt payments, the more money you have available to invest.

The departure of your grown children may provide an opportunity for you to re-evaluate your current financial status: What types of financial goals you have set. You may want another family gathering, especially for those who have children. You may want to set some priorities regarding your financial goals.

Once you are through paying for college, you may have more money to build your financial security. By taking the right steps, you can build your financial security, and secure your future.
